The "Cork House" was one of those isolated caravansaries which could be frequently met with in days gone by in various parts of Canada. They were a necessary evil and had their days, and now with the iron horse propelled by steam power, they have almost totally disappeared — their presence not being further needed any more than their absence is felt. It was on the line of the Cobourg and Peterborough Railway, at a place called Keene station that a thirsty or hungry wayfarer never missed a drink or a meal, and here I may be pardoned a slight digression if I take a brief retrospect of what was without any doubt the greatest monument of human madness in any country or in any age. Over forty years ago the railway fever was just as acute as it is to-day, and the people of Cobourg and the county of Northumberland, having been seized with a violent paroxysm of the raging complaint, sought a cure in the establishment of railway communication with the town and county of Peterborough. Well, the scheme was so intensely popular that struggling municipalities came down with handsome business, and the work is at once commenced, and in reasonable time completed as far as Norwood, on the southern shore of Rice Lake. Here an obstacle presents itself. Rice Lake at this point is three miles wide, and in some places 20 feet deep. What was to be done? Peterborough must be reached by hook or by crook, and they could not think of accomplishing so desirable a project by going around, either at the head on the foot of the lake. A bridge across Rice Lake, with its southern end at Harwood, and its northern at the Indian village of Hiawatha, would bridge the whole difficulty. The erection of a structure of such a character was at once commenced. Pointed sticks of timber were driven into the mud by the ponderous blows of a ponderous pile-driver. And these were fastened securely at the top until everything was ready to receive the rails. The bridge, in due time, became an accomplished fact. The rails were laid and trains commenced to move continuously over it, and at this distant day it can be truthfully said that whatever may be the Christian spirit of those who risked their lives on so frail a structure, at any other time, it was of the most strenuous brand whilst crossing that railway bridge. And when they reached either end they did not sit down to praise the bridge which carried them safely over, as readily as they made a vow, never to endanger their precious lives again by adopting so dangerous a mode of travel. Other bridges have become historic because they have been the elements of strife, as well as the theatres for the exploits of standing armies: many a student who has entered upon a struggle with geometry has had to assail the "Bridge of Asses," whilst the "Bridge of Sighs" is suggestive of mourning, but surpassing them all, the Rice Lake bridge should have a name and a firmer place in history. Some bridges have capitulated without a struggle, others have yielded to desperate assaults, but it was left to a raging wind-storm in one of its angriest moods, to capture the bridge spanning Rice Lake, fling its timbers on the water's surface and drop its iron into the mud at a depth of 20 feet. Fortunately, the wind took offence at such a bridge at a moment when passengers' lives were not in jeopardy.

THE SALARY INCREASE OF THE CITY ENGINEER

To The Editor of The Examiner.

Dear Sir,—I read with much amusement, in your issue of last Tuesday, that the Council, after considerable discussion and trouble, have at last decided to raise the salary of the City Engineer to fourteen hundred dollars, but that they did not yet know where the extra, two hundred dollars were to come from.

Mr. Hay has been City Engineer for over —— years, during which time he has worked hard and satisfactorily at a salary of twelve hundred dollars a year. I do not believe that there is any other city in Ontario that pays their engineer less than sixteen hundred dollars a year, while, in many cases, he also has the aid of one or more assistants. It is also customary in most cities for the city to supply the many costly instruments that are required by the engineer in his work, yet I believe, in this case, Mr. Hay has had to supply most, if not all, of them at his own expense.

In my opinion, his salary should have been increased long ago, and, at the same time, been something worth while. The City Clerk's salary was raised from twelve hundred to two thousand dollars a year, without an objection being raised against such a proceeding, but when a proposal is made to increase Mr. Hay's salary, a paltry two hundred dollars a year, even then one or two of the aldermen must kick, while most of the others begin to wonder where the money is to come from. The Council do not seem to find it very difficult in raising the money to pay the expenses at the best hotels for the deputations that visit Ottawa and other cities several times a year.

It is altogether likely that Mr. Hay, if he lives long enough, will receive one more raise in his salary, and let us hope that, if such a time ever comes, those who have it in their power to do so, will make the difference worth making such a fuss about.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your space, I remain,

CITIZEN.

THE RETORT COURTEOUS

To The Editor of The Examiner.

Dear Sir,—I understand that an English gentleman—I know he is a gentleman, because he says so—has been making some comments on my articles on Bridge Whist, that have appeared in The Examiner. I have great respect for the English character, and am proud of my English descent; but, if I had sufficient influence with the Government, I would have legislation passed to prevent the class of Englishmen to which I refer from landing in Canadian ports, and to admit, instead of them, the Chinese. They would, at least, be useful to wash shirts.

WEDDING BELLS

REESOR--NEILL

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Neil were in Toronto on Tuesday attending the wedding of Mr. Neil's sister, Miss Jennie Neil, to Mr. B. F. Reesor. A despatch referring to the interesting event says:

A quiet wedding, in which Lindsay citizens will take a deep interest, was celebrated in Toronto yesterday. The principals were Mr. B. F. Reesor, Managing Director of the Georgian Bay Power Co., with headquarters at Owen Sound, and Miss Jennie Neil, a former resident of Lindsay, but lately of Toronto.

The ceremony took place at 2 p.m., at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. Phin, 227 Carleton street, the officiating clergyman being Rev. S. J. Shorey, of Oshawa, an old friend of the contracting parties.

Mr. and Mrs. Reesor left the same evening for Western Ontario points on a short wedding trip, and on their return will reside in Lindsay for a time.

ANNOUNCEMENT

In order to obtain permanent premises, China Hall has purchased the large and well assorted stock of groceries, etc., of Mr. A. Rountree No. 394 George street. This stock which is one of the finest grocery stocks in Peterborough, will, together with the balance of the China Hall stock, be thrown on the market at cost price, commencing Saturday, March 2, and continuing until both stocks are entirely disposed of, but not longer than the 15th of April, after which date the store will be re-fitted, and opened about May 1, with an entirely new stock of crockery, china, glassware, cut-glass, plated ware, fine china ornaments, etc. China Hall, after that date, will be beyond a doubt one of the finest and most complete china stores in Canada. ENTIRE CHANGE OF FAIR REGULATIONS

Will be Submitted to Directors at Meeting Next Thursday Night.

An enthusiastic committee meeting of the Peterborough Industrial Fair directors was held last night in Ald. Leary's office, Water street. There were present President Leary, and Messrs. J. M. Brooks, S. Redmond, Geo. A. Gilfespie, W. E. Conway, J. H. Garbutt, Ald. Elliott and Wm. Collins, who acted as secretary instead of Mr. F. J. A. Hall, who was absent in Toronto.

The business of the meeting was confined principally to the revision of the rules and regulations governing the Exhibition. The committee report that they adopted almost entirely a new set of rules and that none of the old ones will be allowed to stand as they were.

The revised rules will be submitted to a meeting of the Directors next Thursday night for their approval.

On that night committees will also be appointed to take charge of each class and to solicit advertisements and special prizes.

INSURANCE INVESTIGATION REPORT

The report of the Insurance Commissioners has been placed upon the table of the House. In their findings, in a great many instances, the Commissioners have made assumptions and placed construction upon evidence that are practically contradictory to, and at variance with, the evidence submitted. With regard to the investigation into the affairs of the Home Life Association, the finding of the Commission is at variance with the facts. The Board of Directors of the People's Life unanimously agreed to re-insure the business of that Company with the Home Life Association of Canada. When the re-insurance was being effected it was found that Mr. Patterson, the Managing Director, and Mr. Firstbrook, the President, had an irrevocable contract with the Home Life Association which had been in force for some seven years. The Directors of both Companies believed it to be in the interest of the Company which they represented, that this contract should be commuted. Mr. Stratton temporarily financed the commutation arrangements, the negotiations being carried on by the solicitors for the Home Life and People's Life.

Just before the completion of the commutation of the contract, when Mr. Stratton learned what the conditions actually were, he would not agree to the $90,000 payment being made, but sanctioned the payment of $80,000. Mr. Stratton had already provided for the payment of $90,000, by giving his own personal cheque for that amount, but when he finally consented to the payment of $80,000, the $10,000 was re-deposited to his own credit, that balance being absolutely his own money. Mr. Stratton made no profit, either directly or indirectly, out of the People's Life, out of the Home Life, or out of the amalgamation. The credit of the Home Life was not pledged to secure the amount paid to Mr. Patterson for the commutation of the contract with that gentleman. The whole contract, from its inception until its completion, was before the shareholders and the policy-holders of the Home Life Association at the last Annual Meeting, and very fully discussed and considered, and the arrangements made were unanimously ratified and confirmed as being in the best interests of both the Home Life Association and the People's Life, and Mr. Stratton was unanimously voted by the shareholders an honorarium for his services to the Home Life Association, and a resolution was passed thanking the Directors. No statement of the Commissioners, nor of anybody else, can change the facts—they speak for themselves.

IMPORTANT NEW BILL IS PROPOSED

Measure to Regulate Game and Fisheries Introduced.

BRANCHES WILL BE JOINED

Board of Game Commissioners Is Abolished—Inspectors to See That the Law Is Enforced—Times for Close Seasons Laid Down—Penalties for Breaches of Game Law Are Increased.

Toronto, Feb. 28.—The Government's new measure respecting game and fisheries was introduced in the Legislature yesterday afternoon by Hon. Dr. Reaume. The bill bears the title of "an act respecting the game, fur-bearing animals and fisheries of Ontario," and in some respects is most radical. It takes the place of the Ontario game protection act and the Ontario fisheries act and all amendments to them. Provision is made for the amalgamation of the now separate fisheries and game branches of the Public Works Department under the title of the game and fisheries branch, to be in charge of a superintendent. Inspectors of game and fisheries not exceeding three in number are to be appointed to see that the wardens and overseers carry out their duties properly. The Board of Game Commissioners in existence since 1892 is abolished. Mr. H. S. Osler, K. C., Toronto, is the chairman of the present board.

The present regulations in respect to the forest and other Crown preserves are re-enacted. The sections of the act relative to fisheries are not changed in principle from those of the present act, but there are some alterations in wording with a view to making the meaning clearer.

Among the most important changes are the enactment of the following close seasons to supersede those now existing: Deer, moose, reindeer, caribou, Nov. 21 to Oct. 19, both days inclusive; grouse, pheasants, prairie fowl, partridge, woodcock, black and grey squirrels, between Dec. 15 and Sept. 15; quail or wild turkeys, between Dec. 1 and Nov. 1; swans or geese, between May 1 and Sept. 1; ducks of all kinds or any other water fowl, between Dec. 31 and Sept. 1; snipe, rail, plover or any other birds known as shore birds or waders, between Dec. 15 and Sept. 1; capercailzie, between Dec. 15 and Sept. 15, but for the present these birds are protected by an all-the-year-round close season lasting until 1909; hares, between Dec. 31 and Oct. 1. The present law respecting beaver, otter and muskrats is unchanged.

The use of automatic guns is forbidden. Persons employed on the construction of railways or other public works shall not be allowed to have possession of or carry firearms unless authorized by special license, for which regulations are provided.

It is made an offence for any hotel, restaurant or club to supply for or as part of a meal any game or fish, under any pretended name or under the designation of anything which might at the time be lawfully supplied.

In regard to penalties persons guilty of breaches of the clauses of the act referring to deer, moose, elk, reindeer, caribou, beaver or otter are liable to a fine for each offence not exceeding $100, and not less than $20, together with costs. At present the fines are $20 to $50. For offences against other sections the liability is for fines from $5 to $50 and costs, instead of $5 to $25, as formerly. In default of immediate payment the offenders are to be imprisoned for a period not exceeding three months. A second offence committed within two years means punishment to the extent of not less than double the minimum of the penalties mentioned. A third offence involves punishment not less than the maximum penalties.

EVELYN THAW'S BROTHER TO BE CALLED

Howard Nesbit to Testify Against His Sister Mrs. Thaw.

SAYS HE BOUGHT PISTOL

Case May Go to the Jury Next Tuesday—Defence Will Close This Week—Mrs. Thaw Is Utterly Broken Down, and Collapses In Court—Alienists Give Evidence as to Harry Thaw's Sanity.

New York, Feb. 28.—Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw collapsed utterly yesterday at the close of the gruelling to which she has been subjected by District Attorney Jerome.

Recalled to answer a few questions, by which Jerome hoped to lay the foundation for evidence in rebuttal to attack her credibility, the frail girl who so bravely has sacrificed herself to save the life of her husband, tottered into an ante-room, fainted and lay unconscious for two hours. She was taken to her apartments in the Hotel Lorraine, a nervous wreck.

May Close This Week.

It was announced by Delphin M. Delmas that the defence probably would close this week, which means that the case should go to the jury by Tuesday; that is, if Jerome fails to carry out plans to demand a lunacy commission, forecasted last week and indicated in his cross-examination of experts yesterday.

Dr. Britton D. Evans, director of the New Jersey Hospital for the Insane at Morris Plains, an alienist for the defence, occupied the stand for the greater part of the day. He had testified that Thaw was suffering from "melancholia" at the time he made his will, and was mentally unsound when he killed Stanford White.

Alienists In Opposition.

Jerome forced him to admit that there was a recurrence of the affliction in at least one-third of such cases. This apparently was to controvert the expert's opinion, that Thaw was sane at present.

Mr. Jerome said he intended calling as a witness in rebuttal Dr. Allan McLane Hamilton, the alienist who first was employed by the Thaw defence, but who heretofore has not figured in the trial.

Dr. Hamilton is reported to have said that he thought Thaw was insane at the time of the tragedy and that he is insane at present.

The district attorney also said he would have Dr. Charles F. Bingaman of Pittsburg, the Thaw family physician, testify in rebuttal.

Dr. Bingaman was on the stand briefly, but Mr. Delmas objected to cross-examination as to insanity in the Thaw family, on the ground that the witness had not qualified as an expert. Mr. Jerome thereupon told Dr. Bingaman to hold himself in readiness to take the stand for the state.

Howard Nesbit to Testify.

By recalling Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw to the stand for a few questions, which he had omitted on his long cross-examination, Mr. Jerome indicated that he will call Howard Nesbit, her brother, to contradict her in a matter of credibility.

Bought a Pistol?

He asked Mrs. Thaw if she did not tell her brother that Thaw treated her cruelly while they were abroad, because she refused to tell lies about Stanford White. He also wanted to know if her brother did not buy her a pistol with which she might defend herself against Thaw.

The defendant's wife denied absolutely that there was any truth in any of these statements.

NO FURTHER DEATHS.

Inquest Opens Tuesday—Mrs. Doran of Toronto In a Critical Condition.

Guelph, Feb. 28.—The coroner's jury empanelled at the order of County Attorney Peterson to enquire into the cause of the wreck, met yesterday morning to view the remains of Charles Rankin of Stratford. They then visited the scene of the accident, taking note of the position of the several cars and the condition of the track. After returning to the city the enquiry was postponed until Tuesday at 7.30 p.m.

The remains of ex-Mayor O'Donohue of Stratford were taken to Stratford on the 8.55 train yesterday morning.

The body of Charles Rankin left for Stratford yesterday afternoon.

All the injured except Mrs. John Doran of Springhurst avenue are doing well. She was reported last night to be in a very critical condition at St. Joseph's Hospital.

The cause of the accident, it has been fully determined, was a broken rail. Perhaps two hundred yards to the east of where the coaches are lying overturned at the foot of the 60-foot embankment is a bright, clean cut piece of steel, to which the disaster may be attributed.

AMMONIA FUMES WERE FATAL

Two Firemen Suffocated In Burning Cellar.

FLAMES MELTED COUPLING

Eleven Others Were Rendered Unconscious—One May Not Survive—More Deaths Were Prevented by Gallant Conduct of Rescue Parties—Men Dragged Up From Cellar and Writhed on Sidewalk.

New York, Feb. 28.—Two firemen were killed and 11 others rendered unconscious by ammonia fumes at a fire yesterday morning in the basement of a market in Eight avenue. One of those who was made unconscious may die, while the condition of two others is serious. But for the heroic work of three rescuing parties the death list would have been larger.

The dead are Adam Damm and Harry Baker. The had carried a pipe through the basement and into an opening leading to a sub-cellar, when they called for water pressure. However, when other firemen reached the hole to assist them in directing the hose upon the blaze, Damm and Baker were not to be seen. Ammonia fumes poured up through the hole and filled the basement.

The flames had melted the coupling of one of the ammonia pipes connected with the cold storage plant of the market. Rescuing parties were formed of volunteers and Damm and Baker carried up from the hole with difficulty.

Each of the rescuers succumbed on reaching the outer air and writhed on the sidewalk. Roll call revealed the fact that Capt. B. Carlock, of Engine No. 26, was down in the hole where he had gone in search of victims of the fumes, and he was brought to the surface. It is believed that he will not recover.

Damm died in a street car which was utilized as an emergency hospital, and Baker died at a hospital.

The financial loss will be about $2,000.

THE SCHOOLS OF ONTARIO.

Annual Report for 1906 of Provincial Education Department.

The report of the Ontario Department of Education for 1906 has been printed, and forms a bulky volume of interesting statistics. An introduction by Hon. Dr. Pyne, Minister of Education, reviews the recent changes in the school laws.

The statistics given in the report relate to 1905, as it would be impossible to collect for 1906 the great mass of material used in making up the returns. The report shows that in 1905 there were in Ontario 5,793 Public schools, with 397,170 pupils, 428 Separate schools with 49,324 pupils, and 140 High schools with 28,661 pupils. The respective expenditure for these schools were: Public schools, $5,524,102; Separate schools, $637,134; High schools, $1,004,498. The total expenditure was $7,165,734. The total apportionment by the Government to the schools in 1906 is given at $289,783.

The report shows that teachers salaries in rural schools tend to increase. The average for male teachers in these schools increased from $385 in 1904 to $402 in 1905, and for female teachers from $294 in 1904 to $311 in 1905.

Every Nurse will tell you "Invalids require nourishment that's easily digested, for in cases of sickness the gastric juices are so weakened they cannot act properly on ordinary foods."

Some stimulation is also required, but it must be stimulation without reaction. Tea, coffee, spiritous drinks and similar preparations, are stimulants ——stimulants that react.

Beef tea and meat extracts are also stimulants, but with this difference, they don't react. Yet while they have stimulating properties, they are practically devoid of nourishment.

"Bovril" not only stimulates but nourishes as well, for in it the nourishing qualities of beef, fibrine and albumen are fully preserved.

COMMISSIONER KENT'S COMMENDATION

At the closing session of the investigation of the Sun Life of Canada by the Royal Commission on Life Insurance, Commissioner Kent stated, in connection with his suggestion that voting power might be given to policyholders, that—

"It seems to me that in the conduct of the Sun Life business there is nothing to be desired, as far as the present generation is concerned. If you were immortal I would not say anything further about it. If, by sound judgment, hard work and just discrimination, you have put the Sun Life on the pinnacle of a successful company, another management with other attributes might just as easily squander it. . . . . The directors have done their duty nobly; there is no complaint to be made against them, or any one of them, Who can say whether the future management will continue the present high standard of your Company?"

How to Save Baby From Being Sick

BY A MOTHER WHO KNOWS

Every mother should avoid the possibility of sickness befalling her children this season. And, of course, most mothers do honestly try to avoid such possibilities, but many do not appreciate the one great essential.

Feed the little folks good, healthful, pure, strengthening food and there need not be any fear.

For many years physicians have prescribed malt extracts, which contain a large percentage of maltose, or malt sugar. Malta-Vita, the crisp, delicious whole-wheat food, contains from eight to ten per cent of maltose.

Malta-Vita, on account of its large percentage of maltose, is easily digestible and readily assimilated by the human economy, forming rich healthy blood, is especially beneficial for children and it is so good to eat—not at all like the tasteless variety of breakfast foods—that the little ones always welcome its appearance on the table.

Mrs. Miles McCormick, of South Bend, Ind., says: "We had almost despaired of finding something our baby could eat without being distressed. For a year, since birth, been a constant sufferer from constipation and a general derangement of the stomach and bowels. Since we began feeding him Malta-Vita, he has improved wonderfully and is entirely cured of constipation."

Malta-Vita, all grocers, now 10 cents.

THE CHAMPIONSHIPS WILL BE SETTLED TO-NIGHT

Both Teams are in Good Condition for City League Battle—Ice is Fast.

MR. GEO. LYNCH WILL REFEREE GAME

The championship of the City Hockey League will be decided to-night when Charlotte street and the Strathconas will meet in the final game. The ice will be lightning fast and the game should be a treat. There is keen rivalry between the two teams and as the championship hinges on the result, the players will play hockey from the drop of the hat. Great interest is being displayed int he game and indications point to a big crowd being present. Mr. Geo. Lynch will referee and the big game will be called at 8 o'clock sharp with the teams lined up as follows:

Charlotte Street.	Strathconas.

The seacond game will bring together the Auburns and Orphans, and should be warmly contested. The kids are going to make a big effort to close the season with a victory.

JUNIOR KNOCKERS WERE DEFEATED BY THE BRIGADE

2-1 Was the Score in an Interesting Hockey Game at Knox Rink Last Night.

The Brigade of All Saints' last night trimmed the Junior Knockers by 2-1. The contest took place on Knox Church Rink, and proved to be a fast exhibition of hockey, both aggregations being pretty evenly balanced. The play was a shade too rough at times, and the players showed an inclination to mix things up. Geroux notched the goal for the Knockers, while Layfield and Armstrong scored the two for All Saints'. Moore and Giroux made good stops in goal and spoiled many good shots, while the forward lines of both teams played good games. The line-up was as follows:

All Saints'	Junior Knockers

VICE-PRESIDENT WAS THREE UP LAST NIGHT

President One Up on the Round—Concluding Games To-night and Smoker.

The second of the series of games at the curling rink between the President and Vice-President rinks resulted in favour of the latter by three points last night, the score being 26 to 29. The President is yet one point in the lead in the round, having defated the Vice by four on Tuesday night.

The concluding contest this evening will be battle royal for supremacy as both will go on the ice to win. After the games a smoker will be held in the club rooms at the rink for which a programme has been prepared.

The first three of the following four games were President against Vice, the latter being a practice match:

KENORA TEAM IS STILL IN THE RACE

Though the World's Champions are in Poor Shape They Will Probably Win Out in Manitoba League.

THEY ARE TAKING A LONG REST.

The Winnipeg Free Press in the last issue to hand refers in the following terms to the championship prospects of the Kenora Thistles:—

With Hooper out of the game, Billy McGimsie still suffering from the injured shoulder he received at Ottawa, a junior at point and the rest of the team apparently gone stale, the Thistles are anything but the team that made such a gallant and successful fight for the Stanley Cup. Added to their other misfortunes is an injury sustained by Tommy Phillips in one of the recent games, whereby one of his knees has been seriously affected, and medical aid had to be secured while in Winnipeg on Saturday. The game with Portage at home is now the only one remaining on the Thistle's schedule, and the respite given the team through the postponemnt will give the champions a chance to whip their team into line again. It is likely the game will not be played until the last of the series, but the other teams in the league may have something to say about that, as they naturally feel they are entitled to consideration just as much as Kenora, who have already to some extend marred the league series by their trip east.

League Standing

On account of Kenora playing a single series to the other teams' double games it is somewhat difficult to figure out the league standing. The Thistles have won three games, lost two and have one to play. Two of their wins were from the Strathconas, and the other from Brandon. Portage have lost only one game, that being to the Strathconas, while they have won two and practically three, as they have a lead on Brandon in Portage that the wheat city team cannot scarcely hope to overcome. This would give Brandon two losses. Besides the at-home game with the Strathconas, which may be accepted as a win. Brandon has to play the Winnipeg team the second half of their game here. In this they have a lead of two goals, which they should succeed in holding. Much depends then on the next game of Portage in Brandon, in which the wheat city has a lead of one goal If Portage could win this it would put Brandon out of the running, and Kenora would have to win from Portage twice ,once in the regular series, and again in a play-off to retain the championship. On the other hand if Brandon wins at home from Portage as is more likely, and the other games pan out as figured, then Brandon, Portage and Kenora will all have two losses, and no matter who wins in the game at Kenora, Brandon will be in the final against the victorious team. In any event a play-off at the end of the season seems practically assured.

HOCKEY

ABOUT THE PLAYERS.

For the benefit of the many fans to whom the Review-Examiner hockey match is the star attraction of the season, a short sketch of one of the Review players will be given each day, commencing with the manager.

DONALD BAIRBARN M'RAE will be remembered by his startling exploits last year. He was born in the Glengarry regions, but Ralph Connor having neglected to mention him in any of his novels, our hero packed his suit case and flitted to Ottawa, Ont., where his hockey education was completed by watching Harvey Pulford, Archie Moore, et. al., in their strenuous efforts to hold the Stanley Cup at its moorings. D. B. arrived in the city to take part in the press game of last winter, and covered more ice than any other three men. He is said to be able to fall more often and harder than any man following the puck to-day. His skating is a marvellous exhibition of all that is graceful and spectacular. In addition to this, his shooting is decidedly wicked. He has a cute little shot of the boomerang nature, and in all ways a great help to his team, as well as a source of entertainment for the audience.

NOTES OF THE FRAY.

The Review team is already making preparations for their battle with The Examiner seven on Thursday next. The outfit representing our backyard neighbours have secured the rink for a practice to-morrow afternoon, when any one who knows anything about hockey will be refused admission. Even the rink staff will not be permitted to gaze upon the wonderful aggregation that is supporting Uncle Pike McCrae, and how much they will have to support him they won't realize until they strike the ice. As stated, every effort is being made to preserve the secrecy of the practice, and even the pink cloak will have to keep its face shut.

Since the announcement of the game yesterday more light has been thrown on the Review line-up. It is learned that Messrs. Burns and Burridge, of baseball fame, will be on deck to help out the defence, while the forward line will be composed of McRae, [illegible] Crame, Butcher and Trompson. While The Examiner team has no desire to toot its own horn, it is felt that the above-mentioned team will be out-classed in every department of the game by the seven representing this paper.

The public may depend upon seeing the most scientific exhibition of hockey ever dished out in Peterborough, and to those who desire to add excitement to the game by a little betting on the side, we would say that the one best bet is, The Examiner team will win easily. For references, apply to the Review team of last year, who figured as the short end of a 10 to 1 shot.

Poor old Toronto's last hope of having a team in the finals of any of the three O.H.A. series was knocked higher than a kite last night, when Collingwood walked away from the St. Georges II. by a score of 12 to 5, winning the round by 21 to 8. And thus was the Simcoe team revenged for the manner in which the O.H.A. sacrificed them for the St. Georges last week. Not a Toronto team is left in the running. About all the Queen City is good for in the hockey line now is to act as headquarters for the O.H.A. Better move the head offices to some place where they play real hockey.

CURLING

The club is calling for two rinks to go to Keene on Friday, March 1st, to play a friendly game with the broom wielders on the banks of the Indian River.

WEAK HEART

SYSTEM WAS RUN DOWN

When the heart is healthy and performing its functions naturally, it should beat regularly seventy-two times a minute without causing the owner the slightest inconvenience or distress.

When it begins to beat irregularly or intermittently, palpitate and throb, skip beats, beat fast for a time, then so slow as to seem almost to stop, it causes great anxiety and alarm.

The least excitement or exertion seems to affect it.

Many people are kept in a state of morbid fear of death, become weak, worn and miserable, and are unable to attend to either social or business duties, through unnatural action of their heart.

To all such sufferers

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

can give prompt and permanent relief. Mrs. F. Fletcher, Sault Ste. Marie, West, Ont., says: "I have been troubled for four or five years with weakness, and run down system. My feet were always cold and I felt almost dead. My heart was weak and I was so nervous I could hardly walk across the street. I started taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and after using three boxes I felt much better. I continued their use until I had taken twelve boxes and I am now well."

Price 50 cents per box or 3 boxes for $1.25 at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

ADJUTANT JENNINGS' IMMIGRATION WORK

Former Salvation Army Officer Here Will Have Charge of Work in Maritime Provinces This Year.

25,000 SETTLERS COMING THIS YEAR

Adjutant Jennings, formerly in charge of the immigration work, of the Salvation Army here, and now stationed at Halifax, will again be engaged in this work for the present year, and anticipates a busy season placing the newcomers from the old land. A copy of the "Emigration Gazette," published in London, Eng., just to hand, contains a half tone cut of the staff of the Immigration Department of the Army in Canada, and Adjutant Jennings is included in the number. Referring to the special sailings of steamers for the season, the Gazette says:

The fine steamers Vancouver, (5236 tons), and Southwark, (8606 tons), of the Dominion Line, have been specially charted by us to convey our emigration parties to Canada, so that the accommodation can be relied on. The first sailing is on the 28th of February, and others at present arranged are 14th March, 4th and 20th April, and 9th May, and there will be "conducted parties" at frequent intervals. The Vancouver is the boat on which the Marquiss of Lorne and the Princess Louise, sailed when going out to Canada at the commencement of His Excellency's term of office as Governor-General of Canada, and was the first vessel specially chartered by the Army for its emigration work two years ago. The Southwark is a sister ship of the Kensington, which the department had for four voyages last year. Floating Labour Bureau, the prohibition of gambling and of the sale of intoxicants will, as heretofore, be leading features in these special sailings.

The year 1907, will be the busiest in the history of the immigration work of the Army, and 25,000 persons will be brought to this country through this agency. The Gazette gives intending emigrants some good advice in the following terms: "It is interesting to point out that there are no workhouses in Canada, and judging from the signs of prosperity apparent on every hand none are likely to be required for many years to come, if ever at all. This fact alone is sufficient to deter the idler and the loafer from going to the Dominion, where it is a case of work or starve, and as there is an abundance of the former and no necessity for the latter, honest workingmen can always make sure of a good living."

REWARD OF $5000 FOR WALKER'S CAPTURE

Connecticut Officers Want to Catch the Absconder.

New York, Feb. 26. — A reward of $5,000 for the capture alive of William F. Walker, the missing bank treasurer of New Britain, was announced to-day. The reward was made $1,0000 if Walker should be dead when found.

Walker was in the Cumberland hotel on Sunday. He had shaved of his white whiskers, and had had his moustache trimmed and waxed. Instead of his usual modest quarters he took a suite of two rooms and a bath. The clerk showed surprise and Walker said: "Oh, I have money; I might as well enjoy myself before I die." Walker left behind a grip which was afterwards taken in charge by his son. Walker had on a new suit. It has been determined that on Sunday Walker had about $200,000 in ready cash in his possession. He had always been noted for his stinginess.

GREATEST BATTLE EVER FOUGHT

The bravest battle that ever was fought,
Shall I tell you where and when?
On the maps of the world you will find it not,
'Twas fought by the mothers of men.

Nay, not with cannon or battle shot,
With sword or noble pen;
Nay, not with eloquent words or thought
From mouths of wonderful men.

But deep in a walled-up woman's heart—
Of woman that would not yield,
But bravely, silently bore her part—
Lo! there is that battlefield.

No marshalling troop, no bivouac song,
No banners to gleam and wave!
But, oh! these battles, they last so long—
From babyhood to the grave.

Yet faithful still as a bridge of stars,
She fights in her walled-up town—
Fights on and on in the endless wars;
Then, silent, unseen, goes down!

O, ye with banners and battle shot,
And soldiers to shout and praise!
I tell you, the kingliest victories fought
Are fought in these silent ways.

O, spotless woman, in a world of shame!
With spendid and silent scorn,
Go back to God as white as you came.
The kingliest warrior born!

—Joaquin Miller.

WEEKLY LENTEN SERVICE AT ST. JOHN'S

Sermon Delivered by Rev. A. J. F. Cobb on "Kindness"—Notice Given of Lecture by Rev. H. J. Ben O'Tiel on March 11th.

At the Lenten service last night Rev. A. J. F. Cobb, Rector of St. Mark's, Port Hope, delivered the third special sermon of the series.

Dr. Cobb was for a number of years rector of the church in North Bay, and did a good work in the railway town and came to Port Hope last year. He is a man of strong physique and eloquent in address. The subject of his address was 'Kindness." In this Lenten time, he said, the people should make a strong effort to cultivate the virtues of the Christian character. While kindness might not occupy an important place in the minds of men, still it is necessary for a true Christian character. Our Lord referred to its importance when He spoke of the cup of cold water and St. Paul in his admonition dealt with the small things of life and added much to the daily beauty of living. Kind thoughts, words and deeds can be readily cultivated by all, and come natural to some. The Christian church should be the home of kindness, and the house of prayer.

Our acts of kindness should be extended to all, no matter who they are, but especially to those who needed it most. It should be done after the example of Christ and shed its light upon the just and unjust.

The special preacher for next week will be Rev. C. E. Sharpe, M.A., rector of St. Thomas' church, Toronto.

Rev. Canon Davidson announced that an illustrated lecture in costume will be given by Rev. H. J. Ben. Olel on March 11th, on "Jerusalem." He is particularly well qualified to deal with Eastern subjects and should treat this subject in a thorough manner.

A brief meeting of the Chapter of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew was held after the service. Arrangements were made for a special open air service on Good Friday, and for the Sunday services in the Grand Opera House on March 10th and 17th. Mr. J. J. Turner has kindly given the Brotherhood the use of the Opera House.

TAKES HERD OF CATTLE OVER 3000 MILES

Australian Drover's Record Trip With 3,540 Cattle.

Examiner Special.

Melbourne, Feb. 27.—A story of a journey to market which lasted over a year and a half comes from Queensland, where, at a recent sale, some 2200 head of cattle were offered which had been driven from Lessadale Station, West Australia, by a drover, Walter Rose.

Rose started with about 3500 head of mixed cattle, and his course extended nearly 3000 miles, much of it through unknown country. All went well until about half way across the northern territory of South Australia, when a drought was encountered. This made progress slow and extremely difficult. Rose followed up the water courses towards the ranges, looking for feed and water. In searching for these he often made journeys 150 miles in advance of the cattle. At times he was hampered by some of his men leaving him, owing to the hardships they had to endure.

The cattle were delivered at Charleville, after 19 months, in excellent condition, and steers from the herd brought $30 a head, which is considered a good price. This droving feat is regarded as the record for Queensland.

REGINA

You will make more money by buying lots in Regina City, than by any other source at the present time. It is no gamble, no chance, but an absolutely sure investment. Property will increase at least 100 per cent. in less than two years. Buy now. Prices will be advanced in the spring. Here are a few things that are making Regina grow and making property increase in value :—

REGINA, the wholesale and distributing centre for Saskatchewan and the west, $6,000,000.00 worth of farm machinery sold from Regina last year. Regina is the head-quarters for Saskatchewan of :—

The American-Abell-Engine and Thresher Co.
Massey Harris Company.
Frost & Wood Company.
Fairchild Company.
Waterloo Manufacturing Company.
J. I. Case Threshing Machine Company.
Garr-Scott Threshing Machine Company.
The International Harvester Company.
The North-west Thresher Company.
The New Hamburg Manufacturing Company.
Reeves Thresher Company.
Nichols & Shepherd Thresher Company.
Sawyer-Massey Company.
Noline Plow Company.
Canadian Port Huron Company.
Cockshutt Plow Company.

Besides the above there are a number of large eastern wholesale houses located in Regina. At the present time some eighteen more wholesale firms have secured sites in Regina to build on this year.

REGINA, the only railroad centre in Saskatchewan.

Besides the present roads which run north, south, east and west, there will be six more lines built into Regina during the next two years, being the Great Northern from the south, the Canadian Northern from the southeast, the C. P. R. north to Prince Albert, and three G. T. P. roads—one northeast, one east, one southwest.

The following is what Mr. Morse of the G. T. P. said in Regina on Aug. 6, 1906:

The Leader, Aug. 6, 1906.

FRANK MORSE IN REGINA

Mr. Frank W. Morse, Vice-President and General Manager of the G. T. P. Railway, spent a few hours in the city on Saturday morning, and had a short conference with Mayor McArs and W. G. Pestigrel, President of the Board of Trade. Mr. Morse had no new statement to make for publication regarding the plans of the G. T. P. in and around Regina. He repeated what he had said when in Regina on May 16th, last that his Company would get into Regina at the earliest possible date, as they realized there was a large business to be done here. He confirmed the statement, which was first published by The Leader, that in addition to a branch line to Regina, from the main line near Yorkton, and from Regina to the international boundary on the south, a branch would be run to Regina from Brandon.

"The construction of branch lines would be carried on simultaneously with the main line," said Mr. Morse.

REGINA leads all cities from Winnipeg to the Coast in building for 1906.

Capital of Saskatchewan ranks fifth among the metropolitan centres of Canada, being surpassed by Winnipeg, Toronto, Montreal and Vancouver. Leads all the Dominion in relative growth. Building permits in 1906:

Regina—$1,982,330.

Edmonton—$1,863,894.

Calgary—$1,109,161.

No other city in Canada shows as high a percentage of growth as Regina. 1907 will beat all records. A large number of expensive buildings are being erected. Among others include:—Four new hotels, at a cost of over half a million; municipal hospital, $100,000; Y. M. C. A. at $100,000; Baptist Church, $50,000; Masonic Temple, at $75,000; Dominion Land Titles Office at $110,000; New Public School at $64,000, and many other business blocks and residences. Chief amongst all buildings will be the new Provincial Parliament Buildings, at a cost of at least $1,500,000.

Facts About Regina City

Regina is the Capital of the Province of Saskatchewan.
Regina is the only commercial centre of Saskatchewan.
Regina is the only railroad and distributing centre in Saskatchewan.
Regina has eight chartered banks and four more coming.
Regina tax rate for 1906 is only 15 mills.
Regina has the finest sewer and waterworks system in the West.
Regina is the only city west of Winnipeg with paved streets.
Regina has a surplus of assets of over a million and a half.
Regina's population has increased over 300 per cent. in three years.
All public utilities are owned and operated by the city.
Regina is in the heart of the best farming country in the West.

Prices and Terms

Lots are $50, $75, $100, $200 to $300 each, according to distance from Government buildings and centre of city.

MRS. WALKER DOING WELL IN GUELPH HOSPITAL

Her Husband Reports That She is Improving and Will Soon be Able to Leave for Home.

THE BABY WAS BURIED YESTERDAY.

The Examiner to-day is in receipt of a communication from Mr. H. G Walker, from Guelph, in which that gentleman states that his daughter, Eunice Dolight, who was killed in the G. T. R. wreck on Tuesday, was buried yesterday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, in the Union Cemetery.

He adds that Mrs. Walker, whose left arm was badly cut and her back injured, is in St. Joseph's Hospital, and is doing nicely. It is hoped that she will soon be able to leave the hospital, and no fears for her recovery are now anticipated.

Vaughan Edgerton, the little boy, escaped uninjured.

A Bank Manager Well Known In Peterborough Died Suddenly In Belleville

Late Mr. Wm. Hamilton, Manager of Merchants Bank, Had Stroke of Apoplexy---Was Related In This City---A Prominent Man in Financial Circles.

Many persons in this city will learn with regret of the death, under particularly sad circumstances, in Belleville yesterday of Mr. William Hamilton, a brother-in-law of Mrs. (Hon.) Robert Hamilton, of Peterborough, the wife of the deceased being Mrs. Hamilton's sister. The late Mr. Hamilton was quite well known in Peterborough, having visited here frequently. His daughter, whose death occurred about two years ago, suddenly, was also quite well known here, and friends of the family will be deeply grieved to learn the sad story, which is told in the Belleville Intelligencer as follows:—

Death's summons came suddenly shortly after noon to-day to Mr. Wm. Hamilton, manager of the Merchants' Bank here. The cause of death was a stroke of apoplexy.

Deceased, although able to be about and attend to his duties, had nevertheless been unwell for some time. This morning he was not only about the bank, but was out upon the street.

At a few minutes after the noon hour Mr. Hamilton went upstairs, evidently to his sleeping apartment, for the purpose of lying down. Members of the family, hearing a noise as if some one had fallen, rushed upstairs and were startled to find the deceased lying upon the floor, near his bed room.

To all appearance life had fled, but such was not the case.

Drs. Yeomans and Gibson were summoned and were soon upon the scene. They could, however, do nothing to save the stricken man's life, as he passed away a few minutes after their arrival.

They gave it as their opinion that death was caused by apoplexy. The body was then prepared for burial.

Mr. Hamilton, who was 75 years of age, was born in the City of Hamilton, where he resided until the year 1877, when he came to this city to take the management of the Merchants' Bank, which position he has filled from that day to this, with credit to himself and the financial institution which he represented. He was a gentleman who was highly respected and since coming to the city had made a host of friends. His sudden demise will be sincerely regretted. Deceased was a member of St. Thomas' Anglican Church.

A widow and a family of four sons and four daughters survive. The sons are Lindsay, William and Robert, at home, and Henry, of Renfrew. The daughters are Mrs. Wm. J. Thomson, Mrs. R. E. Orr, Misses Marjorie and Gwendolin, all of whom are in the city.

In this, their hour of deep grief, they will receive the sympathy of all classes of citizens.

Bank Makes Statement.

Mr. R. Shaw, Inspector, and Mr. K. M. Taylor, accountant, of the Merchants' Bank, desire us to state that everything is perfectly correct in connection with the late Mr. Hamilton's accounts. This is done to set at rest any idle rumours that may possibly arise.

C. P. R. Midnight Train In Head-On Collision

Two Train Employees Killed in Wreck Near Kemptville---One of Dead Men Related in this City---Express Crashed Into Freight Train---200 Passengers Escaped Unhurt

COLLISSION FOLLOWED BY CONFLAGRATION OF THE WRECKAGE

Special wire to J. R. Helntz & Co.

Another railway wreck, attended with fatal results has been reported. The midnight C.P.R. train, which left here at 12.25, running pretty well on time, was ditched at Mountain station, near Kemptville, and two employees of the railway killed.

Only the most meager reports have been received as yet, but it appears that a freight train was taking a siding at Mountain, to allow the midnight to pass, and did not get clear of the main line in time, the result being that the express crashed into it.

Fortunately none of the more than 200 passenegrs on the express were seriously injured, so far as can be learned, so that if there were any Peterborough persons on the train they will in all probability be safe.

DEAD MESSENGER WAS RELEATED IN PETERBOROUGH

Toronto, March, 1. — The train from Toronto to Montreal, leaving here at 10 o'clock last night on the C.P.R., was wrecked at Mountain station, near Kemptville, early this morning.

Two employees of the Company, Hitchins and Nicholls, both express messengers, were killed.

There were 200 passengers on board the train, and immediately after the collision the wreckage took fire.

The railway officials state that none of the passengers on the train were seriously injured.

THE MESSENGERS WERE BURNED IN THE BAGGAGE CAR

G. N. W. Press Despatch.

Smith's Falls, Mar. 1.—A head-on collision occurred on the C. P. R. at Mountain Station at 6 o'clock this morning, No. 6 express, eastbound, which left Smith's Falls at 5 o'clock crashing into a freight, westbound, on the same track. The crews of both trains jumped and escaped serious injury. The two engines were telescooped into each other. The express car and the baggage car were burned and one freight car was destroyed.

The two express messengers were burned up in their car. Their names are William Hitchins, of Montreal, and J. J. Nicholson, of Montreal. The passengers on the express escaped.

William Hitchins, the express messenger, who was killed in the wreck this morning, was a first cousin of Messrs. R. J. and Barry Winch, of this city, and the former received a telegram from his son, C. H., from Montreal, this morning, stating that he had been killed.

Mr. Hitchins was a native of Cobourg, and was a widower; his children are all dead. He was about 60 years of age.

Mr. Winch stated that in all probability the funeral will take place in Cobourg, though nothing definite has been decided about it yet.

CREATORS OF SEMI-READY

Both From the Midland Counties—Once a Former Resident of Peterborough

Peterborough and Pembroke supplied the creation and development of the Semi-Ready Tailoring. From the latter town came John E. Kennedy, whose conception of the first idea of making fine clothes on the physique type system has revolutionised fine tailoring for men. The present director and designer of Semi-Ready Tailoring is President Andrew Mercer, a native son of Peterborough, who for many years conducted the largest merchant tailoring business in the Midland Counties. Mr. Mercer has always been the chief designer, and it is to his enthusiastic study, coupled with his larger experience, that the success of Semi-Ready Tailoring is due.

The new styles are now on view at Cressman's.

While the Metropolitan Railway, London, characterizes the statement as premature, a correspondent asserts that guards over a certain age, who at present earn $8.50 a week on the railway, are to be transferred to the ticket collecting department at $5 a week.

Could Not Collect Balance Due for Instruction by Mail—Had no Ontario License.

The many pupils of the International Correspondence School in this city, will be interested in the following despatch from Toronto:

The International Correspondence School of Scranton, sued W. J. Brown of London, for a balance due on a course of instruction.

The company lost in the trial court and appealed to the Divisional Court, who confirmed the trial court's decision.

The judge took the ground that the International Correspondence School were doing business in Ontario without a license.

OUTLET QUESTION SETTLED

The Examiner, on behalf of Peterborough and this district, is naturally pleased that its contention that Trenton was the proper southern terminus of the Trent Canal, has been endorsed by the report of Mr. Walah, engineer in charge of the surveys of the alternative routes. We advocated this terminus, not that we loved Port Hope less, but the interests of transporation and industrial interests more. In the interests of navigation, by means of barges, the land-locked route is practically indispensable. The matter of power is also a most important question. The diversion of water, necessary, if the canal went by way of Port Hope, would entail an annual compensation to owners of power south of Rice Lake, enough to represent a capital sum of about $205,000. Besides, the construction of the canal via Trenton would develop and make available for use about 75,000 h.p. added to the power at present available on the Trent River, for it is estimated that the construction of the canal will develop possibilities for a total of about 80,000 horse power. This amount, at the present Government rate of rental per horse power ($2) would bring in a revenue of $160,000 per year, a considerable sum, but much less important than the industrial development the availability of the power would represent. Mr. M. J. Butler, Deputy Minister, recommends strongly an 8-foot 4-inch canal. Though a canal of this depth would cost, by way of Trenton, less than $40,000 more than by way of Port Hope, this would be much more than offset by the saving of the $200,000 capitalized damages which Trent River power owners could claim if water enough to fill a canal were diverted to the Port Hope route, not to speak of the very important development of water power by the building of the Trenton route canal. Apart from the question of route altogether, the settlement of the question is gratifying because it paves the way to the beginning of work upon the completion of the missing link of canal between Rice Lake and, practically, Lake Ontario. We may expect a generous sum placed in the estimates for the continuation of the work of canal construction.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

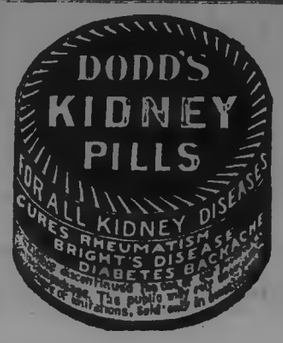
The present Premier of Canada is, in the opinion of Saturday Night, the foremost Canadian of his time, and the natural leader of his time. . . . . Men have stepped, — some have been escorted—out of Sir Wilfrid's cabinet, yet no one has raised a hand against him.

Australia has turned up its nose at General Booth's offer of immigrants. Australia is not wise. It's the people that make a country; and if General Booth's immigrants, offered to our sister colony, are as generally good as those he supplies Ontario, the unwisdom is compassized.

Mr. Sise, President of the Bell Telephone Company, is angry with the Toronto newspapers, because, he says, they sided with the striking telephone girls. What would Mr. Sise have—would he expect them to to take a man of his Sise? Newspapermen are human, and it's human to take to a "striking" girl, whether she runs a telephone or otherwise.

The business market can still be quoted as active. The Customs receipts, representing the activity in industrial and commercial operations, are still climbing. February has only twenty-eight days, yet this month has been what is called a record-breaker. It was the greatest month in the history of the Toronto Customs House. The receipts were over a million dollars.



ELECTRIC POSSIBILITIES

At the risk of using a startlingly original form of expression, it may be remarked that electricity in regard to the range of its application, and usefulness, is merely in its infancy. Every day, almost, is developing new forms of employment of this mysteriously mighty element. This condition assumes great importance to this province, in view of the immense possibilities in the way of the generation of the electric current in Ontario. We have great deposits of iron, but without the coal, for centuries indispensable to smelting and steel production. But the adaptation of electricity to both these purposes, and its success, as demonstrated at Sault Ste. Marie open out possibilities of inestimable extent and range. But we in Ontario have not yet reached the advanced position of Sweden in using power for what may be called, everyday purposes, such as for ploughing, and other similar agricultural purposes. Sweden is similarly conditioned to Ontario—it has much iron and little coal, and electricity is largely employed instead.

It is estimated that in a short times the Swedes will be using one and a half million horsepower in the form of electrical energy, of which nearly one-third will be applied to the operation of railways and one-seventh to iron and steel smelting. It is in the application of this power to agricultural purposes that the farmers of Ontario will find that which is most directly interesting to them. A public institution in the south of Sweden has erected a station provided with windmills, which develop power for plowing, reaping, threshing and the operation of the dairy. When there is plenty of wind the power required is developed by means of wind, transformed into electrical energy, and in this way applied to the farm operations named. When the wind is strong, and power is not required, the energy is stored in accumulators; if the wind and reserve storage both fail to supply demands when these arise, the nearest power station deriving its energy from waterfalls, is drawn upon to make up the deficiency. Thus the power is always available for the purposes required.

In the extent to which it has developed its water service and in the use made of wind as a supplementary form of energy, the Swedes are clearly one lap in advance of the people of this province.

ASSESSMENT SITUATION

Brantford Expositor.

The only issue of public consequence in connection with the assessment situation is the retention of the assessment commission.

The Expositor understands from Conservative sources that there is a likelihood that an effort will be made to abolish the commission and revert to the old system, under which the assessment is made by two assessors.

To such a change the Expositor is unalterably opposed, while the Courier, having favoured the creation of the department cannot consistently support any Conservative attempt to abolish it.

The system as at present in vogue is sound in principle and is best calculated to meet the expanding needs of a growing city.

If the results attained are not as satisfactory as desired by some members of the city council, they may rest assured that the fault lies in the operation, and not the system.

The progressive element in the city of Brantford will insist on the retention of the system, which as yet, has not been accorded a sufficient trial, although it has already in the opinion of the Expositor, shown excellent results.

If the department, according to the views of the council, is overmanned, or is proving too expensive, the aldermen should direct their attention to the reform rather than the abolition of the existing system.

No action was taken at the council meeting on Monday night. The question is one of such importance that the council may well consider its course before effecting the retrogressive change sugested by some of its members.

STRATHCONAS CHAMPIONS OF CITY HOCKEY LEAGUE

on the senior team, and altogether, the league has served the purpose for which it was organized.

The completed standing of the league is as follows:

	W.	L.
Stratheonas	6	0
Charlotte Street	4	1
Auburns	3	2
Orphans	0	*4
Lakefield	0	*4

*Orphans and Lakefield played a tie game.

The Stratheonas, city league champions, left on the noon train to-day Madoc, where they will play the home team another game. The two teams played a tie game a short time ago in Madoc. Meagher and McGrath were unable to go and their places will be taken by Shaw, of the Suburbs, and Dusty of the Charlotte street team. The team will line up as follows:

Goal, Wilson.
Point, Shaw.
Cover, White.
Rover, Dusty.
Centre, McMillan.
Right, Seymour.
Left, Weatherston.

Mr. Jos. Maher, vice-president of the City League, has received a letter from the Lindsay City League, suggesting that games be arraned between the Stratheonas, the local winners, and the Catholic Literary Society team, the holders of the Lindsay championship. The Strathconas are considering the matter.

The win of the Stratheonas was popular and deserved. They started the season with only three of last year's team, Weatherston, McMillan and Wilson in the game, and had to build up practically a new team. The way they have come on has been wonderful. They have developed in to a most formidable team, who play hockey from the drop of the hat. Credit is due Manager Metheral and the other officers of the club, who have done everything in their power to help the team along, and to Wallie Parnell, who, after being refused a permit in the City League, remained with the team as coach and did much to bring the team work of the seven to the advanced stage it has reached. In addition to the seven who played on the team last night, Art Mann and Billy Weatherston have figured on the team during the season and have been of great assistance.

The Examiner trophy, which will be held by the Strathconas for a year, and which was first offered for competition last year, was won by the Charlotte Street team last season.

The thanks of the City League of officials and teams should be given to Mr. Geo. Lynch, who has acted as referee all season, giving up a night a week to the league. He has been a strict and impartial referee whose good work has kept the games fast all through.

STOOD ALL NIGHT FOR TICKETS

And In the End Those Who Wanted Admission Tickets for Wanderers-Ottawa Game Had To Go Without.

The people of Ottawa are dead anxious to see a hockey game. According to a despatch from that city they stood on the street from eleven o'clock at night in order to be in line when the sale for the Wanderers-Ottawa game opened the next morning at 8 o'clock. The sale did not take place after all, the proprietors of the drug store in which the tickets were to have been sold, refusing to run the risk of having their premises destroyed. As it was several plate glass windows were broken and other damage done, and in the end the anxious ones had to go without their pasteboards after all.

"IT SAVED MY LIFE"

PRAISE FOR A FAMOUS MEDICINE

Mrs. Willadsen Tells How She Tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Just in Time.

Mrs. T. C. Willadsen, of Manning, Iowa, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I can truly say that you have saved my life, and I cannot express my gratitude to you in words.

"Before I wrote to you, telling you how I felt, I had doctored for over two years steady and spent lots of money on medicines besides, but it all failed to help me. My monthly periods had ceased and I suffered much pain, with fainting spells, headache, backache and bearing-down pains, and I was so weak I could hardly keep around. As a last resort I decided to write you and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am so thankful that I did, for after following your instructions which you sent me free of all charge, I became regular and in perfect health. Had it not been for you I would be in my grave to-day.

"I sincerely trust that this letter may lead every suffering woman in the country to write you for help as I did."

When women are troubled with irregular or painful periods, weakness, displacement or ulceration of an organ, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, backache, flatulence, general debility, indigestion or nervous prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles.

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. Refuse all substitutes.

For twenty-five years Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, has under her direction, and since her decease, been advising sick women free of charge. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Boing Institute Work

Mr. Geo. Carlaw, of Warkworth, left on Tuesday to take up Institute work in the Province of Quebec, and expects to be absent about three weeks. Mr. Carlaw must be doing good work for the Institute, as this is the second time this season that he has been called to this work.

Astronomical Society

A number of persons have expressed their desire to become members of the newly-formed Astronomical Society, and, for the information of those who do not know to whom to apply, it may be said that if they will send their names and addresses to Dr. Neal, the secretary, or to Rev. Dr. Marsh, president, all particulars will be furnished.

Missionary Anniversary

The annual missionary anniversary services in the Charlotte Street Methodist Church will be held on Sunday next. The speaker will be Rev. Mr. Norman, a late missionary in Japan, who is in Canada on furlough. He was through the Russian-Japanese war with the Jap army. Mr. Norman will address a rally of the Epworth League on Monday evening.

Had a Nasty Bronchial Cough

AS AN AFTER EFFECT ON PNEUMONIA—NOTHING PROVED EFFECTIVE UNTIL WE USED

DR. CHASE'S SYRUP OF LINSEED AND TURPENTINE

Many a mother can say, as does Mrs. Harker, in the following letter, that Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, has proved a friend to her in time of colds, with the little ones.

Mrs. Walter Harker, Sydenham, Frontenac county, Ont., writes:

"Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, has proved a friend to me in times of colds with my little ones. I have tried many others, but have found none just as good. My little boy, about a year old, had pneumonia and was left with a nasty bronchial cough, but Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is helping him wonderfully and I am sure it will cure him.

"We have also used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills with splendid results and have great faith in all of Dr. Chase's medicines."

It may not have occurred to you that both bronchitis and asthma are diseases of the nerves of the bronchial tubes and lungs and that is why severe attacks of coughing are brought on whenever these nerves are irritated by changing temperature, the breathing of dust or emotional excitement.

It is by its remarkable facility for soothing the nerves and sheathing the delicate membranous linings with a protective coating that Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine has proven so thoroughly effective as a cure for bronchitis and asthma. Its power in these disease is unquestionable.

Relief from coughing comes almost immediately and by persistent use a cure is gradually and certainly brought about.

When the system is greatly run down it is advisable to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food in order to assist in restoring vigour to the wasted nerves.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, 25 cents a bottle; family size, 60 cents; at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box. 3

ENJOYABLE CONCERT HELD AT ZION

Local Talent Took Part in the Foresters' Entertainment.

A very successful and enjoyable concert was held in the Foresters' Hall, Zion, Otonabee, last night, under the auspices of Court Zion, No. 227, Canadian Order of Foresters. There was a large attendance and the programme was evidently much to the taste of the audience, judging by the manner in which every number was encored. A number of Peterborough people took part in the programme, and were enthusiastically received.

The growth of Court Zion has been great. The membership is now 67, and 18 have been added in the last three months.

Mr. Walter Dixon, who acted as chairman last night made some interesting remarks on Forestry. A sumptuous repast was served before the following programme was rendered:

WAS PRESENTED WITH A WATCH CHAIN

Friends of Mr. Richard Lees Said Farewell on Eve of His Departure.

Some twenty friends of Mr. Richard Lees, designer of the Auburn Woollen Mills, who leaves for Boston, next week, gathered at the White House last night to say farewell to him. Mr. Lees has been a resident of Peterborough for about five years, during which time he has made many friends who will regret his departure from the city.

A very enjoyable time was spent last night. Mine Host White had prepared a sumptuous repast to which ample justice was done. The evening was pleasantly spent in songs and speeches and the departure of Mr. Lees was referred to in terms of regret by the speakers. During the evening Mr. Lees was presented with a handsome watch chain as a testimonial of the esteem in which he is held by his friends.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE JOHN MACDONALD

Representatives of Universities Will Pay Their Last Respects.

The funeral of the late John Allan Macdonald will take place to-morrow afternoon. Word has been received in the city to the effect that representatives of Toronto and McMaster Universities will be present to pay their last respects to the deceased.

A short service will be conducted at the residence of Mr. Samuel Cottingham, Donegal street, at 2.30 o'clock, by the Rev. J. R. Webb of Murray street church. At three o'clock there will be a service at the Murray street Baptist church, conducted by the pastor, assisted by Rev. J. G. Potter of St. Andrew's, and a representative of McMaster University.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, March 1—Developments this morning included an almost immediate offering of support stock on the opening strength in the market, followed by professional selling and realizing for account of those courageous enough to buy for a turn yesterday morning. The weakest issue was Smelting which was driven below the previous low price, but support at the lower level caused short covering and the price rallied sharply.

After noon a sold-out condition and lack of pressure from the bears gave the bulls an opportunity and they rallied the market bringing prices back to last night's level and, in some instances, higher. London was again a good buyer on balance and the prospect of the passage of the Aldrich currency bill by the House to-morrow had a good effect on sentiment. The market closed strong.

SUFFERED EIGHT YEARS FROM KIDNEYS

Doctor's said Female Trouble.

Mrs. Charles Lewis, Collingwood, Ont., writes: "For eight years I suffered from Kidney Complaint, and until twelve months ago doctors' said I was suffering from 'Female Trouble.' Last November (1905), I was seriously ill, resulting I believe from kidney troubles. Finding doctor's medicine doing me no good, I persuaded my husband to purchase me a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, after having read of a case somewhat resembling mine. I commenced taking them according to directions (not taking the doctor's medicine), and on second day a swelling commenced in my feet, legs and body. The following day I was so changed and swollen my husband, in alarm, hastened to Mr. Johnson's drug store, who told him to tell me he thought the pills were drawing something out of the blood, and to keep on taking them. I did so and after taking them a week, the swelling disappeared leaving me with a complexion free from pimples, tired, weary feeling gone, constipation, from which I suffered for years, gone, pain in the back, gone, and a general feeling of joy and light heartedness, I have not felt since a child, took place in me.

My sister-in-law (Mrs. Bryan), seeing the action of Doan's Kidney Pills, and the change for good they accomplished in me, sent for a box and they completely cured her. When there is an opportunity of telling people what Doan's Kidney Pills did for us, we always take advantage of it, and tell them to give them a fair trial."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50c. per box or 3 boxes for $1.25, for sale at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

BELL COMPANY MAY GET ALARM BOX CONTRACT

Understood That the City's Agreement Has Satisfied Them With Minor Changes.

FIRE, WATER, LIGHT COMMITTEE MEET

Ald. Johnston, chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, expects to hold a meeting this evening or to-morrow morning which will probably settle the fire alarm installation question. The committee drew up an agreement with the Bell Telephone Company which was submitted to the latter for endorsation or disapproval some time ago and have assurance that the Company will accept it with a few slight alterations which do not affect the city's interests.

The committee expect to have the Bell Company's answer this afternoon or early to-morrow morning and as soon as this is received they will at once hold a meeting.

A bylaw will be prepared and be submitted on Monday night to the council to be passed by them. If the committee's expectations are ratified there will be little delay in having the fire alarm boxes installed which have been under consideration for some time.

OBITUARY

MRS. GEORGE ASH

The death occurred yesterday in Cobourg, of Mrs. George Ash, who for a number of years has been a resident of that town. Two sons, Mr. J. A. Ash and Mr. J. H. Greer, reside in Peterborough and left at noon to-day to attend the funeral, which takes place to-morrow afternoon from her late home in Cobourg to the Coldsprings Cemetery.

A PRESENTATION TO RETIRING TEACHER

Miss Walker, of George Street School, Honoured by Her Pupils.

Miss Winnie Walker, who, for some two years, has been on the staff of the Peterborough Public Schools, and recently accepted a position as teacher in Toronto, was honoured by her pupils of the second book classes in the George Street School yesterday afternoon.

An appreciated and neatly-worded address was read by Master Harold Knapman, and the presentation of a handsome gift clock was made on behalf of the pupils by Miss Maudie Pogue.

Miss Walker, who was most agreeably surprised, made an appropriate reply. She left for Toronto yesterday evening, and will carry with her the best wishes of her pupils and many friends in Peterborough for her future success. She will be succeeded on the George Street School staff by Miss Stubbs, of Lakefield.

THEN THEY'LL TAKE NOTICE

What concern is it to anybody that you have a finely furnished house, and will rent rooms at reasonable prices, until the fact is known. No one cares. The fact that you want lodgers is of no import to anyone but yourself, until others know of your desires. The public will take prompt notice of your wants and your offerings, and your rooms will be immediately filled as soon as you announce the fact in the "Board and Rooms" columns on the classified pages of The Examiner.

Fast Skating and Condition Won Last Night's Hockey Game.

Examiner Special

Bridgenorth, Feb. 28.—The Bridgenorth hockey team journeyed over to Lakefield last night, played and trimmed a team in that burg by 6—4, on their own ice. The game was fast from start to finish. Lakefield scored the first two but by a nice combination A. Coons, J. Cullen and Fred Jopling, Bridgenorth tallied the next, the latter man doing the trick. Shortly after W. Mann netted another and made the score two all at half time.

In the second half Bridgenorth scored 4 in succession, Mann, Coons and Jopling netting them.

The spectators then went wild and the two teams extended themselves to the utmost. Lakefield got two more goals which ended the score 6—4 in the visitors' favour, who had their opponents beaten in skating and condition. Bridgenorth lined up as follows:

Goal, N. Kelly; p J. Conway; c p. B. Cullen; r w. W. Mann; c F. Jopling; l w J. Cullen; l w E. Coons.

The New Lord's Day Act Went Into Force Yesterday

Some of the Provisions Which Affect Local People---Livery Rigs May be Hired for Personal Use---Games and Performances.

NO FOREIGN NEWSPAPERS MAY BE SOLD ON THAT DAY

Yesterday the new Lord's Day Act, passed by the Dominion Parliament, went into effect and a number of newp rovisions are contained in the Act, which supercedes that in force up to to-night. Clause two of the Act provides that it shall not be lawful for any person on the Lord's Day, except as provided herein, or in any Provincial Act or law now or hereafter in force, to offer for sale or purchase any goods, chattels or other personal property, or any real estate, or to carry on or transact any business of his ordinary calling, or in connection with such calling, or for gain to do, or employ any other person to do, on that day, any work, business or labour.

There are, however, certain works which are permitted, including work in connection with churches; for the relief of sickness, or selling drugs; receiving and transmitting telegraph messages; any work without the doing of which electric current, light, heat, cold air, water or gas cannot be continually supplied for lawful purposes; and other works considered necessary. It is permissible to hire livery rigs for the personal use of one's family. The law also allows newspapermen to work after 6 o'clock on Sunday night for the purpose of getting out a paper on Monday. Milk for domestic use may be delivered, and fortunately, the Act does not prohibit the working of domestic servants on Sunday, or there would be trouble in some families. Any unavoidable work by fishermen after six o'clock on Sunday, in the taking of fish, is also permitted, while it is not unlawful to carry on all operations connected with the making of maple syrup and sugar in the maple groves.

The law is very explicit in regard to games and performances. It is not lawful for anyone on Sunday to engage in anypublic contest for gain or reward, or to be present thereat, or to engage in or be present at any performance, entertainment, etc., elsewhere than in a church where any fee is charged, either directly or indirectly for admission. It is not lawful for any person or Sunday, except provided under a provincial act to conduct an excursion by any mode of conveyance on which charges are made for passengers and whose obejct is for the amusement of the passengers. Not only is it not lawful to take part in or provide any performance provided by the act, but even the advertising of any such performance is prohibited.

The act provides that it shall be unlawful to bring any foreign newspaper into Canada for the purpose of selling or distributing them on Sunday.

Every person who violates any of the provisions of this act shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine of not less than one dollar and not more than forty dollars, with the costs of the case.

Decision To Be Reached In Lease Question Soon

Work on Power Development for Otonabee Power Company Will Probably be Prosecuted in the Near Future--Hon. Mr. Emmerson Will Deal With the Lease in a Week.

A report to the effect that the contract for supplying the water-wheel equipment for the proposed power house at No. 4 Dam had been let by the Otonabee Power Company is denied by the managing director of the company, though he stated that considerable preliminary work had already been done, and as soon as the lease of power to the company had been ratified by the Minister of Railways and Canals, which will be in about a week, it is expected, the contracts will be let.

The company will not accept the proposed agreement of the city council with reference to supplying power to the municipality, considering it unjust to themselves. Mr. Butler to whom the matter has been submitted, is said to have expressed his opinion that the company would not be foolish enough to accept the agreement.

Hon. Mr. Emmerson, who is busy with departmental affairs, has not dealt with the question of the lease yet, but it has been gone over by Mr. Butler, who will recommend to the Minister the acceptance of the agreement, and as soon as it has been officially signed by him, the company will commence active operations.

The managing director of the company stated that they were anxious to get to work as quickly as possible, because they had demands for power which they were unable to supply until they were developing power at the new dam.

It is probable that a local firm, the William Hamilton Company, will be given the contract for the manufacture and installation of the equipment, work on which will be rushed as soon as the lease has been signed.

Central School Pupils Out Of Doors In 90 Seconds

False Alarm Sounded This Morning to Test the Fire Drill—One Boy Escaped the Strap---Members of School Board Pleased With Result.

That the pupils of the Central school have been carefully instructed in fire drill was amply illustrated by their martial-like performance this morning about 11.30 when the sound of the gong rang throughout the school and brought them rapidly to the outdoors. It was a false alarm, however, but nevertheless the members of the School Board were present—Messrs. Pringle and Hill, and Dr. Morrison—were greatly delighted with the manner in which teh teachers of the several rooms were able to have the five or six hundred pupils under their care outside the school in one minute and a half.

The Supervision Committee, had arranged a perfect test of the efficiency of the routine developed by the periodical fire drill. They kept their plans secret and consequently sprang a surprise on everybody concerned—including teachers, pupils and even the inspector. The test was therefore as genuine a one as if an actual fire had caused the ringing of the alarm. The inspector was found in his office and requested to ring the fire alarm. In a few seconds the pupils were marching in single file like young and trained soldiers from the the various rooms, downstairs and out of doors. The system worked perfectly. All the pupils were breathing the pure ozone in 90 seconds and the school was empty.

Consternation was written on a few of the children's countenances but the greater number of them marched out with smiles on their faces. Even some of the teachers were anxious looks until doubts were cleared up by seeing the members of the board and a couple of scribes in the hall.

The alarm rang out in opportune time for at least one of the pupils, whose conduct had not been exactly perfect. He had been called to the front to be chastised for his wrongs, but before the rubber had descended the gong sounded, and he escaped, at least, for the time being.

The Committee's idea of testing the promptness of the system prevailing in the school was to determine what the conditions would be if a similar disaster were to occur in the Central School, as that which brought grief and sorrow to so many Montreal parents a few days ago. They expressed themselves as being entirely satisfied, and complimented the teachers for their splendid control.

The rapidity with which the scheme worked was due to the fact that, in their march, there was no crossing done. The pupils rose with alacrity at the first signal, faced about at another, and on the third had begun to march downstairs in good order.

A special meeting of Otonabee Lodge, I.O.O.F., will be held this—Friday—evening to make arrangements for the funeral of their late Brother John Allan McDonald, on Saturday, March 2nd. Brethren of sister lodges invited to attend. By order, W. H. Roberts, N.G.; W. S. Robinson, Sec. 1d

IMPORTANT PURCHASE OF LUMBER CO.

Peterborough Lumber Company Bought Over 2,000,000 Feet From Rathbun Company.

Messrs. John Thompson and Dickson Davidson of the Peterborough Lumber Company, arrived in the city last night after a few days' journey in the northern timber limits of the county and in that short time did a good deal of business. They took over about two million and a half feet of lumber from the Rathbun Company, which will be floated down Jack's and Eel's creeks in the spring.

The Peterborough Lumber Company have now timber in the townships of Burleigh, Methuen, Chandos and Anstruther.

Crippled With Rheumatism

CURED BY GIN PILLS

Mr. Derraugh certainly did have a hard time of it, winter before last. Caught cold, and it settled in his kidneys. First thing he knew, he was in bed with Rheumatism. He nearly went mad, the pain was so intense. The doctors gave him the usual treatment—and pretty nearly burnt his legs off with liniments and blisters—but the Rheumatism went right on aching.

Then a friend stepped in and said, "Why don't you try GIN PILLS?" After a great deal of persuasion, Mr. Derraugh did try GIN PILLS. You never such a happy man in your life, after he had taken two boxes. Pain all gone—stiffness and lameness completely left—that ache in back and hips disappeared—and he was well in no time. That was two years ago and he has been in perfect health ever since.

Contracted a severe cold. Rheumatism followed and the sharp pains took me so often and were so severe that I had to take to bed. For several months I could get no relief, until I started to take "Gin Pills." In five days I was up and around the house. My pains are gone and I have not had a return of the old trouble since. I wish also to say that "Gin Pills" gave me the first painless passage of urine I have had in two years.

ROBT. DERRAUGH, Winnipeg.

How about you? Haven't you suffered enough without going all over it again this winter? Get Gin Pills now—and cure yourself at home. Mention this paper and we will send you a free sample to try. The Bole Drug Co., Winnipeg.

SKIM MILK AND LEMONS FOR WEST END TEAM

Jimmy McNern's Bunch Failed to Trim Doris' Seven Knockers in a Very Close Game.

The Knockers trimmed the West End bunch last night at Brook street by the very close score of 1 to 0. Jimmy McNern's bunch failed to make a noise like the Kenora team but they certainly have the tactics of Harvey Pulford and his bunch, down to perfection. It was by no means parlour hookey, the West Ends never did play hookey of the "cosey-corner" variety. Both teams did their share of the slashing and made the game quite interesting. The Knockers started out and scored the first goal in about five minutes and after that it was a seesaw from one end to the other with the most of the play in the hands of the Knockers. Leo Derocher refereed to the satisfaction of both teams. The line was as follows:—

Knockers.	West Ends.
Goal.
Allan	Halpin
Point.
Donoon	Dobson
Cover-point.
Henderson	Cox
Rover.
Theobald	Moore
Centre.
Doris	King
Left Wing.
F. Holland	McNern
Right Wing.
Bartley	Grange

Cox failed to do anything wonderful as was fully expected. McNern and King got away with some nice rushes but it availed them naught. Holland Bartley and Doris of the Knockers got away with pretty three-man combinations, but Halpin was generally there.

Strathconas, 4; High Lifes, 2.
Strathconas, 6; Auburns, 3.
Strathconas, 3; Orphans, 1.
Strathconas, 3; Charlotte street 2.

The following table shows the scores of the City League teams:

	Goals For.	Agst.
Strathconas	18	9
Charlotte street	19	12
Auburns	21	18
High Lifes	14	20
Lakefield	16	22
Orphans	13	22

NOTES OF THE PLAYERS.

MISS (PERCY) CRANE, of the Review team, is a new-comer to the Press League ranks, but we prophesy that she will be decidedly popular with the feminine portion of the crowd. Her winning smile and graceful skating should entitle her to applause. Miss Crane has never figured in anything so mild as hockey before, but he, or she, rather, is an expert at such athletic games as carpet ball and parlour golf, and has been even known to take part in a dialogue. This charming ingenue will be seen in the Review-Examiner game next Thursday night in the title role of "A Wandering Lamb." To an inquirer we cheerfully furnish the information that Miss Crane's favourite breakfast food is "Sawdust Flakes," that she has used Peruna, and that she is the same individual who shines so unceasingly at social functions.

• • • •

That procession of ambulances and undertakers' vehicles that you saw this afternoon did not indicate that a railway accident occurred. They were on the road to the Brook street rink where the first practice of the Review hockey team was being held. Every possible precaution had been taken to preserve the rink intact. The boards doubly padded while the ice was covered with an asbestos preparation to prevent it catching fire.

• • • •

Easy lessons for novice fans:

"What is that man doing?"

"He is trying to play hockey."

"But why does he slide along the ice on his nose?"

"He is one of the Review team and that is his favourite way of travelling."

"But won't he hurt his head that way?"

"No, child, a man with a skull as thick as that couldn't get hurt."

• • • •

Manager Meikle had his team lined up for inspection in the job room last night and managed to find seven who said that they had read enough about hockey to distinguish between the penalty time-keeper and a goal net. One man was rejected for wanting to play first base. After the examination President Vanbloreom gave an interesting chalk talk on "Hockey, Past, Present and Future," winding up with the advice to his team to "Get it through."

Trainer Sowle gave some interesting advice on "How to gracefully accept a lemon."

• • • •

The ladies are so interested in the game that one of the fair sex has written the sporting editor to inquire as to the proper raiment to wear at the game. The wielder of the hammer on the athletic page after consulting the best authorities has not been able to get within a mile of an answer to the question. However, if you are a Review supporter you are pretty safe in wearing black with ocepe trimmings.

• • • •

The Review is already making strenous efforts to avert the doom that is surely coming to them next week. In conversation with one of the local fruit dealers it was learned with surprise and indignation that Manager Meikle of the Review had been making arrangements to corrall the whole available supply of lemons to prevent the Examiner team handing them one next week. The dastardly deed was discovered in time, and an Examiner representative was able to secure a big one of rich yellow hue which will be given out on Thursday next. "Foiled," hissed the Review manager through his clenched teeth as he shrank away discomfitted.

• • • •

Wednesday from 10 to 11 o'clock a fast game of hockey was played between the Park street Baptist hockey team, and the Knox Presbyterian bunch. From the first drop of the puck both parties played hard, and the Baptists scored their first goal in about half a minute. All the players did their best. At half time the score stood 2—1 in favour of Park street.

In the second half neither side scored, leaving the Baptists winners. Referee Leo Derocher gave entire satisfaction to both teams by his impartial decisions. Quite a number of spectators enjoyed the exhibition of good hockey, and went away satisfied that the best team won.

The line up was as follows:

Referee, Leo Derocher; timekeeper, Lang.

CURLING

Two rinks went to Keene to-day to play a friendly game with the curlers of that village. The rinks will be skipped by W. Talbot and C. E. Frost.

The trophy games between Lindsay and Peterborough will be played on Wednesday of next week. Four rinks go to Lindsay and four from the northern town play here. The locals will make a strong and united effort to keep the silverware which has been tossed from one to the other club since 1889.

THE BEST STOVE AND HARDWAR CO

CURLING CONTEST CONCLUDED BY SMOKER

Song, Speech and Story Passed Away a Pleasant Evening—Supper Was Served.

CURLING GAMES ENDED IN A DRAW

Over fifty enthusiastic curlers assembled in the club rooms of the rink last night at the conclusion of the President—Vice-President games and spent an evening of enjoyment. The series of games ended a tie so that compliments were not in order as they usually are on such an occasion. The lengthy table running from one end of the club room to the other was first the centre of attraction and at the conclusion of the excellent supper provided, song, speech and story went the rounds. The smoker was the function of pleasure it always is and the one which only the brethren of the broom know how to conduct.

President T. F. Matthews occupied the seat at the head of the lengthy board while in the chair opposite was the Vice-President, Mr. C. Rutherford. The programme was of an impromptu nature and therein lay its pleasant character. Scotch songs delightfully sung and Scotch stories well told were the prominent features and were heartily received as pretty compliments to the great Scottish game that has taken such a hold upon the affections of all classes of Canadians.

Among the merry company was Mr. Chilles, a member of the Montreal Curling Club, who happened to be in city for the evening and who gave a brief address last night. Songs were rendered by Messrs. W. McIlroy, Harry Evans and J. W. Fulton, and were all much appreciated. Among the others who assisted with speech and story were Messrs. C. Rutherford, His Worship the Mayor, R. M. Waddell, T. Bullen Yeats, W. H. Denham, J. W. Fulton, M. C. Tooley, Ald. Bradburn and Dr. Greer.

As stated above the curling games resulted in a draw—a circumstance which but seldom occurs. The result of the first two evenings of the contest the President was one in the lead, but last night "Vice" triumphed over virtue, leading by one point and thus tieing the round, and adding another to the many social ties the roarin' game creates and strengthens.

However this did not impair the pleasure which the enthusiastic broom wielders experienced. Win or lose, the curlers—at least the Peterborough branch—are always good sports and receive the same pleasure from the game.

The following are the rinks and scores of last night's games, the last of which was run off in the afternoon:—

President.	Vice-President.

The first night's play in the series gave a majority of four—40-36 to the President; the second night the Vice-President was 3 up—29-26. Last night the Vice-President won by one point—46-45, making the combination scores 111 to 111.

SURPRISE
A PURE HARD SOAP.

SOME PEOPLE WASH FLANNELS with common laundry soap. The rubbing and boiling to get the dirt out makes all the wool fibres contract, and the flannel shrinks until much smaller each way.

When you use "SURPRISE" Soap it is n't necessary to boil or rub hard. "SURPRISE" loosens up the dirt so that it drops right out. The flannel does n't have any excuse for shrinking.

Everybody who dreads washday should try "SURPRISE" Soap. It does n't cost any more than common soap.

WANTS TO RENEW CHARTER.

Emmerson Opposes Extension of Time to Canadian Northern.

Ottawa, March 1.—The Canadian Northern Ontario Railway Co. bill, to give the company permission to build branch lines in Ontario, was considered again in the Commons Railway Committee yesterday morning. It was discovered that the clause limiting the time for construction covered "the lines of railway which the company is hereby or has heretofore been authorized to construct."

Mr. Emmerson pointed out that the addition of the words, "or has heretofore been" would grant an extension of time to all other lines of the railway granted in previous years to the James Bay Railway Co., such as the line from Toronto to Ottawa and from Toronto to Sudbury. Some of these branches might be outlawed by now. He said the bill appeared to be a surreptitious attempt to renew charters.

Dr. Sproule moved to strike out the words "or has heretofore been."

W. H. Moore, for the company, protested against any amendment which would delay the beginning of the construction of the company's line from Ottawa to Toronto, plans for which had been before the Minister for some time. The company proposed also to build a line from Ottawa to Georgian Bay, and he was not prepared to say that without this legislation the company would be able to go ahead.

At the Minister's suggestion the bill was referred to a sub-committee of five.

SLAIN BY BLACK HAND.

Italian Murdered In Saloon as An Act of Vengeance.

New York, March 1.—One man is dead and two others have serious bullet wounds as a result of a free fight in Curley's saloon at Third Avenue and 117th Street early yesterday. All of those involved were Italians. Michael Gallo, the dead man, is said by the police to have been prominent in the Black Hand Society, and their theory is that his murder was an act of reprisal for a breach of confidence on his part. Louis Indorf, bar tender; Louis Zimmerman, contractor, and Lorenzo Condessa were arrested. Indorf and Zimmerman are wounded. Zimmerman told the police that he had gone to the back room of the saloon with a woman about four o'clock yesterday morning. There were many persons there. Suddenly there was a shot, followed by a regular fusilade, and in a moment the room was so filled with smoke that it was impossible to see anything. When the police reached the place they found Gallo dead with four bullets in the body. Five more bullet holes were found in the walls of the back room. Zimmerman and Indorf were arrested when they went to a nearby hospital to have their wounds dressed.

BUDGET SPEECH IN THE LEGISLATURE

Prosperity of Ontario Reflected in Treasurer's Report.

MR. E. J. PENSE CRITICISES

Some Items of Estimates Are Voted—Surplus Reported of $429,280.32—Estimated Expenditures For 1907 Amount to $6,519,131.28—Premier Whitney Thinks House May Finish Business.

Toronto, March 1.—The commencement of the budget debate in the Legislature yesterday resulted in the first night sitting of the present session. Hon. Mr. Matheson's budget speech occupied two hours in delivery, and contained no unexpected or sensational statements. He emphasized the large increase in the grants for education for which, he said, the Government had in part anticipated the promised increase of $780,000 in the subsidy from the Dominion Government. The Provincial Treasurer referred to the flotation of the various loans for the T. & N. O. Railway, comparing the present Government's record in this connection with that of the former Administration. He also intimated that there would be no increase in railway taxation.

Mr Pense Criticises.

Mr. E. J. B. Pense, member for Kingston, replied in a speech characterized by moderation and good taste. He pointed out that the buoyant financial condition of the Province was due to the seeds so well sown during the Liberal Administration. Mr. J. B. Lucas, member for Centre Grey, defended the Government's policy, concluding his speech at 10 p.m., when Mr. Clarke (Northumberland) moved the adjournment. By arrangement several items of the estimates were passed on the understanding that the budget debate continues on Tuesday next, when a motion to go into supply will again be moved. Throughout the day the members of the Opposition were on the aggressive, asking a number of questions and making apt interjections. The items of estimates voted were: $4,300 for the Lieutenant-Governor's office, $14,550 for the office of the Prime Minister and President of the council, and $29,899 for the Education Department.

Before adjournment the Premier urged that the members make an attempt to do more business every day. So far as the Government were concerned, it was immaterial whether they sat all summer or not, but he thought the House could finish by the end of March if they attended strictly to business from now on.

Estimated Receipts, 1907.

In brief the receipts for 1906 were $7,149,478.39, and the expenditure $6,720,179.07, leaving a surplus of $429,299.32. The estimated expenditures for this year total $6,519,131.28, and the estimated receipts, $7,612,287,-28. The details of estimated receipts are:—Subsidy, $1,339,287.28; interest on trust funds held by the Dominion, less interest on debts due by Ontario to Dominion, $80,000; interest on investments, $90,000.

Lands and Forests.

From the Lands, Forests and Mines Department:—Woods and forests, bonus, $350,000; timber dues, $1,300,-000; ground rent, $65,000.

Crown lands proper leases, etc., $250,000; clergy lands, $5,000; common school lands, $10,000; grammar school lands, $2,000; royalty and Crown mines, $200,000; mining licenses, $100,000; Cobalt and Kerr Lakes, $1,155,000, a total from the department of $3,437,000.

Public Institutions.

From public institutions, $135,000; Central Prison industries, $80,000; Education Department, $45,000; Provincial Secretary's Department, $175,-000; agriculture, $74,000; casual revenue, $140,000; succession duties, $700,000; supplementary revenue tax (62 and 63 Vic.), $640,000; tavern and brewers' licenses, $550,000; law stamps, $80,000; Algoma taxes, $2,000; fisheries, $65,000, making the total estimated receipts $7,612,287.28. This is exclusive of cash balances on the 31st of December, 1906, aggregating $3,-497,269.62.

May Lift Age for Bryce.

London, Mar. 1.—In the House of Commons yesterday Mr. Liddell, Unionist, wanted to know whether Ambassador Bryce at Washington would be compelled to retire on reaching the age of 70 in May, 1908, and whether he would receive a pension for his fifteen months' service.

Foreign Secretary Grey, in reply, said the Premier would recommend to the King the retention of the Ambassador's services after the age of 70 if it was in the interest of the public service to do so. No ambassador, however, was entitled to a diplomatic pension until he had served ten years abroad.

J. J. Carrick of Port Arthur alleges that on Feb. 4 he purchased on margin 100 shares of Canadian Copper Co. stock. Recently his account was closed out, presumably for the reason that his margin was exhausted. Investigation has shown that the stock has risen in value from $26 a share to $35. The Canadian Stock & Grain Co., in closing Carrick out, said the stock had gone down to $17 1-2.

The Canadian Stock & Grain Co. opened an office here last September, and has been carrying on an extensive business through the whole of the west, advertising extensively in all parts of the country.

INSANE WITH COLD.

Man Dies of Frozen Feet, One Kills Himself, Another Is Injured.

Battleford, March 1.—A horrible occurrence has been revealed by the investigations of the police following the rumor of tragedy near Eagle Lake, in the German settlement. A settler named Kuscher had both feet frozen, and while being treated in the house of a neighbor named Ryder went insane through suffering, having no medical attendance. He attacked Ryder while the latter was asleep, and nearly murdered him with an iron bar, beating him so that he will be disfigured for life, although the injuries will not prove fatal. The arrival of neighbors saved Ryder's life, and the maniac was overpowered and bound. He was taken to another house, and his sufferings were so terrible that a man named Stubbert, who was nursing him but dared not free him, also went insane and blew out his brains. Kuscher afterwards also died.

Bureau Gets Seat.

Montreal, March 1.—The Hon. Jacques Bureau, Solicitor-General, was returned yesterday by acclamation in Three Rivers and St. Maurice.

In Richelieu, Adelaid Lancelot, who was chosen by the Liberal convention, was nominated, and is opposed by C. A. Rondeau, Independent-Liberal.

In L'Assomption, the Conservatives nominated Ellie Lemiere, while Dr. Laurier, Conservative Liberal, and Joseph Archambault, Liberal, also were placed in nomination.

In Richelieu, the straight Ministerial candidate is sure to win, but in L'Assomption, should Mr. Archambault persist in dividing the Liberal vote, the result will be doubtful.

A MAGISTRATE'S EVIDENCE IN FAVOR OF ZAM-BUK

Read carefully the evidence of Magistrate Perry given below and you will find that judged by men of experience who are fully qualified to decide. Zam-Buk more than fulfils all that is claimed for it.

Facts About Zam-Buk

Zam-Buk is different to the older ointments and salves in being purely herbal, without trace of animal oil or fat.

Zam-Buk applied to an open sore will immediately kill all disease, germs and prevent festering, suppuration or blood poison.

Zam-Buk has penetrating power as well as healing power and used as an embrocation quickly cures rheumatism, sciatica and neuralgia.

Zam-Buk by its miracles of healing has won the praise and confidence of magistrates, doctors, nurses, and men and women who KNOW. Test it at our expense.

"The Pavilion."
Goldfields, B.C.

After a very fair trial I have proved Zam-Buk eminently satisfactory. In my case it cured a skin rash of five years' standing which no doctor had been able to do any good for. I would certainly encourage any person to keep Zam-Buk in their home. It truly does even more than you claim for it. For my own part I would not now be without it in the house. Yours very truly,
ROGER F. PERRY,
Justice of the Peace for B.C.

Strathconas Are Champions Of The City Hockey League

Red and white Team Defeated Charlotte Street After a Desperately Fought Contest Last Night by 3-2.

TEAMS EVEN AT HALF-TIME.

Team Work and Combination Won for the Staathconas—Game Was a Grand Exhibition of Hockey.

The Strathconas captured the championship of the City League last night by defeating the Charlotte Street Guild team in the final game after a contest that was strenuously fought and wildly exciting from start to finish. The score at the finish was 3-2 in favour of the red and white team, and at the turn the teams were even up with two goals each to their credit. The biggest City League crowd of the season witnessed the contest, and to say that they were delighted with the exhibition put up is expressing it mildly. For a junior contest, the game has rarely been equalled in this city. From the first tap of the bell the play was fast and hard, with both teams checking furiously and playing for every ounce that was in them. The players stood the gruelling speed splendidly and there was not a moment's let-up in the play, with every man extending himself to the limit to bring victory to his team. It was not a clean contest; it could hardly be under the existing conditions, but Referee Lynch was always master of the situation, and held the players in check all through, with the result that the penalty bench was never very long vacant.

The Strathconas' victory was clean cut and merited. They always had something on the losers, and should have scored more than they did on the play, but three was enough to win the championship and The Examiner trophy. Although always exciting, the result of the game was never much in doubt. The winners were playing too safe a game to allow themselves to be beaten, and held the Charlotte Street team off in good fashion. The forwards covered closer and checked back faster than did their opponents, and this had an important bearing on the final result. And when the Methodists did break outside their checks and got away the Strathconas' defence simply skated them into the corners, while, if they shot from outside the defence, Wilson cleverly picked off their shots. By the way, Wilson played a grand game all through, getting away with some decidedly clever stops of shots from close quarters.

That the team that played the better hockey won last night cannot be doubted by any one who saw the contest. The winners had the best of the play at all stages, and although the score was twice tied, yet one seemed to feel that the boys in the red and white sweaters were due to win out. Their superiority in team work and combination was manifest from the start, and when all is said and done, it is team work that wins the majority of games. They played better combination and worked away from their checks and around the defence in a manner that indicated that it was only a question of time as to when they would score. As has been said, the forward line checked splendidly, and in this department they had something on the losers. They were always back to help out the defence, and while the game was true for the most part of the Charlotte team, yet they had not as much success in their tactics as had the winners. It was headwork and team play rather than any individual superiority that won the game and the championship for the Strathconas.

All the winners' forward line played grand hockey. There was no one that particularly out-shone his fellows, for every man was playing hockey from the drop of the hat. McGrath was always prominent, both on the attack and defence, and did some decidedly useful work, and the same might be said of Weatherston on the other wing, whose stickhandling and rushes along the boards were features. Seymour's shooting was of great value, he being responsible for two of the trio of goals to the winners' credit, while he combined and rushed well. McMillan, the little rover, played a splendid game at all stages, his checking back being a feature. He was always back at the heels of the Charlotte street line every time they got away. White played a grand game at cover for the winners. His defence work could hardly have been improved upon, while his rushes always resulted in a dangerous advance upon the losers' nets. He had all kinds of speed and handled his stick splendidly. White received a bad crack under the eye in the first few minutes of play, but pluckily played on with the blood streaming down his face. Meagher was an almost insurmountable obstacle to the losers, checking magnificently and steadfastly refusing to be drawn out. Wilson, as has been said, was all to the gilt in the nets, stopping and clearing splendidly. Only two beat him, and both were from close range.

Charlotte Street had all kinds of speed and never let up for a minute, but their tactics were not of the nature to beat a team playing as the Strathconas were last night. Individual work will not beat combination when the other team is as fast as you are, and for the most part it was individual efforts on the part of the Charlotte team. Not that they didn't pass, but rather that they passed at the wrong time and in the wrong places. In centre ice they handed the puck around, but when it came to working inside of the defence they failed to do the necessary combination.

It was the great work of Dusty, more than any other player on the Charlotte Street team, that enabled them to come as close as they did. He worked like a Trojan to win out, never letting up in his aggressive tactics for a minute. Losing the puck on a rush, he would be back to assist the defence on every occasion, and he was at it when his other forwards were inclined to back up. Long was a good second, playing his usual good game at centre. Campbell and Grose scintilated in spots on the wings, but their work was not consistently good. Moore played a fine game at cover-point, checking as effectively as usual, and helping the forwards out with an occasional rush, on one of which he scored. Crowe made some fine stops of close shots in the nets.

The game was not any too clean, and Referee Lynch kept a pretty steady procession of players to the side. The penalties numbered 22, the Strathconas being penalized 13 times and Charlotte Street nine. Near the end of the game, Weatherston and Roddy got into a mix-up and were sent away for the rest of the contest. Roddy received a bad cut on the head, but the blow was apparently quite accidental. The work of the referee gave eminent satisfaction. He had an eagle eye for off-sides, and frowned down the attempts at rough play. The teams lined up as follows:

STRATHCONAS.

Wilson
Meagher
White
Seymour
McGrath — McMillan — Weatherstone
Campbell — Long — Grose
Dusty
Moore
Long
Crowe

CHARLOTTE STREET.

Referee—George Lynch.

The Play

Both citadels were assaulted in turn at the start, and the defences were given an early opportunity to prove their mettle. The pace was lightning fast and the checking hard and close. Twice the Strathconas got away, three in a line, but the shot either went wide or was blocked. They were not to be denied, however. White broke up a Charlotte Street rush, and, carrying the puck down, passed to McGrath. The latter transferred it to McMillan, from whom it was passed to Weatherston, who scored the first goal in four minutes on a pretty shot. Score, 1-0.

The play got faster and rougher. White toppled Moore over and was sent to the boards, where he was soon followed by Campbell for upsetting Seymour. Strathconas were having the best of the play, although Charlotte Street were coming strong. Weatherston and Dusty kept warm the seat in the penalty box for two minutes, and while Weatherston was off, Moore pulled his team up even by a pretty long-handed rush through the Strathconas' defence. Score 1-1.

Dusty played a return engagement with the penalty timer. The Strathconas were pressing, and, finally, after five minutes of desperate playing, Seymour scored, putting his team one up. He took the puck away from Moore, and, sweeping down the side, scored on a beautiful shot from the boards. Score, 2-1.

In the next period White got another two-minute sentence. Charlotte Street began to ginger up and the playing was as fast as ever, with neither team at this stage having much advantage. It was a period of up and down the rink work, with both goals threatened in turn. Finally, Dusty scored Charlotte Street's second and last goal on a good shot and half-time was called with the teams on even terms. Score, 2-2.

There was no let-up in the play in the second period. Both teams were working hammer and tongs for victory and the spectators were kept on their tip-toes throughout. The procession fencewards was kept up in this period. McMillan was the first to go off the ice, getting two minutes for tripping. Long was sent away a few seconds after to keep him company. McMillan had just got back on the ice, when he was sent away again. The Strathconas got away nicely and White scored, but the referee called them back for an off-side. A few minutes after, they scored their winning counter, Seymour doing the trick from a scrimmage. Score, 3-2.

The one goal looked as big as a house to the Charlotte Street team at that stage of the game, but they hammered away in a hopeless effort to tie the score. Roddy and McGrath mixed it up and were sent away together for three minutes. Weatherston followed them to the boards for tripping. The three were hardly back on the ice, when Seymour and Campbell were penalized for tripping. The Strathconas, with time nearly up, adopted defensive tactics. It was a risky game, but they got away with it, holding out the Methodists in splendid fashion. Roddy got another sentence. Wilson turned off a hard shot from Long, and did a similar trick with one from Dusty. Weatherston and Roddy mixed it up and were sent off for the rest of the game. Just before time was called McGrath was fenced, but the Strathconas managed to hold the fort, and skated off the ice the undisputed City League champions for the year.

The Summary

Following is the summary:

Auburns Beat Orphans

The Auburns and Orphans were the contestants in the second game which finished the City League series for the season. The Auburns won by 4—2, after a hard contest, in which there was not a great deal to choose between the two teams. The northerners lead by 2—0 at the turn, but the Orphans tied in the second period and for a while the issue hung in the balance. Shaw and McDonald on good rushes, however, shoved two counters past McFadden and it was all over. The kids worked hard for victory, but it was not to be theirs. The game was fast and not any too clean, both teams indulging in considerable slashing and tripping. Shaw and McDonald starred for the winners, while Ray, Dobson, Quinlan and Barber were always prominent for the Orphans. Referee Ernie Ford gave satisfaction and the teams and summary were as follows:

Auburns.		Orphans.
Derocher	Goal.	McFadden
Shaw	Point.	Barber
Clegg	Cover-point.	Quinlan
Crough	Rover.	Ray
McDonald	Centre.	Dobson
Hillier	Right Wing.	Stanton

HON. SIDNEY FISHER CORROBORATES MR. HALL

And Points Out That Mr. Bennett, Member for Simcoe, Made Mis-statements on the Question of Transportation.

WHAT THE HANSARD SAYS ABOUT IT

"There is one point, however, which I may allude to, and that is the Trent Valley Canal. My hon. friend has spoken of that also, and I would like to point out the difference between what we have been doing and what our predecessors did. Up to the change of Government, there were $1,250,000 spent under Conservative administration. But in the ten years we have had charge, we have spent no less than $3,750,000, or three times as much as was spent in all the period preceding our administration. The hon. member said himself, that the Trent Valley Canal is going to be a very important system of transportation. He ought therefore to be gratified. He ought to recognize what we have done for this work and should praise it, instead of cavilling at it, and taking exception to what we are doing."

The above is an extract from a recent speech made in the House of Commons by Hon. Sidney Fisher, acting Minister of Public Works, in which he dealt with statements made by Mr. Bennett, the member for Simcoe, replying to criticisms of the speech of Mr. R. R. Hall, M. P., on the transportation question. Hansard's report of a portion of Hon. Mr. Fisher's speech is as follows:

Hon. Sydney Fisher, (acting Minister of Public Works.) It is not my purpose at this late hour to speak at any length. In fact as merely acting Minister of Public Works, I am hardly called upon to go into the very elaborate and very important question of our general transportation system. However, I cannot allow some of the remarks of the hon. member for East Simcoe (Mr. Bennett) when he spoke in this debate on a former occasion, to pass without notice. The hon. member for Peterborough (Mr. Hall) was making some statement with regard to the work at Midland when my hon. friend (Mr. Bennett) interrupted in a spirit which I cannot call kindly or courteous,—and the hon. gentleman (Mr. Bennett) himself thinks that he ought to be treated kindly and courteously by members on this side. He stated this (Hansard page 1595):

If the hon. gentleman will allow me I will correct the statement which he makes and which must make him appear ridiculous to people who read what he says. None of this amount was spent where all the grain has been elevated at Midland. The money to which the hon. gentleman refers has been spent down at an elevator where no grain has been handled, except one or two loads. I tell the hon. gentleman that in charity because some one may read what he says afterwards.

Well, I hope some one will read what the hon. member from Peterborough said, and I hope they will also notice the manner in which the hon. member from East Simcoe made that statement, and perhaps extend to him that charity which he needs. What are the facts? The facts are that the elevator in which he says no grain has been handled last fall, after the 16th of October, when it was finished and ready for work, handled over a million bushels of grain, and no less than twelve large vessels discharged there. That is the elevator which the hon. member (Mr. Bennett) says handled no grain except one or two loads.

Mr. Bennett—How many vessels?

Mr. Fisher—Twelve.

Mr. Bennett—I did not think there were that many.

Mr. Fisher—The hon. gentleman (Mr. Bennett) made a mistake, but notwithstanding his fallibility he was prepared to get up and in a most captious and cynical and sarcastic manner to interrupt the hon. member for Peterborough by a misstatement of facts, while the hon. member for Peterborough has been absolutely true in his facts. I am not surprised that the member for Simcoe did that on this occasion, because he has done the same thing before.

WEDDING BELLS

FAIR--WICKS

On Tuesday evening of last week Miss Rubina Susan Micks, daughter of R. Micks, Port Hope, became the bride of Mr. Robert Best Fair, of Peterborough. The ceremony took place at eight o'clock, and was celebrated by Rev. J. G. Potter at Peterborough. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Minnie Micks, while Mr. John McIntosh of Peterborough, supported the groom. After the ceremony the wedding party drove to the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. James Brenner, Wolfe street, where a sumptuous wedding supper was enjoyed. The bride received many handsome and useful presents. The newly married couple will reside at 348 Aylmer street, Peterborough.—Port Hope Times.

PHELAN HOTEL CHANGES OWNERSHIP

Mr. Frank Montgomery of Parry Sound the Purchaser—Purchase Price About $14,000.

An important change in real estate took place this afternoon in the city by which Mr. Frank Montgomery got possession of the hotel on Simcoe street, belonging to the Edward Phelan Estate. Mr. Montgomery is an old Peterborough boy who kept hotel in Parry Sound for a number of years. He sold out his hotel there last fall.

He arrived in the city yesterday and to-day the deal was consummated. The purchase is in the neighbourhood of $14,000.

Mr. T. aOvanagh, the present proprietor of the Phelan House, will probably retain the license until at least the end of the license year.

NEW BRIDGE ARRIVED AT YOUNG'S POINT

Is Now Being Installed Across the Lock At The Point.

The material for the new iron bridge across the canal lock at Young's Point arrived there Thursday and work has already begun on its installation. The bridge is being placed a short distance east of the old one so that the lying of steamboats in the lock will not impede traffic on the roads. The work is in charge of the Dominion Bridge Works, of Montreal.

BANK MANAGER IS LEAVING MILLBROOK

Mr. F. R. Howart, of Bank of Montreal, Transferred to the Toronto Branch —A Popular Manager.

The Millbrook Reporter, referring to the change in the management of the branch of the Bank of Montreal in that village, says:—Mr. F. R. Howarth, manager of the Bank of Montreal, has received notice of his transfer to Toronto. Mr. Mabee of Deseronto, takes his place here. There will be general regret that Mr. Howorth has been removed from our midst, for during his nine months residence here he has well filled the position of bank manager, and a desirable citizen.

TEACHERS' SALARIES ARE BEING INCREASED

Average Salary for Male Teachers Last Year Was $402—Females Get $311.

A gratifying increase in the average salaries of rural public school teachers in Ontario is an interesting fact noted in the annual report of the Department of Education issues yesterday. The report shows that teachers salaries in rural schools tend to increase. The average for male teachers in these schools increased from $385 in 1904 to $402 in 1905, and for female teachers from $294 in 1904 to $311 in 1905.

REG. BLOMFIELD PLAYS HOCKEY IN EDMONTON

The Edmonton senior hockey team, on which Reg. Blomfield, the Toronto Canoe Club paddler, and Argonaut hockeyist, and his brother Charlie, are playing, defeated the Reginas for the championship of Saskatchewan and Alberta. Speaking of Blomfield's work the Bulletin says: "Edmonton had an all-star cast for sure. R. Blomfield was the bright particular. He had a long string of rushes to his credit that only the superior checking of the losers prevented him tallying with."

APPETITES.

Mr. McDermid, Our Well Known Druggist, Explains How Vinol Creates a Desire for Food.

"Vinol is the greatest aid to digestion that we have ever known," said Mr. McDermid of the firm of McDermid and Jury.

"It contains all the active, medicinal-curative elements that are found in cod liver oil, without any oil or grease.

"These medicinal elements act so favourably upon the stomach that this organs obtains for itself the elements necessary for creating new flesh, muscle tissue, and for making rich, red blood.

"When the stomach acts easily and naturally a desire is created for good, simple food, and a good appetite is the sure result.

"With cod liver oil in its old form the medicinal elements which it contained were unable to do their best work, because of the obnoxious oil that enveloped them.

"Now in Vinol we have these same medicinal elements separated from the vile-tasting oil, and we have a tonic and a re-builder that is simply marvellous in its action.

"We want every one in Peterborough to know more about Vinol, how it cures and what it cures. Certainly Vinol is the greatest tonic and re-builder that we have ever sold.

"Lack of appetite is not itself a disease, but a symptom of weakness, showing itself in the nerves of the stomach which control the desire for food. We guarantee Vinol will cure this weakness, or give you back your money." McDermid and Jury.

Vinol is also sold at the Market Drug Store, The Ormond & Walsh Old Stand.

BUSINESS IS BRISK IN WINNIPEG CITY

Ald. Geo. W. Morrow Spent Three Days in the Western City.

Ald. W. G. Morrow returned home from Winnipeg on Tuesday night after a three days' business trip there. He states that business in the Western Metropolis is very brisk at the present time on account of the numerous building operations being carried on especially in railway circles. The weather in Winnipeg is extremely cold but not unpleasant.

EUCHRE TOURNAMENT IN CONSERVATIVE CLUB

Mr. Earl Shorey Won First Prize and the Pipe That Was Offered—Second Prize Hotly Contested.

The progressive euchre party in the Conservative Club rooms last night was a decided success. There were twelve tables in use and some closely contested games resulted. Earl Shorey won the first prize, a handsome pipe, and Chas. Londerville got second. There were four ties for second place and in the resulting draw Mr. Londerville was awarded the prize, also a pipe. Mr. Thos. Blois won the consolation prize having secured but five points. The men had a good time, and in the games great interest was shown. There are some good euchre players among the Conservatives, and the run for second place was a fast one. The affair was highly successful and the Club is more than satisfied with the pleasant evening that was provided.

CHOIR ENTERTAINED BY MR. STOCKER

Enjoyable Evening Was Spent Last Night by Members of the Charlotte Street Choir.

The members of the Charlotte street Methodist church choir were very pleasantly entertained last night at the residence of Mr. Walter Stocker, Homewood avenue. The early part of the evening was spent in practice and later a few hours were enjoyed in participation of games, etc. Refreshments were served during the evening, and prior to the departure of the young people a vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Stocker was proposed and very heartily supported.

REGINA

You will make more money by buying lots in Regina City, than by any other source at the present time. It is no gamble, no chance, but an absolutely sure investment. Property will increase at least 100 per cent. in less than two years. Buy now. Prices will be advanced in the spring. Here are a few things that are making Regina grow and making property increase in value:—

REGINA, the wholesale and distributing centre for Saskatchewan and the west. $6,000,000.00 worth of farm machinery sold from Regina last year. Regina is the head-quarters for Saskatchewan of:—

The American-Abell Engine and Thresher Co.
Massey Harris Company.
Frost & Wood Company.
Fairchild Company.
Waterloo Manufacturing Company.
J. I. Case Threshing Machine Company.
Garr-Scott Threshing Machine Company.
The International Harvester Company.
The North-west Thresher Company.
The New Hamburg Manufacturing Company.
Reeves Thresher Company.
Nichols & Shepherd Thresher Company.
Sawyer-Massey Company.
Noline Plow Company.
Canadian Port Huron Company.
Cockshutt Plow Company.

Besides the above there are a number of large eastern wholesale houses located in Regina. At the present time some eighteen more wholesale firms have secured sites in Regina to build on this year.

REGINA, the only railroad centre in Saskatchewan.

Besides the present roads which run north, south, east and west, there will be six more lines built into Regina during the next two years, being the Great Northern from the south, the Canadian Northern from the southeast, the C. P. R. north to Prince Albert, and three G. T. P. roads—one northeast, one east, one southwest.

The following is what Mr. Morse of the G. T. P. said in Regina on Aug. 6, 1906;

The Leader, Aug. 6, 1906.

FRANK MORSE IN REGINA

Mr. Frank W. Morse, Vice-President and General Manager of the G. T. P. Railway, spent a few hours in the city on Saturday morning, and had a short conference with Mayor McArs and W. G. Pettingel, President of the Board of Trade. Mr. Morse had no new statement to make for publication regarding the plans of the G. T. P. in and around Regina. He repeated what he had said when in Regina on May 16th last that his Company would get into Regina at the earliest possible date, as they realized there was a large business to be done here. He confirmed the statement, which was first published by The Leader, that in addition to a branch line to Regina, from the main line near Yorkton, and from Regina to the international boundary on the south, a branch would be run to Regina from Brandon.

"The construction of branch lines would be carried on simultaneously with the main line," said Mr. Morse.

REGINA leads all cities from Winnipeg to the Coast in building for 1906.

Capital of Saskatchewan ranks fifth among the metropolitan centres of Canada, being surpassed by Winnipeg, Toronto, Montreal and Vancouver. Leads all the Dominion in relative growth. Building permits in 1906:

Regina—$1,982,330.

Edmonton—$1,863,894.

Calgary—$1,109,161.

No other city in Canada shows as high a percentage of growth as Regina. 1907 will beat all records. A large number of expensive buildings are being erected. Among others include:—Four new hotels, at a cost of over half a million; municipal hospital, $100,000; Y. M. C. A. at $100,000; Baptist Church, $60,000; Masonic Temple, at $75,000; Dominion Land Titles Office at $110,000; New Public School at $84,000, and many other business blocks and residences. Chief amongst all buildings will be the new Provincial Parliament Buildings, at a cost of at least $1,500,000.

Facts About Regina City

Regina is the Capital of the Province of Saskatchewan.
Regina is the only commercial centre of Saskatchewan.
Regina is the only railroad and distributing centre in Saskatchewan.
Regina has eight chartered banks and four more coming.
Regina tax rate for 1906 is only 15 mills.
Regina has the finest sewer and waterworks system in the West.
Regina is the only city west of Winnipeg with paved streets.
Regina has a surplus of assets of over a million and a half.
Regina's population has increased over 300 per cent. in three years.
All public utilities are owned and operated by the city.
Regina is in the heart of the best farming country in the West.

Prices and Terms

Peterborough Residents Use More Than 100,000 Pounds Of Fish In Lent

Some Interesting Figures, Showing the Extent to Which Lent is Observed in This City—Three Wholesale Firms Bring in About 80,000 Pounds of Fish for This Season

An evidence of the faithfulness with which the Lenten regulations, including abstenince from eating forbidden meats is observed, was furnished the Examiner to-day by a gentleman who is in touch with and knows of the quantity of fish brought into the city this year in preparation for the Lenten season.

It may be a surprise to many to learn that no less than 100,000 pounds, or fifty tons of fish were shipped to Peterborough, and will be consumed by the residents of this city during the forty days of Lent.

A gentleman connected with one of the three wholesale grocery establishments in the city to-day gave some interesting figures, showing the quantities of fish brought in for this year. A summary of the shipments received by that one firm may prove of general interest. Here it is:

	Lbs.
25 barrels Labrador herring	5,000
50 half barrels Labrador Herring	5,000
125 cases boneless fish	3,125
10 cases skinless cod	1,000
500 cases quill cod	2,417
50 cases pure cod	1,250
750 boxes red herring	5,250
200 boxes finnan haddie	3,000
	26,042

These figures represent simply the importations of one firm, and it is stated that each of the other two wholesale houses in the city brought in an equal quantity, which means that by these three firms no less than 78,075 pounds of fish were brought into the city for this year's Lenton season.

This does not, however, represent by any means all the fish used here, for it is stated that on a conservative estimate the two largest retail fish dealers, E. A. Dutton and S. A. Oke, brought in fully 20,000 pounds of fresh fish, white fish, salom trout, etc., from the Georgian Bay, while these firms, with Mr. O'Brien, Charlotte street, who also handles considerable fish, have disposed of fully 2,000 pounds of finnan haddie, brought in by themselves.

It is stated that even with this enormous quantity of fish brought in to supply the demand, there was not enough, and in many cases, repeat orders from the retailers could not be filled.

It will be seen from the figures given above that there are a good many persons who eat fish during Lent, and that to this extent at least the regulations are well observed.

A SNOW STORY OF 24 YEARS AGO

Snow Blocked G. T. R. to a Depth of 18 to 20 Feet in the Cuts March 3rd, 1883—Is the Amount of Snow Becoming Less?

Time certainly makes many changes, and, although the world goes on just the same, still, as year follows year, there are particular happenings that make themselves very apparent to the people. One of these is the character of our Canadian winters. The snow drifts, about which our forefathers have different stories, are not of the six-feet-in-depth variety, and those storms, which, in years gone by, changed in one night the whole physical appearance of a neighbourhood, are only fancies from the storied past. Not that our winters are becoming warmer or shorter, but the snowfall is apparently diminishing.

This thought was suggested by the reminiscences of a gentleman who came to this city twenty-four years ago yesterday, February 28. It was in 1883 that Mr. Chas. Noyes first came to Peterborough from Madoc. His first few days in this locality were indelibly impressed upon his mind by snow storms which were experienced here. He was in charge of the G. T. R. section, and on his initial trip over his new route he met with considerable difficulty. In Graham's Cut, about five miles from the city, the snow was eighteen feet deep, and the line was blocked that day. About March 3 there was another bad storm, which lasted for a couple of days and which effectually blocked the line again. The level of the snow was higher than the smoke-stack of the engine, and sixty men had to be brought from Belleville to help clear the way.

Now, there is not so much difficulty for the section men to cope with. At this particular cut, snow fences have been built back from the track. Most of them were constructed under the direction of Mr. Noyes.

This is merely one instance of the great amount of snow that used to cover our Ontario lands, which, in a sense, was a source of heat, and made the weather less severe than is often experienced now.

ANNIVERSARY OF THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

Park Street Baptist Church Sunday School Anniversary Services Will Be Held on Sunday.

The anniversary of the Park street Baptist Sunday school will be held on Sunday. The special sermons will be preached by the Rev. A. H. Brace, who takes a special interest in children. Subject for morning sermon, "A Boy Given Away;" subject for evening sermon, "A Girl Sold."

Music suitable to the occasion will be supplied by the choir.

On Thursday the anniversary supper will be given to the children only, at 6, and at 8 the public will be admitted to a splendid high-class entertainment by Mr. Jas. Stubbs' stereopticon exhibition, with seventeen sets of moving pictures.

The officials of the school are sparing no expense or pains to make this a rare treat for both the children and the parents. Reports of the year's work will be presented during the evening.

CUSTOMS RECEIPTS OVER $1100 PER MONTH

For the Twenty-four Days in Which the Custom House Was Open.

The returns at the local custom house for the month of February, continue to indicate a flourishing condition of affairs. It is learned that the receipts for the month averaged over $1100 per day for the 24 days in which the custom house was open for business. The complete returns for the month are not available, but they will not be quite as large for the corresponding month last year.

LARGE DEPUTATION TO WAIT ON THE PREMIER

In Connection With the Introduction of Amendments to Game Laws.

Mr. E. A. Peck, secretary of the local branch of the Fish and Game Protective Association, has received a letter from J. Kelly-Evans, secretary of the Toronto Association, urging the necessity of a large deputation to wait on the Premier next week. The deputation will urge the consideration of the amendments to the game laws and will go on March 6th.

Mr. Evans referred to the prominence of Peterborough's situation and urged that as large a delegation as possible attend. Non-members of the association, as well as members, will be welcomed.

A SUGGESTION

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir, — Your correspondent, "Barton Earle," seems to be proud of his English descent, but it is open to doubt whether one of his remote ancestors did not bear some relationship to the Knights of the Tub and Pigtail—seeing the comparison he institutes between the disciples of Confucius and his vaunted ancestry on the English side.

Those who live in glass houses should not throw stones, and it would be as well if Mr Barton Earle were to devote a little of his well known educational ability to raise the mental and moral character of his poor fellow countrymen to at least the level of a Chinese laundryman.

Yours faithfully,

"One of the Despised Englishmen."

MANY NAMES OFFERED IN COMPETITION

For the Name of the Otonabee Navigation Company's Steamer.

The competition for the name of the Otonabee Navigation Company's new steamer is creating considerable interest and the names are pouring in. The competition closes on the fifteenth of this month and the person who first sent in the name selected by the directors will be given a family ticket. Some interesting, some amusing and some decidedly appropriate names have been received. Chief Paudash and his son offered a silver shield to the company if the name Paudash was selected. One person, who has evidently been following the Thaw case, has submitted the name Evelyn Thaw. "Hiawatha" and "Otonabee" seem to be among the most popular names.

Following are the names received to date:

"Otonabee Pride," "Otonabee" (five times), "Minnehaha" (twice), "Hiawatha" (six times), "Trent Valley Belle," "Wa-se-be-ta" (Sparkling Waters); "King Edward," "Victoria," "Rice Lake," (twice), "Empress, of Idyl Wyld," "Marmaid," "Chippewa," "The Lady of the Lakes" (twice), "Queen of Peterborough," "Queen Alexandra," "Meteor," "Pandora," "Otonabee Queen," "Maple Leaf," "St. Lawrence," "Mayflower," (three times), "Evelyn Thaw," "Marguerite," "Royal Edward," "Lift Lock Steamer," "Canada," "Blue Bell," "Belmont," "Canadian," "Hepburn," "Ocean Wave," "Muskrat," "Silver Spray," "Alexandra."

MUSIC AND DRAMA

AN ALABAMA HOME

The fascinating story, "An Alabama Home," was the offering of Marks Bros. at the Grand opera house last night, and it was greeted by a fairly large audience.

The story constitutes a touching love affair between two persons who are thwarted in every possible way by the villain who claims the girl as payment for an old gambling debt contracted by the father.

Events intervene, however, and, by good fortune the lovers are re-united and the story ends—as stories will—with the blessing of the father, and the villain placed in the toils.

Comedy was introduced to the sentimental tale by the clever acting of Miss Gracie Marks (just 14) and H. Maxwell Wiltgus, as Billy Fix, a bashful youth, with a fondness for his home.

The week's engagement of Marks Bros at the Grand will terminate to-night with a comedy entitled, "The Devil's Lane."

HINT TO AUTHORITIES

To The Editor of The Examiner.

Dear Sir,—In the name of public health, decency and order, surely it is time that the Council of a city of this size and class should provide conveniences in the form of lavatories, etc., either underground or on the level, in suitable spots near the centre of business.

It is little less than an insult to expect the hotelkeepers of the city to undertake the duty of providing in this way for the general public, and especially for juveniles with any plausible excuse, and thus relieve the authorities of their clear responsibility in this matter.

The present state of affairs is an outrage on decency, and steps should be taken at once to supply the much-needed want.

Yours truly,

"DOCTOR."

The result of the novel method is stated to have been good.

A PECULIAR LETTER FROM A SUDBURY PROSPECTOR

Mr. N. Peloquin Writes the Local Immigrant Agent Enclosing Terms of Contract With a Good Farmer.

SPECIFIC MENTION OF FURNITURE.

Mr. George H. Howson, though Immigration Agent for the Peterborough District but a couple of weeks, has already received many inquiries from persons wanting farm and domestic help, and particularly the latter. Among others, he has from a Sudbury gentleman, a lengthy letter of a most peculiar nature. In it was stated that the writer intends leaving his farm, and that he requires help. He gives a minute list of all things which he will give to the proper man and also gives a complete outline of the work to be done on the farm.

A Good System

The system for supplying the wants of the farmers and others is an excellent one. The Dominion Government has about 500 agents in the British Isles, in various places, who inquire the destination of those seeking work in Canada. On behalf of those wishing to locate in the Peterborough district, cards are mailed to Mr. Howson here, informing him of their intentions, and also the immigrants themselves are given letters of introduction to the local agent. With the applications which he has on hand, Mr. Howson will then be in a position to distribute them wherever they are needed.

To Go Prospecting

Mr. Howson has received a letter from Norbert Paloquin, a mining prospector of Sudbury, who wants a family to take charge of his farm there for a number of years. Mr. Paloquin explains in his letter what articles of furniture, implements, etc., he would be willing to give the person who would agree to work his land and attend to the farm. In this respect the letter is most unique, and, in part, is given below:

"I saw in the Peterborough Examiner that you are an immigration agent, and I wish to obtain a good, able, Irish or Scotch farmer and family, who can take charge of my farm while I am away prospecting."

List of Furniture

Among the articles mentioned, which Mr. Paloquin would give to the right man, were a house, two bed room sets, one double bed, two stoves—one a cook stove and the other a heater; 6 good chairs, and 5 old ones, kitchen table, dishes, churn, cream crock, milk cans, a barn 35 by 50, cow stable 26 x 24, and a horse stable, 16 x 26. All of these he explained, were in good order. He has 152 acres of land, 65 acres cleared and free from all stumps, 25 acres in pasture, and he intends to have a stumping bee during the coming summer to clear 15 acres more. He will have about 25 bushels of grain to sow this spring, and also 40 bags of potatoes to plant. The rest is all in hay and there are 6 acres to seed on a farm on the other side of the road.

The writer goes on to say that he to say that he has a Deering binder, hay mower, hay rake, hay fork, wagon, buggy, cutter and fanning mill.

A Little on the Side

"I can just leave one cow this spring for their use, but next summer there will be three, and in two years five. This fall I will buy, 8 or 10 sheep, 3 geese and 4 turkeys. I will give my horses to put in the crop, to take it off, and to do the ploughing. If his wife and family can feed the stock in winter he can take the team and work in town or in a camp, and have half what they make. . . . After the crop is in this spring he will have 10 or 12 acres on the back of the farm to enclose with a log fence. Now, Mr. Howson, if a good honest man who is not afraid of work applies for the position, send him along," he adds.

Some Sudbury Prices!

The writer also stated that hay sold this year for $18 and $20 per ton; that old potatoes were worth from 75c to $1.05 per bag, and new ones from $2 to $2.50.

MARK STREET LADIES' AID MET YESTERDAY

Social and Concert Will be Held in Near Future—Society Progressing.

An enthusiastic meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the Mark street Methodist church, was held yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Jas. Fowler, Concession street. Mrs. Smith, the president of the Society, presided. Two new members were added to the society, which is prospering greatly. It was decided that each member earn a dollar as an Easter free will offering in aid of the society.

Auther of "Tregarthen's Wife," "The Robe of Lucifer," Etc.

Copyright, 1905, by R. F. Fenno & Company.

"In fairness to Lady Littimer," said Enid, speaking for the first time, "you could do no less."

"You were always against me," Henson snarled.

"Because I always knew you," said Enid. "And the more I knew of you the greater was my contempt. And you came here ever on the same errand—money, money, money. From first to last you have robbed my aunt of something like £70,000. And always by threats or the promise that you would some day restore the ring to the family."

"As to the ring," Henson protested, "I swear——"

"I suppose a lie more or less makes no difference to an expert like yourself," Enid went on, with cold contempt. "You took advantage of my aunt's misfortunes. Ah, she is a different woman since Lord Littimer came here. But her sorrow has crushed her down, and that forgery of the ring you dangled before her eyes deceived her."

"I never showed her the ring," Henson said, brazenly.

"And you can look me in the face and say that? One night Lady Littimer snatched it from you and ran into the garden. You followed and struggled for the ring. And Mr. Steel, who stood close by, felled you to the earth with a blow on the side of your head. I wonder he didn't kill you. I should have done so in his place. And yet it would be a pity to hang anyone for your death. See here!"

Enid produced the ring from her pocket. Lord Littimer looked at it intently.

"Have you seen this before, my dear?" he asked his wife.

"Many a time," Lady Littimer said, sadly. "Take it away, it reminds me of too many bitter memories. Take it out of my sight."

"An excellent forgery," Littimer murmured. "A forgery calculated to deceive many experts even. I will compare it with the original by and by."

Henson listened with a sinking feeling at his heart. Was it possible, he wondered, that Lord Littimer had really recovered the original? He had had hopes of getting it back even now, and making it the basis of terms of surrender. Lady Littimer snatched the ring from Littimer's grasp and threw it through the open window into the garden.

She stood up facing Henson, her head thrown back, her eyes flaming with a new resolution. It seemed hardly possible to believe that this fine, handsome woman with the white hair could be the poor demented creature that the others once had known.

"Reginald Henson, listen to me," she cried. "For your own purpose you cruelly and deliberately set out to wreck the happiness of several lives. For mere money you did this; for sheer love of dissipation you committed this crime. You nearly deprived me of my reason. I say nothing about the money, because that is nothing by comparison. But the years that are lost can never come back to me again. When I think of the past and the past of my poor, unhappy boy I feel that I have no forgiveness for you. If you—Oh, go away; don't stay here—go. If I had known you were coming I should have forbidden you the house. Your mere presence unnerves me. Littimer, send him away."

Littimer rose to his feet and rang the bell.

"You will be good enough to rid me of your hateful presence," he said, "at once; now go."

But Henson still stood irresolute. He fidgeted from one foot to the other. He seemed to have some trouble that he could find no expression for.

"I want to go away," he murmured, "I want to leave the country. But at the present moment I am practically penniless. If you would advance me——"

Littimer laughed aloud.

"Upon my word," he said, "your coolness is colossal. I am going to prosecute you. I am doing my best to bring you into the dock. And you ask me—me, of all men—to find you money so that you can evade justice! Have you not had enough—are you never satisfied? Williams, you will see Mr. Henson off the premises?"

The smiling Williams bowed low.

"With the greatest possible pleasure, my lord, he said. "Any further orders, my lord?"

"And he is not to come here again, you understand." Williams seemed to understand perfectly. With one backward sullen glance Henson quitted the room and passed into the night with his companion. Williams was whistling cheerfully, with his hands thrust deep into his pockets.

"Is that how you treat a gentleman?" Henson demanded.

"I ain't a gentleman," Williams said. "Never set up to be. And I ain't a dirty rascal who has just been kicked out of a nobleman's house. Here, stop that. Try that game on again and I'll call the dogs. And don't show me any of your airs, please. I'm only a servant, but I am an honest man."

Henson stifled his anger as best he could. He was too miserable and downcast to think of much besides himself at present. Once the lodge-gates were open, Williams stood aside for him to pass. The temptation was irresistible. And Henson's back was turned. With a kick of concentrated contempt and fury Williams shot Henson into the road, where he landed full on his face. His cup of humiliation was complete.

CHAPTER LVI.

Henson took his weary way in the direction of Brighton. He had but a few pounds he could call his own, and not nearly enough to get away from the country, and at any moment he might be arrested. He was afraid to go back to his lodgings for fear of Merritt. That Merritt would kill him if he got the chance he felt certain. And Merritt was one of those dogged, patient types who can wait any time for the gratification of their vengeance.

Merritt was pretty certain to be hanging about for his opportunity. On the whole the best thing would be to walk straight to the Central Brighton Station and take the first train in the morning to town. There he could see Gates—who as yet knew nothing—and from him it would be possible to borrow a hundred or two, and then get away. And there were others besides Gates.

Henson trudged away for a mile or so over the downs. Then He came down from the summit of the castle he was building with a rude shock to earth again. A shadow seemed to rise from the ground, a heavy clutch was on his shoulder, and a hoarse voice was in his ear.

"Got you!" the voice said. "I knew they'd kick you out yonder, and I guessed you'd sneak home across the downs. And I've fairly copped you!"

Henson's knees knocked together. Physically he was a far stronger and bigger man than Merritt, but he was taken unawares, and his nerves had been sadly shaken of late.

Merritt forced him backwards until he lay on the turf with his antagonist kneeling on his chest. He dared not struggle, he dared not exert himself. Presently he might get a chance, and if he did it would go hard with James Merritt.

"What are you going to do?" he gasped.

Merritt drew a big, jagged stone towards him with one foot.

"I'm going to dash your brains out with this," he said, hoarsely. His eyes were gleaming, and in the dim light his mouth was set like a steel trap. "I'm going to have a little chat with you first, and then down this comes on the top of your skull, and it'll smash you like a bloomin' eggshell. Your time's come, Henson. Say your prayers."

"I can't," Henson whined. "And what have I done?"

Merritt rocked heavily on the other's breastbone, almost stifling him. "Wot?" he said, scoffingly. The pleasing mixture of gin and fog in his throat rendered him more hideously hoarse than usual. "Not make up a prayer! And you a regular dab at all that game! Why, I've seen the women snivellin' like babbies when you've been ladlin' it out. Heavens, what a chap you would be on the patter! How you would kid the chaplain!"

"Merritt, you're crushing the life out of me."

Merritt ceased his rocking for a moment, and the laughter died out of his gleaming eyes.

"I don't want to be prematoor," he said. "Yes, you'd make a lovely chaplain's pet, but I can't spare you. I'm going to smash that 'ere wily brain of yours, so as it won't be useful any more. I'll teach you to put the narks on to a poor chap like myself."

"Merritt, I swear to you that I never——"

"You can swear till you're black in the face, and you can keep on swearing till you're lily-white again, and then it, won't be any good. You gave me away to Taylor because you were afraid I should do you harm at Littimer Castle. That Daisy Bell of a girl there told me so."

Henson groaned. It was not the least part of his humiliation that a mere girl got the better of him in this way. And what on earth had she known of Reuben Taylor? But the fact remained that she had known, and that she had warned Merritt of his danger. It was the one unpardonable crime in Henson's decalogue, the one thing Merritt could not forgive.

Henson's time was come. He did not need anyone to tell him that. Unless something in the nature of a miracle happened, he was a dead man in a few moments; and life had never seemed quite so sweet as it tasted at the present time.

"You gave me away for no reason at all," Merritt went on. "I'm a pretty bad lot, but I never rounded on a pal yet, and never shall. More than one of them have served me bad, but I always let them go their own way, and I've been a good and faithful servant to you——"

"It was not you," Henson gurgled, "that I wrote that letter about, but——"

"Chuck it," Merritt said, furiously. "Tell me any more of your lies and I'll smash your jaw in for you. It was me. I spotted Scotter in Moreton Wells within a day or two. And Mr. Scotter had come for me. And I got past Bronson in Brighton by the skin of my teeth. I turned into your lodgings under his very eyes almost. Before this time to-morrow I shall be arrested. But I'm going to have my vengeance first."

The last words came with intense deliberation. There was no mistaking their significance. Henson deemed it wise to try another tack.

"I was wrong," he said, humbly. "I am very, very sorry; I lost my nerve and got frightened, Merritt. But there is time yet. You always make more money with me than with anybody else. And I'm going abroad presently."

"Oh, you're going abroad, are you?" Merritt said, slowly. "Going to travel in a Pullman car and put up at all the Courts of Europe. And I'm coming as chief secretary to the Grand Panjandrum himself. Sounds an alluring kind of program."

"I'll give you a hundred pounds to get away with if you will——"

"Got a hundred pounds of my own in my pocket at the present moment," was the unexpected reply. "As you gave me away, consequently I gave you away to his lordship, and he planked down a hundred canaries like the swell that he is. So I don't want your company or your money. And I'm going to finish you right away."

The big stone was poised over Henson's head. He could see the jagged part, and in imagination feel it go smashing into his brain. The time for action had come. He snatched at Merritt's right arm and drew the knotted fingers down. The next instant and he had bitten Merritt's thumb to the bone. With a cry of rage and pain the stone was dropped. Henson snatched it up and fairly lifted Merritt off his chest with a blow under the chin.

Merritt rolled over on the grass, and Henson was on his feet in an instant. The great stone went down perilously near to Merritt's head. Still snarling and frothing from the pain Merritt stumbled to his feet and dashed a blow blindly at the other.

In point of size and strength there was only one in it. Had Henson stood up to his opponent on equal terms there could only have been one issue. But his nerves were shattered, he was nothing like the man he had been two months ago. At the first onslaught he turned and fled towards the town, leaving Merritt standing there in blank amazement.

"Frightened of me," he muttered. "But this ain't the way it's going to finish."

He darted off in hot pursuit; he raced across a rising shoulder of the hill and cut off Henson's retreat. The latter turned and scurried back in the direction of Longdean Grange, with Merritt hot on his heels. He could not shake the latter off.

Merritt was plodding doggedly on, pretty sure of his game. He was hard as nails, whereas good living and a deal of drinking, quite in a gentlemanly way, had told heavily on Henson. Unless help came unexpectedly Henson was still in dire peril. There was just a chance that a villager might be about; but Longdean was more or less a primitive place, and most of the houses there had been in darkness for hours.

His foot slipped, he stumbled, and Merritt, with a whoop of triumph, was nearly upon him. But it was only a stagger, and he was soon going again. Still, Merritt was close behind him; Henson could almost feel his hot breath on his neck. And he was breathing heavily and distressfully himself, whilst he could hear how steadily Merritt's lungs were working. He could see the lights of Longdean Grange below him; but they seemed a long way off, whilst that steady pursuit behind had something relentless and nerve-destroying about it.

They were pounding through the village now. Henson gave vent to one cry of distress, but nothing came of it but the mocking echo of his own voice from a distant belt of trees. Merritt shot out a short, sneering laugh. He had not expected flagrant cowardice like this. He made a sudden spurt forward and caught Henson by the tail of his coat.

With a howl of fear the latter tore himself away, and Merritt reeled backwards. He came down heavily over a big stone, and at the same moment Henson trod on a hedge-stake. He grabbed it up and half turned upon his foe. But the sight of Merritt's grim face was too much for him, and he turned and resumed his flight once more.

He yelled again as he reached the lodge-gates, but the only response was the barking and howling of the dogs in the thick underwood beyond. There was no help for it. Doubtless the deaf old lodge-keeper had been in bed hours ago. Even the dogs were preferable to Merritt. Henson scrambled headlong over the wall and crashed through the thickets beyond.

Merritt pulled up, panting with his exertion.

"Gone to cover," he muttered. "I don't fancy I'll follow. The dogs there might have a weakness for tearing my throat out, and Henson will keep. I'll just hang about here till daylight and wait for my gentleman. And I'll follow him to the end of the earth."

Meanwhile Henson blundered on blindly, fully under the impression that Merritt was still upon his trail. One of the hounds, a puppy three parts grown, rose and playfully pulled at his coat. It was sheer play, but at the same time it was a terrible handicap, and in his fear Henson lost all his horror of the dogs.

"Loose, you brute," he panted. "Let go, I say. Very well, take that!"

He paused and brought the heavy stake down full on the dog's muzzle. There was a snarling scream of pain, and the big pup sprang for his assailant. An old, grey hound came up and seemed to take in the situation at a glance. With a deep growl he bounded at Henson and caught him by the throat. Before the ponderous impact of that fine free spring Henson went down heavily to the ground.

"Help!" he gurgled. "Help! help! help!"

The worrying teeth had been firmly fixed, the ponderous weight pressed all the breath from Henson's distressed lungs. He gurgled once again, gave a little shuddering sigh, and the world dwindled to a thick sheet of blinding darkness.

CHAPTER LVII.

Bell's professional enthusiasm got the better of his curiosity for the moment. It was a nice psychological problem. Already Steel was impulsively busy in the conservatory pulling the pots down. It was a regretful thing to have to do, but everything had to be sacrificed, David shut his teeth grimly and proceeded with his task.

"What on earth are you doing?" Bell asked, with a smile.

"Pulling the place to pieces," David responded. "I daresay I shall feel pretty sick about it later on, but the thing has to be done. Cut those wires for me, and let those creepers down as tenderly as possible. We can't get to the little pots until we have moved the big ones."

Bell coolly declined to do anything of the kind. He surveyed the two graceful banks of flowers there, the carefully trained creepers trailing so naturally and yet so artistically from the roof to the ground, and the sight pleased him.

"My dear chap," he said, "I am not going to sit here and allow you to destroy the work of so many hours. There is not the slightest reason to disturb anything. Unless I am greatly mistaken, Van Sneck will lay his hand upon the ring for us without so much as the sacrifice of a blossom."

"I don't fancy so," Van Sneck replied. "I can't remember."

"Well, you are going to," Bell said, cheerfully. "Did you ever hear of artificial memory?"

"The sort of thing you get in law courts and political speeches?" David suggested. "All the same, if you have some patent way of getting at the facts I shall be only too glad to spare my poor flowers. Their training has been a labor of love with me."

Bell smoked on quietly for some time. He toyed with the red blossoms which had so stimulated Van Sneck's recollection, then tossed a spray over to Van Sneck and suggested that the latter should put it in his button-hole.

"So as to have the fragrance with you all the time," he said.

Van Sneck obeyed quietly, remarking that the scent was very pungent. The Dutchman was restless and ill at ease; he seemed to be dissatisfied with himself—he had the air of a man who has set out with two or three extremely important matters of business and who has completely forgotten what one of them is.

"You needn't distress yourself," David said, kindly.

"I beg your pardon," Bell said, tartly. "He is to do that very same thing. Mental exercise never hurts anybody. Van Sneck is going to worry till he puzzles it out. Will you describe the ring to us?"

The Dutchman complied at considerable length. He dwelt on the beauty of the workmanship and the exceeding fineness of the black pearls; he talked with the freedom and expression of the expert. Bell permitted him to ramble on about historic rings in general. But all the same he could see that Van Sneck was far from easy in his mind. Now and then a sudden gleam came into his eyes: memory played for the fragment of a second on a certain elusive chord and was gone.

Will be continued next Saturday.

SCORED ANOTHER WONDERFUL VICTORY

One More Added to the Long List of Cures Effected by Psychine.

This young lady, who lives in Brownsville, near Woodstock, Ont., tells her own story in a few effective words of how she obtained deliverance from the terrible grip of weakness and disease.

I have to thank Psychine for my present health, two years ago I was going into a decline. I could hardly drag myself across the floor. I could not sweep the carpet.

If I went for a drive I had to lie down when I came back. If I went for a mile on two on my wheel I was too weak to lift it through the gateway, and last time I came in from having a spin I dropped utterly helpless from fatigue. My father would give me no peace until I procured Psychine, knowing it was excellent for decline or weakness. I must say the results are wonderful, and people remarked my improvement. Instead of a little, pale, hollow cheeked, listless, melancholy girl, I am to-day full of life, ready for a sleigh-ride, a skating match, or an evening party with anyone, and a few months ago I could not struggle to church, the roads from my home. I have never had the slightest cause to fear any return of the disease.

ELLA MURIEL WOOD,
Brownsville, Ont.

Thousands of women are using PSYCHINE, because they know from experience that in it they have a safe friend and deliverer. Psychine is a wonderful tonic, purifying the blood, driving out disease germs, gives a ravenous appetite, aids digestion and assimilation of food, and is a positive and absolute cure for disease of throat, chest, lungs, stomach and other organs. It quickly builds up the entire system, making sick people well and weak people strong.

There are many emulsions of Cod Liver Oil, all more or less good, no doubt, and all very much alike, the principal difference being in the quantity and quality of the oil that enters into their composition, and perhaps something in the method of manufacture.

FERROL

on the other hand, while it is an emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, occupies a place entirely above and beyond the ordinary preparations above referred to.

The reason is, that FERROL combines with the oil Iron and Phosphorus, which all other emulsions lack, and without which no emulsion is anywhere near perfect.

In FERROL the well-known virtues of Cod Liver Oil as a flesh and weight producer, the unparalleled qualities of Iron as a blood builder and purifier, as well as the undoubted advantages of Phosphorus as a Nerve and Brain tonic, are all not only combined and retained, but wonderfully enhanced by the process of amalgamation.

No argument is necessary to prove the inestimable value of such a preparation as FERROL in the treatment of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Croup and all Bronchial or Lung Troubles.

FERROL is not a patent mystery. The formula is freely published. It is prescribed by the best Physicians. It is endorsed by the most eminent Medical Journals. It is used in the prominent Hospitals, Sanatoriums, etc.

COMMISSIONER KENT'S COMMENDATION

At the closing session of the investigation of the Sun Life of Canada by the Royal Commission on Life Insurance, Commissioner Kent stated, in connection with his suggestion that voting power might be given to policyholders, that—

"It seems to me that in the conduct of the Sun Life business there is nothing to be desired, as far as the present generation is concerned. If you were immortal I would not say anything further about it. If, by sound judgment, hard work and just discrimination, you have put the Sun Life on the pinnacle of a successful company, another management with other attributes might just as easily squander it. . . . . The directors have done their duty nobly; there is no complaint to be made against them, or any one of them, Who can say whether the future management will continue the present high standard of your Company?"

SILVER BIRD.

About eighteen months ago there were several Cobalt companies organized, and their shares offered for subscription in Cobalt and near-by towns. Many of the laborers, clerks and other wage-earners, being on the ground, manifested their faith in the camp by placing their earnings in sums varying from $100.00 to $1,000.00 in these shares. There is not a single exception known where these shares have not advanced from 100 to 10 times the first price. This seems almost like a fairy tale, but it is the truth. There are many men who can be seen every day walking about the uneven streets of Cobalt who eighteen months ago were known as common day laborers, working for $2.00 per day, who are now actually worth from $50,000.00 to $100,000.00, all gained from pinning their faith in Cobalt and placing their savings in Cobalt mining stocks.

We are now offering for public subscription the first allotment of 200,000 shares at the low price of 15 cents per share. Now, just think of it! Compare this price with the price of the Colonial, only a stone's throw away, now selling at $3.50 to $4.00 per share, at a valuation of about four million dollars. Compare it also with the stock of the Right of Way, selling at from $7.00 to $8.00 per share. If the O'Brien mine was an incorporated Company to-day and offered for sale its stock would undoubtedly bring on the open market $10.00 to $12.00 per share on the capital of a million and a half. We have been informed from a trustworthy source that the ore blocked out and in sight in the Timmins mine is estimated at from $10,000,000 to $15,000,000. We venture to say that if this property were incorporated for $10,000,000 and placed upon the market, it would sell for $2.00 per share. It should be understood that we are in no way endeavoring to depreciate the values of the Colonial, Right of Way, O'Brien or Timmins stocks or properties, for, indeed, we believe they would be bargains at those prices and valuations. We are only endeavoring to show that Silver Bird, which is located in close proximity to these mines, is at

15 CENTS PER SHARE

In comparison with those valuable properties, positively the greatest and best purchase that has ever been offered in the Cobalt camp.

The safest and best purchase in the whole Cobalt camp to-day, considering capitalization, location, work done, results obtained, and price of the stock. There has never been a stock offered in the Cobalt district, from the opening up of the camp to the present day, that could compare with it when taking these points into consideration. Silver Bird is situated directly in the centre of the most active operations, and is surrounded by some of the most wonderful producing silver mines the word has ever known.

One of the highest recommendations for the shares of Silver Bird is the fact that the investors at Cobalt and Haileybury are buying heavily of these shares. Within the last several days we have received orders from investors in that section for more than 40,000 shares. The employees of the Nipissing, the O'Brien and the Red Rock are buying these shares.

Silver Bird is situated between and close to these mines, and these miners should know what they are buying.

Now, just consider for a moment! Here are men right on the ground, employed on the properties that surround and are in the immediate vicinity of Silver Bird, placing their money in these shares at the present market price—15 cents. THESE MEN ARE MINERS. They know the property. They can see Silver Bird every day. They are in a position to know whether these shares are a bargain or not. It is no trouble to see the property, as it is only about 15 to 20 minutes' walk from the railway station or postoffice at Cobalt to the Silver Bird mine.

Many people are visiting the property, and we do not know of one exception where they have not purchased these shares after once examining Silver Bird.

Just recently a gentleman claiming to be a mining engineer and mineralogist came into our office, stating he was just from Cobalt and had made an examination of Silver Bird Property. He placed his order for 20,000 shares for himself and friends. This speaks for itself!

Now, a word to investors: Buy the shares of Silver Bird at the present first allotment price of 15 cents. Buy all you can of these shares. Place your faith in the most wonderful mining district the world has ever known. Back it up with all the money that you can see your way clear to invest. You will never regret it, but will always rejoice.

WATCH Silver Bird.

Silver Bird will be paying dividends equal to its present purchase price within the next year on every share of its stock.

Invest your money in Silver Bird, the greatest bargain that has ever been offered in the Cobalt camp.

FACTS

We have been asked by brokers and mining men who are interested in properties at Cobalt: Why do you sell Silver Bird at 15 cents? It looks to us too cheap; you might as well sell it at 30 or 40 cents; it would sell just as fast, and would not be too high. Our answer to all has been: We are strongly recommending Silver Bird as the best investment that has been offered in the Cobalt camp. We are saying to our friends and clients: It is worth more money; it is sure to advance, etc.

We want to be able to meet these friends and clients of ours in six months face to face; we want them to smile and give us the glad hand. We want them to say to us: "You gave us the right advice on Silver Bird; you have made us some money." "We want you to do all our brokerage business."

That is why we are selling Silver Bird at 15 cents, and the reason it is meeting with such a big sale is the more Silver Bird is investigated the more evident it becomes to investors that we are not misrepresenting, but giving them

This map shows the operating and working mines in the most active portions of Coleman, Buck and Lorraine Townships. While the lot and concession lines are not marked, the shaft houses indicate most accurately the exact location of the working mines. The map is drawn on the same scale and in accordance with the official map of the Cobalt district. Silver Bird will be found in the centre of the map. There are other mines North, South and West, which do not show on this map, our purpose being to show the location of Silver Bird and other properties surrounding and adjacent thereto.

SILVER BIRD is surrounded by the greatest producing mines in the Cobalt District.

SILBER BIRD is absolutely inside property, consisting of twenty acres (patented), being the west half of the north-east quarter of the north half of lot 2, concession 6, Coleman.

SILVER BIRD is a mine in full operation, with two 25 h. p. boilers, steam hoist, steam drills and all machinery and buildings necessary to complete an operating mine.

SILVER BIRD is working two shifts and is in full operation both day and night, sinking upon three veins and in the same formations identically as in the O'Brien, Timmins and Right of Way mines, and lying immediately between these mines and the Green-Meehan, Red Rock, Cobalt Contact and Nipissing Extension. The veins are broadening out and increasing in values, with depth now 40 ft. in shaft.

SILVER BIRD has no indebtedness; there are no incumbrances against the property or stock of the company. The capitalization of THE SILVER BIRD COBALT MINES, LIMITED, is but $1,500,000, par value of the shares $1.00 each, fully paid and non-assessable, with 500,000 shares in the treasury. The first allotment of 200,000 shares are now offered to the public for subscription at 15 CENTS PER SHARE.

Considering the inside location of the property, development done, results obtained, low capitalization and the large amount of shares in the treasury, this is unquestionably one of the best bargains (if not the greatest bargain) that has been offered in Cobalt mining shares.

We predict this first allotment will be largely over-subscribed, and we urge that early application be made.

To guard against over-issue and to guarantee to investors the genuineness of the certificates when issued—also the prompt and safe delivery of same—arrangements have been made with the Trusts & Guarantee Company, Limited, 14 King street west, Toronto, to act as Transfer Agents and Registrars.

Orders may be telephoned or telegraphed direct to Law & Co., Traders' Bank building, at the expense of Law & Co. Applications and remittances, however, should follow by mail direct to the Trusts & Guarantee Company, Limited, 14 King street west, Toronto.

Within the past year you could have purchased Silver Queen at 80 cents, and that if you had done so you could now sell it at $2.10?

Don't you remember that you could have bought Buffalo within the past year at $1.00, and if you had a few shares of it to-day you could sell it at $8.50 per share without any trouble?

And now, again, don't you remember the Temiskaming & Hudson Bay Company offering their shares at 40 cents and begging the dear public to take it? Perhaps you didn't buy any of it, but if you did you could get $800.00 to-day for every 40 cents that you put into it?

Now, again, it has only been some two or three months since you could have bought Nancy Helen at $1.00. Perhaps you have some of it. If you have you can get $2.50 per share for it to-day.

Less than one year ago you could have got Nipissing at $4 per share, and if you had it to-day you could get $12.90 per share.

The same can be said of the Colonial, the Right of Way and other shares. If you had bought them at their first issue you could sell them to-day at from 300 to 700 per cent. advance.

If you have not got any of these stocks referred to above, perhaps it is because some wise friend or neighbor advised you not to buy. Perhaps you went to some good and wise friend and said, "What do you think about buying this stock or that stock?" Perhaps he said to you, "Well, I don't know about this Cobalt proposition; there may or may not be silver up there. If I were you I would not buy."

Now, are you going to go to your friend again and ask him whether you shall buy some of the first issue of Silver Bird at 15 cents per share, or are you going to back your own judgment? Here is the cheapest and best buy that was ever offered in the camp, and at the first issue price of 15 cents per share—inside property as much so as were any of these other companies of which we have written at the time they were placed upon the market.

Use your own judgment. Be your own money-maker. Don't discount your own business ability. Your own judgment will tell you that Silver Bird is a purchase. Look at the map and see where it is. Your own judgment will tell you it is bound to advance in price. Why hesitate longer? Why not get in on the ground floor and make some money? The first allotment of 200,000 shares is not going to last forever, the way it is going. The best evidence as to whether Silver Bird is a bargain or not is the fact that we are receiving many reservations from Cobalt.

We want to call to your mind this fact: If you had placed $500 in Temiskaming & Hudson Bay at its first issue price of 40 cents per share you would now have the neat little fortune of $250,000 at the present market value, and still, if you had bought $500 worth of this stock at 40 cents per share, perhaps your legal adviser or your kind, wise neighbor or friend would have laughed at you at the time you purchased it, and told you you had thrown your money away. Now, don't understand us as inferring that by putting $500 into Silver Bird it will be worth $250,000 within the next year. We don't mean to say that. Of course, it is possible, but we don't claim it will positively do it. We are only drawing an example of how foolish it is for one man who thinks an investment is a good one asking another man, who knows nothing at all about the investment whatever, whether he thinks it would be well for him to make the investment. We know from personal knowledge that many investors have been kept from investing in the first issues of Cobalt stocks, and who would have made thousands of dollars simply because some one else advised them to keep out of it. We claim that the greatest profits are made by investing when the first issues are first placed upon the market. Now is the accepted time and the golden opportunity in Silver Bird. We firmly believe that Silver Bird will sell in the open market within the next six months at a dollar a share or more. We have come to this conclusion after having had the property thoroughly examined by competent and able mining men of years of experience. Silver Bird will never sell a penny less than it is offered to-day.

We have mentioned the great advances that occurred in Temiskaming & Hudson Bay, in the Nancy Helen, McKinley-Darragh, Silver Queen and the Buffalo. We want to call your attention to the fact that Silver Bird is not as far away from the original discovery made by La Rose, on the railway at the point known as the Timmins mine, as these properties are. Let us again call your attention to the fact that Silver Bird is on a direct line with these properties and other properties that have developed far beyond the Silver Bird.

There is no question about it! This is one of the greatest opportunities, taking everything into consideration, that has ever been offered in the Cobalt camp.

Don't get the foolish idea that there is going to be any permanent depreciation in Cobalt mining shares or properties. Cobalt is only in its infancy. Within the present year Cobalt is going to see the greatest boom it ever had—for that matter the greatest boom that has ever occurred in mining shares on the American continent. Every indication points to this; besides, the development and production justify this assertion. The deeper the shafts are sunk the richer the ore becomes. The older the camp the further the developments are spread out from the original discovery.

We believe that NOW IS THE TIME TO MAKE MONEY IN COBALT, and within the coming year our judgment will be fully carried out in this respect.

A Meal in a Moment

Bovril will do it for you

A meal prepared with the help of a chafing dish has a great fascination for many.

But the woman who uses a chafing dish and hasn't tried what the addition of a few drops of Bovril will do, has yet to find out how delightfully piquant and appetising, a chafing dish preparation can be made.

Not only does "Bovril" add to the richness and taste, but also very materially to the nourishing qualities, and that's best of all.

OMEMEE HOCKEY TEAM HAS GREAT RECORD

Have Not Been Beaten This Season—Other News of Interest

Examiner Special.

Omemee, Feb. 25.—The weather is intensely cold, and while fuel is largely consumed, no one is wanting either fuel, food or clothing.

The Peterborough Salvation Army band concerts last Saturday night and Sunday proved to be two of the greatest musical events in the history of the village, particularly the playing of the fine band.

The Omemee hockey team have not been beaten in any contest yet. They have beaten the Strathconas and Knoxboro, of Peterborough; the Crescents of Lindsay, Bobcaygeon, and defeated Millbrook twice. They will meet Lakefield and Fenelon Falls this week, and a change in victories may occur.

Gordon Wright, baritone soloist, has been singing acceptably in the Presbyterian Church, Millbrook.

Mrs. Thornton, Peterborough, has been visiting Omemee friends.

Peterborough canoe and boat factories will be able to secure some fine timber at all our sawmills.

A splendid and paying enterprise would be a radial railway line to Peterborough, via Mt. Pleasant.

Many Logs in Yards of Warsaw Mills—Elocution Teacher Will Open Branch of Conservatory of Music.

LATEST PERSONAL NOTES OF INTEREST

Examiner Special.

Warsaw, Feb. 27.—Mrs. O. Patterson-Mowry, of the staff of the Peterborough Conservatory of Music, was in town on Friday last, making arrangements for the teaching of elocution in connection with the local branch. It is understood that quite a large number of pupils will avail themselves of this excellent opportunity to study the art under so competent a preceptress.

Mr. Wallace Anderson is spending a few weeks at Stanley Barracks, Toronto, taking a course of instruction.

Miss Duncan, Millbrook, is a guest of Mrs. A. W. Smithson.

Miss Bertha Wareham, Peterborough, who has been spending a couple of weeks with her friend, Miss Dora Payne, returned home Tuesday.

Mrs. Rowley, Paisley, Ont., left for home on Tuesday, having spent a few weeks with relatives here.

Mr. Fred Tully, of the staff of the Hamilton Bridge Works, who has recently returned from Quebec, is visiting relatives here.

Rev. H. F. Battersby, Young's Point, was in town on Tuesday.

Mr. S. R. Payne, returned from Apsley on Monday where he spent a couple of days on business of the Warsaw Milling Company.

Mrs. J. A. Coun, Toronto, is spending a few days with her mother, who is suffering from an attack of pneumonia.

Mrs. J. H. Hescott left for Vancouver, B.C., on Thursday last, where she will join her husband.

The many friends of Mr. Robert Tighe, of Peterborough, formerly of this place, will regret to learn that he has been taken to the Nicholls Hospital suffering from appendicitis.

Mr T. O. Hawthorne, of the Bank of Montreal staff, Peterborough, spent Sunday at his home.

Miss Julia Choate, of the Conservatory of Music, Peterborough, visited at her home on Sunday.

Mrs. Herbert Payne, who has been spending a couple of months in this vicinity, left on Wednesday for her home in Deloraine, Manm.

Mr. Earle Kidd left for Norwood on Monday where he has accepted a position with a drygoods firm of that place.

The regular monthly meeting of Court Warsaw, C. O. F., will be held on Tuesday next, March 5th.

Mrs. J. B. Forster is visiting friends in Port Hope and Peterborough.

Miss E. Kelly of Hamilton, was in town for a few days renewing acquaintances.

The sawmills have every prospect of an exceptionally busy season. The oldest residents do not recall having seen so many logs in the yards at this season of the year. Operations commenced some weeks ago, being considerably earlier than usual on account of the timber accumulating. Mr. George Payne of Lakefield is superintending this department of the Warsaw Milling Co's plant.

Synopsis Of Canadian North-West HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act, as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

THAW MAKES STATEMENT.

Says His Wife Has Told the Absolute Truth.

New York, March 1.—Harry K. Thaw enlivened the extremely dull session of his trial yesterday by furnishing the newspaper men with a brief statement in which he accused District Attorney Jerome of having made unprofessional remarks in court, asserted his wife's testimony was absolute truth and declared Mrs. Thaw's "natural real goodness" was above the comprehension of the prosecuting officers.

Alienist Cross-Examined.

Dr. Britton D. Evans, the alienist, was in the witness' chair all yesterday undergoing cross-examination at the hands of Jerome. The prosecutor said before adjournment that he probably would keep Dr. Evans on the stand throughout to-day. This means that the cross-examination of Dr. Wagner, another alienist, will not be reached until next week and makes indefinite the time when the defence will rest.

Dr. Evans and Mr. Jerome spent the entire day in going over eight letters written by Thaw and culling out of them all excerpts on which Dr. Evans based his expressed belief that they were written by a person of unsound mind.

This was the essence of the day's work. Mr. Jerome seemed as interested as the expert in searching out phrases in the letters which might be construed as the writings of an insane man, and, for the first time, the jurors were permitted to examine photographic copies of letters thoroughly.

Jerome's attitude in this direction again led to the circulation of rumors that he intends to pave the way, if possible, for a commission in lunacy.

Thaw's Sleuth Dogged White.

A private detective hired by Thaw to shadow Stanford White when the latter toured Europe last spring, may give material evidence at the present trial. White followed closely upon the previous itineraries of Evelyn Nesbit in the hope that he might run across her and regain her friendship. Thaw had a report sent to him of every movement White made during the trip which lasted five weeks.

TO SHORTEN PASSAGE.

Newfoundland Considering a New Transatlantic Line.

Halifax, N. S., March 1.—In the Newfoundland Legislative Assembly Wednesday night Premier Bond proposed the adoption of a contract between the Newfoundland Government and the Messrs. Ochs, capitalists, of London and Paris, providing for the establishment of a short line of transatlantic steamers between Killery, on the west coast of Ireland, and Green Bay, on the east coast of Newfoundland.

The plan also provides for a two-hour railway trip across the colony to Port au Basque, whence a twenty-knot steamer would convey mails and passengers to Gaspe, Quebec, in summer, and Sydney, C. B., in winter.

The promoters of the project claim that there would be a saving of 32 hours over any other transatlantic route.

The project must take shape within two years or else all liability on the part of the colony will cease.

Should the capitalists carry out their announced plans the Newfoundland Government proposes to pay them $75,000 annually for 25 years. It is said that the British, American and Canadian Governments will be asked to assist in establishing the proposed line.

The Messrs. Ochs are given the right to construct a tunnel under the Strait of Belle Isle within eight years, and establish railway connections between a proposed line through Labrador and the Newfoundland Railway.

The Legislature will act on the contract within a few days.

NEW VESSELS FOR THE BRITISH NAVY

Several Formidable Battleships to Be Constructed.

ESTIMATES IN THE HOUSE

Two, If Not Three, New Vessels of the Dreadnought Class to Be Built—Will Wait the Issue of Hague Peace Conference Re-distribution of Fleets — Reduction of Nearly $6,000,000.

London, March 1.—A statement of the naval estimates for 1907-8, presented to Parliament last night, introduced quite a novel feature, for it makes the construction of battleships during the coming year dependent in a measure upon the defence reached at the next peace conference held at The Hague.

The new construction, estimated at £40,500,000, against £46,175,000 for 1906-7. Lord Tweedmouth, first Lord of the Admiralty, says, will include two, or unless an understanding between the naval powers is reached at The Hague conference, three large armored vessels of the Dreadnought type.

One was unarmored cruiser, five torpedo boat destroyers, 12 torpedo boats and 12 submarines also are provided for.

On April 1 there will be under construction five battleships, seven armored cruisers, eight torpedo boat destroyers, 17 torpedo boats and 12 submarines.

Big Reduction in the Year.

The estimates for the year show a total reduction of 1,000 men and $5,675,000 as compared with 1906-7.

Lord Tweedmouth comments upon the striking improvement in the gunnery of the fleet compared with last year. The average of hits was practically doubled.

The First Lord of the Admiralty mentions also the highly satisfactory performances of the battleship Dreadnought and the greater efficiency that has resulted from the system of nucleus crews.

As an illustration of this system and the better state of repair emanating from it, he compares the condition of January, 1904, when, out of 60 battleships, 30 were not available, owing to the need of repairs, with that of January, 1907, when out of 51 battleships, only eight were not available.

SALT RHEUM CURED

By Dr. Williams' Pink Pills After Doctors Treatment Had Failed

Skin trouble indicates that the blood is in a poisoned state. It is the poison in the blood that causes blotches, pimples, eczema, boils, saltrheum or bad complexion. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make rich, red blood that banishes these troubles. Mrs. Osborne, wife of Andrew Osborne, clerk of the Township of Kennebec, Frontenac County, Ont., writes: "I cannot speak too highly of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, for they did for me what doctors failed to do. Some years ago I was attacked by saltrheum in the hands, caused by a run down condition of my blood. I endured the tortures of this terrible disease for some time, and only those who have been similarly afflicted can realize my suffering. At times my hands were so bad that I could not comb my hair, I was helpless. I consulted a doctor but his treatment failed to benefit me—my case seemed incurable. While in this condition I read of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and decided to give them a trial. Soon I began to improve and by the time I had taken about a dozen boxes I was completly cured and I have not since had the slightest return of the trouble. I can heartily recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to all similar sufferers."

You can't cure eczema, saltrheum and skin eruptions with salves and outward applications. These troubles are rooted in the blood and can only be cured through the rich, red blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make. This simple medical fact should be known to everyone. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills not only cure skin diseases, but all other troubles caused by bad blood, such as anaemia, with its headaches, sideaches and backaches, heart palpitation, indigestion, rheumatism, neuralgia, St. Vitus dance and the special ailments that afflict so many women and growing girls. You can get these pills from your medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

BRAVE TEACHER BURIED.

Thousands Follow Miss Sarah Maxwell to Her Last Resting Place.

Montreal, Mar. 1.—Montreal yesterday showed that it felt it had lost a heroine when thousands upon thousands turned out to attend the funeral of the late Miss Sarah Maxwell, the principal of the Hochelaga Protestant School, who gave her life in an endeavor to save all the little ones confided to her charge. For years last Miss Maxwell, with her widowed mother, had regularly attended the service at Christ Church Cathedral, and from it the remains were borne yesterday, surrounded by children from all the Protestant schools in this city, and people of all classes, anxious to pay tribute to the memory of the brave girl. In the procession from the family home, on St. Urbain street, to Christ Church were crowds of people, young and old, all of whom showed by their sorrow that a true heroine had been cut off all too prematurely.

Overcome by Gas.

Kingston, Mar. 1.—C. Folger, superintendent of the gas plant, and J. Forsyth, while seeking a leak in a pipe in lower Union street, were overcome with gas yesterday.

150 Arrested in French Riot.

Reims, France, Mar. 1.—Violent anti-Masonic rioting occurred here yesterday. Many persons were injured and the police made 150 arrests.

Attack is Made On the Minister of Justice.

A RIDICULOUS POSITION

Opposition Members Blame Mr. Aylesworth For Not Having Controlled the Commission—Vote of Censure Moved by Mr. Borden on Account of Delay in Filling N.S. Judgeship — Defeated.

Ottawa, March 1.—The report of the Insurance Commission has proved so unsatisfactory to the Opposition that yesterday the Minister of Justice was attacked by Messrs. Lennox and Porter for not having controlled the investigation. The expression of such an extraordinary principle, that a Minister of the Crown should interfere with the proceedings of a Royal Commission, was ridiculed in the manner it deserved by the Prime Minister. Mr. G. E. Foster followed, and he, after expressing agreement with the position taken up by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, proceeded to attempt to prove that the Minister of Justice had acknowledge that he had issued verbal instructions to Messrs. Shepley and Tilley in respect of the investigation, twisting the reply of Mr. Aylesworth to a question in the House when he said that he had had verbal communication with the two gentlemen mentioned, with whom he was intimately acquainted. The only effect the attack had was to produce from Mr. Aylesworth a denial that he had ever had any official communication whatever with Messrs. Shepley and Tilley. Mr. R. L. Borden, on the motion to go into supply, moved an amendment practically censuring the Government for failing to fill a vacancy on the Nova Scotia Bench, which, on going to a division, was defeated by 83 to 50 on a straight party vote. The House then went into supply.

Statement of Assets.

The Minister of Finance, replying to Mr. Macdonell, stated that the amount of interest and non-interest bearing assets, respectively, for the fiscal year ended the 30th of June, 1896, was $53,490,391.12, and $13,729,712; similar assets for the year ended 30th June, 1906, were $63,969,670 and $61,257,031. The rates of interest earned during the period referred to were 2.56 per cent. and 3.34 per cent., respectively. The large increase in non-interest bearing assets was due to the increase of the specie reserve to $26,255,000, and the amount held in trust for the G. T. P. of $18,800,000.

The Nova Scotia Vacancy.

The leader of the Opposition called attention to the delay which had occurred in filling the vacancy on the Bench of the Supreme Court of Nova Scotia, and demanded an explanation, declaring that the delay was for political purposes. He moved an amendment to the effect that the long delay in making the appointment constituted a disregard of public duty which merited the disapproval of the House.

The Minister of Justice said the information he had with reference to the public business in the courts of Nova Scotia did not accord with the view expressed by the leader of the Opposition. It seemed to him that the inconvenience had been very much magnified. He assured the hon. gentleman (Mr. Borden) that before the court met again the vacancy would be filled.

The House then went into Committee of Supply.

New Departmental Buildings.

On a vote of $400,000 for a new departmental building, Hon. Mr. Fisher stated that the Government intended to enlarge the accommodation for Government departments by the erection of two buildings on the eastern side of the canal. One building would have a floor area of about 300,000 square feet, and would cost, exclusive of the land, about $2,000,000. The building would be used for departments. The other building would have an area of about 100,000 square feet, and would cost about $750,000, exclusive of the cost of the land. The land for the site of the two buildings had been secured at a cost of about $500,000. The land has been obtained through agents, who were instructed to obtain options for the Government.

Messrs. Monk, Taylor, Bennett and Reid (Grenville) complained of extravagance in the matters of paying commissions.

The item was allowed to stand over. Progress having been reported, the House adjourned at 12.10 a. m.

Barred From Throne.

Berlin, Mar. 1.—Chancellor Von Buelow presided yesterday at a meeting of the Federal Council, at which it was decided unanimously that under the present circumstances no member of the House of Cumberland will be allowed to succeed to the throne of the Duchy of Brunswick.

Fatally Injured.

St. Thomas, Mar. 1.—E. Snider, an M. C. R. brakeman, was crushed while coupling cars at Welland last night, and it is feared that he sustained internal injuries which may result fatally. He was brought to the Amasa Wood Hospital, in this city.

Wisconsin Swept by Blizzard.

Superior, Wis., Mar. 1.—Superior yesterday suffered the worst blizzard of the winter, heavy snow being driven by a high wind. Incoming trains are badly delayed.

Maple Leaf Rubbers

"If I were to return to earth again I would provide my entire family with 'Maple Leaf' Rubbers."—Wireless from "the old woman who lived in a shoe."

You see the "old woman" is somewhat of a philosopher. She knows it would take a pile of money to keep her big family supplied with ordinary, go-to-pieces rubbers.

But "Maple Leaf" Rubbers are different. They're long wearers—money savers.

Only the finest Para gum, which makes the toughest, longest-wearing, most waterproof rubbers, is used in the manufacture of "Maple Leaf" Rubbers.

They are not loaded with any cheap, stiff, tarry substance which makes ordinary rubbers split, crack, wrinkle and become prematurely old and worn-out before "Maple Leaf" Rubbers show a sign of wear.

Styles and sizes to fit all shapes and sizes of men's, women's, children's shoes.

SMOKE CAUSES DEATH.

One Life Lost In Incendiary Fire In Cleveland, Ohio.

Cleveland, Ohio, March 1.—In a fire believed to have been of incendiary origin the Waldheim & Co. furniture house, a five-storey brick structure, in Ontario street, was destroyed Wednesday night, and John Shafter, asleep in a rooming house, adjoining, was suffocated. The property loss is $150,000. The police are searching for a man said to have been seen in the Waldheim building before the fire.

KICKED BY A HORSE.

English Immigrant In Brockville Hospital In Serious Condition.

Brockville, Ont., Mar. 1.—William Parker, a young English emigrant in the employ of James Chalmers, a farmer of this district, while in the stable feeding the horses, was kicked on the side of the head. His face was badly lacerated and his tongue nearly severed. He was found unconscious, and lies in the hospital in a very critical condition.

Four Killed by Dynamite.

Carmi, Ill., Mar. 1.—By an explosion of dynamite yesterday the Rev. J. B. Tittle, his father, his wife and baby were killed, and two children of the family were fatally injured.

Mr. Tittle was a Baptist minister and had the dynamite in his house expecting to use the explosive in blowing out stumps.

New Brunswick Auditor-General Dead.

Fredericton, N. B., March 1.—James S. Beck, Auditor-General of New Brunswick, died early this morning at his home here after a long illness. He was 92 years old, and had been Auditor-General of New Brunswick for the last twenty years. One daughter survives.

BRONCHITIS CAN BE CURED

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup Will Do It.

Bronchitis is generally the result of a cold caused by inclement weather or exposure to wet, and is a very dangerous inflamatory affection of the bronchial tubes.

The symptoms are tightness across the chest, sharp pains and difficulty in breathing, and a secretion of thick phlegm, at first white, but later of a greenish or yellowish color.

Neglected Bronchitis is one of the most general causes of consumption, so cure it at once by the use of

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup

Mrs. S. Fidder, Linton's, N.B., writes: "I feel it my duty to let you know of my experience with Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. My little girl was very low with Bronchitis and our doctor did all in his power for her, but could only give her relief for a short time. My husband saw your medicine advertised, and immediately procured three bottles. I never saw anything give so much relief in so short a time. It stopped the annoying cough at night and she is now perfectly cured. I am so glad I can hardly express my gratitude for what Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup has done for us."

FASHION'S FORECAST.

How the Servants In Smart Establishments Are Gowned.

MODES IN MAIDS' APRONS.

Princess Styles Newest For Waitresses. They Have an Individuality Lacking Even in the Coquettish Apron of My Lady's Own Maid.

Waitresses' aprons made princess style are the newest thing in correct dress for house servants, and all mistresses who keep their establishments up to date will doubtless have their serving maids don the smart looking dress accessories for everyday wear. These stylish princess patterns have an individuality that even the coquettish parlor or ladies' maids' aprons lack, for, in addition to being serviceable, they fit the figure almost like a frock and are much neater in appearance than those formerly used with bibs. They are quite as practical, too, for the princess effect, brought about by introducing a long panel that reaches from the bust line to the bottom of the skirt, covers just as much of the gown as the old time bib aprons did.

Made of sheer lawn with embroidery or lace insertion outlining the princess panels, these aprons are pretty and becoming to almost any type of maid. The tops of these panels are square and finished either with hemstitching, embroidery or lace edging to match the trimming used on the body of the garment. At either end, to hold the panels in place across the chest, there are straps or bretelles of embroidery or the plain material with ruffle of lace that pass over the shoulders, cross in the back and are pinned securely in place beneath the ribbon ties in the back.

There is another new and pretty style of apron for serving maids. It is called the V pattern because the upper part that answers to the old fashioned bib is made in the shape of a V of heavy embroidery, lace or sheer lawn trimmed with a pretty filmy insertion. This V starts with straps or bretelles at the shoulders that join at the waist. The tops are kept in place by the embroidery bretelles that are fastened into the belt line at the back.

With these smart aprons the regulation dark frock with stiff collars and cuffs will be worn, and for a headdress a plain white bow of sheer linen or lawn with hemstitched ends will be correct for maids this season.

The caps worn with these aprons should be bows and hand embroidered to match. Made like those used by the waitresses or chambermaids, these little pieces of lingerie for the head are distinguished from those donned by other servants by the narrow ribbon rosettes. Pretty embroidered collars and cuffs in soft lawn or linen complete this costume.

AMY VARNUM.

How to Prepare Terrapin.

It was Mr. Frank Hambleton, the Baltimore banker, who demonstrated the virtues of the Baltimorean terrapin. For the benefit of those who may wish to try it, here it is:

"Boil the terrapin until the skin on the claws is sufficiently soft to rub off at the slightest touch. Take from the shell and remove every particle of entrails and lungs. Place the meat in a chafing dish if possible. Add butter, pepper and salt, the quantity of each depending on the quantity of flesh.

"Let it simmer until the essence and butter reach the consistency of light gravy, then serve hot. If desired, a little good sherry may be added before eating, but not while cooking. Use no spices, dressings or other ingredients that can detract from the flavor."

SAVED BABY'S LIFE

There are many mothers throughout Canada who do not hesitate to say that Baby's Own Tablets have saved the lives of their little ones. One of these is Mrs. John Shortill, Georgetown, Ont., who says: "I have no hesitation in saying that I believe that Baby's Own Tablets saved my little girl's life. From the time my little girl was three months old she cried all the time with indigestion. She was frail and puny; her food did her no good, and I was literally worn out caring for her. The doctor treated her for some time, and finally told us he could do no more for her and we did not expect that she would get better. It was then that I learned of Baby's Own Tablets, and decided to try them. Before I had given her a box of the Tablets there was a great improvement. Her digestion was much improved and her bowels, which had been terribly constipated, moved regularly. From that time she began to thrive splendidly, and she is now as healthy a child as you would wish to see. We are now never without a box of Tablets in the house. Baby's Own Tablets will promptly cure all the minor ailments of babies and young children, and the mother has the guarantee of a Government analyst that this medicine contains no opiate or harmful drug. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

FASHION NOTES.

Skirts Simple, but Waists Very Elaborate—Leather Bags.

Skirts are made in very simple fashion for the most part. Round gathered styles, with the fronts plain or plaited, are seen on the best dressed girls. They are either quite without garniture or have trimmings of tucks or bands put on like tucks. It is on the bodices that most of the trimming is lavished, and these are generally of the "jumper" styles or suggest this popular model.

Valenciennes lace is again to be worn on summer dresses, but the imitation point laces will be in demand and a host of other imitations as well. Irish lace bids fair to be just as popular as ever and apparently will be used with other laces on summer gowns, but after all the lace field is an unlimited one.

Small hats are much in evidence, and, though their shape is sometimes rakish, their pose is usually conservative.

Hand bags in saffian leather, which is soft and smooth and shining, is one of the season's new offerings, and every kind of vanity bag, motor bag or pocketbook can be made of it. A very stunning bag is a green saffian shaped like a huge envelope. At first glance one has the notion that its powers are limited, but it is equipped with what manufacturers call a "bellows bottom," and being thus endowed the woman who owns one may fill it as full as a small boy's pocket.

Apricot yellow is going to be a leading shade next summer. It is a beautiful color, but should never be put near the face of a woman who has not a clear skin with a high color.

The pretty frock illustrated is of buff chiffon broadcloth and lace. The sleeves and vest are of all over lace over chiffon.

WHAT IS WORN.

Walking Skirts Growing Longer. Plaids and Stripes For Spring.

Much as we regret it, all costumes, even those for street wear, are decidedly longer, and none but the distinctly morning suit clears the ground in the free and easy way we have all—except the short, stout woman—grown to love.

Plaids and stripes in indefinite tones are to be worn for morning frocks during the early spring. In gray these suits are particularly fetching, barred off with a dull shade of yellow.

Elaborate braiding marks a number of costumes among the spring showing. A citron green cloth suit is braided with soutache a tone or two deeper than the material and about two inches wide. This braid is put on in an effective design.

Many of the smartest muslin frocks will depend for their beauty and trimming upon a narrow cluny insertion that joins the seams on skirt and waist.

It is early to predict just what the spring hats will be, but there are some lovely advanced models that give one every confidence in those that are to follow.

The walking suit illustrated combines one of the latest coats with a graceful box plaited skirt. This model is of golden brown cheviot, with collars and cuffs of velvet.

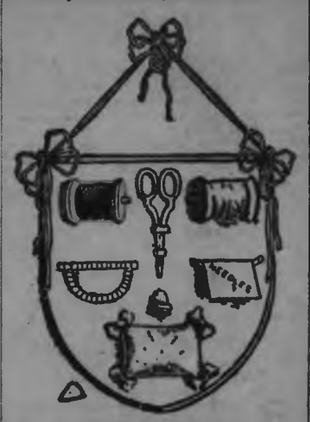
JUDIC CHOLLET.

A PRACTICAL IDEA.

A Wall Workbox For the Bedroom. A Handy Arrangement.

Every woman and mother knows how frequently a stitch is required somewhere, perhaps just at the last moment. As few, too, keep their workbox in the bedroom, there is often a frantic rush for needle and cotton, or else the stitch in time is left undone, to require more than nine later on.

A housewife like that sketched would also be a welcome item in a bedroom, where the proverbial "stitch in time" would often have more chance if needle, cotton and thread were always handy when wanted for the buttons, hooks, tapes and the dozen and one little things that so often want a stitch at the last moment. The manufacture of such an article is very simple. The foundation is composed of thick cardboard, about eight inches long, five and a half inches wide and pointed at the lower end, and an old box will serve for the purpose. The covering for this foundation can be of any material or color you may choose, preferably linen or cotton, as less likely to catch the dust. Both sides must be covered smoothly and the edges oversewed, after which a little silk cord will make a neat finish. The reels of cotton are threaded on a strong cord, which is tied at the back. The scissors are in the center, two bands of elastic being sewed on the foundation to hold them.



TO AID THE STITCH IN TIME.

On the right hand side a little needlebook is fixed, which may be elaborate or quite simple; on the left hand side a little pocket to contain thimble and perhaps a few buttons, etc., while in the center at the bottom is a fairly long pincushion. The housewife is suspended either by a ribbon or a silk cord. Such a housewife would be a real boon to invalids and old maids who pass the greater part of their time in one armchair and to whom fumbling about in a work bag or box for the needles and threads they require is sometimes rather trying.

If intended for this purpose, the idea is capable of being elaborated and extended, as a pocket could be added below to contain the work or knitting and a long narrow pocket for knitting pins or whatever may be the favorite recreation of the one for whom it is Ysleta.

St. Augustine, Fla., founded by the Spaniards in 1564, is generally said to be the oldest European settlement within the present limits of the United States, but some twenty or thirty years earlier Coronado, the Spanish conqueror and explorer, leading an expedition from the City of Mexico northward, had founded some sort of a Spanish colony at the ancient Indian village of Ysleta, in El Paso county, Tex. In the southwest it is therefore claimed that Ysleta is the oldest European settlement in the United States.

Good Answer.

A theological student supposed to be deficient in judgment was asked by a professor in the course of a class examination:

"Pray, Mr. E., how would you discover a fool?"

"By the questions he would ask," was the rather stunning reply.

A WONDERFUL CURE OF RHEUMATISM

THE CAUSE An excess of uric acid and ureates are deposited in the tissues of the body and joints, causing aches and pains which are called rheumatic.

All the various causes of rheumatism, such as the acute, articular, muscular and gout, have the same common cause—Uric Acid.

To effect a satisfactory cure the uric acid must be removed. This can only be done by introducing into the circulation a remedy which will dissolve the uric acid and stimulate the action of the excretory organs.

No Case That Ferrozone Can't Cure

The remarkable success of Ferrozone is due to the fact that it attacks the disease in the blood. It goes right to the root and cause of the trouble.

Ferrozone is a perfect solvent for uric acid and quickly destroys its evil effect. It stimulates and quickens the sluggish circulation and drives every trace of rheumatic poison out of the system.

Rheumatism Can't Last if FERROZONE is Used.

We have conclusive proof of this. The strongest possible endorsements from people who have been cured after all else failed. If you suffer from rheumatism yourself, or in case you have a friend or relative subject to this disease, read the following—they tell their own tale.

LIFE-LONG CRIPPLE CURED

Mr. Louis Noll, 15 Fulton street, New York, N. Y., writes: "Ever since boyhood I have been a sufferer from rheumatism. My joints were twisted and swollen, and the pain at times was really intense. I used gallons of liniments, vapor baths, and other treatments, but was first noticeably relieved by Ferrozone. It cured me perfectly after taking twelve boxes."

Mr. Henry Heer, Pharmacist, 23 Eldridge Ave., New York, vouches for Mr. Noll's absolute cure. He says: "Mr. Noll has been freed from chronic rheumatism by Ferrozone. For years he has not been so well, and today shows no signs of rheumatic trouble. It is a pleasure to recommend Ferrozone."

The BEST remedy for rheumatism that science has produced is Ferrozone—it is unquestionably the only sure and lasting cure. Sold everywhere by druggists. Price 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50—by mail to any address if price is forwarded to N. C. POLSON & CO., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

FERROZONE, THE ONE SURE CURE.

FREE TO YOU—MY SISTER

FREE TO YOU AND EVERY SISTER SUFFERING FROM WOMEN'S AILMENTS.

I am a woman.
I know woman's sufferings.
I have found the cure.
I will mail, free of any charge, my home treatment with full instructions to any sufferer from women's ailments. I want to tell all women about this cure—you, my reader, for yourself, your daughter, your mother, or your sister. I want to tell you how to cure yourselves at home without the help of a doctor. Men cannot understand women's sufferings. What we women know from experience, we know better than any doctor. I know that my home treatment is a safe and sure cure for Leucorrhœa or Whitish discharges, Ulceration, Displacement or Falling of the Womb, Profuse, Scanty or Painful Periods, Uterine or Ovarian Tumors or Growths, also pains in the head; back and bowels, bearing down feelings, nervousness, creeping feeling up the spine, melancholy, desire to cry, hot flashes, weariness, kidney and bladder troubles where caused by weaknesses peculiar to our sex.

I want to send you a complete 10 days' treatment entirely free to prove to you that you can cure yourself at home, easily, quickly and surely. Remember, that it will cost you nothing to give the treatment a complete trial; and if you should wish to continue, it will cost you only about 12 cents a week, or less than two cents a day. It will not interfere with your work or occupation. Just send me your name and address, tell me how you suffer, if you wish, and I will send you the treatment for your case, entirely free, in plain wrapper, by return mail. I will also send you free of cost, my book—"WOMAN'S OWN MEDICAL ADVISER" with explanatory illustrations showing why women suffer, and how they can easily cure themselves at home. Every woman should have it, and learn to think for herself. Then when the doctor says—"You must have an operation," you can decide for yourself. Thousands of women have cured themselves with my home remedy. It cures all, old or young. To Mothers of Daughters, I will explain a simple home treatment which speedily and effectually cures Leucorrhœa, Green Sickness and Painful or Irregular Menstruation in Young Ladies. Plumpness and health always result from its use.

Wherever you live, I can refer you to ladies of your own locality who know and will gladly tell any sufferer that this Home Treatment really cures all woman's diseases and makes women well, strong, plump and robust. Just send me your address, and the free ten days' treatment is yours, also the book. Write to-day, as you may not see this offer again. Address;

On the door of her house at Ealing, Norfolk, being forced by her neighbours, an old lady named Watts, eighty-two years of age, was discovered dead on the floor with a paraffin lamp in her hand. One side of her face and body were burned almost to cinders. She had evidently been dead for some time.

It is now anticipated at the War Office that the final reckoning of the volunteer returns for 1906 will show that the force as a whole increased in members in that year as compared with 1905, when the enrolled strength was 249,611, to which total it had decreased from the 282,476 of 1901, the largest total ever attained.

By the explosion of a kitchen boiler at Ilkeston, near Accrington, in consequence of the frost, six persons in the room, which was wrecked, were badly burned. One of them, a girl aged six, named Birtwistle, died after being rescued from the debris, and another sister is lying in a very critical condition.

At a church soiree in one of the Clydeside burghs the other evening a little child commenced to cry, and the speaker at the moment happened to be the well-known evangelist, John McNeill. "There's another little suffragette," was the Rev. John's remark, and it created roars of laughter.

A disastrous explosion occurred recently at Nobel's Explosive Works, Ardeer. Three men were engaged thawing with warm water a covered gutter in which nitro-glycerine and acids had been frozen, when a terrific explosion took place. The men were killed instantaneously, and two others were injured.

During a thick fog the other day a collision occurred off Gourock between the Clyde Shipping Company's steamer, Portland, outward bound, and Messrs. J. Kennedy & Sons' Welshman, inward. The Portland was struck on the port side near the engine room, and sank quickly. All the crew were taken off with the exception of a fireman who was drowned.

The number of pictures sent in for the exhibition of the Royal Glasgow Institute of the Fine Arts, is the largest in the history of the Institute, about 20000 works having been received. The council has completed its labours, and the hangers are now actively engaged upon their difficult task.

The attention of the Ayr county authorities has been drawn to the condition of the river Garnock, where trout were found in hundreds strewn up and down the river in a dying condition, caused, it is alleged, by the discharge of deleterious matter into the river at a point at or near Kilbidnie.

The old manse of Dr. John Brown, of "Brown's Bible" fame," which still stands in the market place, Haddington, is at present undergoing considerable internal renovation. The doctor's old church, which stands close by, has been transformed into a store for ironmongery and other goods, for this purpose being almost entirely gutted out, although the old stairs leading to what was once the "laft" of the kirk remain in use.

Mr. Andrew Christie, F.E.I.S., the headmaster of Colston Public School, Bishopriggs, has died at his residence, Cambridge Drive, Kelvinside, North, after a brief illness. Mr. Christie was on duty till a fortnight ago, but he was then seized with a severe chill, which developed into pleuro-pneumonia, and the illness terminated fatally as stated. Mr. Christie had been for eighteen years in the service of the Maryhill school board, and was in the early prime of life.

The gold medal annually offered to amateur soloists by the directors of the Abstainers' Union was finally competed for in the Glasgow city hall, the successful soloist being Miss Jeanie Whyte, Dundee. The silver medal was won by Miss Catherine Mentiplay, Edinburgh, who was one point less than the winner. The vocal standard was much higher than formerly and it is interesting to note that the audience by their vote endorsed the decision of the judges in both cases.

The finding of the court-martial on privates of the Inniskilling Dragoons charged with gagging the sentry and taking away horses from the stables at Ballincollig have now been made known. Thompson was sentenced to 112 days' hard labour, and discharged from the service at the end of the term; Lavington, to 112 days' imprisonment, and Duffy, a recruit, to 56 days' imprisonment.

The Queenstown Urban Council has passed a resolution protesting against the homeward American mails being landed at Plymouth instead of Queenstown. The Irish Parliamentary party is called upon to request the various Irish and Irish-American societies in America, and the Irish generally in that country, to take measures to press on the United States Government the great injustice that the change will involve, and to request that the Wednesday mail to Queenstown should be continued.

A remarkable story of boycotting in Ireland comes from the quiet little village of Derrygonnelly, about eight miles from Enniskillen. A year or two ago, Mrs. Burns, a (widow, acquired a small farm in the adjoining mountain district to Roogagh, where she resided with her son. The former tenant had been evicted, and a boycott was immediately commenced of those who had entered upon the lands. The neighbours refused to have anything to do in a friendly way with Mrs. Burns and her son. The unpleasantness continued month after month, until the old woman died a few days ago. Even the presence of death failed to cause the neighbours to relent, and none of them would visit the house. The son, after laying out the corpse, proceeded to the undertaker's, but the latter, fearing the consequences refused to supply a hearse in which to convey the remains to the graveyard. Two other undertakers were likewise timid, and pleaded that their vehicles were all engaged for the day of interment. The young man offered to change the hour, but he was informed that it was more than their business was worth to comply with his request. As a last resort the farmer's donkey and cart were pressed into service, and in it the remains were carried to their resting place. The only persons who attended the funeral were the deceased's son and two friends from a distance.

LATE TREASURER IN FINANCIAL SPHERE

Mr. Alex. Warden, Who Was Treasurer of Presbyterian Church, Will be in Peterborough Next Week.

Mr. Alexander Warden, son of the late Rev. Dr. Warden, who succeeded his father as treasurer of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, has entered into partnership with Mr. B. O. Francis, as financial agent. Mr. Warden is yet quite a young man, and having had the absolute confidence of the General Assembly during his tenure of the office of treasurer of all the funds of the Church, and with an experience in the financial world, augurs well for his success in this new enterprise. The firm are seeking connections with centres throughout the Province, and Mr. Warden intends visiting Peterborough next Tuesday to survey the field.

THIS SILK SKIRT WAS CAUSE OF TROUBLE

And Finally the Judge Ordered Lady to Try it on for His Benefit—Cost $100.

A VERY INTERESTING LAW CASE.

Examining a rich-looking hundred dollar, wine-coloured velvet lady's skirt and coat, with white silk revere was Judge Morson's occupation for many minutes in the Division Court, says the Toronto News. After close and bewildered examination he was quite ready to admit it was quite the most interesting suit, that had come under his eyes for some time. Mrs. Witton, wife of Vice-President Witton, of the Tuckett Tobacco Co., had ordered the costly garment from Stitt & Company, early in November last.

After four fittings which necessitated journeys from Hamilton for Mrs. Witton, the dress was not delivered until January 14. It was sent C.O.D., and was promptly returned because objection was taken to the "C.O.D." part of it. When the dress travelled a second time to Hamilton, Mrs. Witton tried it on, and, according to her testimony, the skirt was too short, it didn't hang properly, the revers were made of cheap taffeta silk, which didn't match the lining, the drop skirt hung below the outer skirt, there was a clumsy pleat in the collar, the pleating was bad, the coat was too tight and bulged up, there was a black streak around the bottom of the skirt, and so many other defects that the bewildered judge ordered the lady to try the wonderful gown on so that he could see for himself the harrowing details.

NUMBER OF CABLES ARE REDUCED

Bell Telephone Linemen Leave in the Morning for Berlin.

The linemen who have been engaged by the Bell Telephone Co. for the past six months, will leave the city in the morning, for Berlin, Ont. While here, they have accomplished considerable work in reconstruction. Before they began their labours there were six arms and nine cables over George street, but now, there is only one arm and three cables.

Mr. R. L. Stratton, who was the clerk for the linemen, also leaves tomorrow morning. Mr. Stratton will be greatly missed in sporting and social circles by a large number of young people in the city.

REGINA

You will make more money by buying lots in Regina City, than by any other source at the present time. It is no gamble, no chance, but an absolutely sure investment. Property will increase at least 100 per cent. in less than two years. Buy now. Prices will be advanced in the spring. Here are a few things that are making Regina grow and making property increase in value:—

REGINA, the wholesale and distributing centre for Saskatchewan and the west. $6,000,000.00 worth of farm machinery sold from Regina last year. Regina is the head-quarters for Saskatchewan of:—

The American-Abell Engine and Thresher Co.
Massey Harris Company.
Frost & Wood Company.
Fairchild Company.
Waterloo Manufacturing Company.
J. I. Case Threshing Machine Company.
Garr-Scott Threshing Machine Company.
The International Harvester Company.
The North-west Thresher Company.
The New Hamburg Manufacturing Company.
Reeves Thresher Company.
Nichols & Shepherd Thresher Company.
Sawyer-Massey Company.
Noline Plow Company.
Canadian Port Huron Company.
Cockshutt Plow Company.

Besides the above there are a number of large eastern wholesale houses located in Regina. At the present time some eighteen more wholesale firms have secured sites in Regina to build on this year.

REGINA, the only railroad centre in Saskatchewan.

Besides the present roads which run north, south, east and west, there will be six more lines built into Regina during the next two years, being the Great Northern from the south, the Canadian Northern from the southeast, the C. P. R. north to Prince Albert, and three G. T. P. roads—one northeast, one east, one southwest.

The following is what Mr. Morse of the G. T. P. said in Regina on Aug. 6, 1906:

The Leader, Aug. 6, 1906.

FRANK MORSE IN REGINA

Mr. Frank W. Morse, Vice-President and General Manager of the G. T. P. Railway, spent a few hours in the city on Saturday morning, and had a short conference with Major McAra and W. G. Pettingel, President of the Board of Trade. Mr. Morse had no new statement to make for publication regarding the plans of the G. T. P. in and around Regina. He repeated what he had said when in Regina on May 16th last that his Company would get into Regina at the earliest possible date, as they realized there was a large business to be done here. He confirmed the statement, which was first published by The Leader, that in addition to a branch line to Regina, from the main line near Yorkton, and from Regina to the International boundary on the south, a branch would be run to Regina from Brandon.

"The construction of branch lines would be carried on simultaneously with the main line," said Mr. Morse.

REGINA leads all cities from Winnipeg to the Coast in building for 1906.

Capital of Saskatchewan ranks fifth among the metropolitan centres of Canada, being surpassed by Winnipeg, Toronto, Montreal and Vancouver. Leads all the Dominion in relative growth. Building permits in 1906:

Regina—$1,982,330.
Edmonton—$1,863,894.
Calgary—$1,109,161.

No other city in Canada shows as high a percentage of growth as Regina. 1907 will beat all records. A large number of expensive buildings are being erected. Among others include:—Four new hotels, at a cost of over half a million; municipal hospital, $100,000; Y. M. C. A. at $100,000; Baptist Church, $50,000; Masonic Temple, at $75,000; Dominion Land Titles Office at $110,000; New Public School at $84,000, and many other business blocks and residences. Chief amongst all buildings will be the new Provincial Parliament Buildings, at a cost of at least $1,500,000.

Facts About Regina City

Regina is the Capital of the Province of Saskatchewan.
Regina is the only commercial centre of Saskatchewan.
Regina is the only railroad and distributing centre in Saskatchewan.
Regina has eight chartered banks and four more coming.
Regina tax rate for 1906 is only 15 mills.
Regina has the finest sewer and waterworks system in the West.
Regina is the only city west of Winnipeg with paved streets.
Regina has a surplus of assets of over a million and a half.
Regina's population has increased over 300 per cent. in three years.

THE CHARLOTTE STREET METHODISTS WANT NEW PLACE OF WORSHIP

Church With Seating Accommodation for 1000 Persons to Replace the Present Structure is the Idea of the Paster.

THE ANNUAL CHURCH TEA

At This Gathering Need for New Church Was Brought Before Congregation--Reports of the Departments Presented.

A new church, with seating accommodation for 1,000 persons is one of the needs of the Charlotte street Methodist church congregation, according to the opinion of the pastor, expressed at the annual congregational meeting held last night in the Sunday school room.

In a short review of the state of the work he pointed out that at the present time there were 350 families represented in the congregation; and if the average attendance of these families was but 1 1-3 persons per service the church would not be large enough to accommodate them. There are enrolled in the Sunday school 570 names, and, these 570 children of the Sunday School have no church—there is not room for them.

His first thought had been that there should be a great revival and that following the revival a new church should be provided, but he had now come to the conclusion that the new church must come first, because even should a revival result in a large increase in the membership of the church there would be no room to accommodate them in the church.

The matter was not discussed further at the meeting last night, but it is possible that it will be taken up later at a meeting of the Trustee Board.

Individual Communion Cups

It is probable, too, that at an early date the practice of using individual communion cups for sacramental service will be adopted by this church. At the meeting last night Mr. A. B. Cunningham, who had been appointed by the Board to look into the matter presented his report and explained to the members of the congregation some facts in connection with the use of the individual cups, pointing out the fact that while it was only a few years since they were first introduced at the present time about 200 churches in Canada were using them, and the number was growing all the time. Three churches in Peterborough were using them, and, in conversation with members of some of these churches he had learned that their use was most satisfactory, and that the members would not think of reverting to the old system.

Reports Indicate Progress

The reports of the different departments of the church, as presented at the meeting last night showed a healthy state of affirs, at least from a numerical and financial standpoint, the features with which the reports dealt. Nearly all the organizations of the church reported having closed the year with credit balances, while all bore evidences unmistakable of the generosity, which is a proverbial characteristic of this congregation.

Interspersed with the presentation of the reports were musical selections by Miss Bellegham and Miss Olive Howell, while little Miss Greta LeBar delighted the gathering with three recitations.

The Joint Boards

Mr. R. J. Bild gave the report of the Trustee and Quarterly Boards, explaining some of the items in the statements of receipts and expenditures which have already been given readers of this paper. Mrs. J. K. Moore read an encouraging report from the Women's Missionary Society, and also gave a statement of the finances of the society.

For the Young Men

The report of the Young Men's Guild was presented by Mr. I. D. Moore, their president, who gave a brief outline of the work the Guild is endeavouring to do, and supplemented it by a financial report.

Mission Band

The "Olive" Mission Band, one of the enterprising of the younger organizations of the church, reported through Miss Elliott a successful year the receipts having been $105, and there was a balance in the bank at the close of the year of over $45.

Growth of the Sunday School

Dr. Morrison, who represented the Sunday School had a rosy report to present. He pointed out that when he first came to the Sunday School, fifteen years ago the attendance was about one hundred and fifty, and two or three years ago if they had 300 present on a Sunday afternoon they were pleased. At the present time, however, no such small numbers satisfied them. The members on the roll number 570 and the average attendance for last year was 365, while a few weeks ago the high water mark of attendance was reached when 409 were present. He gave a report of the financial aspect of the school, pointing out that while the improvements recently effected to

"MARRIED MEN ARE WORSE THAN SINGLE;" BISHOP OF LONDON

London, March 2. — "Taking them all around, married men are much loosar in their morals than single men." This affirmation by the Bishop of London quite startled his hearers at a meeting of the council for Promoting Public Morality. Those present were pleased, however, to learn on the Bishop's authority that London is becoming more moral, thanks to the efforts of the police. There is still, however, much to be done. The Bishop said he would never rest content until the open sale in shops of things to make sin easy, was suppressed.

ANNUAL REPORT OF GEORGE STREET CHURCH

The Figures Just Published Indicate That the Affairs of the Church Are Flourishing.

SURPLUS OF ASSETS OVER LIABILITIES

The annual report of the George Street Methodist Church for the past year has just been issued. The addition to he membership during the year was eighty-one, forty-two by letter and thirty-nine by profession of faith, seventeen were removed by death and fifty-five by letter. A number of names have been dropped, as they have been removed by letter. The present membership stands at 401 families; members 638.

The report of the Sunday School shows the average attendance of pupils during 1906 to be 329; of officers and teachers 38, total average 367, total membership of school on roll 925.

The receipts for the year were $642.30 and there is a balance on hand of $142.95.

The Grace Church Sunday School report shows that the average attendance of officers and teachers was seventy-one and the total membership eighty-nine. The receipts were $100.95 and there is a balance on hand of $25..6.

The Epworth League report gives the active membership as forty-nine and the associate membership as thirty-eight. Total membership eighty-seven. The receipts were $160.70 and there is a balance on hand of $3.14.

The report of the Ladies' Aid Society shows receipts of $298.56, with a balance on hand of $87.94.

The Women's Missionary Society report shows receipts of $313.10 and the payments consist of $9.35, as expense of board meeting and $303.75 paid to Mission Board.

The George Street Mission Band has a membership of fifty; average attendance twenty-five. The receipts were $120.30 and the expenditure $110, leaving a balance on hand of $10.30.

The George Street Men's Club was organized in November last with a good membership club and reading rooms have been fitted up at No. 426 George street.

The rooms are open every evening to club members and their friends.

The choir report, with W. E. McCann organist and choir leader, shows a membership of forty-five and effective work has been done in connection with the musical services of the church.

The report of the Treasurer, Mr. Felix Brownscombe, shows total receipts of $7,096.63, made up of envelope collections of $4,848.39, loose plate collections $758.44 and other sources of revenue making up the total of $7,096.63. There was a balance on hand of Trustee Board $606.11, Quarterly Board $193.16, bringing the grand total to $7,956.90.

The payments amounted to $7,905.96, leaving a balance on hand of $50.94. The average Sunday collection was $100.26, made up of average envelope collection of $84.42 and loose collection of $15.84.

The total amount of money raised during the year for all purposes was $8,396.31.

The subscription in aid of missions was $1,141.42.

The statement of assets and liabilities shows the former to be $70,000, the George Stree Church being valued at $61,000, Grace Church at $3,000 and the parsonage at $6,000. The liabilities on the church are $11,000, leaving a surplus of assets over liabilities of $59,000.

The Shortage Of Cars Causes Inconvenience

Local Manufacturing Establishments Suffer From Inability of Railways to Provide Cars for Shipment.

REMEDY IS LOOKED FOR.

The shortage of railway cars is causing considerable loss and inconvenience to local manufacturing establishments, according to the information furnished the Examiner. One case was brought to the attention of this paper to-day, where a milling firm handling flour was totally unable to secure sufficient cars to meet the demands of its trade.

Frequently, when three or four cars a day were required to fill orders for flour the best the railway people can do is to supply one car.

The same conditions prevail in connection with the supply of wheat. Mills have to run on short time, or suspend operations altogether for a time, pending the arrival of raw material, and the same explanation is made by those who supply the wheat as the flour mill men have to make to their customers—inability to secure enough cars.

There is no particular blame attached to the railways. They are no doubt doing the best they can to furnish the cars—it is to their advantage to do so, of course—but the growth of traffic in all parts of the Dominion has been so rapid that it is said to be utterly impossible for the car shops in existence at the present time to turn out enough cars to meet the demand of the railways.

With the establishment of new car works in different parts of the Dominion, it is expected that in the near future the shortage of cars will be overcome.

LATE MISSIONARY TO PREACH SERMONS

Rev. Dr. Norman, Former Missionary to Japan, Will be at Charlotte Street Church To-morrow.

To-morrow at both services in the Charlotte street Methodist church, sermons in the interests of the missionary funds of the church, will be preached by Rev. Mr. Norman, late missionary to Japan. Collections will be taken in aid of the missionary enterprises of the church and on Monday night a rally will be held under the auspices of the Epworth League, at which Mr. Norman will give an illustrated address.

Boy's Rib Was Broken In A Runaway Accident

Painful Injuries Received by Jimmy Grady, Son of Mr. John Grady, the Baker--Horse Ran Away, Upsetting the Delivery Sleigh on Him.

ICY HILL CAUSE OF ACCIDENT

As a result of a runaway accident in Otonabee yesterday evening about 7 o'clock, Jimmy Grady, a young son of Mr. John Grady, the Park street baker, now lies ill with a broken rib and other internal injuries. The boy was delivering bread in Otonabee and was just returning to the city across the river at the end of the Street Railway line.

While driving down an icy hill in front of Mr. Jas. McMartin's residence, the horse slipped and tumbled on the road. The king-bolt worked its way out of the whiffletree and the animal, which by this time was badly frightened, ran away, upsetting the heavy delivery sleigh on top of the boy.

Mrs. McMartin who had heard the noise came quickly to the rescue. At first she could see no sign of the driver and went out to examine the sleigh. On lifting it up young Grady was just able to crawl out from underneath. He was taken into Mrs. McMartin's residence where he suffered severe pain. His father was sent for, and the boy was taken to his home. A doctor was summoned when it was discovered that one rib was broken and that he had received other injuries about the body.

This morning he was resting more easily but still suffered a good deal of pain.

EGGS TOOK ONE FALL TO-DAY

A Lady From Keene, With Eggs for the Market, Fell With Her Basket and the Eggs Were—Scrambled.

Ovary eggs asperating accident happened to a lady from Keene this morning, who had come to Peterborough to dispose of the week's products of the farm. Daily had she gathered those little oval valuables which the precious hens had layed in the many nooks and crannies of the old barn. The reuglar cackling that was heard in the yard throughout the day was pleasant music to her ears.

Thus, with the week's store of eggs and butter, she arrived in the city to-day with a rather frail basket, weighing altogether about 40 pounds, and a satchel, filled with eggs. She undertook to carry this load to the market.

Far better would it have resulted for her! In crossing the slippery road at the corner of Bethune and Charlotte streets, she fell between the tracks of the street car line, and, alas! what a crashing sound was heard. Many dozens of fine, fresh eggs, which were worth, at least, 30 cents per dozen, were transformed into a worthless mixture of shells, cloth and scrambled eggs. The basket was leaking with the gelatinous mixture, and the satchel likewise. Her dress came in contact with some of it, and what she finally did with it is a mystery, as this was all that eye-witnesses of the fall could see.

Eddie Durnan Was Defeated In Race For The World's Sculling Championship

A special despatch to Messrs. J. R. Heintz & Co., this morning stated that Towns had defeated Eddie Durnan of Toronto, in the race for the world's sculling championship, on the Nepean River course, in Australia, last night.

The Canadian was beaten by a length and in face of the odds which were against him in the contest, he is considered to have done remarkably well. Few persons in Canada really believed that the Toronto boy would come back a winner, though, of course, it would have been welcome news had he defeated Towns, whom Canadians have not forgiven for his defeat of Jake Gaudaur, in Rat Portage, in 1901.

ART UNION OF LONDON; ITS OBJECTS

And Scope—Mr. W. E. Lech is Honorary Local Secretary.

The Art Union of London is, for stability and reliability, in the class of the Bank of England. It was established in 1837, and, afterwards, incorporated by royal charter, for the advancement of the fine arts. Each subscriber of one guinea ($5) or upwards becomes a member. Membership gives a chance in the allotment of prizes—noted pictures—and also the right to the selection of one of the annual engravings or other works brought out by the society. The first prize in the annual drawing this year will be the framed original oil painting by W. R. Symonds, R. A., 36 x 43 inches, and valued at 200 guineas, or $1,000. Every subscriber will be entitled, in addition to the one chance for what may be called the capital prize, to an impression, 21 3-4 x 18, on India paper of this charming engraving, which is on view at W. Lech & Sons, George street, or to a selection from the many fine engravings or etchings, issued by the Society. Former Peterborough subscribers can testify to the high artistic character of the works issued by the Art Union. Mr. W. E. Lech, 416 Rubidge street, is Honorary Local Secretary.

SON FOLLOWS FATHER

Rev. E. A. Pearson, B.A., of Toronto, Accepts Call to Become Pastor of George Street Methodist Church Next July.

HE IS THE SON OF A FORMER PASTOR LOCATED HERE.

The next pastor of the George street Methodist church will be Rev. E. A. Pearson, B.A.

To-day a telegram was received from Mr. Pearson, accepting the invitation to become the pastor of this church, after the meeting of Conference next June, when the invitations will be considered by that body, and, if ratification is given, which is usually a mere formality, in cases of this kind, he will move to Peterborough in June.

At the last meeting of the Official Board, an unanimous invitation was directed to be sent to Mr. Pearson, the present pastor concurring, and that a favourable respons has been forthcoming is a matter for gratification on the part of the congregation.

Rev. Mr. Pearson is at present pastor of the Centennial Methodist church, Toronto, a new structure built for him to enter three years ago, and the congregation does not want him to leave until the four years are up, but the call to Peterborough was so strong, and the field for work so attractive, that he decided to accept it.

The new pastor is an old resident of Peterborough, too, and this fact may have had an effect in influencing him in his decision. He is a son of Rev. Marmaduke Pearson, who eighteen years ago was pastor of the George street church, so that the son, in this respect, is following in the footsteps of his father.

He is thirty-eight years of age, and at the time of his residence here was very highly thought of by the young people, with whom he associated.

The matter of his transfer from the Toronto Conference to the Bay of Quinte Conference will come up before the Transfer Committee in a short time, and no trouble is anticipated in securing the necessary transfer.

Rev. Dr. Crothers, the pastor of the church, will have been here for three years, next June, coming here from the Bridge street Methodist church. It is understood that he has not yet accepted an invitation for his next pastorate.

PETERBOROUGH LADY IN C. P. R. ACCIDENT

Mrs. Holt, Daughter of Mr. Guerin, on Fatal Train en Route for Quebec.

Among the passengers on the wrecked C. P. R. train at Mountain, yesterday morning, was a Peterborough lady, who was on her way to Quebec. She was Mrs. Holt of Bolivar street, and a daughter of Mr. Tenece Guerin.

Mrs. Holt was going to Quebec, to which place the family are moving. She left Peterborough on the train that was wrecked, causing the death of two expressmen, and has not since been heard from. Her relatives here, however, are assured that she was not injured, and understand that she has continued on her journey.

CAVENDISH CO. BUILD NEW ALIGATOR

Will be Utilized on Northern Waters to Bring Down Season's Cut.

The Cavendish Lumber Company is having built a splendid new alligator this winter. The work is being superintended by Mr. Robt. Kennedy, of Bobcaygeon. The building operations are being conducted at Bottle Creek on Ketchecum Lake in Cavendish township.

The alligator will be finished in about three weeks and will be utilized by the company to bring down their logs in the spring. The cost of building will be in the neighbourhood of $2,000.

MR. FRED. DARCY AGENT FOR AUTOMOBILE CO.

Intends to Dispose of His Present Business to Enter Upon New Duties.

Mr. Fred E. Darcy has taken over the agency for Peterborough county of the Olds Automobile Company. This Company manufactures autos at St. Catharines, Ont., and at Lansing, Mich., and is a company well known. Mr. Darcy is making arrangements to have a new car on exhibition in Mr. Murphy's implement office, Water street. The agency will be known as the Peterborough Automobile Agency.

The agent intends to dispose of his present business in the near future and to devote his whole time to the sale of the Olds Autos. He is a machinist by trade and should therefore be a capable man to accept such a position.

SMITH STREET YOUTHS THROW SNOWBALLS

At Passing Drivers—The Police Warn Them That They Must Discontinue This at Once.

This afternoon a gentlemen living on Water street, north, called at the police station and complained that a gang of boys at the corner of Smith and Water streets had snowballed him this morning. One of the icy missiles struck him in the ear and and others about the head. The police certainly intend to "get after" the culprits if any further complaints are registered against them.

PRESENTATION TO MR. E. B. FOWLER

On His Departure From Secretaryship of the Local Cordage Co. by Members of the Office Staff.

The office staff of the Canadian Cordage Co. did not allow Mr. E. B. Fowler to sever his connection with the company without expressing their esteem for him and their regret at his departure, in a tangible form. Prior to his removal from their midst the office employees gathered recently to wish Mr. Fowler the best of success in his new venture, and also to say farewell on his withdrawal to a new field of work. The best of good wishes were extended to him by the individual members of the office staff, and friendliness and goodwill were very evident. Remarks were made, eulogising Mr. Fowler as a man possessing the most desirable qualities for an office. Not only kind to everyone and generous in all his doings, but also an experienced and first-class business man were some of the words of praise that were said of Mr. Fowler. Although regretting his departure to another branch of the business, the different speakers extended to him their most hearty wishes of success in his new venture. Mr. Adam Hall, on behalf of the office, presented Mr. Fowler with a splendid gentleman's travelling companion and an illuminated address.

The recipient, Mrs. Fowler, made a suitable reply, expressing his gratitude for the kindness which had been bestowed upon him, and said that he would long remember the pleasant hours spent with the staff of the Canadian Cordage Co.

THE COMPLETION OF TRENT CANAL

Mayor Doxsee Discussed Matter With Local Mayor Yesterday.

Mayor Doxsee of Campbellford, was in the city yesterday and took advantage of the opportunity to call upon Mayor McWilliams to discuss the completion of the Trent Canal. Mr. Doxsee suggested that Peterborough, in co-operation with the other municipalities along the route of the canal, should take steps to urge upon the Government the necessity and the advisability of placing in the estimates this year, a large sum to go towards the completion of the canal. The Peterborough council will take up the matter at the regular meeting on Monday night.

A STRENUOUS FIGHT

The Manitoba general elections are on, and the fight is a bitter one, every seat in the Province having two party candidates, and Winnipeg West, three—two straight party, and one Labour. Though backed by a strong following in the last House, the Roblin Government is literally fighting for its life, and if the Liberals do not win they will give the Conservative Government a terrible scare. The Government has, by its course, forfeited a large share of the public confidence with which it entered office. The temperance party almost universally condemns its course. Its subservience to the Canadian Northern Railway has added to its unpopularity. By virtue of the Provincial guarantee of a loan of twenty millions of dollars, the Province has the right of absolute control over the railway. The sufferings the people have had to bear this severe winter by inefficient railway service, and the failure of the Government to compel the railway to give relief have developed much exasperation. The crooked course of Mr. Premier Roblin on the question of the extension of the boundaries of the Province is another offence to the electors. He seeks support by the assertion that to his Government alone can the Province look for their territorial rights, falsely stating that the Dominion Government is hostile to Manitoba's right to enlargement of boundary. Then the "graft" practised in lands on behalf of the Premier himself is another indictment. The opening meeting of the election campaign at Crandall developed a seriously grave scandal, implicating the Roblin candidate for Gladstone, Wm. Ferguson. He was informed by his opponent, Mr. M. B. Jackson, that, at the latter's meeting on February 28, he would be charged with an offence affecting his honour as a public man, and that he would be allowed ample opportunity to present a defence. But though he had no other engagement, the Roblin candidate was not at the meeting. The charge is that Mr. Ferguson, in 1903, when he was a member of the House, made thousands of dollars out of Provincial lands, in which he had not a dollar of personal financial interest. The land in question, 17,000 acres, which, the records of the Department incorrectly state, were conveyed direct from the Crown to the Union Bank, were, in reality, passed to Ferguson, the sitting member, for a nominal consideration, and were, by him, as documents show, conveyed to the bank. The deal was worked by the help of one, Vokes, Chief Clerk of the Provincial Lands Department. Mr. Premier Roblin is also confronted with a charge of clearing up $20,000 of easy money on a secret deal. We go back to the evidence presented by Mr. Whitla before the Insurance Commission, where, quite incidentally, the secret transaction was brought into the light. Amongst the blocks of Canadian Northern lands bought by the Union Trust Company, was one of some 10,000 acres in the Swan River country, purchased from Mr. Whitla. These lands were bought from the Canadian Northern for "one, Gordon, and Premier Roblin, in equal shares," as Mr. Whitla told under oath, at $3.10 per acre. Afterwards, "one, Gordon," sold his share to Mr. Roblin, for whom the whole block was held by Mr. Whitla. It was sold by Mr. Whitla for Mr. Roblin to the Union Trust Company for $5.25 per acre, allowing a commission of 25 cents per acre, or $2,500, to Hon. G. E. Foster, the manager of the Trust Company. Mr. Roblin knew he was doing wrong—making wrong use of his official position, for to hid his deal through Whitla, and would have kept it hid to this day, but for Whitla telling the whole truth before the Insurance Commission. While selling, by a sort of focus pocus, his land for $5.25 an acre, land over which he was trustee for the Province, he turned over 256,000 acres of a similar quality of land to the Canadian Northern for only $1.56 per acre. Mr. Roblin will be kept busy explaining this, the Ferguson and other deals, between now and the 7th of March. No wonder Mr. Roblin "sprung the elections" and left so little time for discussion and explanation.

THE HISTORIAL SOCIETY

The other night an Astronomical Society was organized in Peterborough. There is nothing objectionable to such a society which is in every way commendable, but there was no necessity to go off the face of the earth in search of commendable objects for society activity. The Peterborough City and County Historical Society is as dead as the moon, and the new Astronomical Society might begin practice by studying that burned-out luminary which at one time shown so brightly and gave so much useful light—the Historical Society. This body has not met for about two years; it has itself passed into history and has itself became an object of historical research. Are there not enough public-spirited citizens in Peterborough, who, for the sake of the great good the society has done, for the sake of the good it can do, will take steps to revive it? The benefits of the active existence of the Historical Society are too well known to require indication. The reproach of its lapse should be removed and the scoff of the scoffers silenced, who say, of the society, "perhaps it is pursuing, or it is on a journey or gre-adventure it sleepeth and must be awaked."

WAS HARRY THAW CRAZY?

Jerome Likely to Apply For a Commission in Lunacy.

New York, March 2.—Now that Evelyn Nesbit Thaw no longer is on the stand, the prisoner is attracting more and more attention. He issued no additional statements yesterday, but, just before the close of the morning session, he caused almost as great a sensation as yesterday, when he attacked the "unprofessional" methods of the district attorney. Through his counsel, Thaw asked permission to leave the room. Dr. Evans at the time was examining an exhibit and the request was granted.

When he reached the prisoners' pen Thaw threw off his hat, brought his heels together and began violently to go through a five minute drill in setting up exercises. His guard looked on in amazement.

When he had finished swinging his arms Thaw announced he was ready to return to the court room. He declared he "felt" he had been compelled to take the exercise.

Mr. Jerome during the luncheon hour was minutely informed of the defendant's conduct and made notes upon it.

His Mail Growing Daily.

Thaw again brought to court several large packages of letters. His mail seems daily to be growing. He read the letters with activity and made pencil notes upon each. He apparently took no interest whatsoever in the fencing between the district attorney and the alienist.

The insanity of odolescence, parania and the characteristics of "brainstorms" occupied both session, and, when adjournment was taken until Monday morning Dr. Britton D. Evans one of the alienists for the defence, was still under cross-examination.

Jerome's motives in questioning the witness were somewhat baffling, but the net results of the day appears to be that he is still laying a foundation upon which he may ask for a commission in lunacy to judge of the present mental condition of the defendant.

Jerome to Use Statements.

What effect will the statement issued by Harry K. Thaw yesterday afternoon have on his trial?

This is the question which is calling forth much speculation. It is said that Thaw's lawyers did their best to convince him that it was bad policy to issue the statement and only consented when he insisted that he be allowed to do so.

It is reported Jerome will seek to put this statement in evidence to show Thaw is still insane.

SIMCOE LIBERALS FEAST.

Officers of Eastern Half of North Centre Riding Meet.

Barrie, March 2.—The officers of the eastern half of the north centre riding of Simcoe met here last evening. R. Graham, president of the Centre Simcoe Liberal Association, presided. Jas. Martin, president of the Sunnidale Association, was present. Mr. McCarthy acknowledged he was in the Liberal camp yesterday. Organization steps were taken after the gathering.

In the evening Mr. McCarthy tendered a complimentary banquet to the officers and delegates in the Queen's Hotel. There were 150 guests, including R. H. Graham, Opposition leader in the Legislature; J. B. Tudhope, M.P.P.; R. D. Dunn, K.C., Orillia, and P. Paton, Collingwood.

Edmonton, Alta., March 2.—Attorney-General Cross announces that Alberta will rigidly enforce the Lord's Day Act.

Russians Evacuate City.

Tsitskhar, Manchuria, March 2—The Russian troops evacuated Tsitskhar yesterday. They have garrisoned the place since 1900. The leave-taking between the troops and the Chinese officials and people was most cordial. Tsitskhar will be occupied by Chinese. A recent despatch said the Chinese Government was moving 4,000 troops under Gen. Ma through Mongolia to Tsitskhar.

Bandits Give Trouble.

St. Petersburg, March 2.—The fighting between Chinese bandits and Russian troops at a point 20 miles north of Harbin, which resulted in the sending of Russian reinforcements to the scene, has occasioned increasing apprehension here, as the Russian troops in that section have been reduced to numbers of bare necessity and would not be able to cope with a large outbreak.

The Foreign Office is not willing to give an opinion as to what steps will be necessary until it will be better informed as to the nature of the hostile forces arrayed against the Russians.

Assault On Raisuli.

Tangier, March 2.—Kaid Mehalla, the representative of the Minister of War, completed arrangements to attack the Ben-Iarous tribe, which is sheltering Raisuli, and made a final assault on the fortified place yesterday.

Dock Laborers Strike.

Corunna, Spain, March 2.—A general strike of dock laborers and others has been declared here, with the result that all the ships in port are tied up.

A PRESENTATION AT SPRINGVILLE

Mr. Lealand Bowles Honoured by His Friends on Leaving for West.

A number of the members of the Springville Sunday school gathered at the residence of Mrs. Bowles to say farewell to her son Lealand, who is about to leave for the west. A very pleasant time was spent, and the following programme was greatly enjoyed:

Recitation, Humble Bidgood.
Instrumental, Jennie Cathcart.
Mouth organ solo, Geo. Reynolds.
Solo, Nellie Lang.
Vocal duet, Misses Cathcart.

During the evening Mr. Bowles was presented with a very handsome Persian lamb cap, the presentation being made on behalf of the class, by Mr. Harold Cathcart, while an eulogistic address was read by Mrs. T. Goodfellow.

Refreshments were served and a delightful evening was spent.

THEY ARE THE BEST

THE BEST FRIENDS OF PE-RU-NA ARE THE MOTHERS AND CHILDREN

Pe-ru-na Should Be Kept In Every Household

Where There Are Little Children.

Peruna should be kept in the house all the time. Don't wait until the child is sick, then send to a drug store. But, have Peruna on hand—accept no substitute.

Children are especially liable to acute catarrh. Indeed, most of the affections of childhood are catarrh.

All forms of sore throat, quinsy, croup, hoarseness, laryngitis, etc., are but different phases of catarrh.

Pe-ru-na Contains No Narcotics.

One reason why Peruna has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotic of any kind. Peruna, if taken according to printed directions, is perfectly harmless. It can be used any length of time without acquiring a drug habit. It does not produce temporary results, but it is permanent in its effect.

It has no bad effect upon the system, and gradually eliminates catarrh by removing the cause of catarrh.

Mrs. F. Brockman, 819 Meade street, Appleton, Wis., writes:

"I have never had a return of the catarrh, which had made me so miserable and unhappy before I began taking Peruna.

"I would not be without it in the house, now.

"I have a baby boy, two years old, to whom I give Peruna for a cold, and my husband also takes Peruna.

"I thank you and wish you well."—Mrs. F. Brockman.

No Doctor Required.

Mr. Edward Otto, 927 De Soto street, St. Paul, Minn., writes:

"I cannot say enough for Peruna. It has done great work in my family, especially for my oldest boy. We had doctored with three or four different doctors and they did not seem to do him any good.

"We gave up hopes of cure, and so did they, but we pulled him through on Peruna.

"We had several doctors and they said they could do no more for him, so we tried Peruna as a last resort, and that did the work. Since then we keep it in the house all the time, and no doctor is required."—Edward Otto.

There are a multitude of homes where Peruna has been used off and on for twenty years.

Such a thing could not be possible if Peruna contained any narcotics.

The Benefit Which the Children of the United States Have Received From Pe-ru-na Can Never Be Put Into Words.

The chronic ailments it has prevented, the suffering it has mitigated, will never be fully recorded.

But at least this much can be said that the coming generation owes a great debt to Peruna, for it is in the tender years of youth that slight ailments are liable to develop into lasting disease, thus blasting the whole career of the individual.

The mothers who are bringing up their children to-day to believe in Peruna are speaking from their experience.

These children brought up to believe in Peruna from the start, will, when they become heads of families themselves, use Peruna with unquestioning faith.

A Child's Life Saved.

Mr. G. H. Farmer, New Martinsville, W. Va., writes:

"Our little son, Harry, is well and healthy now and we think if we do as you directed us, he will keep his health and grow strong.

"We know that our little son's life was saved by your wonderful medicine, Peruna, and we shall always praise Peruna and use it in our family when needed.

"Should we have any more catarrhal trouble in our family, we shall always write to you for treatment."

—G. H. Farmer.

Medical Advice.

For free medical advice, address Dr. S. B. Hartman, President of the Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

All correspondence held strictly confidential.

Mrs. J. C. Sterling, 169 Brown Avenue, Norfolk, Va., writes:

"My little boy, Meredith, suffered with indigestion so badly he could not eat anything without it making him very sick, so I thought (as many others have) that I would try Peruna, and it worked like a charm.

"Now he eats anything he wishes, and I would not be without it for anything.

"My other little boy, Alfred, two and a half years old, has taken it and received as much benefit from Peruna as his brother.

"I hope my testimonial may be of some benefit to others, as I feel as though I cannot praise it enough."—Mrs. J. C. Sterling.

Mr Howard Andrew Sterner, Muddy Creek, Pa., writes:

"I have Peruna in my house all the time and won't be without it. It is good for children when they take a cold or croup. It cured my baby boy of croup.

"I have introduced Peruna into six families since I received your last letter, and four have seen relief already."

—Howard Andrew Sterner.

Pe-ru-na Protects the Entire Household.

As soon as the value of Peruna is appreciated by every household, both as a preventive and cure, tens of thousands of lives will be saved, and hundreds of thousands of chronic, lingering cases of catarrh will be prevented.

When Sickness Comes to the Little Ones

It Is the Mother Who Chiefly Suffers.

She suffers even more than the child who happens to be sick.

Her sympathy is deeper than that of any other member of the family.

The mother looks forward with dread to the torrid heat of summer, thinking of her children and the many liabilities to disease that are before them.

Spring and summer are sure to bring ailments, especially among the little folks.

It does not take a mother very long to discover that Peruna is the best friend she has in time of illness among the children.

A Multitude of Mothers

Have discovered that Peruna is their stand-by, and that in many of the ailments of spring and summer to which the children are subjected, Peruna is the remedy that will generally quickly relieve.

Whether it is spring fever or stomach derangement, whether it is indigestion or bowel disease, a catarrhal congestion of the mucous surfaces is the cause.

Peruna quickly relieves this condition of the mucous membranes. Its operation is prompt, the children do not dislike to take the medicine, it has no deleterious effects in any part of the body.

It simply removes the cause of the disagreeable symptoms and restores the health.

Every mother who has not tried Peruna in her family should familiarise herself with Dr. Hartman's booklet, The Ills of Life. This booklet should be in every family. It gives most valuable advice as to the use of Peruna for the various catarrhal diseases so general to-day.

Peruna is a household remedy for all catarrhal ailments of winter and summer, acute or chronic.

The mothers all over the United States are the best friends that Peruna has.

The Mothers Hold Pe-ru-na in High Esteem,

Not only because it has cured them of their various ailments, but because it promptly rescues the children from the throes and grasp of catarrhal diseases.

We have in our files many testimonials from mothers whose children have been cured by Peruna. However, the large majority of mothers who use Peruna, we never hear from.

But we do hear from a great number of mothers who are so overjoyed at some special good they have received from Peruna that they cannot restrain their enthusiasm. They are anxious to share these benefits with other mothers.

TIDES OF THE OCEAN.

Regularity of the Flow and Ebb of the Restless Waters.

Of all the operations of nature in the whole world there are none more regular in their course than the tides of the ocean. So perfect is their action and so constant are they in their ebb and flow that the big maritime governments are able to figure out the height of each and every tide for every day and night more than a year in advance for any part of the earth's surface.

In most places the tides run about four to the twenty-four hours, two being flood, when the water sweeps in from the sea and makes what is known as high water, and two being ebb, when it sweeps back to the ocean, leaving low water.

Each of these tides lasts about six hours—that is, for five hours or more the waters are on the move, rushing in or out, and they cease for a time, standing quite still in some places.

Sometimes a tide will run flood on the surface while it is running ebb below near the bottom. Places where this happens are always likely to make danger spots for the mariner.

In the majority of places the tides rise and fall only a few feet, but on shores where the banks are very steep, falling off abruptly into deep water, it often happens that the tide when it rises comes in so fast that it pours through all narrow openings in cascade-like torrents, making such things as the famous "bores" which may be seen in places like the bay of Fundy.

In other places, again, there will be more or less than four tides in the twenty-four hours. Furthermore, there are localities where hardly any tidal action at all can be observed. All these peculiarities have been studied and are taken into account nowadays by the observers who make up the tidal tables.

MAN AND HIS HAT.

They Are Firmly Bound Together by the Red Tape of Society.

There are things, it is a comfort to know, which even a man cannot do, and a man is supposed to be able to do almost anything. Now, a novelist may put his heroine's hat on her head at any angle he chooses—it is one of the few privileges of womanhood—and leave her not a bit less charming or dignified, but I defy him to put his hero's hat at a rowdy angle over his ear at a crucial point in his career and leave him still heroic! The Achilles heel of a man is his hat! He must guard that as he does his reputation, for it is at once his strength and his weakness.

It would hurt an archbishop—and an archbishop necessarily stands for all that is good and great—less in the eyes of the public to commit a crime than to wear his hat on the back of his sacred head—real back—and so exhibit himself to his distressed diocese. He may have all the known virtues and many that are not known, but, even, an archbishop cannot with impunity defy convention. Still, if he is so inclined, why should not a good and great man wear his hat over his nose without creating unfavorable comment? The fact is he cannot. He is ruled by convention, and convention is the red tape of society.

The cast iron laws of fashion, which is only another name for convention, are such that if the greatest man in England were to walk with all his accustomed dignity from the Marble arch to the bank with a trailing peacock's feather attached to the band of his immaculate silk hat he would be followed by a mob in two seconds, and by the time he reached Vere street the outraged majesty of the law would take him into custody as a suspicious character.—Mrs. John Lane in Putnam's Monthly.

Happens Once Every 2,500,000 Years.

A remarkable freak in moon phases was noted in the month of February, 1866, a month which has gone into astronomical annals as "the month without a full moon." In that year January and March each had two full moons, but February none. A writer in a leading astronomical journal uses the following language in describing it: "Do you realize what a rare thing in nature it was? It has not happened before since the beginning of the Christian era, or probably since the creation of the world! It will not occur again, according to the computations of the astronomer royal of England, for—how long do you think? Not until after 2,500,000 years from 1866!"

Domestic Weather Prophets.

Probably everybody knows that there are hygroscopic plants which indicate more or less clearly the quantity of moisture in the atmosphere. A strip of seaweed hung in an exposed position frequently does duty as a popular and easily comprehended weather glass, although it may be doubted whether its predictions are of much value. More reliance can be placed in the behavior of a pine twig, which may very readily be pressed into service as a domestic weather prophet.

Don't Grow Stale!

Many a man bewails his lack of success in life after he has permitted himself to get into a rut. While dreaming of success he has been as blind as a bat and slower than two snails. He blocked his own way.—Manchester Union.

Dig From a Friend.

"How old is your husband, dear?"

"Forty. There's ten years' difference between us."

"You surprise me! I should never have thought you fifty years old."—Figaro.

It is seldom that punishment, though lame of foot, has failed to overtake a villain.—Horace.

Digestible Food.

One of the biggest mistakes about food which people make is to forget that the true value of food to anybody is the measure of its digestibility. Half a pound of cheese is vastly more nourishing as regards its mere composition than half a pound of beef, but while the beef will be easily digested and thus be of vast service to us the cheese is put out of court altogether for ordinary folks by reason of its indigestibility. We should bear this rule in mind when we hear people comparing one food with another in respect to their chemical value.—London Hospital.

Doctors Tried for 8 Years to Cure Me

BUT I AM WELL NOW AND BELIEVE I OWE MY LIFE TO

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

There is a remarkable cure described in this letter which should prove of vital interest to anyone suffering from derangement of the kidneys.

Mrs. Dave W. McCall, Lombardy, Leeds Co., Ont., writes: I desire to acknowledge the benefits I have received from Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I was troubled with kidney disease for eight years and doctored with several doctors to no avail until my husband got me Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and I began using them. Altogether I used ten boxes, and can truthfully say I would have been dead long ago only for Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Words cannot express my praise for them, for I believe there is no medicine so good for kidney and liver disorders."

In the treatment of Bright's disease or inflammation of the kidneys, the first consideration is rest for those filtering organs and this can only be obtained by quickening the action of the liver and bowels.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills succeed where mere kidney medicines fail because they act promptly and directly on the liver, take the work off the kidneys, and then by their invigorating action on the kidneys restore them to health and vigor.

Because of the intimate and sympathetic relation of the liver and kidneys it is useless to treat them independently of one another. This fact was in the mind of Dr. Chase when he prepared the formula of his celebrated Kidney-Liver Pills and the phenomenal success of this great medicine has proven his wisdom.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills positively cure liver complaint, biliousness, constipation, backache and kidney disease. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. To protect you against imitations the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box of his medicine.

"FAMOUS ENGLISH POETS" SUBJECT OF ESSAY

At an Unusually Interesting Meeting of the T. A. S. Ladies' Literary Society —Read by Miss Tangney.

FATHER CALVIN TO GIVE LECTURE.

Since the inaugural meeting of the Ladies' Literary Society of St. Peter's T. A. S., in October last, the society has enjoyed a continuous and constantly increasing popularity. Its meetings, which have been so liberally patronized, have been characterized by excellent essays and bright musical programmes.

At the regular meeting last evening, a large and appreciative audience assembled in the Association Hall to enjoy the excellent programme presented. The most pleasing feature of the evening, was however, the essay on "Famous English Poets," read by Miss Eva Tangney. The subject, though a broad one, was dealt with in a most praiseworthy manner, and from beginning to end proved to be most interesting and instructive.. The introductory part of the essay dealt with the superiority of English language and literature. From the eleventh to the fourteenth century there was in no sense a national language. A number of dialects existed, but no really national language could exist until a literature had been created, which would be admired and studied by those who could read, and taken as a model by those who could write. This work was done by Chaucer, the first great poet of England, and the true father of English literature. Being conversant with court life, and moving in the highest circles of English society, Chaucer wrote in the Midland dialect, and thus raised it at once to a position of superiority: for his writings were read and admired everywhere, and the dialect, as written by him, was adopted by his successors, and thus became the language of the nation. This language has still retained its composite character, which is one of its marked features.

Chaucer was the first English poet to honour the English language by framing in it a great literary masterpiece. "Canterbury Tales" is by far the most read of all his works. Two centuries elapsed before England could boast of a poet worthy to succeed the author of "Canterbury Tales," in the person of Edmund Spenser, the only non-dramatic poet of the Elisabethan age, whose poetry may be said to be the most poetical of all poetry.

In the English language have been written the most noble poems, the sweetest songs, and the stories which best portray the human character. The English historian has been most deeply into the mists and darkness which shroud the ages of the past. The English philosopher has most clearly understood the forces which move men to action and control their minds, and, as language makes past knowledge present treasure, English historains, poets, philosophers and novelists have displayed their genius by pouring out their souls in a language whose range and compass express, better than any other human tongue, all the varying thoughts, emotions and purposes of men.

Beginning with Shakspere, England's greatest poet, Miss Tangney, in very beautiful language, gave brief sketches of the lives and characteristics of some of England's famous poets, who have graced the pages of English literature. Among them were Milton, Pope, Gray, Goldsmith, Wordsworth, Tennyson, who succeeded Wordsworth as the poet laureate, and who was the first of modern poets. Robert Browning, the poetic student of human nature, and Alfred Austin, who was called to the vacant laureateship after the death of Tennyson.

The essay was interspersed throughout with poetical extracts from the different poets to exemplify their predominant characteristics. In some, depth and sincerity of emotion, in others fertility of fancy, philosophy of thought or elegance of diction were expressed.

As a fitting close to this able essay a beautiful quotation from Tennyson's last poem entitled "Crossing The Bar" was given.

Each number on the musical programme which preceded the reading of the essay was highly appreciated by the enthusiastic audience, and deservedly so, as the rendition was not only pleasing but most artistic.

The following was the musical programme presented:—

Instrumental duet—Misses Sherlin and Flynn.
Vocal solo—Miss K. O'Brien.
Recitation—Miss Derocher.
Violin solo—Miss E. Doria.
Instrumental solo — Miss Nora Coughlin.

The accompanists of the evening were Miss Bernice Giroux and Miss A. Doria.

The next meeting of the Society will be held on Friday evening, March 15th when a lecture on "King Lear" will be delivered by Rev. Father Galvin.

MAN REFUSED TO PAY CAB FARE AND WAS FINED $5.75

First Application of New Act—Magistrate Will Rigidly Enforce This Act —Lawful Fares Must be Paid.

The new Act regarding the paying of cab fares, etc., was applied this morning for the first time, and in a most rigid manner. Edward James refused to pay a lawful cab fare yesterday and, as a result, was arrested and arraigned. He at the time, and this may partially account for his obstinancy. He pleaded guilty and Magistrate Dumble ordered him to pay the cabman his fare of $1. He took a roll of bills from his pocket in a rather ostentatious manner and handed over the one dollar bill, then to his surprise and chagrin he heard, "You are fined $2 and costs, amounting in all to $5.75, to be paid forthwith." He had not all of the necessary amount but promised to give a cheque for the balance if he were given the proper cheque book.

David Hoban was also fined $2 and costs, a total of $5.75 for being drunk and disorderly on the 22nd February. Through his counsel he pleaded guilty and received the above punishment.

BUTTER AND EGGS SHOWED A WEAKENING TENDENCY

However, it Will be Some Time Before a Radical Decline Will be Experienced —Potatoes at Ninety Cents.

The threatening appearance of the weather this morning promised to detain the farmers from making their weekly trip to the market to-day, but the attendance was much larger than was expected. The prices asked for butter to-day were from 28 to 30 cents, while eggs ranged between the same quotations. Pork sold at $10 and $11 for front and hind-quarters, beef at $5 and $6, and fowl at whatever the good wives of the countrymen wished to demand. Potatoes of excellent quality ware quoted at 90 cents a bag. Russet apples sold at 30 cents a peck, and others of questionable quality at 25 cents. Wood was fairly well represented, tamarac at $4.50 a cord selling readily, and good mixed wood a little dearer.

On the whole, the prices of the most staple articles seemed to waver, and there was apparent likelihood that prices would increase. Fowl is not at all plentiful, chickens (?) being about the only members of the feathered family now in existence.

Following is a list of the prevailing prices:

Potatoes, per bag	90	to
Apples, per bag	1 25	to
Onions, per peck	25
Beets, per peck	15
Cabbage, per head	5
Parsnips, per peck	15

A Former Peterborough Boy Tells Of Chinese Missions

Mr. Walter Oldfield's Vivid Description of Daily Life in the Work of the Gospel in China

HOW THE SALE OF BIBLES IS CARRIED ON IN THAT COUNTRY

The letter which follows should be of great interest to local people inasmuch as Mr. Walter Oldfield, the writer, left here two years ago to take up missionary work in China. He was for three years connected with the J. H. Turnbull & Co.'s store and is very well known in this city. The letter was received by Mr. Geo. W. Stenton, 717 George street, city and is as follows Ping-Loh, Sz. China, via Hong-Kong and Wuchow, Dec. 13th, 1906.

Dear Brother Stenton and beloved Peterborough friends,—Greeting.

"Let us go into the next towns that I may preach there also for therefore came I forth."—Mark 1. 38.

Well here I am amid the confusion of preparing for an itinerating trip into the country. As I have not much time now let me ask you to accompany me on this trip. Then each evening we can have a little chat over the day's pains and pleasures.

Sha Tsi, Thursday evening.

"The harvest truly is plenteous but the labourers are few, pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest that He may thrust forth labourers into His harvest."

So here we are this evening in this little Chinese village, being sent forth by the Master to give a witness to these needy people. I left Ping-Loh after having an early dinner and reached this place about dark. Now I am sitting "Indian fashion" on my bed boards redeeming the time while our evening rice is boiling.

Would have liked so much to have had the Colporteur go with me on this trip, but he has sore feet and so had to be left behind. As it is I have not even a Christian with me, but I have a heathen man and boy who carry gospels, tracts, etc., so expect to get along nicely.

"To the work, to the work, there is labour for all,
For the kingdom of darkness in China must fall,
And the name of Jehovah exalted shall be,
As we scatter the Scriptures throughout dark Kwang-Si, Telling on."

Si-Ling-Chai,
Friday evening.

After a fine night's rest we ate our morning rice and then started out upon the rocky path. The scenery was delightful, walking as we did near the mossy banks of a murmuring stream, while on either side the huge granite boulders stood as silent sentinels and guarded the way with serene magnificence. Had not gone far before one of my sandals became weary of the way; flopped to one side with a broken wing, and refused to go further. However, I had a pair of foreign shoes with me and so soon was marching along again.

We reached Si-Ling-Chai early in the afternoon and at once went to an inn to lay down our bundles before going out on the streets. We had only been here a few minutes when, as I was standing at the door speaking to the people and distributing Gospels, I heard a gruff voice behind me and on turning round I met the sullen face of the angry landlord, who with more grit than grace, ordered me off the premises. I at once folded up my little bundle of books, telling the crowd as I did so, that if the landlord was unwilling for me to stay there I would go further down the street and continue to distribute the Gospels. Had fine opportunities all afternoon and toward evening found shelter at another inn.

Human Province, Long-Hu,
Saturday evening.

Well dear ones,—

"Where is your wandering boy to-night?" Here he is amid a crowd of curious Chinamen, trying to write you a few lines. This city is on the boundary between Kwang-Si and Hunan, half of it being governed by each province. I simply walked through and found an inn on the Hunan side. I have a tiny little room, 5 1-2 by 6 feet, all to myself to-night and am very glad because to-morrow is Sunday. I want to rest. Will probably stay here Monday and then go to Tao-Chuan.

Lang-Hu,
Sunday evening.

Just a few words so as not to break the chain. The Lang-Hu official has just sent a messenger saying when I leave the city he wants to send soldiers with me as the people in the next place are rough, and he fears they may throng me. I declined his offer with thanks, saying the more people the better the opportunity. However, he again sent word that I must have soldiers or his heart would not be at rest, therefore so as not to appear discourteous, I have accepted a guard of two.

Long-Hu,
Monday evening.

It looks as if I were making a prolonged stay, but such is not the case. This morning I went out upon the street here and sold books until noon, then picked up my things and started for the next village, some ten li distant. Here I had intended staying over night and leaving early next morning for Tao-Chuan. We reached Tsu-Shih-Kiang safely, and though but a small village, found great crowds assembled. These were increased by the presence of a Chinese theatrical company with their troupe of idle loafers, who were giving public plays at the town's entrance. The people did not care for the Gospel, but crowded around and just stared while the youngsters pulled and pushed each other, much to my discomfort. I remained on the street for some time and then went to an inn and prepared to stay for the night. The idle crowd swarmed around the door and peered at me through the cracks, while some of the baser sort cried out "Drag the foreigner out and let us mob him," while I, like a beast in a cage, tramped around in my dismal dungeon, they having fastened the doors to keep the crowd back. I was just preparing to write when one of the soldiers came in and said we would have to move. The innkeeper seeing the crowd and fearing there might be trouble wanted us to leave, while the magistrate's son came in and told him before the people if he wanted to keep us he could, if not to suit himself. Thus seeing we were in a predicament the people swarmed around the place to see what the foreigners would do. I told the soldier according to my British passport, which I had in my basket, I was entitled to stay, but seeing they could not control the ever-increasing mob I yielded to their entreaties. As I opened the door to come out I was greeted by a cheer from the crowd, while the soldiers made a way for me to pass through.

I had not been back here an hour before the two officials of Lang-Hu called to see me. They were profuse in their apologies, deeply regretting that a foreigner should be so treated in their district. I at once assured them I did not blame them in the least and that I should stay here over night and go back again in the morning and on to the next town. This they consented to, but said I should have an escort.

Fao-Chuan,
Tuesday evening.

"Thou art my hiding place; Thou shalt preserve me from trouble; Thou shalt compass me about with songs of deliverance."—Psalms 32: 7.

When I resumed my journey this morning on the road over which I made such a hasty retreat last evening, I was accompanied by a guard of ten soldiers. The official himself being one of them, who had come in person to investigate into last night's proceedings. Can you imagine your little brother walking ahead of such a troop, whose glittering rifles and polished swords gleamed in the morning sun. We reached Tsu-Shih-Kiang, the place of the trouble, and at once went to the inn where we had been the night before. Here we sat down while the official despatched two soldiers to summon the magistrate. He came in "delicately" and the pass began. The official reprimanded him severely. The idea of me, a British gentleman, coming all the way to China and then to be treated thus was shameful in the extreme. I waited until the dust had settled somewhat and then parted with the official and came the rest of the journey with three soldiers. Have had excellent opportunities to-day and for the first time since coming to China, I have been on the stage. The street was so narrow that it jammed with people immediately and so I sought a wider space in which to stand. In the busiest section of the street was an open space in which all manner of wares were being sold, while in the rear was a Chinese theatre, with an open stage about five feet high. Here I took my stand and with soldiers to the right of me, soldiers to the left of me and a big crowd in front I commenced selling books. We sell a Gospel for 1½, much less than it costs us. The more we sell the more we loose, but hallelujah, it is getting that Gospel to the people and we believe if we are true to God in scattering the Scriptures He will not see us lack but will touch hearts in the homeland to help us when He sees we are in need. Already since coming to Ping-Loh Brother C. and I have walked over 1,000 li, or a little over 1,000 English miles in our itinerating work. On these trips we have distributed thousands of Gospels and tracts, and though at considerable expense. Yet hallelujah.

"When our walking's over
He will bid us welcome,
We shall come rejoicing
Bringing in Chinese."

Long Hu,
Wednesday evening.

Here I am on my return trip. Sold all the Gospels on the streets of Fao-Chuan this morning and then turned my face toward Jerusalem, reaching Long-Hu in time for supper.

My! It is bitterly cold! These last few nights I have slept in all my clothes with two pairs of woollen socks on my feet, and my cap pulled well down over my ears and then tucked in as best I could with my gray blanket. Would be so pleased, Brother George, if you could send me a suit of very heavy underwear. Will remit to you as soon as possible. Address me Alliance Mission, care Banker & Co., Hong-Kong. All parcels addressed thus and sent "parcel post" will cost twelve cents per pound, or fraction to a weight of 4 1-3 pounds. Visions of a good Canadian fire sometimes come up before me, but alas, like the little girl, the match goes out and I find I am still in cheerless China.

Kwang-Si, Si-Ling-Chai,
Thursday evening.

Well here we are back again in Kwang-Si, after spending five blessed days of fruitful service among the Hunanese. We crossed the border early this morning and shortly after the eastern sun lifted his smiling face above the frowning hills and shone down upon us as if to welcome us back to our native province.

Si-Ling-Chai,
Friday evening.

"I nightly pitch my moving tent
A day's march nearer home."

Yes, and a good day's march it has been, too. The heathen man who is with me is tired out by 3 o'clock, and complained of sore feet, but I urged him on for another twenty-five li, the latter part of which was travelled after nightfall until the friendly moon came out, and seeing us stumbling along in the dark she pitied us, covered her pale, yet blushing face with a silvery cloud, and then, woman-like, shyly peered down upon us, shedding her modest light upon the weary pilgrims until we reached a way-side inn and found shelter for the night.

Ping-Loh,
Saturday.

Hallelujah! Home once more among the dear Chinese Christians. Was on the road before daylight this morning and so reached home in good time to read my mail and prepared for to-morrow's service.

And now, beloved, I trust you have enjoyed our little itinerating trip together. If I have walked too fast for some of the little members of our circle you'll forgive me won't you? And sometime when we all get rested and our blisters have vanished we may take another trip.

"March on, march on to set the captives free,
March on, march on to glorious victory.
And this our song of triumph as we walk throughout Kwang-Si,
We're bound to scatter Scriptures for Jeshua."

With much love to all the Peterborough friends,

I remain,
Happy in the regions beyond,
WALTER H. OLDFIELD.

THE STORE THAT NEVER DISAPPOINTS

GENUINE "OLD BLEACH" LINENS

We are headquarters for these world-famous Linens. There has never been a Linen woven to equal it in texture or wearing qualities. We have them in Towels, huckabacks by the yard, Dress Linens, Art Linens, etc., etc. Every article or piece stamped "Old Bleach."

FOUR REASONS WHY "OLD BLEACH" ARE SUPERIOR TO ALL OTHER LINEN GOODS

1—They are made of PURE FLAX of the Best Quality Only.

2—Elaborate precautions are taken to ensure perfect wearing.

3—They undergo the troublesome and tedious process of "GRASS BLEACHING" practised by our forebears, who relied not in strong injurious chemicals, but in the generous rays of the sun, to whiten their flaxen treasures. "Old Bleach" thus retains the extraordinary natural strength which was justly claimed for flax fabrics in years gone by.

4—They are finished without a grain of starch by the SPECIAL "OLD BLEACH" PROCESS—the only one which can produce the everlasting silky lustre and delightful soft feel characteristics of "OLD BLEACH."

MR. EARLE DECLINES THE CONTEST

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I am not acquainted with the issuer of the challenge in yesterday's paper; but, if he is as I am told, the tall, white-haired gentleman gentleman whom I meet frequently on the sidewalk, I am surprised that he has taken my remarks as applying to himself. I have taken him, all along as a real gentleman, and, therefore, as belonging to a different species, I was going to say, genus, from those I intended.

With regard to the challenge itself, I have said that I am lacking in courage, and I now confess that I do not like work, and was never any good at games. I fear there is nothing for it but to decline a contest and admit Mr. Bailey's superiority as a citizen.

Respectfully yours,
BARTON EARLE.

NEW STRIKE AT COBALT.

Cobalt, Ont., Feb. 28.—A diamond drill which has been working on the north half of the northwest quarter of the north half of lot 3, concession 6, Coleman, abutting the Silver Bird mine, has struck two veins four and five inches wide, showing high value in silver and cobalt. These veins were cut by the drill at a depth of 100 feet below the surface. The veins are a distance of ten feet apart and run northwest and southeast, directly into the Silver Bird property. The strike was made near the east end of the property and within sixty feet of the west line of the Silver Bird. A shaft is now being sunk to catch these veins.

This strike demonstrates positively that the silver veins are extending northeast of the town of Cobalt. This new strike has increased the demand for Silver Bird shares here to-day, as it has practically proven that there are valuable silver veins in the north end of the Silver Bird property, as well as at the south end, where that company is now working on three veins in their shaft.

It is rumoured that there is soon to be a big advance in Silver Bird.

TAILOR BUSINESS HAS CHANGED HANDS

Mr. Geo. Evans Will be Successor to Mr. Harry Stock.

Mr. Harry Stock has disposed of his tailoring business on Hunter street to Mr. George Evans, who, for the past five years, has been assistant cutter in connection with the establishment. Mr. Evans came into possession of the business yesterday. He is at present in New York, where he will spend a week or ten days in studying the latest styles in Men's tailoring, so that he will be able to come back to give a very fine quality of tailoring. He has had a long experience in the business and is competent in every way for the undertaking.

Mr. Evans was a passenger on the C.P.R. express which collided with a freight at Mountain station yesterday morning, but escaped without injury.

Mr. Stock, under whose charge the business has doubled, will in all probability start business in Winnipeg, although he is not absolutely certain yet.

CITY HALL NOTES OF OF INTEREST

Letter From Mr. Robert Stuart to be Dealt With by Committee.

The Bell Telephone Company have returned the agreement drawn up by the city, with regard to the installation of the fire alarm boxes. It will probably be brought up at the council meeting on Monday night, for final consideration.

The Mayor has received a letter from Mr. Robert Stuart, of the Quaker Oats Company, dealing with the proposed purchase of the Peterborough Light and Power Company's plant by the city. The letter will be taken up this afternoon by the special committee appointed by the council, and they will in all probability have a report to make to the council on Monday night.

The regular monthly meeting of the council will be held on Monday when some important matters will be taken up. The fire alarm system will be discussed if the matter is ready. The council will pass upon T. Kinnear & Co's application for a siding into their new warehouse on George street, south.

The Property Committee meets this afternoon at five o'clock for the purpose of discussing the question of building permits, a matter that is of great interest to contractors and the public.

LABOURERS WILL ASK FOR $2.50 PER DAY

Members Decided Upon This at a Meeting Held Last Night.

At a meeting of the Building Trades Labourers Union held last night, it was decided to adopt $2.50 per day as the union rate of wages. Last year the union rate for labourers was $2.25, but they feel that they are entitled to more remuneration in view of the great amount of building going on.

The meeting last night was an enthusiastic one and those present were unanimous in the opinion that they should be paid $2.50. A meeting will be held in a short time to elect officers.

CANUCK'S VIEWS

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—Mr. Barton Earle has undertaken to represent Canadians in a letter in which he speaks disparagingly of Englishmen. In view of the fact that we invite them to this country it is of course manifestly inhospitable to abuse them. We are not treated so when we go to the Old Country.

A number of Canadians who would not usually notice his effusions have decided that in view of the newly arrived Englishman being not used to the country, they might take the matter seriously. However, the unfinished character of his English would probably put more of them on their guard.

We welcome Englishmen cordially, and hope that they may long continue to merit the good opinion of the whole civilized world.

Yours, etc.,
"CANUCK."

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, March 2—At the opening to-day the market was depressed with quotations generally ½ to 1 point below yesterday's closing and up to the hour of the bank statement showed decided weakness throughout the list. Nor. Pacific was again disappointingly heavy with stock coming out in quantity. Good judges believe this is inside stock and therefore are inclined to attach more importance to J. J. Hill's pessimistic utterances than is usually the case.

The bank statement was considerably better than was anticipated, the reserves showing only a slight loss while the loss in cash was but half of early estimates. This brought a temporary rally with Reading the leader but the selling of Nor. Pacific turned the market weak again and it sold back quickly and closed weak.

SMASH-UP ON THE C.P.R. AT MOUNTAIN

Serious Accident to Toronto Express Near Kemptville.

TWO TRAIN MEN KILLED

Passengers Are Severely Shaken But Not Seriously Injured — Men Are Pinned Under Wreckage and Slowly Burned to Death — Engines Were Telescoped—Mail Matter Was Entirely Destroyed.

Smith's Falls, March 2.—A head-on collision occurred on the C. P. R. at Mountain Station at 6 o'clock yesterday morning. No. 6 express, eastbound, which left Smith's Falls at 5 o'clock yesterday morning, crashed into a freight, westbound, on the same track.

The express does not stop at Mountain Station, and it is said was running at fifty miles an hour when the collision occurred about a hundred yods east of that station.

The track is straight at this place, and the crews were able to see the impending danger, and all jumped to save their lives. In this they were fortunately successful.

Engineer Loses Fingers.

Engineer Daniel Hartney, of Smith's Falls, the driver of the express, sustained the most painful injuries, but escaped with the loss of three fingers. He was bruised and suffered slight injuries otherwise, as did all the crew, but the only serious thing is the loss of Mr. Hartney's fingers.

It is supposed he lost his fingers in trying to apply the brakes or reverse his engine before the awful impact came.

The Dead.

William Hutchins, Cobourg.
J. G. Nicholson, 47 Laurier street, Montreal.

The Injured.

A. Lesperance, brakeman, Montreal, face lacerated.
John Hartney, engineer, Montreal, three fingers cut off.
G. McQueen, passenger, Owen Sound, cheek laid open.

Engines Were Telescoped.

The two engines were telescoped in each other, and were practically ruined. The express car next the engine and the baggage car next to that received the full force of the collision. There was a stove in each, and either from these or from the lamps the wreck took fire. In a few minutes both these cars were enveloped in flames.

The baggageman, Lesperance, had just opened the door of his car for a minute when the crash came. He was thrown through the opening, and to this, no doubt, owes his life. He was scratched and scarred about the face from plowing through the snow, but he was not badly hurt.

Slowly Burned Alive.

The express messenger, Wm. Hutchins, and his assistant, Nichol, were less fortunate. They essayed to get out of the car, but the door of one were caught by some of the wreckage, and he could not free himself. The other succeeded in getting his head and shoulders through the window of the car, but he was caught there and could get no further.

Immediately these two cars took fire. The two unhappy men, thus pinioned down, saw the flames surrounding them and rapidly coming nearer and nearer to them. They cried out in their extremity for assistance, and quickly the passengers and those of the crew who were able to do anything responded, but they were unable to succor them.

Unable to Rescue Them.

So great was the heat from the flames that it was impossible to do much, but all that could be done was done to rescue the doomed men. Passengers took turns in chopping at the car to free the messenger, who was partly out of the window.

An effort was made to pull him out, but he was fast imprisoned and could not be released. With piteous appeals for help, and in sight of the horror-stricken crowd, who were powerless to save, both men were burned to death. In the burning debris of this car there seems to be the head of a third man, and it is thought there were three lives lost, though who the third may be is not yet known.

The first-class passenger coach was only slightly injured, and no damage was done to the rest of the coaches. One freight car only was destroyed. Conductor Burt was in charge of the passenger train.

The wreck is the result of an unpardonable blunder by somebody, which the investigation that must be held, will no doubt disclose. The telegraph operator at Mountain, it is said, has been in a fainting condition since the collision.

Mail All Destroyed.

In the mail car was a particularly large mail from Toronto and Western points for the United Kingdom, and every bit of it was destroyed. The officials cannot explain how the fire could have started so quickly, and, while they state it must have been due to one of the engines exploding, they cannot understand how it could have gained such headway so quickly.

The crew of the freight train saved themselves by jumping.

Chicago Flyer Derailed.

Syracuse, N. Y., March 2.—The Chicago Special, westbound, on the New York Central, consisting of an engine and six cars, left the tracks east of Rome last night. The train was running at full speed, but no one was killed and no one was seriously injured.

Santa Fe Train Wrecked.

San Bernardino, Cal., March 2.—A Santa Fe passenger train struck an open switch near Colton yesterday, and collided with a San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake train. It is reported that many were hurt.

NEARLY POISONED.

Thomas Sinclair Ate Pie Intended For Rats.

Toronto, March 2.—Thomas Sinclair had a narrow escape from being poisoned Thursday from eating a piece of pie which had been loaded with "Rough on Rats." Before going to work Sinclair missed his customary pie from his lunch pail. He went to the pantry, where he noticed a nice piece of apple pie. He took it with him and after eating it at lunch time, became violently ill. Medical aid was summoned. Although his condition for a time was serious, Sinclair went back to work yesterday.

Carried on Cow-Catcher.

Guelph, March 2.—James Ellis while driving across the G. T. R. track, was struck by a train. His sleigh was smashed and Mr. Ellis was caried on the fender of the locomotive a considerable distance. He was only bruised.

Struck By Tornado.

Hope, Ark., March 2.—A destructive tornado struck the Town of Washington late last night and almost literally wiped it out of existence. Two negroes are reported killed and several persons were injured.

Six Firemen Injured.

Pittsburg, March 2.—One fireman was seriously injured and five others slightly hurt early yesterday at a fire caused by crossed wires in Allegheny, which destroyed the ward five school building, a three-storey structure, valued at $150,000.

While six firemen were on a ladder the roof caved in and they narrowly escaped with their lives.

Dutch Steamer Ashore.

Flushing, Holland, March 2.—The Dutch mail steamer Koningin Wilhelmina, from Queensborough, England, went ashore yesterday morning during a thick fog on a dyke eastward of the entrance of the harbor. The 50 passengers and mails were landed, and the vessel is expected to float at high water.

MONTREAL MOURNS.

Victims of School Fire Followed to the Grave by Thousands.

Montreal, March 2.—A touching scene was witnessed at Hochelaga when ten little coffins were removed to St. Mary's church at noon yesterday for the funeral service over the remains of the victims of the Hochelaga school holocaust.

When the coffins were ranged along in front of the altar they were literally covered with flowers from all sections of the community, from schoolmates and teachers, from citizens of high and low degree, from French and English Canadians alike.

The fact that many of the bereaved parents have been but a short time in Canada, having recently come here from England, gave additional impetus to the desire to prove the sincerity of feeling for them in their affliction.

Thousands of Mourners.

The service was directed by the Rev. Henry Jekell, rector, one of whose children narrowly escaped.

The service was most affecting. An immense throng collected, far greater than could gain admittance to the church. A pathetic picture was the part taken by the little school mates of the deceased. When the funerals cortege of ten hearses left the church for Mount Royal cemetery, there was an escort of 35 police and an immense concourse of people.

M'INTOSH GOES DOWN.

Man Who Posed as J. J. Hill's Representative Gets Three Years.

Hamilton, March 2.—J. A. R. B. McIntosh, the stock broker, who got into the confidence of a number of people by representing himself as the representative of James J Hill, the railway magnate, and then obtained from them large sums of money to be invested by him in railway stocks, was before Judge Monck yesterday. He pleaded guilty to three charges of obtaining money under false pretences, and was sentenced to three years in the Kingston penitentiary. McIntosh is supposed to have operated in other cities besides Hamilton.

5,000 LIVES SAVED YEARLY BY MODERN METHODS IN TREATING CONSUMPTION

In New York since 1901 there has been a reduction in the death rate from tuberculosis of 40 per cent; that means an annual saving of some 5,000 lives.

Before a German scientist discovered the germ of this disease, it was considered the visitation of an avenging Providence. Our fathers gave it up as hopeless. Modern methods of treatment, however, have done much towards eradicating the terrible disease.

A noted specialist, whose camp for consumptives in the Pine Woods of Maine has attracted great attention, because of the remarkable cures he has effected there, and whose methods have been endorsed by the highest authorities, says his treatment was very simple, consisting of open air exercise, deep breathing and nourishing food. Every four hours the patient was given one teaspoonful of a mixture of the Pure Virgin Oil from the White Pine Trees, combined with Whisky and Glycerine, in the following proportions: One-half ounce Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure), two ounces of Glycerine and eight ounces of good Whisky. Shake well and take in teaspoonful doses every four hours.

This treatment strengthened the lungs and healed the bronchial tubes. He claims this formula will break up a cold in twenty-four hours, and cure any cough that is curable. The ingredients can be secured from any good prescription druggist at small cost, and can be easily mixed in your own home.

Inquiry at the prescription department of one of our leading druggists elicited the information that Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure) is put up only in half-ounce vials for dispensing. Each vial is securely sealed in a round wooden case, with engraved wrapper, with the name—Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure), put up only by Leach Chemical Co., Windsor, Ontario, plainly printed thereon. There are many rank imitations of Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure), which are put out under similar name and style of package. Never accept these as a substitute for the Pure Virgin Oil of Pine, as they will invariably produce nausea and never effect the desired result.

THE LABOR DISPUTES BILL

Railway Organizations May Not Be Included — Penalty Clauses Are Struck Out—Mr. Maclean Suggests Investigation of Railway Management In View of Recent Wrecks—B.C. Railway Belt.

Ottawa, March 2.—The preliminary canter through Mr. Lemieux's labor disputes bill was finished in Committee of the Whole House yesterday, with results satisfactory to the Minister of Labor, who took occasion to express his appreciation of the reception accorded to the measure. With most of the contentious clauses standing over for further consideration, criticism was of a more or less friendly character, but the amendments, though not drastic, were sufficiently numerous to justify Mr. Lemieux's decision to reprint the bill.

The "Open Shop" Clause.

The most important change was the abandonment of the "open shop" clause, a step which the Minister of Labor announced was the result of pressure from both sides of the House. The recent crop of railway wrecks afforded Mr. W. F. Maclean an opportunity to suggest the advisability of an inquiry into the methods of railway management. The remainder of the session was spent in Committee of Supply, the estimates of the Public Works Department being again under consideration. When the Toronto estimates came up none of the members for the city were present, and Mr. Monk endeavored to have consideration of them postponed.

To Build New Barracks.

With the exception of the vote of $150,000 for alterations and additions to the drill hall, however, all the items were passed, on the understanding that the members for Toronto would have an opportunity to discuss them at a later stage if necessary. It was definitely stated that the Government intended going on with the new barracks for the permanent corps at a cost of about three-quarters of a million.

Hon. Mr. Oliver introduced a bill the object of which, he explained, was to ratify an agreement entered into between the Dominion Government and the Government of British Columbia, respecting the western boundary of the railway belt in the province. The bill was read a first time.

Bill to Settle Strikes.

The House went into Committee of the Whole and resumed consideration of Mr. Lemieux's bill to aid in the prevention and settlement of strikes and lockouts.

When clause 35, which relates to railway men, was reached the Minister of Labor stated that he had not yet come to an agreement with the railway organizations, and the clause was accordingly allowed to stand.

Two objections were taken to the clause which empowers the board of investigation to authorise an examination or inspection of any factory, mine or workshop which is made the subject of a reference to the board.

The Minister of Labor took the view that it would be inadvisable to give the Deputy Minister of Labor the power referred to. It should be left in the hands of the board.

Penalty Clauses Struck Out.

The Minister announced that as a result of pressure from both sides of the House the clauses imposing a penalty on employers for the dismissal of an employe on the ground of his membership in a union, and also penalizing employes for striking on the declaration of an open shop, were dropped.

Railway Management.

Mr. W. F. Maclean expressed the opinion that Parliament should take steps to inquire into railway management. Far too many accidents were taking place, and he thought it was due to the companies paying too much attention to expansion, and not enough to safeguarding travel. He took this action on account of the wreck which had taken place on the Toronto-Montreal line. (Hear, hear).

Public Works Estimates.

The House then went into Committee of Supply and resumed consideration of public works estimates.

The vote of $50,000 for barracks in Toronto for the permanent corps, to replace the property sold to the city, was discussed.

Mr. Maclean inquired whether the Government intended to go on with the barracks, and what the policy was. The barracks, he said, had been promised for a long time.

Sir Frederick Borden said it was the intention of the Government to go on with the barracks, but the expenditure involved was very heavy.

In view of the large expenditure the Government expected to be allowed a reasonable time to construct the buildings. He understood that the acting Minister of Public Works, with his officers, along with the officers of the Militia Department, were going carefully over the plans with a view of determining the kind of building to be constructed.

SCULLERS MEET.

Canadian Misses World Championship by Very Narrow Margin.

Nepean, Australia, March 2.—(C. A. P.)—The boat race for the championship of the world on the river here between George Towns of Gladesville, Australia, and Eddie Durnan of Toronto, Canada, was decided over the three-mile course on the river here to-day and was won by Towns by one length.

The weather was dull before the race, a hot thunder storm threatening as the men pulled out from the landing stages of their boat houses for the start.

Both were trained to the minute and seemed equally confident.

By three o'clock the train loads and boat excursions had filled all the points of vantage along the river. When the men backed up to their buoys, the current was sluggish and the river low.

It was a desperate race over the entire straightaway three miles, daylight being barely perceptible between the boats at the finish, the Australian's margin being a scant boat length.

The victory of the citizen of the Commonwealth was a popular one and Towns was greeted with tumultuous applause as he rowed over to Durnan's water and shook hands with his vanquished and plucky opponent.

The Canadian, too, was liberally serenaded with cheers by the greatest concourse that ever witnessed a race since Ned Hanlan rowed in Australia.

Quest Practically Pole.

London, March 2.—The Argentine Antarctic ship Uruguay, which left Buenos Ayres, Jan. 29, 1906, has arrived at Scotia Bay, South Orkney Islands, after a perilous voyage, during which she encountered hundreds of icebergs and heavy pack ice, and sustained considerable damage.

The Scotia Bay station was established by the Scottish Antarctic expedition of five years ago, and was taken over in 1906 by the Argentine Government, which is continuing the meteorological and magnetic observations commenced by the Scottish expedition.

Favorable Impression.

London, March 2.—(C. A. P.)—The English Zionist Federation is endeavoring to draw the ties closer of federations in the United States, Canada and other colonies.

The first Lord of the Admiralty's annual statement includes reference to the visit of the Newfoundland naval reserve, and says a most favorable impression was created by their general appearance; the commodore commanding the squadron in which they served reported in high terms on their conduct and efficiency.

Fruit Cures Constipation

"Fruit-a-tives" cure Constipation because they are Fruit Juices in Tablet form.

Constipation means a disordered liver. When the liver is weak, bile is lacking. And it is the bile—which the liver excretes—that flows into the intestines and moves the bowels.

Fruit is the great liver tonic. It invigorates the liver and causes more bile to flow into the bowels.

Purgatives, powders and purging mineral waters, never reach the liver. They irritate the bowels and FORCE them to move. They generally do harm. They NEVER do any PERMANENT good.

"Fruit-a-tives" are fruit juices—in which the medicinal action is many times intensified by the wonderful change which takes place when the juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes are combined.

"Fruit-a-tives" have already proved a cure to many thousands of people in Canada.

"Fruit-a-tives" are free from calomel, cascara, senna and other bowel irritants. They are concentrated fruit juices with valuable tonics and internal antiseptics added.

"Fruit-a-tives" move the bowels regularly and easily every day — and thus cure Constipation.

50c. a box—6 boxes for $2.50. Sent on receipt of price if your druggist does not handle them.

BIGGEST GAME OF HOCKEY SEASON PROMISED

Battle Notes From the Two Training Quarters—Broken Bottles For McRae.

THE REVIEW CLUB'S GREAT PRACTICE

The public is assured of the greatest hockey match ever seen in this city on Thursday night next, at the Brock street rink, when the Review and Examiner teams will engage in mortal battle. The game will be played between 8 and 9 o'clock, and the public will be allowed to skate afterwards. The admission fee is ten cents, and the proceeds will be given to the Children's Aid Society.

The members of the Review hockey team very pleasantly entertained a select audience at the Brock street rink yesterday afternoon. Before we go any further we want to compliment the team, individually and collectively, upon their showing. The Review sneered at the practice of the Examiner team in its issue of yesterday, but we believe in giving credit where credit is due, and we wish to say that the Review team is the biggest, grandest and greatest joke of the year. Manager McRae led out a motley looking procession of twelve youths, of all sizes and shapes, and the speed they showed was wonderful. Large sheets of the ice were fractured, despite the precautions taken by the rink management.

There was only one casualty reported. McRae collided with Thompson and the two telescoped and had to be pried apart with a section of the fence. The strenuous nature of the work out is indicated by the fact that the team had a druggist on the ice with them, while each player carried a well-thumbed volume of "First Aid to the Injured." A large number of feminine admirers of the team were present, and the Review ladies' quartette sang that touching number, "When your hockey days are over, Percy, dear."

"Anxious" writes to ask what the colours of the Review team are. The problem is a difficult one to solve. At present most of them are green, some of them yellow, and they will all be black and blue after the game.

The night watchman, hearing the sound of breaking glass in the Review establishment last night, upon investigation found Manager McRae rubbing himself down with broken bottles to make himself tough.

There is a rumour of a strike among the members of the Review team. They don't object to working hard to get into shape, but they complain that pushing street cars off the track with their chest is too strenuous. Besides the Radial Railway Co. doesn't like it.

The Review has a great team, as any one who saw them practice will understand, but the Examiner thinks that it can beat them.

HOCKEY

STRATHCONAS LOST.

The Strathconas were defeated by Madoc in an exhibition game there last night by a score of 12—4. The city league champions were without the services of Meagher, White and McGrath, and the rest of the team were not in a fit shape to play after the hard game with Charlotte street the night before.

• • • •

HAPPY JACK THOMPSON, is another well known member of the Review hockey team and is always popular with the crowd. Mr. Thompson hails from the town that failed to get the Trent Canal outlet, Port Hope, and learned the game there, with Sandy Lockington, captaining the team that won the Sidewalk League in 1895. Mr. Thompson's fair face and Apollo-like form will glide around on the steel runners in the great press game next Thursday night. This sprightly young player will be remembered by his dives for life in last year's game. Spectators of the struggle will recall the fact that so many bouquets were buried at H. J. by his admirers among the fair sex that the game had to be stopped until the ice was cleared. No, Maud, Mr. Thompson is not married, you have still a chance, though most of the lottery tickets are gone.

The Senior III. and Senior IV. classes of the South Central school, played an interesting game of hockey on Knox rink on Thursday night. At the conclusion of the game the score stood 5—1 in favour of the Senior III. The line up was:

Senior III. — Goal, J. Moore; point, E. Doxsee; cover point, A. McWilliams; forwards, Stratton, Latimer, Armstrong and Hatcher.

Senior IV. — Goal, R. Smith; point, Henry; cover point, P. Pierce; forwards, Perks, Bell, Mollmoyle and Stevenson.

• • • •

The Review team seems to be long on politeness and short on speed. Here is a sample of the Alphonse Gaston brand of conversation that Uncle Pike McRae and Miss Crane were handing out at the practice yesterday:

"My dear David would you do me the favour of passing the puck over this way?" Miss Crane would say as she gracefully glided through a grove of uplifted sticks and a forest of legs waving in the air.

"With pleasure my dear Percy," was the answer as Uncle Pike, making a noise like a man after a butterfly, adroitly struck the rubber a saucy little stroke after making three fizzles.

Just at this stage a voice from somewhere, or somewhere else, shouted out "Percy, our rent's due," and Miss Crane was heard to mutter, "Oh, baking powder," as she made a hurried exit. Whereupon the feminine portion of the crowd held up their hands in shocked dismay.

CURLING

Two rinks go to Beaverton and Cannington on Monday to play friendly games with the clubs of those towns. They will probably be skipped by D. Half and W. Talbot.

• • • •

A couple of close games were played at the rink last night. Mr. Williams, a Toronto curler visiting here, played a draw game with W. G. Morrow, each making eight points, and D. Davidson defeated C. N. Brown by a score of 9 to 7.

• • • •

In the point competition games T. J. Wallace defeated J. E. A. Fitzgerald yesterday, and in the junior R. N. Merritt trimmed G. Maitland. These games are now drawing to a close and will probably be concluded next week.

The Names of Tea.

We talk glibly about Pekoe, Bohea, etc., but few people have any idea of what these names signify. "Pekoe" in the dialect of Canton means "white hair," for the tea which bears this name is made from the youngest leaves, so young that the white down is still on them. "Soochong" in the same dialect is a quite unpoetic name. It merely signifies "small kind." "Flourishing spring" is the meaning of "Hyson." "Kongo" signifies "labor." Much trouble and toil are expended in its preparation at Amoy, and these are commemorated in its name. "Bohea" is called after a range of hills.

To Clean Bronzes.

It is not a good plan to clean bronzes, as the polish is very easily spoiled, but if necessary nothing is better than cleaning them with water and ammonia, using a stiff brush like a nailbrush. Dry carefully after rinsing thoroughly. They should be carefully dusted every day with a soft cloth and a feather brush, and a little sweet oil may be rubbed on occasionally. To remove stains from bronze make the article very hot by dipping it in boiling water. Then rub it with a piece of flannel dipped in suds made from yellow soap, rubbing clean with soft linen cloths.

Good For Evil.

There are some people who turn gray, but do not grow hoary; whose faces are furrowed, but not wrinkled; whose hearts are sorely wounded in many places, but are not dead. There is a youth that bids defiance to old age, and there is a kindness which laughs at the world's usage. These are they who have returned good for evil. Whom the gods love die young, and they die young because they never grow old.—Selected.

Awkwardly Put.

This is one of the things one would rather have put differently: Mr. Bumblepup (at fancy dress ball)—I must apologize for coming in ordinary evening dress. Hostess—Well, you really have the advantage of us. We're all looking more foolish than usual, and you're not.

TO MAKE SECURE THE CHILDREN

Fire Drill in Schools to Be Made Compulsory.

IS ESSENTIAL TO SAFETY

Minister of Education Will Issue Stringent Regulations Dealing With the Subject—Government Not Prepared to Discuss Question of Two Cent Rate—Gillies Limit Closed to Prospectors.

Toronto, March 2.—Compulsory fire drill and the placing of kindergarten children on the ground flats of the public schools are matters which the Government has under consideration in view of the sorrowful disaster this week in Montreal. The question was brought up in the Legislature yesterday afternoon by Mr. T. H. Preston, member for Brant, who analysed the causes and deducted the lessons to be learned from the fire in a Montreal school, resulting in the death of a number of little children. The Premier and the Minister of Education both expressed their conviction that fire drill in the public schools was essential to the safety of the children.

Two Cent Rate Not Favored.

The Government cannot be said to have any immediate contemplation of the adoption of a two-cent rate on the Temiskaming & Northern Ontario Railway. A direct question as to the Government's intention by Mr. E. J. B. Pense was met by Hr. Dr. Reaume with an evasive reply. It was a matter, the Minister said, that could only be answered by declarations of the Government from time to time.

The return from West Middlesex was read by the Clerk, and Mr. Duncan Ross, the member-elect, and son of Hon. Geo. W. Ross, will be introduced to the House on Tuesday by Mr. A. G. MacKay and Mr. C. N. Smith.

Make Fire Drill Compulsory.

Mr. Preston (Brant) called attention of the Government to the loss of life in a schoolhouse in Montreal. Assurance should be made doubly sure that no such disaster should occur in Ontario. There were four causes: the kindergarten department was on the upper floor, the stairway was faulty in construction, there was no system of fire drill, and no fire escapes. He would like to see fire drill made compulsory in the schools of Ontario, and also all kindergarten classes on the ground floors of school buildings.

Hon. Dr. Pyne, Minister of Education, said that the Government already had the question under consideration.

The Premier declared that the fire drill was worth all the fire escapes and appliances which could be devised.

Not Prepared to Answer.

In the absence of Mr. Pense (Kingston) Mr. Preston (Brant) asked the following question:—"Is it the intention to establish a two-cent per mile passenger rate upon the Temiskaming & Northern Ontario Railway, and to provide for it upon all railways hereafter voted subsidies by the Legislature?"

Hon. Dr. Reaume replied that the question involved a question of policy of an extended nature which could only be answered by a declaration of the Government from time to time.

Rights In Gillies Limit.

Hon. Mr. Cochrane, replying to questions by Mr. Labrosse, said the Government had not received any bona fide offers for the mineral rights in the Gillies limits. If offers were received it was not the intention of the Government to accept the same, nor was it the present intention of the Government to parcel out the limits and sell or lease the same. Finally the Government had no intention of opening the limits to prospectors.

The Mines Act.

In committee several clauses of Hon. Mr. Cochrane's bill to amend the mines act were passed. Some are intended to make the act more definite in respect to the powers of the mining commissioner. The provision allowing the issue of working permits in special cases where discovery has been disallowed was struck out as probably endangering the principle of discovery.

To Assist Firemen.

Toronto, March 2.—A deputation representing the volunteer firemen of the province waited on Hon. Mr. Matheson yesterday to ask assistance for the establishment of a home for aged and disabled members from among their ranks.

The suggestion was made that the municipalities collect two per cent. on all insurance policies to be devoted to this purpose.

Mr. Matheson pointed out that under the Supplementary Revenue Act the province had only power to collect one-third of one per cent.

Shot General Dead.

St. Petersburg, March 2.—The following details of the murder Wednesday at Karenoyarsk, Siberia, of Gen. Koslovsky, the commandant of that town, have been received here:

The general was walking on the street at five o'clock in the afternoon, with some friends, and he referred jokingly to a threatening letter he had received that day, saying he would be killed at five o'clock that afternoon. Drawing his watch from his pocket the general remarked, laughingly, to his friends: "You see I am still alive."

About six o'clock, when Gen. Koslovsky was returning home alone, a man suddenly called upon him to halt and then fired three revolver shots at him. The general dropped dead.

Bitten by Mad Dog, Deported.

Port Huron, Mich., March 2—Aboud Abraham, aged 28, a Syrian, suffering from hydrophobia, has been deported to Canada by immigration officers at the tunnel. Abraham was bitten by a dog several days ago and his mind has already become affected. He said if he could get to Point Edward, Ont., friends would care for him.

Ithaca, N. Y., March 2.—The business section of the village of Genoa, 18 miles north of here, was destroyed by fire early yesterday, with an estimated loss of $50,000.

Plans Route to Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, March 2.—The Great Northern Railway is perfecting plans for entrance into Winnipeg. One is to build from Emerson, the other from Plum Coulee, and the third is to secure running rights over the Canadian Northern to Portage Junction. It is not unlikely that the latter proposal will be followed for the time being at least.

It is expected the Great Northern will be running into their Ross street depot by early autumn.

Fish, Flesh, Herring.

"Neither fish nor flesh nor good red herring" occurs in Dryden's epilogue to his Duke of Guise (1682). The epilogue takes the form of a dialogue between the actress who spoke it and a trimmer and ends with this exclamation:

D—— neuters, in their middle way of steering;
They're neither fish nor flesh nor good red herring.

—Macmillan's Magazine.

WESTERN CANADA---A LAND OF LIMITLESS POSSIBILITIES

Prosperity of That Part of The Fair Dominion---Development of The West Yet in Its Infancy---Some of The Characteristics Which Tend to Make Canada's Western Heritage Envied of all Nations---Soil and Climate The Best in The World.

WE soon forget our troubles in this world, and, instead of pining over their hard winter the people in the West are busy preparing for the summer that is to come, and, if the signs do not fail, it will be the greatest summer in the history of the West.

Reports received from the new provinces give the pleasing information that the backbone of what is happily an unusual winter has been broken and, full of hope and confidence in the future the people are at work again. It would seem, too, that some persons in the west have been too ready to spread stories of the severe winter, and it is believed that in many cases these stories have been exaggerated, and the result has been to create in the minds of some persons false impressions in reference to the climate of the west.

But the Canadian West does not need any apologists—her works speak for her more eloquently than any pen could possibly do. In spite of the conditions which have prevailed this winter, and which might be expected to act as a temporary set-back to her progress the indications are that the coming summer will see the greatest influx of settlers to the West that has ever been experienced.

The prosperity of the Canadian West is but beginning. We have been hearing the same statement for a decade now, but it is as true to-day as it was ten years ago. Each year there are persons who express the belief that the prosperity is but temporary and that it has about petered out, but in face of the evidences to the contrary—evidences in the shape of granaries and elevators bursting with No. 1 hard wheat; farmers with bank accounts mounting up into thousands of dollars who went there a few years ago with enough to buy a yoke of oxen and a plow; towns springing up on the prairie and blossoming into prosperous communities; Winnipeg, the capital city of the Prairie Province with building permits totalling ten million dollars in one year—in the face of these evidences, the whine of the pessimist has little effect and the whiners find small sympathy.

Information gained from the transportation companies is to the effect that this year there will be an increased number of settlers going from the older provinces to the west. Farms are being sold in Ontario and the farmer is taking his family to the broader outlook of the prairie, where homes will be established under the new conditions.

Not only will old Ontario contribute to the settlement of the West, but, as in the past few years, the United States will also send of her best citizens to share in and contribute to the prosperity of the Canadian West.

There must be a reason for all this, and to the one who is anxious to learn the reason is not hard to find. The words of Professor Thomas Shaw, the noted agriculturalist, writer and lecturer and an editor of the Orange Judd Farmer uttered after a trip through the West give the reason. Here is what he says:—

"One acre of average soil in the North-west is worth more than twenty acres of average soil along the Atlantic seaboard. The man who tills the former can grow twenty successive crops without much diminution in the yields, whereas the person who tills the latter must pay the vender of fertilizers half as much for materials to fertilize an acre as would buy the same in the Canadian Northwest in order to grow a single remunerative crop."

The Canadian Pacific Railway has, since it opened up first to the adventurous pioneer the prospect of settling in the broad western prairies, been active in securing the best class of residents for that portion of the Dominion, and the campaign of education engaged in by that Company has no doubt had a material effect upon the rapidity with which the advantages of the West have been appreciated by the people not only of Canada and the United States, but of the Old Country as well, for the educational campaign has not been by any means confined to this continent.

In a recent publication issued by this company, entitled "Western Canada," some decidedly interesting information concerning the West is given.

Three times the size of the German Empire, and five times larger than Great Britain and Ireland, Western Canada is a vast plain, watered and drained by three great river systems — the Red and the Assiniboine, in Manitoba, the Saskatchewan in southern Alberta, and Saskatchewan, and the Peace and Athabaska in Northern Alberta. With a gentle slope to the east, and a slight tilt to the north, this plain stretches for fully a thousand miles from the Rocky Mountains on the west to the granite country of New Ontario on the east, and from the International Boundary on the south to a spot to be determined point on the north, and the river systems make it one vast network of interesting valleys, the topographical features, as well as the climate, in a large measure, accounting for the remarkable productivity of the soil.

The completion of the Canadian Pacific Railway saw the beginning of the real development of Canada. It was then that Eastern Canada emerging from her forests and fields, first gazed upon the rolling prairies and the unexplored North-west, and learned of the vast and rich interior which had hitherto been scarcely considered as a factor in the economical problems of the Dominion. The announcement that in the Canadian North-west had been discovered more than two hundred million acres that would produce wheat and that this vast area would undoubtedly, if properly developed, cover many times over England's demand for wheat to meet her annual bread deficiency, naturally rivetted the attention of the whole world, and a stream of settlement immediately began to flow into the country. It was not, however, until the dawn of the twentieth century that the real rush began, and since 1900, when the people of the republic to the south began to fully appreciate the agricultural possibilities of Western Canada, and to realize what a wonderful agricultural country lay immediately to the north of their own boundary, the influx has continued with ever-increasing volume.

To sum up—what is the immediate outlook for Western Canada? It is a country that is now a long way beyond the experimental stage—a country that has been tried in the most exacting test to which a new country can be put, and has come triumphantly through the ordeal. There can be no doubt now that the settlers who are so rapidly peopling the Great West of Canada and making their homes here, are destined to be the wheat producers for the British Empire, and that they will also supply all deficiencies that may arise in other countries. In this connection there seems to be no limit to the expectations that may reasonably be formed. For instance what were once in the imperfect knowledge of the country supposed to be semi-arid districts are now on thorough investigation found to be capable of producing full crops, and providing opportunities for which no superior can be found elsewhere for cereals and garden roots, for dairy and for stock raising. In other districts, which were once little thought of, winter wheat is revolutionizing the character of the whole territory, and elsewhere irrigation is proving an assured method of getting the best results.

Once it was thought that there were large areas of doubtful rainfall. The soil was known to be first class but natural conditions were thought to be too uncertain to justify any attempt at settlement. Later explorations and practical experience has shown that conclusions in this regard have been arrived at too hastily—and it now seems certain that there is very little really waste land in the whole vast territory.

Manitoba

Manitoba is the pioneer province of the West. As the Red River Settlement it stoutly maintained for years the possibilities of the fertile valleys of the Assiniboine and the Red. It has 27,000,000 acres of arable land, about one sixth of which is under plough.

In 1906 about 4,850,000 acres were under plough.

The average yield of wheat for 1904 and 1905 was about 20 bushels; the average price 85 cents and 65 cents respectively. The cost of seeding, harvesting and marketing being reckoned at $6 per acre, we have a balance ranging from $11 to $7 clear profit to the farmer. When it is remembered that land can be had for from $8 to $30 per acre, according to location and improvement the financial end of Manitoba farming may be appreciated.

Harvesters en route to the Wheat Fields of the Canadian West

After the Dominion was formed, it was taken in as a province.

It is the smallest of the western provinces, measuring but 65,000 square miles, yet it is as large as England, Scotland and Ireland, and in the food of the wheat plant. 2nd, it has a climate that brings the plant to maturity with great rapidity. 3rd, on account of its northern latitude it receives more sunshine during the period of growth, than the country to the south. 4th, Absence of rust, due to the dryness of climate. 5th, Absence of insect foes.

These conditions are especially favourable to the growth of the hard, flinty wheat so greatly prized by millers all the world over, and commanding a higher price than the softer varieties grown elsewhere.

The summers leave little to be desired in an agricultural country, cyclones or violent storms being thus far unknown. In most parts good water can be obtained at a reasonable depth.

The possibilities of Southern Saskatchewan are shown by the averages of tests made at the experimental farm at Indian Head, where eleven varieties of the most suitable wheat, sown on April 15, were cut in 130 days, and yielded till pounds of straw and 44 bushels and two pounds of grain per acre.

This area embraces the Regina and Moose Jaw plains, nearly every acre of which is first-class wheat land, the celebrated Indian Head district, and the favoured Moose Mountain settlement. Only a few years ago hundreds of thousands of acres of these lands could be bought from the railway company at $3 per acre, and a very large proportion of the free grant lands were vacant. Now the free homesteads are exhausted and lands sell freely at from $8 to $20 per acre.

From Swift Current to the Alberta boundary is mainly a ranching country. Two features have peculiarly fitted it for cattle and sheep. The first is the "buffalo grass." The plains are covered with a short, crisp herbage which, though it turns brown in mid-summer, remains green and growing at the roots. On this cattle and sheep thrive the whole year round, and there is little need to provide other fodder at any season of the year. The other natural advantage is the "chinook" wind. This blows from the mountains and licks up the snowfall in winter with wonderful rapidity. The severity of the climate is greatly mitigated thereby, and cattle and sheep face the winter with little or no artificial protection. The Cypress Hills are especially adapted for stock-wintering.

Further north, between the south and north branches of the Saskatchewan River, are immense stretches of open prairie land particularly suited to wheat growing on an extensive scale, and it is probable that these plains will, within a few years, compare favourably as a grain-growing section with the southeasterly section of the Province.

Alberta

North of the International Boundary line and immediately east of the Rocky Mountains lies the Province of Alberta—a land blessed with all that is necessary to happiness and prosperity.

Between the 49th and 60th parallel of latitude between the 110th and 120th meridians, lie 281,000 square miles of possibilities. No other political division of the great virgin empire of the Northwest contains more that is necessary to modern civilization and less that is useless. Here are mountains and plains, foothills and valleys, rolling prairies with wooded stretches between, forests and grassy meadows, clean-shored, timber-girded lakes and winding brooks, cold mountain streams and navigable rivers, and a soil rich in the alluvial and vegetable accumulations of centuries. And, as if not content with these outward signs of her favour, Nature hid beneath the surface vast deposits of coal and other minerals; she filled the subterranean reservoirs with gas and oil, and sprinkled the sands of the mountain streams with gold. That no living thing should go athirst, she gathered together the waters of the mountains and brought them to the plains to be directed by the ingenuity of man to the use of the grazing herds and the planted fields. Then, to crown her effort and leave nothing incomplete, she brought the Chinook wind, warm with the breath of May, to temper the north wind.

One of the first things that strikes the casual observer in looking over the map of the Canadian Northwest, is the apparent remoteness of Alberta. Leaning against the eastern shoulder of the Rocky Mountains, it seems a long way from the great centres of civilization. It must be remembered, however, that to be remote from one place is to be near another, and that isolation itself has advantages.

On reaching Alberta, you feel at once the sundering of eastern ties—even the middle west is out of your mental range—you are in another world, the world of the Pacific. You are east of the mountains, yes, but you are within the sphere of the commercial west. The markets of the agricultural products of Alberta will ultimately be to the west—to the Orient, as it is now to the mining districts of British Columbia. Her coal will go down grade to the east—to the plains of Saskatchewan and the prairies of Manitoba, but her agricultural products will seek a nearer market. It is over two thousand miles to Montreal, and but six hundred to Victoria.

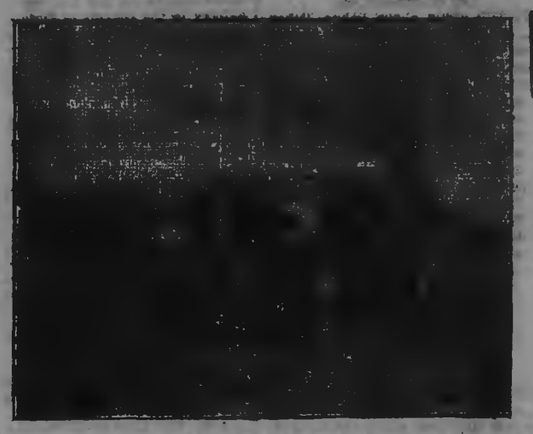
Horse Raising

The Alberta horse has already become noted for endurance, lung power and perfect freedom from hereditary and other diseases. Thoroughbreds from Great Britain and Kentucky, Clydesdales from Scotland, Percherons from France, and trotting stock from the United States have been imported at great expense, with the result that the young horse of Alberta will compare with any in Canada, and finds a ready market. Good three-quarter bred Clydes and Shires, which, at maturity, will weigh 1400 to 1600 lbs., have been selling, at three years old, readily from $100 to $125. Good quality of other classes bring from $50 to $100.

Irrigation and Irrigation Development.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company has now under construction one of the largest irrigation schemes on the American Continent. It embraces an area of some 3,000,000 acres lying east of Calgary, between the Bow River and the Red Deer River. Of this area the company expects to be able to supply water to irrigate about 1,500,000 acres. Canals have already been completed which are capable of furnishing water for irrigating 110,000 acres.

The district comprised within the company's irrigation block is at the present time the largest unoccupied block of good land in the West, and with the introduction of the irrigation system, will afford a first-class opportunity for ranchmen who desire to obtain ranges for grazing purposes, to which are attached lands on which fodder may be raised every year by irrigation. It will also attract the immigrant who desires to obtain a small holding where he can combine ranching on a small scale with dairy or mixed farming.



A Pioneer of Manitoba

Beet Sugar Industry in Alberta

The character of the soil and climate of Southern Alberta has for many years indicated the suitability of the district for the growth of sugar beets. It was not, however, until actual experiments in connection with their growth were made in the Raymond District, south of Lethbridge, that it became evident that both the soil and the climate were especially adapted to the growth of these roots. Following that experiment, a beet sugar factory was erected at Raymond and has been in operation for four years. The beets raised in that district are of very exceptional quality, both as to purity and percentage of saccharine matter, and the factory is turning out a large quantity of first-class sugar. Following these, experiments have been made at certain points adjacent to the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, between Calgary and Medicine Hat, in the growth of sugar beets, and the results obtained indicate that that district will produce beets of first-class quality. The sugar beet, while necessitating considerable labour in its cultivation, gives a first-class return to the farmers, and it now seems certain that within a short time large areas in Southern Alberta will be devoted to the production of sugar beets, and in the near future several large factories will be in operation producing sugar on an extensive scale.

Speaking in Winnipeg in the year 1887, the late Lord Dufferin, the Governor-General of Canada, referred to Manitoba as the key-stone of that mighty arch of sister provinces which spans the continent from the Atlantic to the Pacific. It was bold, picturesque and eloquent language—it marked the thought of a great statesman, who, even at that early stage in the opening up of the West, could picture and predict other provinces yet to be created in that wonderful stretch of prairie land that lay for a thousand miles to the west of Manitoba, and that was some day to be the scene of ever-broadening harvests, multiplying towns and villages, and expanding pastures. Thirty years have now elapsed, and the prediction of the far-seeing statesman has been realized in that inland empire, which, with Manitoba, now embraces the new and vigorous Provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta, and which is the centre of an industrial, commercial and agricultural development that can scarcely be credited by those who have not been actual witnesses of its wonderful achievements.

In those thirty years it has been demonstrated beyond a doubt that Western Canada, with its illimitable dimensions, its wealth of resources, and in the strength of its material might, is destined to be the peer of any power on earth. A land of stupendous possibilities; a rich alluvial region, whose only limit seems to be an ever-receding horizon—truly has it been said that the development of this Kingdom of the North represents the genius of the twentieth century, for here a nation is to be builded that will place more than one of the economical problems that now confront the statesmen and the philosophers in the older portions of the world.

A very important consideration in this connection is undoubtedly the climate, and many wrong impressions regarding Western Canada frequently prevail on this point. It will interest and probably astonish many to be informed that Edmonton—a thousand miles northwest of Winnipeg—has as high an average annual temperature as St. Paul, Minnesota, five hundred miles south of Winnipeg; but a glance at the map having climatic lines will show that this is true. Further, the Northern Michigan and Manitoba have similar temperatures, and as we go north and west the influence of the winds from the Pacific has a marked effect in modifying the climate. The mean temperature in July in Winnipeg is 66, which is higher than in any part of England. The average diurnal range is also much greater than that in England, being from a maximum of 78 [illegible]

Japan In Moral Chaos But Is Dominating Power In The Politics Of Asia

Her Influence, Even In India, Exceeds That of England—These Are Statements Made by Rev. D. Norman, Who Preached Missionary Sermons Yesterday

CHINA GRADUALLY LEARNING

That Japan is the dominating factor in Asiatic politics; that even in India her influence exceeds that of England; that after having sent her sons to the West to learn Western customs they have returned to their native island home and have beaten the Westerners at their own game, were the statements made by Rev. D. Norman, B. A., who preached Missionary Anniversary sermons in the Charlotte street Methodist church yesterday.

Japan is giving Manchuria the best government the province has ever had, and the whole of Asia is sending to the Japanese to learn some of the civilization the possession of which has made that nation the most powerful in respect to her sphere of influence, in the world.

China's Awakening

Following the realization of the tremendous strides civilisation-wards which Japan has been making the Asiatic nations are sending their best young men to that country to learn the secret of her success, and Japanese professors are being engaged by Chinese Universities to teach them. A code of laws was one of the things which the Chinese found they needed, after they had been awakened by Japan's progress and they sent to the Mikado Empire for a man to frame those laws. Last June, when Mr. Norman left Japan there were no less than 9,000 Chinese students in the Japanese Universities, while the Hindoos were also being sent by thousands, to secure higher education.

Evidence of the wonderful progress which Japan has made is found in the fact that her system of telegraphy is the most modern in the world, while in medicine she has made greater advances than any other nation.

Japan's Moral Chaos

In spite of these facts the nation, according to Mr. Norman is in a state of moral chaos; the moral condition of the people being simply indescribable. Evidence of this is furnished by the statics which show that out of every hundred marriages there are on an average between between thirty and thirty-five divorces, and home life is to a great extent unknown. The nation is in the grip of practical materialism, and aethism prevails. The people have lost faith in their old forms of religion, Budhism is discredited, and they have not yet accepted Christianity, though as a result of the work of the Christian Missionaries there are many thousands of Christians. Mr. Norman gave some interesting facts concerning the work of the Methodist church of Canada in Japan. Work, under the auspices of this organization had been carried on in Japan for thirty-three years and in the five districts where the work had been prosecuted the membership of the church now numbers 3,105, an increase of 140 in the last year. There are 26 churches, and 58 appointments. There are 24 ordained Japanese preachers and 18 unordained workers; 9 theological students and 11 foreign missionaries. In May of this year there will be a union of the missions of the Methodist church of Canada, the M. E. Church, of the United States and the M. E. Church South, also of the United States, and with this union the membership will be increased to 12,000, with fifteen or sixteen self-supporting churches.

Importance of Japanese Work

The startling information is given that of the population of Japan, amounting to 49,000,000, only one-eighth of one per cent. is even nominally Christian. The importance of the prosecution of Missionary work in this country was emphasized, and it was pointed out that it was all the more necessary by reason of the fact that Japan is the dominating power in an area which contains about two-thirds of the world's population.

CARTER'S SHELTER WILL BE SECURED AT ONCE

Property Committee Approved of the Building By-law on Saturday

THE SALE OF THE MARKET TOLLS

At a meeting of the Property Committee on Saturday afternoon the building bylaw which provides for the taking out of permits for building done in any part of the city was approved of. The Committee will report at the meeting of the Council to-night. Other business done was the arranging for the carters' shelter.

There were present Ald. McIntyre, chairman; the Mayor, Ald. Elliott, Morgan and Stevenson.

It was moved by Ald. Stevenson, seconded by the Mayor, that this Committee recommend that the chairman be authorized to rent for the carters' shelter, part of lot No. 1, south Charlotte street, east Water street, containing sheds at a rental of $50 per year, the owners to give an agreement for one year and to continue until one of the parties give six months' notice to terminate it, and that the chairman be authorized to put the sheds in proper condition for the purpose of a shelter at an expense not to exceed $60.

It was moved by the Mayor, seconded by Ald. Elliott, that the Committee be authorized to sell the market tolls and charges for the year, beginning April 1st, next, by auction and to have the necessary steps taken to complete the sale.—Carried.

On motion of the Mayor, seconded by Ald. Morgan, the chairman be requested to confer with Mr. Thomas Williams to see upon what terms he would renew agreement for refuse ground for another year.

It was moved by the Mayor, seconded by Ald. Stevenson, that the chairman be authorized to purchase a chair and desk for the city engineer's office.—Carried.

AN INDIAN BURNED AT CAMPBELLFORD

Remains of His Body Buried in a Cigar Box—Carlessness of Children Responsible

An Indian, named John E. Cake, was burned to a crisp yesterday morning in an old shanty on the outskirts of Campbellford. He was closely connected with Yellow Korn, another Indian, who occupied the shanty with him. The accident occurred through the carelessness of some children. The coroner, on hearing the particulars, decided that an inquest was unnecessary. The remains were enclosed in a cigar box and buried on the spot.—Campbellford Despatch.

Otonabee Power Company Withdraws Its Offer

To Supply Power to the City from Dam No. 4—Reasons Are Set Forth in Letter Sent to the County Clerk To-day—Would Mean Increase to Present Consumers

The Otonabee Power Company is withdrawing its offer to supply power to the city from the proposed development of No. 4 dam, and the reasons for the withdrawal of the offer are given in the following letter, which the company has sent to the Council:

S. H. Armstrong, Esq.,
City Clerk,
Peterborough, Ont.

Re dam No. 4—

Dear Sir,—We have carefully perused the resolution passed by the City Council at their meeting, held on the 25th ult.

Our object in suggesting to the Council to endorse and support our application to the Government for a lease of dam No. 4, was to enable our company to obtain such lease on such favourable terms that the company could afford to supply the citizens of Peterborough and new industries with power and light at the lowest possible cost.

We regret to state that the concessions which the Council desire to have made in favour of new industries are so excessive that it would be necessary for our company to make a general advance in the price of electric power and light to every one of our present consumers in Peterborough, in order to comply with its demands, and in order to give a fair return to our shareholders on their investment.

We prefer to stand by the customers we have and see that they are fairly treated, rather than give, at their expense, more favourable terms to strangers. Moreover, the terms imposed by the Council are so onerous that it will not pay this company to accept a lease, rent free, accompanied by a very substantial bonus per annum. It is needless to say that we do not desire assistance from the Council to obtain a lease at any such sacrifice to our company and its customers.

Hence we desire to withdraw our application and honour, and in doing so we beg to state that, should we obtain a lease on terms we are prepared to accept, we shall be glad at any time to co-operate with the Council in assisting them to attract industries to Peterborough by offering our surplus power on fair and reasonable terms.

Yours respectfully,
Otonabee Power Company, Limited,
W. H. MELDRUM, Manager.

The above communication speaks for itself. Accepting its statements as justified by the facts and circumstances, it seems that by attempting to drive to a close a bargain, the Council has defeated an object so generally desirable in the interests of the citizens. If the specific demands of the Council had been advanced as the consideration for services done to the company, they could not have been more exacting. If the Council had acceded to the request of the company to endorse the application of the company for a lease of No. 4 Dam, the company might have been placed in a position to afford to supply, as the letter states, "new industries with power and light at the lowest possible cost." As the matter stands, the company withdraws its offer to the Council, since the latter does not feel inclined, apparently, to enter into an arrangement to supply power on the Council's terms, at a losing figure.

Give Fair Play to

A really reliable remedy for headache—Zutoo.

If you have got it into your head that Zutoo Tablets will hurt you, you are mistaken.

It isn't fair to us for you to judge Zutoo by the drug cures.

It isn't fair to yourself to suffer from headache, when this really harmless vegetable headache cure is within your reach.

The fair thing for both of us is—to judge Zutoo on its merits—to test it.

If you find it does not cure your headache, sick, nervous or otherwise, in twenty minutes, and leave you feeling good every time—no bad after effects, then discard it.

But do not condemn it unfairly without a trial, and keep on suffering from headaches. You really do not have to, and one trial of Zutoo will prove it.

All we ask for Zutoo is fair play—that you give it a trial before concluding as to its merits or demerits.

Wont you do this? You'll be glad ever after if you do.

We'll send trial tablets for nothing, or you can buy them at dealers in 10c. and 25c. packages.

ENGLISHMEN AND ENGLISHMEN

The sensitiveness of national sentiment is exemplified in the correspondence evoked by a letter by Mr. Earle, printed recently in the Examiner, making certain strictures upon a certain class of Englishmen. Without either approving or condemning these strictures it may be suggested that the application and spirit of these strictures are faulty and misunderstood. There was no sweeping condemnation of the English nationality, but of a class that seemed, from certain points of view to possess undesirable characteristics. We have undesirable and objectionable classes in all nationalities, English, Irish, Scotch, French and Canadians. Criticism of the actions and characteristics of objectionable classes should not be taken as a condemnation of the nationality to which they belong. When Englishmen in Canada depart in their manners or actions from what we consider orthodox, the greater attention is perhaps attracted, because we are inclined to expect more from what may be regarded as the dominent race of the world, which has given the world the greatest men in all realms of human distinction and achievement. We regard England as the cradle of that civilization, enlightenment and civil and religious liberty which are the special possession of English speaking communities. In Peterborough and Canada we count among our best citizens many Englishmen. On the contrary, we have among Englishmen many, with very undesirable qualities, who have evidently left their native land for its good—who are undesirable citizens at home and naturally carry their undesirable qualities into Canada. If a native-born and reared Canadian, went to England and bore himself as some Englishmen do in coming to Canada, we should heartily applaud any condemnation of him the English might be provoked to make, and be amply justified in the making. If they were supercilious, patronizing and openly decried and sneered at English customs and conditions, if they patronized English people and looked down upon them as inferiors, if they cursed England if England did not see its way clear to support them without work, if they played the card and expected to be socially taken at their own estimate—under all or any of these circumstances Canadians in England would be deserving of the severest censure. But it would be as manifestly unfair and unjust to regard such persons as a type of C[illegible]ans as it would be to regard a corresponding type of Englishmen, unfortunately, not unknown in Canada, as a true type of the genuine English character. There are many Englishmen who are a shame and a reproach to multitudes of honest, decent, industrious and sober Englishmen who come to Canada and on coming recognize the difference in customs, usages and ways of doing things, and general conditions and sensibly take things as they find them and make the best of them. This class of persons by honesty, industry, thrift and the general exercise of the sterling qualities that inhere in the true English character, generally achieves success and becomes citizens of whom we are proud. Such Englishmen, or Englishmen like them, we heartily welcome. But Canada has "no use" for the beer-guzzling, lazy, thriftless, idle, dissolute and un-working Englishman or Irishman or Scotchman, or man of any other nationality. We regard it as no inhospitality to turn a cold shoulder to such persons of any country. We have no welcome for them. But the country has open arms, vacant lands, vacant places, happy homes, prosperity and honoured citizenship for the respectable, honest, thrifty, industrious Englishmen or Irishmen or Scotchmen. There is no place for drones or drivellers in the Canadian hive.

TORONTO LICENSE INQUIRY CONTINUES ITS SITTINGS

Fancy Prices on Licenses—Something in Regard to "Influence"

How profits are made in selling an hotel business apart from the property was shown at the Toronto License Inquiry on Saturday in connection with the Daly House. W. R. Memberry, who owned the property, bought the business for $20,000, sold it four months later for 40,000 after refitting it, making a total profit of $15,800 or nearly $4,000 per month. The property itself originally cost him $122,000, he spent $13,000 on a new wing, $25,000 on repairs in ten years, and now gets $4,800 a year rent, or over nine per cent. interest. He retained the property when he sold the business.

Mr. Percy Kerwin, secretary of the License Holders' Association gave testimony as to the methods employed and gave important testimony in the fact that certain lawyers were uniformly employed by the Association because the Conservative lawyers employed had "influence."

THE LAST RESPECTS WERE PAID TO DECEASED

Funeral of the Late John A. MacDonald Took Place on Saturday Afternoon

A VERY IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY HELD

A most impressive realization of the fact that the whole community mourned the loss of a brilliant young man, was evidenced by the funeral of the late John A. MacDonald, which took place on Saturday afternoon. At the public service, which was held in the Murray street Baptist church, the edifice was crowded with friends and acquaintances of the deceased, who gathered to pay their last respects to his memory and to show their sympathy for the bereved relatives.

A short service was conducted at the residence of the deceased's sister, Mrs. Cottingham, Bagot street, by Rev. J. R. Webb, of the Murray street Baptist church, after which the long funeral cortege proceeded to the church. There was a large representation of Otonabee Lodge, No. 13, I.O.O.F., of which the late Mr. MacDonald was a member.

The service at the church was a solemn and impressive one. Not only was the edifice thronged with Peterborough friends of the deceased young man, but representatives were also present from the seats of learning with which he was identified. Prof. P. S. Campbell was present on behalf of the faculty and pupils of McMaster University, while Toronto University was represented by Messrs. N. T. Beeman, President First Year; S. M. McLay, and G. MacDougall, a striking tribute to the popularity of the late Mr. MacDonald, and the esteem in which he was held by all with whom he came in contact.

After prayer had been offered by Rev. J. G. Potter, of St. Andrew's, Rev. J. R. Webb spoke words of encouragement to the bereved family.

Mr. N. T. Beeman, of Toronto University, president of the first year, said that the whole class regretted the death of the late Mr. MacDonald and sympathised with his relatives in their bereavement. The deceased had only been a member of the class for a short time, but had become one of the most popular and would have been one of the most brilliant. He was loved and respected by all, said the speaker.

Prof. Campbell, of McMaster University, spoke in terms of the highest praise of the late Mr. Macdonald. He was present, he said, on behalf of the faculty and pupils of the University, for the purpose of conveying the deep and sincere sympathy of all, at the irreparable loss sustained by his family in the death of a noble young man. The speaker said that the deceased had been a member of his class in Latin and Greek for four years, and referred to the fact that he had obtained the degree of B.A., and was an M.A., in classics. The speaker had grown fond of him, and had found that he led a sincere, and pure and upright life, and the deceased had always regarded Jesus Christ as the One who had given him power to do so. "He was always proud of being a Christian," said the speaker. Prof. Campbell inquired of those present if they were ready to meet death, and advised them, if they were not, to get ready, without delay, for they knew not when they would be called upon to face their Master.

The beautiful floral offerings were a mute but significant expression of the popularity of the deceased. They included the following: Brother Masons, Toronto University, a wreath; Phi Delta Theta Fraternity, Toronto University, a wreath; Peterborough Rugby Club, a wreath; Peterborough Lodge, No. 155, A. F. and A. M., Compass and Square; Otonabee Lodge, No. 13, I.O.O.F., three links; Medical Class, 1910, Toronto University, broken column; Alumni Association, Toronto University, anchor; Medical Society, Toronto University, anchor; the family, gates ajar.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. Harry Fills, J. Jordan, E. M. Best, T. Henderson, R. Mowry, and J. Anderson.

REGULAR MEETING OF CITY COUNCIL TO-NIGHT

Some Important Business is to be Taken Up by Aldermen

The regular monthly meeting of the City Council will be held to-night when some important business will be taken up. The council among other things will take up the Kinnear Company's siding question. The agreement with the Bell Telephone Company in reference to the fire alarm system will also be discussed. It is expected that the purchase of the Peterborough Light and Power Company's business will come up and the power committee will report.

MEN WORKING AT THE CLAY FIELD AT DRUMMOND'S

The Digger Has Been Set Up and Arrangements Being Slowly Completed for an Early Commencement

Work at the new clayfield at Drummond's Station is being pushed ahead. The Lakefield Cement Company have purchased land there with a clay bed suitable for their manufacture, but work will not be commenced until the spring. In the meantime the Company is making preparations to be ready for digging as soon as the frost is out of the ground. A digger has been set up and is almost ready for work. When a siding is laid into the grounds, the work will then be started by taking the surface dirt off until the necessary clay is reached.

MELANCHOLY?

Can't even sleep—restless day and night, brooding over imagined troubles all the time. Your disease isn't in the brain, but in the blood, which is watery and thin, because you don't assimilate your food.

Do the right thing now and you'll be cured quickly. Just take Ferrozone; it turns everything you eat into nourishment. It puts new tone into the blood, quickens and vitalizes the worn-out nerves. The weary brain is relieved, sleeplessness disappears and brooding ceases.

FERROZONE

For health—vigor—spirits, try this grand food tonic—none better. It uplifts, braces, tones, makes you feel like new. Both old and young, male and female, derive unquestionable benefit from this grand medicine.

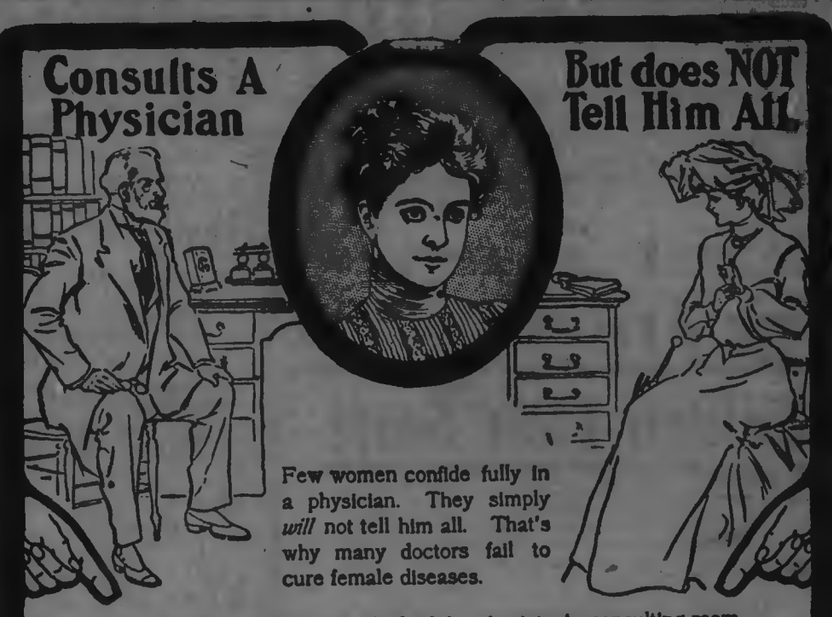
Consults A Physician



But does NOT Tell Him All.

Few women confide fully in a physician. They simply will not tell him all. That's why many doctors fail to cure female diseases.

Every woman dreads the ordeal of the physician's consulting room. A sensitive, refined woman shrinks from the searching questions and the physical examination!

It is not so in writing to Mrs. Pinkham. Thousands of women owe their present health and happiness (yes, and their good looks, too) to the fact that they have told all their physical troubles to Mrs. Pinkham and followed her advice and been cured of female diseases.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Cures more women every year than any other medicine in the world. If you are in doubt about your case, write in perfect confidence to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. You will receive in reply a personal letter of advice free. Mrs. Pinkham is daughter-in-law of Lydia Pinkham, and for twenty-five years under her direction, and since her decease, she has been advising sick women free of charge.

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered intensely with suppressed periods and pain every month for years, and could get no relief from physicians' prescriptions or other medicine. I was advised to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and did so, and in a very short time the flow was regular, natural and without pain.

I am, indeed, a grateful, happy woman for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me.

ELLEN WALBY, Wellington Hotel, Ottawa, Ont.

Mrs. Hayes also profited by Mrs. Pinkham's advice.

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Sometime ago I wrote you describing my symptoms (fibroid tumor) and asked your advice. You replied and I followed all your directions carefully and to-day am a well woman.

To Whom It May Concern

To all those, who, for some reason or other, may have to make a visit to the police station, a little advice is given that they may not incur the disfavour of the Chief, or any of his staff, viz., "Never press your face against the window before entering the door." Those inside do not like it, therefore walk in, without first gazing through the window.

Lukes Church

The following services will be held at St. Luke's during the ensuing week: To-night at 8 o'clock, the annual meeting and election of officers of the Girls' Auxiliary; all the members and others wishing to join are requested to be present. Those holding collecting boxes will please bring them to-night. After the meeting refreshments will be served. The annual meeting and election of officers of Sunnyside Branch of the W. A., will be held on Tuesday, at 2.30, at the residence of Mrs. John Michels. Wednesday evening service at 8 o'clock. Special preacher Rev. A. J. Reid of Campbellford. After the Wednesday evening service a meeting of the local assembly of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, will be held at St. John's school house. The W.A. meets on Thursday at 2.30 p.m. Lenten services will be held at St. John's church on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 5 p.m. The Mission band meets on Friday at 4.15, at the residence of Mrs. W. J. Scott. At the Friday evening service, Rev. J. H. Teney of Otremore, will preach. Choir practice will be held on Wednesday at the close of the service.

Back So Lame Could Not Walk

DOCTOR'S EFFORTS WERE IN VAIN BUT CURE CAME WITH THE USE OF

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS.

It is not always the doctor's fault when he tries to give temporary relief instead of lasting cure. Sometimes patients demand it.

The thorough, far-reaching and lasting effects of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are well illustrated in this case, in contrast with the doctor's failure to even bring relief:

Mr. Geo. Tryon, Westport, Leeds Co., Ont., writes:—"For two years I was completely laid up with lame back, and could neither walk nor ride. I tried many treatments and the doctor put on a fly blister, which only increased the suffering and did not do me the slightest good.

"A friend told me about Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and I had not finished the first box before I was completely cured. I have never had a lame back or kidney trouble since, and it has been the means of selling dozens of boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. We are never without them in the house and think there is no medicine like them."

The urea, uric acid and other poisonous waste substances which are left in the blood after the process of digestion has taken place are eliminated from the system by the action of the kidneys. Failure of the kidneys to perform this important work of filtration means a poisoning of the whole system and consequently the most painful of diseases, such as Bright's disease, lumbago, backache and rheumatism.

The cause of such ailments are most promptly removed by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. This great family medicine has a combined action on the liver, kidneys and bowels which is not possessed by any similar preparation. The whole system is quickly and thoroughly cleansed and the vital organs invigorated by this treatment. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box.

Sloth Induces Neglect Of The Christian Duties

A Strong Denunciation of This Form of Self-Indulgence Preached by Rev. E. A. Langfeldt in St. Luke's Church Last Night

At Evensong last night, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt preached a forceful sermon on "Sloth," from the text, Acts, xxiv., 25,—"Go thy way for this time; when I have a convenient season I will call for thee." He referred to the solemn fact that men and women were living under the influence of a strong delusion, trusting in it, destroyed at last by it,—namely, that, in matters which concern the soul, "there is no hurry." Unbelief, hypocrisy, drunkenness, dishonesty and vice are slaying their thousands, but indifference and sloth, their tens of thousands! Sloth, the cause: conviction, without repentance, the immediate, and eternal death, the final effect. If the ministers of Christ had but a gospel of sloth to preach, how popular and fashionable a gospel it would be!

But the gospel of Jesus Christ is one that requires something the very opposite of sloth from its followers. And so one can understand that, with certain people, to whom the idea of self-restraint is altogether distasteful, Lent was never a popular institution.

It is sloth which persuades people that Sunday, being a day of rest, they may legitimately lie in bed all the afternoon, as they sit looking out of the window, with a novel lying on their knees, and end the day with a mild dose of religion by going to church in the evening.

It is sloth which provides you with a dozen of excuses for neglecting some duty.

It is sloth which makes one, who has leisure to take up some good work for God and live a life of usefulness, say, "Some one else will do it much better than I should. It really is not at all in my line."

But sloth is more than all this—it is the exact opposite to self-control—and it is just self-indulgence in every form.

Sloth says to a man, "Indulge your desires and your passions to the full"; no matter how selfish, how cruel those passions may be. And so sloth is the very handmaid of vice.

Sloth makes a man cling to his sins, and sloth is urging men that there is no hurry.

He supposed that if the apostle himself could stand before a congregation again and reason, "of righteousness, temperance and judgment to come," some would say, "Go thy way for this time." The business man would say, "After this one venture. I must wait and see how it will turn out."

The pleasure-loving people, "Let me just once more take my pleasure in my own way"; the gambler, "Just this once, and I will never touch cards or dice again."

"The drunkard, "Only one more drink, and I will sober up."

And all the while, their sloth is driving them to perdition, and they know it not.

In closing his remarks, the rector urged his people to shake off the foul spirit of sloth this Lent. It is a sin which is weakening the character, destroying manhood and womanhood. "Keep under your body: bring it into subjection," lest these words come to apply to you, "Because I have stretched out My hand, and no man regarded, I will also laugh at your calamity; I will mock when your fear cometh."

GUELPH TRAIN WRECK.

Scrutiny of Broken Rail Shows Rust In the Break.

Guelph, March 4.—A thorough investigation into the cause of the wreck on the G. T. R. near here will be made by the Government. Mr. Ed. C. Lalonde of Ottawa, accompanied by Mr. A. Bougault, has arrived to get all the information that is to be had from every source available. Mr. Lalonde made an inspection of the broken rail at the Police Court, in company with Chief Randall and Coroner Dr. Robinson. The small piece of the rail was weighed at the market scales, and the condition of the broken steel and the pounded ends was carefully inspected. The condition of the raw steel where the break occurred, shows that the break did not go clear through at the one time, for in places the steel is covered with rust, while in others it is bright. But, although a portion of the break looks fresh, the pounded condition of the broken ends seems to indicate that the rail was broken clear through some time before the train was derailed.

Ernest Ironside Met Death Mysteriously Near Port Arthur.

Port Arthur, March 4.—Peculiar wounds on the body of Ernest Ironside, who was supposed to have been killed by a snow-plough near Mackenzie on the C. P. R., and the finding of a blood-stained knife and signs of a struggle, have led Coroner Laurie to hold an inquest, which will be continued to-day.

The theory is that Ironside was beaten and stabbed, and that his body then was placed on the tracks to make death appear accidental. His clothes were torn and cuts on his arms indicate that he tried to ward off blows.

A WOMAN'S BACK WAS NOT MADE TO ACHE

Thousands of Women suffer Untold Misery Every Day with Aching Backs That Really have no Business to Ache.

Under ordinary conditions it ought to be strong and ready to bear the burdens of life. It is hard to do housework with an aching back. Backache comes from sick kidneys, and what a lot of trouble sick kidneys cause.

But they can't help it. If more work is put on them than they can stand it is not to be wondered that they get out of order.

Backache is simply a warning from the kidneys and should be attended to immediately so as to avoid years of terrible suffering from Kidney trouble.

Doan's Kidney Pills

will cure you in the same way as they have cured thousands of others.

Mrs. Thos. Craig, Almonte, Ont., writes: "I was doctoring for six months for kidney trouble and my back was so lame I had to lie in bed. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I did so and in one week I was able to walk with very little pain, and in five months my back was as strong as ever.

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50 cents per box or 3 boxes for $1.25 at all dealers, or will be mailed direct on receipt of price by The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

East Peterborough Liberals Hold Their Annual Meeting

A Good Gathering of Liberals of the East Riding Held at Norwood on Saturday, When Officers Were Elected

MR. HUGH GUTHRIE'S ADDRESS

Splendid Record of the Liberals Since They Were Returned to Power at Ottawa--Other Prominent Liberals Gave Addresses

The first annual meeting of the East Peterborough Liberal Association was held on Saturday afternoon in the town hall, Norwood, and was attended by about one hundred Liberals, the majority of them from the east riding. The election of officers for the year took place, and, following the business for which the meeting was called, a number of addresses were given, the principal speaker of the day being Mr. Hugh Guthrie, K.C., M.P., of South Wellington, who gave an interesting and eloquent address, on the events in Canada's history during the eleven years since the Liberals were returned to power in the Dominion House, and compared the progress and prosperity which Canada had enjoyed since 1896 to the period of depression which preceded that time.

The meeting was enthusiastic, and indicated that the Liberals of East Peterborough are progressive and that they take a deep and practical interest in public affairs.

Resolutions, expressing confidence in the Premier of the Dominion and congratulating Hon. G. P. Graham upon his election as leader of the Liberals in Ontario, were presented, and enthusiastically adopted by the meeting.

The Officers

The election of officers, which was the first business of the day, resulted as follows:

President—John Lang, ex-M.P.

Vice-Presidents—

Asphodel, Warden McNulty.
Belmont, Joseph Johnston.
Burleigh and Anstruther, C. R. D Booth.
Clandon, D. Campbell.
Douro, D. Moloney.
Dummer, Ed. Hawthorne.
Otonabee, W. B. Stewart.
Havelock, Wm. Mathison.
Lakefield, John Hull.
Norwood, Thos. J. Drain.

Secretary—Dr. Robertson.

Treasurer—H. G. Buck.

The following resolutions were presented to the meeting, and heartily endorsed:

Moved by Dr. Robertson, seconded by Charles O'Reilly, that the Liberals of East Peterborough wish to express and place on record their recognition of the lofty, personal character and abilities of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, of his splendid loyalty to Canada and Canadian interests, and his splendid faith in its future, and of the wisdom, enterprise and success of his administration of its affairs, with results that have been attended with unexampled prosperity and a degree and rate of progress, greater, in ten years of his premiership, than in the whole past history of Confederation; and, that the Liberals of East Peterborough also wish to heartily approve of, and endorse, his entire course and policy, and, further, that Mr. John Finlay, M.P., has their good-will and approval.

Moved by John Finlay, M.P., seconded by Charles O'Reilly, that this meeting desires to place on record its warm endorsation of the action of the Liberal members of the Legislative Assembly in appointing Hon. G. P. Graham, leader of the Liberal party in the Province, and believe he will prove himself worthy of the confidence that has been placed in him. We also desire to express our confidence in the principles of the Liberal party, believing that these principles beat as sound and true in the hearts of the Liberals of this Province as ever before, and express the hope that at no distant date Hon. G. P. Graham will be leading the Legislative Assembly of the Province.

Mr. W. F. Summerhayes, of the Central Liberal Association offices, Toronto, was present and gave a short address.

The Speeches

Mr. Wm. Anderson, M.P.P., who was received with cheers, expressed his pleasure at being present at the first annual meeting of the East Peterborough Liberal Association. This was the first opportunity he had had since his election of thanking his friends for the noble work they had done for him at his last election. It was very gratifying to him to know that he was elected, and this distinction was all the greater when he recalled the fact that he was the only Liberal elected to the Legislature between Ottawa and Toronto along the north. It showed that the Liberals of East Peterborough were true to their colours. The Conservatives had been in power in Ontario now for two years, and he did not know that they had shown the people of the Province anything to recommend them to the consideration of the electors. Some new Acts had been passed, but many of them were proving unsatisfactory. The School Act was cited as one of this class, and the speaker thought that the members of the Government must have found this out from the many petitions which had been received asking for its repeal or amendment. The Legislature had been flooded during the past few weeks, since the session opened, with petitions appealing against the Liquor Act, and asking for the repeal of the most objectionable three-fifths clause of that measure.

The mining legislation, too, was given as another evidence of the dissatisfaction evinced over the new measures adopted by the Legislature, and many deputations had visited Toronto to protest against the unfair provisions of the Act relating to minerals.

What success the Conservative party of Ontario had met with was the result of the work of the Liberals who were in power before them, and who had laid the foundation for the present conditions, so far as the financial situation of the Province is concerned. The Temiskaming Railway, provision for the construction of which was made by the Liberal Government, was opposed by the Conservatives in Opposition, yet it had proved to be a great revenue producer, as had the succession duties, which had likewise been opposed by the Conservatives.

He did not know whether his health would permit him to be a candidate again, but in any event he would never forget the splendid work which the Liberals of the riding had done for him.

Mr. Anderson, before closing, referred in complimentary terms to Hon. G. P. Graham, who had proven himself a capable leader of the Ontario Liberals. He had given evidence of a grasp of public affairs and would, he predicted, lead the Liberals of the Province to victory, and a worthy successor to that great Liberal, Hon. Geo. W. Ross, who had entered a wider sphere.

Mr. Finlay's Record

In a short speech, Mr. John Finlay, M.P., gave an account of his stewardship since his election to represent East Peterborough in the House of Commons. He pointed out that he had secured grants of $1,500 for a wharf at Burleigh Falls, and for Crowe's wharf, and $3,000 for an outlet of the Otonabee. New post-offices had also been established at Centre Dummer, Owenbrook and Chase's Corners, while several changes and improvements in mail routes had been effected.

Referring to the record of the Dominion Government, Mr. Finlay expressed his belief that no more honest or progressive Government had ever been in power in Canada.

Mr. Guthrie

Mr. Hugh Guthrie expressed his pleasure at visiting Norwood for the first time, and was glad to be present and say a few words for his friend, Mr. Finlay. Mr. Guthrie plunged at once into an interesting discussion on material conditions in Canada, which, he remarked, was more of a democracy than even the Republics of the United States or France. We have here the reign of the common people, a government of the people, for the people, by the people. Under this form of government, too, Canada is prospering.

Depression Followed Inflation

Referring to conditions existing prior to 1896, Mr. Guthrie stated that, following the introduction of what was known as the National Policy, in 1878, there was a period of commercial inflation, followed, as always the case, by a period of stagnation. There was, apparently, no one at the head of affairs who was able or willing to deal with the conditions which existed. The United States, at the same time, was passing through a similar period of depression, and they set to work to improve their condition, and the result was the introduction of the McKinley and Dingley tariffs, which had a disastrous effect on the trade of Canada, so far as exports to the United States were concerned, the Canadians finding themselves shut out of the market of that country.

The Remedy Applied

Such were the conditions prevailing in 1896, when the Liberals were returned to power, and immediately the Government set itself to work to see where the failing trade of the country could be improved.

In 1897, the first Fielding tariff was introduced, and in it was sounded for the first time the note of Imperial preference for the British Empire. An immediate result of this preference was that a market for the agricultural products of Canada was built up in the British Isles, and Canada's trade at once began to improve. This was the first step, but the Government did not stop there. They saw the inequalities in the tariff, and appointed a commission to go among the people, not simply to a few manufacturers, but all the interests of the people were considered, and, under the tariff framed, as a result of the work of this commission, Canada has gone on to prosper, and is still prospering.

Growth of Trade

In the eight end years of Conservative rule, preceding 1896, the increase in the trade of the country was $68,000,000, while in the ten years under Liberal Government the increase was not less than $360,000,000, and the foreign trade of Canada alone last year amounted to $500,000,000.

Revenue Trippled

The revenue, which was $30,000,000 in 1896, has almost trippled in the ten years since, the figures for last year being $100,000,000. There are on deposit in the chartered banks of Canada to-day $700,000,000, or over $100 per head of the population, while in 1896 it only amounted to $32, or less than one-third the present deposits.

The Liberal party, Mr. Guthrie contended, could congratulate itself that in the more than ten years since it assumed control of the affairs of the Dominion, no charge of graft had been made in the House against any member of the Liberal administration or against the Liberal members. Unfortunately, however, the Liberals had been forced to make charges against members of the Conservative party, and these charges had been proven, the result being that one Minister had been driven from public life, another had been expelled from the House of Commons, and another member had been expelled from the House and lodged in the penitentiary.

A Great Leader

The speaker paid a warm tribute to the worth of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and questioned if since there was a Canada, as great a man has risen in our midst. Although a French-Canadian, he did not believe that among the statesmen which Canada had produced, there was a man who was more truly British, and, so long as he was at the head of affairs in Canada, there was a guarantee in the man himself that Canada would be under British rule.

Future is Bright

The flood of immigration coming into Canada was referred to by Mr. Guthrie, who pointed out that returns from four States of the Union showed that no less than 60,000 of their citizens had crossed the border into the Canadian North-west, and that they had brought with them into the country $480,000,000 worth of effects. There was no cloud on the horizon of Canada; her future was bright, and he could see no good reason why the people should look for a change of government, while the present administration was governing affairs so well.

Mr. R. R. Hall, M. P.

After expressing his pleasure at being present at the gathering, Mr. R. R. Hall, M. P., referred to the unique position in which Canada, by reason of the present prosperity, found herself. While the average deposits per head in the national savings banks of the United States, amounted to $50, in Canada, it was $100. The wealth of the United States is centred in a few hands, while in Canada it is scattered, and there are no billionaire trusts to menace the trade of the country.

The improved condition of the trade of Canada since 1896, when the Liberals entered power, was referred to by Mr. Hall, who pointed out that while in that year it was impossible to ship cheese to England, because of the lack of cold storage facilities, by the work of Hon. Sidney Fisher, in establishing a chain of cold storage stations, refrigerator cars and steamers, the dairy business of Canada had grown to such an extent that last year no less than $24,000,000 worth of cheese had been shipped from this country to the English markets.

The same applies to apples, for while in 1896 the apple exports to England did not amount to a bill of beans, last year the value of the exports in apples was $4,500,000.

Canada's foreign trade is the greatest per head of population of any country in the world, and the same may be said of her savings deposits.

Mr. Hall referred to the record and work of the Ontario Government led by Hon. G. W. Ross, and remarked that had it not been for the railway built by the Government with which Mr. Ross and Mr. Stratton were associated, the world would not have known anything of Cobalt. This railway had opened up one of the richest mineral sections in the world.

Mr. Whitney was but reaping the result of the wise policy of the Liberal Government which preceded him.

Hon. J. R. Stratton

Hon. J. R. Stratton, who was next called upon, said that he had not come to make a speech. He had merely, in his newspaper capacity, dropped in to see them at their first annual meeting. He hoped they would every year do likewise, and invite the leaders of the party to speak to them upon the public questions of the day. There was no doubt that the country had made great progress since the advent of the Liberal party to power in the Dominion. In every branch of industry the development had been great, but in no case greater than that which had been given to the agricultural and dairying industries. In regard to provincial matters the present Government was reaping the harvest sown by the Ross Government in connection with the construction of the Temiscamingue Railway and other great works. The opening up of new country, was being felt in this province just now to the advantage of all classes of citizens. The Government was getting themselves into trouble already. The Central Prison matters, and the Toronto licenes affair, were causing them some anxiety. Mr. Stratton said he did not come to make a speech and would not detain them longer for fear he might be induced to break into general matters.

Short addresses were also given by Mr. F. D. Kerr, Peterborough; Mr. T. J. Johnston, Otonabee; and Mr. W. T. Buck, Norwood. A vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Guthrie and the other speakers, and after cheers for the King, the Liberal leaders, and the chairman, the meeting closed.

CREATORS OF SEMI-READY

Both From the Midland Counties—One a Former Resident of Pembroke

Pembroke and Peterborough supplied the creation and development of the great Semi-ready tailoring system. From the first town came John E. Kennedy, whose conception of the first idea of making fine clothes on the physique type system so quickly revolutionized fine tailoring for men. The present director and designer of Semi-ready tailoring is President Andrew Mercer, a native of Peterborough, who for many years conducted the largest merchant tailoring business in the Midland counties. Mr. Mercer has always been the chief designer, and it is to his enthusiastic study, coupled with his large experience, that the success of Semi-ready tailoring is chiefly due.

The new styles of Semi-ready tailoring are now on view at the store of Walters & Rodell, in Pembroke.

THE T.A.S. DEBATING CLUB MEET TO-MORROW NIGHT

The Subject is "Resolved That Capital Punishment Should be Abandoned"

The Debating Club of St. Peter's T. A. S. will hold its regular meeting to-morrow (Tuesday) evening in the assembly hall at 8 p.m. The question that will be the subject for debate is, "Resolved, That Capital Punishment should be Abandoned." Messrs. A. Sharpe, J. Hickey, Faux and Foley are the four gentlemen who will constitute the opposing sides. All those interested in this section of the society are requested to be present. A general discussion will follow after the decision has been given.

Severe Form of Asthma

"I first used Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine with my little girl, who suffered from a severe form of asthma. The least exposure of cold would lay her up, and she would nearly suffocate for want of breath. I must say that I found it to be a most satisfactory treatment and it has entirely cured her."—Mrs A. Bestowal Of Children Is Work Of God's Favour

So Says Rev. A. H. Brace in Sermon in Connection With the Sunday School Anniversary Sermons in Park Street Baptist Church Yesterday—Mr. Thos. McGillicuddy Preached at Night

Large congregations gathered to celebrate the Sunday school anniversary of the Park street Baptist church yesterday. The sermon in the morning was preached by Rev. A. H. Brace, on "A Boy Given Away," Zach. iii, 3. The preacher said there was culpable recklessness shown by many parents, and the value of a boy was sadly underestimated. The bestowal of children was held to be a divine favour, and children withheld felt to be a chastening from the Lord.

The children are environed with imperative commands upon their parents; they must have tender and delicate handling. Do not sin against the child. They shall develop in beauty and usefulness. The most neglected and needy are nearest God's heart.

It's the loneliest house you ever saw,
This big, grey house where I stay;
I don't call it living, at all at all
Since mother has gone away.

I tell you the very lonesomest thing
In this great big world of to-day,
Is a boy of ten, whose heart is broken—
Cause his mother is gone away.

It will be a glorious day when teachers and parents shall stand before the King, and say: "Behold I, and the children whom God hath given me."

Master Wilton Tranter sang "I'll be a Sunbeam."

Mr. Thomas MacGillicuddy preached at night from the words, "Show me a penny," enforcing the different lessons suggested by the coin.

Temperance Committee And The Three-Fifths Clause

The General Committee on Temperance and General Reform, of the Methodist church of Canada, will meet to-morrow in Toronto, and Rev. J. G. Lewis, who is a representative on the Committee from the Bay of Quinte Conference, will attend. The object of the gathering, which will be attended by representives from all parts of the Dominion, is to receive the report of the secretary, Rev. Dr. Chown, who will tell of the result of his recent visits to the different churches. It is probable, too, that an assistant secretary will be elected, and the name most frequently mentioned in this connection, is that of Rev. J. W. Cooley, of the Hamilton Conference, one of the most energetic temperance workers in the church.

The situation in Ontario, as a result of the clause of the Local Option Act, making it necessary for three-fifths of the electors to vote in favour of Local Option, before it can be carried, will also, in all probability, be one of the matters discussed.

THE MEN'S SERVICE WAS WELL ATTENDED

Interesting and Helpful Services at Springville Presbyterian Church Yesterday—Some of the Features

The services in the Springville Presbyterian church, with Rev. H. G. Livingston, of Hamilton, assisting, were of an especially interesting and helpful character. In the morning Mr. Livingston preached and sang two solos, and also sang at Bethany in the afternoon. The evening service at Springville was for men exclusively, and was largely attended, several hundred men being present. The sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. March, and Mr. Livingston sang three solos. The subject of the sermon was the necessity of the Christian life.

Next Sunday night the young men will take charge of the service.

The Sermon Was Appropriate; Electric Lights Did Go Out

"Give us of your oil, for our lamps are gone out," was the very appropriate text from which Rev. Dr. Torrance preached his sermon last night, in the dark, the lights in reality have gone out, so far as St. Paul's and the other churches on the Otonabee Power Company's circuit, were concerned.

When the plant was being started up about 4 o'clock for the night's run, the armatures on the exciter was short-circuited, and one section burned out. The result was that the plant could not be operated until the reserve armature, kept on hand for just such accidents, was installed, to replace that put out of commission.

The lights were on again about 8 o'clock, but in the meantime the churches were dimly lighted. Those in which this condition prevailed were St. Paul's church, Murray street Baptist, All Saints', St. St. Luke's, Mark street Methodist, Salvation Army Barracks, and the Christian Science church.

It was an accident entirely unforseen by the company, and was regretted by them as much as by any of those who were put to inconvenience by reason of the trouble.

Mr. Barton Earle Replies To Letter Written by "Canuck"

To The Editor of The Examiner.

Dear Sir,—I have looked for some serious attempt at a reply to my articles on Bridge Whist, which might lead to further discussion; but it appears that the devotees of the game, though they have much to say on the streets, and in places of resort, are not willing to undertake a defence in the columns of the papers. All sensible people will admit that the little squibs called forth by the few lines in which I referred in disparaging terms to a certain class of Englishmen, are unworthy of serious consideration, and no further notice would be taken of them were it not that the one signed "Canuck" is not, as in the other cases, due to misapprehension, but to malice. I had said that I would not notice an anonymous communication; but, in this case, the author has stamped his character on his production so perfectly that there is no possibility of mistaking him.

When I say that I have known him from his boyhood; that he was in my classes at the Collegiate Institute; and, that, for years, he has been a frequent contributor to the Press, it will be clear that he could not easily disguise his style, or, rather, his want of style, from me. No other writer in Peterborough has such facility in the construction of meaningless sentences, or is as capable of writing such an "infinite deal of nothing." Being incapable of clear thought, his sentences are always lacking in clearness of expression. I have always looked upon his pretension to authorship as a joke. His composition is like his philanthropy,—the one requires no brains, the other no money.

I might say something of Canuck's cowardice in not writing over his own signature; of the malice which shows itself in every sentence; and of the contemptible trick by which he, feeling himself hit in my attack on gambling, seeks to draw a herring across the track, and to do me a petty injury; but the man's nature is essentially coarse, and nothing of this kind is likely to affect him.

Before closing this letter, permit me to attempt to make clear the Kind of Englishman I meant in the few lines which have caused all this trouble.

I could not be ignorant of the fact that the world owes many debts of gratitude to Englishmen; that they and they alone, have solved the great problems of civil and religious liberty, and that they have done and are doing their part towards the development of this new country, and the building up of a greater England on this side of the Atlantic. This Canuck knew, that, I believe, when he made his cowardly insinuations.

Now, it could not have been Englishmen such as these that I referred to. Nor was it the lower and uneducated classes, chosen from the submerged in the great cities of the Old Land, though I am free to admit that these are not the most desirable immigrants. There is, as every Canadian knows, another class, many of whom, at least, are less desirable than the last. Many, perhaps, most, of them belong to what may be called good families, and nearly all come out with some money. They are fairly educated, and know, but do not think it necessary, to observe towards Canadians, the manners of good society. They are filled with extravagant notions of their own importance, and of the inferiority of colonials. Unused, and unwilling to work, they spend much of their time in abusing this country and its institutions. In a few years their money and health are gone, and they become public burdens. They do much to make the very name of Englishmen hated, and their conduct makes loyal Canadians sometimes wish to see Canada separated from the Mother Country.

It is this class, and this class alone, that I referred to in The Examiner. That there are worthy men among them, who become good and useful citizens, no one will deny; but these, I am sure, will not thank Canuck for his patronising airs.

HERPICIDE'S MISSION

It Takes Away The Dread of Birthdays

Nothing is more annoying to men and women of middle age than to see those unmistakable signs of age—thin hair and grayness—approaching. But science has discovered that these conditions are no longer "unmistakable" evidences of old age, for the dandruff germ theory proves that even very young people may suffer hair loss, while those fortunate enough to escape the ravages of the scalp germ retain their abundant locks to a ripe old age. Newbro's Herpicide kills the dandruff germ and removes the risk of appearing old before your time. Save your hair and your feelings by using the genuine Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. C. G. E. STOCK IS BECOMING SCARCE

Way it Has Disappeared is Causing Surprise.

A Toronto despatch says: Canadian General Electric has become nearly as scarce here as Canadian Pacific. The latter has been scarce here for more than a year, owing to the buying from London, that went on month after month, which at last left the stock market bare of it. London buying of Canadian General Electric has been going on for several months, and this has been supplemented by Canadian investment buying. Most of the local buyers have none of the stock on their books, and surprise is expressed as to the way it has disappeared.

WORK ON CANADIAN GENERAL BUILDING

To Probably Begin This Week—Will be Concluded in About Two Months

It is expected that the continuation of the work on the building at the C. G. E. Works will be begun this week by the Dominion Construction and Engineering Company of Montreal, who have the contract. When work on the building closed down last autumn the concrete walls had just been begun and it will take about two more months to conclude the company's contract.

A HEAD ON COLLISION CAUSES DEATH

Smash-Up Between Special and Regular At Platt's Mills.

GOVERNOR'S NARROW ESCAPE

Locomotives Crushed Like Paper—Roll Down Steep Embankment and Into a Ditch—Four Men Killed, Two Not Expected to Survive—Many Soldiers Receive Injuries—Baggage Car Telescoped.

Waterbury, Conn., March 4.—With an impact of sufficient force to crush the ponderous locomotives together like paper, twist and bend them and topple them from the track down an embankment and into a ditch beside the track, two passenger trains, a regular and a special, met in a head-on collision early on Saturday on the Nagatuck division of the New York Newhaven and Hartford Railroad at Platt's Mills, about a mile and a half below this city, resulting in the death of four men and serious, if not fatal, injury to two more. A score of others are more or less seriously hurt. The dead were the crews of the engines.

Governor Was On Board.

The regular was the midnight train, which is due here at 12.39, but which was behind time. The special was made up of an engine and one coach in which was a party of about 65, members of Company X, Second Regiment, C. N. G., known as the Grays, and Governor Woodruff and members of his staff.

When the engines crashed together and in their embrace rolled down the embankment they carried down to death with them their crews. Three of the dead, the two engineers, and one fireman, were taken from the wreckage, their bodies torn, bruised, and blackened by the fire from the wreck, while the body of the other fireman was, at last reports, still under the mass of twisted iron.

Tenders Hurled Backwards.

The tenders of the locomotives did not leave the rails but were hurled backwards and into the coaches behind them. In the case of the special the coach was badly wrecked and the occupants almost all of them received some hurt. The baggage car of the regular was telescoped.

The dead are: Wm. Fisher of New Haven, Wm. Norton of Waterbury, Charles Carpenter, and G. Erickson of New Haven.

WAS ENGINEER GUILTY?

Blamed by Coroner's Jury and Warrant For His Arrest Issued.

New Haven, Conn., March 4.—A coroner's jury returned a preliminary finding Saturday to the effect that William E. Fisher, engineer of the special train that was wrecked at Waterbury, disobeyed orders, thereby causing the death of three persons, the probable fatal injury of two National Guardsmen, and the injury of twenty other persons.

No trace of Fisher's body was found in the wreckage, and the supposition is that he jumped and fled. A warrant has been issued for his arrest.

Railways In Pyrenees.

Madrid, March 4.—The French and Spanish Governments have signed a convention providing for the construction of three new railroads across the Pyrenees, the work to be completed within ten years.

"Standard Oil" In Court.

Chicago, March 4.—The trial of one of the eight federal indictments against the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, will begin before United States District Judge Landis to-day.

The indictment contains 1,903 counts and charges acceptance from railroads of illegal rebates aggregating $323,000.

Gilbert to Hang.

Regina, Sask., March 4.—Gilbert, the aged murderer of Barrett Henderson, will hang on Friday next, 8th inst. Attorney-General Lamont having been notified by the Ottawa authorities that the appeal for a new trial had been dismissed.

Mail Bags Stolen In Street.

STEAMER STRANDED IN THE PACIFIC

One Hundred Passengers Had Narrow Escape.

CORONA A HOPELESS WRECK

Panic Averted by Calm Behaviour of the Crew—Boat Capsized and One Sailor Was Drowned—Passengers Taken Off by Lifebuoy After Many Gallant Attempts to Get the Line Ashore.

Eureka, Cal., March 4.—The steamer, Corona (Captain Boyd); the best boat in the Pacific Coast Steamship Co.'s services between Eureka and San Francisco, lies straddling the north jetty on Humboldt Bay, a hopeless wreck.

With nearly 100 passengers aboard, the vessel struck on Saturday as Captain Boyd was attempting, in the teeth of a stinging wind and terrific bar flood, to drive her into port.

Women were hysterical and men were in panic, but reassuring words from the crew finally brought calm.

Then the passengers assembled on the hurricane deck, where they remained until the rescue work was undertaken a few hours later.

Soon after the ship struck a boat in charge of Quartermaster Gunn was lowered. It contained three of the crew and three steerage passengers. This boat capsized at once in the boiling surf, and Sailor Herrickson was drowned. Gunn and the others reached shore.

A second boat in charge of Second Officer N. V. Johann, was put off. Badly battered and leaking, this boat reached shore.

Tried to Carry a Line.

Then T. E. Sothern, night saloon watchman, formerly a marine in the United States navy, stripped to the waist and attempted to carry a line ashore. The line parted before he had gone far. Sothern was picked up by live savers.

Several attempts were made to shoot a line aboard, but each time the line fell short.

Finally Capt. Hennig of the life-savers reached the side of the Corona and picked up the line. Several unsuccessful attempts were made to work the life buoy, but it was not until near dark that Capt. Hennig and his men worked effectively. At that time the ship's boats had begun working, and at dusk Capt. Boyd, the last to leave the ship, stepped ashore.

The passengers were brought to Eureka. Nearly all had been drenched, and some were suffering greatly from the cold, exposure and nervous shock, but all will recover.

San Francisco, March 4.—The steamer Roanoke, the first boat to reach the steamer Corona when the latter was wrecked at the entrance to Eureka harbor, Saturday, arrived yesterday. Captain Dunham blames the United States lighthouse board for the wreck. There have been four steamers wrecked on the Humboldt Reef during the year—The Newsboy, Corinthian, Sequoia and Corona—and Captain Dunham declared that all might have been prevented if the lighthouse board had had the channel properly buoyed.

Dakota Ashore at Tokio.

Yokohama, March 4.—The Great Northern steamship Dakota went ashore in the Bay of Tokio last night. All the passengers are safe, and the agents are hopeful of saving her.

ICEBOUND STEAMERS.

P. E. I. Ferries Are Caught and Have Narrow Escape.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., March 4.—The winter steamer Stanley, bound to Prince Edward Island, stuck in the ice one mile from Pictou Island and had a narrow escape from destruction yesterday. The running ice almost laid her on her beam ends, breaking all the rails on the port side. So serious was the situation that the captain landed forty passengers, including the Abegweit hockey team and Jere McAuliffe Comedy Co., on Pictou Island. Early in the day fourteen passengers, mostly sturdy lumbermen, walked to the island shore, fifteen miles distant, over heavy ice, arriving almost exhausted. The Minto also stuck in the heavy ice near the Stanley. Both are out a week and are likely to remain for several days yet. In the meantime communication will be kept up by small boats hauled by hand between the capes.

PROGRESSIVES SET BACK.

In London County Council Elections Municipal Party Gain 43 Seats.

London, March 4.—The returns at a late hour of the county council elections, which exceeded in bitterness the parliamentary contest of 1905, indicate that the Municipal Reformers have gained 43 seats and the Progressives and the Labor party one each.

The Socialistic or Labor party played an unprecedented part, fighting both the Progressives and the Municipal Reformers.

The Municipal Reformers have claimed that the defeat of the Progressives would be a serious blow to the Liberal Government.

The outgoing council consisted of 83 Progressives, 34 Municipal Reformers and one independent.

BAD GAS EXPLOSION IN A MINE

Two Miners Dead, and Thirty-One Seriously Injured.

CAUSED BY NAKED LAMP

Rumor That Large Number of Men Were Entombed Proves to Be Groundless—Search Parties Tour the Mine—Several Narrow Escapes — Injured Are Chiefly Foreigners—Mine Is Gaseous.

Scranton, Pa., March 4.—Fourteen men are near death in the Taylor Hospital and 12 others are suffering from slight burns through a terrific explosion of gas that swept through a portion of the Holden Mine of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Co., at North Taylor, Saturday.

Whether or not thirty other miners escaped was in doubt up to 10 o'clock Saturday night when Mine Inspector Williams felt safe in saying they were all out of the mine and alive.

Searching parties, who toured the affected part of the mine, returned with the report that they could find no men in the workings.

Caused by Naked Lamp.

The force of the explosion was supposedly caused by gas that had been accumulating all day, unnoticed, and which was ignited by a naked lamp.

Two Miners Killed.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., March 4.—Two men were killed and five badly burned by an explosion of gas in the Woodward Mine of the Deleware, Lackawanna & Western Co. at Kingston Saturday evening.

The injured are foreigners. They were seriously burned, but it is believed they will recover.

The mine is very gaseous, and the men worked with safety lamps.

It was at first reported that a large number of men were entombed in the mine, but this arose from the accident at the Holden Mine near Scranton.

Oil Explosion Burns Twelve.

New York, March 4.—Mrs. Benjamin P. O'Connell, 42 years of age, was probably fatally injured, her husband, aged 43, seriously injured, and several of their ten small children painfully injured, by an explosion of a can of kerosene oil at their home in Brooklyn last night. The explosion of the can caused a lamp to explode also. The mother, father and children received burns as they ran through the flames to the street.

Struck By Semaphore.

Toronto, March 4.—George Allan of Paris, Ont., is in Grace Hospital suffering from a fracture of the skull and severe scalp wounds and it not expected to recover, although he is still conscious.

Allan was found on Saturday afternoon in a car in the G.T.R. yards. He was in charge of a car of sheep being sent by Telfer Bros. of Paris to the Ottawa Live Stock Show.

The injured man was looking out of the door of the car and was struck by a semaphore arm or some other object. He is not able to tell just what struck him.

Slip Brings Death.

Hamilton, March 4.—A fatal accident occurred on Saturday at Park and York streets, the victim being Steve Lambert, an employe of the Hamilton Brewing Association.

Lambert was carrying a keg of beer into a store, when he slipped. The keg crushed in his chest. He was taken to the City Hospital, where he died about an hour later.

Brakeman Falls to Death.

London, March 4.—H. P. Williams, 28 years of age, employed on the G. T. R. as a brakeman, was killed yesterday by falling from his train near Hyde Park.

DISASTROUS FIRE.

Damage to Extent of $25,000 Done Woodstock, N.B.

Woodstock, N.B., March 4.—A fire, which broke out about midnight, which broke out about midnight on Friday, threatened the entire business section of Woodstock, but was put out after destroying seven buildings, as follows: Sullivan Bros., pool and bowling alley, occupied upstairs by Misses Fisher's dwelling; Stevens and Hayden's grocery, occupied upstairs by Mrs. Baker's millinery store; the G. W. Gibson, Co., building, occupied on the ground floor by the G. W. Gibson Co., tailoring and gent's furnishings store, and G. H. Harrison's insurance office, and upstairs by Mrs. Hayden's dressmaking and millinery establishment and the N. B. Telephone Exchange; the Dent building, occupied by Mrs. Cambeu and the Dent bakery downstairs, and the Dent dwelling upstairs.

The buildings are a total loss, but much of the stock was saved. The loss is estimated at $25,000, of which $15,000 is covered by insurance.

The town is now without telephones.

Synopsis Of Canadian North-West HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act, as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

BOTH TEAMS ARE IN THE PINK OF CONDITION

Review Team Confident of Victory—Miss Crane's Costume Will Make a Hit

UNCLE PIKE AND THE PIKER

Indications point to a very pleasant season when the Review and Examiner teams get together in the great press game at Brock street rink on Thursday night. Both teams are rounding into shape, and the pace will be so fast that the players will wear automobile goggles to protect their eyes. The public is assured of the most scientific exhibition of hockey ever seen in this or any other district. To enjoy the heartiest laugh in years, and an hour's skating, will cost you but ten cents, and the proceeds will go to the Children's Aid Society. The match will be over at 9 o'clock, and there will be skating afterwards.

Uncle Pike McRae and all his brother pikers on the Review team spent Sunday quietly, says a report from the Review training quarters. They are on strict diet now, and the effect upon some of the players is wonderful. McRae has already got a shape like a trolley wire, while Burns is getting so thin that his friends don't recognize him when they see him on the street. The entire Review camp seems confident of victory, but there's many a slip between the puck and the net. Looking at it from The Examiner standpoint, Shakspere neglected to say, "It's a cinch."

Much money is being wagered on the result, and the betting figures run all the way from 23 to 1 on The Examiner to 17 1-2 to 2 on The Review. It is estimated that the fate of $50,000 already hinges on the result of the game.

Our dressmaker informs us that Miss Crane is having a very catchy costume made for the game. It will be of skidoodene muslin with twenty-three pleats and a lemon waist. She will wear a picture hat to match, and we prophesy that some hearts will be pulverized.

Happy Jack Thompson was so affected and disheartened by the showing of the Review team in practice that he was unable to work on Saturday.

Uncle Pike McRae took a training jaunt up the river yesterday, and to-day at noon we received the following letter from our correspondent at Nassau:

"Unknown runner passed here at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at a terrible rate of speed. Behind him were four trainers, who, amid the snow and ice, bore a banner with the strange device, 'Twenty-Three.' To settle a bet, will you tell us whether it was Longboat, the Indian runner, or not?"

The Review have unearthed a find in Kilgour, the smallest man in the establishment. He is as small as the Peterborough Hockey Club's chances of getting a square deal from the O.H.A., but he is there with a proper share of the merchandise.

EASY LESSONS FOR NOVICE FANS.

"How can you tell a Review hockey player?"

"You can't tell him anything. What's the use?"

"What effect have cold feet on a hockey team?"

"Better ask Manager MacRae; his pedal extremities have been chilled for a week."

"If it takes seven Players to make a hockey team, how many men will the Review need?"

"The statistics indicate that they will require about 23 players to beat the Examiner."

Our dressmaker informs us that Miss Crane is having a perfectly cute gown made for the big game. Miss Crane will be seen on the forward line of the Review team.

The Review team are a lot of cutups. They even have a Butcher on the team.

"I say," said the old lady with the high-pitched voice as the Jerk-Water slowed down at the skating rink. "What is all this fuss about?" When she discovered it was the Review hockey team getting out to practice, she tossed her head in disgust and in a still higher voice exclaimed: "I've heard of them before, but to my recollection they never won a game of anything in their lives—a great noise for nothing," and the stage with the old lady lumbered on.

"There is no tonic equal to success. It is easy—simply work and smile," said Manager Uncle Pike McRae to his team, as he put them through their Sunday afternoon practice in a back yard. But as this philosophy died upon his lips he collided with Miss Crane after a spasm of beautiful stick handling in which the wood made several revolutions in mid-air and lit on the house top.

"The outcome of the battle," he concluded, "is of no importance—but how did you fight."

"Mac," the Glengarry heartbreaker says that he will be in excellent shape. His pads will not be for protection alone.

STOMACH TROUBLES

To wrong action of the stomach and impaired digestion a host of diseases owe their origin.

When the food is imperfectly digested the full benefit is not derived from it by the body, and then stomach troubles start to appear.

Thus you become thin, weak, nervous and debilitated, energy is lacking, brightness, snap and vigor are lost and in their place come dullness, dizziness, loss of appetite, depression and langour. The great point is to get the stomach back into good shape again so it can properly digest the food, and the easiest, quickest and best way to do it is by the use of

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

Miss Lizzie Furlotte, Jacquet River, N.B., writes: "I was very much troubled with my stomach and did not know what to do. I consulted several doctors, got medicine from them, but all to no purpose, and was constantly growing worse. One day I had the good luck to meet with a friend who had been troubled in the same way as myself. My friend told me of the wonderful cure Burdock Blood Bitters had made with her and advised me to try a bottle. I did so, and what a happy change the first bottle made. I took two more and am completely cured, and I shall ever sing the praises of B.B.B."

Price $1.00 per bottle or 6 bottles for $5.00.

PETERBOROUGH CLUB IS THROUGH WITH THE O.H.A.

Notified the Secretary This Morning To That Effect—Dissatisfied With Treatment

WILL PLAY ARNPRIOR ON WEDNESDAY

The Peterborough Hockey Club has dissolved its connection with the O. H. A., and this morning after the decision had been unanimously decided upon a letter was sent to Secretary Fitzgerald of the O.H.A., to that effect.

The team feel that they have not been fairly treated by the governing body. For years Peterborough has had a team in the O.H.A. and has always been a strong supporter of its principles. They have never sought any favours from the O.H.A., and are not doing so in this case, as what they have been asking, they claim, is only what they are entitled to. The O.H.A. has not even had the courtesy to consider Peterborough's claim. Ten days ago they were informed by acting secretary Fitzgerald that if they would send in a formal protest against the sudden death game arrangement between Kingston and Midland, it would be favourably considered. The protest was sent in immediately and from that time to this no action has been taken.

The locals were informed that a meeting was to have been held on Monday of last week but President Darroch didn't turn up. Another attempt was made to hold a meeting on Wednesday night, but the president, although he was in Toronto, did not put in an appearance.

The letter sent by the local club to the O.H.A., was as follows:

Peterborough, March 4, 1907.

J. P. Fitzgerald, Esq.,
Secretary, O.H.A.,
Toronto, Ont.

Dear Sir, — At a meeting of the Peterborough hockey club held this morning, it was decided that on account of our protest not having received any consideration from the O.H.A., that we therefore withdraw from your Association at this time.

We feel that a decision should have been made one way or the other immediately on our formal application to play having been sent in, which was merely the official objection we made at the drawing of the schedule and an explanation of the arrangements made at that time.

We feel that our long connection with the O.H.A., was worthy of more consideration than was received, in view of the fact that our secretary was promised a favourable decision by no other person than yourself, and also by the treasurer, who was aware of the state of affairs in this District for some time.

We have yet to be shown a precedent for drawing up the schedule in this district and your rule showing it to be legal.

Yours truly,
PETERBOROUGH HOCKEY CLUB
C. G. Graham, Secretary.

The locals have arranged a game with Arnpriors, champions of the Ottawa Valley League, for Wednesday night, and will also get on games, it is probable, with the Berlin and Toronto pros.

KENORA TEAM AFTER A LOCAL PLAYER

Member of the Peterborough Hockey Team Offered Place on the Stanley Cup Team

The reputation of the Peterborough hockey team must be a pretty good one. Fred Whitcroft, who has joined the Kenora team has made good, and, the best evidence of this is the fact that another member of the local team on Saturday received an offer to play on the team for the balance of the season and to defend the Stanley Cup. The offer will not be accepted, but it furnishes proof of the fact that Peterborough hockey players are looked upon with favour outside their own city, and are in demand.

SHOOTING CONTESTS WERE VERY EXCITING

Messrs. Martin and Dugan Were the Winners on Saturday

The weekly shooting competition at Yeates Bros. shooting gallery on Saturday night, were of more than usual interest, inasmuch as there were ties in both events which had to be shot off. The winners were Messrs. F. Martin and C. Duggan. The prizes were two 18 pound turkeys.

HOCKEY

The Teat Department hockey team of the C. G. E. Works, played and trimmed the office on Saturday night by 2 goals to 0, in one of the most spectacular and ludicrous games of the present hockey season. The teams were both composed of rovers, who were acrobats of the first degree. The management of the rink caught on to this and had the ice insured against breakage before the puck was faced, but at that it is understood the loss was considerable. The teams lined up as follows:

Test—2. Office—0.

Ackerman's hockey team added another victory to their string by defeating the brass department of the C.G.E. on Saturday night by 4 goals to 2. The harness men led at half time by 3 to 2, and had the better of the play throughout. For the winners McWha, Loomis and Robertson starred, while Elliot, Hillier and Ryan played the game for the vanquished. "Wally" Parnell satisfied everyone by his impartial decisions as referee.

The line up of the teams was: Ackerman's — —Goal, R. Elliot; point, McWha; cover point, Dobbin; rover, Loomis; centre, Robertson, r. wing, Goselin; l. wing, Callaghan.

Brass department — Goal, W. Elliot; point, Brace; cover point, Adams; rover, Hillier; centre, Heard; r. wing, Ryan; l. wing, Curtis.

Referee, "Wally" Parnell.

The Park street Baptists would like to play St. Andrew's Guards a game of hockey at the Brock street rink next Saturday evening between 7 and 8 o'clock.

THE CRACK ARNPRIOR TEAM TO PLAY LOCALS

Ottawa Valley Champions Will Visit Here on Wednesday Night

One of the best games of the season is assured for Wednesday night when the crack Arnprior team, the champions of the Ottawa Valley League, will cross sticks with the Peterborough team. It will be the first visit of a team from the East to Peterborough, and the game should be decidedly interesting. The Ottawa Valley League, it is claimed by eastern critics, is considerably faster than the O.H.A. and the public will be given an opportunity to judge of the truth of this statement for themselves. The Arnprior seven have a great reputation and the locals will have to exert themselves to have any chance of winning.

CURLING

The two rinks which went to Keene on Friday, succeeded in defeating their opponents by the good margin of 15 points in two series of games. The local brethren report a splendid trip and state that they were most hospitably entertained. The rinks from Peterborough who went down were the following:

Jas Bogue,	H Taylor,
A Webb,	M C Tooley,
W G Read,	A Moore,
W Talbot,	C E Frost,

The Keene skips were W. Campbell and Dr. McWilliams.

MISSION WORK FOR THE HIAWATHA INDIANS

Annual Report of Missionary Society of Methodist Church Gives Some Interesting Information Concerning Mission Work

WHAT THIS CITY NOW CONTRIBUTES

Some interesting facts concerning the extent of the Missionary enterprises of the Methodist church in Canada are contained in the annual report of the Missionary Society, distributed to the members of the Society in the Charlotte street church yesterday. It is seen that the income of the Society last year amounted to $405,842.90, an increase of $20,101.85 over the previous year. During the year there was expended in support of Mission work $390,988.88. The money thus spent was divided among missions characterized under the different heads of Home, Indian, French, Chinese, Japanese,(the last two in British Columbia) and Foreign, in Japan and China. There are 33,981 members of the Home Missions, 5,050, in Indian, 243 in French, 115 in Chinese in Canada, 154 in Japanese in Canada, 3,105 in Japan and 175 in West China, making a total membership in the Missions of 42,823, an increase of $1,192 over the preceeding year.

Hiawatha Indians

An interesting section of the report deals with the work of the Missionaries among the Indians of Canada, and a paragraph is devoted to the work among the Hiawatha Indians, the section referred to being as follows:—

"About eighty years ago the Indians on this reserve adopted civilized life and put off their feathers and war paint. They numbered 380 persons. But after adopting civilization, the white man brought his intoxicating liquor, which, with disease, has destroyed very many of them, and many large families have become totally extinct—such as the Crawfords, Copways, Patcheys, Onshios, Sopers, Watsons, Waboosos, Shownees, Waborns, Rices and Big Johns. But we are happy to state that the Indians here are now more healthy, and that many have entirely given up the use of intoxicating liquors and are now industrious. Eighty per cent. of them can both read and write, and there is a great spiritual improvement among them. Our services have been seasons of refreshing from the presence of the Lord, and some young people are beginning to work for the Lord. A number of adults and others have united with our church. Our missionary receipts are in advance of any previous year. Our Sunday School has been fairly well attended, ninety-five per cent. have signed the temperance pledge, and all are learning Catechism.

Last year Charlotte street church contributed $453.90 towards Missions, the total amount raised in the three Methodist churches in the city and all are learning Catechism."

LADIES WILL GIVE THE GUILD A BANQUET

An Interesting Event Which Will Take Place at St. Paul's Church on Tuesday Night Next

The Young Men's Guild of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church will be tendered a banquet on Tuesday evening next by the ladies of the congregation. The members of the guild are asked to bear the date in mind. A good programme of speeches, songs, recitations and instrumental numbers will be presented. The officers of the guild are very anxious that there shall be a large attendance.

LANG & MAHER
CLOTHIERS AND FURNISHERS TO MEN WHO KNOW
409-411 GEORGE ST. - - PETERBORO, ONT

FATHER—MOTHER

FOR YOUR CHILD'S SAKE READ THIS

Are your children pale and listless? Do they act differently from other children? Do they sleep poorly and eat poorly? Does your boy avoid the sports and games of other boys? Does your girl complain of headache and find her studies a hardship?

If so, you may make up your mind they are growing too fast. They need something to help nature in her great work of furnishing the necessary elements for creating flesh and muscle tissue, bone structure and rich, pure, red blood.

McDermid & Jury, our well-known druggists, will give you a medicine, and along with it a guarantee to pay, themselves, for all the medicine your boy or girl will take if the medicine they recommend does not restore your child to a perfectly healthy condition.

It is their famous Vinol that they will give you on this guarantee.

True, Vinol is a cod liver preparation, but your child will never know it — it neither tastes, looks nor smells like cod liver oil; yet it is guaranteed to contain all the curative elements found in cod liver oil, actually taken from cods' livers fresh from the water.

Because the vile-smelling and tasteless grease has been discarded and all of the other disagreeable features eliminated, Vinol is the greatest strength and health creator known to medicine.

Vinol acts favourably on the stomach, creates an appetite, and enables the food that is eaten to do the greatest possible amount of good.

It makes for each child new, vitality, sound flesh and muscle, strong bone structure, and rich, pure, red blood. We ask every parent in Peterborough to try it on our guarantee. McDermid & Jury, druggists. Vinol is also sold at the Market Drug Store (The Ormond & Weir: Old Stand).

PEOPLE BELOW CITY SHOULD ALSO BE PROTECTED

"Otonabee" Says That the Sanitary Inspector Should See That Peterborough is Not a Nuisance.

LAW PROCEEDINGS IS SUGGESTED.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I have observed in recent issues of the Examiner that the Board of Health of Peterborough and the Aldermen have at last come to a decision and have appointed a Sanitary Inspector.

I also notice that the Board of Health is complaining of the stream between Lakefield and Peterborough being polluted by an occasional individual improperly using the public waterway as a sewer.

Will you allow me space in the Examiner to call Sanitary Inspector Ball's attention to the action of the Council, who appointed him. Is a life shores of Otonabee or North Monaghan any less valuable than a life in Peterborough? Is the Otonabee stream to be daily polluted by a City of 15,000 inhabitants and no redress given to those who live upon the stream whose cattle daily drink the waters thereof? Or is his whole time and attention to be given to seeing that only those waters north of Peterborough be kept free from sewage disposal. We farmers in Otonabee have as much right to be protected as have the people of Peterborough.

I personally have no objections to the council of Peterborough appointing one of its number to inspect and see that its waters are kept pure but I desire to call the attention of the rate-payers of North Monaghan and I desire to call the attention of the ratepayers of Otonabee to the fact that their Sanitary Inspector has a duty to perform as well and that duty is to see that the City of Peterborough does not make itself a nuisance to those who reside south of it, whose property on the shores of the stream they are disgracefully using as a public sewer is not destroyed and lives endangered.

It is not often that I am disposed to go to law but I think that I would be glad to pay my portion of any reasonable expenditure incurred by the Townships lying along the shores of the Otonabee river, south of Peterborough in protecting the stream and preventing Peterborough's fifteen thousand citizens from improperly using our waterway as a sewer.

Am I not right? If the City of Peterborough is honest in what they are doing they will first of all see that they are not themselves doing what they desire to prohibit others from doing.

Yours truly,
"OTONABEE."

A DELIVERY HORSE RAN FOR 3 HOURS

Milk Can Upset and Many Citizens Had to Go Without Their Daily Beverage

A runaway occurred in the city yesterday which resulted disastrously for an Otonabee milk vendor, Mr. Walter Brumwell. His horse became frightened while the owner was delivering at one of the city's residences, and attempted to get away. Its circuitous route through the city was a remarkable one, and it was three hours before the fired steed was re-captured.

All the milk in its cans was spilled, and many citizens had to go without their supply.

DR. ORONHYATEKHA HAS PASSED AWAY

Famous Canadian and Head of the Independent Order of Foresters, Died at Savannah, Ga.

Savannah, Ga., March 4.—Hon. Dr. Oronhyatekha of Toronto died at the Desoto Hotel, in this city, at 5.20 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

His death was due to heart failure, from which, it was stated, he had been a sufferer for about ten years.

His body will be sent immediately to Toronto for burial, leaving here early to-day.

At the bedside of Dr. Oronhyatekha at the time of his death were his private secretary, W. W. Dunlop of Toronto, and A. E. Stevenson of Port Huron, Mich., assistant general manager of the Independent Order of Foresters, of which Dr. Oronhyatekha was supreme chief ranger.

DR. ORONHYATEKHA.

Dr. Oronhyatekha's son, Dr. Ackland Oronhyatekha of Toronto, who had been notified of his father's critical condition, has started south from Toronto. He will probably meet the remains en route.

Dr. Oronhyatekha arrived in Savannah in the latter part of January, coming in the hope that his health would be benefited. He seemed to rally at times, and recently gave out an interview, in which he expressed the belief that the climate would prove beneficial.

Dr. Oronhyatekha is survived by his son and daughter, Mrs. Percy Johnson of Deseronto, and it is probable that his remains will be interred in that place by the side of those of his wife, who died several years ago.

While in Savannah, Dr. Oronhyatekha received the very best medical attention. It was not until Thursday that his condition became serious. He was reported to be dying Friday, so that the end Saturday afternoon was not unexpected.

SUCCESSFUL WRITER ON MILITARY EXAMS.

Mr. Walter Anderson, of Warsaw, Returns From Stanley Barracks

Mr. Wallace Anderson, of Warsaw, arrived in the city on Saturday from the Stanley Barracks, Toronto, where he had been studying and writing on a military examination for the past ten days. Although not officially stated, it is understood that he, among a number of others, was successful in his undertaking. Mr. Anderson is a prominent officer and military man of the 46th.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

THE DEVIL'S LANE

Barka Brothers, the favourites with local audiences, closed their week's engagement at the Grand on Saturday night with a laughter-producing farce, entitled "The Devil's Lane." Each night saw a crowded house, and the last night more than upheld the week's reputation in every point. On Saturday afternoon, a matinee was given, and over 800 paid admissions were received. The successful winner of the five-dollar gold piece, which was drawn for on Saturday night was Mr. Howard Heap.

MANY HORSES NEEDED FOR WESTERN FARMS

Sale Bill of Mr. John Boyd, of Alameda, Shows That Horses Are Important

Ald. R. H. Leary has received a sale bill from Alameda, Sask., referring to the sale of farm stock and implements of Mr. Jno. Boyd, who was a former Peterborough citizen and grocery man. The bill gives a good idea of the necessaries to run a farm out in the West. among the things for sale are 15 horses, five cows, three hogs, two self-binders, two drills, several sulky ploughs, harrows, harness, wagons, etc.

REGINA

You will make more money by buying lots in Regina City, than by any other source at the present time. It is no gamble, no chance, but an absolutely sure investment. Property will increase at least 100 per cent. in less than two years. Buy now. Prices will be advanced in the spring. Here are a few things that are making Regina grow and making property increase in value:—

REGINA, the wholesale and distributing centre for Saskatchewan and the west. $6,000,000.00 worth of farm machinery sold from Regina last year. Regina is the head-quarters for Saskatchewan of:—

The American-Abell Engine and Thresher Co
Massey Harris Company.
Frost & Wood Company.
Fairchild Company.
Waterloo Manufacturing Company.
J. I. Case Threshing Machine Company.
Garr-Scott Threshing Machine Company.
The International Harvester Company.
The North-west Thresher Company.
The New Hamburg Manufacturing Company.
Reeves Thresher Compan .
Nichols & Shepherd Thresher Company.
Sawyer-Massey Company
Noline Plow Company
Canadian Port Huron Company.
Cockshutt Plow Company.

Besides the above there are a number of large eastern wholesale houses located in Regina. At the present time some eighteen more wholesale firms have secured sites in Regina to build on this year.

REGINA, the only railroad centre in Saskatchewan.

Besides the present roads which run north, south, east and west, there will be six more lines built into Regina during the next two years, being the Great Northern from the south, the Canadian Northern from the southeast, the C. P. R. north to Prince Albert, and three G. T. P. roads—one northeast, one east, one southwest.

The following is what Mr. Morse of the G. T. P. said in Regina on Aug. 6, 1906;

The Leader, Aug. 6, 1906.

FRANK MORSE IN REGINA

Mr. Frank W. Morse, Vice-President and General Manager of the G. T. P. Railway, spent a few hours in the city on Saturday morning, and had a short conference with Mayor McAra and W. G. Pettingel, President of the Board of Trade. Mr. Morse had no new statement to make for publication regarding the plans of the G. T. P. in and around Regina. He repeated what he had said when in Regina on May 16th last that his Company would get into Regina at the earliest possible date, as they realised there was a large business to be done here. He confirmed the statement, which was first published by The Leader, that in addition to a branch line to Regina, from the main line near Yorkton, and from Regina to the international boundary on the south, a branch would be run to Regina from Brandon.

"The construction of branch lines would be carried on simultaneously with the main line," said Mr. Morse.

REGINA leads all cities from Winnipeg to the Coast in building for 1906.

Capital of Saskatchewan ranks fifth among the metropolitan centres of Canada, being surpassed by Winnipeg, Toronto, Montreal and Vancouver. Leads all the Dominion in relative growth. Building permits in 1906:

Regina—$1,982,330.

Edmonton—$1,863,894.

Calgary—$1,109,161.

No other city in Canada shows as high a percentage of growth as Regina. 1907 will beat all records. A large number of expensive buildings are being erected. Among others include:—Four new hotels, at a cost of over half a million; municipal hospital, $100,000; Y. M. C. A. at $200,000; Baptist Church, $60,000; Masonic Temple, at $75,000; Dominion Land Titles Office at $110,000; New Public School at $54,000, and many other business blocks and residences. Chief amongst all buildings will be the new Provincial Parliament Buildings, at a cost of at least $1,500,000.

Facts About Regina City

Regina is the Capital of the Province of Saskatchewan.
Regina is the only commercial centre of Saskatchewan.
Regina is the only railroad and distributing centre in Saskatchewan.
Regina has eight chartered banks and four more coming.
Regina tax rate for 1906 is only 15 mills.
Regina has the finest sewer and waterworks system in the West.
Regina is the only city west of Winnipeg with paved streets.
Regina has a surplus of assets of over a million and a half.
Regina's population has increased over 300 per cent. in three years.
All public utilities are owned and operated by the city.
Regina is in the heart of the best farming country in the West.

COATES COMPANY PASSES CANADIAN WORKS BY

Report to the Effect That Carpet Works Will Not be Located in Peterborough—Directors Are Afraid to Risk Canada's Trade

NO DISCREDIT TO THE CITY

The Examiner is informed from a source, which, while not official, is considered reliable, that the Coates Company, which the citizens were given to understand, would locate a large Canadian factory for the manufacture of carpets and establish other allied industries in or near Peterborough, has reached a decision not to come to Canada at all, at least not in the near future; and that the negotiations with reference to locating here have been called off, and the gentleman who was to have been the manager of the Canadian works, has returned to Scotland.

That the factory will not come to Peterborough is a fact which does not in any way reflect discredit upon this city, because had the company located in Canada at all, it would have been to Peterborough to which they would have come. It appears, however, that after the field had been looked over carefully, and the proposal to establish a branch in Canada submitted to the Board of Directors of the parent concern, the latter objected to the outlay necessary to establish the works proposed, and the result—if the information given the Examiner is correct—is that the proposition has been reluctantly abandoned.

Mr. Dunwoodie, it is stated, has returned to the old country, and will of course, continue to be connected with the works there.

Hopes are entertained that the directors will yet see that it would be a good proposition to go after the Canadian business, which is growing rapidly, and if this decision is reached, there is little doubt that Peterborough will be selected as the point at which the works will be located.

How "Hon." Robert Rogers Rakes "Ralph Connor" Over The Coals

As an example of the delicate amenities which mark the Manitoba election contest, the utterances of "Hon." Robert Rogers, at Swan Lake, in his own constituency, may be quoted. Here he said — his ipsissima verba—

"Of course, it is easy for any heeler, such as is Rev. C. W. Gordon, who is willing to prostitute his position, to make cowardly and dishonest statements in the pulpit, such as he did last night, for when Mr. Gordon makes the statement that the Government broke faith with any person in connection with the district of Elmwood, he states what is absolutely untrue."

"And yet this is the sort of campaign of contemptible misrepresentation and slander which Rev. Mr. Gordon is willing to join in, not because he knows it is right, and that he thinks he is telling the truth, but I believe he has a double meaning for making this statement. First, his willingness to prostitute his position and his cloth, in the interests of the Liberal party, and, second, to take advantage of making use of everything that turns up for the purpose of advertising his name in the hope of helping the sale of the silly novels which he has published from time to time."

"Again, I am surprised at Rev. Gordon making the statements he has, that the hotel men have made an alliance with the Government. He should ascertain the truth of any such statements before making them, and no man in Winnipeg is in a better position to get at the truth than Rev. Mr. Gordon. He is a daily companion of all the sporting hotel men in the city, in connection with the daily, and almost hourly, horse racing sports that go on there."

*Rev. Mr. Gordon is known in literature as "Ralph Connor."

Normal School Material And Labour To Be Obtained Here

Mr. S. F. Whitham, Contractor, in the City To-day Making Plans —If School is to be Built This Year Brick May Have to Come From Toronto—930,000 Brick Needed.

Mr. S. F. Whitham, of Brantford, the Government contractor for the Peterborough Normal School, is in the city to-day making plans for the beginning of work. An Examiner representative interviewed the contractor and learned something about his plans for the erection of the new buildings.

Mr. Whitham stated that it was a question whether the school would be built this year. If it is, brick will have to be brought from Toronto, as there will not be enough at the local brickyards to supply the demand. On inquiry, however, the tractor stated that it has always with local firms, wherever his contracts may be, and will do so in Peterborough as well as in other places. He intends to obtain labour here also.

Mr. Whitham stated that it would necessitate 930,000 brick for the building. He expects to have an engineer here next week to lay out the ground, so that in case the brick are obtained here the work may be commenced at once. The contractor is here making plans and getting prices of materials and supplies, preparatory to the commencement of the building.

Mr. Whitham has appointed Mr. Jno. O. Moss, Aylmer street, as his local agent, who, in the contractor's absence, will act on his behalf. Mr. Moss has the contract for the stone work.

Peterborough Chosen For The Next Convention

Triennial Meeting of Provincial Maccabees Will be Held in This City—Decision Was Reached This Afternoon at Brantford— Mr. Titterson Extended the Invitation.

Examiner Special.

Brantford, March 6. — Peterborough will be the city in which the next triennial convention of the Knights of the Maccabees of the Province of Ontario will be held. This was decided this afternoon, when the question of the next meeting was discussed. Mr. J. Titterson, who represents the Peterborough Tent at this convention extended the invitation, on behalf of the Ist Lock City Tent and although there were other applicants for the honour, the Peterborough man won out, and the convention, which will be held in 1910 will meet in that city.

The second triennial Provincial convention opened in this city yesterday, with over two hundred delegates in attendance from all parts of Ontario. Proceedings yesterday were of a routine nature. Mayor Bowlby, on behalf of the city, delivered an address of welcome. Provincial Commander S. W. Trusler, of Camlachie, presided. The afternoon was spent in organization. The feature last night was a largely attended banquet at Victoria Hall, at which the delegates heard eulogistic speeches from the officers and prominent members.

Mr. J. Titterson, of this city attending the convention as a representative from the local Tent and also holds the office of Provincial Picket.

ARTICLE ON THE WEST AROUSES DEEP INTEREST

"The article on Western Canada in the Examiner of Saturday, resulted in this firm doing a record week's business in western lands," said a member of the real estate firm of Wilson and Gibson, who deal in Regina city property and Saskatchewan lands. It gave the people of this city a better idea of the progress of the west than many of them had had before, and will, no doubt, result in increased interest being taken in that part of Canada, along with a new faith in the possibilities of a portion of the Dominion concerning which many had only a hazy idea.

ONE LOAD OF STONE MEASURED 113 CUBIC FT.

Brought by Mr. Chas. Collins From Otonabee to Hilliard Property.

One of the largest load of stone which ever passed through on sleighs was brought in from Otonabee yesterday by Chas. Collins, son of Mr. Wm. Collins. The stone was obtained at the Gilghorn farm in Otonabee, about six miles from the city, and taken to the Hilliard property to be broken for use on the streets and the load measured exactly 113 cubic feet, being only 15 feet short of a cord.

In olden times a quarter of a cord was the general load, but from the above it is easily seen the times have changed.

EIGHT INMATES IN HOUSE OF REFUGE

A Belmont Township Resident Who Was in County Jail Was Taken There This Afternoon.

The eighth inmate of the House of Refuge was admitted to-day, when Deputy Sheriff Hall took a Belmont township man, who had been confined in the County Jail for some time, to the County House of Refuge. It is understood that there are applications for residents of Smith and Otonabee for admission to the institution, and may be taken in the near future.

FOR MEN WHO KNOW

The New System Which Allows Men to Forejudge Effect

"We will have a splendid showing of Semi-ready Tailoring in time for our Easter opening," said the chief of the Semi-ready Tailoring at Cressman's.

"We have now a large stock, consisting of many cases of the new garments, but we want to have all the new frock coats and Spring overcoats ready by the 21st of March when the almanac says Spring begins and Winter ends.

Semiready Tailoring to-day is an improvement on Semi-ready Tailoring of last year, and President Mercer is never satisfied. He is away from Montreal this week, visiting New York and Chicago, where he gathers the ideas, which help towards the distinctive and original conceptions always shown in the Semi-ready garments.

TO-NIGHT'S BIG GAME WITH ARNPRIOR

One of the Best Exhibitions of the Season is Assured.

One of the best games of the season will be seen to-night when the speedy Arnprior seven will meet Peterborough. The visitors have a fast team, who play the eastern style of hockey to perfection.

The game should be warmly contested throughout and there will no doubt be a big crowd present. The Arnprior team is not a professional team, as many people suppose, but are a very fast amateur bunch, who will make things decidedly interesting for the locals. Mr. F. A. Clark will referee and the game will be called at 8.15 sharp.

The following Peterborough players are asked to be present at the rink to-night at 7.30 o'clock: Lang, Wasson, Glover, Crowley, Morgan, Miller, Graham and Moore.

SAVE US FROM OUR FRIENDS

The Review of last night contains several letters, purporting to reply to a letter of Mr. Barton Earle, in which he criticises one of what seems to him to be an undesirable class of Englishmen. While this is the ostensible object of the writer, the chief object is to outlet a little spite upon the Examiner, in which Mr. Earle's letter appeared. The Examiner is not responsible for the opinions expressed by its correspondents, especially when they are expressed over the writer's own name. Here, it may be remarked that the nameless correspondents of the Review sneak behind a pseudonym to attack a gentleman who is courageous enough to sign his own name to his letters. These officious, would-be champions of the English show a most un-English characteristic — cowardice—in firing from cover against an enemy. It is not like an Englishman to show the white feather, and skulk under shelter, but to face his foe like a man. If these brave anonymous letter-writers possessed the least sympathy with the Englishman, they would show some of the spirit and courage which are the distinguishing characteristics of the race, and be manly enough to show their faces. Any Englishman worthy of the name, will resent being defended, from even an imaginary wrong, by cowards—whatever moral or physical. A few pot-house or curb-stone politicians are trying hard, in the interests of ward politics, to squeeze out a tear or two over the down-trodden Englishmen. By the way, where can we find an instance in history where Englishmen have permitted themselves to be trodden upon? When have Englishmen stooped to have their wrongs redressed by proxy, and that, too, of the sneak variety, that fights under false colours—hides behind an assumed name?

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The exceedingly creditable journalistic products of the West indicate, perhaps, more strikingly than anything else, the wonderful progress which exists there. For a time, a clever lady journalist, Miss Annie L. Page (Miss Annie Merrill, daughter of the late Judge Merrill, of Picton) published the "Townsman," a literary and social weekly. But the name, "Townsman" evidently did not suit the western impulse of expansion. The "Townsman" has broadened into the "Prairie," under which title Miss Page's new and greatly improved venture is issued. It is a well conducted weekly,—with western breeziness and a characteristic loyalty to and faith in, the greatness, present and future, of the great West, of which, of course, Calgary is the centre.

Some Conservative journals, of the more prejudiced tint, seek to discredit the Laurier Government by fair means or foul—preferably foul. The London Free Press insists in the statement that Hon. Mr. Emmerson said that "no contracts had been let for any sections of the Transcontinental Railway." This is a lie, hidden in the guise of truth. It was true some months ago, but the Free Press seeks to convey the impression that it is true now. If it desired to be honest in its treatment of public questions, it would not try to palm off months' old statements, which were true then, but have been replaced by recent events. If the Free Press had any desire to be fair or honest, it would have quoted Hon. Mr. Emmerson's recent statement in the House, that there were 852 miles, or more than half of the Government section of the Transcontinental Railway, under contract. It galls the yellow journals to see their prophecies, that the railway would never be built, falsified by the hard logic of facts.

MANITOBA'S FIERCE FIGHT

We regard our Western Canadian cousins as rather swift ones, but Manitoba with a general election is the top notch of speed and heat. Words used outside the precincts of Dante's post-mortem dreamland can convey no idea of the hot hotness of the Manitoba elections now in full swing or, rather, full blaze. Everybody is in it; even the gamma convert their pulpits into a hustings. The Roblin Government must have stepped very hard on the toes of the moral element to provoke such an exhibition of apostolic blows and knocks, to grove the Tories heterodox. As a rule ministers of the Gospel stick to Gospel propagation religiously, consequently righteously eschewing the muddy works of practical and party politics, except with some exceptions that could be cited in Peterborough. Therefore the Roblin Government's double dealing with the temperance question must have been of a very heinous character to drag the Methodist ministry of Winnipeg out of its peaceful seclusion to enter the lists against the political Apollyon. In the Fort Rouge — name of sanguine significance — Methodist church on Sunday morning last, Rev. J. H. Morgan, president of the Manitoba Conference, was interrupted in a vigorous denunciation of the Conservative Government, by two prominent Conservative sympathisers, members of the preacher's flock, who preferred party to piety. The interruption broke up, as the ghost of Banquo, did Lady Macbeth's dinner party, "with most admired disorder." This incident betrays the bitterness of Manitoba's election fight. Rev. Mr. Morgan made his denunciation in Winnipeg South, where one of the most prominent Methodists of the city is the Conservative Government's candidate. But Rev. Mr. Morgan is not alone among his co-religionists in condemning the Roblin Government. Prof. Osborne, of Wesley College, has been, it is said, continually on the stump in opposition to the government, and Rev. Mr. Bland, of the staff of the same College wrote a scathing letter denouncing the Government. The Presbyterians are also "agin the Government." On Sunday night Rev. C. W. Gordon (Ralph Connor) preached against the Roblin Government. It is stated that the fight throughout the province is equally bitter, even members of the Government viciously replying to the ministers of the Gospel, and denouncing them as falsifiers—in plain words giving them the lie. This is not surprising on the old principle— when one has no case abuse the other side, and because the success of the Government demands the most strenuous methods. The Government is fighting for its life, and for its death the Opposition is fighting. To take the claims of both parties, chances are even. It's a good thing that this bitter contest closes on Thursday next—neither party could stand the present pace long. Whether or not the Roblin Government is defeated, their is one certainty—its majority will be greatly reduced, probably decimated. The outcome will be awaited with great interest.

BAPTIST EVANGELIST TO VISIT CITY

Rev. Alex. Torrie Will Hold Evangelistic Sermons in the Park Street Baptist Church.

Preparations are well in hand for the visit of the Rev. Alexander W. Torrie, B.A., the well-known evangelist, to Park Street Baptist Church. The choir is being enlarged for the services, and the Y.M.C.A. male quartette have consented to help during the series. Mr. Torrie has given himself to the Home Mission Board and makes the second evangelist employed visiting the churches. He has just visited Collingwood and Paris, and in both places there have been great additions to the churches, while crowds flocked to hear him. The Torrey-Alexander hymns will be used. Friends are requested to bring the books in their possession and assist in the song service, which will be a great feature in the revival. Mr. Torrie's first sermon will be preached on Sunday morning next, March 10. The meetings will be continued every night for two weeks, beginning at 8 o'clock. Song service at 7.45. A workers' prayer meeting will be held at 7.30.

LIVING TOO HASTILY

CANADIAN WOMEN BREAK DOWN

Irregularities and Female Derangements Result —Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Owing to our mode and manner of living, and the nervous haste of every woman to accomplish just so much each day, it is said that there is not one woman in twenty-five but that suffers with some derangement of the female organism, and this is the secret of so many unhappy homes.

No woman can be amiable, light-hearted and happy, a joy to her husband and children, and perform the duties incumbent upon her, when she is suffering with backache, headache, nervousness, sleeplessness, bearing-down pains, displacements, spinal weakness or diseased organs.

Irritability and snappy retorts take the place of pleasantness, and all sunshine is driven out of the home, and lives are wrecked by woman's great enemy—female trouble.

Read this letter:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I suffered for four years with what the doctors called inflammation of the fallopian tubes, which is a most distressing female disease, undermining the constitution and sapping the life forces. If you had seen me a year ago when I had begun taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and had noticed the sunken eyes, sallow complexion and general emaciated condition, and compared that person with me as I am to-day, robust, hearty and well, you would not wonder that I feel thankful to you and your wonderful medicine which restored me to new life and health in five months. My friends all marvel at the change it has made in me, but none can appreciate it better than I can myself." Miss Irene Hapgood, 1022 Sandwich St., Windsor, Ont.

At the first indication of ill health, painful or irregular periods, pain in the side, headache, backache, bearing-down pains, nervousness, or the "blues," secure at once a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and begin its use.

PERSONAL MENTION

Miss Leslie Jobbitt is visiting friends in Lindsay.

Miss Noma Logan, who has been visiting in Toronto, has returned to the city.

Miss Aggie Burns has returned from Toronto, where she has been visiting friends.

Mrs. J. R. Stratton will not receive to-morrow, but will be at home on Thursday, March 14th, between 4 and 6 o'clock.

Mr. Thos. MacGillieuddy, of Toronto, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Browett, 457 Downie street, for the past week, has returned home.

Mr. E. Brown, G.T.R. Master of Bridges and Buildings, of Allandale, and Mr. Wm. Kearns, Bridge Inspector, of Lindsay, arrived in the city to-day.

Mr. S. Clegg, engineer of the Trent Canal, came up to-day from Peterborough to inspect the progress of the work on Ops swing bridge.—Lindsay Post.

Mr. Wallace Madill and Master Laurence left for Montreal to-day where they will reside in future. Mr. Madill has been in that city for the past two months.

Miss Hattie Campbell, of Trouro, N.S., after a two weeks' visit with her mother and a week spent at the millinery openings in Toronto, left for home at noon to-day.

Mr. J. F. Clarke, of Port Hope, the man who has perhaps taken the deepest interest in the question of securing the outlet of the Trent Canal for that town, was in the city last night.

Some of the new arrivals will be sent out this afternoon and the remainder in the morning to till the floods of applications which have been received from all parts of Canada for them.

Three other parties will be received during the year, the next coming about the middle of May.

FRIENDS ADVISED USE OF PE-RU-NA.

Suffered Much—Catarrh Affected Throat and Nose—Pe-ru-na Proves Highly Satisfactory.

Mr. Raoul Pilon, 116 Rue Notre Dame, Lachine, P. Q., writes:

"I write you a few words to express to you my satisfaction at being cured.

"I was afflicted with catarrh of the throat and nose and suffered much.

"I was greatly discouraged.

"I had a bad breath and a bad taste in my mouth in the morning.

"I took treatment for some time without obtaining relief.

"At the advice of friends I tried Peruna and the results have been highly satisfactory.

"At the end of four months I was completely cured."

Neglected catarrh becomes chronic. Having developed into the chronic stage, a longer and more persistent treatment will be required to cure it than if the disease were treated at the onset.

However, Peruna will bring relief, whether the catarrh is acute or chronic. If you are wise you will keep Peruna on hand and take a few doses at the first appearance of a cold or cough, and thus save yourself both suffering and expense.

Political Element In License Administration

Cabinet Minister Stands by "Patriots for Revenue"—License Transfers Discussed With Ministers at Albany Club.

The continuation of the inquiry into License Law Administration in Toronto reveals the busy hand of the ward heeler and sportsman. Dr. Pyne, Minister of Education appears as a go-between. At the last sitting Messrs. Crawford and Norris, prominent Conservative workers in Ward Two, told the License Commission to-day the story of a visit they paid to Dr. Pyne in connection with a banquet, in which they mentioned to him that they wished to interview Dr. Wilson chairman of the License Board, in connection with the proposed transfer of license from John O'Neil to George McFarlane, a matter still before the board. Dr. Pyne apparently did not see anything irregular in their calling upon the chairman alone, for he called Dr. Wilson up on the 'phone, and said they were coming. The same evening the two went to Dr. Wilson's house to protest against the transfer, but Dr. Wilson at once refused to discuss such a matter without the full board being present.

Later the two appeared before the Board, which refused to hear them unless Mr. McFarlane were present. This was an arrangement to which they would not consent, and they still say they think it was fair to go on with their accusation to the board behind his back.

A peculiar feature of the whole transaction is that Crawford once appeared before the board to further the application of one Courtney, concerning whom it was hinted that there were seventeen convictions. He had known the man for twenty-two years, but was surprised when the report as to convictions was made. Though he supported this man, he [illegible] master of McFarlane, on the ground that he was an unfit person to run an hotel. He also told of an interview with the Commissioners, arranged by Dr. Pyne over the 'phone and that Dr. Pyne and Hon. Mr. Hanna were present at the Albany Club when license transfers were talked over.

Capt. Crawford went into the matter of meetings at the Albany Club, at which Dr. Pyne and the Hon. Mr. Hanna were present. He cannot now remember that the McFarlane transfer was discussed, but admits that license transfers may have been mentioned in a "general" and "casual" way; also that the Lynden transfer may have been mentioned. There were a number of these meetings, and his *memory as to the proceed-*ings is beautifully indefinite.

Investigator Hodgins went into a resolution passed by Ward Two Conservative Club in February last in which they put themselves on record as opposed to the present board and Chief Inspector as not carrying out in their department the principles of the department as set forth by the Ministry, and generally condemned the administration of the license law. Messrs. Crawford and Norris told their grounds for voting for this resolution, which was passed unanimously. They had heard street rumours, they said, of a license syndicate, and they knew of certain transfers which did not suit them, to say nothing of "tied" houses.

Inspector Purvis was telling his story when the Commission adjourned at noon. He mentioned the Lynden transfer as practically the only ordinary case in which he has not made a written report to the Board. He had heard so many bad reports as to Lyden, (a Liberal,) and yet Lyden had such good recommendations, that he thought he should leave the matter entirely to the Commissioners.

Radical Change In Nervous System

STRENGTH OF NERVES AND VIGOR AND HEALTH OF BODY FULLY RESTORED

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

The process of revitalizing a nervous system which is on the verge of collapse, must of necessity be slow, but the results are certain and highly satisfactory when Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is used.

It took 24 boxes to cure Mr. Branton, but the cure is in many respects a most extraordinary one, as you will realize by the following description:

Mr. William Branton, Victoria street, Strathroy, Ont., writes: "Before using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, my nervous system seemed all unstrung. I could not sleep, had no appetite, hands and feet cold, my digestion was poor, and I had jerking of the limbs. The first box of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food helped me and I continued until I had taken 24 boxes. This treatment has made a radical change in my condition, building up the system and strengthening the nerves. I would strongly recommend it to all suffering from nervousness."

Paralysis in some form is the natural result of neglected diseases of the nerves, but paralysis, instead of coming on suddenly, as is generally supposed, is almost invariably preceded by months or years of warning symptoms.

Sleeplessness, headache, failing memory, loss of vigour and energy, stomach troubles, weakness in the mornings, dizziness, weak heart action and despondency are some of the indications of exhausted nerves, which gradually and certainly yield to the reconstructive influence of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, or, if neglected, lead to paralysis, locomotor ataxia or insanity.

New nerve force must be added to the body and this can best be accomplished by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food which is sold at 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.50, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt

PRESBYTERY SESSION YESTERDAY

Much Business of Importance Transacted—Many Appointments Were Made.

NEW MEMBERS OF THE PRESBYTERY

The Quarterly meeting of the Peterborough Presbytery was held yesterday and was divided into two sessions. A large amount of business was transacted including many appointments of importance. At the morning session Rev. Peter Dunsan was elected moderator for the year and was also given permission to be placed on the Aged and Infirm Ministers' Fund List, having served 39 years as minister of the Colborne congregation.

Mr. Peakover, Omemee, and Mr. Sterling, Lakehurst, were introduced as new members of the Presbytery.

A letter was read from Mr. Nelles, of Mill street church, Port Hope, relating to the sale of that church to the G.T.R. Rev. Mr. McNaughton, of Port Hope was heard upon the matter, and a committee was appointed to confer with Mill street church anent union of St. Paul's church, Port Hope.

A communication was received from Lakehurst section, asking for the erection of a new church at Buckhorn. Mr. Sterling was heard concerning the matter and the request was granted.

Mr. Reeves submitted his Home Mission report which showed a satisfactory condition of things in the Mission Field. Rev. Mr. Camp asked to have a student to take charge of that mission field during the summer, to be composed of the following appointments: Round Lake, Oak Lake, South Lake and Stony Lake settlements.

Dr. J. B. Wilson of Winnipeg, was nominated for the chair of Church History and Practical Theology, in the Presbyterian College, Halifax.

The Moderator, Rev. Mr. Duncan, was appointed to represent the Presbytery at the W.F.M.S. Presbyterial which meets in Cobourg next June.

Dr. Duval was nominated as moderator of the General Assembly.

Mr. Skene was appointed representative on the Synod Business Committee, and Mr. MacFarlane on that of the General Assembly. Mr. J. F. Clarke, elder, was appointed on the Synod's Committee on Bills and Overtures.

Afternoon Session

The Presbytery resumed its second session at 2.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Rev. P. M. Duncan presided.

The reports on amalgamation, home mission work, church life and work, Sabbath schools, and Presbyterial statistics, were read, duly considered and adopted.

The reports showed progress, both numerically and financially.

The Rev. D. P. Oswald, of Pontypool, laid on the table his resignation of his charge. Mr. Oswald stated to the Presbytery that he had decided to remove to the Northwest, and felt that he would act in the best interests of his health, and of the good of the congregation by taking this course. He had enjoyed the work among his people, and would leave with great sorrow of heart.

The Presbytery sympathized with Mr. Oswald and spoke very highly of the good work he had accomplished at Pontypool and associated congregations. The Presbytery regretfully granted Mr. Oswald's request, his resignation to take effect April 30.

Dr. Marsh, of Springville, was appointed Interim Moderator. Leave to moderate in a call was granted to Pontypool and Warsaw as soon as the congregations are ready to do so.

A committee consisting of Revs. MacFarland, Wm. Johnston, Wm. Beattie, and Lord, ministers, and Messrs. J. F. Clark, Cullen, Mann, and Little, elders, was appointed to confer with the officials of St Paul's Church, city, in reference to matters affecting the welfare of the congregation.

The report on Standing Committees was read and adopted, as follows, the first named being convenor:

Home Missions — Rev. Messrs. Reeves, MacFarland, Potter, ministers, and C. L. Owen, elder.

Augmentation—Rev. Messrs. Skene, McKenzie, and elder from Baltimore.

Church Life and Work — Rev. Messrs. Beattie, Lord, and elder for Cobourg.

Sabbath Schools —Rev. Messrs. Camp, Burns, and elder for St. Paul's, Port Hope.

Young People's Societies — Rev. Burns, Abraham, and elder for St. Andrew's.

Supervision of Students — Rev. Messrs. MacFarland, MacLennan, and elder for Warkworth.

Statistics—Rev. Messrs. Thomson, McDonald, and elder for Hastings.

French Evangelization — Rev. Messrs. MacLennan, Reeves, and elder for Norwood.

Evangelistic Services — Rev. Messrs. McKenzie, Dr. Marsh, and elder for Centreville.

Foreign Missions—Rev. Messrs. Peakover, Wm. Johnston, and elder for Omemee.

Systematic Giving—Rev. Messrs. Lord, McLeod, and elder for Mill Street Church, Port Hope.

Aged and Infirm Ministers — Rev. Dr. Torrance, S. S. Burns, and elder for Lakefield.

The Rev. S. S. Burns, B.A., of Lakefield, was appointed treasurer of of the Presbytery.

Commissioners to the General Assembly, which will meet in Montreal in June next were Rev. Messrs. Potter, Reeves, Duncan and MacFarland, ministers, and Tucker, McLean, Cuthbertson and J. F. Clark, elders.

The Presbytery adjourned to meet in St. Andrew's on Tuesday, March 26, at 9 a.m., and was closed with the benediction.

THE GOVERNMENT AND ZAM-BUK

SURVEY OUT FROM FORT WILLIAM TAKES A SUPPLY OF THIS USEFUL BALM.

Zam-Buk, the favourite household balm and salve, is now adopted as "the Doctor," by leading parties engaged in surveying various parts of the Dominion lands.

Mr. Henry Hall, writing from Fort William, says: "Having proved how beneficial Zam-Buk is in case of cuts skin injuries and diseases, I determined to keep a supply handy. Being engaged to go on a survey, I thought that it would be a most useful thing to take along. I obtained a supply in Fort William and very well it was that I did so. I may say that pretty nearly every day it was called into requisition, by one or other of the party for cuts, bruises, burns, or some injury or other. It is wonderful how quickly Zam-Buk takes the soreness out of cuts, burns, bruises and injuries; and on our survey it earned golden opinions from all who had occasion to try it. I have found it very fine for skin disease, and I can strongly recommend it as a household remedy."

Mr. Lascelles Scott, one of the leading Government analysts, says: "I have no hesitation in certifying the entire purity of Zam-Buk, which in my opinion is excellently adapted for skin injuries and diseases." Zam-Buk cures cuts, scalds, burns, bruises, eczema, scalp sores, ringworm, ulcers, abscesses, chapped places, spring pimples, blood poison, chronic abscesses, etc. As an embrocation it relieves rheumatism, neuralgia and sciatica. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. a box, or from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Six boxes sent for $2.50. Send 1c. stamp and we will mail you a free sample box.

CONSIDER TRANSFER OF TWO PASTORS

Important Meeting of Transfer Committee of the Methodist Church Will be Held in Toronto To-morrow.

LOCAL CHURCH AFFECTED.

At the meeting of the Transfer Committee of the Methodist Church of Canada, which will be held to-morrow, in the Wesley Buildings, Toronto, the applications for transfer of two pastors, in whom local interest centres, will be considered.

In making the changes, the committee endeavours to maintain a certain balance between the conferences, and the rule generally followed to do this is to have men of the same standard of worth exchanged, so that no one conference is robbed of its best men, while it gets the least able of the preachers from other conferences.

The transfers affecting this city are as follows:

Rev. E. A. Pearson, of Centennial Church, Toronto, to George Street Church, Peterborough.

Rev. W. J. Crothers, of Peterborough, to St. Catharines.

Rev. J. J. Rae, of Picton, president of the Bay of Quinte Conference, is the representative of this conference on the Transfer Committee.

WEDDING BELLS

NICOLL--LILLIE

A quiet wedding took place this afternoon at 1.30 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. John Lillie, Spring street, Norwood, when his daughter, Miss May, was united in marriage to Mr. Herman Nicoll, son of Mr. Richard Nicoll, also of Norwood. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a few guests by Rev. G. A. McLennan, pastor of the Presbyterian Church. The principals of the wedding were unattended. The bride was married in her going-away dress of navy Venetian with white silk trimmings and hat to match.

A dainty dejeuner followed the ceremony, and Mr. and Mrs. Nicoll left on the 4.30 C.P.R. train for a trip through Western Ontario. Returning, they will reside at Norwood. Many beautiful presents testified to the esteem in which the young couple are held by their friends.

HARRISON--LANE

A very pretty wedding took place at the residence of Mr. Henry Lane, Young's Point, on Feb. 27th, when his youngest daughter, Letitia May was united in marriage to Mr. John Harrison of Lakefield.

The ceremony took place at 7 p.m., beneath an arch of evergreens decorated with colours of red, white and blue, and was performed by Rev. Mr. Bedford of Lakefield, in the presence of about 40 guests.

The bride was becomingly costumed in white and wore the customary veil and orange blossoms. She was assisted by her cousin, Miss Louise Nelson, of Lang, while Mr. Ross Harrison, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

After the wedding supper had been partaken of, the young couple drove to Lakefield, where they have taken up their residence. All join in extending congratulations and best wishes for a happy and prosperous wedded life.

Englishmen In Canada; Replies To Mr. Earle

WOULD PREVENT THE IMMIGRATION AGENTS FROM LYING

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Sir,—Barton Earle calls me a gentleman. Oh! I am told he has been a schoolmaster, which accounts for the state of the side-walks which would whiten the hair of a cat. Of course he never meant me — he meant no one and nothing. If I had any influence with the British Government I would prevent the lying agents and others, mostly Canadians, who bring people to this country to be bullied, ill-treated and insulted.

Yourd obediently,
WM. A. BAILEY.

Peterborough March 5, 1907.

SAYS THE LETTERS ARE ILLOGICAL AND PRINCIPLE IS WRONG

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Sir,—Your article on Englishmen and Mr. Barton Earle's letter which brought about the discussion, are really idle and illogical. Surely you know sufficient of human nature not to be led away by any absurd talk of nationality. It is principle we are concerned with; and you cannot muzzle me with your bullying talk about your institutions. You English in Canada as the English in England are corrupt, but you have none of the advantages of a genuine corruption. If Mr. Earle plays no games how is he an authority on bridge?

Yours, etc.
W. A BAILEY.

Peterborough, March 5, 1907.

"GLUE POT" WRITES IN REPLY TO THE LETTER OF MR. EARLE

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

Sir,—Mr. Barton Earle, or, as he is generally know, Mr. Barkin' Earle, attacks a man who signs himself "Canuck," in a truly characteristic way. Fourteen times does he burden his little effusion with an "I." What more need be said? Now, the writer of this protest against this most persistent and impudent of book agents is not "Canuck." He is quite another man. Nor is he one of the poor Englishmen, whom Mr. Earle presumes to despise. Just fancy his presuming to despise anybody! But it is not my wish to jump on a vain old man when he is down. That sort of work I leave to him. But worse than his sentiments — much worse — is the construction of his sentences. Let us take a few examples: "Unused and unwilling to work, etc." Here the word "work" is made to do double duty as a noun and a verb, but we hope, as its name implies, that it is equal to it. Then he quotes the old proverb of drawing a herring across the scent, but mangles it by calling "scent" track. Then, again, he writes, "fairly educated," which is laughable. A schoolboy would know that it should be "fairly well educated." But what could be expected of a man who undertakes to lecture people, as he does? Not being able to secure a class, he undertakes to lecture the public.

He lectured long, but lectured still in vain,
Until the poor old man got lecturing on the brain.

If "Canuck" is the man I think he is, he need only refer to his publishers and his critics. Mr. Earle himself could ask no more.

"Before closing," he says, "permit me to attempt to make myself clear, etc." Poor man! I will congratulate him on his good intentions, but what an attempt! Enough said. The whole city is laughing at him. He is, at least, a Lenten "diversion." He accuses "Canuck" of having stamped his character on his style. Thank Heaven for great mercies! Mr. Earle did not succeed in doing the same. Then again he attacks his antagonist regarding his philanthropy. Few would stoop so low. There are blows which no gentleman uses, and this, I may tell Mr. Earle, is one of them.

SECOND DEBATE OF THE T.A.S. CLUB

Was a Success in Every Way—Twenty-five or More of the Members of the Society are Taking an Active Part.

The second of a series of debates was held in the T.A.S. rooms last night under the auspices of the debating section of the Society. The subject under discussion was "Resolved, that Capital Punishment should be Abolished." The affirmative side of the debate was upheld by Mr. Jas. Drain, leader, and Mr. Arthur Sharpe; the negative by Mr. Andrew Foley and Mr. Fox.

Rev. Dr. O'Brien was unable to attend, and Rev. Father Galvin very generously acted as chairman. Mr. Jas. Drain was the first speaker for the affirmative. He stated that the first, known, murderer was put to death, namely, Cain, and therefore mankind can take a good example from this. He gave statistics which showed that most countries have abolished capital punishment.

Mr. Foley for the negative side said that the death punishment was a protection to society, in that most criminals were cowards and feared death but not imprisonment.

The other speaker for the affirmative side said that one man out of every fifty that was put to death was innocent and this was sufficient to give the abolition question some consideration. Moreover, with punishment, crime does not decrease.

Mr. Fox said that the punishment for a murder was only made equal to the crime by death.

Rev. Father Galvin summarized the points advanced and then left the decision to the house. The negative side won the highest number of favourites and thus won the decision. The rest of the evening was spent in a general discussion of the subject.

CANADIAN SOCIAL AT MARK STREET

Epworth League Gave Delightful Concert in Sunday School Room Last Night—A Large Audience Attended.

The members of the Epworth League of the Mark street Methodist church held a Canadian Concert in the Sunday School room last night, which was a gratifying success in every way. It was patriotic in character and proved to be an enjoyable evening social. The invitations were in the form of maple leaves, each member receiving two. The school room was gaily decorated with Union Jacks, and other flags and bunting. The programme was of a national nature and was as follows:—

Hymn, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name."
Prayer, by Mr Jas. Goodwin.
Chorus, "The Maple Leaf Forever."
Chairman's (Rev. Dr. Crothers) address.
Solo, "Canada the Gem in the Crown,"—Mr. J. C. Miller.
Recitation, "Little Baptiste," by Drummond—Mrs. Lewis.
Duett, "God Preserve Our Native Land"—Misses Ketcheson.
Reading, "Pioneer Retrospect"—Mrs John Spier.
Chorus, "God Preserve Thee, Canada."

Rev. Dr. Crothers occupied the chair in a most satisfactory manner. Dr. Morrison also gave an address on Canada, making reference to the progress with which Canada is advancing and the prosperity which Canadians are enjoying. The choruses by members of the League were well rendered.

After the musical part of the programme refreshments were served at the many tables which were placed about the room. Altogether a most enjoyable time was spent and when the social was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem everyone was more than satisfied.

BITING PAINS IN THE BACK.

PETERBORO'S PLANS MUST BE MADE

Of What Will be Done to Obtain National Dairy Show—Only One Week To Decide.

DAIRYMEN'S ASSOCIATIONS TO MEET

The time has almost arrived when the city council will be called upon to submit a definite proposition to the Dairymen of what Peterborough will do towards the obtaining of the National Dairy Show.

Mr. George A. Gillespie, the local representative of the Eastern Dairyman's Association, and also a member of the executive, has received a letter stating that there will be a joint meeting of the Eastern and Western Ontario Dairymen's Associations, and of the Ayrshire, Holstein and Jersey cattle breeders, in Toronto, on Wednesday, March 13th, to confer regarding the location of the National Dairy Show.

Arrangements are being made to have the city councils of Toronto and Peterborough represented to explain to the committees what they will agree to do for the show. In all probability there will be a definite decision reached on that date, so that the local council have only one week left in which to prepare their plans and to state what they will do towards obtaining the big show.

The meeting is called for ten in the morning and at 2.30 the committee will interview the Hon. Nelson Monteith, Minister of Agriculture, with regard to assistance from the Ontario Government for the exhibition.

The Mayor being out of the city to-day, nothing definite has been decided in respect to holding an emergency meeting to decide on their plans.

Be sure and visit Turnbull's Ready-to-wear Opening on Thursday March 7th and following days when all the latest ideas in Ready-to-wear Hats, Separate Skirts, Coats and Waists will be on exhibition.

CANOE SENT TO BRITISH COLUMBIA

It Was Cut in Two Parts to Fit in a Box Car and Thus One Hundred Dollars in Freight Was Saved.

The Peterborough Canoe Company shipped a large canoe yesterday to British Columbia under conditions that are rather interesting. It was a large 25-foot canoe built on special lines of strength, as it is to be used in the region of the Rocky Mountains, where all the rivers are of a turbulent nature, and it is thus necessary that the boats be as powerful and rugged as possible.

This boat was, in its entirety, too large and bulky for an ordinary box car, and would thus require a flat car or freight car with an open end. This would cost in the neighbourhood of $185, which was more than twice the value of the canoe. Accordingly, to circumvent this objectionable feature, the boat was cut into two parts, and when placed in the box car, did not occupy much more room than two ordinary canoes.

The boat was not literally sawed at the centre, but the boards were cut so as to fit together again in dove-tail fashion. It is said that when it is put together again it will be just as strong as when first constructed, and there is no difficulty in fitting the two parts. In this way $100 off the freight will be saved, and the boat will be delivered in excellent condition. This is the first time the company has tried this plan. When, as is very often the case, they have a whole carload for one place, and two of those large canoes is a part of the shipment, a car with an open end is used.

The boat-building, and especially the canoe-building, industry, is very brisk in this city, and the Peterborough Company can boast of a large number of special orders on their books.

RELIGIOUS WORK IN GOOD SHAPE

W. J. Southam, Special Secretary for This Department of Y. M. C. A., Pays Visit to the City.

Yesterday, Rev. W. J. Southam, special religious work secretary for Canada for the Y.M.C.A., visited the local Association and spent a part of the day in conference with Mr. J. F. Thornton, chairman of the local Religious Work Committee, and Mr. Williamson, general secretary. He is making a study of what each Association is doing along the line of religious work.

To Mr. Thornton he expressed himself as highly pleased with that department here, and stated that, in point of organization, it was the best he had yet visited in Canada.

Mr. Southam is a graduate of Wycliffe College, Toronto, and spent seven years in Hong Kong in the Y.M.C.A. foreign work.

He was a fellow student at Wycliffe of the Revs. E. A. Lanzfeldt and Wm. Major.

Peterborough People To Meet General Booth

Many Members of Local S. A. Corps and Others Will go to Toronto During the Next Week—Special Rates on Both Railways for His Visit.

A large number of persons from this city will go to Toronto this week to attend the special meetings to be held in connection with the visit to the Queen City of General William Booth, head of the Salvation Army. Staff-Capt. Wiggins, head of the local corps, will leave on Friday and will be away a week attending the Council of War which will be held during the General's visit, and which will be attended by about five hundred officers from all parts of the Dominion.

In connection with this event, which will, in many respects, be the most important in the history of the Salvation Army in Canada, there will be cheap rates on both railways from Peterborough to Toronto. Commencing on Friday return tickets may be purchased at single fare, with 25 cents added. These tickets are good to return until March 15th. Any who wish to take advantage of this cheap rate should ask for a standard certificate with their single fare ticket, and this certificate, when signed by the secretary of the Transportation Committee at the Salvation Army Temple, Toronto, will entitle the holder to a return ticket on payment of 25 cents.

A number of the members of the local corps will leave here on the early train on Sunday morning, and attend the meetings held during the day in the Temple. This will in all probability be the last visit the General will pay Canada. He is now on his way to Japan, to visit the members of the Army in that country.

THE BEST STOVE AND HARDWAR CO

MUSIC AND DRAMA

DORA THORNE

The Lem B. Parker dramatization of Bertha M. Clay's famous novel, is even more interesting than the reading of it. The play of "Dora Thorne" opens a wider play upon human emotions and passions than perhaps any melodrama that has been produced this year. The reading public is familiar with the story, the confession of love, the murder, the pangs of jealousy aroused, and the vivid description of the wages of sin. The scenery is especially adapted to the production of the play. This is the Rowland & Clifford Company, which is a guarantee of its being a combination of unusual merit. The production is staged in first class fashion from curtain to curtain. Sadie Marlon is seen in the part of Dora Thorne.

UNCLE JOCH SPRUCEBY

A charming comedy drama, carload of special scenery and mechanical effects, a big band, grand operatic orchestra, and many new and novel specialties, a strong company of acting people with the "Uncle Josh Spruceby" Company, will no doubt draw a big crowd at the Grand Opera House, Thursday March 7. In these days, when the public is flooded with "farce comedies," with no plot, it is a relief to witness a play of this character. Its pure, homely humour and rustic pastoral scenes give the theatre-goer a treat from the "fast and furious" kind of show, and for those that like sensation, the play has realistic scenes and startling climaxes that will surely give the necessary "shivers."

LOVERS AND LUNATICS

At the Grand lastnight was a lively and laughable musical piece, replete with sparkling music, funny incidents and irresistible comedy. The many songs in "Lovers and Lunatics" are bright and catchy, while the dancing numbers are in the hands of talented artists. The piece is very prettily staged and apparently no expense has been spared in the many varied beautiful and unique costumes as carried.

Joe Morris, who plays the leading role, Ikey the Jew, is a clever comedian with a good voice. He sings a splendid song, and his every effort calls for encores that will not be denied. George P. Watson, the lieutenant, was highly acceptable in song and his double-voiced offerings—baritone and treble—were enthusiastically received. Florence Little, as Nellie Richmond, sustained her character very acceptably in vocal solos, duets and histrionic efforts. Lillian Lawson and Master Jack Ward are exceedingly clever sand dancers and their number called for more than one repetition, and deservedly so.

DRUNKEN MAN FOUND ON WATER STREET TO-DAY

Was Taken to the Police Station on Cart —Fell on Sidewalk While Drunk.

This morning, about 10 o'clock, Mr. Albert Crouter, found an old man lying on the pavement on the east side of Water street, between Hunter and Simcoe streets. He was bleeding from the mouth and nose, and was in a helpless condition, being intoxicated. Mr. Crouter placed him on his cart and took him to the police station. He was placed on the couch there, and Dr. Bingham was called. The warmth of the station partially revived the old man and he soon began to snore, and showed that he was not very badly hurt. The doctor pronounced him "O.K.," and he was placed in a cell until he became sober.

Attending Memorial Service Of Late Supreme Chief Ranger

This morning, Mr. Wm. Miles, Chief Ranger of Court Chemong I.O.F., left on the early C. P. R. train to attend the funeral of the late Supreme Chief Ranger of the Order, whose remains will arrive from Savannah to-day. He will represent Peterborough Independent Oddfellows in the funeral cortege, from the Union Station to Massey Music Hall, Toronto, where the body will lie in state until to-morrow.

To-night, Mr. Miles will attend the memorial service, which will be held in Massey Hall, and which will be addressed by three ministers.

Peterborough Foresters could not have made a more appropriate selection for its representative to the funeral of the head of the Order than Mr. Miles, who is a Forester of about twenty years' standing. He was initiated a member of Newburgh Court in 1889, and was installed an officer in that Court by Dr. Oronhyatekha, who was a personal friend of Mr. Miles, to whom the death of the great Forester came as a personal loss.

The following letter has been sent to Dr. T. A. Slocum, Ltd., for publication.

Dr. T. A. Slocum, Limited.—Dear Sirs: Within the last two years my wife (who is of a delicate constitution) has had two severe attacks of la grippe, both of which have been speedily corrected by the use of Psychine. We have such faith in the efficacy of your remedies that as a family we use no other. For toning up a debilitated system, however run down, restoring to healthy action the heart and lungs, and as a specific for all wasting diseases, your Psychine and Organidine are simply peerless. Yours sincerely, Rev. J. J. Rice, 1 Keller Avenue, Toronto.

PSYCHINE, Pronounced Si-keen, is a scientific preparation, having wonderful tonic properties acting directly upon the Stomach, Blood and weak organs of the body, quickly restoring them to strong and healthy action. It is especially adapted for people who are run down from any cause, especially Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, LaGrippe, Pneumonia, Consumption and all Stomach or organic troubles. It has no substitute.

DEBATE ON THE BUDGET IN LEGISLATURE

Two Government Bills Are Introduced.

MR. ROSS TAKES HIS SEAT

Measure to Appoint Examiners to Test Qualifications of Stationary Engineers — Burlington Beach To Be Under the Control of Whitney Commissioners—Premier Deals With the Assessment Act.

Toronto, March 6.—The debate on the budget progressed, but did not conclude at the sitting of the Legislature yesterday afternoon. Addresses were delivered by Messrs. Thompson (Wentworth), Lewis and Clarke (Northumberland). All were of interests. Mr. Clarke had not finished at 6 o'clock, and will continue on Thursday. His remarks were spiced with considerable humor. The night session was occupied by arrangement in consideration of estimates, with which considerable progress was made. During the afternoon two Government bills, one respecting stationary engineers and the other taking the control of Burlington Beach from Hamilton and Saltfleet Township and placing it under a commission consisting of two members were introduced.

West Middlesex's Member.

Hon. Geo. W. Ross, Canadian Senator and ex-Prime Minister of Ontario, had the satisfaction yesterday of seeing his son, Mr. Duncan C. Ross, take his seat in the Legislature as member for West Middlesex. The incident was brief, but interesting. The new member was escorted into the House by Messrs. A. G. MacKay, member for North Gray, and C. N. Smith, member for Sault Ste. Marie, the former making the usual formal introduction. Mr. Ross then stepped up to the dais and cordially shook the hand of the Speaker, amid vigorous Opposition desk-pounding.

The Assessment Act.

The Premier before the orders of the day were called pointed out that the assessment act had been made the subject of many proposed amendments during the session. The amendments, said the Premier, could be referred to the Municipal Committee which would single out and refer all amendments of consequence to the commission for the revision of the statutes. The commission, he continued, had been engaged lately in going over the matter in the most careful and thorough manner; going over it line by line, and there would be a revision, he predicted, such as had never been before.

Mr. Graham said that of course the House did not lose or abandon any of its prerogatives, or its right to pass upon the revision in leaving this matter to be dealt with by the commission.

Progress With Estimates.

The evening session was occupied in the passing of estimates, splendid progress having been made by the time the House adjourned at 10 o'clock. Hon. Mr. Foy, in asking a vote for $64,462 for the expenses of his department explained a number of increased details in the vote.

The Premier said that the public business had greatly increased through natural causes, and this had necessitated securing more help. "The officials in this building have never been paid too high salaries. I mean by that that proper men to-day to do the work could have obtained larger salaries outside. Material comfort, which would enable them to do the work properly, is necessary. The increase of living expenses in this city has more than doubled in twenty years. That, together with other causes, we have felt that certain increases were justifiable." Mr. Whitney added that a number who had been on the temporary list had been placed on the permanent list.

Earl Grey at Levis.

Quebec, March 6.—Earl Grey visited the Caisse Populaire, Levis, yesterday, accompanied by a cousin, George Grey, Col. Hanbury Williams and Mr. Rickering.

Mr. Desjardins, the founder and manager, explained the system of the institution minutely, the Governor-General evincing keen interest.

Faith Healers Fight Bill.

Quebec, March 6.—A deputation of osteopathists and Christian Scientists, mostly from Montreal, protested yesterday against the clause in the bill of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, which, if adopted, would prohibit them practicing their methods of cure.

HAD THIRTY-TWO BOILS AT ONE TIME

Two Bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters Cured Him.

Imperfect organic action makes bad blood, or, too, bad blood, in turn, makes imperfect action of every bodily organ. If the blood becomes impure, poisoned or contaminated in any way from constipation, biliousness or any other cause, some especially weak organ must soon become diseased thereby, or the whole system may suffer in consequence.

Pimples, boils, blotches, ulcers, festering sores, abscesses, tumors, rashes or some serious and perhaps incurable blood disease may result. There is no medicine on the market to-day to equal the old and well-known remedy, for all cases of bad blood.

Mr. Ernest B. Tupper, Round Hill, N.S., says: "I think Burdock Blood Bitters a great medicine for boils. I had them so bad I could not work. I had thirty-two on my back at one time. I used only two bottles of B.B.B. and they completely cured me. I cannot recommend it too highly." Price $1.00 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $5.00.

TO BREAK UP A COLD.

An eminent authority on lung trouble, who effected many remarkable cures in his camp for consumptives in the pine woods of Maine, advises the use of the following formula: Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure), one-half ounce; Glycerine, two ounces; good Whisky, one-half pint. Shake well and take in teaspoonful doses every four hours. It will break up a cold in twenty-four hours and cure any cough that is curable. The ingredients are not expensive and can be secured from any good prescription druggist, but great care should be exercised to have them pure, as there are many adulterated imitations of this pine product which create nausea and never effect the desired results.

Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure) is put up in half-ounce vials for druggists to dispense in filling prescriptions. Each vial is securely sealed in a round wooden case with engraved wrapper, with the name—Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure), prepared only by Leach Chemical Co., Windsor, Ontario—plainly printed thereon. To avoid substitution, it is best that the ingredients be purchased separately and the mixture prepared at home.

THAW BORED BY EVIDENCE.

New Point Raised as to the Validity of His Marriage.

New York, March 6.—The prospect that Mrs. Wm. Thaw, the white-haired mother of the defendant, might be a witness yesterday at the trial of Harry K. Thaw, for the murder of Stanford White, apparently had but little effect in reviving the interest of the curious, for the court-room showed many empty benches when Mr. Justice Fitzgerald took his place.

Dr. Charles G. Wagner, superintendent of the State Hospital for the Insane at Binghamton, N. Y., was immediately recalled to the stand and his cross-examination resumed by District Attorney Jerome.

The prosecution began by reading the latter part of Dr. Wagner's testimony of Monday regarding the characteristics of the brain storms so as to take up the line of questioning where it was left off.

The witness Monday referred Mr. Jerome to an instance of brain storm cited in one of the medical authorities. Yesterday the prosecutor asked if the alienist knew of any reported cases of brain storm.

Dr. Wagner said he could not recall any off-hand.

Thaw Takes No Interest.

Thaw brought his customary batch of letters into court, and after a brief whispered conversation with his counsel, proceeded to read them. He then took a large pad out of one of his big brown paper envelopes, secured pen and ink, and began to write a letter. He was decidedly the least interested spectator in the room.

Dr. Wagner's definition of the various forms of insanity apparently held no interest whatever for the man on trial for his life.

Take Chances With Jury.

Mr. Delmas made few objections to Mr. Jerome's questions to Dr. Wagner Monday, but he will resist strenuously any attempt to show that Thaw is now insane, the defence preferring to take their chances with the jury rather than with a lunacy commission.

A New Point Raised.

Another point that is being discussed is the legal standing of the marriage between Thaw and Evelyn Nesbit. Both Dr. Evans and Dr. Wagner have testified that they believed Thaw was of unsound mind when he signed the will and codicil on the night of April 4, 1905. This was the day of the marriage. If Thaw was insane at that time, he was, under the law of Pennsylvania, incompetent to enter into a contract. Marriage is under the law a contract, and if he was insane at the time his marriage would be actually void under the law.

BELL WAS NOT RUNG.

Evidence In Hochelaga Fire Inquiry Shows That Teachers Were Dilatory.

Montreal, March 6.—At the inquest into the Hochelaga School disaster yesterday evidence was submitted to show that all children could have escaped had there been no delay on the part of the teacher. Evidence showed that the fire drill bell was not rung. Children in the lower flat were all out by the time those upstairs knew the fire was serious. Chauvin and Baker, advocates, are about to take action against school commissioners and city council, on behalf of the parents of children who lost their lives.

POWDER MAGAZINE EXPLODES.

Thirty Persons Were Injured, Several Probably Fatally.

Pottsville, Pa., March 6.—By the explosion of powder at the Richards colliery, at Mount Carmel, yesterday, the blacksmith shop, boiler house and large powder magazine were blown up. About 30 persons were injured, several probably fatally. The business street of Mount Carmel was badly damaged and in the vicinity of the colliery, houses were badly wrecked. Window panes were broken for 15 miles from the explosion.

SUICIDE OR MURDER?

Young Canadian Found With Bullet Through His Head.

Saskatoon, Sask., March 6.—The body of E. C. H. Gwynn of Valley Park, 25 miles southwest of Saskatoon, was found in a shack Monday. A Winchester rifle along side the body and a hole in the skull suggested suicide. Mounted police have gone out to investigate. The body was found by the partner of deceased and R. W. Schram. No reason for suicide can be given. Deceased was unmarried, and was 36 years of age.

Nine Killed In Two Explosions.

El Paso, Texas, March 6.—Two explosions in the rock quarry of the Chihuahua and the Pacific Railroad at Sandoval, Chihuahua, Monday, killed nine men and seriously injured nine others.

TRAIN WRECKED ON THE GRAND TRUNK

Montreal Express Crashed Into a Stalled Freight.

INJURIES ARE NOT SERIOUS

Several Passengers Including Two Ladies Receive Severe Bruises—Crews Save Their Lives by Jumping—Cars Considerably Damaged —Accident Caused by Freight Neglecting to Sidetrack.

Toronto, March 6.—The regular G. T. R. express for Montreal, leaving here at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, run down freight train No. 92, eastbound, this morning, near Pape avenue, and as a result four passengers were slightly bruised and injured. Miss M. V. Milne, Toronto, had her lip cut and was slightly bruised on the forehead; Mrs. G. Pemberton, Toronto, had her nose bruised; Mr. J. W. Prescott, Toronto, received sprains in the back, and Mr. J. H. Allan of Trenton, was cut on the lip and bruised.

The passenger train was proceeding at a moderate speed across the Don Valley, and when it reached Pape avenue it struck the caboose of the freight which was going up grade on the main line. The impact caused the injuries to the passengers named, but none of the crews were hurt.

The passenger train was brought back to the Union Station for a couple of new drawbars and some other repairs, and after some delay proceeded again to Montreal. The company gave out the facts of the accident, and stated that rolling stock was not damaged to any extent.

The cause of the accident seemed to have been that the freight failed to get into a side track before the passenger overtook it.

RAIDED BONDED CAR.

Four Young Montrealers Held On Charge of Theft.

Cornwall, Ont., March 6.—Four young fellows, whose ages run from 12 to 18, were arrested here by Chief of Police Smyth, last night, and turned over this morning to Chief Detective McRae and Detective Harnett of the Grand Trunk Railway, who took them to Montreal. The quartet gave their names as Rosario Fyfe, St. Henri; Sylvester Alguire, Arnold McConnell, and John Evans, Point St. Charles. They were nabbed by the train crew when they jumped out of a bonded car at Coteau with their pockets filled with goods, which, it is alleged, they took from various packages in the car, which they had broken open.

Cows Poisoned Themselves.

Kingston, March 6.—Dr. Higginson, Dominion Veterinary Inspector, was here from Ottawa in regard to an alleged outbreak of contagion among cattle beyond Odessa. The farmer had been rubbing some poisonous powder into the animals' skin to kill some creeping things. The cows in licking themselves took the poison into their systems and three of them died.

Dark As Night In Brantford.

Brantford, March 6.—A snowstorm, with a high wind from the east, set in at 3 o'clock yesterday. It was as dark as night for ten minutes and lights had to be resorted to. The storm lasted about 20 minutes, followed by sunshine.

ALL READY FOR THE BIG GAME

Both Teams are Wanted in Temiskaming League—Battle Notes and Nonsense.

REVIEW LOOKING FOR TORONTO MEN

The greatest game in ages will be seen at the Brock street rink to-morrow night, when the Review and Examiner aggregations will meet in the famous press game. The match will be started at 8 o'clock sharp, with Mr. E. M. Best as referee, and an all-star cast of players who have won reputation and scars in many a hard fought contest. For the benefit of the public, and to avoid the possibility of a dangerous jam, the rink will be opened at 5 a.m to-morrow. The admission fee has been placed at the ridiculously low figure of ten cents, which entitles you to an hour's skating afterwards. The proceeds will be devoted to the Children's Aid Society.

There is a possibility of the two teams meeting again this year in a colder climate. The Examiner management this morning received the following telegram from Haileybury of the Temiscamingue League:

"Haileybury plays Cobalt here on Monday night. If possible would like to secure whole Examiner team for Haileybury. Expense no object. Wire reply at once.

U. NAMEYOUROWNTERMS, Manager.

It is understood that the Review had received a similar request from Cobalt. Both teams are considering the matter but it is hardly likely that they will sacrifice their reputations by playing in such a fence corner league.

The Review Mysteries had their final practice yesterday afternoon. We call them "Mysteries," because as yet we have no clue to their line up. They decline to reveal it to the gaze of an anxious public, and from what we can learn of the outfit they can scarcely be blamed for being reluctant in the matter.

Manager McRae has a team who would make a great hit in the lumber business but as a hockey team they are the greatest collection of misfits that ever adorned the arena of the Brock street rink. The Examiner team is confident of making them look like a Toronto team in an O.H.A. match.

Miss Crane had several stays broken by being hit in the ribs by the puck in yesterday's practice. Her efforts to get out of the way were commendable but scarcely speedy enough to avert the catastrophe. The wound is not a serious one, and her beatific smile will be seen in the game to-mofrow night.

Burridge, the heavy weight forward of the Review team, was in Toronto yesterday. We are in the dark as to the object of his visit, but it is said that the Review management is making strenuous efforts to land some of the Toronto professionals, which is a striking illustration of the desperate straits in which the team are at present.

Uncle Pike McRae has decided to play right wing for the Review team. He wants the support of the fence in his speedy rushes and he will probably be introduced to the boards before the game is long under way.

The poet laureate of the Examiner team has handed in the following, which will be used as a slogan in to-morrow night's game:

"Get on to the Examiner—
The darling pets!
Slamming her, slamming her
Into the nets!"

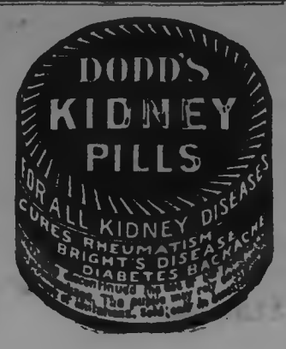
The following musical tribute to Uncle Pike McRae, the optimistic Review manager, has been received:

McRae, McRae,
He couldn't get up from where he lay;
It's tumble that, it's tumble this—
Whenever he tries he's sure to miss.
McRae, McRae,
He's an awful excuse at a hockey play;
It's David dear, and don't you hear,
He's the original McRae.

WHITCROFT PLAYS CENTRE NOW

Moved to That Position on the Thistles and, Despatch Says, is Proving Good Man.

Kenora, Ont., March 5. — Thistles had a good stiff work out last night and showed the best form seen yet since the Stanley Cup games. Hooper was back in the game after injuries received in Toronto. The rest seems to have done him good and he is playing with great fire and dash. Scandro, who was badly shaken up in a practice a week ago, was also out, and will be in shape in a night or two. Phillips got a very severe cut in the game with Portage la Prairie over a week ago, but is in great trim again and travelling as per usual. Whitcroft, the Peterborough recruit, was at centre and works in well with the team. He is a very heady player and remarkably effective about the net. Griffis, at cover, seems to be improving with every practice, and it is almost impossible to pass him. In last night's work-out McGimsie was tried at point, but owing to the excellent work of Griffis, had comparatively little to do.



A BIG "SKIP TANK" FOR HAMILTON

Immense Receptacle Made by the Wm. Hamilton Mfg. Co. for Iron and Steel Works Smelting Plant.

A "skip tank" for the smelting works of the Hamilton Iron and Steel Co., with a capacity of several thousand gallons, has just been manufactured at the Wm. Hamilton Co.'s works. The contract for the installation of the plant was let by the Iron and Steel Co. to the Hamilton Bridge Works, and the latter company gave the contract for the manufacture of the tank, which is an immense receptacle made of boiler plate, to the local company. It took a whole flat car to transport the tank to Hamilton. It was completed and placed on the car for shipment yesterday.

HOCKEY

St. Andrew's Guards accept the challenge of the Park street Baptists to a game of hockey at the Brock street rink, on Saturday night.

• • • •

A very speedy and interesting game of hockey, was played at Knox rink on Monday, when the Grafters Club went down to defeat by the Knox Seniors, by a score of 7—2. Both teams showed up well. But for the good work to Sherwood in the nets for the Grafters, the score would have been much larger. Herd was responsible for the Grafters two goals, while for the Knox seniors Galley scored 2; Lyon, 2; and Morphett, 3.

The line up was as follows:

Grafters — Goal, Star Sherwood; point, Big Chief Haskill; c. point, Butcher Reilly; rover, Grafter Mann centre, Sweetie Heard; l. wing, Sponger, Lightfoot; r. wing, Footer White.

Knox Seniors — Goal, W. Killenbeck; point, R. Hamilton; c. point, W. Galley, rover; V. Morphet; centre, E. White; l. wing, B. Bartley; r. wing, B. Ryan.

Referee, Bruce Hopkins.

• • • •

Last night at the Knox Rink Menzie's Saints defeated Bartley's Imps to the tune of 7 to 0. Windy Killenbeck refereed, and gave entire satisfaction. The Imps were a motley-looking bunch, some red, others green, while others felt blue. The line-up was as follows:—

MIDLAND LEAGUE TO HOLD MEETING

The Annual Conference Dated for Saturday, March 23—Some Important Business to be Dealt With.

ONLY ONE CLUB OFFICIALLY ENTERED

The annual meeting of the Midland Association Football League will be held on Saturday March 23rd, at one o'clock, in the Y.M.C.A. parlours, Peterborough. Among the important business to be dealt with will be the consideration of having an intermediate and senior series in the League for 1907.

The election of officers will take place and also a representative will be appointed to attend the annual meeting of the Ontario Football Association at Toronto, which will probably be held on Easter Monday.

Representatives from the various clubs wishing to enter the League this year are requested to be on hand on behalf of their respective clubs.

It is yet impossible to form any idea of how many clubs will enter the League, but it is expected a large number will take advantage. The secretary, Mr. J. E. Sullivan, has received notice from Oshawa stating that that town will be represented. Bridgenorth is expected back to the fold again after a couple of years vacation and Peterborough is also certain to be represented to defend the trophy which they won last year from Bowmanville.

Two days before the annual meeting of the League, Thursday, March 21, there will be a re-organization meeting of the local club when officers will be elected and representatives to the annual meeting appointed. All Association players in the city are requested to bear this date in mind and to be on hand to assist in the re-organization.

At the Turnbull Co.'s Ready-to-wear Opening on March 7th and following days there will be on exhibition an advance showing of very choice tailored street hats.

INITIAL CONCERT OF REBEKAH LODGE

Oddfellows' Handsome Hall Well Filled With a Refined, Music-Loving Audience.

A SPLENDID PROGRAMME PROVIDED

The initial concert under the auspices of Golden Link Lodge, No. 81, Rebekah Oddfellows, was held last evening in the handsome Oddfellows' Hall, and proved to be successful in every particular. The audience was large and lovers of the refined musical and literary style of entertainment which was presented last night by the Rebekah Lodge. Every number of the lengthy programme was very much appreciated and that is putting it mildly. A number of the prominent soloists and elocutionists of the city were procured by the committee in charge and the programme was certainly a rare treat.

The concert was presided over by Col. J. W. Miller, who, in opening, referred briefly to the benefits gained from Oddfellowship. The accompaniments were splendidly taken by Miss K. Graham and Mr. Geo. Schneider, the former of whom also contributed an opening piano solo.

To particularize would be difficult as every number was excellently presented and enthusiastically received.

The programme in its entirety was as follows:—

Piano solo—Miss Katie Graham.
Solo—Mr. Firth.
Recitation—Miss Nellie McCabe.
Mandolin solo—Mr. F. Clarke.
Solo—Miss Clara Bellegham.
Recitation—Mr. Russell.
Solo—Miss Pearl Morgan.
Duet—Misses Sperry and Parnell.
Chairman's address.

Intermission.

Solo—Mr. J. Dawson.
Recitation—Miss Katie Leary.
Solo—Miss Bertha Parnell.
Solo—Mr. Firth.
Recitation—Mr. G. Lynch.
Solo—Miss Maude Oliver.
Duet—Messrs. Clark and Mendel.
Solo—Mr. McLaren.
Accompanists—Miss K. Graham and Mr. Geo. Schneider.

CONGREGATION WILL INVITE A PASTOR

Meeting of Knox Church Members and Adherents to be Held To-night for That Purpose.

To-night a meeting will be held in Knox church, when the question of calling a new minister will be discussed. During the last few weeks a number of ministers have been heard in this church, and it is probable that the choice of the congregation will fall on one of those who have been heard.

Y. W. C. A'S WELCOME TO STRANGERS TO CITY

A Cordial Invitation is Extended to Young Women.

The Young Women's Christian Association is anxious to meet the needs of all young women. At the last monthly Board meeting it was decided to invite any young women who are strangers to the city to come and have tea in the rooms on the second Sunday afternoon of every month. By doing so they might meet with other girls, and form friendships which would be helpful.

Miss Maynoord, General Secretary, would be very glad at any time to have a chat with any such girls in her office. The rooms are open from 9.30 a.m. to 9.30 p.m. and a very cordial invitation is given to all young women to come in and it shall be counted a privilege to help them in any way.

NERVOUS PEOPLE

SOMETHING YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

"No nerves and never irritable." This is what Mr. McDermid of the firm of McDermid & Jury, our well known druggists, says people report after taking Vinol. "It is remarkable," said Mr. McDermid to a reporter, "how many people buy sedatives and all sort of opiates to quiet and deaden the nerves, when they are weakening their entire nervous system by doing so.

"Nerve troubles are easily cured," continued Mr. McDermid. "It is simply a case of treating the general weakness, not the nerves alone, and and that is just what Vinol does in the most direct and simple manner possible. It cures nerve troubles because it builds one up and makes one strong all over. It invigorates the entire nervous system, makes new blood and vitality.

"Vinol contains no drugs, and you know what you are taking—simply the medicinal curatives found in cod liver oil dissolved in a delicious table wine and a little organic iron added. It is fast superseding old forms of cod liver oil and emulsions because it is so delicious to the taste and has such marvelous vitalizing power."

We say to every nervous, run down and debilitated person in Peterborough, try Vinol, and if it does not cure you, come back and get your money. McDermid & Jury druggists. Vinol is also sold at The Market Drug Store, the Ormond & Walsh old stand.

GUILD BANQUET WAS A SUCCESS

Delightful Affair Was Held Under the Auspices of St. Paul's Y. M. G. Last Night.

THE TOAST LIST WAS ENJOYABLE

The annual banquet of the St. Paul's Church Young Men's Guild was held last night in the Sunday school room of the church and proved one of the most successful affairs of its kind ever held under similar auspices. The ladies of the congregation provided the repast, which was a splendid one, and they are to be congratulated upon the excellency of their arrangements. To them is due, in no small measure, the success of the affair. Some fifty young men sat down to the tables, which were prettily adorned with carnations and presented a very pleasing appearance. The repast provided by the ladies was a sumptuous one and ample justice was done to the good things. After the needs of the inner man had been attended to, a very enjoyable toast list was run off, the president, Mr. E. S. Clarry, acting as toast-master.

MR. E. S. CLARRY,
President of St. Paul's Young Men's Guild, Who Filled the Duties of Toastmaster at the Annual Banquet Last Night

The first toast, that to His Majesty the King, was honoured in the usual manner, the gathering heartily singing the National Anthem.

Mr. W. McIlroy rendered a spirit-solo which was thoroughly suited to the resonant qualities of his fine baritone voice, and which was splendidly given.

Mayor McWilliams proposed the next toast, which was that to Canada. He referred to the growth of patriotism in Canada, which, he said, was a product of recent years. The speaker, in referring to Canada, remarked that the country stood it a crisis in many ways. The future, he said, would have little of the racial of religious strife.

The speaker condemned the small salaries that were paid to public officials, referring to the Council and Water Commissioners of Peterborough. He impressed upon the young men present the importance of following the course of public events and of intelligently using their franchise.

The toast was honoured by the singing of "The Maple Leaf."

Mr. G. B. VanHilarierm replied to the toast in an eloquent speech, referring in humorous strain to the mock parliament held under the auspices of St. Paul's Guild. Speaking of Canada, he referred to the great progress the country had made during recent years. Reference was made to the manner in which the West was filling up, and the prediction was made that within the next generation the greater part of the population of Canada would live west of the great lakes. Statistics were given to show the importance which Canada has attained.

Mr. McLaren rendered a comic song in clever fashion, and was warmly applauded.

The next toast, "Our Pastor," was proposed by Mr. Jas. Conrad, who referred to the kindly manner in which the pastor had always treated the Young Men's Guild, and spoke in terms of praise of the interest displayed by Rev. Dr. Torrance and Rev. Mr. Bright.

The toast was heartily honoured by the gathering, who sang "They Are Jolly Good Fellows" and gave three cheers for the pastor and assistant pastor.

Rev. Dr. Torrance, in reply, said that he had always taken a deep interest in the Young Men's Guild. He had counted sixteen present whom he had baptized, and it was no wonder that the work of the guild was of especial interest, both to himself and Mrs. Torrance. The speaker, in conclusion, referred to the good work done by the guild.

Rev. A. Bright also replied to the toast, emphasizing the importance of the Young Men's Guild in helping to keep the young interested in the affairs of the church. An important problem was how to retain the young men in the service of the church, and the guild did a lot in serving this purpose.

A solo by Mr. John Crane was splendidly rendered and greatly enjoyed.

Mr. Ross Cameron proposed the next toast, that to "Sister Guilds," referring to the work done by the other guilds of the city. The toast was heartily honoured and was replied to by Mr. W. Richardson on behalf of St. Andrew's Guild; Mr. H. Potter, St. Luke's Guild, and Mr. Ira Moore, of Charlotte Street Guild.

All of these expressed their pleasure at being present and congratulated the members of St. Paul's Guild upon the success of their banquet. Each of them referred to the important mission of guild work. Mr. Potter, in particular, outlined the most obvious features of the work.

Mr. Moore asked the audience to rise and drink to the health of St. Paul's Young Men's Guild.

The President, Mr. E. S. Clarry, thanked the mover of the toast for his remarks. He expressed the appreciation he felt in being at the head of the guild, and referred to the good feeling existing between it and the other guilds of the city. The speaker referred to the work of the guild and thought it could be used to develop a broader Canadianism among the young men. In conclusion, he thanked the ladies of the congregation for the banquet which they had provided.

Mr. Chas. Barbor was heard to advantage in a vocal solo, which was greatly appreciated.

The next toast was that to "The Ladies," which was proposed by Mr. President Clarry, and responded to by Messrs. J. M. Watt, Graham, Ferguson and Milne Hamilton.

A duet, "The Battle Eve," by Messrs. John Crane and W. F. Nelson, was rendered with spirit and much appreciated.

The toast list was concluded by the toast to "The Press," which was responded to by the representatives present.

The singing of the National Anthem brought a most enjoyable evening to a close.

NIP IT IN THE BUD

First Appearance of Dandruff a Forerunner of Future Baldness

That such is the case has been conclusively proven by scientific research. Prof. Unna, the noted European skin specialist, declares that dandruff is the burrowed-up cuticle of the scalp, caused by parasites destroying the vitality in the hair bulb. The hair becomes lifeless, and, in time, falls out. This can be prevented.

Newbro's Herpicide kills this dandruff germ and restores the hair to its natural softness and abundance.

Herpicide is now used by thousands of people—all satisfied that it is the most wonderful hair preparation on the market to-day.

REGINA

You will make more money by buying lots in Regina City, than by any other source at the present time. It is no gamble, no chance, but an absolutely sure investment. Property will increase at least 100 per cent. in less than two years. Buy now. Prices will be advanced in the spring. Here are a few things that are making Regina grow and making property increase in value:—

REGINA, the wholesale and distributing centre for Saskatchewan and the west. $6,000,000.00 worth of farm machinery sold from Regina last year. Regina is the head-quarters for Saskatchewan of:—

The American-Abell Engine and Thresher Co
Massey Harris Company.
Frost & Wood Company.
Fairchild Company.
Waterloo Manufacturing Company.
J. I. Case Threshing Machine Company.
Garr-Scott Threshing Machine Company.
The International Harvester Company.
The North-west Thresher Company.
The New Hamburg Manufacturing Company.
Reeves Thresher Company.
Nichols & Shepherd Thresher Company.
Sawyer-Massey Company
Noline Plow Company
Canadian Pont Huron Company
Cockshutt Plow Company.

Besides the above there are a number of large eastern wholesale houses located in Regina. At the present time some eighteen more wholesale firms have secured sites in Regina to build on this year.

REGINA, the only railroad centre in Saskatchewan.

Besides the present roads which run north, south, east and west, there will be six more lines built into Regina during the next two years, being the Great Northern from the south, the Canadian Northern from the southeast, the G. T. P. north to Prince Albert, and three G. T. P. roads—one northeast, one east, one southwest.

The following is what Mr. Morse of the G. T. P. said in Regina on Aug. 6, 1906:

The Leader, Aug. 6, 1906.

FRANK MORSE IN REGINA

Mr. Frank W. Morse, Vice-President and General Manager of the G. T. P. Railway, spent a few hours in the city on Saturday morning, and had a short conference with Mayor McAra and W. G. Pettingel, President of the Board of Trade. Mr. Morse had no new statement to make for publication regarding the plans of the G. T. P. in and around Regina. He repeated what he had said when in Regina on May 26th last that his Company would get into Regina at the earliest possible date, as they realized there was a large business to be done here. He confirmed the statement, which was first published by The Leader, that in addition to a branch line to Regina, from the main line near Yorkton, and from Regina to the International boundary on the south, a branch would be run to Regina from Brandon.

"The construction of branch lines would be carried on simultaneously with the main line," said Mr. Morse.

REGINA leads all cities from Winnipeg to the Coast in building for 1906.

Capital of Saskatchewan ranks fifth among the metropolitan centres of Canada, being surpassed by Winnipeg, Toronto, Montreal and Vancouver. Leads all the Dominion in relative growth. Building permits in 1906:

Regina—$1,982,330.

Edmonton—$1,863,894.

Calgary—$1,109,161.

No other city in Canada shows as high a percentage of growth as Regina. 1907 will beat all records. A large number of expensive buildings are being erected. Among others include:—Four new hotels, at a cost of over half a million; municipal hospital, $100,000; Y. M. C. A. at $100,000; Baptist Church, $50,000; Masonic Temple, at $75,000; Dominion Land Titles Office at $110,000; New Public School at $34,000, and many other business blocks and residences. Chief amongst all buildings will be the new Provincial Parliament Buildings, at a cost of at least $1,500,000.

Facts About Regina City

Regina is the Capital of the Province of Saskatchewan.
Regina is the only commercial centre of Saskatchewan.
Regina is the only railroad and distributing centre in Saskatchewan.
Regina has eight chartered banks and four more coming.
Regina tax rate for 1906 is only 15 mills.
Regina has the finest sewer and waterworks system in the West.
Regina is the only city west of Winnipeg with paved streets.
Regina has a surplus of assets of over a million and a half.
Regina's population has increased over 300 per cent. in three years.
All public utilities are owned and operated by the city.

Mr. Flavelle Tells How Hon. Dr. Pyne's Interference Resulted In Resignation Of License Board

The fat is in the fire. After a great deal of delay Mr. J. W. Flavelle, the chief financial backer of the Conservative Opposition, whose Purity Fund out such a big figure in the elections of 1902, and whose only reward was the unpaid office of License Commissioner in Toronto, taken in the hope of bettering conditions, was called to the stand yesterday and told why he only held the office for a few months. It is a story that should cost Dr. Pyne his seat in the Government if the boastful declaration of Mr. Hanna that the license administration is out of politics is not to become a byword.

One of the Tory workers in the east end, Courtney by name, against whom many convictions for illegal sale of liquor had been registered, wanted to get back into the business. Dr. Pyne, who probably knew that Courtney's record would prevent him from getting a license except by pull, went to Mr. Flavelle and asked that a license be given his protege. Mr. Flavelle told Dr. Pyne that it was not wise for Ministers of the Crown to see the Commissioners on such matters. Subsequent inquiry showing up Mr. Courtney's record, the license was refused by the Board.

Evidently Dr. Pyne went home and thought out a means of obtaining revenge. He could hardly dismiss the "Financial Backer." He did, apparently, compass the dismissal of Inspector Hastings, feeling that the Commissioners would take the hint. They did. Their resignation was followed by the appointment of a board of well-meaning but weak and unsuspicious men, under whom there has grown up a system of trafficking in licenses worthy of Tammany in its best days. The Conservative party has been disgraced. And the reason for it all was that Mr. J. W. Flavelle when approached by Dr. Pyne told him politely to mind his own business and let the License Commissioners mind theirs.—Toronto Globe.

"Bud" McCourt Dead As A Result Of A Hockey Game

Cornwall Player Injured in Game With Ottawa Victorias—Was One of the Best Known of the "Tourist" Hockey Players.

A traveller at the Oriental Hotel to-day gave the information that McCourt, the Cornwall hockey player, who was injured in the game with the Ottawa Victorias in the game last night, had since died in the hospital. A despatch, to the Globe, referring to his injury says:—

The second half was hardly started when there was a regular Donnybrook Fair, McCourt was knocked unconscious by a blow on the head, which cut the scalp badly. Throop was struck about the same time, and was unable to continue play. McCourt came back on, but was only able to play a short time when he was obliged to retire. Afterwards he became unconscious, and the doctors, believing that there was internal bleeding in the brain, had him removed to the hospital. His mother and a priest were sent for and are at his bedside.

McCourt was to have played to-night in Belleville, with "Reddy" McMillan and Hunter, also of the Cornwall team. He achieved some notoriety last season in O.H.A. circles by reason of his connection with the Woodstock team, which was expelled from the Association because McCourt and DeGray, both of Cornwall were brought to the western town after the time allowed by the Association, and for being professionals.

Crazed Musician Makes Attempt On Kaiser's Life

Examiner Special.

Berlin, March 7.—Emperor William's life was seriously threatened at a concert in the White Hall at the Palace last night. Herr Kupke, a member of the orchestra, suddenly went raving mad, and, uttering piercing shrieks, seized a big bass drum and rushed straight toward the Kaiser, who occupied a seat in the front row. He fought viciously and several times almost broke away before he was overpowered. He was finally ejected from the hall and conveyed to a mad house. The Emperor remained cool throughout, but the audience was thrown into a panic.

Maccabees In Favour For An Insurance Commission

To Investigate Affairs of Fraternal Insurance—A Resolution Passed at Triennial Gathering in Brantford—Meeting Closed Yesterday.

The triennial Provincial convention of the Knights of the Maccabees, which has been in session in Brantford for the last few days, concluded yesterday after a most successful convention, in the course of which considerable business of much interest to the members of the Order was transacted.

The committee on good of the Order which had under consideration that part of the provincial commander's report, which referred to the Hunter table of rates, and the action of the Dominion Government, reported as follows: "We recommend on the question of J. Howard Hunter's table of rates that this convention thoroughly endorse his action and urge that it be incorporated into Ontario law, believing it to be in the best interests of fraternal insurances. We also recommend the endorsement of the action of the Dominion Government in the appointment of a commission to investigate fraternal insurance societies and insurance companies, and approve of the recommendations already made."

ADVERTISERS' DEMANDS ON EXAMINER'S SPACE

On account of lack of space, the result of a sudden and unexpected demand made on the advertising columns of the Examiner to-day—demands made too late in the day to permit of a twelve-page paper being published, instead of an eight-page—considerable local and outside telegraph news of interest has been crowded out of the Examiner to-day.

A CALL EXTENDED TO REV. H. J. KEITH

Knox Church Congregation Gave Him Unanimous Invitation to be Their Pastor—Meeting Last Night.

CALL TO COME BEFORE PRESBYTERY

The meeting for the moderation in a call to a minister was held in Knox Church last evening, and Rev. Dr. Torrance, Interim Moderator, after the sermon, conducted the business meeting.

The names of all candidates were read, and a ballot was taken which showed that Rev. Henry J. Keith, M.A., of Smith's Falls, was the favourite. He was given a unanimous call and his salary was fixed at $1,000.

The call will come before Presbytery at its adjourned meeting in St. Andrew's Church on the 26th inst., and in the meantime it will be forwarded to Mr. Keith.

Mr. Keith is a man of very fine scholarship, being honour graduate in Arts of McGill University, and a B.D. of the Presbyterian College, Montreal. He has had exceptional experience, being for two years in India, organizing Bible class work and teaching the Scriptures under the auspices of the International Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association, where he did a successful work among the Hindoos, but unfortunately the climate did not agree with his wife's health, and he had to return to Canada. He is an earnest, fluent preacher, and made a splendid impression upon the congregation of Knox Church last Sabbath, when he appeared as a candidate. His home is in Smith's Falls, and if he accepts the call so soon as he can be inducted after the next meeting of Presbytery, he will begin his work here.

Messrs. Jonathan Smith, William Shea and Duncan Campbell were appointed to represent the congregation at the meeting of Presbytery on the 26th.

There will be an opportunity next Sabbath and the following Sabbath for those who were not present at the meeting to sign the call.

MEETING TO CONSIDER THE DAIRY EXHIBITION

Will be Held Next Tuesday Night—Deputation to Wait on Dairymen.

It is probable that a special meeting of the council will be held next Tuesday night to deal with the question of sending a deputation to Toronto next Wednesday, in regard to the National Dairy Show.

Ald. Leary who is the chairman of the special committee of the city council in this matter, is the authority for this statement and he expects to have representatives of the County Council and the Board of Trade present to discuss what steps will be taken.

A deputation consisting of representatives from the above mentioned bodies will likely present Peterborough's situation to the Dairymen, and form part of the delegation to wait on the premier.

ANOTHER PRESENTATION OF "ZEPHRA" SPECTACLE

April 3rd and 4th Will be the Probable Dates—The Same Cast Procured.

Mr. J. H. Booth was in the city yesterday and made arrangements to have the spectacle, "Zephra," again produced at the Grand opera house next month. The production made such a hit when presented here last month that it was thought it might well be shown again. The same cast will undertake the production of "Zephra," which will be presented two nights, probably on April 3rd and 4th.

Violent Form of Itching Piles

Rev. S. A. Duprau, Methodist minister, Belleville, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with itching and bleeding piles for years and they ultimately attained a very violent form. Large lumps or abscesses formed, and I suffered great pain. A single box of Dr. Chase's Ointment cured me and saved me from a very dangerous and painful operation. The lumps and swellings disappeared and I am now an entirely different man."

WHOLE SHIP'S CREW PROBABLY LOST IN WRECK OF "MALAGA"

Examiner Special

London, March 7.—A report from Castellamare Di Stabia says the British ship Malaga was wrecked almost in sight of land off that port. Thirty bodies have been recovered, and it is thought that the whole ship's company perished.

OBITUARY

FREDERICK WYATT

The death occurred at Nicholls Hospital early this morning of Frederick Wyatt, who passed away after an illness of nine weeks' duration, suffering from inflammatory rheumatism of the heart. The late Mr. Wyatt was 17 years of age and was the second son of Mr. Joseph Wyatt, East City. The deceased was removed to the hospital yesterday in the hope that he would recover more quickly than at home, but he became worse last evening and passed away at 1.30 o'clock this morning. He was a bright young fellow and highly esteemed by a wide circle of friends who will learn with deep regret of his death. He was a member of the Woodmen of the World and attended St. Luke's church.

Besides his parents, six brothers and two sisters are left to mourn his loss.

The funeral will take place on Saturday afternoon at 2.30 from the family residence, 496 Driscoll Terrace to St. Luke's church, and thence to the Little Lake Cemetery for interment.

TO-DAY'S PROCEEDINGS AT COURT

Leslie Crouter on Suspended Sentence Until Monday on Charge of Stealing From Grocery Rig.

The police court was once more doing business this morning after a rather lengthy spell of peace and tranquility. The first case of a rather large docket was that of Jos. Schneider, who was charged with assaulting Wellington Cannon on Saturday, Feb. 2nd. Schneider was drunk at the time and did not know what he did, so pleaded guilty. He was fined $2 and costs, amounting to $4.60 to be paid in ten days. He departed with a grateful "I thank you."

A young lad, Leslie Crouter, was charged with having stolen two parcels from Mr. W. H. Hamilton's delivery rig, one of sugar and one of rice. Mr. Hamilton said that Mr. Crouter brought back two parcels which he said the boy had brought home, but witness said they not the same as had been sent out on the order.

Mr. Bruce Kennedy, expressman for Mr. Hamilton, said that on the date in question, Feb. 26th, he took an order to the Y.W.C.A. On coming out a man was holding two young lads and he asked him to see if any of his packages were missing. He did so and found the above mentioned articles missing.

Mr. Jack Foster, the next witness, stated that he was on Aylmer street the evening in question. He said he saw several young lads around Hamilton's rig and saw two of them run away after one had picked up something from the rig. Witness caught one lad but the other eluded him. Witness said that the boy who got away dropped a bag of sugar in his flight, and this lad was young Crouter.

The next witness called was a young lad 10 years old, named LeGros, who was with young Crouter. He explained how they went to the rig and the latter boy took some parcels. They were chased by Mr. Foster and witness was caught. Other evidence was taken but only confirmed what had already been given.

Mr. Gordon appeared for the defence and asked His Worship to allow the boy to go on suspended sentence. The amount stolen was trifling and the boy has previously had a good character.

Mr. Dumble deferred sentence until Monday morning. The mystery of the case is where did the sugar come from that was substituted for that which was stolen.

Lecture Proceeds

It should be understood by the public who intend to patronize the course of lectures on "In Memoriam," which Rev. Dr. Symonds has has been asked to give, that the proceeds go to the paying of expenses connected with the lectures. Dr. Symonds has made his own fee very low and in this way the management has been able to put the full course tickets at the low figure of $1.00.

GENESIS OF THE SURPLUS

Hon. Mr. Provincial Treasurer Matheson, who could never recognize a surplus, through Opposition specles, elevates a hilarious cackle over a surplus of $429,299, under his administration. The surplus is not disputed, but the credit of Mr. Matheson for its existence is flatly denied. Where would his surplus have been but for the sources of revenue provided by the preceding Liberal Government — which were adopted in spite of the persistent and clamorous opposition of the Opposition. Take the following items as an add to an answer: Supplementary revenue, which is responsible for $644 201.99; Succession dues, $1,015,713.24; Temiscamingue and Northern Railway, $158,154.47; and we have a grand total of income due to Liberal Government foresight and initiative, of $1,818,069.70. These results are the outcome of sources of revenue provided by the Liberal Government. To this may be added a considerable sum received from mines in New Ontario, on the line of the provincial railway. If the sneers, and cavilling, and opposition of the Opposition, when when the measures creating these sources of revenue were under consideration, and in process of adoption, had succeeded, the province would not have had this nearly two millions of annual revenue. Cold water, from the Conservative Opposition, was thrown upon the exploitation of New Ontario by the Ross Government, Mr. Whitney, the then leader of the Opposition, going the length of decrying the value of this now known rich region, by describing it as "The land of the stunted poplar." The Conservative Opposition adopted a similar attitude towards the construction of the Temiscamingue and Northern Railway, which has proven not only a mighty and indispensable element in development of natural resources but a source of revenue. Take away this nearly two millions — $1,818,069.70 — due to sources of revenue provided by Liberals, and where would Mr. Matheson's boasted surplus be? Nearly a million and a half to the bad. In fact, in view of the tremendous increase of expenditure by the Conservative Government, the surplus would have been wiped out, and a deficit of about equal amount to the present surplus, would have resulted. When Premier Ross was in power, in 1903, the annual expenditure was $4,888,000. In the first year of the Whitney Government it jumped to $5,396,000, and by 1906, it had advanced to $6,700,000 — an increase of about two million dollars, or nearly forty per cent. in two years. If Mr. Matheson studies the source of his surplus, his surplus of chuckles will disappear.

DOMINION PERMANENT LOAN

The sixteenth annual meeting of the Dominion Permanent Loan Company was held in the offices of the company, 14 King street, west, on Wednesday, March 6. Hon. J. R. Stratton, the President, presented the report of the directors, which showed surplus of assets over liabilities of $1,265,965.69, an advance over the figures of last year, which were $1,453,429.42. The net earnings, including the balance brought forward from last year, amounted to $201,497.06. Of this amount, after deducting interest on deposits and debentures, writing off $1,000.00 on office furniture and paying a dividend amounting to $69,582.08, there remained a balance of $48,737.40, of which $30,000.00 was added to the reserve fund, bringing up its total to $230,000. The sum of $18,737.40 remained for further distribution. Hon. Mr. Stratton spoke of the profitable field for loaning operations in the Northwest, where a demand for money on the part of the farmers was being created for the erection of buildings, etc. This condition offered a large field for the profitable placing of the company's funds.

"UP TO MR. WHITNEY"

The Toronto News, generally a warm supporter and apologist for the Whitney Government strikes over its administration of the license law, under the above heading.

The license investigation in Toronto has thrown a pitiless glare on the debasing and degrading influence (which considerations of patronage are exercising on the license administration in particular, and on our whole civil service in general. We had a non-partizan administration of the license law, for a time, as Mr. Whitney had promised his Government would provide. The old Board of License Commissioners had the confidence of the general public, and they administered the License Act (without having regard to the demands of the patronage-mongers. The Commissioners were neither servile nor tractile to the patronage committees. The Board merely ignored those noisy bodies, and transacted its business irrespective of their clamour. Eventually the savage outcry of the place-hunters overawed the Government. The result was unconditional surrender which placed the enginery of the license administration at the disposal of the machine and patronage elements—which are one and indivisible. The Board of License Commissioners were forced out, and the raging "patriots for revenue only" were placated—and the distribution of pap among the faithful soon began. The entire license administration in Toronto has been discredited. The present License Board, while probably animated by good intentions, has not been able to withstand the insistent demands of the patronage-mongers. Their creators did not mean that they should. Thus the name of the patronage committee and its vicious and disintegrating influence on good administration have been made an offence in the nostrils of all good citizens who place public decency above the venal and sordid considerations of finding the party leader a place at the public trough. It has been made plain to every citizen of Toronto that the license administration of this city is a distinct and sordid failure. It is not non-partizan, and there is too much suspicion that it is not free from graft. The evil that is done cannot be undone, but its repetition can be prevented. Only one man can do it. It is up to Mr. Whitney.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The polling in the general elections in Manitoba is taking place to-day, and marks the end of one of the bitterest political fights on record in Canada. The polling will close at five o'clock, and if Manitoba goes by Central time, we may hear the result to-night. While the Government may be sustained, it is the opinion that its majority of twenty-five in the last house will be very greatly reduced.

If, after all that has been brought out in the Toronto license investigation, connecting Dr. Pyne, Minister of Education, with some of the shady license deals, that gentleman is not called to give explanations, the inquiry will become, in effect, a white-washing expedient. It is due to both Dr. Pyne's reputation, adn to the interests of non-partizan license administration, that he should be afforded an opportunity for explanation. If he is innocent, we should know it; if he is guilty we should also know it.

BYSTANDERS OPINION

Bystander — Mr. Goldwin Smith—thus expresses himself in regard to the Thaw trial:—

The scene at New York in connection with this murder trial is little creditable to the criminal justice of the United States, which, in fact, is not the show institution of the Republic. It seems to be a question whether justice can be baffled by the unlimited purchase of chicane. The ground on which talesmen are rejected is preposterous. They may have talked, as everybody would, but they could not compromise themselves before they had heard the evidence. Such a plea as momentary insanity ought to be at once ruled out. Anger, says the philosopher, is a brief madness. So it is, and in the same sense every crime committed under the influence of passion is an act of madness But if murder committed under the influence of passion were to go unpunished, there would be plenty of work for the coroner. Did A shoot B, knowing what he was doing and with intent to kill? If he did, he ought to die, and it is good for him that he should die rather than live a Cain.

WORDS OF COMFORT

Judge Barron, who is well known in Peterborough to which he made many visits during his residence in Lindsay, who has this winter, addressed audiences in various parts of Western Ontario on tuberculosis, advances a theory that is new to us, but which, if it is authoritative, will bring much comfort to those who are the victims of the disease or who fear that they may have the germs of it lurking in their systems.

The judge declares that "when an individual is completely and surely cured of a focus of pulmonary tuberculosis and sclerosis of the area previously affected has taken place, the individual becomes habitually and permanently immune, and this immunity, unlike the disease itself, can be transmitted from parent to offspring."

The average layman is unaware of this, but it will carry comfort to many who, by reason of the fact that they, when cured of tuberculosis, still thought it their duty to the race, forsook the path of matrimony, and denied themselves the allurements of conjugal bliss.

For Family Colds.

A reliable cough and cold cure should be always in the house ready for use the moment the first symptoms appear.

It is always easier, cheaper and better to check a cold in the very beginning.

It is safer, too.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure, the Lung Tonic, has been tested for thirty-three years, and tens of thousands of homes in Canada and the United States to-day are never without it.

A dealer writes: "Shiloh's Consumption Cure is without doubt the best remedy for Coughs and Colds on the market. Upon trial, any customer will buy no other.—L. Elsley, Nanagewaya, Ont."

If it were anything but the best would this be so? Try it in your own family. If it does not cure, you get back all it cost you. We take all the chances. Neither you nor your dealer can lose. Isn't that fair? 25c. is the price. All dealers in medicine sell 503

BACHELORS PROPOSE TO ESTABLISH NEW QUARTERS

The proposal to impose a tax on bachelors is viewed with such alarm by those who are in that class, that it is stated many are taking active steps to place themselves outside of the range of the proposed bylaw. The Examiner is informed that the bachelors in one of the city's largest industrial establishments held a meeting, at which the proposal to institute a 'bachelors' quarters outside the city limits was discussed.

HOCKEY

The Knockers Hockey Club added another notch to their stick last night by defeating the Knox church senior team in a runaway game at the Brock street rink last night. Morphet, Galley and Webb of the Knox church team, failed to put in an appearance for some reason not known and the five that did play were somewhat outclassed. The final score was 13—1 in favour of the Knockers. Denoon and Doris were replaced by Henderson and Fred Holland in the second half. Leo Derocher refereed in his usual satisfactory manner. The team lined up as follows:

Knox church — Goal Killenbeck, point, Hamilton, left wing, Moore, centre White, rover Stewart,

Knockers — Goal, Allen, point Denoon and Henderson, left wing Hillier and Holland, centre Doris and Hillier, rover Beatty.

Killenbeck, played a good game for the Presbyterians, while the Knockers played their usual good game throughout,

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. R. C. Braund returned last night from a business trip to Toronto.

Mr. R. A. Mulholland, Port Hope, was in the city on business yesterday.

Miss Tabb, Bowmanville, has accepted a position on the millinery staff of the J. C. Turnbull Co.

Miss Lena MacMillan, 440 Park street, leaves to-morrow morning for Banaville, N.Y., to enter the hospital there.

Mrs. T. C. Elliott, 112 McDonel street, will receive to-morrow, and afterwards on the second and fourth Friday of each month.

Mr. R. G. McCuish, who has been visiting in the city for some weeks, left this morning for Quebec East where he will probably spend some time.

Ven. Archdeacon Warren is in the the guest of Rural Dean Davidson. The Archdeacon is inspecting the temporalities of the Anglican churches her.

Miss Ethel Goodenough, of Peterborough Conservatory of Music, passed her primary piano examinations with tonours at the Toronto College of Music.

Mr. T. H. Brooks, who has been in Cobalt for the last four weeks, returned home last night. He states that there are a great number of people going and coming to the new town and that many good claims have been staked.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell and family, who have been visiting in Ontario for the last two months and have been spending the last few days with friends in the city, left this morning for their home in Winnipeg. Mrs. Russel is a sister of Mrs. D. Mann, London street.

Mr. R. T. Stillman, of Toronto, general agent for the D. Derbyshire & Co.'s dairy machines and dairy furnishings, is registered at the National Hotel, and will be in the city for the rest of the week. Mr. Stillman is an experienced travelling representative, as well as an active, wide-awake salesman, although his name is Still-man. He just delights to meet the farmers and farmers' wives, and talk "Simplex" Cream Separator to them; although Mr. Geo. Gillespie has made the task easy for him in this territory.

Doctors Tried for 8 Years to Cure Me

BUT I AM WELL NOW AND BELIEVE I OWE MY LIFE TO

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

There is a remarkable cure described in this letter which should prove of vital interest to anyone suffering from derangement of the kidneys.

Mrs. Dave W. McCall, Lombardy, Leeds Co., Ont., writes: I desire to acknowledge the benefits I have received from Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I was troubled with kidney disease for eight years and doctored with several doctors to no avail until my husband got me Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and I began using them. Altogether I used ten boxes, and can truthfully say I would have been dead long ago only for Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Words cannot express my praise for them, for I believe there is no medicine so good for kidney and liver disorders."

In the treatment of Bright's disease or inflammation of the kidneys, the first consideration is rest for these filtering organs and this can only be obtained by quickening the action of the liver and bowels.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills succeed where mere kidney medicines fail because they act promptly and directly on the liver, take the work off the kidneys, and then by their invigorating action on the kidneys restore them to health and vigor.

Because of the intimate and sympathetic relation of the liver and kidneys it is useless to treat them independently of one another. This fact was in the mind of Dr. Chase when he prepared the formula of his celebrated Kidney-Liver Pills and the phenomenal success of this great medicine has proven his wisdom.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills positively cure liver complaint, biliousness, constipation, backache and kidney disease. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. To protect you against imitations the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box of his medicines.

OMEMEE PEOPLE HAVE PETITION

Want the Government to Have the Stretch at That Point Dredged—Hockey Team's Career.

LATE VILLAGE NOTES OF INTEREST.

Examiner Special.

Omemee, March 5. — The winter is proving very favourable for the farmers getting their wood out, and timber and shingle bolts. The mill yard is crowded with all kinds of timber.

A petition is at present in circulation here to be presented to the Government asking that the waters to Pigeon Lake be dredged. Mr. McLaughlin is showing himself interested.

The popular manager of the Bank of Toronto here is about to be called to another branch, and the vacancy will be hard to fill. He has worked up an excellent business.

The Omemee hockey club journeyed to Bobcaygeon for a return match. They defeated the Bobcaygeon team here in a friendly game by 21 to 10, as has been the case with all visiting teams here. A change came about however at Bobcaygeon; our boys not desiring to fight out the game retired. The curling club entertained our club elegantly.

Mr. Dobson has purchased Charles Ivory's business here.

There is a meeting of the township council to-day.

A number of our citizens are going to drive to the tea and entertainment at the temperance hall, 4th line of Smith. Some of them will take part in the programme.

The Salvation Army excursion to Toronto will attract many of our citizens.

LUNATIC FELLED BY PROFESSOR

Rev. Dr. Breen Tackled Madman Who Claimed He Owned the Seminary—Struck the Prof. on the Head.

CRUSHED HIS HAT AND ROUSED TEMPER

Rochester, March 5th. — A man giving his name as John Heenan, of 24 May street, became suddenly insane this morning about 7 o'clock, on the boulevard opposite St. Bernard's seminary.

Armed with a club he started out to see what harm he could do in the shortest time. Seeing the seminary over the way he immediately became possessed with the idea of ownership, and seizing the maple club more firmly rushed in and proceeded to enforce his claims.

The students aroused by the noise hurried to the scene of action. They found Heenen brandishing the club and informing every person that he was sole owner of the premises. The students tried to calm him, but to no purpose. He persisted in his belief.

Dr. Andrew E. Breen, professor at the seminary, entered at that moment and the lunatic immediately made for him and struck him over the head with his club. Dr. Breen had this hat on at the time and though the hat was smashed it so broke the force of the blow that he did not receive any injury.

Professor Breen did not wait to be struck again, but buckled into the man, and, after a hard struggle, succeeded in downing him, and holding him down. John Meich, superintendent of the seminary, and special sheriff, was called, and appeared with a pair of handcuffs, which rendered the man helpless.

Sheriff Craig was immediately notified, and Deputy Hawley and Jailer Birdsall were sent to bring the man to the county hospital, where he now is.

Heenan, who is described as a man six feet tall, of German appearance, and weighing about 175 pounds, and in a crazy state was not an easy man to tackle. The actions of Professor Breen go a long way to prove that his physical abilities have not waned. Heenan will be taken to the State hospital.

THE SEASON'S BEST IN MEN'S SHOES

We've as fine a showing of Men's Spring Shoes as ever graced a shoe store. Don't wear uncertain shoes when you can get the best by coming here. Every shoe store says—$3.00, $3.50, $4.00 or $5.00 Men's Shoes. So do we, but our kind of shoes are, oh, so different! It's always the shoe at the price that tells the story. Match us, if you can, on Men's Shoes.

Flavelle Pillories Pyne; Rebukes Minister's "Butting-In"

Tells Story of Minister Asking License for License Holder Frequently Convicted and Fined.

The continuation of the license investigation in Toronto, brings a member of the Whitney Government Hon. Dr. Pyne, rather conspicuously into the lime light, in connection with trafficing in licenses.

"The Minister's purpose was to influence our judgment to grant a license in Courtney's name for a licensed property owned by Robert Davies this side the Don."

In these words Mr. J. W. Flavelle enlarged upon an episode in which Dr. Pyne, the Minister of Education, was the principal actor.

An informal meeting of the Board of License Commissioners for 1905 was in progress in the office of Col. John I. Davidson, when Dr. Pyne asked that a license be granted to Robert Courtney.

But the Board after making the usual inquiries as to this applicant's character, came to the conclusion that he was not a proper man to hold a license.

This application was again renewed last year with a similar result.

Most of the morning session was devoted to hearing the evidence of Mr. J. W. Flavelle, Col. John I. Davidson, and Major J. A. Murray, who composed the first Board of License Commissioners appointed by the Whitney Government after its accession to power.

Suggestions for reform in the license system were made by Messrs. Flavelle and Davidson. Mr. Flavelle thought the tied-house evil might be wiped out were the Board to announce now that any license holder who attempted to contravene the law in respect of mortgaging his property to a brewer should have his license cancelled on the first of May, 1908. Col. Davidson gave it as his opinion that trafficing in licenses could be obliterated were the Board given power to issue new licenses at the figrue represented by the license fee.

There is a rumour in Toronto that the scent is getting so hot in the direction of the Whitney Cabinet, that the investigation is to be closed suddenly.

Bible Class Presented Church With $200.00

A Good Example in Raising Money for Church Enterprises Set by Mr. W. C. Switzer's Class in George Street Sunday School—Annual Meeting of Congregation Was Held Last Night.

The annual congregational meeting of the George Street Methodist Church was held last evening and was well attended. The members turned out in large numbers and a social and profitable evening was spent.

The annual reports, printed in book form and distributed to the members, show the church to be in a very satisfactory condition, both financially and otherwise.

Rev. Dr. Crothers occupied the chair, and, after the opening exercises, extended a hearty welcome to the large number present. He was glad to see such a representative meeting. There were present a large number of the older members, but the doctor said he was particularly pleased to see such a good representation of the young men and women, as well as the boys and girls. He paid a compliment to the good work of the Trustee Board. They were really the Board of Directors of the congregation and no board has ever done better work. The systematic way in which the work was carried out was most commendable. The speaker said it was a step in the right direction when the societies were given representation on the Quarterly Official Board.

Miss Carrie Reesor rendered a vocal solo which was much enjoyed.

The financial report was then read by Mr. Felix Brownscombe, and was followed by a few remarks from Mr. Robertson on the system of giving. The report was adopted as read.

A well-rendered instrumental solo was given by Miss W. Gumpricht, and Miss Montgomery contributed an excellent recitation. Mr. Charles Barber was also heard to good effect in a vocal solo.

Mr. W. C. Switzer, who teaches a ladies' Bible class, read a report on the work done by the class. He said that during the year Mrs. Curtis and the other members of the class had undertaken to make quilts for deserving families in the city, and also children's dresses. They had also made an autograph quilt, which was on exhibition last evening. A large sum of money was realized from this quilt. Mr. Switzer said it gave him great pleasure to present Mr. Cressman, of the Finance Committee, with a cheque for $200 to be placed to the funds of the church.

Mr. Cressman, on behalf of the committee, thanked Mr. Switzer's class for their contribution. He was sure their efforts were appreciated very much by the congregation.

Mr. Switzer's class also presented Mrs. Curtis with a life membership certificate of the Woman's Missionary Society.

Miss Reesor was again heard in a well-rendered vocal number.

Votes of thanks were tendered the choir and the ushers of the church for their good work.

The Y.M.C.A. quartette contributed a selection which was much enjoyed.

Refreshments were then served and a social time spent.

A NEW COLLEGIATE BY END OF YEAR

Tenders Now Called For—Work to Begin April 15 and to End Dec. 15.

Peterborough will have a new Collegiate Institute before the year 1907 closes.

The Board of Edication held a special meeting last night to look over the plans which have already been published, and also the specifications, both of which were approved of with the exception of one or two minor changes in the latter.

The Board also decided to advertise for tenders at once, and these must be in before March 30th. The work must begin by April 15th, and terminate not later than Dec. 15 of this year, so that before the end of the year the long-talked-of Collegiate Institute will have been been erected.

The building will be erected on the north side of the Central Park property, and its eastern end will be on a line with the eastern end of the Armouries, to be erected on the south side of the park property, facing Murray street.

The Collegiate Institute building alone, it is estimated, will cost $61,000, and will be modern in every respect. The plans were drawn up by Mr. John Belcher.

PALPITATION AND DIZZINESS

For Five Years She Suffered Before Trying Bileans—Now Cured!

Palpitation, spells of dizziness, "smothering" (and "sinking" feelings, stabbing pains around the heart and that "all gone" sensation! Do you have these serious symptoms? If so, read what Mrs. J. S. Blackmore, of Elginburg, Ont., says: "For almost five years I suffered in that way," is her statement. "After meals I had pain and felt bloated, and when the dizzy spells and palpitation came on I had to give in and lie down for an hour or two! I feared heart trouble, but found, when I began to take Bileans, that my heart was sound enough, and the trouble arose from acute digestive disorder. This Bileans soon corrected, and to-day I am cured completely." Bileans are just as good for constipation, headache, piles, female ailments, anaemia, blood impurities, pimples, etc. All druggists and stores, at 50c a box, or from Bilean Co., Toronto, for price.

Severe Form of Asthma

"I first used Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine with my little girl, who suffered from a severe form of asthma. The least exposure of cold would lay her up, and she would nearly suffocate for want of breath. I must say that I found it to be a most satisfactory treatment and it has entirely cured her."—Mrs A. THE DOMINION PERMANENT LOAN COMPANY

Sixteenth Annual Report

The sixteenth regular meeting of the Dominion Permanent Loan Company was held at the office of the Company on Wednesday, March 6th, 1907. A large number of Shareholders were present. The President, the Hon. J. R. Stratton, occupied the chair, Mr. F. M. Holland, Manager, acting as Secretary. The President presented the following report of the Directors for the year ending Dec. 31st, 1906:—

Your Directors herewith submit the Sixteenth Annual Report of the Dominion Permanent Loan Company, together with a statement of the accounts for the twelve months ending Dec. 31st, 1906, duly certified by the Auditors, both as to the correctness of the accounts and the satisfactory result of their inspection of the securities of the Company.

Your Directors are pleased to state that full employment has been found for the funds of the Company during the past year, the demands being amply sufficient to call into requisition the available funds of the Company.

During the past year the Company has declared and paid dividends amounting to $69,582.08, and has transferred $30,000.00 to the credit of the Reserve Fund of the Company; besides paying such dividends and transferring the above mentioned amount to Reserve Fund, and writing off office furniture and premises $1,000, there remains to the credit of Profit and Loss for future distribution $18,737.40.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

J. R. STRATTON,
President

FRANK SCHWERDT TAKEN FROM PARENTS

And Was Given to the Children's Aid Society by Order of the Court—Neighbours Said He was Ill-treated

A CASE THAT THE COURT CONDEMNS

Yesterday afternoon a case was aired at the police court which as was stated in the court, should bring some kind of punishment upon the offenders in question. It was a case of ill-treatment of a little boy, ten years of age, by the father and mother, who said that they were unable to control the boy.

The father's name is Comad Schwerdt, and their eldest son, Frank, is the boy was, it is said, ill-treated. He lives on Victoria avenue, and one of his neighbours when in the witness box said, that on Feb. 27th, in passing Mr. Schwerdt's house he heard the little boy crying in front of the house and asked him what was his trouble. The boy said he was afraid to go home. This man took the lad to his own home, and gave him his supper, (he had had nothing since breakfast.) He was very poorly clad, his feet were wet and the boots frozen so that it was with difficulty that they were taken off.

Another witness, who had roomed with Schwerdt for a week, said that when the boy would be eating, he was often hit with a fork handle if he looked around at the table. For some reason or other the boy was not allowed to eat in peace. Witness said that on one occasion the father hit him (the boy) a blow and knocked him down and then kicked at him, but the boy eluded this extra. Witness said the boy appeared to be polite and obedient, but was bullied around home. They made him draw water, on extremely cold mornings, and the little boy would be crying with the cold. Wife of last witness said that Mrs. Schwerdt said: "that the boy ought to be dead and buried." It was brought out in evidence, that there was an insurance of $1.80 on the boy's life.

Another woman said that she heard the mother call him a little devil, and a little demon. Other witnesses gave similar evidence, pointing out that the boy was badly treated while the other two younger boys were pampered.

The father and mother said that the boy was very irregular in coming home and he would be promised a whipping if he did not come to his meals when they were ready, and this may have been a reason for his staying away. They said that they could do nothing with him.

Mr. Goodwill appeared on behalf of the Children's Aid Society and said that it was very evident that the boy should be taken from the parents. The court condemned this way of treating children in strong terms and the boy was placed under the care of the Children's Aid Society.

Mr. Henry, superintendent of the Shelter, says that the little boy is a gentlemanly lad, is obedient and polite and is one of the best boys that was ever placed under his charge.

The boy is only ten years old and the father and mother maintained that they could not do anything with him.

REV. C. N. SHARPE GAVE THE ADDRESS

At the Fourth of the Lenten Services Held in St. John's Church on Wednesday Evenings.

The fourth of the special course of Lenten addresses was delivered by Rev. C. N Sharpe, Rector of St. Thomas' church, Toronto, in St. John's church last night. He was for seventeen years rector of Esquimalt, B. C., and a chaplain of the British navy. He was also head of one of the Settlements' missions in East London, and is a man of strong personality and spirituality. Coming in to Toronto from British Columbia only a year ago he was soon selected as the best man for St. Thomas, Toronto, in succession to Mr. King, who was killed in the Salisbury wreck in England.

Sermon

Mr. Sharpe's address last night was founded upon the well-known words of St. Matthew, 11th chapter, 20th verse, "Come unto Me all ye that are weary and heavy laden, and I will give you rest."

The preacher said that one great object of Lent was that our souls might come out of the atmosphere of turmoil into that of quiet and peace, which was founded upon a direct communion and fellowship with God in worship and in life. Among all the distractions in the world to-day men were apt to dissipate what little spiritual force they had instead of conserving and strengthening it, for which Lent offered many opportunities. The rest that is to be found from Christ is not a rest from work, but a rest in ing to Toronto frm Britiosh Columdepartments of our life. One great means to it lay in quiet and regular meditation in which we might approach nearer to our Lord and assimilate His spirit. In connection with this there was the voluntary taking on of the yoke of Christ. This striking message clearly pointed to the obedience, discipline and service, which were essential portions of the Christian life. Those who took upon themselves a yoke gave up thereby their own will, and gave themselves over to the service and direction of another.

In this lay a solution of many difficulties of life occasioned by the self-will and independence of man. Our Lord had opened the true path to the true life, and if taking His yoke upon us we would walk in that way our lives would be indeed blessed here, and lead to blessedness hereafter.

Next week Rev. Ben Oliel will deliver his costumes lecture on Jerusalem, on Monday evening, and Rev. C. H. Brooke will give the Wednesday evening address on "Life in the Eastern Church."

Passengers Were Sheltered In Farm House Over Night

Mr. T. Guerin has received word from his daughter, Mrs. Holt, who, with her four children was in the recent collision on the C.P.R., near Smith's Falls, and the pleasing information is conveyed that she has recovered from the shock she received in the wreck. Her description of the scenes following the collision is very graphic. She said that she could never forget the incidents following the crash, with the sight of the injured and dead men. The passengers had to walk a considerable distance to a farm house, where they were sheltered until a train could be made up to take them on their journey. Mr. Holt was at the station in Montreal to meet his wife and children, and, as can be imagined, was very anxious, not knowing that they had escaped from the wreck.

Mrs. Holt states that she has recovered from the shock she received, and is well pleased with Quebec. The railway Company will recoup her for the loss of her contents of the trunk, which was burned.

When Your Health Fails, What Then?

Good health is the capital of persons who earn their livelihood with brain and muscle. Success is for the strong and alert—for those whose blood is rich, and whose nerve cells are filled with vigor and energy. It is not pleasant to contemplate what might happen with failing health, and for this reason it is well to heed the first symptoms of nervous exhaustion and to keep health at high water mark by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

PROPERTY WELL LOCATED.

Cobalt Silver Mountain Company Claim Highly Spoken Of.

The Cobalt Silver Mountain Mining Company has just been incorporated. The officers and directors of this company are: President, E.Guss Porter, M.P., Belleville, member of Dominion Parliament for W. Hastings; vice-president, C. A. Douglas, Ottawa; vice-president, Rolla L. Grain Company, Limited; managing Arthur G. Penman, Cobalt, managdirector, Penman & Sprang, Limited, Toronto; H. S. Clements, M. P., Chatham, member of Dominion Parliament for Kent District; A. T. Shillington, M. D., Ottawa.

The company own one of the best located and most promising prospects in the silver Cobalt belt, known as the "Welsh claim." It is located in Coleman township, and is surrounded by such mines as the University, Foster, Big Pete and McKinley-Darragh-Savage Mines, as well as being adjacent to the famous Gillies timber limit.

The headquarters of the company are in Ottawa and it has been learned on good authority that over a dozen members of Parliament, as well as many other well-known and influential men, including a number of the largest mine owners in Cobalt are interested in this company.

The organization of the company has just been perfected, and Mr. A. P. Penman, a well known Toronto man, who is the promoter, is busy laying plans for immediately opening up the property. The directors have just returned to Ottawa from Cobalt, where the property was thoroughly inspected by them and it is expected that active operations will be commenced on the mine on Monday next.

John A. McDonald, formerly with the Trethewey Mine, has been engaged as superintendent.

According to the prospectus the claim is made that there are more veins carrying silver discovered on the property so far than the engineer, who is considered one of the best at the camp, has ever seen on any undeveloped Cobalt property of the same size. What the statement says relative to development will interest the stockholders. It has the following among other things to say: (

"The prior owners of the lot have done considerable prospecting on it, thereby discovering some 38 veins, which are, at present ready to be opened up, and with veins which all carry silver, but no attempt has yet been made to develop the property, and it is confidently believed by those most interested in the company—many of whom are among the most prominent mine owners and mine operators in Cobalt—that it would be a very exceptional freak of nature indeed were good silver ore not encountered at a reasonable depth as soon as shafts are sunk on the most promising veins, some of which run into the lot from the University, Bailey and Silver Bar properties."

NEW NOM DE PLUME IS CONSIDERED AN IMPROVEMENT

To the Editor of the Examiner.

I think the readers of the Examiner will agree with me that "Canuck's" new name—"Glen-Pat"—suits him admirably.

Children Face Many Dangers

The Work and Worry and Close Confinement of Their School Days and How They Can Be Safe-guarded

To thousands of boys and girls the confinement of the schoolroom and the duties imposed by their studies are a strain, a very serious strain. Many become broken in health by this strain and are physically weakened for life.

Give your boys and girls good, healthful, pure, strengthening food and you go far toward removing all dangers.

Malta-Vita, the crisp, delicious, whole wheat food, contains every food element necessary to the maintenance and upbuilding of the human body and mind—especially beneficial for children.

"Malta-Vita" is no meaningless coined word. It stands for its literal translation from the Latin and means exactly what it says, "Malt Life." The original phrase "For the blood is the life" is the starting point and final winning post of Malta-Vita, on account of its large percentage of maltose, or malt sugar, a natural sweetening agent, easily digestible and readily assimilated by the human economy, forming rich, healthy blood.

Malta-Vita is so good to eat—not at all like the tasteless variety of breakfast foods—that the whole family welcome its appearance on the table. And it's always ready to eat.

Now for sale by all grocers, 10 cents.

THE WEATHER

After over a week of only moderately cold weather, the thermometer took another plunge downwards last night, and reached ten below zero, likely for the last time this winter—although that is still to be seen.

SUNNYSIDE BRANCH'S NEW OFFICERS

Annual Meeting of Women's Auxiliary of St. Luke's Church Was Held Yesterday Afternoon.

The annual meeting and election of officers of Sunnyside branch of the W. A. of St. Luke's Church took place on Tuesday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. John Mickels, Otonabee. All the members were present. Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, and Mrs. T. Gosklns, president, and Mrs. Langfeldt, vice-president, were present as representatives of St. Luke's.

Mrs. Charles Curtis, who has been the president of Sunnyside branch, and Miss Ada Curtis, the indefatigable secretary-treasurer, resigned their offices.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

Hon. President—Mrs. Chas. Curtis.
President—Mrs. John Michels.
Vice-President—Mrs. H. Mackey.
Secretary-Treasurer — Mrs. Geo. Curtis, Jr.
Delegate to Annual Meeting—Mrs. G. Curtis, Sr.

After the meeting, Mrs. John Michels entertained the ladies to tea.

RIVER BED DEEPENED AT NASSAU

Proposal of C. G. E. to Obtain More Power—Surveyors at Work Taking Levels.

The river bed below the Nassau power house will probably be deepened this season to admit of a greater flow of water for the production of power for the Canadian General works. To-day Mr. John L. Wood, building superintendent of the C. G. E., is in the city, and it is understood that he is here to make arrangements for the deepening of the river bed below Nassau. Messrs. C. L. Harding and E. P. Clarkson have been secured to take the levels of the water around Nassau with a view to the deepening of the channel. The C. G. E. want more power and their present intentions are to lower the river bed about a half mile below their power house at Nassau.

An Enjoyable Evening Will be Spent at Park St. Church To-morrow Night.

The Park Street Baptist Sunday School will hold their annual supper and entertainment to-night. The ladies' Committee of Supply and Committee of Arrangements meet at 3 o'clock, children's supper at 6. The chair will be taken at 8 o'clock by the Rev. A. H. Bruce, when parents and the public will be admitted. Miss Maggie Mann will read the report of the year, and the rewards will be presented to about six scholars. This is always one of the events of the year, and promises this time to exceed all past events.

Flakes of Dandruff on the Collar and Shoulders of a Gentlemen in Full Dress

This is the thing you quite frequently see in the ball-room — a man's black dress-coat literally covered with dandruff.

LINDSAY CATHOLICS HONOUR PRIEST

Rev. Father F. J. O'Sullivan Given Purse of $313 in Gold and Two Addresses Prior to His Departure for Port Hope.

LEAVES FOR NEW CHARGE.

Peterborough people are interested in the progress of Rev. Father O'Sullivan, of Lindsay, by reason of the fact that he was formerly attached to the Cathedral staff, and particularly because while he was in Peterborough he founded St. Peter's Total Abstinence Society, which has since reached such proportions, and has resulted in so much good. The Lindsay Post of yesterday has an extended reference to a farewell given him prior to his removal to Port Hope, where he will assume the duties of parish priest, and to two presentations made him by his parishioners. Rev. Father O'Sullivan was presented with $313 in gold. The Post, referring to the event, says:

The high esteem in which Rev. Father O'Sullivan is held by the congregation of St. Mary's Church, Lindsay, manifested itself last evening at the parish hall, where a large number of the parishioners assembled to bid him farewell, ere his departure to Port Hope. The capacity of the well-lighted hall was taxed to its utmost, and the presence of so many ladies, despite the cold weather, added grace to the occasion.

Mr. Richard Kylie presided as chairman, and on the platform with Father O'Sullivan, were Rev. Jos. O'Sullivan, of Victoria Road, and Venerable Archdeacon Casey. The chairman, in w few well-chosen sentences, addressed the assemblage and said that as a preliminary to the addresses and presentation, the committee had placed in his hands a programme of vocal and instrumental music. It is needless to say that the different numbers were well rendered and encored.

Two addresses were read, the first from the Bible History Class and the Boys' Catholic Literary Society, accompanied by a purse of $20, and the second from the parishioners of St. Mary's, from whom a purse of $313 was received.

In replying to the parochial address, he said the five years spent in Lindsay would always be cherished by him as a happy period of his life. The congregation of St. Mary's, he was pleased to say, were, with few exceptions, practical Catholics, and although the labour of the priest becomes greater on that account, it is always a labour of love which affords consolation to every priest. With regard to the citizens of Lindsay, he was glad to know that harmony and good will prevail amongst all classes, irrespective of creed or nationality, and he hoped that such a happy state of things would always continue. He cordially thanked the good people of St. Mary's for the kind sentiments contained in their address and for their generous presentation. While parish priest of Port Hope, he would be hoped, have the pleasure of visiting Lindsay occasionally.

OBITUARY.

MRS. WM. COLLINS

The death occurred in Douro Township on Wednesday, February 27, of Mrs. Wm. Collins, one of the oldest and most respected residents of the county. The deceased's maiden name was Ellen Sullivan and she came to the township of Douro with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Sullivan, from County Cork, Ireland, in 1833, when she was but four years of age. She had resided in the township of Douro all her life and was 78 years of age. She was married to her late husband, William Collins, in 1850, who predeceased her 15 years ago. The family consisted of ten children eight of whom are still living. They are James on the homestead, Timothy, of Nebraska; Patrick, of Oklahoma; Joseph, Douro; Mrs. John Dalton, Dummer; Mrs. John Keffener, Nebraska; Mrs. Michael Crowley, Otonabee, and Miss Alice, at home.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Wm. Collins, took place on Friday, March 1, to St. Joseph's Church, Douro, and the remains were interred in St. Joseph's cemetery. Rev. Father Keilty celebrated solemn requiem mass for the repose of the deceased lady's soul. The large cortege in attendance showed the high esteem in which deceased was held by all who knew her.

THE COLD STORAGE CASE WAS ENLARGED

A case in which the Peterborough Cold Storage Co. is concerned was heard in Osgoode Hall, Toronto, yesterday. No decision, however, was reached, the case being enlarged until March 20. The Globe, reporting it, says: Re Peterborough Cold Storage Co. (Wilson's and Balagh's cases).—C. W. Kerr, for Wilson and Balagh. R. E. Wood, Peterborough, for liquidators. D. O'Connell, Peterborough, for former directors. Appeals from Master's report enlarged until 20th March.

The Property of the Cobalt Silver Mountain Mining Company, Limited, is located in the heart of the richest silver belt in the world, and consists of twenty acres.

It is surrounded by five of the best and richest shipping Mines in the Cobalt Camp, viz., The University, Bailey, Pig Pete (or Cobalt-Central), McKinley-Darragh-Savage and Silver Bar Mines, and it is also adjacent to the famous Gillies Timber Limit and only a few hundred feet from the Nipissing and Foster Mines, as shown on the map.

The Silver Mountain Co. has the best located and most promising undeveloped property in the Cobalt camp to-day and the men most largely interested in the company comprising some of Cobalt's largest mine owners and some of the best-known and most influential men throughout Canada, including over a dozen members of parliament, confidently expect that

THE SILVER MOUNTAIN CO.

Will Be Just as Large a Shipper as the Mines Adjecent to It in a Few Months

Mr. C. E. Kingswell, one of the best engineers in the Cobalt camp has made an extensive report on the property, and the company will gladly send a copy of same to anyone interested, upon request. He says in his report among other things:

ENGINEER'S REPORT

"Your lot is within one lot of and surrounded by the Foster, Big Pete and the McKinley-Darragh-Savage Mines and within two lots of the Nipissing, all of which are among the most famous mines in the camp. The property lies wholly in Diabase, and has thirty-eight veins so far discovered, and these veins form a perfect network all over the property. I carefully assayed this property some time ago, and never failed to get silver in any assay I took. The famous timber limit lies immediately southeast of this property, and borders it, and upon this limit the government are now working a very good mine, and this mine lies only a short distance from your property. Near your property and the timber limit a good smaltite ledge was discovered last June by the foreman of the Silver Bar Company, and this lead runs directly into your property. I know veins on your property that carry very much better ore than ever the Big Pete did at the start and no attempt has been made to follow these leads down. One ledge on your property has been explored for four hundred feet, and this ledge in places is quite four inches wide and it carries nine ounces of silver to the ton. Every ledge upon your property has good true walls, and they are all free from the walls and have every sign of permanency and value; and my humble opinion is, that if a shaft was put down to a reasonable depth good paying ore would be found, and you could cross-cut to strike other ledges. I have explored and reported upon most of the good mines here and also upon a large number of prospects, and have never yet inspected one with as many leads as yours has and I consider that it would be a freak of nature if your claim does not prove a good payable one. The fact that the Bailey Mine, which adjoins your property, and the Big Pete Mine, which is within one lot, are both located on this same Diabase hill on which your property is, and the fact that they are two of the best mines in the camp, is one of the greatest proofs to my mind that your lot will be found to contain the same kind of ore as is being shipped from these mines."

—C. E. Kingswell, M.E.

THIS IS A CHANCE OF A LIFETIME.

THE PROPERTY OF THE SILVER MOUNTAIN CO. HAS NEVER BEEN DEVELOPED, THOUGH SOME

Thirty-eight Veins Carrying Silver Have Been Discovered on the Surface

And all the property should need to bring it to the shipping point is some development work.

The property has been completely paid for with stock of the company, and not one dollar is required except for development purposes.

Just about a year ago, as you know, a block of stock of the Foster Mine, a close neighbor to The Silver Mountain, was offered to the public for 80 cents per share in order to raise money for development work. You know also that this stock has sold since for over $4.00 per share and can be sold to-day to yield an immense profit to the original purchasers.

BUT REMEMBER it is the man who bought the stock when first offered who made the most money, NOT the man who waited until it reached somewhere near its real value. Please remember the above and read the following offer:

THE SILVER MOUNTAIN CO. IS PREPARING TO COMMENCE OPERATIONS ON ITS PROPERTY ON A LARGE SCALE

And needs some working capital, consequently the directors have decided to offer for public subscription a small block of stock at

A SPECIAL PRICE OF

SIXTY CENTS PER SHARE

Cash with subscription. This is the first and only allotment which will be offered to the public at this price SUBSCRIPTIONS FOR ANY NUMBER OF SHARES WILL BE RECEIVED UP UNTIL NOON ON THE 15TH DAY OF MARCH, 1907, and the directors reserve the right to refund all over-subscriptions as soon as the necessary amount has been subscribed. Subscription will be accepted according to the order in which they are received, whether by wire or letter, and may be sent direct to the secretary of the company, 95 Sparks Street, Ottawa.

If you have any faith in Cobalt you will get some of this stock and get it at once, for to-morrow may be too late. Opportunities like this only come once. We believe if you know anything about Cobalt, we have said enough, and if you want to learn more, we will be glad to tell you all we can.

Arnprior Team Were Easy For Peterboro' Last Night

Easterners Were Defeated by 13 Goals to 3 in Decidedly Hollow Fashion—Were Never in the Running At Any Stage.

The Arnprior team may be champions of the Upper Ottawa Valley League, but they failed to show themselves any match for Peterborough in the exhibition game last night, and the homesters won by 13 to 3 in decidedly easy fashion. The Easterners were outclassed from the face-off, and were never in the running, being outplayed and outchecked from start to finish. The game was decidedly listless and uninteresting, and excitement was at a discount. The crowd in attendance was small, and the Arnprior team, who were paid a percentage, will be behind as a result of their little jaunt west.

Peterborough led at half-time by five goals to nothing, and had no trouble whatever in winning the game. The showing of the visitors was disappointing, as they were expected to put up a much better exhibition of hockey than they did. The locals simply smothered them with their speed, and they never had a chance, being checked off their feet. Peterborough put up a splendid game throughout, displaying a very effective combination and shooting accurately, while in checking, skating and stick-handling they had the Eastern team beat a city block. The locals toyed with the visitors, sandwiching in between them and nipping the rubber in a manner that made the visitors look like a junior aggregation. The Arnprior bunch had no combination, at least, none that was of any avail against the fast checking back of the locals. The forward line let them out, but that about lets them out. They were decidedly weak in getting in close, and their shots from outside, while generally accurate, were easily picked off. The forwards could all shoot well, but failed to get inside the defence. Ratty, the little right wing man, was by far the best of the visitors. He had lots of speed and made some decidedly pretty rushes along the boards, while he shot splendidly. Jones at rover was also prominent by some clever stick-handling, and Beattie on the left was not far behind Ratty in his work. The defence, with the exception of the goal-keeper, were weak. Foley played a good game, getting in front of many dangerous shots and clearing nicely.

As has been said, the Peterborough team on the whole played fine hockey. They did not exert themselves at any stage, but put up a great game. All the forward line played well, shooting nicely and playing good combination, while their checking could hardly have been improved upon. Miller played magnificent hockey at rover, in which position he is fifty per cent. better than at left wing. He had barrels of speed, handled his stick splendidly and shot well. Parnell was always prominent, his dodging rushes being features. He made some decidedly spectacular advances. Moore and Graham on the wings played their usual useful game, both checking in a manner that tied up the visitors' rush line, while they did some great work on the attack. Crowley and Glover were too strong a defence for the visitors, who found them almost impossable. Both did some very pretty rushing. Lang played a fine game in the flags, making some very fine stops. The visitors failed to find the nets in the first half, while the locals scored five. The play was all in Arnprior territory, and it was only very rarely that the visitors were enabled to break away.

In the second half, Peterborough changed their formation, Glover was moved up to rover, and Crowley to centre. Chris. Graham played point and Miller cover. The game was decidedly clean, only five men being penalized. Graham, and Foley, the visitors' goal-keeper, being sent off for fighting a slashing duel with their sticks.

The referee was P. McGonigal, of Arnprior, and he was about on a par with the visiting team. He certainly was the most incompetent official seen here this year. The teams lined up as follows:

Arnprior.	Peterborough
Goal.
Foley	...Lang
Point.
Gomba	...Glover
Cover-point.
Milne...	...Crowley

LINDSAY CURLERS WON THE CUP

Defeated Locals in Series of Games Yesterday—Peterboro' Rinks Up at Home, But Lost at Lindsay.

14 DOWN ON THE ROUND.

The Peterborough-Lindsay silver trophy which found a resting place in this city during the past year, went to Lindsay last night with the victorious curlers who won the round by 14 points. The games at the Charlotte street rink were concluded about five o'clock in the evening with Peterborough the winner by 8 up, but this margin was swallowed up in the big lead obtained by the four Lindsay rinks at home.

The latter games were not concluded until after 7 o'clock and it was hoped that Peterborough would hold their opponents down and win the coveted trophy, since they had 8 to the good. But when the news arrived—Peterborough 20 in the hole—of course this hope was abandoned.

The games here were keenly contested on keen ice and at first looked like a victory for the visitors. But the leads which skips Brown and Ray obtained towards the close of their games left no chance for Lindsay winning. The other two Peterborough rinks were defeated but only enought to allow the locals to make a margin of 8 points.

Probably the most important and the most interesting of the four games was that between Skips Flavelle and S. Ray. The reputation of the two skips was well known by the spectators and the play was closely followed. In the early stages of the play the crack Lindsay skip obtained a good lead, but Ray crept up towards the finish and won by 8 up.

The game between Knowlson and Brown was a runaway for the latter who lead at the finish by 20 points. The total scores here were 67 to 59.

The rinks and scores were:—

LINE-UP SELECTED IN THE BIG GAME

Ice is in Fast Shape for the Spectacular Contest To-night—Big Crowd is Expected.

BEST GAME IN HISTORY OF HOCKEY

The ice is in lightning shape for the big press-game to-night and the fans will see an abnormally fast game when the Review and Examiner aggtattes clash. Both teams are trained to the minute and will go at top speed from start to finish. The excitement over theg ame is intense. Thousands of dollars will change hands as a result and Examiner supporters should be able to buy a little real estate or jewellery to-morrow, as it seems certain that the Examiner team will win. On the form displayed in practice the Examiner septette should make the Tory out-fit look like a cake of soap in a box car full of tramps.

Mr. George Lynch, the expert manipulator of the b:ll in the City League this year will referee and will be assisted by a staff of detectives while police protection will be secured.

The puck will be faced at 8 o'clock sharp by Mr. J. H. Burnham, president of the Children's Aid Society.

It is expected that an enormous crowd will be present for the greatest burlesque exhibition in years.

The teams will line up as follows:—

THE DOG POISONER IS AGAIN AT WORK IN CITY

Two Valuable Collies Were Poisoned Last Night.

The dog-poisoner, after a rest of some months, is at his work again, and last night two valuable dogs were poisoned on Dublin street. They were two fine collies, one owned by Mr. Vincent Eastwood, manager of the Royal Bank, and the other belonging to Mr. W. H. Isaac. Both gentlemen are, naturally, very indignant over the matter, and the coward who is to blame for the deed.

COMMISSIONER KENT'S COMMENDATION

At the closing session of the investigation of the Sun Life of Canada by the Royal Commission on Life Insurance, Commissioner Kent stated, in connection with his suggestion that voting power might be given to policyholders, that—

"It seems to me that in the conduct of the Sun Life business there is nothing to be desired, as far as the present generation is concerned. If you were immortal I would not say anything further about it. If, by sound judgment, hard work and just discrimination, you have put the Sun Life on the pinnacle of a successful company, another management with other attributes might just as easily squander it. ..... The directors have done their duty nobly; there is no complaint to be made against them, or any one of them, Who can say whether the future management will continue the present high standard of your Company?"

MID-WINTER REUNION OF COTTAGERS

The Association Held an Enjoyable Banquet in Toronto Yesterday.

TRANSPORTATION TO BE IMPROVED.

The Peterborough members of the Stony Lake Cottagers' and Campers' Association, who attended the annual mid-winter re-union of that body, held in Toronto Tuesday, report a most enjoyable and social gathering. About 70 members of the association were present, including about a dozen local members.

A most enjoyable banquet was held in the St. Charles' Hotel, it being tendered by the Toronto members of the Association to the visiting members. The menu was a delightful one, and ample justice was done to the delicacies provided, the members having evidently recovered their Stony Lake appetites.

Following was the menu:

Soup.
Cream of Clear Lake Oysters.
Fish.
Boshink salmon. Koshkabogamog Sauce.
Pommes d'Eaglemont, au Sutherland.
Joint.
Young's Point Turkey, Eel's Creek Sauce.
Vegetables.
Burleigh "Mash" Potatoes. Dummer Green Peas au McCracken.
Entremets.
Mount Julian Pudding. Viamede Sauce, Juniper Ice Cream. Assorted Robinson Cakes, Bon-Bons and Chocolates.
Nuts and Raisins. Assorted Fruits.
Sterelized Milk from McCracken's Spring.
Coffee.

Toast List.

The toast list was as follows:

The King—

"Let us sing, God Save the King."

Our Country—

"I do love
My country's good with a respect more tender, more holy and profound than my own life."—Coriolanus

Our Summer Home—

"And, oh! if there be an elysium on earth, it is this, it is this." —Moore.

Transportation—

"When I was at home I was in a better place,
But travellers must be content." —As you Like It.

Summer Sports—

"The oars were kept silent,
Which to the time of flash kept stroke."—Antony and Cleopatra.

The Patient Angler—

"The pleasant angling is to see the fish
Cut with her golden oars the silver stream
And greedily devour the treacherous bait."

Much Ado About Nothing.

The Ladies of the Lake—

"Who trusts himself to women or the waves,
Should never hazard what he fears to lose."—Old Maxim.

The speeches were all witty and bright, many references being made to Stony Lake and its surroundings. Enjoyable songs and recitations were interspersed. President Jas. Acton of Toronto acted as toast-master and a number of telegrams of a humourous nature were read.

Before the banquet a business meeting was held at which some matters of considerable importance to the cottagers was taken up. The chief feature was in connection with transportation and it was felt that improvements should be made along this line. Interviews have been held with the steamboat owners and also with the railway authorities and it is proposed to run a siding direct to the Lakefield wharf which would do away with the delay in transporting freight from the train to the steamers. Another step in the same direction is to endeavour to have the Stony Lake mail made up in Peterborough instead of at Lakefield which has been the custom. This would enable the steamer to get away quickly without waiting to have the mail made up. It is also proposed to have all freight on the boat before the passengers get on board to avoid confusion at the wharf.

The Association will endeavour to arrange to have a steamer leave the lakes in time to make connections with the morning trains for Toronto, and also to allow local business men to reach Peterborough in time to commence the day's business. To do this the Stony Lake steamers will have to eliminate a large number of calls.

The Peterborough members of the Association who were present, were Secretary J S Knapman, Mrs. Knapman, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Muldrum, Messrs. D. W. Dumble, H. P. Lindsay, T. (W. Robinson and A. L. Davis. They speak in terms of highest praise of the hospitable manner in which they were entertained by the Toronto members.

The Mail and Empire says:—About 70 guests, including many ladies, were present at the annual dinner of the Stoney Lake Campers' and Cottagers' Association in the St. Charles Hotel last night. James Acton, the president, occupied the chair, and appropriate addresses were delivered by the following: D W Dumble, Peterborough; S Henderson, Toronto; H Sutherland, J O McCarthy, John Gouinlock, D W Robinson, H P Lindsay, and E S Piper. Music, singing and readings were provided by Miss Ruby Shapley, Miss Elsie Dixon Craig and Mr. Roddis.

THE ANNUAL MEETING OF MISSION CIRCLE

Murray Street Baptist Ladies Had Successful Year—Mrs. (Dr.) Hunter the New President.

The annual meeting of the Women's Mission Circle of the Murray street Baptist church, was held on Tuesday afternoon and was well-attended. The secretary's report showed the membership to be three more than last year.

Miss Roxie Kidd presented the report of the "Willing Workers," and Miss Ethel Hardwicke the report of the Mission Band, both of which were encouraging.

The work on the foreign fields was outlined by Mrs. (Dr.) Scott, while Mrs. Ellis dealt with Home Missions. The work in the North-West, especially among the foreigners, was presented by Mrs. Mr. M. R. Kidd.

An address by Rev. J. R. Webb, the pastor, on the work among the French in Quebec, showed very clearly the responsibility of Ontario to that province.

Mrs. Turner, in a few well chosen words, conveyed greetings from St. Paul's Women's Missionary Society.

Solos by Mrs. Miller and Miss Stephens were much enjoyed.

WEDDING BELLS

FINLEY--KIMBLE

Wedding bells rang in Lakefield last night in honour of the marriage of Mrs. Hattie Kimble of that village, to Mr. Samuel J. Finley, son of Mr. J. Finley, of the Chemong Road, Smith. The ceremony was performed at the residence of Mr. Joseph Little, cousin of the bride, at 5.30 o'clock, by the Rev. W. J. Creighton of the Anglican church. The bride and groom were unattended, the wedding being a quiet one. After the ceremony, the guests, who numbered about 25, partook of a dainty wedding dinner. The presents were numerous and valuable. Mr. and Mrs. Finley will reside in Smith.

PETERBOROUGH WAS NOT REPRESENTED

Fish and Game Protective Association Interviewed the Premier.

Peterborough was not represented on the deputation which waited on the Premier Tuesday with regard to the amendments of the Game Laws.

A Toronto despatch says:

Representatives of the Ontario Fish and Game Protective Association waited on the Government yesterday afternoon and presented a memorial, based on resolutions passed at their last annual meeting. They were received by Hon. Mr. Whitney, the Premier, Hon. Messrs. Reaume, Monteith, Hendrie and Willoughby. Delegates were present from Toronto, Hamilton, Guelph, Wairton, Windsor, Belleville, Sturgeon Point, Campbellford, Dunnville, Orillia, Brantford, London, Woodstock, and Bobcaygeon. The Toronto Hotelkeepers' Association was also represented. They approved of the new fish and game legislation, but objected to the addition of further varieties of game to the list whose sale is prohibited in hotels during close season.

You will make more money by buying lots in Regina City, than by any other source at the present time. It is no gamble, no chance, but an absolutely sure investment. Property will increase at least 100 per cent. in less than two years. Buy now. Prices will be advanced in the spring. Here are a few things that are making Regina grow and making property increase in value :—

REGINA, the wholesale and distributing centre for Saskatchewan and the west. $6,000,000.00 worth of farm machinery sold from Regina last year. Regina is the head-quarters for Saskatchewan of :—

The American-Abell Engine and Thresher Co
Massey-Harris Company.
Frost & Wood Company.
Fairchild Company.
Waterloo Manufacturing Company.
J. I. Case Threshing Machine Company.
Garr-Scott Threshing Machine Company.
The International Harvester Company.
The North-west Thresher Company.
The New Hamburg Manufacturing Company.
Reaves Thresher Company.
Nichols & Shepherd Thresher Company.
Sawyer-Massey Company
Noline Plow Company
Canadian Post Hole Company
Cockshutt Plow Company.

Besides the above there are a number of large eastern wholesale houses located in Regina. At the present time some eighteen more wholesale firms have secured sites in Regina to build on this year.

REGINA, the only railroad centre in Saskatchewan.

Besides the present roads which run north, south, east and west, there will be six more lines built into Regina during the next two years, being the Great Northern from the south, the Canadian Northern from the southeast, the C. P. R. north to Prince Albert, and three G. T. P. roads—one northeast, one east, one southwest.

The following is what Mr. Morse of the G. T. P. said in Regina on Aug. 6, 1906;

The Leader, Aug. 6, 1906.

FRANK MORSE IN REGINA

Mr. Frank W. Morse, Vice-President and General Manager of the G. T. P. Railway, spent a few hours in the city on Saturday morning, and had a short conference with Mayor McArs and W. G. Pettingel, President of the Board of Trade. Mr. Morse had no new statement to make for publication regarding the plans of the G. T. P. in and around Regina. He repeated what he had said when in Regina on May 16th last, that his Company would get into Regina at the earliest possible date, as they realized there was a large business to be done here. He confirmed the statement, which was first published by The Leader, that in addition to a branch line to Regina, from the main line near Verbina, and from Regina to the international boundary on the south, a branch would be run to Regina from Brandon.

"The construction of branch lines would be carried on simultaneously with the main line," said Mr. Morse.

REGINA leads all cities from Winnipeg to the Coast in building for 1906.

Capital of Saskatchewan ranks fifth among the metropolitan centres of Canada, being surpassed by Winnipeg, Toronto, Montreal and Vancouver. Leads all the Dominion in relative growth. Building permits in 1906:

Regina—$1,982,330.
Edmonton—$1,863,894.
Calgary—$1,109,161.

No other city in Canada shows as high a percentage of growth as Regina. 1907 will beat all records. A large number of expensive buildings are being erected. Among others include:—Four new hotels, at a cost of over half a million; municipal hospital, $100,000; Y. M. C. A. at $100,000; Baptist Church, $60,000; Masonic Temple, at $75,000; Dominion Land Titles Office at $110,000; New Public School at $54,000, and many other business blocks and residences. Chief amongst all buildings will be the new Provincial Parliament Buildings, at a cost of at least $1,500,000.

KISSING IN CHURCH IS A CRIME

A Galician Priest Holds it to be Such, and His Parishioners are Sent to Prison for Ending Feud in This Fashion.

A VERY INTERESTING CASE

Examiner Special.

Vienna, March 6.—Twenty Ruthenian peasants belonging to Ispas, in Galicia, have been sentenced to various terms of imprisonment from a week to a month for kissing each other in church.

A feud had arisen between two parties in the town, and the priest preached a sermon in which he urged the peasants to make friends before they came to church again. They took him at his word, and on the following Sunday the two hostile parties marched up the church side by side and kissed the altar. They then solemnly shook hands and kissed one another on both cheeks in the Polish fashion to seal the reconciliation.

The kissing scene excited loud laughter among the members of the congregation, and the priest prosecuted the peasants for unseemly conduct in church. The court held that a church is no place for kissing, and found the peasants guilty.

BAND HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

New Officers of 57th Reg. Band Were Elected Last Night — Bandmaster Gets Increase of Salary.

The annual meeting of the 57th Band was held on Wednesday evening in the band rooms, Simcoe street, when the officers for the year were elected. Those who will fill the offices for that term are:

President—R. Shelton,
Vice-President—W. Hughes.
Secretary—J. A. Harper.
Treasurer—R. Beach.
Librarian—Geo. Grange.
Assistant Librarian—Geo. Chambers.

Executive Committee — Messrs. F. C. Miller, G. Wesley, R. Heiderman, and C. Wesley.

A new agreement, between the band-master and the band, was entered into, and the duties of both parties to the agreement were specified. This year the salary of Band-Master Gliddon will be $600, an addition of $50 over that of last year.

At an adjourned meeting of the members, to be held on Tuesday evening next, the reports of the past year, which has been a most successful one, will be presented.

CITY'S PRIVATE BILL COMES UP NEXT WEEK

Deputation Interviewed Chairman of the Committee Yesterday.

A deputation representing the City Council were in Toronto Wednesday waiting upon the chairman of the Private Bills Committee, in reference to the city's private bill. MONTREAL PAYING FOR DRINKING WATER

Montreal, Que., March 6. — Montreal is facing a serious water famine. One of the most modern pumps of the waterworks, with a capacity of ten million gallons a day, broke down at 6 o'clock to-night, and cannot be used again within 24 hours. Hotels and private families are depending for their supply of water upon a delivery company which is reaping a harvest dispensing this necessity at ten cents per gallon.

BRIDGE AT YOUNG'S POINT UNDER WAY

Will be Installed in Three Weeks—Saw Mill Will Have Busy Season

LA'GRIPPE TRAVELLED IN THE POINT.

Examiner Special.

Young's Point, March 4.—The material for the new iron bridge arrived here last Friday, and there are a number of men working at it. It is expected that the bridge will be completed in three weeks.

Mr. Jacob Reid, who resides two miles north of the village, has sold his farm to Mr. Peter Bullock, a neighbour, and will reside in Lakefield in the future, where Mr. Reid has purchased a fine dwelling.

Quite a number of logs have been hauled to the sawmill this winter, and Mr. Young expects a very large season's cut. The mill will commence operations soon.

Some of the old residents here say that February has been the coldest in thirty years. It has also been a record-breaker for lagrippe.

Miss Lottie Lynch, Rainy River, is making an extended visit with her aunt here, Mrs. Robt. Young.

Mr. P. Young, Jr., is at present visiting friends in Ottawa.

Mr. Chas. H. Chase and daughter, Rochester; and Mrs. Monticken and her cousin, Miss Owan, also of Rochester, are visiting Miss M. Kearney, Lakeview House.

Mrs. N. Brooks has returned home after visiting friends in Peterborough for the past three weeks.

Miss Emma Scollard is spending a few days with friends in Peterborough.

Miss Josephine Phelan, Lakefield, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. E. Kearney.

Mr. Fred. Young spent a few days in Peterborough last week.

Miss Mary Young, of Ennismore, spent the past two weeks visiting friends.

The hockey match between Buckhorn and the village here, which was to have been played on Thursday afternoon, was postponed on account of sickness, until next week.

A large number of the villagers have been confined to their homes with very severe attacks of lagrippe, but we are glad to see that most of them are able to be around again during the last few days, owing no doubt to the fine weather.

Miss Loretta Young is spending a few days with friends in Ennismore.

We are pleased to learn that Mrs. Robert Pammett, Sr., who has been dangerously ill, is improving.

Mr. Frank Young, who is employed by the Rathbun Co. this winter, spent Sunday with his parents here.

VERY SUCCESSFUL CONCERT HELD IN 4TH LINE, SMITH

Over $70 Received and Large Gathering Was Heartily Pleased With Tea and Concert.

The mmembers of the Lakevale Presbyterian church of Fowlers Corners gave a tea and concert in the Temperance Hall, Fourth Line of Smith. The place was crowded with people from the surrounding country and some from the city. The social was a great success, the quality of the repert was of the very best, the programme was rather long and was most entertaining, and the financial part was satisfactory, the door receipts amounting to $70.

The following clergymen were present: Rev. Mr. Teeney, Omemee English church; Rev. Mr. McKinnon, Gilmour Memorial church; Rev. Mr. Whitelaw, former pastor of Lakevale church, and the new minister there, Rev. Mr. Peckover. The last mentioned was chairman and acted in that capacity in a very efficient and entertaining manner. The other ministers gave addresses, that of the Rev. Mr. Whitlaw's being greatly appreciated.

The Omemee Quartette's numbers were well received as also the vocal nubmers of the Telford Bros. Mrs. (Dr.) Prust, of this city, delighted the large audience with a well rendered vocal solo. The others who contributed to the programme were very good and added greatly to the success of the evening.

SOME INCIDENTS OF A HORSE TRADE

Interesting Details Surrounding a Deal in Horses in Which Millbrook and Greystock Men Figured.

Examiner Special.

Greystock, March 6. — Mrs. John Kindred is at present spending a few weeks visiting her friends at Westwood.

Mr. and rMs. C. Jewell, Little Britain, spent a few dffays here with their friends.

Mr. Wallace Dickson of Peterborough, spent Sunday here, under the parental roof.

Mrs. Hunt of Bethel is at present visiting at Mr. Walter Dickson's.

The C.O.F. of this village held a private team meeting in their hall on the evening of Feb. 28th, for the benefit of the new members. Each one was granted the privilege of inviting two of their friends and a goodly crowd gathered. The evening's programme was made up of singing, readings, and recitations.

Mrs. Thomas Gillott of Millbrook, is here visiting her brother-in-law, Mr. John Kindred.

There are times when a horse trade is not a trade, as is evidenced by an incident which occurred at Greystock recently. A man from the vicinity of Millbrook traded horses with a young farmer near Greystock, and after the deal had been made and the horses tried in actual work, the Millbrook man became tired of his new animal, and intimated to the other party to the deal that he wanted his horse back. The Greystock man, however, was satisfied, and said so. Last Sunday night, though he went to church driving the Millbrook man's horse, and when he came to take it from the shed after the service it was not to be found. Upon reaching home he found that the exchange back had been made for the horse he had before the trade was again in the stable

MOUNT PLEASANT AND THE C.P.R.

That Village Expects to be on Line of the Railway From Georgian Bay—After Radial Railway Co.

Examiner Special.

Mount Pleasant, March 6. — The sad news of the death of Howard Best of Bathgate, N. D., a former resident of this locality, was received here. It is said that he died at Grand Forks, while undergoing an operation for appendicitis. The sudden removal of the head of the family will cause great sorrow in that once happy home. The warning comes to all — "Be ye also ready." Our sympathy goes out to the bereaved family in their time of trouble.

Mount Pleasant expects the C.P.R. to run the new line that is contemplated near the village, as the grade west from Peterborough will be suitable for such a line. If the street railway line were extended to this village it would be a great convenience to many of the farmers and others in the vicinity of this place.

Mr. William Smith and family of Dakota have returned to their home after spending the winter in a land where fuel, food and a good climate is to be had, and where a Government to excel the Laurier Government cannot be found.

Violent Form of Itching Piles

Rev. S. A. Duprau, Methodist minister, Belleville, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with itching and bleeding piles for years and they ultimately attained a very violent form. Large lumps or abscesses formed, and I suffered great pain. A single box of Dr. Chase's Ointment cured me and saved me from a very dangerous and painful operation. The lumps and swellings disappeared and I am now an entirely different man."

LIKELY TO DIE FROM BITING TONGUE

Violent Fit of Coughing Causes Wound Which Becomes Gangrened and May Result In Death

Pittsburg, March 8.—During a violent fit of coughing several days ago, Ray Bowden, a clerk, of Wilson, Pa., bit his tongue, and as a result will probably lose his life. He is now in the Allegheny General Hospital, where the physicians regard his case as one of the most remarkable in medical history.

Bowden had an attack of coughing, and when he was through, discovered that one of his teeth and punctured his tongue. He paid little attention to the injury until his tongue began to swell so that he could scarcely talk or swallow.

Surgeons found that gangrene had set in as the result of the small wound, and his tongue was amputated at once. The infection had spread so greatly, however, that little hope is entertained for Bowden's recovery.

STORMY SESSION IN THE LEGISLATURE

Breeze in the House Over Liquor License Enquiry.

PREMIER WAXES WROTH

Declares That Grafters Irrespective of Party Shall Be Exposed and Punished—Alleged Understanding Between Commissioner and Government—Premier Whitney Calls It Twaddle.

Toronto, March 7.—The most sensational incident of the present session of the Legislature occurred yesterday afternoon, when Mr. McDougal, one of the Ottawa members, moved for the return of certain correspondence relating to license matters in Fort Frances. The incident served as the lighted match to a keg of powder, for when the Toronto license investigation was mentioned a debate quite short but of the most heated character was precipitated. Mr. Graham, on the strength of the remarks of the Provincial Secretary, hinted that the Government was in touch with the license investigation commission. The Premier retorted with much warmth. The investigation would go on, he intimated, to its logical conclusion, and if Conservatives were found guilty of wrong doing they would be punished irrespective of their political creed.

A Bombshell Exploded.

Mr. McDougal (Ottawa), moved for an order of the House for a return of: (1) Copies of all correspondence between the Government or any member or official thereof and any person, or persons, relating to the cancellation or granting of a liquor license to the Palace Hotel at Fort Frances; (2) copies of all correspondence between the Government or any member or official thereof, and any person or persons relating to the cancellation or granting of a liquor license to one Thomas Wilson at Fort Frances; (3) copies of all correspondence between the Government or any member or official thereof, and any person or persons, relating to the resignation or dismissal of the license inspector or any member of the Board of License Commissioners at Fort Frances.

He explained that he had reason to believe that a state of affairs existed at Fort Frances similar to that disclosed by the investigation at Toronto.

Provincial Secretary's Reply.

Hon. Mr. Hanna said that he had no objection whatever to bringing in the return. The condition of affairs at Fort Frances could perhaps be best described in the letter of a minister of that place, who wrote to say that under the present Government the administration of the license law had been such for the last eighteen months that, although a lifelong Liberal, he proposed in future to support Mr. Whitney. He could guess that the hon. member had probably secured his information from a Mr. Young, who had applied for a license and did not get it.

Mr. Graham's Challenge.

Mr. Graham did not wish to discuss the report of the investigation before it was presented in the regular way to the House. His hon. friend (the Provincial Secretary) seemed to anticipate what it was going to be. The Minister was in close touch with the Government at the present time.

"The evidence up to the present time," said Mr. Graham, "shows that a most disgraceful state of affairs exists in the city of Toronto. Is it any wonder that the original commissioners threw up their offices in disgust! We desire a thorough investigation, and the country is looking for it."

Concluding, Mr. Graham said that it was not proper for the commissioner to adjourn for several days just when something dangerous was turning up. If wrong existed no application as to time could excuse the state of affairs.

The Premier Takes Strong Ground.

The Premier spoke with considerable warmth. "The discussion," he said, "was altogether foreign to the motion. My hon. friend must not accuse us of introducing the matter, and I say this, Mr. Speaker, a more unwarranted, unfair, and if Parliamentary rules would allow. I would say unmanly attack on a public official was never made in this House than the insinuations on the commissioner who is carrying on this investigation. The Government has not been in close touch or distant touch with the commissioner since the investigation began."

"I throw back to the leader his insulting insinuation that the commissioner is in touch with this Government. We will show what has taken place from the time a number of years ago when I held in this hand a bundle of checks which were sweated from the tavern-keepers of the city of Toronto when the hon. gentlemen were in office. The appalling iniquities with which the hon. gentlemen were familiar and of which they were ashamed in connection with election funds have continued to this day, when large sums are paid for transfers.

"Not only will any Conservative who has done wrong be exposed, and if in office will be punished, but we will also show the awful conduct which characterized the working of the license manipulators here under the late Government."

Twaddle, Says the Premier.

The Premier was asked as to the evidence in an evening paper report to the effect that Hon. Dr. Pyne was to resign as a result of the evidence at the investigation, and was, in fact, to be "marooned" by the Government. "I have no patience to talk about it," he answered. "It is simply twaddle."

The agricultural estimates gave rise to some smart challenges, and the San Jose scale vote was left over. The treasury and provincial auditor's vote, the public institution votes, except that for the central prison and the smaller educational votes were all passed in committee.

Mr. Torrance withdrew his bill for the administrative control of pulmonary phthisis.

SUNDAY CARS BARRED.

Premier Whitney Makes Announcement of Government's Policy.

Toronto, March 7.—In a letter addressed to Mr. Lucas, chairman of the private bills committee, Premier Whitney yesterday ruled, on behalf of the Government, against allowing any more Sunday car privileges in Ontario. The announcement was in connection with the application of Port Arthur to be allowed to operate such a service. The letter read:

"The Government spent a great deal of time last year in preparing the 'Ontario Railway Act of 1906.' The provision relating to Sunday traffic received a great deal of attention. There can be no doubt that the act, as finally passed, represents the feeling of a large majority of the people of this province.

"It is possible that in some respects, and from some points of view, it may impose hardship upon certain localities. Under the circumstances, however, having in view the care bestowed upon the preparation of the act and our conviction that it represents the views of the people of the province, the Government feels that it would be taking a distinct step backwards to allow, within twelve months of the passage of the act, a new exception to be made which would open the door to a large number of similar applications in the future, and thus practically destroy the effect of the act as finally passed."

THAW'S MOTHER ON STAND.

Aged Lady Breaks Down Twice While Giving Evidence.

New York, March 7.—Mr. Jerome yesterday took a new tack in his cross-examination of Dr. Wagner, and asked if in the acts surrounding the killing of White there was anything to enable the witness to differentiate between insanity and intoxication.

Dr. Wagner declared there was nothing whatever to indicate intoxication but much to indicate insanity.

Dr. Wagner further testified yesterday that Thaw was of unsound mind when he married, but had sufficient intelligence to know what he was doing.

Possible Lucid Intervals.

After questioning Dr. Wagner at some length regarding the letter written by Thaw in 1903 to Attorney Longfellow, Mr. Jerome suddenly asked:

"Was there any period between 1903 and 1905 when this defendant was in full possession of his faculties?"

Dr. Wagner hesitated a moment and then replied:

"There are several months in that period of which I have no record. It is possible that there may have been recovery during that time and a condition of soundness."

Mother Takes Stand.

Another dramatic chapter was added to the Thaw trial yesterday, when the grey-haired mother of the defendant took the witness stand to tell what she might toward saving her son.

Mrs. Thaw's story was brief. When Delphin M. Delmas had deftly limited her examination to the change she noted in her son's condition following his return from Paris in 1903, after Evelyn Nesbit had told him her life story, Jerome, with the greatest respect and consideration, conducted a short and ineffectual cross-examination.

Then the mother-love welled strong in Mrs. Thaw and she felt she had not done her all. She was loath to leave the witness chair.

"There is still the question of heredity," she protested, when Delmas and Jerome told her she might step down.

"I have asked you, meantime, all that is considered necessary," said Thaw's attorney, with the utmost deference.

Twice during her recital Mrs. Thaw broke down and was unable to proceed.

He Lost All Interest.

She said that when Harry went home in 1903, he seemed depressed and apparently had lost all interest in life. He passed sleepless nights and would often leave the table at meals to play upon the piano. She told in a motherly way of her solicitude for the boy after he had mentioned the "wickedest man in New York, who had ruined his life."

Mrs. Thaw told of the part in the evenings leading up to her son's marriage and his condition in that interval.

Mrs. Thaw's story was deeply impressive in its simplicity and brevity. Her anxiety to go on and tell more added immeasurably to the meaning of her presence as a witness. The court-room listened almost breathlessly to each word she uttered and there was a general sigh of relief when Mr. Jerome announced that his brief examination was ended.

Threatens Lunacy Test.

If Harry Thaw's fate is placed in the hands of the 12 men in the jury box who yesterday heard his mother's story, there seems little doubt that what she said will carry wonderful weight with it. But Mr. Jerome gave the impression that he may use the mother's testimony in another direction—in his fight to have a commission appointed to test the present state of mind of the defendant.

He became involved in a dispute with Mr. Delmas, during which he uttered publicity for the first time the threat as to a lunacy commission.

The court is not sitting to-day owing to a death in Judge Fitzgerald's family.

Burdett-Coutts Estate.

London, March 7.—The will of the Baroness Burdett-Coutts, who died December 30 last, was probated yesterday, the gross value of the estate being $395,000.

St. George's Baking Powder

There, Madam! That's the name of the new Baking-Powder I have been telling you about — and it's a pure Cream of Tartar Baking-Powder.

You may call me a pure-food reformer if you like—but I don't like to ask anybody else to eat what I would not eat myself—and I don't want to eat the adulterations that are put in some Baking-Powders.

St. George's Baking-Powder is manufactured here in Canada, by The National Drug & Chemical Co., Limited—the largest wholesale and manufacturing chemical house in Canada.

There's no duty to pay, and so the makers dont need to adulterate it to reduce the cost. Then, the fact that the makers are right here, where we can reach them, insures their keeping the goods up to the mark.

You know, I keep the best of everything, and St. George's Baking-Powder is what I recommend every time.

Thank you! That one can will make you a permanent customer for St. George's!

GAINS IN 1906

In 1906 the increase in business in force of nearly $5,000,000 evidenced the strong confidence in which the Canada Life is held by the insuring public.

Assurances in force Dec. 31, 1906	$112,572,028 39	Increase over previous year	$4,890,145 00
Assets	32,280,542 59	Increase over previous year	1,951,177 23
Assurance Reserve Fund	29,987,249 00	Increase over previous year	1,481,313 00

Gratifying Increases were also made in the Preminm and Interest Income. A material decrease in the expense ratio in 1906 is practical evidence of good management, while a lower lapse ratio in a time of unrest indicates the satisfaction of Policy-holders in The Canada Life Assurance Co.

THREE OUTSTANDING FACTS

REGARDING THE CANADA LIFE

In 1906 the Business in force increased by nearly $5,000,000.
In 1906 the Expense Ratio was Reduced.
In 1906 the Lapse Ratio was Reduced.

A detailed report of the Company's affairs as submitted to the 60th Annual Meeting, together with a complete list of securities owned, will shortly be published and will be sent to Policy-holders and others desiring it.

SMITH'S LAND DEAL IN THE HOUSE

Clamor For His Dismissal By the Opposition.

PREMIER STATES POSITION

Duties of Civil Servants—Are Free to Make Investments In Land—Mr. Boyce's Amendment Defeated—Taxes By Commercial Travelers—Bill to Amend Canada Shipping Act Read Third Time.

Ottawa, March 7.—Another land transaction engaged the attention of the House of Commons yesterday afternoon. Mr. Northrup called attention to the case tried in the Winnipeg courts, in which Mr. J. Obed Smith, immigration commissioner, was found to have been engaged in certain land deals, and who it was alleged has been a party to misrepresentation in regard to the matter. Mr. Boyce, Algoma, moved what was practically a vote of censure on the Government, but the amendment was defeated by 94 votes to 54.

A bill to amend the Canada shipping act was read a first time.

The Prime Minister stated, in answer to a question by Mr. Foster, that at the conference of Provincial Premiers an agreement had been arrived at with regard to the payment of Provincial taxes by commercial travelers. The question of provincial taxes, upon companies chartered by the Dominion Government had been discussed, but no conclusion arrived at.

Charge Against J. Obed Smith.

On motion to go into Ways and Means, Mr. W. B. Northrup brought up a case which was heard in the Winnipeg courts some time ago, and which was taken by two Americans, Messrs. Powell and Buell, against A. W. Pritchard and J. Obed Smith, immigration commissioner at Winnipeg, for having defrauded them out of certain lands they had purchased on representation of defendants. Defendants, he alleged, represented that they were disposing of all the lands of the Ontario & Saskatchewan Land Co. Mr. Powell asked if they were getting all the lands, and defendants replied that they were. Instead some 7,000 acres were kept back, and judgment was given against the defendants in the courts for $23,000. He said that Mr. Smith had violated the conditions of service and should be dismissed.

Mr. Boyce's Amendment.

Mr. Boyce regretted that the ordinary business of the House could not be expedited because of the time constantly being occupied by discussions of scandalous conduct in which the Government were involved. With regard to the appeal that the case should not be discussed because it was still before the courts, he would point out that the member for North Toronto was repeatedly attacked, not when a case had been heard by the court, but when only a pleading had been laid. He appealed to the Prime Minister to carry out his promises of a clean Administration, and moved as an amendment that "the Government ought not to continue in office a public servant who, in violation of his duty, used his official position to promote his private interest."

Right to Deal In Land.

The Minister of the Interior thought Mr. Smith had a right to traffic in land, if Mr. Smith had not the right to buy or sell land, what then was the position of gentlemen in Opposition who had engaged in land transactions? His case had been before the court, and an opinion had been delivered which he was not prepared to accept, and the people in whose favor that opinion had been given did not dare to put him in a position to appeal. On the other hand they had been careful to give their friends in the House an opportunity to drag Mr. Smith's name into all the discredit they were capable of. That might be a kind of politics and a kind of political warfare, but he did not imagine that would be credited by an intelligent and progressive people. (Cheers.)

Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

The Prime Minister said that as an abstract proposition there was no objection to the amendment of Mr. Boyce. Everybody would agree to the doctrine that the Government ought not to continue in office public servants whose conduct was as described. But they could not forget that the amendment came after a debate which had been going on for some time, and in which one of the officers of the Government, Mr. J. Obed Smith, Commissioner for Immigration in Winnipeg, had been under discussion, and to some extent, under censure. If they were to accept that motion at the present time, it would be an admission on the part of the Government that they agreed to the strictures passed upon Mr. Smith; and for his (Sir Wilfrid's) part, he was very far from being disposed to agree to anything of the kind.

Amendment Defeated.

Hon. Geo. E. Foster took the view that Mr. Smith's action had passed out of the sphere of private investment, and, therefore, his conduct was culpable.

Mr. Duncan Ross, Dr. Sproule, Mr. Geo. Taylor and Mr. Fowler having spoken, the vote was taken, and the amendment was defeated by 94 to 54.

The House went into Committee of Ways and Means, and a number of tariff items having been passed, progress was reported.

The House adjourned at 6 p.m.

WHERE DID STOCK GO?

Information About the Huron Ontario Railway Is Asked For.

Ottawa, March 7.—The Senate Railway Committee yesterday morning considered the Huron and Ontario Railway bill which has passed the Commons. Mr. R. G. Code, Ottawa, objected to the bill on behalf of the Ontario Government. He declared that as the line was entirely in the province of Ontario and should be left to Ontario to be dealt with. Mr. S. [illegible], the promoter, stated the charter had been granted for the original line before 1896. What was now asked was power to construct some branches. The plans for construction had been approved by the Railway Commission. The $11,000,000 bonds had been underwritten.

Who Got Bonuses.

Senator Lougheed pressed to know who had got $3,000,000 capital stock which Mr. Kilgore acknowledged had been largely given as bonus to bond purchasers.

Senator Mitchell said Parliament had never made a practice of requiring such information. It would be very interesting, however, and the same information should be obtained from railway enterprises in future, and an enquiry might well be made into the past. For instance it had been reported that Lord Strathcona had got some stock at exceedingly reasonable figures. The bill was reported without vote and only a few dissenting voices.

Made In Canada.

Ottawa, March 7.—In the Senate yesterday afternoon the Meat Inspecting Bill was taken up in committee.

Sir Richard Cartwright said there had been objection from the lobster-packers of the Maritime Provinces and the salmon-canners of British Columbia to the provision requiring a Canadian label on all cans. If it be shown to the satisfaction of the Government that a label would prevent sale in any British or foreign market, the Government will allow the unlabelled can to be exported.

LONDON, March 7. (C. A. P.)—The owner of an Ontario mine writes The Financial News that every person interested in Canadian mines should utilize every means to quickly protest against the bill taxing the net profits of mines and suggests a deputation to wait on Strathcona.

Pope Pardons Bishop.

Rome, March 7.—Monsignor Bonomelli Bishop of Verona, who recently issued a pastoral letter advocating the principle of the separation of the church and state in France, has been pardoned for this indiscretion by the Pope, his intimate friend.

French Soldiers Mutiny.

Toulon, France, March 7.—A mutiny occurred in the artillery barracks here yesterday. The men attacked the non-commissioned officers with revolvers and swords. Several were wounded on both sides. The mutineers were imprisoned.

Quebec to Reduce Licenses.

Quebec, March 7.—Premier Gouin told a delegation from the Anti-Alcoholic League yesterday that the number of licenses would be reduced from 130 to 125 on May 1. He said an additional 25 or 50 might be cancelled next year.

Knighthood For Fielding.

Ottawa, March 7.—It is announced semi-officially that Hon. W. S. Fielding will be knighted at the close of the intercolonial conference in May as a recognition of his services through the British preference.

FORESTERS HONOR DEAD CHIEF.

Body of Dr. Oronhyatekha Brought to Toronto Yesterday.

Toronto, March 7.—The remains of Dr. Oronhyatekha, founder of the I. O. F., were brought to the city yesterday morning. Citizens and Foresters received the body at the station. Through the streets, lined by thousands, the funeral cortege passed. In the parade were many prominent men, and the civic deputation had its place. Hundreds walked on foot, behind the bands with their dirges, behind the hearse and its burden. That procession was international, too. Not only was Canada present in sentiment and fact, but the country to the south was represented. The departed was British, but his personal and fraternal associations had girdled the globe. The Temple Building, the Supreme Chief's monument, as it will now be regarded, was included in the itinerary. The casket was taken to Massey Hall, where the body lay in state, a guard of honor remaining on duty. Flowers were banked across the auditorium. A conspicuous design was a huge anchor, which stood at the head, with a portrait of the dead leader. The public was not admitted at noon, but the people thronged the hall from 2 o'clock. A public memorial service was held last night. To-day the body was taken to Deseronto for interment.

Pugsley Names Cabinet.

Fredericton, N. B., March 7.—Dr. Pugsley, who was called upon to form a Cabinet, announced the members of the new Government yesterday as follows:

Dr. Pugsley, Premier and Attorney-General.
C. H. Labillois, Commissioner Public Works.
L. P. Farris, Commissioner of Agriculture.
W. C. Jones, Solicitor-General.
F. J. Sweeney, Surveyor-General.
C. W. Robinson without portfolio.
C. J. Osman becomes Speaker.

Four Days to Cross Atlantic.

London, March 7.—Interviewed by The Westminster Gazette, Lord Strathcona, alluding to the proposed service via Newfoundland, spoke of the several changes from steamer to train and train to steamer that passengers would have to take, and added:

"But if we had 25-knot steamers going direct from Southampton or Liverpool to Halifax, as they have to New York, the journey could be done across the Atlantic in four days or even a little under."

Cobalt, March 7.—An unidentified man was found frozen to death by J. S. Ketchum, managing director of the Devil's rock mine on the company's property on Lake Temiskaming.

Eczema For 25 years

HANDS SO BAD OBLIGED TO WEAR GLOVES DAY & NIGHT

ZAM-BUK, the great herbal balm, has just worked such a sensational cure in Montreal that it has set the city talking. Mr. T. M. Marsh, of 101 Delorimier Avenue, is the grateful subject of this cure. He says:—

"For 25 years I had eczema in my hands. It started in red blotches, which itched and burned so that I felt I could almost scratch the parts away. Then after the itching came the pain and the soreness. Great open wounds formed and set up terrible agony. I went to a doctor when first the trouble started. He did me no good and I tried another. He also failed, and I tried a third, and then a fourth. My case baffled them all, and I paid my money for no good. Then I tried embrocations, and salves, and liniments, and creams, and preparations recommended by druggists and by friends alike. It was no good. The eczema continued, and I never believed I could be cured. Fancy suffering in that way for 25 years! For the past two years the pain and irritation were so bad that I was obliged to wear gloves day and night.

"Zam-Buk was brought to my attention and I tried a little. To my amazement it did me good. I bought another box, and it did still more good. I tried another, and to my intense delight this herbal balm did what I had been hoping for for 25 years—it cured me. My hands are now healed, and I have put away the gloves which, for two years, had been indispensable day and night. I have been well-known in Montreal and Eastern Ontario for over 30 years, and my case is one which hundreds of people know of. I am glad to make the facts known in the interests of other sufferers who may not yet know how superior and how wonderful Zam-Buk is."

WHAT ZAM-BUK CURES, AND WHY.

ZAM-BUK can do what other ointments fail, because it is free from all animal fats and oils and from all mineral matter. It stands alone in its peculiar composition, being made entirely from herbal saps, essences and juices. Even its color—green—is due to Nature's own coloring, as in the leaves of the forest and the herbs of the field.

ZAM-BUK heals all skin diseases—eczema, scaly sores, ulcers, ringworm, poisoned wounds, barber's rash, pustules, face blemishes due to blood poison, chapped hands, cold cracks, etc. It heals cuts and lacerations, stops bleeding, cures piles, cases fistula, reduces enlarged veins. It cures burns and scalds, and it is an excellent "first aid" remedy. It is highly antiseptic.

All Druggists and Stores sell at 50 cents a box, or from ZAM-BUK CO., TORONTO, for price. Note free sample offer herewith. 6 boxes for $2.50.

MRS. PERKINS IS UP FOR TRIAL

Is Accused of Murdering Her Husband.

THEORIES FOR THE DEFENCE

Witness Testify That Husband and Wife Lived Happily Together—Tell of Death Bed Scenes On Christmas Day—Alleged Motive For Murder Probed By Counsel—Some Evidence Made Up.

Cayuga, March 7.—At the preliminary hearing of Mrs. Mattie Perkins for the alleged murder of her husband, E. F. B. Johnston, K.C., yesterday, forced Henry Wilkinson of Canfield, a witness, to admit that Crown Attorney Murphy and Detective Greer had asked him to say that he had seen Thomas MacDonald leaving the Perkins home "dozens of times."

The witness said his testimony to the effect that he had seen MacDonald leave the house "half a dozen times, staying in one instance until 9 o'clock," was voluntary evidence. Then he said he had only heard this statement.

"That's a slender thread to hang a woman on," was Mr. Johnston's comment, and a general feeling of relief was evident in the crowded courtroom.

Mrs. John MacDonald testified that Detective Greer urged her "to own up to things that were not true, but I knew nothing wrong about Thomas."

Startling Facts Promised.

It was announced that startling facts would come out, and that neither I. A. MacDonald nor any member of the Curry family would be called.

That the case will go to a jury seems to be assured by the appointment of George T. Blackstock of Toronto as crown counsel to conduct the trial at the assizes on April 16.

The prisoner entered on the arm of her sister, Mrs. Romain Hislop, wearing a black hat with a large feather and a heavy veil, a long black coat and a pair of gold rimmed spectacles. She looked to be forty-five years of age. The strain is telling on her, despite the matter of fact way in which she has taken events since her arrest three weeks ago.

Tells of Perkins' Visit.

John S. Darragh of Canfield, lessee of the Perkins farm, was the first witness. He told how Perkins visited the farm on Sunday morning, Dec. 23, suffering severely. He admitted he was half asleep when Perkins arrived. He could not remember the exact words Perkins used, although he testified at the inquest that Perkins had said he did not feel safe.

Louis Mehlenbacher, the Canfield hotelkeeper, who was called to Perkins' bedside the day he died, testified that for seven years he had not known "two married people to get on better than Henry and Millie Perkins." He said Perkins wrote the telegram to William Spencer at Welland and instructed his wife to send it at once.

Henry Wilkinson said he had seen Thomas Macdonald enter the Perkins' home during the absence of Perkins half a dozen times between September and December and always at six o'clock.

Perkins Expected Death.

Mrs. John MacDonald stated she knew of Perkin's sickness on the Sunday prior to his death, but was not sure whether the prisoner had told her.

She told of the conversation with Henry Perkins at 7 o'clock on Christmas morning, three hours before he died.

Mrs. Perkins had left the room for a bottle of medicine and Perkins told her he would not get better.

The medicine was not given. Perkins having been attacked by another spell.

After that, continued the witness, "Perkins asked me to take hold of his hands and asked his wife to raise the window. She did so and went over to the bed, put her arms around him and kissed him."

"Did she speak to you as to the rights of Henry's relatives in case Henry died without a will?"

"Not that I remember of."

Mrs. MacDonald said that the relations between husband and wife were most affectionate.

Dr. Ellis of Toronto, provincial analyst, testified he had found strychnine in the vital organs, but that death had not necessarily been the result.

Rosebery to Oppose Curzon.

London, March 7.—An interesting contest is imminent between Lord Curzon and Lord Rosebery for the vacant chancellorship of Oxford University.

It has been supposed that Lord Curzon, who was nominated to this office some days ago, would be returned without opposition, but now Lord Rosebery also has accepted a nomination, and the matter will be decided on March 14, when the election will be held.

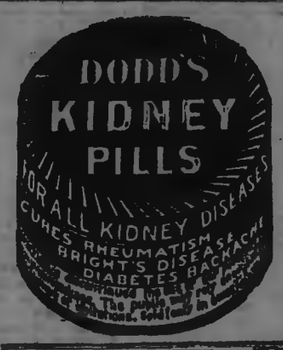
Botha's Chinese Policy.

London, March 7.—(C. A. P.)—Several papers announce Botha has accepted the invitation to the Colonial Conference.

The Standard says the Cabinet is credited in Johannesburg with a desire to persuade Botha to carry out their policy regarding Chinese labor, in order to save the face of the Radicals in the eyes of their constituents.



TROPICAL TITBITS.

Some of the Native Dishes That Are Served In Jamaica.

In Jamaica, as everywhere else, there are two ways to do things. There is the beaten track of the tourist to follow, with its hotels of varying excellence, conventional drives and all that sort of thing. To know the island and the allurements of its ingratiating tropical beauty, however, to appreciate the double interest of British resident customs, together with the quaint oddities of the negro native life "next to the earth," one must travel a different course. Courtesy to visitors to the island is everywhere manifest. There are native dishes that no hotel on the island can make to taste so good. There I learned the indescribable deliciousness of a properly devilled Jamaica black crab. There were served curries that would make a habitue of Delmonico's sit up and take notice—turtle, real turtle, prepared with a delicacy to delight an epicure, and native oysters that Jamaicans facetiously say "grow on trees." Tropical fruits in all their fragrance and juicy prime gave an intimation of the productive possibilities of the island. The green tinted Jamaica orange, thin of skin and richly juicy, grape fruit of superior quality, the avocada pear, oily in composition and nutty in flavor; pineapples—in Jamaica they eat them in half horizontally and eat them with a spoon—mangoes, akee, breadfruit, ochra, choco, yams, and more yams, were there to tempt the inexperienced palate.—Travel Magazine.

THE ARKANSAS HOG.

It Can Outrun a Greyhound and Whip a Wolf or a Bear.

An esteemed contemporary gave space to the following communication from a subscriber on "The American Hog:"

"Arkansas has a greater variety of hogs and less pork and lard than any state in the Union. An average hog in Arkansas weighs about fourteen pounds dressed with its head on and about six pounds and a half with its head off. It can outrun a greyhound, jump a rail fence, climb like a parrot and live on grass roots and rabbit tracks. It hasn't much tail or bristle, but plenty of gall. It will lick a wolf or a bear in a fair fight. It is called razorback because it is shaped like a sunfish. In hunting a razorback it is always shot at sideways, for there is not a ghost of a show to hit it otherwise, any more than to shoot at a split shingle. It can drink milk out of a quart jar on account of its long, thin head. This type of razorback is known as the stone hog because its head is so heavy and its nose so long that it balances up behind. The owner of this type of hogs usually ties a stone to its tail to keep it from overbalancing and breaking its neck while running. If the stone is too heavy, it will pull the skin over its eyes, and it will go blind."

Switzerland a Modern Babel.

Switzerland, with its mixture of races and tongues, is a sort of modern Babel, a fact which causes much trouble in particular to the military authorities. At Wallenstadt the other day at the recruiting station there was a guard composed of five men. The chief was a lieutenant who spoke German only, the second a sergeant who spoke Italian only, the third a corporal who could speak French and Spanish, the fourth a private who could speak French and German, and the fifth a private who could speak French and Italian. When the lieutenant had to transmit an order to the sergeant he had to get the last named man to interpret for him. When he wanted to communicate with the corporal he had to requisition the fourth man, and so on, great delay and confusion being thus occasioned.—London News.

Shelley as a Boy.

Here is a glimpse of Shelley offered by Andrew Lang: "It seems almost incredible, but it is true, that I once knew a man who was at Eton with Shelley, who left in 1810. This was Mr. Hammond, a senior fellow of Merton college when I was an inquiring junior. About 1870 he told me all that I could extract from him about the poet. 'Shelley was not a clever boy; he never was sent up for good,' which means, I conceive, that he never did a remarkable exercise in Latin verse. Mr. Hammond added that Shelley had a habit when he was walking alone of suddenly breaking into a sprint at a hundred yards pace. That was all."

HUGO'S SHORT MEMORY.

Told Different Versions of a Story on Three Occasions.

The Revue Hebdomadaire publishes an anecdote on Victor Hugo which by many will be considered very characteristic. Right after Napoleon III.'s coup d'etat Victor Hugo and Schoelcher, a well known politician of that period, fled together from Paris. A short time afterward, when Hugo met Schoelcher at his table in Brussels, the poet said: "Yes, my dear friend, you can boast of having once scared me very much. I had no doubt but that we were done for." Turning to the other guests, he explained:

"We were on the way to the Northern railroad depot and were sitting silent and uneasy in the omnibus, our hats drawn deep over our foreheads. Presently a regiment of infantry passed by with flying colors and resounding music. At the sight Schoelcher forgot all caution and, leaning out of the window, shouted, 'Down with Caesar!' Instantly I caught hold of him and closed his mouth with my hand. One word more and we should have been done for."

Two years later Schoelcher visited his friend Hugo in Guernsey. At dinner again the coup d'etat was discussed, and the poet called forth recollections of times past. "Do you still recollect, Schoelcher," he asked, "the day of our flight? We really came off very lucky. But didn't we act like madmen, shouting 'Down with Caesar!' when that regiment was passing by? Of course we were too indignant to be able to keep our temper."

Several years lapsed, and again Schoelcher was a guest in Hugo's house. Conversation turned to civic courage and the like. "Well, my dear Schoelcher," Hugo said to his friend, "I must tell you something I have had in my heart for years. In a critical moment of your life you showed a weakness which grieved me deeply. You will recollect that day when we, after the coup d'etat, left Paris and how I, while a regiment of infantry was passing by, at the sight of these killers of our liberty and in a rage, having no command over myself, shouted out, 'Down with Caesar!' I still have you before my eyes trembling with fear, catching hold of me by the lapel of my coat and forcing me down on the seat, so concerned you were for your precious life."

Judge by Eggs.

Judge Addison, a well known jurist of London, was in the habit of indulging in the oddest observations while trying cases. On one occasion opposing lawyers were wrangling over the question, "When does an egg become stale?" The judge, who had vivid recollections of a close election contest in which he figured, declared that the real test of an egg's staleness was the moment it became fit for use at a contested election.

CANFIELD WOMAN UP FOR TRIAL

Mrs. Perkins Committed On Charge Of Murder.

COUNSEL SCORES EVIDENCE

Mr. Johnston Severely Criticizes the Evidence—Draws Damaging Admissions From Crown Witnesses—Doctors Testify Strychnine Was Cause of Death — Macdonald Denies Alleged Immorality.

Cayuga, March 8.—That the death of Henry Perkins was due to strychnine poisoning, was evident from the medical testimony given when the preliminary examination of Mrs. Perkins, accused of the murder of her husband, was resumed yesterday morning. Important testimony was given by Dr. Kerr, of Dunnville, who was the family physician. He said that Mrs. Perkins was adverse to having any postmortem or an inquest, and that either she or her sister, Mrs. Romaine Heaslip wanted him to call upon Crown Attorney Murphy and see if such a procedure could not be avoided. He believed it natural for a family to express a wish that no autopsy should be held.

Dr. Kerr had given a certificate of death being due to stomach trouble, but in view of the reports of the doctors and Professor Ellis, he was now satisfied that Perkins had died from strychnine poisoning. He believed that Perkins must have taken the poison at some time between Monday morning and Tuesday morning, Christmas Day, when he died.

Two other medical men, Doctors Bauer and Edgar of Hamilton, both testified that in their opinion the death of Perkins was due to strychnine poisoning.

Prisoner Is Self Possessed.

At 2 o'clock the courtroom was densely packed, fully 200 more than Wednesday. Yesterday the women overcame all restraint and sat perched up above the magisterial desk.

The prisoner came in with her sister, and appeared to be more self-possessed than in the morning.

Miss May Moody of Canfield was the first witness after lunch. Miss Moody keeps a store at Canfield and was well acquainted with the prisoner. She had talked with Mrs. Perkins about the state of her husband's health. She had stated that her husband was very poorly, and it was only a matter of a few months.

Cross-examined, witness stated that she believed Mrs. Perkins at the time, and that she knew that Perkins had been ill for several years. She had heard that his father had died a horrible death from cancer of the stomach.

It had been generally understood that Perkins was a sick man.

"You did not think from what she said that she intended to kill her husband?" asked the lawyre.

"Oh no."

C. C. Hall, a Welland contractor and Ralph Gadsby, a carpenter, from Welland, had worked with Perkins for some time previous to and on the day he left home. They did not consider Perkins a sick man.

Mrs. Viola Spencer, wife of William Spencer of Welland, who boarded Henry Perkins for a couple of months before he died, stated that Perkins was not sick a day during that time.

To Mr. Johnston, Mrs. Spencer said that she knew nothing of the man's condition. He never complained. Witness did not know Perkins took medicine, nor that he had been doctoring.

William Spencer of Welland, husband of the last witness, and Arthur Headley, a farmer near Canfield, also gave evidence to the effect that Perkins enjoyed good health generally while working with them.

The Brother's Evidence.

John Perkins of Winnipeg caused quite a stir when he was called to the witness stand. A man of 35 years of age, he was a younger brother of the late Henry Perkins.

He returned to Cayuga on Feb. 3, 1906, and saw the prisoner on Feb. 6. There was something about the will spoken of.

"She said," continued the witness, "that as Henry left no will she hoped there would be an amicable settlement. I said I did not come here for that, I came here to see who poisoned my brother and I hoped she would help me. I asked her if she thought Henry committed suicide, and she said No! Henry would not do such a thing. If he got strychnine, she said, it was Dr. Kerr that gave it to him."

Mr. Johnston took the witness, who admitted that he had been on pretty good terms and had written four or five times to Henry at the time of his father's death.

"You took a general interest in the will and objected to Henry getting all the property."

"I did not."

"Will you swear that you didn't?"

"I did not write to Henry."

"Did you object?"

"I believe I did." (Laughter.)

"Was there feeling between you and Henry over the wife?"

"Yes. There was hard feeling between the family and Mrs. Perkins after the death."

Hunting Up Evidence.

"You have been trying to hunt up evidence to convict Mrs. Perkins of poisoning her husband?"

"Yes."

"Did you ask her what she knew?"

"I asked her if she thought Henry committed suicide. She said if there was poison found it must have been Dr. Kerr who gave it to him."

"What else did you say?"

"I don't remember."

"Did you say that 'I am here to prove poison?'"

"No."

"Did you ask anything else?"

"Yes. I said she ought to help find out who killed him, and she said that she was accused, but that they would have to prove it, and she would spend every dollar in defending herself."

"That is just what you would say if anyone accused you?"

"Yes."

Saw Them Together.

Fred Diets, a railway section man of Canfield, boarded some weeks with Mrs. John MacDonald. He knew the prisoner well and had seen her with Thomas MacDonald, standing beside the store with their arms around each other. (Hisses.)

"Did you ever see them walking up the hall together?"

"Yes. I thought it was funny for a married woman to act that way with a young man."

To Mr. Johnston witness stated that he would go as far as he dared with a woman, even young girls about 16 or 17.

"If somebody had not been talking to you, you never would have thought anything?"

"No."

"Who first talked to you?"

"John Perkins."

"Oho! The man who had his eye generally on the property."

MacDonald Takes the Stand.

Thomas MacDonald stated that he was a hardware merchant.

"Do you know prisoner?"

"Yes."

"Did she ever speak to you or your mother about Henry's making a will?"

"She never spoke to me."

"Did she ever tell you what her rights would be if Henry died?"

"She never did. She told father, but I don't remember what she said."

Witness had often been to the prisoner's house.

He had been alone with her and stayed at her house as late as 12 o'clock at night. He had had his arms around her at times and been driving with her.

Mr. Murphy asked about a will and Mr. Johnston objected, with the words "mere gossip." Witness stated that Perkins had been sick before Mrs. Perkins had ever stated to him her expectations regarding the length of life of her husband.

Were No Immoral Relations.

To Mr. Johnston witness stated that there never was immoral relations between himself and the prisoner and that there had never been the slightest hint that if Perkins dropped off he would take his place. He contradicted Diet's story emphatically, and said that he had been pressed to say that he had improper relations with Mrs. Perkins.

Mr. Murphy asked that the prisoner be committed for trial.

Mr. Johnston jumped up. "There is not a title of evidence to connect this woman with any poison at all and, granted that he died of poison, and strychnine, there is nothing to connect the prisoner with it. I am surprised that such a thing would take place in this county, and I mean what I say."

"We have considered the matter," said Magistrate Harrison, without looking at Magistrate Cline, his colleague, "and we will send her for trial."

Excited Nerves, Twitching Muscles
SYSTEM EXHAUSTED BY WORRY AND LOSS OF SLEEP—PERFECT HEALTH THE RESULT OF USING
Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

Such cases as this make it impossible to doubt the restorative influence of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mrs. E. J. Vanderburgh, of Eastern Welland avenue, St. Catharines, Ont., states: "For twenty-one years I was badly afflicted with heart trouble, nervousness and cramps in the limbs, also twitching of the muscles, and nervous headaches. I became weak, debilitated and emaciated. My condition was distressing and I was made worse through worry and loss of sleep.

"I tried a hundred remedies in vain, and, reading about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, I decided to try it. After having used half a dozen boxes of this preparation, my old trouble had entirely vanished and I was enjoying better health than I had since girlhood. I am now past middle life and am in perfect health. I would not take worlds to-day and go back to my former state."

There is more or less mystery and doubt as to the specific action of many drugs, but it is positively and definitely known that iron forms new, red corpuscles in the blood, or, in other words, makes the blood rich and nourishing.

But iron alone cannot be taken into a delicate stomach. The great secret of the success of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is the way iron is combined with certain other restoratives so as to make a preparation that can be used with the greatest benefit by even the most weak and delicate person.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is also slightly laxative as well as tonic in influence, and, while building up the system, insures the regular and healthful action of the digestive filtering and excretory systems.

If you would enrich the blood, strengthen the nerves and replace weakness and disease with health and vigour, use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.—3.

TO TAX MINE PROFITS ACCEPTED

Principle Generally Approved On Both Sides of the House.

PREMIER WHITNEY EXPLAINS

To Be Uniform Tax and Not Sliding Scale—Mines Not Given Away For Nothing—$10,000 and Under Will Be Exempt—Natural Gas Impost Objected to—Not to Affect the Ontario Farmers.

Toronto, March 8.—The Government bill for the taxation of mining lands, the profits of mines and on natural gas was the subject of a decidedly interesting debate in the Legislature yesterday afternoon. The measure was not regarded as of a political nature, a number of the members of the Opposition supporting it in principle, though there was some difference of opinion as to the method. Hon. Mr. Cochrane announced that an important change had been decided upon in respect to the basis of taxation on the profits of mines. Instead of a sliding scale, as originally intended, it was proposed that there should be a uniform rate. The detail of the rate will be announced later. It is reported that the tax will not be imposed on profits of less than $10,000, this amount having been exempted in the bill as originally drafted.

During the debate the members of the Opposition were to the fore with many useful suggestions and helpful recommendations. The bill passed its second reading.

The Mining Tax.

Hon. Frank Cochrane moved the second reading of his bill to supplement the revenues of the Crown. The bill he said, would not be an injury to the mining industry and he was confident the people of Ontario demanded rightly that the great prizes should no longer be given away for nothing, but that a fair share of their value should be obtained to assist in defraying the necessary expenses of government. Two methods of taxation were proposed, namely, on net profits and acreage.

Uniform Tax, Not Sliding Scale.

The bill as printed provided for a graded or sliding scale. He was bound to say that this feature was objectionable to the mining men, and their arguments were convincing enough to lead to a change from the sliding scale to a uniform rate. It was argued with force that to levy a higher rate where the profits were large was to penalize success; to fine the man or company whose management was careful and economical and favor the concern whose affairs were conducted with less skill and more wastefulness. "An amendment," he said, "will be proposed in committee which will make the tax a constant one, so that all will contribute to the public exchequer at the same rate, whose profits are over the amount of the exemption."

Opposed to Natural Gas Tax.

Mr. Atkinson objected to the tax on natural gas, provided for in the bill, except where it was exported from Ontario to the United States. The workingmen and artisans were large users of the product, and he believed it would be a great injustice to impose the tax.

Premier Whitney said that they had for years been taxing natural gas, and not a word of opposition had been heard. They could not put an export duty on gas, for the Dominion Government had been on the verge of disallowing the act that had been in force.

Would It Work Injury.

Mr. McCoig thought the tax on natural gas would work an injury to the industry. He urged care in dealing with this section of the measure. He asked what system was to be adopted in measuring the amount to be taxed.

Hon. Mr. Cochrane said it was not intended to adopt the meter system. In committee it would develop what was intended in this regard.

Tax Should Be Moderate.

Mr. Harcourt thought that the recent mining developments, particularly in the north, had prepared the public for a measure of imposing a tax. Speaking specifically of the proposed tax on natural gas he elicited the information that it was not the intention to tax this product under the new measure as well as under the supplementary revenue act on which a nominal tax is now collected. He pointed out that the Federal Government was considering the advisability of placing a tax on the exportation of natural gas. If that were done there would be the Dominion, the Provincial and the municipal imposts on companies exporting. This should be borne in mind in deciding upon the basis and amount of the tax. He reminded the Minister of Mines that on two different occasions the revival of mining in Ontario had been followed by the imposition of mining taxes and the subsequent repeal of the measures because of the handicap they imposed.

Mr. Foy moved the second reading of his bill to create the Provisional Judicial District of Sudbury.

At 6 o'clock the House adjourned until this afternoon.

Pupils Kill Teacher.

Gotebo, Okla., March 8.—Because he attempted to whip a boy pupil, Perry Evans, teacher of a country school was assaulted yesterday by a number of male pupils and injured so that he died a few hours later.

The young men who committed the assault are under arrest.

Minister Dead; One Dying.

Rome, March 8.—Signor Galle, Minister of Justice, died yesterday. He was born in 1849, and formerly was Minister of Public Instruction, President of the Chamber of Deputies, and Minister of Education. Signor Massimini, Minister of Finance, who was stricken with apoplexy Wednesday, is said to be dying.

Sand Rebs University.

Moscow, March 8.—While the officials were being paid off in the university yesterday, seven armed men entered, threatened all present with pistols and demanded money, fired in the air, seized $20,600, and decamped, after killing a police sergeant.

INDIANS FOLLOW CHIEF.

Body of Dr. Oronhyatekha Taken to Deseronto For Burial.

Deseronto, March 8.—The body of Oronhyatekha arrived at Deseronto at 2.30 yesterday afternoon. The special train stopped at Napanee, where a large number of people boarded the train and saw the casket and flowers.

A large crowd awaited the detraining of the casket and a party of Indians followed the cortege five miles to the "Pines."

Sixty persons traveled on the special train, including four nephews of Oronhyatekha, Chief Hiawatha of the Cayuga and three other ndians from the Six Nations reserve. All the executive were on board, also Dr. and Mrs. Acland Oronhyatekha and Mrs. Percy Johnston.

It is said by the Indians that Oronhyatekha's brother is dangerously ill on the Grand River reserve.

NO HOPE OF UNION.

Ballington Booth Declares General's Force Is Autocratic.

New York, March 8.—Ballington Booth, head of the Volunteers of America, declares that there can be no amalgamation of the volunteers and the Salvation Army in America as long as he lives, and that he has not heard of the arrival of General Booth, his father, in this country until he read of it in the newspapers.

It had been reported that General William Booth, as head of the Salvation Army, would try to bring about a union between the older organization and the volunteers through his son, but the latter declared the principles upon which the two organizations were founded are so different that a union is impossible.

He said the heads of the Salvation Army are autocrats, and the leaders of the Volunteers of America democratic.

Saskatchewan's University.

Regina, Sask., March 8.—The University act, introduced by the Provincial Government for the purpose of establishing and incorporating a university, which has received its first reading, establishes a body politic and corporate consisting of a chancellor, a convocation, senate, board of governors and council.

Is to have equal power and authority to give such instruction and teaching as may be determined by the senate and to examine candidates for degrees and for certificates of honor and to grant degrees after examination in the manner provided in the act.

No religious tests will be required of either professors or students, though the right is given to any affiliated college to make such provisions in regard to religious instructions and worship for its own students as it may deem proper.

The maintenance of the university is to be provided out of the general revenues of the province, and by a percentage of the net receipts of the province for the current year under the succession duties ordinance and out of the fund collected by the Supplementary Act.

The real and personal property of the university is to be exempted from taxation.

Fugitive Banker Found.

San Francisco, March 8.—Pinkerton detectives have located W. F. Walker of Connecticut in this city. He is wanted on the charge of embezzling $565,000 from the savings bank of New Britain.

Hot Election In Guelph.

Guelph, March 8.—Ralph W. Humphries defeated John Cunningham in a hotly contested election in St. James Ward for the vacant place in the council yesterday.

GOT A PAIN IN YOUR BACK?

You get a pain in your back, and you wonder what is the matter. You perhaps pay no attention to it. Backache is caused by imperfect action of the kidneys, in fact, is the first sign of kidney trouble to follow.

The kidneys, proper, are composed of a close network of fibrous tissue, interlaced with tiny elastic fibres. Their object is the excretion of the uric acid, and other poisonous matter composing the urine, from the blood.

They are continuously at work to preserve the general health of the body and most people are troubled with some form of kidney trouble, but do not suspect it.

Some of the symptoms are: A feeling of weakness in the small of the back, sharp pains in back, puffiness under the eyes, and swelling of the feet and ankles, urinary troubles such as supressed urination, excessive urination, cloudy, thick or highly colored urine, etc.

Mr. J. L. Whiting, Cranbrook Centre, Ont., writes: "I suffered for two years with kidney trouble. I had terrible pains in my back, hips and legs. I could not sleep and had a poor appetite. I took four boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, and the pains left me, my appetite returned and I now sleep well. I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to anyone suffering from kidney trouble.

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50 cents per box or 3 boxes for $1.25 at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

NORWOOD SCHOOLS' FIRE ESCAPES

Hochelaga Disaster Calls Attention to Necessity for Providing Some Precaution in Case of Fire—The Board's Action.

OTHER LATE NORWOOD NEWS

Norwood, March 5.—The Board of Education met on Monday evening March 4. Those present were Messrs. J. L. Squire, D. Campbell, W. Webster, A. S. Harriston, E. P. Cuffe, J. Doherty, G. W. Stevenson, J. Elliott, H. Drain and Dr. Robertson.

Minutes of previous meetings were read and adopted.

The matter of fees paid by Fred Lonergan last May was left with the chairman to arrange with Mr. Lonergan.

The chairman called the attention of the Board to the late disaster at Hochelaga, when so many children were burned to death, and thought something should be done here to provide fire escapes in the Public Schools. A discussion followed and the matter was left with the Property Committee, to report at next meeting.

Mr. Leighton tendered his resignation as Science Master in the High School.

Mr. J. L. Moore also resigned the principalship of the Public School, to take effect April 8.

Moved by Mr. Stevenson, seconded by Mr. Doherty, that the resignations of both be accepted.—Carried.

After a lengthy discussion, in which the members thought that the teachers should be compelled to fulfill their engagements with the Board, both the above teachers having engaged to teach until mid-summer, it was moved by Dr. Robertson, seconded by Mr. Campbell, and carried, that the foregoing resolution be rescinded.

Moved by Dr. Robertson, seconded by Mr. Drain, that we accept Mr. Leighton's resignation without recognizing any liability for any portion of the bonus agreed upon at the time of his transfer to the High School, to having broken his verbal contract with the Board, entered into at the meeting on January 22, 1907.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Doherty seconded by Mr. Elliott, that the resignation of Mr. Moore be not accepted, and that he be requested to complete his agreement with the Board.

Moved, in amendment, by Messrs. Stevenson and Cuffe, that the resignations be accepted.—Amendment was lost.

For—Dr. Robertson, E. P. Cuffe, D. Campbell, P. W. Stevenson.

Against—J. F. Elliott, J. Doherty, W. Webster, H. Drain, A. S. Harrison.

After further discussion, Mr. Elliott moved, seconded by Mr. Doherty, that in view of the unsatisfactory condition our school will be left in, on account of Mr. Moore's resignation, that we reconsider the question and grant his resignation, and report his breach of contract to the Minister of Education.—Carried.

On resolution, the secretary was instructed to advertise for a science teacher for the High School, and also for a Public School principal, duties to commence April 8.

It was also decided to have all teachers employed by this Board sign agreements requiring one month's notice to quit, previous to the commencement of any term.

After passing the following accounts, the Board adjourned:

Miss Mary Nicol left on Tuesday for Peterborough.

USE CANADA'S PORTS IN FUTURE

Proposal to Restrict British Preference.

THE TIME IS PREMATURE

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Says Resolution Is In Keeping With Policy of Last 50 Years—Counsels Further Delay—Would Divert Trade From United States Ports—Trade With Australia.

Ottawa, March 8.—The policy of restricting the British preference to goods shipped through Canadian ports was debated in the House yesterday afternoon and evening at considerable length. The question was brought forward by Mr. Hance Logan, member for Cumberland, who emphasized the advantage that would follow the declaration of a national policy of independence of the United States in regard to transportation. His suggestion was that the restriction should take effect in May, 1908.

Resolution Premature.

The Prime Minister expressed the view that Mr. Logan's resolution was premature, and suggested that fitting time to adopt the policy proposed would be on the completion of the transcontinental railway scheme in 1911. He accordingly moved an amendment to the effect that the restriction should come into operation after a date to be fixed by the Governor-in-Council. The Prime Minister's amendment was carried without a division after a debate in which most of the House leaders joined.

Trade With Australasia.

The Minister of Customs, replying to Mr. Macdonell, who inquired whether it was considered that the export business of Canada with Australia and New Zealand was in satisfactory conditions, said that during the last fiscal year exports to Australia amounted to $2,062,219 and to New Zealand $734,054. The imports from Australia during the same period amounted to $226,197, and from New Zealand $302,075. Application had been made to the Department of Trade and Commerce, by the Imperial Export Co., Limited, who proposed to operate a direct line of steamers between ports in eastern Canada and Australia and New Zealand, but no action had been taken.

Encourage Canadian Ports.

On motion to go into Ways and Means, Mr. H. Logan brought up his motion that the British preference should only apply to goods brought from British ports to Canadian seaports. The object, he said, was to divert a greater proportion of trade from United States channels to Canadian. Last year goods to the value of $20,000,000 were imported under the British preference through United States ports. He claimed that the principle he advocated had been largely supported by many Boards of Trade in Canada, and that it had been supported by the Prime Minister on the public platform and the Minister of Finance in the House in 1904.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

The Prime Minister said, in view of the different opinions expressed yesterday upon this very important question, it ought not to be difficult for the House to come to a unanimous conclusion. "Every member who has addressed himself to this question has, with one exception pronounced himself in favor of the principle of this motion. My hon. friend from East Toronto is the only one who has taken exception to the principle itself. But doubt has arisen as to whether, admitting the principle, the time is opportune for declaring such a policy as that embodied in the motion of my hon. friend from Cumberland (Mr. Logan). That resolution is quite in keeping with the policy followed by this country for the last 50 years, namely, the developing of Canadian trade within Canadian channels. Everybody in this country for the last fifty years, especially since the inauguration of confederation, has favored such a policy.

Sir Wilfrid moved in amendment—"That on and after a date to be named by the Governor-in-Council the British preference shall apply only to goods brought into Canada if shipped through the Canadian seaports." (Cheers.)

The amendment was carried without a division.

Progress being reported, the House adjourned at 11.45 p.m.

Cavan Swamp Drain; Work Is Commenced

Examiner Special

Mount Pleasant, March 6. — A start has been made at last on the long-talked of Cavan Swamp drain, preparation is now being made for the great steam shovel by removing all the timber that is growing on the proposed line of the great drain. When the drain is completed the Wardens of these United Counties, along with his associates in office, it is hoped, will have the pleasure of a sail on some craft suitable for navigating the canal from its most western point to the City of Peterborough, where a banquet might be provided for them by the citizens of Peterborough in commoration of the opening or shortening the distance between that city and the western locality, which will be a great advantage to those who attend the market there.

QUEEN ALEXANDRA'S GUEST.

Precautions to Protect Her Majesty From Anarchists.

London, March 8.—The Dowager Empress of Russia, arrived here yesterday morning and was greeted at the railroad station by her sister, Queen Alexandra, the Prince and Princess of Wales, and the staff of the Russian embassy.

The empress reached London half an hour earlier than the time publicly announced, and the foreign Ministers, who had not been apprised of the change, arrived at the station after the departure of the royal party.

The expediting of the empress' arrival was, it is understood, planned by the police, who have taken stringent precautions for her protection.

While the officials of Scotland Yard have little fear that the anarchists in London will jeopardize their chances of obtaining an asylum in England by any attempt on the life of the empress, they are taking no chances, and every possible avenue of attack will be guarded.

RECIPROCAL TRADING.

Chambers of Commerce Ask For Favorable Negotiations.

London, March 8.—At yesterday's session of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the United Kingdom, which are holding their annual meeting here, a resolution was adopted, asking the Government to conduct negotiations at the forthcoming colonial conference with the object of promoting reciprocal trading within the British Empire.

Robert H. Roade of Belfast, ex-president of the Chamber of Commerce of that city, who moved the resolution, contended that the colonies were denied preferential treatment, and that if this was further refused they would look elsewhere for better treatment, and Canada, in particular, would seek for reciprocity with the United States, thus leading to the disintegration of the Empire.

Caught and Torn by Cog Wheel.

Guelph, March 8.—Robert Rollinson was caught in a cog wheel while oiling the machinery in Graef's tannery at Clifford and was badly torn. He was brought to the General Hospital here.

Ship Sights Big Iceberg.

New York, March 8.—An immense field of ice was sighted off the Newfoundland banks by the steamer Saint Cuthbert, which arrived here yesterday from Antwerp. The Saint Cuthbert steamed for 50 miles along the southeast edge of the floe.

MANITOBA ELECTION.

Roblin Wins a Corrupt Victory With Majority of Twelve.

Winnipeg, March 8.—The Roblin Administration has come through the short, fierce campaign victorious at the polls, though its majority has been materially lessened. Polling took place in 39 constituencies, and of these the Government has carried 25, the Liberals 12, and 2 are in doubt. Gimli and Gilbert Plains will certainly go Government. There are victories which are less creditable than defeat, and it would be better for the good of the Province that the Liberal party should remain in Opposition forever than achieve success by the same methods and means as the unscrupulous political buccaneers who triumphed on this occasion.

Sentiment Against Them.

In spite of the fact that almost the entire sentiment of the respectable section of the electorate was arrayed against them they fought for political existence and with a tremendous reptile fund were able to control sufficient of the purchaseable and great floating vote to defy public opinion. Corruption was particularly in evidence in the seats in which the Government were determined to win, notably North Winnipeg, Portage la Prairie, St. Boniface and Laverandrye.

At one poll, where Liberal scrutineers swear only 124 men entered the poll, 145 ballots were taken out of the box, and at another place all the Liberal ballots were incorrectly initialed, and the deputy refused to honor his signature. These two incidents are sufficient to indicate how difficult it is to oust the present outfit, which have entrenched themselves on the Government benches. However, condemnation of the Ministry is written in the returns, notwithstanding the fact that they control the House. All of the Ministers excepting Mr. Agnew have had their majorities greatly reduced, while Hon. D. H. McFadden was defeated in Emerson, and Attorney-General Campbell's fate hangs in the balance. He is two behind, with two small polls to hear from, and the greatest he can expect is a return by one or two votes.

Liberal Gains.

Liberals, of course, greatly regret the defeat of Messrs. Brown and Chevrier, but they have some excellent fighting blood in their materially strengthened ranks in the House. They have gained Dauphin, Deloraine, Emerson, Lansdowne, Morden, Mountain, Springfield, a total of seven, but lost Assiniboia, Kildonan and St. Andrew's, St. Boniface, Hamiota and Laverandrye.

Wallace, Idaho, March 8.—The jury in the trial of Steve Adams for the murder of Fred Taylor, last night announced it was impossible to agree on a verdict and was discharged.

Men's Ten Dollar Suits

GOOD SUITS at a medium price are a very scarce article in most stores this season.
There has been a big advance in the price of Woollens, Trimmings, Labour, and, in fact, everything that goes into a Suit of Clothes.
Now we have picked out a line of Suits, in different patterns, that can't be beaten at the prices.
THE RESULT
To-day we are showing the best $10.00 Suits the City affords. The best Tailoring, the best Fabrics and the best of everything that it is possible for the money to procure.
The man who wants a medium priced Suit will make a bad blunder if he fails to come here for it. See a few sample Suits in our window—the quality and appearance are both convincing.

Fire Escapes

It was moved by Ald. Leary, seconded by the Mayor, that the committee recommend that the City Solicitor prepare a bylaw to compel owners of buildings over two storeys in height, and the third storeys of which have not more than one exit and are occupied by 10 or more persons at any one time, to provide fire escapes, similar to those required for hotels.—Carried.

It was moved by Ald. Leary, seconded by the Mayor, that the chairman be authorized to purchase a set of harness for the new team of horses.—Carried.

Fire Alarm Boxes

It was moved by Ald. Dunetz, seconded by Ald. Morgan, that the proposed location of the fire alarm

The Cotton Family's Day Of Misfortunes Was Yesterday

A FINGER LOST IN AN ACCIDENT

Mr. Robert Cotton, of Test Department of C. G. E., the Sufferer.

Yesterday morning Mr. R. S. Cotton, of the Test Department of the C. G. E. Company, met with an accident which will incapacitate him for work for some weeks at least. He was lining up a machine for testing with an electric motor, when the rope from the crane, with which the machine was being moved slipped, falling on his left hand and crushing the second finger so badly that it was taken off at the second joint, and the forefinger on the same hand was also crushed and may have to be amputated.

COTTON SISTERS IN A RUNAWAY

Mr. R. S. Cotton Learns of an Accident Which Befel His Sisters.

Yesterday was an unfortunate da for the Cotton family. When Mr. R. S. Cotton telephoned to his father in Gamanoque yesterday afternoon, telling him of his accident, he learned that during the forenoon, about the same time that the was in his trouble his two sisters were out driving and were thrown from the cutter, Miss Winnie sustaining a fractured skull while his other sister, Miss Ruby, had her face badly cut. They will be laid up for some weeks, but no serious results are anticipated.

Jerome May Bring Harry Thaw's Sister As A Witness

Abrupt and Unexpected Ending of the Defence's Side of the Case—District Attorney Displeased at Action of Delmas—Will Retaliate.

Examiner Special.

New York, March 8. — When the court convened for the Thaw trial to-day, Mr. Delmas announced that the defence had no more evidence to introduce. Court adjourned until Monday, when Jerome will begin rebuttal.

Considering Harry Thaw's lawyers guilty of a professional breach, in that they did not give him warning that they were going to close their case so abruptly, it is declared that the District Attorney will retaliate by calling the Countess of Yarmouth to the stand in rebuttal.

His hope will be to prove through her that Evelyn Thaw's story of her European conversations with Stanford White's slayer was full of flaws and that the narrative was not related as she had sworn on the witness stand.

MR. N. G. SOMERVILLE AT NORWOOD TO-DAY

Lecturing on Important Dairy Subjects—Accompanied by Mr. Gillespie.

Mr. N. G. Somerville, of Brockville, the dairyman's instructor, was in this city this morning and left at noon, accompanied by Mr. Geo. A. Gillespie, for Norwood. Mr. Somerville will there deliver addresses at a cheese factory meeting on the cow, testing question and the benefits of the cool curing system.

They returned to the city this afternoon.

EX-ALDERMAN GRAHAM BUYS VALUABLE PROPERTY

Has Purchased Terrace From Dr. G. H. Burnham, of Toronto—Good Price Paid.

Ex-Ald. J. G. Graham has purchased from Dr. G. H. Burnham, of Toronto, the terrace on the corner of Water and Dublin streets. It is understood that the price paid by Mr. Graham was a good one, property in this section having sold well recently. A number of transfers have been made within the last few weeks, and all at good prices.

A COMPLIMENT EARNED BY MR. ANGUS MCINTOSH

Lindsay Curlers Never Played on Better Ice Than That at Charlotte Street Rink.

The Lindsay curlers, who visited in the city on Wednesday, paid a compliment to Mr. Angus McIntosh, the ice artist at the Charlotte street rink, by stating that the Peterborough ice was the best that they had played on this season. Lindsay ice was great, they thought, but even it was no match for the excellent sheets manufactured by Mr McIntosh. They congratulated the local curlers on this important equipment of their rink.

PRESENTATION TO MR. ALFRED BYRD

Mr. Alfred T. Byrd, who for the past two years has been in the tool drafting department of the C. G. E., has accepted a lucrative position in structural work in Toronto. His fellow workmen, with whom he was very popular, presented him with a valuable mathematical "slide rule." Mr. Byrd has made many warm friends, who will regret very much his departure.

FOUND DEAD IN BED

Thomas Howard, a Young Englishman, Died Suddenly in the McGregor House, Norwood, on Thursday.

HEART FAILURE GIVEN BY PHYSICIAN AS CAUSE OF DEATH

Examiner Special.

Norwood, March 8th. — Thomas Howard, a young Englishman, who has been working in the vicinity of this town since last spring, was found dead yesterday morning early, in the McGregor House, by members of the hotel staff. Howard, it appears, has been feeling unwell for some time and left the place where he had worked since he came to Canada — a Mr. Monergan, about two miles from the town—a few weeks ago, and had been living at the McGregor House since, helping around the house for his board.

Some time during the early hours of yesterday morning the people sleeping in the hotel heard a noise in his room, and, upon investigation, it was found that Howard had died.

A doctor was called, who pronounced the cause of death as heart failure. It developed that the deceased had been suffering for some time with heart trouble.

Coroner Grey was notified of the death and the circumstances under which it occurred and decided that an inquest was unnecessary, death having evidently been due to natural causes.

The funeral took place this morning from the town hall, and was largely attended.

The deceased came from England and had no relatives in this country so far as could be learned.

Thistles' Centre Player Is Out Of Game For Season

Kenora, Ont., March 7.—Thistles had the usual shine last night. Giroux and McGimsie were not out. McGimsie had his arm thrown out in his last practice and is in all probability out of the game for the balance of the season. It is just possible that the former star centre has played his last game, as he has been in hockey longer than any of the others on the team at present. Whitcroft is playing a great game at centre. He is aggressive and effective. Beaudro has not yet recovered from an injury received over a week ago and is not putting up anything brilliant as yet. Phillips, Griffis and Hooper are all going a pretty fast and dashing clip, and appear to be on edge for any conflict.

FRASER MISSION BAND GAVE MUSICALE

A Delightful Afternoon Spent at Residence of Mrs. W. H. Meldrum—Excellent Programme Rendered.

Yesterday afternoon the Fraser Mission Band gave a very enjoyable musicale at the residence of Mrs. W. H. Meldrum. There was a good attendance of the members of the band and a number outside its membership were present to show their interest in the work of that organization. An excellent programme was given, contributed to by Misses Helen Davies and Lillian Moore, who sang and Misses Lizzie Scott, Lottie Davidson, Geraldine King and Bertha Moore, who were heard with delight on piano solos and Miss Henderson, who gave a recitation.

Refreshments were served during the afternoon and a thoroughly enjoyable afternoon was spent.

CAMBRAY MEN SHOT A BLACK FOX

A $150 Prize Over Which There is Some Dispute—Hunters Divide the Price of Hide.

The Lindsay Post says: A black fox, one of the most valuable of the species, was recently killed in Bryson's swamp, near Cambray Station. For two days, Messrs. B. B. Wailey and Fred Young had been on the animal's trail. It was finally shot, with the aid of hounds belonging to Mr. George Wellington, of town. Mr. Wellington claimed the fox on the grounds that it was through the experience of his dogs that the animal was captured. The matter was finally settled by a division of the purchase price.

The fur of the black fox is in great demand, and a good skin is valued at $150.

Scientist Claims That Sleep Is Unnecessary To Human Race

Can we go without sleep entirely?

A distinguished scientist, says the New York World, has advanced a plausible theory that we can do so, and is endeavouring to prove his theory by a long series of experiments.

It is alleged that sleep is merely the assertion of the lower or vegetative consciousness and that if the higher intellectual consciousness held permanent sway sleep would cease. In confirmation of this it is shown that men of the highest and most active intellectuality have been able to go almost entirely without sleep.

If we could remain awake continuously we should gain enormously. It would practically one-third to our lives. We should have more time to work, to make money and to enjoy ourselves.

Sleep is by no means demonstrated to be an absolute necessity to man, as many superbrawl persons believe. The idea that it is necessary as a rest for the body is at least partially a misconception. During sleep digestion, respiration and most of the bodily functions continue in a state of activity. Only the senses and the higher cerebral functions are in a diminished state of activity. Only a small fraction of the body rests.

The fact that men and animals frequently die when deprived of sleep does not prove it to be necessary. The violent change of a habit maintained for countless ages would be sufficient to cause death. If a well-fed American were suddenly reduced to the manner of living of a native of India, he would probably die, but not that manner is not necessarily fatal to human life.

Dr. Ascel Emil Gibson, in the New York Medical Record, argues that sleep will in time cease to be a necessity. He points out that cases are well known of men of towering intellect, such as Lord Coke, Sir William Jones, Bismarck, Gladstone and Zola, who rarely exceeded six hours, and of Goethe, Schiller, Napoleon, Balzac, Humboldt and Mirabeau, who mostly contented themselves with four or five hours sleep out of twenty-four. Jeremy Taylor, Baxter and Bacon seldom allowed themselves more than three hours sleep a day. The late Pope Leo XIII. kept to this extremely low limit and so does Thomas A. Edison.

Dr. Gibson asserts that in the progress of humanity toward complete diurnal and nocturnal self-consciousness sleep is a transient phenomenon, serving as a constant means and a gradually eliminative impediment to that end.

The doctor shows that the vital processes are governed by a dual consciousness, seated in the upper and lower brain, alternating in intensity during the hours of sleeping and waking. During sleep the physical functions are chiefly manifest, continuing for the most part undisturbed, and in some respects, as in the deepened breathing, and the increased activity of the pores, with augmented vigour. At the same time cerebral an emia produces unconsciousness and the reflex sympathetic processes hold sway.

These changes, Dr. Gibson believes, signalize a reaction and attempt on the part of the lower or vegetative consciousness, to restore its equilibrium with the waking government, which in its turn seeks constantly to widen its province.

But recurrent recovery of power by these forces will become less marked as the race progresses. In the evolution of life the vegetative consciousness precedes the cerebral. When the cerebro-spinal system is developed, it takes command of the organism. This now powerful system has gained control over the organs of locomotion, protection and support in man and is rapidly extending its conquest to the internal reflex economy—as witness, the semi-voluntary working of the lungs and, occasionally, the volitional movements of the heart.

Many experiments have lately been made with a view to ascertaining the nature of sleep and whether it is a necessity to the human race. Professor Patrick and Dr. J. A. Gilbert of the psychological laboratory, of the University of Iowa, experimented on many professors of the University. It was proposed to keep them awake continuously during about ninety hours, making psychological and physiological tests upon them at intervals of six hours, in respect to reaction time, discrimination time, motor ability, memory, attention, etc., to observe the general effects of insomnia, and also the depth, amount and character of the sleep that finally resulted. This plan was successfully followed with subjects who were constantly attended by one or two watchers. The first subject, an assistant professor of the university, in perfect health, suffered much from sleepiness during the second night, the time of dawn being that of greatest somnolence, but not nearly so much during the third night. In his case the most marked effect was the presence of hallucinations of sight, the air seemed full of dancing particles like gnats—coloured red, purple or black—which he would try to catch. He had never had hallucinations before, and they disappeared entirely after the experiment was concluded.

In all three cases there was a steady increase in weight during the experiment, followed by a marked decrease after sleep. The dynamometer showed a steady decrease in strength of both grip and pull, regained after sleep.

COLE MC'MILLAN TELLS PATHETIC STORY OF INHUMAN TREATMENT

Farm Hand Who Stole Ride From Peterboro' to Montreal Tells Police in That City of His Hardships.

WAS IN DURHAM COUNTY

Farmer He Worked for Gave Him Insufficient Food and Made Him Sleep in the Barn—Help Provided..

The Montreal Herald of Wednesday said: A pitiable story of suffering and hardship was narrated at Bonaventure station last evening, and this morning by a young man named Cole McMillan, who reached here in a very woebegone and wretched condition, absolutely without funds and without visible means of support.

How he got to Montreal he did not explain, but he allowed it to be inferred that he travelled between the engine and coal car on the Ottawa train, having boarded the train at Peterborough. He was so covered with coal dust and so generally dilapidated in his clothing and general appearance that it was impossible to tell whether he was young or old when he made his appearance in the station. He stated that until last autumn he had lived with his parents, but his mother had died and his father became ill and unable to pursue steady employment. It was necessary, therefore, for him to look for employment elsewhere, and he sought it with a farmer in the northern part of Durham county.

The farmer, according to the story he told Constable Hawthorne and the station hands at Bonaventure Station, gave him insufficient food and compelled him to sleep in the barn during all the recent severe weather. His condition became literally unendurable, and he was obliged to leave.

The emaciated appearance of the young man, who looked about 18, and his haggard and pinched features gave such corroboration to the story that a subscription was at once opened, and his wants were provided for temporarily. He was accommodated for the night at the London Hotel. This morning he returned to the station, and it was decided, as he seemed to be suffering from the effects of cold, hunger and general weakness, to send him to the General Hospital. The case excited general sympathy and interest in the neighbourhood of the station.

IS DR. PYNE TO RETIRE?

There is a rumour afloat in Toronto, that all is not peace and quietness and joy in the Cabinet Councils of the Ontario Government these days. Prime Minister Whitney is said to have declared that he cares not who is hit by the shafts of the license investigation. The Hon. Mr. Hanna is also said to be willing that some other member of the Cabinet should be speared, if the rest can escape with clean skirts. Dr. Pyne is currently mentioned as the one who is to be left to whatever fate may await him. "Marooned," "stung" and several other fashionable epitaphs are to be allowed him, rumour says, if there is sufficient evidence against him to prove indiscretions. — Toronto Star.

PROGRESS FOR MEN

The Necessary Tail of the Kite Must Not Be Confussed with Old Fogeyism

Hang out the rudder of conservatism, but let us not mistake "old fogeyism" for the necessary tail to the kite of progress. A certain book man who, for years, clung to the heading "At Dodsley's," will no doubt gain some fame as a literary authority. He wouldn't alter his heading, even though the change change would brighten up the paper and gain readers thereby. "Tut, tut, and also fudge," said his critic, "we want modern literature, and we have no wish to sell out Milton's Paradise for fifty shillings, and starve, in the hope of winning a golden fame when we are dead. Let us enjoy the good things of our day."

That is how the advertising of Semi-ready tailoring is intended—a publishing of a present day achievement in order that the old fogey notions of our ancestors may the more quickly be overcome; that the present generation may know and may enjoy the fruits of the genius of our own day.

Crossman's have the real Semi-ready tailoring.

THE BACHELOR'S LAMENT.

The Examiner to-day received the following poem on the proposal of Ald. Tovey to impose a tax on bachelors:

Of all the tricks I ever heard,
Is Ald. Tovey's scheme
To tax the poor unmarried men—
Alas—'tis only a dream.

'Tis sad to think of our bachelors,
Of which there are but few;
And if, in wedlock, should decide,
What will the old maids do?

If all the girls were sweet sixteen,
The batchy soon would marry;
But when his choice is old scarecrows,
With his mamma he'd sooner tarry.

But rather such a fate, as take
A wrinkled old maid's offers,
Ten thousand I'd be glad to pay
To swell the city's coffers.

No, sir, the joy is not for me
To choose a mate so crinkled.
In a dungeon I would sooner be,
Than kiss a mug that's wrinkled.

And if, perchance, that I did marry
Some toothless, hairless fright,
Her burdens I would have to carry,
To the opera take her every night.

Oh! save me such a fate as this,
The tortures I should suffer;
Decline this matrimonial bliss,
Than be an old maid's duffer.

Throw out the tax, and old maids, too,
And the friends of Tovey's scheme,
For neither one I wish to do;
'Tis the worst I've ever seen.

GOOD PROGRAMME AT Y. M. C. A. "POP"

Twenty Persons Will Take Part in the Entertainment at the Association Hall To-morrow Night.

A varied programme, provided by the best talent, with many new features, will be put on at the 6th Y. M.C.A. Pop on Saturday night. Twenty people will take part in the programme. It will be the best Pop of the season, without a doubt.

SMALL VILLAGES ARE IN DANGER

This is the Opinion of the Temperance and Moral Reform Committee of the Methodist Church of Canada.

REV. J. G. LEWIS ATTENDED

Rev. J. G. Lewis returned yesterday from Toronto, where he was attending as the representative of the Bay of Quinte Conference, the meeting of the Board of Temperance and Moral Reform of the Methodist Church of Canada. Apparently the Board sees a loop-hole hole whereby those opposed to local option may take some advantage, for at the annual meeting yesterday in the Wesley buildings a resolution was passed, urging upon the Government the inexpediency of granting incorporation to any village that has not the full 750 population as provided for in statutes. The resolution was passed with a view to preventing the issuing of licenses in small villages in local option townships.

A resolution was passed expressing satisfaction at the measure being promoted by Mr. T. H. Preston, M. P.P., of South Brant, amending the age limit at which children should be employed in factories. It was suggested that the law prohibit the employment of children of tender years by theatrical companies. It was decided to memorialize the Dominion Government to amend the criminal law so as to make the age of consent not less than 18 years. The action of Premier Whitney opposing the proposals to legalize the running of Sunday cars in Port Arthur was commended.

Rev. Herbert S. Magee of Midland was elected field secretary to assist Rev. Dr. Chown. The general secretary was given two months leave of absence that he might study moral reform questions in the country. Members from all parts of Canada were present.

THURSDAY, MARCH 7, 1907.

LET IT BE THOROUGH.

The adjournment, without naming a day for resuming, of the license investigation, in Toronto, invests with additional credibility, the rumour, that, as the inquiry is perilously drawing in members, or, at least, one member, of the Whitney Government, it is to be closed, before the seats of the mighty are invaded. This should not be. The investigation should be thorough, so that the interference of Hon. Dr. Pyne, a member of the Government, may be fully developed. It is true that Mr. Whitney, in the House on Wednesday, valourously declared that the investigation would go on "to its logical conclusion"—whatever that may mean. But Mr. Whitney has promised many things that have not arrived. He promised that no Government officials would be dismissed without investigation, and opportunity for defence. He promised that the license law administration would be removed from politics! Has this been done? The state of license administration in Toronto says, "No," rather emphatically. One of his first official acts in connection with license administration, was the discharge of an inspector, who was entirely satisfactory to the Commissioners appointed by Mr. Whitney himself—a dismissal which Mr. Flavelle rather more than hinted, was made at the dictation of a member of the Government who had a license axe to grind. This matter, and many others, should be probed before the commission rises. Mr. Whitney, in his grandiloquent vein, says that the investigation will go on, and any Conservative who has done wrong, will, "if in office," be punished, but "we will also show the awful conduct which characterized the working of the license manipulators here under the late Government." By all means make the investigation thorough. Liberals, and the independent opinion of the country, demand it. If, as Mr. Whitney promises, the commission is to develop into a post-mortem examination of Liberal license administration, in Toronto, by all means let the investigation go on. Those responsible for past administration of the license law, do not fear an investigation. In the case of Hon. Mr. Whitney's "colufi," his bark—a mighty loud one—is worse than his bite.

A MODEL CITY

The new city of the Pacific coast—Prince Rupert, the terminus of the National Transcontinental railway—will be unique in this respect, that before the municipality is opened for public settlement several great and necessary public improvements will have been completed by the company. At present 300 men are at work surveying and clearing the site of the new city, which is one of the most attractive spots, in point of scenic surroundings, natural drainage and healthfulness in North America. The engineer in charge of the works states that it will be well into next summer or fall before the town site is all surveyed and cleared enough to place on the market. But before then there will be a splendid hotel, many warehouses and a large number of buildings, including a school, two churches and the dwellings required for the railway officials. The city will be so laid out as to provide for the best sanitary and scenic results and there will be no narrow streets. If all that is promised is carried out it will be a model city, worthy of Grand Trunk Pacific enterprise and of the Government of Canada, which made the new transcontinental line an early success.—Brantford Expositor.

A CHUBBY BABY WEIGHS 73 POUNDS AT 9 MONTHS

(Examiner Special.)

Montpelier, Vt., March 8.—Madeline, the nine-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dow, is the plumpest and chubbiest baby in Vermont, and probably in the whole United States.

When placed on the scales recently she tipped the beam at seventy-three pounds, and she chuckled and cooed as if she was proud of her weight.

She is sixty pounds more than the normal weight of a baby for her age.

She weighed nine and three-fourths pounds when born, April 15, 1906, and five months later began to grow plump. Her mother noticed the tendency to stoutness, but supposed that it would soon stop. Two months later she weighed sixty-three pounds and now she has reached seventy-three pounds, and is growing stouter every day, so that her parents have more trouble when it is weighed.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

It is estimated that the several schemes of railway building in the Northwest, will require the labour of sixty thousand men this year.

A New Ontario paper demands that New Ontario have three Ministers in the Whitney Cabinet, a Minister of Lands and Forests, a Minister of Mines, and a Minister of Public Works. It seems to us, says the Toronto Star, there ought also to be one department of Arts and Grafts.

Premier Whitney assures the House that the license investigation will extend far back. Naturally something like this would have to be done, remarks the Toronto Star, to offset the more recent exposures. It would not be politics for even a business Government to do otherwise.

Miss Sadie Holmes, of Tilsonburg, has been made a dentist by Act of Parliament, founded on her practice in the extracting art. She is naturally well adapted to the practice of the dental art—women, the cynic bachelor will say, can sympathize with the open mouth.

Mr. Burns, barrister, license-transfer - broker, adviser - in - chief to the Ward Heelers' Association-for-the - promotion - of - party - graft, Toronto, received since January 1st, the modest sum of $4,290 for services in connection with the transfer of licenses — the salary of a Cabinet Minister. Why not—wasn't he doing a Cabinet Minister's work?

Mr. Studholme, the labour representative of Hamilton, stands more in his rights than on his dignity. During the session of the Private Bills Committee on the application of Sadie Holmes to practice dentistry, Mr. Studholme asked a member of the committee if he were a dentist and on receiving the answer, "no," Mr. Studholme said, "Well, then, shut your mouth." He was severely condemned by the members of the committee for deliberately insulting a member. But perhaps Mr. Studholme only intended to crack a joke, holding that no man not a dentist had any right to deal with an open mouth.

Canada's mineral wealth, like many of her native resources, is only just beginning to be realized upon. A report read at the meeting of the Canadian Mining Institute, showed that there had been an increase in the mineral production of Canada in one year of nearly ten and a half million dollars, the production in 1905, being $69,525,170, and $80,008,048, in 1906. The most notable increase has been in Ontario. From 1900 to 1904, the latest available statistics, the increase was from $2,565,286 to $5,321,677, and when the figures for the period from 1904 to 1907, are presented, it is probable that this increase will be tremendously greater.

The members of the Canadian Mining Institute, adopted a resolution unanimously condemning the bill to impose a taxation on mines. A committee was appointed to wait upon the Minister of Mines in regard to the modification of the proposed law. But Hon. Mr. Cochrane was obdurate. He would not yield. Hon. Mr. Cochrane has been appaulded for his "courage" in resisting the arguments of the mining men. His "courage" may be obstinancy, or it may be recklessness. Surely the mining men cannot all be wrong, and we know that the Whitney Government has shown on more than one occasion, and in more than one connection, that it doesn't know everything.

The Hamilton Spectator, a pestilentially pronounced Conservative journal, has been studying the financial aspects of the Toronto liquiry, and presents its finding, as follows:

In Toronto last year 54 licenses were transferred, and the sellers pocketed $1,238,460 profit on the transactions. That would make the cost of those licenses to the buyer, average nearly $25,000 each. And yet there was a tremendous howl when the Government fixed the Toronto license fee at $1200. There will be few to find fault, except those immediately concerned, with the advance of the Toronto license fee to $1200. This advance has not, however, destroyed the profits of the traffic. The bar-keepers have advanced the price of individual potations from 10 cents to 15 cents, without, it seems, decreasing the consumption, for the profits still remain abnormal.

TWO OPEN LETTERS

IMPORTANT TO MARRIED WOMEN

Mrs. Mary Dimmick of Washington Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her Well.

It is with great pleasure we publish the following letters, as they convincingly prove the claim we have so many times made in our columns that Mrs.

Mrs. Mary Dimmick

Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., is fully qualified to give helpful advice to sick women. Read Mrs. Dimmick's letters.

Her first letter:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I have been a sufferer for the past eight years with a trouble which first originated from painful periods—the pains were excruciating, with inflammation and ulceration of the female organs. The doctor says I must have an operation or I cannot live. I do not want to submit to an operation if I can possibly avoid it.. Please help me."—Mrs. Mary Dimmick, Washington, D.C.

Her second letter:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"You will remember my condition when I last wrote you, and that the doctor said I must have an operation or I could not live. I received your kind letter and followed your advice very carefully and am now entirely well. As my case was so serious it seems a miracle that I am cured. I know that I owe not only my health but my life to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and to your advice. I can walk miles without an ache or a pain, and I wish every suffering woman would read this letter and realize what you can do for them."—Mrs. Mary Dimmick 50th and East Capitol Sts., Washington, D.C.

How easy it was for Mrs. Dimmick to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., and how little it cost her—a two-cent stamp. Yet how valuable was the reply! As Mrs. Dimmick says—it saved her life.

Mrs. Pinkham has on file thousands of just such letters as the above, and offers ailing women helpful advice.

DIFFERENT CLASSES

The London Advertiser has the following:

A young Grand Trunk brakeman, who met death while on duty yesterday, was the son of well-to-do parents in England. The Grand Trunk authorities speak well of him; he was steady and conscientious. Disparagement of English immigrants is sometimes heard in this country, but it is a fact that many thousands of well-born young Englishmen have come to Canada in the past few years, ready to turn their hand to any form of honest labour in order to start life anew. In their own country, where caste and custom are rigid they would be visited with social penalties for doing work, which in Canada puts no one in an inferior class. These young men show the right spirit. They are the sort to be encouraged and given a welcoming hand to a country where they are often made to feel that they are not in sympathetic surroundings.

The Advertiser is right, and it is wrong. The well-born young Englishman, who bravely faces the conditions necessary to success in a new country, in unfamiliar and novel environment, is deserving of the highest credit. But the Advertiser is astray in stating that men of that class, "are often made to feel that they are not in sympathetic surroundings." They are, on the contrary, welcomed warmly, and never made to feel that they are in unsympathetic surroundings, except, perhaps, by those Canadians of a class, similar to the objectionable English class, which we sometimes see in this country — men, who while not any too willing to work, or any too free from dissolute and unthrifty habits, object to Englishmen, who shame them, by bravely taking up the struggle for honest existence, which every Canadian who desires to adequately meet the duty of worthy citizenship, feels called upon to carry on. But that any Englishmen who do their duty by their adopted country, who fit themselves into the ranks of honest citizenship, with an honest desire to be, or become, a credit to society, taken in its broadest sense—that any such Englishmen "are made to feel" by anybody whose opinion is of weight or value, "that they are not in sympathetic surroundings," is to be most emphatically denied. What we want in this country is population, and what we want in population is honest industry, and thrift. Any person, of any nationality, bringing this equipment to his new home, will be made to feel at home, or, rather, by virtue of the qualities he possesses, will feel at home; for his good sense will tell him that he is of the class of immigrants and potential citizens, which Canada needs and values. But the idle, the unthrifty, and the dissolute, or criminal, who leave their country, for their country's good, are frankly told that they are not wanted, no matter what ward politicians may say to the contrarry — mischief breeders, who, for the sake of some paltry party advantage, seek to excite prejudice, and destroy the harmony of citizenship, which is essential to the well-being and progress of the country.

A CHOICE HERD OF FAT CATTLE

An Average Weight of 1400 Pounds—Fed by Mr. George Webber of North Monaghan.

A fine herd of choice fat steers was weighed on the market scales and attracted a good deal of attention from a large number of spectators. They were probably one of the finest lot that have appeared at the market for some time and were fed by Mr. George Webber, the North Monaghan cattle king. Besides the steers a number of bulls were also weighed, the heaviest of which was exactly 1830 pounds.

The total weigh tof the herd of 22 was almost 30,000 lbs., making an average of about 1400 lbs.

They were purchased by Mr. Thompson, of Cold Springs, and shipped to Montreal.

PLAGUE STONES.

Reminders of the Time of the Great Pestilence in England.

The story of the great plague of London is familiar to all readers of history and has been dealt with by many writers of fiction. Even the bypaths of history supply much suggestive matter, while hidden away in churchwardens' and other old accounts are many items that remind us of those days. Here, for example, are two entries from the parish accounts of St. Mary Woolnoth, London:

1593-4. Item, for setting a crosse upon one Allen's doors in the sicknesse time 1jd
Item, paid for setting two red crosses upon Anthony Sound his dore ..... iiijd

The crosses were about a foot in length. The crosses served as a caution against entering such houses. In various parts of England the plague stones are silent reminders of the time when epidemics laid low so many inhabitants both in town and country.

A stone in the Derby arboretum bears the following inscription:

"Headless Cross or Market Stone—This stone formed part of the ancient Cross at the upper end of Friar Gate and was used by the inhabitants of Derby as a market stone during the visitation of the plague 1665. It is thus described by Hutton in his 'History of Derby:'

"'1665—Derby was again visited by the plague at the same time in which London fell under the severe calamity. The town was forsaken; the farmers declined the market place, and grass grew upon that spot which had furnished the supports of life.

"'To prevent a famine the inhabitants erected at the top of Nuns' Green, one or two hundred yards from the buildings, now Friar Gate, what bore the name of Headless Cross, consisting of about four quadrangular steps five feet high. I knew it in perfection.

"'Hither the market people, having their mouth primed with tobacco as a preservative, brought their provisions, stood at a distance from their property and at a greater from the town's people, with whom they were to traffic.

"'The buyer was not suffered to touch any of the articles before purchase. When the agreement was finished he took the goods and deposited the money in a vessel filled with vinegar set for that purpose.'"

The mention of tobacco in the foregoing inscription is a curiosity, showing that the weed was then regarded as a very efficacious preventive.

Winchester suffered much from the plague in 1666. On the downs near the city are numerous curiously shaped mounds which are said to cover the pits into which the dead were cast.

When the pestilence raged a primitive kind of quarantine was practiced. The country folk supplied food, which was placed on a stone outside the city, the townsmen exchange the coppers placed money in a bowl of water.

The old plague stone still remains, built into the base of a monument, which bears an inscription as follows:

"This monument is erected by the Society of Natives on the very spot of ground from which the markets were removed and whose basis is the very stone on which exchanges were made while the city lay under the scourge of the destroying pestilence in the year sixteen hundred sixty-six. The Society of Natives was founded on the 26th of August, 1669, for the relief of the widows and orphans of their fellow citizens who died of the great plague."

Beneath a spreading tree in the grounds of Tothby House, near Alford, Lincolnshire, is a plague stone. About 275 years ago the inhabitants of Spilsby and the surrounding villages day after day toiled up to the top of Miles Cross hill, which overlooks the wide marsh country, with Alford lying just at the foot.

At the top they left food, etc., for the poor sufferers and took in return money deposited in vessels containing water or other liquid placed on the plague stone. Then the people of Alford came up the other side of the hill for their supplies. Thus the two parties kept well apart.

NEW YEAR'S IN THE ORIENT

The Greetings and the Presents in China and Japan.

The most wonderful ceremonies connected with the new year occur in China and Japan. A Chinese city presents a busy and attractive spectacle on New Year's day. The streets are thronged with people dressed in gala attire. The mandarins are known by the red, blue, white and gilt balls on their caps. Gentlemen of rank and wealth are carried in palanquins. When friends meet they greet each other with "Kung-hi! Kung-hi!" which means, "I respectfully wish you joy." But instead of shaking hands in the American fashion each grasps his own hands, lifts them as high as his chin and with a sweeping motion throws them down as low as possible, bending the body at the same time. This is the mode of salutation among the Chinese. At the dawn of New Year's day the visits of congratulation begin, and New Year's gifts are sent to particular friends, always accompanied by a visiting ticket of red paper, on which are written the name of the donor and a list of the presents sent. These consist usually of silks, fine tea, sweetmeats, ornaments of personal wear, toys and souvenirs of various kinds. In Japan the custom is to send letters on rice paper to those in distant places, conveying the formal expression of the New Year's greetings. Presents of cooked rice, roasted peas, oranges and figs are offered to every one.

ABUSE OF INDOORS.

We Rely Too Much on the Protection of Our Houses.

Houses were made for shelter, not for confinement; for freedom, not restraint. They were intended to enlarge our sphere of activities, not to diminish them.

They foster the family and make progress possible, but we should not abuse their protection. We have crawled away into their still and comfortable recesses, slept in their dry, clean chambers, toasted ourselves over their sheltered fires, read by their unflickering lights and eaten from their bountiful boards so long that we are grown pale, timid, peevish and thankless withal.

We have kept ourselves away from the wind and the sun and the lashing rain, from the feel of the earth underfoot and the sense of the leaves and stars overhead until we no longer know the keen and simple joys of being alive. We have set up barriers against the inclemency of nature and cowered before her severe austerity until now we have forgotten how indispensable is all her kindly nurture, how tonic her rugged ways, how full of solace her assuaging calm.

Houses were only made to live in when it is too cold or too hot or too wet to live out of doors. Any other time out of doors is best. To sleep out of doors for a month is better than a trip to Europe.—Bliss Carman in Craftsman.

Facts About Building Stone.

Almost everybody knows the rule of the masons that stone used in building should be so placed that it will lie as it lay in its natural bed when quarried. But Francis W. Hoyt in the Engineering News says that this familiar rule is not always to be depended upon and needs in many cases to be supplemented with other precautions. There are three planes of fracture known to quarrymen. The rift is the direction in which the stone splits most easily, the grain that which is next easiest, the head that which offers the greatest resistance. In a paving block the two sides represent the rift fracture, the top and bottom the grain and the ends the head. But in a quarry the natural bed is sometimes considerably inclined to the plane of the rift; hence the imperfection of the ordinary rule for placing the stone in building.

Ear Piercing.

Miss Skremer—Papa says if I give up my singing lessons he'll give me a pair of diamond earrings. Miss Sharpe—You've never worn earrings, have you? Miss Skremer—No; I'll have to have my ears pierced. Miss Sharpe—Oh, I see his idea! He wants to pay you back in your own coin.

The Incomplete Letterist.

Hubby—Wife, dear, why are you frowning so over that letter you're writing? Wifey—Oh, I carelessly said everything I had to say before I signed it, and now I can't think of a thing for the postscript.

CALL AND SEE HIM

School Of Love Proposed By An American Professor

Chicago, March 8. — Colleges of courtship for the reformed American love-making are needed to fight the lovelorn population of the nation for matrimony, according to Professor C. R. Henderson, the University of Chicago sociologist. In an article on "Courtship," in the Current Biblical World, issued from the University Press yesterday, the professor urges expert instruction for those who are smitten with the "illusions" of love. Hasty marriages, divorce, and marriages of convenience are classed as results of the "barbarism" into which courtship and marriage have fallen. He gives as samples of the decline in true love "where the wife is bought from the parents like a cow, or where she is compelled to marry to secure a fortune from a rich fool." Fashionable society exhibits depraved standards and alimony is accepted as a substitute for rational marriages, he declares. Prof. Henderson points out as particular evils of modern love-making such perils as flirting, boasting of conquests, extravagance, accepting costly presents, ignorance of the training of children, and courtship without intent to marry.

REAL RHEUMATISM.

The Causes and Symptoms of Uric Acid in the Blood.

Rheumatism, so called, is probably as common as any ailment one ever hears of, and yet if one were to analyze carefully the average case of rheumatism the result would doubtless show that the disease was something very different indeed from the real thing. Almost everybody when suffering from a slight stiffness of a joint or a muscular soreness promptly makes a diagnosis of rheumatism when in reality the case is nothing more than what in technical language is known as lithaemia, sometimes called American gout.

The real disease of rheumatism is the result of an accumulation in the blood of imperfectly converted food, principally uric acid. This accumulation is due to intemperance in eating and drinking and insufficient active exercise.

Heredity in some cases seems to play an important [illegible] and [illegible]

[illegible] symptoms follow a regular order, beginning with a feeling of fullness and discomfort after meals, indigestion, nausea and an unpleasant taste in the mouth, followed by throbbing headache, nervous irritability and vertigo, muscular pains which may be confined to one or more muscles or skip about them one to another. Lastly, and in most cases the most troublesome of all symptoms, is depression of spirits, the patient imagining that he has all sorts of ailments. Persons suffering from mental disorder as a result of this disease have been known to commit suicide. Fortunately these cases are not common, but it should be remembered that they are among the possibilities.—A Doctor in New York World.

Farmer—So you've had some experience, have you? Youth—Yes, sir. Farmer—Well, what side of a cow do you sit on to milk? Youth—The outside.—London Tit-Bits.

Recollection is the only paradise from which we cannot be turned out.—Richter.

DIRECTORS MAKING PROGRESS

The Changes in Rules and Regulations Approved of by Fair Direciors—Committee of Management Appointed.

MANY NEW MEMBERS OF EXHIBITION

The directors of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition, are gradually encircling the work to be accomplished before the month of September, when the Fair will be held. Yesterday afternoon they held another business meeting, presided over by the president, Ald. R. H. Leary, and appointed the committees of management and approved of the changes in the rules and regulations, as presented by the special committee for that purpose.

The chief alterations made by the special committee were that the fair should be confined to the four counties of Peterborough, Victoria, Northumberland and Durham; that no animal can be shown, except in its own class; that a member's ticket will admit him and wife on each day of the fair.

Those present were: Ald. R. H. Leary, president; W. B. Stewart, W. Collins, Ald. Geo. E. Elliott, Samuel Deyell, J. J. Turner, — Young, D. Kennedy, Jas. A. Bell, and Secretary F. J. A. Hall.

Committees Appointed

The following committees of management were appointed:—

Speeding in the ring — Messrs. Winch, J M Brooks and Baptie.

Horses, Light — Messrs W B Stewart, Geo E Elliott and S Deyell.

Horses, Heavy — Messrs J Young, J H Garbutt, W C Switzer.

"Rambler" Continues His Journey In This County

He Tells, in the Catholic Register of This Week, of Incidents Connected With His Visits to Early Settlers of Peterborough County—Some Interesting Character Sketches.

Mr. Mungovan, in this week's issue of the Catholic Register continues his articles on his visits to Peterborough county forty years ago under the heading of "The Rambler." He says:—

"Bannacht Lath a Sheamus," said I as I shook the hand of "Jim" Hayes, and bid good-bye to himself, to his family and to the Cork House. "Gho de thee slaun," was the rejoinder of a "noble boy" who for many years has borne the name of the Earl of Cork, and forthwith I resumed my journey eastward, passing on the way a most fertile tract comprising several hundreds of acres, all owned and occupied by Irishmen, and good men every one of them. Here I made the acquaintance of Joseph Redmond, Michael Hallahan, Thos. Buck, Jas. Doris, better known as Councillor Doris, from his long connection with municipal affairs, the Egan Brothers, Redmond Carey, John Condon and a number of others, all of whom were farmers. They have all passed away to that bourne from whence an Irishman has never yet been known to return, except Redmond Carey alone, but he being a Tipperaryite, it is easy to understand how he manages to hold so tenacious a grip on life. Continuing onward my tour, both of investigation and exploration, I soon reached the village of Keene, a place where the Irishman has been never known, to any appreciable extent, to take root. It is, however, owned and "run" by a number of thrifty, broad-minded and tolerant Scotchmen. There was a Catholic church of modest pretensions in Keene when I first laid the foundation for an acquaintance with the pretty village, which was attended monthly from Peterborough in the good times long ago, when that clever priest—Father Oliver Kelly—ministered to the spiritual needs of a large portion of the people of Peterborough County. It is now attended from Douro each alternate Sunday. A mile south of the Village of Keene I reached "The Island" and here I encountered a number of excellent Irishmen who, settled on fertile soil washed by the waters of Rice Lake, and comparatively isolated, were enjoying life in its happiest aspects. There were some points of similarity between Achill Island and "The Island" partly surrounded by Rice Lake at its northern shore. Each was ruled by a potentate selected by the people, and whilst neither crowned heads nor presidents or republics ever gave formal sanction or recognition to the people's will, yet they never dispatched armies or fleets to nullify it. It was practically a measure of Home Rule, and the people were undisturbed in its fullest enjoyment. I do not know who was ruler in Achill Island, but I do know very well that the word of John Grier, a most patriotic Irishman who left the County of Mayo away back in the 40's, was law on the "Island," as binding as was that of the Medes and Persians. The Bolands, the Quinns and other Irishmen whom I have had the pleasure of meeting, placed implicit faith, and deservedly so, in Mr. John Grier, whose sterling devotion to the land of his ancestors, whose practical adherence to the faith which was his proudest inheritance, whose kindness as a neighbour and whose humanity as a ruler, never evoked the shadow of dissent or the syllable of adverse criticism.

Proceeding towards the township of Asphodel, I encountered, on my way, many excellent Irishmen. I have a tender recollection of many of the pleasant calls which I made at the home of Mr. James O'Keefe, who, several years previously, had left his native home at the foot of Slieve na mon, and settled down here to the honoured life of a farmer. He is dead many years, but I have a clear remembrance of the large hearted Tipperary man, and of his large-hearted Tipperary wife. A son of his—John—whom I have not met for well nigh a quarter of a century, is, I am pleased to learn, firmly rooted in the soil, a position which I would like to see every Irish-Canadian hold. A daughter of his—the wife of Mr. James Doris, a successful farmer residing in the Township of Otonabee. Amongst the other Celts, whom I assailed, and whose houses I stormed, as I moved eastward were some bearing names unmistakably Irish, such as Walsh, McCarthy, McNulty, Murphy, Myles and Mullins; Foley and Fitzpatrick; Doherty, Dwyer and Daly; Healey, Heffernan and Harley; Lynch, Leahy and Landrigan; Crowley, Coughlin and others, not too numerous to mention, but through a treacherous memory, are unavoidably omitted.

On the charming Sunday following I assisted at the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass in the old log church, which was the Mecca of the pioneers of the settlement from the first days of their arrival in this section of the township of Asphodel. Father Quirk, now many years deceased, was the officiating clergyman, and here it may not be out of place to make a brief reference to the arduous labours of the early Catholic missionaries of Ontario, which the life of this good priest can to a large extent illustrate. For many years the Holy Sacrifice was offered up twice each alternate Sunday in the eastern part of the county of Northumberland, all being in charge of the Rev. John Quirk, who resided in the village of Hastings, on the banks of the River Trent. Where only one priest exercised spiritual jurisdiction, forty years ago, there are four busy men to-day. Campbellford has become a flourishing parish, with very bright prospects before it, and is faithfully ministered to by a clever priest, Rev. Father Whibbs. Warkworth is annexed to Burnley, both of which are attended to by Rev. Father O'Connell, who resides in the latter place. Norwood is a distinct parish; the handsome stone church, which is a valuable addition to the many handsome churches which the eye encounters in this village, answering all the purposes of the old log building to which a brief reference has already been made. Rev. P. Conway has charge of this parish. The congregation of Hastings has left the old stone building, the use of which was kindly lent by Mr. John L. Driscoll, of Westwood, and taken to the crest of an adjoining hill, where a beautiful church, an imposing presbytery and a commodious school house, are objects which strike the eye. Rev. Father Bretherton is the officiating clergyman. My description of Asphodel, and of what I saw there, will be as imperfect as all my descriptions are, but it would be much so were I to omit some allusion to the old old school house, which very appropriately spent its many years of usefulness in the neighbourhood of the old log church. It was truly rural, but it was controlled by able men and able women, who turned out upon the world able men and women.

Dr. J. B. Murphy, superintendent of the Brockville Hospital for the Insane, who died sincerely regretted on his return home, after assisting at the holy sacrifice of the Mass received his primary education within its walls and for a few years subsequently taught it himself most successfully. Dr. C. B. Coughlin, recently appointed to the superintendency of the Deaf and Dumb Institute, Belleville, the son of one of the first settlers, was one of the young ideas who were taught to shoot, and he himself in after years, was one of the clever men who gave instructions in the art of shooting. Dr. John O'Sullivan, who was one of the ablest medical practioners in the county of Peterborough, and who for some years, represented the Eastern Division of the same, in the Local Legislature, kept order in this famous academy, when he was a very young man. Thus did the fame of the Asphodel school float in the air until it won a reputation which climbed over parish boundaries.

When Your Health Fails, What Then?

Good health is the capital of persons who earn their livelihood with brain and muscle. Success is for the strong and alert—for those whose blood is rich, and whose nerve cells are filled with vigor and energy. It is not pleasant to contemplate what might happen with failing health, and for this reason it is well to heed the first symptoms of nervous exhaustion and to keep health at high water mark by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

LOCAL MAN INTERESTED IN COPPER MINE

Mr. Wm. Hamilton, One of Company Which Owns Maple Leaf Mine in Gladstone, Ont.—Contains Copper, Silver and Gold.

THE PROSPECTS ARE GOOD

The Sault Ste. Marie Times of a recent date says: W. J. Kearns, formerly of the Canadian Soo, was a visitor in town this week. Mr. Kearns informs the Times that he is in company with Messrs. J. Conmee, M.P.; W Hamilton, president of the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Co., Peterborough, Ont.; E A. Forster, Toronto, and D. D. Mellonald, of this city, have been granted a patent for the Maple Leaf Mine in the township of Gladston, Ont. Samples of the ore from this mine have been sent to the Provincial Government assayer at Belleville, Ont., and are found to contain 22.51 per cent. copper with traces of gold and silver. The vein is 11 feet wide from wall to wall, and the indications are that it will be one of the richest mines in Ontario. Active mining operations will be commenced in the course of the next few weeks. Mr. Kearns and his company have also secured the services of two expert prospectors to take up new locations in the vicinity of the mine. They also intend going after silver in the Cobalt district this summer.

A HAVELOCK LADY ASKING FOR DAMAGES

Mrs. Comley Wants $10,000 Damages for Death of Her Husband Killed in C. P. R. Train Wreck.

The Havelock Standard says: Mrs. Geo. Comley, of Winnipeg, Man., formerly of this place, whose husband was killed on a C. P. R. train near that city by the bursting of the boiler of a locomotive, has entered suit against the company for $10,000 as compensation. She was offered about $3,000 by the C. P. R., but refused it.

MR. JOHN GRIERSON DIED IN BROOKLYN

Sister of Messrs, H. C. and R. J. Winch Lost Her Husband After a Year's Illness.

Mr. R. J. Winch received word this morning from his sister, Mrs. John Grierson, of Brooklyn, of the death of her husband, which occurred on Thursday, February 28th, after an illness of about a year's duration, in his 74th year. Mr. and Mrs. Grierson have lived in Brooklyn about twenty years.

Mrs. Grierson was born in Peterborough and is the eldest sister of Messrs. H. C. and R. J. Winch.

CONCERT IN LAKEFIELD FOR HOUSE OF REFUGE

Proceeds Will be Spent in Purchasing an Organ for the Institution.

A concert will be held in Lakefield this evening for the purpose of raising funds for the purchase of a new organ. The citizens of Lakefield are providing the talent and a very pleasant evening should result. The concert will likely be held in the town hall and as it is for a good purpose there will no doubt be a large crowd.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

UNCLE JOSH SPRUCEBY

"Uncle Josh Spruceby" was the attraction at the Grand Opera House last night, and it proved strong enough to attract a large crowd and please and interest them after they were there. The play is one of the best of the many rural productions on the road, and the company presenting it last night deserve credit for the ability displayed. The audience showed its appreciation of the play in an unmistakeable manner.

SERGEANT KITTY

"Sergeant Kitty," the show which opened the new Walker Theatre in Winnipeg on Christmas Day, will be seen in the Grant Opera House here on Thursday night next. This is the same cast that has presented this comic opera success all this season, and numbers 35 persons. Those who see it here next Thursday night will be given a treat.

HOCKEY

Best's Happy Thoughts defeated Ackerman's last night in the preliminary feature to the great Press game by four goals to two. The match was hotly contested and was a good exhibition of hockey.

VINOL'S RELIABILITY

STRONG EVIDENCE OF MERIT

Prominent Physicians Join With McDermid & Jury In Recommending Vinol

Countless physicians and druggists are now prescribing and endorsing Vinol as the most valuable cod liver preparation known to medicine and it is fast superseding all other forms of cod liver oil.

A prominent physician writes: "I am satisfied that Vinol derives its wonderful life-giving and strength-creating power from the medicinal curative elements found in the cod's liver. It is the best strength creator and vitalizer for old people, weak women, children and the convalescent that I ever saw."

Another physician writes: "I could cite many cases where health has been restored in a surprisingly short time by Vinol. I should be very sorry to have to do without Vinol in my practice. It has no equal for hard colds, throat and bronchial troubles."

Now, when we tell you that we have never sold in our store a remedy of such remarkable and curative strength-creating power as Vinol, for the weak, the sick and the aged, and that if it fails to accomplish what we say it will we will refund your your money without question, it will show you our faith in the preparation.

In cases where cod liver oil, emulsions and other tonics fail, Vinol will heal, strengthen and cure.

Try Vinol on our guarantee, McDermid & Jury, druggists. Vinol is also sold at the Market Drug Store, (the Ormond & Walsh old stand.)

TRANSFERS APPROVED BY COMMITTEE

Three Methodist Ministers Whose Transfer in June Will Affect Local Churches.

Examiner Special.

The Transfer Committee of the Methodist Church of Canada met in Toronto yesterday and the transfer of a number of ministers was approved. Rev. W. J. Crothers, who for three years has been the pastor of the George Street Methodist Church, is transferred to the Hamilton Conference, and, with the sanction of the Stationing Committee of the Conference, will be pastor of St. Paul's Church, St. Catharines, after June next. Rev. E. A. Pearson, of the Toronto Conference, is transferred to the Bay of Quinte Conference to take the pastorate of the George Street Church, of this city, and Rev. Review Pikers Were Easily Defeated By Examiner Team

In Most Scientific Exhibition of Hockey Ever Seen on Local Ice—Tory Seven Never in the Hunt.

TEAM WON A GREAT GAME

Review's Bluff Was Called and the Revenge Was Sweet—Miss Crane Was Unable to Take Part in Contest.

Uncle Puke McRae's bunch of pikers were handed a lemon, presented with a case of lime juice, passed the ice pitcher, given paper flowers, or, in classical English, beaten to a standstill by the Examiner seven in the annual press game at the Brock street rink last night before over 500 deliriously excited spectators, after a contest that will go down to posterity as the most scientific exhibition of the great winter game ever seen in Peterborough. The score was 3 to 1 in favour of US. From the moment that Mr. J. H. Burnham, president of the Children's Aid Society, dropped the puck between the wildly-waving sticks of the two centre players until the final gong sounded, the game was a series of moving pictures, always graceful and ever changing, and the spectators had the greatest difficulty in following the movements of the players and the puck. Somebody's life was always in danger, either from attempts at assassination by their opponents or by collision with the side of the rink. It was hockey of the most brilliant order. Nothing like it has ever been seen in Peterborough before, and it is a cinch that nothing like it will ever be seen again.

CORNEY BURNS,

The Review Coverpoint in One of His Thrilling Canters Down the Ice, Burns Was One of the Stars (Falling) of the Tory Seven

The score was smaller, but in other respects the game was a repetition of the contest played last year, in which the Review went down to defeat by a score of 10-2. The Tory aggregation were never in the game for a minute, being outplayed in every department. It was a cruel shock to the players and supporters, who were confident of trimming the Examiner by a large margin, and the disappointment was so bitter that Miss Crane will go into mourning as a result. Ever since the date of the game was announced, the Review has been publishing columns of "guff," which, in addition to attacks made on every member of the Examiner team, predicted that the Review team would simply wipe the ice with their opponents. The Examiner said nothing, but waited, and they extracted sweet, sweet revenge last night. The Review were never in the hunt, and were lucky that it wasn't a whitewash. Their only goal was scored while the Examiner goal-keeper was on the fence, while the Examiner were robbed of one because Referee Lynch was talking about the Manitoba elections to a friend and didn't see the goal, at least, he refused to allow it to count.

GLENGARY GATINEAU McRAE,

His Head Swells in the Only Hockey Playing Part of His Anatomy

Manager Begley, of the Review team, placed the best line-up that could be secured in the establishment on the ice, and at that they were a sorry bunch, being outclassed in every particular. "It's a shame to take the money," said the saucy little bird on Nellie's hat. It was truly a slaughter of the innocents. The score might easily have been made 23-1, but the Examiner team, after sizing up their adversaries, decided to let them down easy, and they did let them down quite often. The Examiner forwards, after getting three goals, agreed that no more were needed, so they generously refrained from any more attempts at scoring. It was feared that if the score was made as big as last year, that the Review would never don the steel blades again, a calamity which, from the viewpoint of the spectators, would be terrible.

The Examiner team had ninety-nine per cent. of the play and might have had the remainder if they wanted to extend themselves, which may cause the remark that some of them are extended enough already. They displayed the greatest team work seen here this year, calling into play all known systems, four man combination, three man combination with one trailing, two man combination with two men trailing and one man combination with no one trailing. It was no wonder that the Review team was dazzled and confused by the brilliancy of their playing. If the Examiner can play like that in three practices they would be Stanley Cup material after a month's workout. Every man on the team skated like a flash of lightning and it was this marvellous speed that resulted in frequent falls. The excessive speed at which some of the team travelled caused their skates to melt and on keen ice the mishap was serious. This will be about all we have to say collectively of the Examiner team. The spectators who saw the game recognize the fact that we are a great team and it is expected that the Review will say so in its issue of to-day.

Otonabee Youths Discussing Huston's Showing at a Meeting at the River Rink This Morning

The Review team, as has been said were outclassed. Their intentions were good, at least some of them were, but their manner of carrying them out was not successful. They had no combination or team work, neither could they skate, shoot or stick handle. However, barring these and a few other little defects they played a marvellous game last night. Some of their acrobatic stunts, if they could be repeated on the stage, would earn them a fortune. They performed some of the most thrilling slides for life and limb dives in the history of hockey. Their vaudeville performance had them all put away but we wouldn't like to hurt their feelings by telling them what we really think of their hockey.

It would be hard to pick the stars of the Examiner team, in fact, they were all stars, every man playing a marvellous game. All the forward line were good.

"Knocker" Theobald, at rover, cooked all kinds of sensational rushes and had the Review defence guessing at all stages by his marvellous stickhandling and spectacular hurdles. "Bullet" Henry was an able assistant in centre ice, the two ushering in some decidedly scientific combination and shooting hard and accurately. Sporty Huston and Lanky Robertson on the wings, were all to the superfine, playing wonderful hockey at all stages.

An Ottawa man, who saw Hutchinson, the great Examiner cover point, said after the game "There's the man we have been looking for to fill Pulford's place." He was certainly there with all kinds of the goods last night, checking hard and effectively, while his thrilling rushes always brought the crowd to their feet and sometimes brought himself off his feet. Clarke, at point, would make Ramsay Rankin or Leon Kozi look small and put up a great argument, being almost impassable as the Review forwards found to their cost. Craig had an "off" night in the flags. He was off three times. His job was the greatest cinch in the bunch, the only goal scored by the losers being netted while he was serving a sentence on the fence.

For the Review Uncle Puke McRae was a thrilling headliner. Clad in a neat red and black sweater and with a cute red hat to match, he essayed to play forward, but didn't last any longer than a keg of beer at a German picnic. His great work was a feature for about three minutes, but after that—Oh, my! Towards the end of the first half, McRae broke his skate, at least he said he did; but the trouble was more inside his boots than out. The ambulance was summoned, and the injured man placed thereon, and conveyed to the end of the rink, where Trainer Glover and Dr. Chris. Graham attended him. A shower of cold water shot from a siphon soon revived him. In the second half he retired to the flags, where his efforts in stopping the rubber were rewarded by the presentation to him of a magnificent bouquet of "paper" flowers.

The Review had on their line up Wilson of the City League champions, but even with his assistance had no chance of winning. He played goal the first half and saved the score from running into double figures, by his sensational stops, which were all that prevented the Examiner from making a record score. Kilgour was the smallest man on the ice, but played more real hockey than any man on the Review team. He was aggressive and handled his stick nicely. Burns and Burridge, the Toronto imports, were a husky pair, and made things decidedly interesting for the Examiner, while Happy Jack Thompson divided his attention between the ladies and the puck with great success. Butcher was by no means as bad as his name would imply although he displayed a tendency to "cut up" at times.

Referee George Lynah had a busy night of it trying to keep the players from killing each other and at the same time seeking to preserve the rink from destruction, and the spectators from invading the ice. In the intervals he was busy sending the players to the fence. Craig was off three times, twice for lying down in the nets, and the other time for loafing off-side. Hutchinson, Clarke and Henry also adorned the fence at intervals, while McRae, Burns and Burridge were off for the Review.

The gladiators faced each other like this:

Review.		Examiner.
	Goal.
Wilson, (McRae.)		Craig.
	Point.
Thompson.		Clarke.
	Cover.
Burns.		Hutchinson.
	Rover.
Burridge.		Theobald.
	Centre.
Kilgour.		Henry.
	Left wing.
McRae. (Wilson.)		Huston.
	Right wing.
Butcher.		Robertson.

There is little to be said of the play. It was a continual onslaught on the Review goal varied, with an occasional dash in the other direction, which was invariably nipped before the goal was reached. The Examiner scored three times in quick succession on shots by Robertson, Theobald and Henry. Craig was twice penalized, and while he was off the Review scored their only goal.

The feature of the second half was Hutchinson's head long rush into the nets, which resulted in his feet being tangled up in the meshes. It was ten minutes before he could be released, and there was a continual roar from the crowd until he was let go. The Examiner scored another goal, but the referee was not looking and the score did not count. The final score was 3—1 in favour of the Examiner.

Miss Crane was not on the line-up, much to the regret of the feminine portion of the crowd. It is learned that the warm sun of the last few days tempted her to don summer stockings and as a result she got a bad attack of cold feet.

As a result of the game the press teams are enabled to hand over a substantial sum to the Children's Aid Society.

Telegrams and cablegrams are pouring in on the Examiner from all parts of the world, offering congratulations to the Examiner team. Here are a few of them:

London, Eng., March 8.
Examiner, Peterborough:
Received news this morning. Congratulations.
King Edward.

Pekin, China, March 8.
Examiner, Peterborough:
News of victory arrived this a.m. Congratulations.

Washington, D.C., Mar. 8.
Examiner, Peterborough:
United States all smiles. Everybody de-lighted. Congratulations.
Roosevelt.

NOTES OF THE FRAY.

That Uncle Pike McRae is "an awful excuse as a hockey player" was exemplified beyond all doubts by his showing last night. Even his skates broke—out—in protest against the outrageous gyrations they were made a party to.

Wilson, the man with rosy cheeks and feminine countenance, was just as much of a failure at rover as he was in goal.

When David Barnyard Meltze went up in the air and was on his way down, it put a person in mind of a runaway freight on a down grade.

Burns and Burridge were a great pair of counterfeits, misfits, or any other possible kind of convulsion. They tumbled harder, more often, and more ungracefully than any other couple on the ice.

Miss Crane was dreadfully disappointed when "she" found it would be impossible to present "her" graceful form to her lady and gentlemen in the gallery. A tear was seen to drop from her stained eyes as she related her disappointment to her sympathizing friends.

WINNING PLAYERS GIVE THEIR VIEWS OF GREAT STRUGGLE

Each member of the victorious Examiner team was interviewed this morning, and here are their views of the great contest:

The Goal-keeper — "It was the greatest cinch I ever had and if we ever meet the Review again, I want a place on the forward line, where there is something doing. I worked hard for a score but fate and Referee Lynch were against me and I was rail-roaded for camping out in front of the Review nets. It was deliberate robbery, as I was almost certain to score. Beyond a complaint at this, and the other two times I was ruled off, I was perfectly satisfied with the work of the officials. I regret I wasn't at home the only time the Review called on the nets, but the fault was the referee's—not mine."

The Point. — It was a great and thrilling contest and the speed reminded me of a Stanley Cup game I once saw, only more so. My former experience in a back yard league quite unfitted me for playing in a real rink, but once you get acquainted with the boards, ice, etc., why it is not so bad. I got acquainted very soon. My work was made very light by the great forward line and the cover point in front of me. No; I can't go to Kenora, can't get away from b-u-s-i-n-e-s-s.

Cover Point. — I was out of my class last night. I had an idea before I went on the ice for the game that I could play hockey, at least a little. I see now I was labouring under a delusion and a snare, and I am going to retire, in spite of the fact that some of the local hockey managers, whose generosity exceeded their business judgment, have offered me a place on their teams for the balance of the season. I appreciate the fact that they did it to bolster up my drooping spirits, after my sorry exhibition of last night. However, the baseball season is in sight.

ROVER—The strong game played by the Review defence, together with the somewhat erratic shooting of the Examiner forwards, kept one side of the score rather low. So far as I can judge, it must have been a humorous game from the spectators' standpoint. However, there was plenty of the reality experienced on the ice. But for the good game of our defence we would undoubtedly have been defeated. All of them received offers from Kenora this morning.

CENTRE — Last night's hockey match was as strenuous a contest as I could expect to play in and still live. I intended to make a noise like a "pro." last night, but forgot my hockey mitts and spring-heel boots.

RIGHT WING—Being the first game of hockey I have played this winter I expected to feel sore in the limbs this morning, but contrary to expectations, I felt like a spring chicken. I felt very sorry for my cheek, McRae, on account of his being "all in" so soon, when he broke his skate. I guess his hair didn't need combing this morning because of the shower bath he got last night. Judging by the large gathering of the fair sex, it must have been a strenuous game. They certainly handed "Mac" a few large lemons. I hope there are no ill-feelings over the few bumps each side received.

LEFT WING—It was the greatest hockey contest in which I ever participated, notwithstanding the fact that I have played with the best hockey teams ever produced in Otonabee. The rink was rather small for me, as I had always been used to a sheet of ice covering of 10-acre field. The ice, too, was a trifle hard, refereeing for which I still bear, but this does not impair my enthusiasm when I consider that the Examiner—and, of course, the best team—won. I slept last night with a smile on my face, which has not yet vacated the premises.

PLEASANT BANQUET FOLLOWED THE GREAT STRUGGLE

The players of the two teams, with a number of their friends, fraternized at a very enjoyable banquet at Hooper's Palm Parlous after the game. Some 25 were present, and a pleasant social time was spent. After an appetizing oyster supper had been partaken of, an impromptu toast list was run off. The most friendly spirit was manifested in the speeches made, and the players were on good terms.

Mr. M. J. Hutchinson, of the Examiner, who acted as chairman, with Mr. G. B. VanBlaricom, of the Review, as vice-chairman, proposed the toast to the King, which was honoured in the usual way. He next proposed the toast to the "Review Hockey Team." Appropriate replies were made by Manager T. J. Begley and Mr. D. B. McRae, of the Review.

The health of the "Examiner Team" was proposed by the vice-chairman, Mr. VanBlaricom, and responded to by Messrs. J. D. Clarke, F. D. Craig and B. T. Huston.

Mr. R. Mc Glover proposed the toast to "The Ladies," which was replied to in an able manner by Messrs. Percy Crane and J. Thompson.

The health of Mr. John Thirnbeck, caretaker of the rink, to which the teams are greatly indebted for many acts of kindness which have helped them along the stony road of practice, was heartily drank.

Speeches were also made by Messrs. Hal. Choate, of Warsaw; Rae Best, Ross Dobbin, and Referee Geo. Lynch, the latter telling some stories in his usual inimitable manner.

GROCERS MAY CALL FOR CASH

Mr. Davis, of T. Kinnear & Co., States His Firm Only Sells to Retail Grocers —Canadian Grocer Talk.

MR. MASON'S STATEMENTS ANSWERED

Mr. Davy, local manager of the T. Kinnear & Co., wholesale grocers, expresses his views through the Peterborough correspondent in the Canadian Grocer of this week, with regard to some statements made in that paper of a week ago from Mr. E. F. Mason.

He states that the firm he represents have never accepted an order from anyone not a retail merchant. Nearly every day either letters are received or parties call at the office there wanting to buy groceries wholesale, but the firm has refused every one, says Mr. Davy. They realize it would not be fair to the retail merchants.

Mr. Davy, however, did not contradict the main argument in the article, nor any of the charges laid against the wholesale houses, says the correspondent. He said he knew that outside firms which sent travelers here were taking orders from hotels and restaurants and also private individuals. He gave as his reason for this that the outside firms were being gradually crowded out of the city and district, and had adopted such means, more to cut into the local wholesale trade than to injure retail merchants.

The article goes on to say: "No doubt there is a great deal in Mr. Davy's argument. The three wholesale houses here, namely, T. Kinnear & Co., Perkins-Ince & Co., and Chas. Rishor have pretty well corralled the grocery trade in this district. All these firms are doing a good business and it is constantly growing.

Cash System

The retail grocers, at least, many of them are seriously considering a large proposition on account of higher rentals and higher wages paid to clerks. One thing which is being thoroughly investigated is the cash system. It would be a great boon to the merchant and it would also be of benefit to the buyers. The merchant would have no bad debts and no losses, and he could afford to sell at a reduced cost.

In the East Ward, John C. Sullivan does a strictly cash business and he has made it a success, but it is a different proposition to do it in the centre of the city. However, five or six merchants on the main street have stated that they would gladly join with other grocers and adopt a wholly cash system and try it for a year.

MEN'S FASHIONS FOR 1907.

Prominent Authority on the Changes in the Double-breasted Frock Coat.

In his earlier correspondence the President of the Semi-ready Company said there was very little change in the style of the frock coat for the season of 1907.

The first models shown in the Semi-ready Wardrobe here attracted a great deal of attention by reason of the graceful curve on the front. Its leading characteristics are a fairly broad silk-faced lapel rolling to the second button, with the long skirt coming to just below the knee. The drapery of the skirt is very artistic.

There is a frock coat in every gentleman's wardrobe. The Semi-ready frock coat is usually in correct style for four seasons, and one can buy a fairly good frock suit from $25 to $30. Some of the Semi-ready stores carry only the higher-priced lines but in such cases they sell the coat and vest without the trousers, if the customer so desires.

FORESTER'S ORGANIZED AT BRIDGENORTH

Mr. G. R. Keys Present at Initiation Meeting—Lodge at Young's Point.

Mr. G. R. Keys, C.O.F. organizer, has been in Bridgenorth during the past week attending to the increasing of the numbber of Foresters in that locality. A meeting was held the other night, at which Vice-Chief Ranger J. Jobe presided, when eight initiations were made.

Mr. Keys is now at Young's Point, organizing a lodge there, and already has almost the required number of applications.

THE CANADA LIFE

The Sixtieth Annual Report Indicates a Year of Prosperity

At the sixtieth annual meeting of the Canada Life Assurance Company evidence was given that statistics may be made as interesting as a romance. The address of the vice-president and general manager, Mr. E. W. Cox, told of the growth of the company by decades from its inception and illustrated how, as it grew in size, the Canada Life increased in strength. Perhaps the most striking statement made was that as to the tremendous force of the company's interest-earning funds. During the past seven years, the period in which the present management has been in charge, the Canada Life's assets have increased by $10,916,480.53, while policy holders have received in cash $13,970,929.57, making a total paid or credited to policy holders of $24,887,410.10. During the same period the premiums received from policy holders have been $21,511,556.08; so that the company's interest-earnings have not only paid all expenses, but have added to the assets $375,854.02.

The following paragraph from the address of the president, Senator Cox, summarizes the accomplishment of the Canada Life in 1906:

"The payment to our policy holders during the year of $1,854,229.07 in profits, matured endowments and death claims; the increase of $1,951,000.00 to our accumulated funds, which have now grown to $32,280,542.59; the addition of $4,890,145.00 to our business in force, which has now increased to $112,572,028.39; and at the same time a reduction of 4 3-4 per cent in our expense ratio; all indicate a large share of public confidence, a liberal and honourable treatment of policy holders, a progressive policy and at the same time, an economical management."

The present report gives ample proof both of the strength and progressiveness of the Canada Life, and the satisfactory results attained indicate that it maintains its hold on the confidence of the people.

The dismantling of the wrecked battleship, Montagu, which has been sold for 4,600 pounds, the highest tender, will take three years, the the work upon her being only possible in summer.

Two disused lighthouses at Portland were offered for sale, the auctioneer describing them as "eminently suitable for a summer bungalow." One fetched 405 pounds; the other was not sold.

John Nelld, a brewer's drayman at Macclesfield, who recently had his right thumb amputated, owing to gangrene setting it after he had cut to the quick an in-growing toenail, has since died.

Miss Elsie Heins of Hereford, has performed a daring feat. In the company of a steeplejack, she ascended the spire of All Saints, Hereford in the teeth of a gale of wind. The spire is 200 feet high.

John Bancroft, a wine and spirit merchant's traveller, of South Shore, Blackpool, stated during his examination at Preston Bankruptcy Court, that there were 500 "special" Scotch whiskies now on the market.

In London, William Frederick Robert Duncan, a chief engine-room artificer, of H.M.S. Glory, has been granted a divorce from his wife, Etta Elizabeth, on the ground of her misconduct with Edward Dray, 16 years of age, at Southsea.

At Yarmouth County Court, an aged farmer was sued for causing a collision. The cross-examining counsel held up his watch and asked the farmer what it was. The farmer at once replied, "A book." Judge Wilmot said it was clear defendant was practically blind, as well as deaf, and was probably asleep when the accident happened.

An inmate of the Yeovil, Somerset, almshouse, named Tucker, who enjoyed the local soubriquet of "The Queen's correspondent," has just died at the age of 98 years. He frequently wrote to the members of the Royal Family, including the King and Queen, and received grateful acknowledgments. He received a warm waistcoat from Queen Alexandra, which he was wearing at the time of his death.

A sensational shooting affair occurred the other day at Halwill, a North Devon village. Two farmers' daughters, Maud Slade and Alice Ivey, about 18 years of age, were returning from Chilla Bible Christian Chapel, when a young man is said to have fired the contents of a double-barrelled gun at them, both girls being badly injured. Their assailant was arrested. It is stated that the constable was also fired at and had a narrow escape.

At Birmingham recently William Peters pleaded guilty to stealing 12 waistcoats, and the recorder described it as the most remarkable case he ever remembered. During the last 53 years, the prisoner, who was 69 years of age, had spent 52 years and two months in gaol, so that he had only enjoyed two months freedom in over half a century of his life. He was now sentenced to two months at hard labour, and ordered to serve an unfinished term of penal servitude.

At Leicester, Herbert Henry Wildman, aged 20, a dyer, was charged with throwing a quantity of sulphuric acid on a shop assistant, named Kate Ellen Kirk, with intent to disfigure her, on the 24th of January. The young woman was returning to her lodgings late at night and vitriol was thrown into her face as she opened the gate, the assailant whom she did not recognize getting away. Mr. Bigge, for the defendant, asked for an adjournment for a week. This was granted, being being refused.

The Bristol magistrates, two weeks ago, convicted two colliers, John MacCarthy and Benjamin Jones, who were summoned for riding in a tramcar in such personal condition as might damage the cushions of the car and the clothing of other passengers. For the prosecution, it was stated that the tramway company ran a certain number of cars daily upon which workmen were allowed to travel at reduced rates, but though labelled "workmen's cars," they were not for the exclusive use of workmen. On January 12, a number of miners boarded a workmen's car, some going on the top, but defendants, despite the conductor's request, pushed their way inside. Protests resulted in their names being taken, as hitherto the men had always ridden on the tops of the tramcars. The contention for the defence was that colliers had equal rights with other workmen, whom the tramway company were bound to carry under the Act of Parliament. Why should colliers, who had been working underground all day, be compelled to ride on the top in all weathers? They could not put workmen into separate classes. A fine of 25s. was imposed in each case.

IRELAND

At Belfast last week, Francis Forsythe, 22, was committed for trial at the Assizes, charged with the manslaughter of his mother, Lavinia Forsythe, on January 20. After the woman's death, rumours were circulated to the effect that she had been assaulted by her son, with the result that an order for the exhumation of the body was made, and a subsequent post-mortem examination disclosed the fact that there was a number of more or less serious injuries on the head. The prosecution alleged that these wounds were inflicted by the accused, who, it was stated, had been heard to threaten his mother.

The departure of the Royal Inniskilling Fusiliers from Belfast for Southampton en route to Crete, was attended by a number of extraordinary scenes. There were some 980 men, and, as they marched to the docks, escorted by massed military bands, they were followed by huge crowds of men, women and children, to say nothing of the "girls they left behind them." At the docks, dense crowds had assembled, and the regular order of marching, which, up to this point, had been well maintained, was interrupted by the enthusiastic onlookers breaking in, and, besides effusively shaking hands with the departing soldiers, relieved them of their rifles and baggage. A large body of police and military were on duty, but they were unable to cope with the crowd, who had by this time got out of hand. When the last man passed through the dock gates the crowd commenced to disperse and scatter over the docks and sheds, endeavouring, if possible, to reach the side of the quay where the transport was lying, and, some being successful, the police made efforts to prevent their crowding through the sheds, it was seen that the police were powerless without using force, so they drew their batons, and, having lined into a body, charged straight across the dock, scattering the people in all directions. The men and boys were more able to take care of themselves than the women and children, a number of whom were knocked down in the rushed, and more or less injured. The crowds ran back, and for a time the sheds were cleared. However, no sooner did the police relax their efforts than the crowds returned, and it was only by repeated baton charges that they were kept back. Eventually the numbers broke up considerably, and the military bands striking up a tune, attracted their attention, and matters settled down again, and soon after, the vessel sailed for Haysham.

SCOTLAND

The Lord Provost's Fund for the relief of the sufferers by the Jamaica earthquake now totals £2150.

The Scottish Agricultural Society has now a membership of 1159, with invested funds amounting to £1519.

A new journal is starting in Scotland which is pledged to use "Scots" and "Scottish," but never to use "Scotch." It is patriotic, and not necessarily a teetotal paper, remarks the Glasgow Times.

Dr. Watson, the minister of Butterburn, U. F. Church, Dundee, has intimated his intention of retiring from the active duties of the pastorate. Dr. Watson is the husband of the well-known writer, "Dosa Cromarty."

By one vote, Berwick Council rescinded its adoption of a water scheme for Berwick and Tweedmouth, to cost £18,000, and after an animated debate, decided to ask the Local Government Board to hold an inquiry.

An abnormal supply of cod was landed at Aberdeen the other day, the fish market being covered from end to end with this class of fish, though the cod season does not start for a few weeks yet. The total landing was 310 tons.

The Glasgow Corporation Tramways Committee have approved of a recommendation by Mr. James Dalrymple, the general manager, that additional plant be provided at Pinkston Power Station at an estimated cost of £55,000.

Ex-Bailie Bouthron, St. Andrew's, has died at the advanced age of 84. Deceased was a native of Buckhaven, and commenced business as a draper and clothier in St. Andrews about 1856, and continued for over 25 years.

A Lochgelly man has been fined 15s. for having invaded a school and threatened to wreck the schoolmaster who had been partly the means of the irate man's conviction for an offence under the Education Act. Schoolmasters seem to be cheap in Fifeshire.

Mr. B. F. McEwan, of Bardrochat, has intimated his intention of presenting two new communion cups, three stained glass windows and a pipe organ, with £500, for the maintenance of the instrument, and £5 towards the organist's salary, to Colmonell Parish Church, Stranraer.

An enthusiastic curler is against the quarrying of Ailsa Craig for causeway blocks. He says, "Where will we get our curling stones 600 years hence? It is probable, says the Glasgow Weekly Herald, that we will all be in an equable climate by that time, and that there will be no curling.

Mr. Alexander Ross Legg, M.A., who retired from the editorship of the Daily Record, owing to ill-health about three years ago, was seized with apoplexy recently and died the same night without regaining consciousness. He was 44 years of age, and a native of Aberdeen.

Delicious Soups

and Tasty Gravies

Are what every lady desires to have served at her table. But unfortunately it often happens that when prepared in the ordinary way they lack nourishment and flavor. At such times

"Bovril" is invaluable

A little "Bovril" added to a weak, tasteless soup gives it richness, strength, and a delightfully appetising flavour. The next time you make soup try a little "Bovril" in it. You'll appreciate the difference.

My mother has the prettiest feet,
Of any lady on our street.
She's most particular about
Her rubber shoes when she goes out.
And GRANBY RUBBERS-trim and neat,
Are just the ones for pretty feet.
There are two special features about GRANBY RUBBERS,
THEY LOOK WELL, AND THEY WEAR LIKE IRON."

COMMISSIONER KENT'S COMMENDATION

At the closing session of the investigation of the Sun Life of Canada by the Royal Commission on Life Insurance, Commissioner Kent stated, in connection with his suggestion that voting power might be given to policyholders, that—

"It seems to me that in the conduct of the Sun Life business there is nothing to be desired, as far as the present generation is concerned. If you were immortal I would not say anything further about it. If, by sound judgment, hard work and just discrimination, you have put the Sun Life on the pinnacle of a successful company, another management with other attributes might just as easily squander it. . . . . The directors have done their duty nobly; there is no complaint to be made against them, or any one of them, Who can say whether the future management will continue the present high standard of your Company?"

--The-- Crimson Blind

BY FRED M. WHITE

Auther of "Tregarthen's Wife," "The Robe of Lucifer," Etc.

Copyright, 1906, by R. F. Fenno & Company.

"Were you smoking the night you came here?" Bell asked, suddenly.

"Yes," Van Sneck replied, "a cigarette. Henson handed it over to me. I don't deny that I was terribly frightened. I smoked the cigarette out of bravado."

"You went into the conservatory yonder and admired the flowers," Bell observed.

Van Sneck looked up with astonishment and admiration.

"I did," he confessed. "But I don't see how you know that."

"I guessed it. It takes the brain some little time to get level to the imagination. And as soon as you came face to face with Henson you knew what was going to happen. You were a little dazed and frightened, and a little overcome by liquor into the bargain. But even then, though you were probably unconscious of it yourself, you were seeking some place to hide the ring."

"I rather believe I was," Van Sneck said, thoughtfully.

"You smoked a cigarette there. Where did you put the end?"

Van Sneck rose and went into the conservatory. He walked directly to a large pot of stephanotis in a distant corner and picked the stump of a gold-tipped cigarette from thence.

"I dropped it in there," he said. "Strange; if you had asked me that question two minutes ago I should not have been able to answer it. And now I distinctly remember pitching it in there and watching it scorch some of that beautiful lace-like moss. There is a long trail of it hanging down behind. I recollect how funnily it occurred to me, even in the midst of my danger, that the trail would look better brought over the front of the pot. Thus."

He lifted the long, graceful spiral and brought it forward. Steel nodded, approvingly.

"I came very near to dropping the ring in there," Van Sneck explained. "I had it in my fingers—I took it for the purpose from my waistcoat-pocket. Then I saw Henson's eye on me and I changed my mind. I wish I had been more sober."

Bell was examining a pot a little lower down. A piece had been chipped off, leaving a sharp, clean, red edge with a tiny tip of hair upon it.

"You fell here," he exclaimed. "Your head struck the pot. Here is a fragment of your hair on it. It is human hair beyond a doubt, and the shade matches to a nicety. After that——"

A sudden cry broke from the Dutchman.

"I've got it!" he exclaimed. "You have cleverly led my mind into the right direction. The only marvel is that I did not think of it before. You will find the ring in the pot where the tuberose grows. I am quite certain you will find it amongst the moss at the base."

David carefully scooped up all the loose moss from the pot and laid it on the study table. Then he shook the stuff out, and something glittering lay on the table—a heavy ring of the most exquisite and cunning workmanship, with a large gem in the centre, flanked by black pearls on either side. Van Sneck took it in his fingers lovingly.

"Here you are," he said. "Ach, the beauty! Well, you've got it now, and do you take care of it lest it falls into my hands again. If I got a chance I would steal it once more, and yet again and again. Ah, what mischief those things cause, to be sure!"

The speaker hardly knew how much mischief the ring in question had caused, nor did his companions seek to enlighten him. David wrapped it up carefully and placed it in his pocket.

"I'm glad that is settled," he said. "And I'm glad that I didn't have to injure my flowers. Bell, you really are a most wonderful fellow."

Bell smiled with the air of a man who is well satisfied with himself. At this moment a servant came in with a message to the effect that Inspector Marley desired to see Mr. Steel on important business.

"Couldn't have come at a better time," David murmured. "Ask Mr. Marley in here."

Marley came smilingly, yet mysterious. He evinced no surprise at the sight of Van Sneck. He was, doubtless, aware of the success of the operation on the latter. He particularly desired to know where Mr. Reginald Henson was to be found.

"This is a queer place to look for him," said Steel.

"But he was here yesterday." Marley protested. "He had an accident."

"Bogus," said Steel. "We turned him out of the house. Is he wanted?"

Marley explained that he was wanted on three different charges; in fact, the inspector had the warrants in his pocket at the present moment.

"Well, it's only by good chance that you haven't got one for me," David laughed. "If you have ten minutes to spare, between Van Sneck and myself we can clear up the mystery of the diamond-mounted cigar-case for you."

Marley had the time to spare, and, indeed, he was keen enough to hear the solution of the mystery. A short explanation from David, followed by a few pithy, pertinent questions to Van Sneck, and he was perfectly satisfied.

"And yet I seemed to have an ideal case against you, Mr. Steel," he said. "Seems almost a pity to cut a career like Mr. Henson's short, does it not? Which reminds me that I am wasting time here. Any time you and Van Sneck happen to be passing the police-station the cigar-case is entirely at your disposal."

And Marley bustled off upon the errand that meant so much for Reginald Henson. He was hardly out of the house before Ruth Gates arrived. She looked a little distressed; she would not stay for a moment, she declared. Her machine was outside, and she was riding over to Longdean without delay. A note had just been sent to her from Chris.

"My uncle is in Paris," she said. "I am going over to Longdean for a few days. Lord Littimer is there, and Frank also. The reconciliation is complete and absolute. Chris says the house is not the same now, and that she didn't imagine that it could be so cheerful. Reginald Henson——"

"My dear child, Henson is not there now."

"Well, he is. He went there last night, knowing that he was at his last gasp, with the idea of getting more money from Lady Littimer. To his great surprise he found Littimer there also. It was anything but a pleasant interview for Mr. Henson, who was finally turned out of the house. It is supposed that he came back again, for they found him this morning in the grounds with one of the dogs upon him. He is most horribly hurt, and lies at the lodge in a critical condition. I promised Chris that I would bring a message to you from Lord Littimer. He wants you and Dr. Bell to come over this afternoon and stay to dinner."

"We'll come, with pleasure," David said. "I'll go anywhere to have the chance of a quiet hour with you, Ruth So far ours has been rather a prosaic wooing. And, besides, I shall want you to coach me up on my interview with your uncle. You have no idea how nervous I am. And at the last he might refuse to accept me for your husband."

Ruth looked up fondly into her lover's face.

"As if he could," she said, indignantly. "As if any man could find fault with you."

David drew the slender figure to his side and kissed the sweet, shy lips.

"When you are my wife," he said, "and come to take a closer and tender interest in my welfare——"

"Could I take a deeper interest than I do now, David?"

"Well, perhaps not. But you will find that a good many people find fault with me. You have no idea what the critics say sometimes. They declare that I am an impostor, a copyist; they say that I am——"

"Let them say what they like," Ruth laughed. "That is mere jealousy, and anybody can criticise. To me you are the greatest novelist alive."

There was only one answer to this, and Ruth broke away, declaring that she must go at once.

"But you will come this afternoon?" she said. "And you will make Lord Littimer like you. Some people say he is queer, but I call him an old darling."

"He will like me, he is bound to. I've got something, a present for him, that will render him my slave for life. Au revoir till the gloaming.

* * * * *

The dew was rising from the grass, the silence of the perfect morning was broken by the uneasy cries of the dogs. From their strange whimpering Williams felt pretty sure that something was wrong. At most times he would have called the dogs to him and laid into them with a whip, for Williams knew no fear, and the hounds respected his firm yet kindly rule.

But Williams was in an exceptionally good temper this morning. Everything had turned out as he had hoped for and anticipated, and the literal kicking out of Henson the previous evening was still fresh and sweet in his memory. It would be something to boast of in his declining years.

"Drat the dogs," he exclaimed. "Now, what's the matter? I had better go and see. Got a fox in a hole, perhaps! We shall have to tie 'em up in future."

Williams darted into the thicket. Then he came full upon Henson, lying on his back, with his white, unconscious face and staring eyes turned to the sky, and two great dogs fussing uneasily about him. A big pup close by had a large swelling on its head. By Henson's side lay the ash stick he had picked up when pursued by Merritt.

Williams bent over the stark, still figure and shuddered as he saw how his clothing was all torn away from the body; saw the deep wounds in the chest and throat; he could see that Henson still breathed. His loud shouts for assistance brought Frank Littimer and the lodge-keeper to the spot. Together they carried the body to the lodge and sent for the doctor.

"The case is absolutely hopeless," Walker said, after he had made his examination. "The poor fellow may linger till the morning, but I doubt if he will recognize anybody again. Does anybody know how the thing came about?"

Nobody but Merritt could have thrown any light upon the mystery, and he was far away. Williams shook his head as he thought of his parting with Henson the previous night.

"I let him out and closed the gate behind him," he said. "He must have come back for something later on and gone for the dogs. He certainly hit one of the pups over the head with a stick, and that probably set the others on to him. Nobody will ever know the rights of the business."

And nobody ever did, for Henson lingered on through the day and far into the night. At the house Lord Littimer was entertaining a party at dinner. Everything had been explained; the ring had been produced and generally admired. All was peace and happiness. They were all on the terrace in the darkness when Williams came up from the lodge.

"Is there any further news?" Lord Littimer asked.

"Yes, my lord," Williams said, quietly. "Dr. Walker has just come, and would like to see you at once. Mr. Reginald Henson died ten minutes ago."

A hush came over the hitherto noisy group. It was some little time before Lord Littimer returned. He had only to confirm the news. Reginald Henson was dead; he had escaped justice, after all.

"Well, I'm not sorry," Lady Littimer said. "It is a rare disgrace saved to the family. And there have been trouble and sorrow enough and to spare."

But your own good name, my dear?" Lord Littimer said. "And Frank's?"

"We can live all that down, my dear husband. Frank will be too happy with Chris to care what gossips say. And Dr. Bell and Enid will be as happy as the others."

"And Ruth and myself, too," David said, quietly. "Later on I shall tell in a book how three sirens got me into a perfect sea of mischief."

"What shall you call the book?" Littimer asked.

"What better title could I have," David said, "than The Crimson Blind?"

THE END.

Feeding Wheat to Sheep.

Some of the experiment stations find that a pound of wheat in feeding has more nutriment than a pound of any other grain. In corn there is 8 per cent. of digestible protein, barley 8.69 per cent., oats 9.25 per cent., rye 9.12, while wheat has 10.23 per cent. An English authority estimates wheat fed to lambs is worth about 76 cents per bushel. The Indiana station realized 77 cents per bushel for wheat fed to sheep.

Plant Apples.

By all means plant a good sized apple orchard on the farm. It never decreases the value of your land and will at some future time, if properly cared for, be a source of considerable revenue. Select the best winter varieties that are mostly sought after by the trade. It seems that red apples, if of fair size and shape, usually have preference in the market.—Farmer's Advocate.

The Explorer.

A gas leak he sought with a lighted match,
And he searched and he searched all around it,
And, though we have never seen him again,
There's indisputable proof that he found it.

PASTOR AND PEOPLE PRAISE PSYCHINE
(PRONOUNCED SI-KEEN)

A Marvellous and Triumphant Record of Victory Over Disease.

No medicine has ever effected as large a number of wonderful and almost marvellous cures as Psychine. It has had one continuous record of victories over diseases of the throat, chest, lungs and stomach. Where doctors have pronounced cases incurable from consumption and other wasting diseases Psychine steps in and rescues numberless people even from the very verge of the grave. Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Bronchitis, Chills, Night Sweats, La Grippe, Pneumonia, and other like troubles, all of which are forerunners of Consumption, yield quickly to the curative powers of Psychine.

Mrs. Campbell, one of the many cured, makes the following statement:

I cannot refrain from telling all who suffer of my remarkable recovery with Psychine. In April, 1902, I caught a heavy cold which settled on my lungs and gradually led to consumption. I could not sleep, was subject to night sweats my lungs were so diseased, my doctor considered me incurable. Rev. Mr. Mahaffy, Port Elgin Presbyterian Church, recommended Dr. Slocum's Psychine to me, when I was living in Ontario. After using Psychine for a short time I ate and slept well, the night sweats and cough ceased. Months ago I stopped taking Psychine, as I was perfectly restored to health and to-day I never felt better in my life. Psychine has been a god send to me. MRS. ANDREW CAMPBELL, Cotton wood, N.W.T.

PSYCHINE never disappoints.
PSYCHINE has no substitute.

A TRAINED NURSE

After Years of Experience, Advises Women in Regard to Their Health.

Mrs. Martha Pohlman of 85 Chester Avenue, Newark, N. J., who is a graduate Nurse from the Blockley Training School at Philadelphia, and for six years Chief Clinic Nurse at the Philadelphia Hospital, writes the letter printed below. She has the advantage of personal experience, besides her professional education and what she has to say may be absolutely relied upon.

Many other women are afflicted as she was. They can regain health in the same way. It is prudent to heed such advice from such a source.

Mrs. Pohlman writes:

"I am firmly persuaded, after eight years of experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that it is the safest and best medicine for any suffering woman to use.

"I immediately after my marriage I found that my health began to fail me. I became weak and pale, with severe bearing-down pains, fearful backaches and frequent dizzy spells. The doctors prescribed for me, yet I did not improve. I would bloat after eating and frequently become nauseated. I had pains down through my limbs so I could hardly walk. It was as bad a case of female trouble as I have ever known. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, however, cured me within four months. Since that time I have had occasion to recommend it to a number of patients suffering from all forms of female difficulties, and I find that while it is considered unprofessional to recommend a patent medicine, I can honestly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for I have found that it cures female ills, where all other medicine fails. It is a grand medicine for sick women."

Money cannot buy such testimony as this—merit alone can produce such results, and the ablest specialists now agree that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most universally successful remedy for all female diseases known to medicine.

When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful periods, weakness, displacement or ulceration of the female organs, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, backache, bloating (or flatulence), general debility, indigestion, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-let-alone" feelings, blues and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles.

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement.

The needless suffering of women from diseases peculiar to their sex is terrible to see. The money which they pay to doctors who do not help them is an enormous waste. The pain is cured and the money is saved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

It is well for women who are ill to write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., The present Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, her assistant for many years before her decease, and for twenty-five years since her advice has been freely given to sick women. In her great experience, which covers many years, she has probably had to deal with dozens of cases just like yours. Her advice is strictly confidential.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds where Others Fail.

A Specialist's Prescription for women

Who Feel Tired and Run Down.

A Remedy that Gives New Life and Vigor and makes Women Feel Good.

Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women are the prescription of a specialist. We don't say that no other living physician could prescribe so good a remedy for women. But we do say this. The ordinary practising physician cannot prescribe so good a one, and no living physician can prescribe a better one.

Dr. Hugo put into the prescription all the knowledge, experience and skill which he had acquired in forty years' practice as a specialist in women's diseases, and included as well the discoveries of all other great physicians.

All that is latest in medicine—all that has been found useful to women, is contained in them. Nothing useless has been included. Nothing useful has been left out.

The result is, that every requirement of the female system in any possible condition is met by them.

And this fact has been certified to by leading physicians and chemists on this continent, to whom Dr. Hugo's prescription was submitted.

If you are in a run-down condition and don't feel as well as you would like to, or suffer from any menstruation difficulty, or weakness peculiar to your sex, avail yourself at once of the prescription of this great and good physician.

The cost of 72 tablets, enough for an extended treatment, is only 50c.

A practical bag is made in the following manner: Cut a strip of heavy cretonne to contain twenty-eight inches long by seven inches wide. Attach to this strip the same length, but only twelve inches wide, having first bound one of the long sides with colored tape.

Bind the other edges in with those of the longer piece, allowing for the top, using the same tape. Divide the upper and shorter piece into pockets the right size for shoes, using tape to mark them, and stitch on the sewing machine. This may have a short flap at the top to quite cover the shoes from dust. This bag, when fastened to the inner side of the closet door, is quite out of the way and at the same time easily within reach. Under this large bag might hang a small one made in the same fashion, in which to keep the boxes of shoe paste, clothes for cleaning and brushes for polishing.

Floury Potatoes.

"My dear, what deliciously floury potatoes!" exclaimed the visitor. "Have you any special way of cooking them?"

The hostess beamed.

"I have a new maid," she said, "and she tells me she has always been taught, after paring and washing the potatoes, to pour over them enough boiling water to cover, leave for a minute and then strain.

"They are afterward put on in cold water in the usual way, brought to the boil, simmered slowly till they can be easily pierced with a skewer and then strained, dried over the fire and well shaken."

"The result is certainly excellent," said the visitor.

"We all think so," answered the hostess. "I must remember. She will be delighted to think you noticed them. I always believe in telling servants any nice things that are said about their work."

"Perhaps that's why your maids look so well content and stay with you so long, my dear," added the visitor.

CARE OF THE INVALID.

Never Ask What the Patient Would Like to Eat.

DON'T RELY UPON BEEF TEA.

See That the Invalid's Tray Is Attractive—A Pretty Flower in a Tiny Vase Will Give Zest to a Meal and Will Stimulate the Appetite.

A great mistake made by the home nurse is to ask the patient what he would like to eat. This is often fatal to appetite, for the moment a sick person must think of what he wants he ceases to want anything. Something of a surprise, taking the patient's normal tastes as a guide, should be the object of the nurse in offering dainties.

Don't rely too much upon beef tea. It is a useful stimulant, but it is not really nourishing, as most people suppose. A nourishing and stimulating meal, however, may be prepared with it as follows: Separate the whites from the yolks of two fresh eggs, beat them well and add a pinch of salt; beat the whites to a stiff froth, pour half a pint of beef tea on the yolks, lightly stirring in the beaten whites, and serve immediately.

Squabs on toast are general favorites with convalescents. Dress the birds and cut them open down the back. Put four tablespoonfuls of butter in a pan and heat it until it begins to brown and then put in the squabs. Salt and pepper them and cook fast from five to seven minutes. Watch very carefully, so as to turn them at once and always keep the dish covered. When nicely browned on both sides serve on thin slices of toast.

Sweetbreads are another well liked dainty. Take one pair of them and parboil in water with a little salt in it. Skin and cut the sweetbreads in squares and let them cool. Put in a saucepan a good sized piece of butter and when hot drop in the squares and let them stew for five minutes. Add a half pint of cream and let it cook for five minutes more and then add the well beaten yolks of two eggs, stirring in gradually. Season with salt and pepper. Then add the whites, which have been beaten stiff and flavored with a whisky glass of sherry wine. Serve on toast.

The serving of an invalid's tray is equally as important as the way the food is cooked, and unless everything looks dainty the most delicious morsel in the world will be sent away untasted. Nothing that will add to attractiveness is too trifling to be done, and a pretty little flower put into a tiny vase to give a touch of color will often so interest an ill person that he or she will be stimulated to eat.

The Art of Introduction.

There are few people who have not suffered at one time or another by the offhand manner in which they were introduced to others.

This kind of introduction is likely to embarrass some people, just as the careful and gracious introduction is one of the essentials in putting strangers at ease.

In introducing people the greatest care should be taken to pronounce both names distinctly.

If one name has escaped the introducer's memory it is safest and best to excuse oneself and ask for the forgotten name.

The most delicate sensibilities should not be wounded by such a slip of memory, for who is there who has not at some time or another quite forgotten a well known name?

The debatable question as to whether a woman should shake hands with a man who is being presented to her has been solved by making it only obligatory for the woman to offer her hand to the man, when the occasion is informal and the man is being introduced to one person at a time.

When he is meeting a group of people it makes it embarrassing and awkward to shake hands with all.

An Artistic Scheme.

Suggestions for arranging the wall space above the couch are always welcome to the woman who has to provide an artistic scheme of this description. The illustration shows an admirable manner in which the difficulty may be overcome.

VOGUE POINTS.

Flannel Blouses Look Like New When Ironed Properly.

"Flannel blouses never look really nice after they've once been washed," said Holly when she came upon Betty making herself a new one. "I've given them up long ago."

Betty went quietly over to the chest of drawers and, opening one, took out a dainty looking flannel shirt.

"What about this?" she asked.

"You don't mean to say that's been washed?"

"Three times, and it really does look like new, doesn't it?"

"Quite!"

"I'll tell you how I manage. I always keep by me a stock of soap jelly, made by shredding half a pound of any good yellow soap into one quart of boiling water and simmering till dissolved. When cold, it's a jelly.

"I allow a heaped tablespoonful of this to half a gallon of warm water in which I can comfortably bear my hand. See that the jelly is quite dissolved, and in goes the blouse.

"I squeeze and souse it up and down in this and then in another similar lot of suds, after which it is generally clean, unless it is the first time of washing, when, if there happens to have been a lot of dressing used in the making of the material, it sometimes needs a third lot of suds before the dirt will come out.

"Then I rinse it well in clear warm water and either squeeze as dry as possible, or, which is far better, put it through the wringer.

"If I wrung it in the ordinary twisty way between my hands, the flannel would probably shrink in drying.

"If I had a drying ground, I should then hang it in a shady, windy place to dry, but as I live in a tiny flat I hang it on a clothes horse and put it in front of the window, leaving both door and window wide open.

"When very nearly dry I press very thoroughly on the wrong side with a fairly warm iron, being very careful to go well up into the gathers at top and bottom of sleeves. After many experiments I've come to the conclusion that to iron when very nearly dry is better than to do it when half dry, as I always used to do."

"And that's really all?"

"All."

"Do you know, I really think I'll go off and buy some flannel and have another try," said Molly.

Pretty Table Appointments.

A girl who has the time to spare and the desire for pretty table appointments may have the newest thing in napkins for use at luncheon.

Instead of hemming in the ordinary way the edge is done in buttonhole scallops, using a soft white mercerized thread.

The scallop work is much in evidence everywhere, and new uses for it appear every day.

The beauty of it is that it is very simple, grows rapidly and is made perfect by practice.

Forest Fashions.

Said a little girl, with eagerness aglow:
"Do the wood nymphs use pine needles when they sew?
They could string deedrops for pearls
For the necks of little girls;
They could gather spiders' lace
For the frills at wrist and face
And could weave a gown of posies as they grow,
With a splendid rainbow sash tied in a bow!"

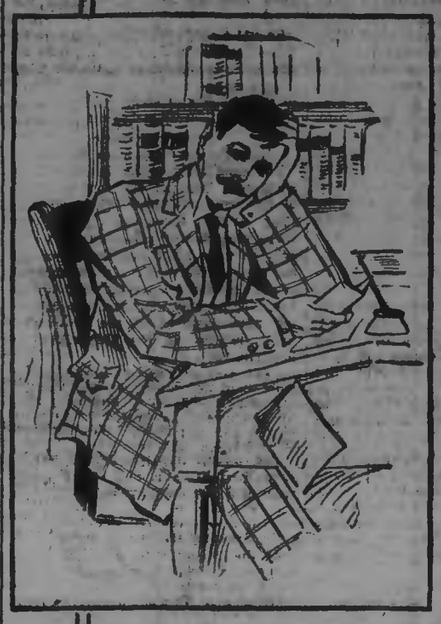
FATIGUE FROM A POISONED SYSTEM.

The tired, languid feelings of spring are the results of the winter's accumulations of waste products. The liver and kidneys alone can remove them and are quickened in action by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Very few people breathe as much pure, fresh air during the winter as is necessary to purify the blood and keep the human system in good condition.



As a result the blood becomes laden with poisonous substances, which, instead of aiding the functions of the bodily organs, tend to arrest them and give rise to pains in the limbs, backaches, headaches, and tired, worn-out feelings.

The liver and kidneys become clogged and sluggish and quite fail in their mission of filtering and purifying the blood, and it is because of their direct and specific action on these organs that are so wonderfully effective as purifiers of the blood.

No greater mistake could be made than to rely for purification of the blood on medicines which merely effect movement of the bowels.

It is the liver and kidneys which filter the poisons from the blood, and on their action entirely must the blood depend for elimination of the poisonous impurities.

The whole filtering and excretory system is quickened and invigorated by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills; the blood is purified, the digestion is improved and all the vital organs brought into healthful action.

Backaches and kidney pains disappear, headaches and biliousness are overcome, liver complaint and constipation, indigestion and bodily pains give way. Not because Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are in any sense a cure-all, but because they regulate the liver, kidneys and bowels as no other preparation was ever known to do.

Calling a water "pure"

does not certify it safe for you to drink. Water can be pure and yet be harmful. Boiled water is pure, in one sense, because heat destroyed the bacteria it contained, but heat does not remove harmful salts from water, nor the organic matter. ¶ Distilled water, used so much on shipboard, is chemically pure; but seafaring men will warn you against drinking too much "condenser" (distilled) water. It brings on bowel trouble, because the salts it should contain have been distilled out of it. ¶ Some spring water is fairly pure; but even the purest spring water contains dissolved mineral matter—sulphate of lime, carbonate of lime, magnesia, common salt, potash, iron. ¶ Even pure water, if it contains too much of some of these salts, does you harm. ¶ So what are you to do? You shouldn't drink boiled water because the salts are not boiled out of it. You musn't drink distilled water because the salts are boiled out of it. Most spring waters have too much of the wrong kind of salts. What are you to drink? ¶ Why not drink a water that is not only ideally pure, but in which are naturally present exactly the salts that are good for anybody, in exactly the proportion that is right for everybody? ¶ Why not drink a water that is zestful, sparkling, limpid, with no excess of mineral, no trace of harmful salts? A Place For the Duster When It Is Not In Commission.

Where to put the duster when the dusting is finished has always been a mystery. If put in the closet it is hard to find again; if left about the room it is unsightly. The Japanese have called on their dolls to help them out of this difficulty, as you may see in the illustration. Follow these directions, and you will transform this everyday necessity into an ornament. The objectionable duster will then look well anywhere.

Take a Japanese doll. You will find a piece of wood extending from the top of the head to the neck. Remove this. Carefully take off the hair and comes arranging its hair. To do this take one-half of the circular piece you have cut from the head with hair attached and fasten it with glue on the forehead so that it will serve for a bang. The holder is now complete.

A feather duster to go with this holder can be bought for a few pennies or is made by lapping the ends of two or three feathers one and one-half inches from the end of a twelve inch stick. Wind a string around these to hold them while placing other feathers just a little lower; wind the string around these securely and repeat this process until you have used about forty small rooster feathers. Over all this wind tightly a piece of thin wire. If you wish to ornament the stick, cover the wire with bright colored ribbon or leather. A bamboo stick is preferable, but if any other is used it can be improved by gilding. Now pass the duster through the doll's head, and the whole may be hung up by a loop attached to the back of the ruffle, or, which is a prettier way, may be placed in a vase.

GROWING OLD WHILE YET YOUNG

What a number of women there are who feel that these words exactly suit their case.

There are thousands of females all over our land, broken down in health and dragging out a miserable existence, overburdened with disease peculiar to their sex, apparently growing old while yet young.

From early morn till late at night they have been on the go year after year, attending to the household duties. Is it any wonder then that sooner or later there comes a general collapse? Palpitation of the heart, nervous prostration, smothering and sinking spells, weakness, dizziness, sleeplessness and fifty other troubles follow. What a woman wants is something to build up the system and for this purpose you cannot equal

INTENSIFIED FRUIT JUICES AN IMPROVEMENT ON NATURE

A Discovery that is Revolutionizing Medicine.

Remarkable Success Attends the Finding of a New Medicinal Compound by Combining the Juices of Apples, Oranges, Figs and Prunes.

Fruit helps to keep one healthy. Fruit, in itself, will not cure disease. The medicinal principle—or that part of fruit which has a curative effect—is in such infinitesimal quantities, that it is unable to overcome a diseased condition of the stomach, liver, bowels, kidneys or skin.

Just here is where science stepped in. An Ottawa physician did what nature could not do. He first found that some fruits were stronger medicinally than others—and that apples, oranges, figs and prunes contained all the healing properties of other fruits. There are two principles in fruit juices—bitter and sweet. After extracting the juices of the four fruits mentioned, this physician succeeded in replacing one atom of the sweet principle by one of the bitter. This resulted in an entirely new combination being formed. This new compound was many times more active medicinally than the fruit juices. Where eating fruit only helped to keep one well, this compound actually cured disease.

To make it more valuable still, this physician added the finest tonics and antiseptics, and then, by evaporating the entire compound to a powder, made it into tablets.

This, in short, is the method of making "Fruit-a-tives"—these wonderful tablets — the most reliable cure for Constipation, Biliousness, Stomach Troubles, Kidney and Bladder Disease and Skin Affections. Being made from fruit, "Fruit-a-tives" may be taken by women and children without fear of ill-effect.

Don't take a substitute. If your druggist does not handle them, send 50c for a box to Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

STAGESTRUCK.

An Incident of the Boyhood Days of William McKinley.

One does not readily associate our martyred president, William McKinley, with an ambition to become an actor, but in a grouping of eminent personages who have conceived at one time or another in their lives a passion to tread the boards we find the subjoined account:

"It was while holding the humble position of clerk at a hat store in Cincinnati that Mr. McKinley became stagestruck and once confessed that he did not outgrow his desire to become an actor for many years afterward. This desire arose through witnessing the Shakespearean plays as presented by the great tragedian, Edwin Forrest, for whom Mr. McKinley conceived a great admiration.

"'Imagine my feelings,' the president said on one occasion when relating his boyish ambitions, 'when Forrest walked into our store one day to make a purchase. I rushed to the front in order to serve my ideal hero of the theater. The sale, however, was made by an older clerk, but I was given the privilege of pressing and stretching the hat. The great actor stood near me, observing my work, and the smile of appreciation which he gave me was one of the events of my youth.'"

Growth of Rocks.

Rocks do not grow in the sense that a plant grows. They may increase by accretion, and they may undergo chemical change. The old sea bed, being lifted up, becomes sandstone and limestone. The volcanic ash and lava strewn over the plains become tufa, hard enough for building stone. The pebbly shore of a river becomes conglomerate. The simple mineral does grow, however, when it takes a crystal form. The sparkling prism of quartz increases from an atom to a crystal as large as a forearm by a process of addition and assimilation, wonderfully slow but beautifully regular, exactly as crystals of ice form on the window pane.

Why Bulls Hate a Red Flag.

In the first place, says an English writer, red is a color to which cattle are unaccustomed, so that they may naturally be supposed to be startled by its very novelty. Scientists show the sensation of red to be the complement of that of green, being induced by exactly opposite affections of the retina. If the eyes of cattle are constructed on a similar principle to our own the continual contemplation of green, as in trees and herbage, must produce a state of retinal fatigue, predisposing a violent excitement of the retina immediately a red substance is presented to view.

Bismarck's Love of Authority.

"At 9 p. m. we took tea with the king. I was seated opposite him when a footman came and whispered in my ear that Bismarck desired to see me. Great embarrassment! Puckler having told me I might leave the table, I did so. The king inquired what was the matter and permitted me to go. Bismarck had nothing of particular importance to tell me, and I suspect that he only wanted to show that he had the right to send for his employees even when they were with the king.

Strictly Business.

"The graspin'est man I ever knowed," said Uncle Jerry Peebles, "was an old chap named Snoopins. Somebody told him once that when he breathed he took in oxygen and gave out carbon. He spent a whole day tryin' to find out which of them two gases cost the most if you have to buy 'em. He wanted to know whether he was makin' or losin' money when he breathed."

Glass Broken by the Voice.

It is scarcely credible, but it is a fact, that a glass can be broken by the voice. If you strike a thin wineglass while you hold it by the stem it will emit a certain note, in most cases a pretty deep one. On bringing the glass rapidly to your mouth and shouting into it the same note as loudly as possible, the vibrations of the glass being thereby extended, it will be shivered into fragments. This used to be a favorite experiment of Labiache, the renowned singer, who would thus break, one after the other, as many glasses as were handed to him.

A Heroic Recipe.

A young woman, one of many, who, being afflicted with a sudden and mad desire to become an actress, once called on the late Lester Wallack and requested his assistance in getting on the stage. The most debonair of actor-managers looked at her in his own light comedy way and asked:

"Are you married?"

"No," replied the aspirant.

"My dear young lady," said Mr. Wallack, "go and get married, have two or three children, lose them, be beaten by your husband, get a divorce and then come back and try to act."

It Stops the Crying.

To keep babies from crying an ingenious device is resorted to in India. The moment a child begins to cry the mother places her hand over its mouth and nips its nose so that it cannot breathe. Then it is allowed to breathe freely again, but should it make use of the opportunity to again set up a howl it is at once suppressed in the same way. This is repeated till the baby imagines that the painful stoppage of the breath is caused by its own effort to scream and so is careful to keep quiet.

Turbine Automobiles?

Is there not a good chance that the turbine principle may eventually be adapted to explosive engines? There are already several inventors who claim that they have solved this problem. At any rate, now that the present petrol [illegible] has reached not quite finality, but comparative perfection, it is time that some totally fresh line were struck out, and if Great Britain strikes first we shall firmly establish our lead in the world's motor matters. —Lord Montagu in Car.

WEDDING SUPERSTITIONS.

A bride who finds a spider on her wedding dress may consider herself blessed.

The bride who dreams of fairies the night before her marriage will be thrice blessed.

If the bridegroom carries a miniature horseshoe in his pocket he will always have good luck.

No bride or bridegroom should be given a telegram on the way to church. It is positively a sign of evil.

If the wedding ring is dropped during the ceremony the bride may as well wish herself unborn, for she will always have ill luck.

Kiss a bride right after the ceremony and before the newly made husband has a chance to do so, and you will have excellent luck throughout the year.

Should a bride perchance see a coffin while being driven to the railway station prior to departure upon her wedding tour she should order the driver to turn back and start over again, or else she will surely meet with bad luck.

New York's First State Prison.

The first state prison in New York state was built at the foot of West Tenth street, in New York city, in 1797. Within seven years there were three mutinies of prisoners, in which keepers were killed and the prison set on fire. Nevertheless the institution seems to have been considered an attraction, as appears from the following advertisement of the Greenwich hotel, printed in the Columbian of Sept. 18, 1511:

A few gentlemen may be accommodated with board and lodging at this pleasant and healthy situation, a few doors from the state prison. The Greenwich stage passes from this to the federal hall and returns five times a day.

The prisoners were transferred to Sing Sing in 1828, and the property was sold the next year.

Smallest Engine on Earth.

At the Canadian Institute on Saturday evening was given an exhibition of miniature steam engines by a Toronto watchmaker. Two engines were shown, both of which were made by him at his shop. The large one is an upright engine, one inch high, made of brass, and weighs 4 1-4 dwt., about the weight of a gold wedding ring. The stroke 1-4 inch and cylinder bore 1-8 inch. It runs at a very high speed, with a stream of compressed air so slight as to be easily borne on the eyeball without winking.

But it was the tiny one that excited the most surprise. This diminutive piece of mechanism, said to be the smallest ever made, is constructed of gold and steel, and is so small that an ordinary house fly is large by comparison, and a 22 short cartridge easily covers it, flywheel and all, with room to spare. It is of the horizontal type, very highly finished, and weighs complete only 4 grains, that means 1,920-1 pound, 3,840,000 engines to the ton. Its stroke is 1-32 of an inch. Prof. Chant of Toronto University estimates its speed at 6,000 per minute and the horse-power to be 1,498,000 part of a horse-power. Piston and cylinder are of steel, main shaft runs in hardened and ground bearings of steel inserted in the gold engine bed, and are self-lubricating. The flywheel is of steel with a gold rim. When running no motion is visible to the eye, but it makes a musical note similar to the sound produced by a mosquito. Lantern slides were used to illustrate its construction.

The Contrast.

A small negro boy was putting his head against the marble steps of the capitol. He would step back a few feet and then run toward the steps, striking them full force with his head.

"What on earth are you doing that for, boy?" asked a senator who came by. "Are you going to fight a goat?"

"Naw, sah, I's doin' it cause it feels so good when I don't."

The First Bull.

Charon, the boatman of the Styx, was thought by many to be of Irish blood, for invariably as he was casting off from the hither shore he would call out to his cargo of souls:

"Now, then, look alive!"

This was doubtless as near an approach to an Irish bull as the then state of civilization permitted.

Two Kinds of Foolhardiness.

Some of the men who laugh when a woman gets off a car backward would pull the muzzle of a loaded gun toward them when crawling through a fence.

TO PREVENT BRONCHITIS or CONSUMPTION

Do not neglect a cold or cough no matter how slight as the irritation spreading throughout the delicate lining of the sensitive air passages sooner or later will lead to fatal results.

If on the first appearance of a cough or cold you would take a few doses of you would save yourself a great deal of unnecessary suffering.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup contains all the lung healing virtues of the pine tree combined with Wild Cherry Bark and other pectoral remedies.

It stimulates the weakened bronchial organs, allays irritation and subdues inflammation, soothes and heals the irritated parts, loosens the phlegm and mucous, and aids nature to easily dislodge the morbid accumulations.

Miss Belle Campbell, Long River, P.E.I., writes: "For some time I was troubled with bronchitis. A friend advised me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. So I procured three bottles but it only took two to cure me."

Be careful when purchasing to see that you get the genuine Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

It is put up in a yellow wrapper, three pine trees the trade mark and the price 25 cents at all dealers.

We Offer as EVIDENCE to show that Silver Bird is a purchase at 15c per share the following facts:

One day last week the superintendent of one of the best known mines at Cobalt, the shares of which are traded in largely every day on the New York and Toronto Exchanges, came into our office and purchased a large block of Silver Bird at 15c. per share. He said he believed it the best investment offered in Cobalt shares. He backed his opinion with his money.

A Mining Engineer and Mineralogist came to our office some days ago and purchased a large block of at 15c. per share for himself and friends. He said he had just come from Cobalt, where he had made a visit to and examined Silver Bird Mine, and had made his own assays. He said the property was even better than we represented, and that in his opinion Silver Bird would be one of the greatest and most profitable mines in the Camp. He having backed his opinion with his money needs no argument and speaks for itself.

The miners employed upon the near-by mines surrounding Silver Bird are placing their faith and their money in these shares. These men are miners and are on the ground where they can see Silver Bird every day. They know a good thing when they see it, and are backing it up with what money they have for investment.

Bankers, brokers and conservative business men throughout the whole country are now buying Silver Bird for investment.

We strongly advise the investing public to place their money in Silver Bird at the prevailing price to-day, 15 cents per share—the best buy ever offered in

COBALT

We say to you that Silver Bird will make you money. We say to you with every degree of confidence that the dividends alone on each share of Silver Bird within this year will equal the amount for which you can now purchase it. We advise that you buy Silver Bird, and that you hold it tight, and do not be induced to part with it at less than par. Within the year 1907 everybody will be trying to buy Silver Bird at from $1.00 to $1.50 per share.

Silver Bird will make a jump one of these days, and then it will be too late to buy it at its first issue price

15 CENTS PER SHARE.

Armour's Solid Extract of Beef

(POTTED IN CANADA)

is the kind that is simply the natural Essence of Prime Beef—concentrated. It is not a manufactured article like many extracts and fluid beefs, made from extract bought on the open market without any knowledge of its purity, and mixed with salt, water and other ingredients. Beef in fluid form offers opportunity for adulteration without detection. This cannot be said of solid extract.

SKIPPING ALONG.

Whoa!
How she does go!
A copper
Couldn't stop her.
The year
That just got here
A day or so
Ago
Is slipping away.
Say,
A month has departed,
And all of those things you were going to do in 1907 are not even started!

How time flies!
That's the sign
Of it.
See it fly
Along
With strong
And steady stride.
Like the tide,
It waits for no man.
Never an also ran,
But first under the wire
And going every minute like a train of care on fire.

Tireless
As a wireless
Cablegram
Or the fabled Sam
Patch,
It skips along trying to catch
And pass
Everything in its class,
It vanishes still
Like a ten dollar bill
That has been spent
In trying to square the house accounts, the doctor's bill and the monthly rent.

Yes,
Its ticket reads "via the lightning express."
Forward it chases,
Finding only high places,
Like a March hare
Or an air-
Ship in its hurly burly.
And we will have to get busy right away if we want to buy our Christmas presents early.

Looked After Trifles.

"Do you think you and Harry can live on his salary?"

"We ought to. He is the most economical man you ever saw. He hardly wanted to burn a bit of gas all of the time he was courting me."

Lame Excuses.

That Indiana crook who on being caught robbing a cash register claimed that he was born that way and could not help it should have gone into politics or trust floating instead of hanging around and looking for a chance to crawl through a back window. The rewards are much greater.

His excuse, although it may have looked ingenious to him, was lame and trifling by the side of the excuse of the man who was caught robbing a poor fund and who claimed that he had to steal to support his mother. When the unfeeling justice asked him where his mother lived he was obliged to own up that he didn't know.

There are women in the world who can get along on a mere pittance, but we greatly fear that a mother who was at all robust would starve to death on such support as that. It wouldn't even keep her in hatpin money.

Long Enough.

It seems so strange that winter,
All fresh and young and nice,
Should last no longer than it does.
They keep the thing on ice.

Depends.

"Habit is a stubborn thing, don't you think?"

"Oh, dear, no; not unless it belongs to a stubborn person."

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

It is a good thing that it pays to dress well, for it costs a lot of money.

The devil is always watching out for impatient people.

It takes a lot of training in mental gymnastics to be a politician.

If you could learn everything in a day, without doubt you would by common consent be sent at once as special commissioner to Mars.

Don't be too proud to take orders. Every other great man has had his turn.

When your temper is on a hair trigger it is a good thing to wear a padlock on your jaw.

For the Wee Girl.

For the small maid who has outgrown those snug fitting little bonnets which framed the piquant little face so charmingly until the age of four or thereabouts and who is as yet too small and babyish to wear those broad brimmed ribbon trimmed flats which her older sister adopts there are the most fascinating poke shaped hats. These, like the model illustrated, are in their original broad shaped flats of soft pliable felt bent into poke shape and trimmed simply with ribbons or flowers. White is the favorite color, though some delicate pinks and blues are seen. This model is a soft white, long haired felt, wired and faced on the underbrim with shirred chiffon. The brim is then bent into shape and the crown and upper brim trimmed with loops and rosettes of white satin ribbon and a bunch of tiny pink velvet roses. A wreath of these same roses encircles the very shallow bandeau in the front of the poke, and ear protectors in the form of rosettes of the satin ribbon finish with long streamer ends, which tie coquettish and warm under the small chin.

He Knew.

"Now, children," said the teacher after she had finished explaining measurement, inches, feet and so forth, "can any of you tell me what there is that can be bought by the foot?"

The inevitable Johnny described a few planetary orbits in the air with his hand and, given an opportunity to distinguish himself by being the first to answer, he jumped out of his seat and grinned:

"Stockings."

The Ruler.

"Now that you've gone to housekeeping, which rules, you or your wife?"

"Neither of us. We have a provisional government."

"What is that?"

"The cook."

HEALTHY BABIES

Healthy babies are good babies—it is only the sick child that cries all the time. Mothers, if you want to see your little ones smiling and happy give them Baby's Own Tablets—there is a smile in every dose. The Tablets cure all the little ailments of childhood arising out of a disordered condition of the stomach or bowels. They are good for all babies and are sold under the guarantee of a government analyst to contain no opiate or harmful drugs. Mrs. F. D. Kirk, Dunfries, N. S., says: "I always use Baby's Own Tablets for the ailments of my little ones and find them a splendid medicine. A few doses always restores them to perfect health. I would not be without the Tablets in the house." The Tablets are sold by druggists, or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A New Hairbrush.

A novelty in the vanity line is an electrical hairbrush, which differs from the ordinary electrical hairbrush attached by cords to a battery in that it has a small storage battery attached to the back of the brush, doing away with the wires and separate battery, and thus requiring but one hand to manipulate it. The battery is detachable and may be used for massage movements for rheumatism, neuralgia and the other ills which electricity is believed by some to allay. It also has a sponge attachment for concentrating the current on any part of the body. The storage battery is in a small nickel tube, easily handled, and has to be recharged every three months. It comes in a leather box with its hairbrush and sponge attachments and suggests a nice gift for the woman who likes to experiment with all the new aids to perpetual youth and beauty.

The Law's Delays.

A lawyer on being asked why his profession is always in court asking for delays and adjournments responded: "I have observed in my long years of experience that when a lawyer has a very good case he is anxious to try it. If he has a poor one the longer he can delay it the better it suits him. There is no telling what the accidents and incidents of time may supply in his favor. Another reason perhaps," the lawyer continued, "is the fact that a lawyer never feels like prying himself entirely away from a case until he has to. I concede that this is one of the mysteries of the legal mind."

Poison in the Salts.

Kingston, March 4.—Recently a farmer of this district purchased some supposed epsom salts from a local drug firm. After taking a dose he became violently ill. Analysis revealed particles of white vitrol or zinc sulphate. The farmer threatens legal action against the druggist.

Little Thinking.

Mr. Borely (who has been criticising)—Now, don't be offended. You know, I always say what I think. Miss Cutting—You don't talk much, do you, Mr. Borely?

It is only reason that teaches silence. The heart teaches us to speak.—Richter.

MILLINERY MATTERS.

Light Hats Much Worn—Grapes as Artistic Garniture.

An unusual number of light hats are worn this season, beavers and felts in white, pink and champagne, as well as hats of gold and cloth of silver. A creation of cloth of silver with white grapes and silver ribbon bows is a frosty suggestion, but exceedingly piquant when set off by a clear complexion, rosy cheeks and dark hair.

Moire silk sailor hats are pretty made with an underbrim of velvet. A smart model in dark forest green trimmed with a pair of long pointed wings coming from a stiff bow of ribbon at the side is very effective.

Plaid ribbon is used very much this season as a trimming for children's hats. It is serviceable and always looks smart and has the additional merit of going further than plain ribbon, and beyond a gold buckle perhaps no other trimming is necessary to the success of the hat. A handsome bow tied at the counter of a department shop or millinery store, with a short length for twisting around the crown, can be arranged by any person who knows how to sew, the process being only a matter of a few minutes.

Simple afternoon gowns are being made from such materials as cashmere, veiling and henrietta. The dress illustrated is of the latter fabric. The bodice is scarcely more elaborate than a shirt waist. Still it gives the effect of something very dressy. The skirt is seven gored and trimmed with curcular frills of the material finished with bands of velvet.

VANITY'S VISIONS.

Magpie Effect—Millinery Hints—Automobile Styles.

A handsome black frock trimmed with black lace has the black cut away from under the most striking patterns, letting the white lining show through, which gives something the appearance of medallions set on, but is much newer.

Several shades of red are often seen on one hat. This is rather an unusual fashion, but the result is not at all displeasing when one becomes accustomed to the rather startling combination.

CATHERINE COSTUME—5527, 5532.

One of the prettiest hats seen recently is a small pale blue satin mushroom shape, with a wreath of violet and tiny rosebuds around the crown and two sweeping pale blue feathers at the back. The hat is massed with blue mallines underneath.

New importations of automobile veils show ribbon borders of contrasting colors. Fur linings are quite the thing for leather motor wraps, and in the newest ones the fur is detachable.

The black passementeries are exquisite this season, and the latest styles are made of heavier braids than last year in more open and larger designs. They have a distinct right and left, which appeals especially to the dressmaker.

When mousquetaire gloves accompany shorter sleeved costumes they are oftenest light tan or chamois shade, and frequently they are black.

The simple frock illustrated is of leather colored cashmere trimmed with brown silk banding and a chemisette of cream colored lace.

Coddled Apples.

Apples are a great boon to the household in winter, when fresh foods are scarce, and new ways of preparing them are many and varied. But our ancestors appreciated apples quite as much as we do today, more so, perhaps, because foods were so scarce in cold weather.

Among old recipes is one for coddled apples. For this pare and core the apples and boil them in clear water until tender, with lemon peel and a small stick of cinnamon. Now remove the apples and add the sugar and when dissolved return the apples and boil a few minutes longer.

An easy and delicious dessert is to serve the baked apples with wine sauce poured over them. This makes a little variety from the usual method of serving them with cream.

Nervous Prostration

IT IS WORRY THAT KILLS, NOT WORK

Work without worry usually tends to prolong life. On the other hand, worry, with or without work, is fatal, because it uses up what the Doctors call the "Lecithin," a phosphorized fat which is the chief constituent of the brain and nervous system—a waste which, if not stayed in time, means complete nervous wreck. The evident moral is "don't worry"—advice easy to give, and in these days of stress and strain practically impossible to take. The alternative is: find some way of replacing the wasted Lecithin—the phosphorized fat. This absolutely essential element will be found in its most perfect, palatable and assimilable form in an emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Phosphorus (phosphorized fat) together with Iron, the recognized blood builder—making FERROL the ideal nutrient it claims to be.

FERROL

For the prevention or treatment of nervous prostration FERROL is absolutely unequalled—it is safe, sure and speedy.

The formula of FERROL is freely exposed, consequently

RECIPE FOR SMILING.

It is Fashionable, So the Charming Art Must Be Acquired.

Smiling has become fashionable. The long faced, sad, aesthetic type of beauty isn't anywhere to be seen. All the beauties of today are laughing beauties; hence to know how to laugh is the thing.

In the recipe for a sweet smile there should come some mention of fragrance. The breath should be scent laden and the most delicious odor should waft from the mouth.

The woman who wants to have scented lips should use the mouth wash daily and constantly, and she should be sure that her food agrees with her. If the food is indigestible and if there is a headache the lips will not be pleasant. They will be rough and chapped, and they will not give forth a nice odor. The digestion should be good if one is going to have clear skin and nice lips.

The prettiest women have a trick of scenting the lips. They take a little eau de cologne and daub it upon the lips with a little sponge. This makes them fragrant. They also scent the upper lip and put a little cologne under the tip of the chin just where the neck touches the collar. This will, as a rule, make the mouth fragrant.

You will also need while you are studying the smile a set of teeth. This means a good set of uppers and an irreproachable set of lowers. One missing tooth anywhere along the line will queer the whole combination. Your teeth must be good.

WEAK AND WORN OUT

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Give New Strength to Overworked Women

The life of a domestic is a hard one. She toils from early morning till late at night; her work is never done. Often she is too busy to get out of doors for a breath of fresh air. Unless her blood is kept rich and pure this close confinement wears on her health. Her strength will fail, she may lose her appetite, become pale and dyspeptic. In fact she is in danger of a general breakdown. Such was the condition of Miss Marie Anne Fleury, of Ste. Anne de la Perade, Que., before she used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She says: "For a number of years I have been a servant. Up to a year ago I always enjoyed the best of health, but suddenly I was seized with pains in my side, my appetite left me, I became dyspeptic and lost all strength. I consulted a doctor who told me I was suffering from general debility. I was forced to stop work and for three months I followed the doctor's treatment, but without benefit. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and as I had often read of the cases they cured, I decided to do so. I only took eight boxes before I was cured and to-day I am stronger than I ever was. My digestion is good and I can now go about my work without fatigue. I owe a debt of gratitude to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for what they have done for me and I strongly advise other weak sickly girls to give them a trial."

Miss Fleury's case is one of many that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured after doctors' help had failed. The success of these pills lies in the fact that they strike right at the root of the trouble—the blood. Other medicines simply act on the symptoms of a trouble—and may relieve, but they do not cure. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make new rich blood—that is why they cure dyspepsia, rheumatism, anaemia, heart palpitation, headache, backache and the ills of women; all these are caused by bad blood—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure them all because they make new blood. For sale at druggists or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Household Helps.

A novel way of giving children powders is to cut open a chocolate cream, insert the powder and close up again. It is even better than putting it in jelly.

In case of a bad burn make a plaster of painter's oil and putty and cover the burn. You will find that the flesh will heal smoothly and will not leave a scar.

To preserve milk put a spoonful of horseradish into a pan of milk, and it will remain sweet for several days either in the open air or in a cellar.

A night light is especially good for a sickroom, or nursery in a country house. Hang a lantern from a hook screwed into the bottom of an upper window sash on the outside, then bow the shutters so as to shield it from winds and rain and fasten them with hooks and screw eyes so they cannot be driven against the lantern. The light inside can be regulated by raising or lowering the shade, and there is neither heat nor odor and no danger of accidents.

To keep oranges fill a clean box with dry sand, set it in a cool, shady place and bury the oranges so that they will not touch. Keep the box free from dampness, and the fruit will be as good in June or August as in the regular orange months.

Laces That Will Not Wash.

Laces that are embroidered with silk and colors, tinsel or gold and silver should be spread out smoothly on a clean piece of white cloth and cleaned carefully with a soft brush dipped in spirits of wine.

If silk lace is much discolored it should be soaked in hot milk for two or three hours before washing.

Honiton lace should not be ironed. Put it under a weight on clean white paper after being washed. Blotting paper will give the best results.

CHIC STYLES.

Bead Bracelets Very Now—Blouses of Chiffon Over Plaid Silk.

The very latest in bracelets are the bead bracelets. They are made of different colored beads strung on a piece of ribbon. The ribbon is tied on a bow around the arm, either above or below the elbow. These bracelets are also worn over the gloves and sometimes over the sleeves, and the beads and ribbon harmonize with the color of the gown. Amber bracelets are strung on orange ribbon and worn with a white afternoon gown, or coral bracelets of good sized beads are worn with a black lace frock.

NAINSOOK CORSET COVER—5335.

Many of the new trimmings, while apparently expensive, are so spreading in design that a little goes a long way. The detachable patterns are more in vogue than ever.

The latest and most effective form of the plaid silk craze is to use a gay tartan lining under a net or chiffon waist. Silks are particularly pretty with the chiffon in pale colors. The result is unimaginable to those who have only seen the poor imitation made over checked silk.

Artificial flowers are a great deal worn in the hair with evening dress. A single rose with a stem is very smart nestling in deep foliage with or without a bunch of feathers starting from it.

Guerie is a new aigret feather. It has soft needle-like veins ending in a close feather tip and is most frequently seen in black, spangled with crystal drops.

The corset waist illustrated is made of fine sea island nainsook. It is trimmed with lace and a little band embroidery. JUDIC CHOLLET.

DRESS WRINKLES.

Hints For Pressing a Skirt and Altering Skirt Patterns.

When pressing a skirt out it is always advisable to lay a damp cotton cloth over the material, so that it is not touched by the iron. This prevents the material from becoming shiny, while it obviates any fear of its being scorched.

When altering a skirt pattern which is too narrow over the hips, care must be taken to avoid enlarging it at the front width. Skirt patterns may be shortened by making a fold of the superfluous length across the middle of the pattern. They should never be altered at the top or bottom of the skirt.

VELVETEEN COSTUME—5556, 5465.

If rubbed gently with breadcrumbs after each wearing, gloves will remain clean much longer than would otherwise be the case. Fold them in tissue paper when not in use.

Here is a way of fastening a blouse or slip that hooks up the back without any one's assistance. The blouse is put around the shoulders, with the back to the front, the sleeves being left free. It is then fastened from top to bottom in this way, with the exception of the hooks at the neck, which can be easily reached. The blouse is then turned around and the arms slipped into the sleeves without much strain on the fastenings. It must, of course, be understood that only an unlined blouse can be treated in this fashion.

Velveteen is worn alike by young girls and their mothers. The costume illustrated is designed for a girl of fourteen and is handsomely carried out in a beautiful shade of blue velvet called this season Neptune.

FEBRUARY FETES.

Presidential Party Fun For Washington and Lincoln Birthdays.

The few suggestions given below are to be used in connection with the birthday celebrations of President Washington and President Lincoln, which occur respectively on the 22d and 12th of February. Have pinned up around the room photographs of the presidents, their homes (Mount Vernon, Monticello, etc.) and any other illustrations of people, places or events which may be closely associated with them. These should all be clearly numbered, while cards bearing corresponding numbers with pencils attached must be provided for each guest that he or she may guess these nameless pictures.

Another set of cards, with red, white and blue pencils and decorated with sketches or pasted pictures of flags, the American eagle, etc., may have written upon them the following list of questions, all of which refer directly to our presidents. Of course the hostess can extend the list as much as she may desire:

1. How many presidents have we had? 2. Which state has given the most? 3. Which president was the oldest on taking office? 4. How many vice presidents have succeeded to the chief executive? 5. Who was "Old Hickory?" 6. Which presidents have died in office? 7. Which two died on the same day, just fifty years after signing the Declaration of Independence? 8. Who was "Old Rough and Ready?" 9. Who was "the Strenuous One?" 10. What event characterized Benjamin Harrison's term? 11. How many presidents have been elected for a second term? 12. Which president was impeached? 13. Who was "the Sage of Monticello?" 14. Which president went to his inauguration in disguise? 15. Who was president during the Mexican war?

The answers to these are: 1. Twenty-six. 2. New York, six. 3. William H. Harrison. 4. Eight. 5. Andrew Jackson. 6. William H. Harrison, Zachary Taylor, Lincoln, Garfield, McKinley. 7. John Adams and Thomas Jefferson. 8. Zachary Taylor. 9. Theodore Roosevelt. 10. The centennial celebration of the inauguration of George Washington. 11. Nine. 12. Andrew Johnson. 13. Thomas Jefferson. 14. Abraham Lincoln. 15. John Tyler.

Small photographs of any of the presidents, framed, or boxes of bonbons tied with red, white and blue ribbons would make acceptable prizes.—Table Talk.

THAT LOBBY STORY IS AN UNTRUTH

Emphatically Denied By Members of Legislature.

WHAT THE PREMIER THINKS

No Corporate Interest Brought to Bear In Regard to Back Power Policy—Was No Improper Influence to Check the Movement—Mr. Hislop Criticises Railway Tax—Amendments to Municipal Act.

Toronto, March 9.—Mr. McDougall, one of the Ottawa members, took exception in the Legislature yesterday to a report in a newspaper relative to his stand and that of other members on the City of Ottawa's bill when that measure was before the Private Bills Committee of the House. He also objected to the heading of the article as insinuating that corporate influence had been improperly brought to bear in connection with the voting on this and other measures. Mr. McDougal emphatically denied that any such pressure had been exerted, so far as he was concerned.

The Premier's View.

The Premier thought that when the hon. gentleman had been as long in the House as he had he would get used to that kind of thing in the newspapers, which were sometimes in need of items and in a hurry to get them. Under the system of responsible government and in the working of free institutions, he continued, it was not expected that members of a committee wold always see eye to eye with members of a Government. Personally, had he been on the committee he would have voted with the majority, as he considered the Power Commission the proper body to deal with the question of the rates. He did not for one moment suppose that there had been any improper influence exercised in reference to the bill.

Before adjournment the Premier intimated that the various mining bills would be taken up and disposed of next week.

Mr. McGarry's Position.

Mr. McGarry explained the position he had taken in the Private Bills Committee. He had not seen or interviewed anybody while the Ottawa bill was under discussion. When the bill came up before them he desired that it should be referred to the Railway and Municipal Board rather than the Hydro-Election Commission, because one of the parties interested was a relative of one of the commissioners. There was absolutely nothing to justify the insinuations of the article.

Hon. Mr. Hendrie's bill making minor amendments to the Ontario Railway Act was withdrawn, it having been found that the amendments were unnecessary.

Criticism of Railway Tax.

Mr. Hislop (East Huron) moved for an order of the House for a return showing the amounts credited to the cities, towns, villages and organized townships in the Province of Ontario, from the sum received under section 2, subsection 5, of the supplementary revenue act, 1899, as amended from time to time, and also the amount charged against each such city, town, village or organized township respectively for the maintenance of inmates of lunatic or other asylums in the Province under the provisions of subsection 2 of section 4 of chapter 9 of the statutes of 1906.

Support of the Insane.

Hon. Mr. Matheson replied that the support of the insane exceeded the railway tax, and the Province assumed the balance. They were making the municipalities partners with the Province in the support of the insane. Cases were found where patients had $10,000 and yet were on the free list at the asylums. The law encouraged the municipalities to look into these matters. There were many patients in the asylum who are not insane—old people who were pitched into the institutions. These would be proper cases for houses of refuge. The law was working well. The Treasurer read a list of amounts received by the municipalities of Mr. Hislop's constituency? Mowey, for example, received $331. In the State of Michigan, where a similar law had been pushed to the extreme, construction of railroads had practically ceased. It was necessary for the credit of the Province that the taxation should be moderate. Much of the preference issues that had gone into the Grand Trunk would never draw a dollar in dividends.

Extend County Council Privileges.

Mr. Thompson (Wentworth) in moving the second reading of his measure to amend the municipal act explained that some of its clauses provide for the issuing of debentures by a county Council on a three-fourths vote, and without the assent of the electors, for the purpose of building a county house of refuge. Others enable a municipal council by bylaw to change the mode of issuing debentures from that first decided upon. The motion carried.

In the absence of Mr. Cameron, Mr. Graham moved the second reading of a bill giving police villages the right to purchase roads for highways. The bill is to cover the case of two or three such villages which desire to purchase land to make roadways to the railway station.

Mr. Bradburn's bill to extend the hours of polling at municipal elections to 8 o'clock passed its second reading.

Bill by Mr. Thompson (Simcoe) also embodying amendments to the municipal act were given a second reading. One deals with the maintenance of non-residents sent to county houses of refuge.

RORY McLENNAN DEAD.

Conspicuous Figure In Canadian Life Succumbs After An Operation.

Cornwall, March 9.—Col. R. R. McLennan (Rory), who represented Glengarry in the Conservative interest in the House of Commons for many years, died yesterday morning. He underwent an operation on Saturday last, but he had been in excellent spirits until a few hours before his death, when he had a talk with an old friend, Major Rattie of London.

The late Col. McLennan was born at Glen Donald, Jan. 1, 1849, and received his education there. He gained distinction as an athlete, particularly as a thrower of weights. Once his hammer killed a boy, and he never again participated in the sport. He became an extensive railway contractor, and subsequently went into business as a private banker. At the time of his death he was honorary president of the Farmers' Bank of Canada, a director of the Manufacturers Life Insurance Co. and the Toronto General Trusts Corporation.

Death of E. Cochrane, M.P.

Ottawa, March 9.—The death occurred yesterday morning at the Protestant Hospital of Edward Cochrane, Conservative member for East Northumberland, in the House of Commons. He was operated on several weeks ago for cancer of the throat, and although he regained strength sufficient to permit him to leave his bed, there was little prospect at any time of a complete recovrey.

Mr. Cochrane has been a member of the House since 1882, with one break of four years, from 1887 to 1891. He was familiarly known by all the members as Uncle Ned. He was a native of Northumberland and was born in 1826. His second wife, who survives him, was Miss Lillie E. O'Dell of Ottawa.

Senator Casgrain Dead.

Windsor, March 9.—Charles E. Casgrain, member of the Dominion Senate, died yesterday at 1.30 p.m., at the Hotel Dieu. Only the immediate members of the family and their relatives were at the bedside.

The Senator's illness extended over a year. He submitted to an operation on Jan. 20, and for a brief period he appeared to be recovering. A relapse followed and he gradually sank. His brother died a week ago in Quebec.

HOTEL RAIDED IN ELGIN.

Proprietor Arrested But Escapes From Pursuing Officer.

St. Thomas, March 9.—Provincial License Inspector Ayerest of Toronto made a successful raid on the hotel at Yarmouth Centre Thursday morning. He, with High Constable Hopkins and a score of officers, visited the resort and found a supply of liquor and some women of alleged questionable character.

The proprietor, John Wilcox, was arrested. There was a big dance in progress, and over one hundred people were having a high old time.

Constable Prowse of Port Stanley was placed in charge of the prisoner, but he, seeing an opportune opening, bolted for liberty, followed by the officer, who emptied his revolver after the fleeing man.

Wilcox was one of the men wanted to give important evidence in the celebrated Orwell hotel case, but fled the country.

MORE TRAIN WRECKS.

G. T. R. Engine Derailed and C. P. R. Train Also In An Accident.

Toronto, March 9.—Yesterday morning Grand Trunk express No. 4, leaving Toronto at 9 a.m. for Montreal, came to grief while passing Oshawa, through the flange on one of the drive wheels breaking. This derailed the engine and baggage car and damaged the track for some little distance. The coaches and sleepers kept the rails and beyond a severe shock no one was injured. The train was obliged to wait until another engine was sent from York.

A similar misfortune befell the C.P.R. train about the same time, east of Havelock, but the sudden use of the emergency brake prevented the engine being derailed. The accident delayed the Montreal train for Toronto three hours.

Wins $25,000 Fair Prize.

St. Louis, March 9.—After two years of litigation, Tom L. Guthrie of Fulton, Mo., has been awarded the prize of $25,000 to the person who entered the nearest guess of the total number of paid admissions to the World's Fair. Guthrie guessed 12,804,616, the exact number.

Cobalt Miner Killed.

Cobalt, March 9.—While using a pick-axe in one of the drifts of the Trethewey Mine, George Thompson struck a blind hole and was killed in the explosion that followed, yesterday.

THE THAW TRIAL RESTS UNTIL MONDAY

The Case May Go to Jury On Friday.

ADJOURNED TO MONDAY

Judge Fitzgerald's Comments to the Jury—Sudden Move Finds District Attorney Unprepared to Go On—Defendant's Mother Dissatisfied Because Her Evidence Was Restricted.

New York, March 9.—The trial of Harry K. Thaw yesterday was adjourned until Monday morning at 10.30. After Delphin M. Delmas had announced upon the opening of the court that the defence had concluded its testimony, District Attorney Jerome stated that he had no witnesses ready to proceed with in rebuttal, and at his request an adjournment was taken.

This action was unexpected, for Mr. Delmas served notice late yesterday upon the District Attorney that the defence had abandoned its plan of calling two more experts. Mr. Jerome did not consider the notification as official, and so came into court yesterday morning prepared to listen to more testimony as to Thaw unsound condition of mind.

The Defence Rests.

When Justice Fitzgerald had ascended the bench and Clerk Peny had called the jury roll, Mr. Delmas arose and said:—

"The defence rests."

Mr. Jerome then said he would have to ask for an adjournment of the case until Monday morning.

"When court adjourned last Wednesday evening," he said, "I had no reason to expect that I would not be confronted this morning by experts called upon to answer a hypothetical question which Mr. Delmas was to frame extemporaneously. Thursday evening, Mr. McPike called upon me with a letter from Mr. Delmas, saying the defence had changed its plans, and would call no more witnesses.

"Under the circumstances I must ask for an adjournment, as I have no witnesses available to-day. My experience with hypothetical questions, framed extemporaneously, has been that they require a long time in the asking, and are subject to more or less discussion. I had expected the putting of these questions would require all of to-day session."

Justice Fitzgerald turned to Mr. Delmas, who said:

"There is not the slightest objection on our part."

Adjourned Till Monday.

Justice Fitzgerald then ordered the adjournment until Monday, admonishing the jurors not to discuss the case with anyone, or among themselves, and, above all, not to read the newspapers.

District Attorney Jerome said he was not prepared to add anything further to his statement of last night, that the evidence he will have to offer in rebuttal will be before the jury by Wednesday evening.

He added that the case should go to the jury by Friday next.

Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw was in the witness room yesterday; also when court adjourned she immediately went to the Tombs to visit her husband.

Mrs. Wm. Thaw was reported to be dissatisfied that she was not allowed on Wednesday to testify on the question of hereditary insanity in the Thaw family. She wished to explain the statements made during the trial that members of the Thaw family have been in insane asylums. Mrs. Thaw, it was stated, felt that a great injustice had been done the Thaw family by these statements, hence her desire to publicly deny them.

MONTREAL SCHOOL FIRE.

Jury Places Blame On Lack of Drill and Escapes.

Montreal, March 9.—The following finding was reached yesterday by the coroner's jury in the Hochelaga school fatality:

(1) That the children who lost their lives were asphyxiated as the result of Mr. Hand having left certain doors open, thus having allowed smoke to reach and pass through the halls of the building.

(2) That the fire drill, of which the school had boasted, had been omitted, besides which the Protestant school commissioners should have ordered more frequent practice.

(3) That Miss Maxwell, the teacher who lost her life, waited too long in notifying the children of the upper storeys of their danger.

(4) That the fire apparatus, namely, exterior fire escapes, were missing from the building.

None of the grounds given above constitute a crime. The Protestant school commissioners cannot therefore be held criminally responsible.

We suggest that in each school a marshall or caretaker shall be employed, who shall watch for such exigencies.

London, March 9.—(C. A. P.)—Recently magistrates at Carlisle, Cumberland, discharged a prisoner, suggesting that his friends send him to Canada. Bruce Walker wrote the magistrates protesting against making Canada a dumping ground for such people. The magistrates replied expressing regret at this suggestion and promised the man would not be sent. Yesterday, however, Walker discovered the same man under a different name as a passenger on the Empress of Ireland, and had him stopped. The Salvation Army have taken charge of the man.

McGee Gets Eight Years.

Montreal, March 9.—William J. McGee, the ex-secretary-treasurer of the People's Mutual Building Society, who pleaded guilty to the embezzlement of the society's funds and to charges of forgery in transferring shares of the society, was yesterday sentenced to eight years in the penitentiary—five years for forgery and three years for theft.

In assigning for the benefit of his creditors, McGee, who is only thirty years of age, states his liabilities are $104,000 and his assets about $58,000.

Archie Roosevelt Better.

Washington, March 9.—The condition of Archie Roosevelt, the President's son, who is suffering from a severe attack of diphtheria, was encouraging yesterday, though the patient is still in a critical conditoin.

Powers Not Dickering In Orient.

Paris, March 9.—The Foreign Office here denies the report that negotiations are proceeding between Great Britain, France, Russia and Japan for the delimitation of their interests in the Far East.

WILL DEEPEN CREEK

Pigeon Creek Will be Made Navigable to Omemee and Will Form Part of the Trent Canal System.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

It will be welcome news to the people of Omemee and immediate vicinity, to learn that a movement is on foot having in view the making of Pigeon Creek navigable for ordinary steamboats up as far as Omemee village. Years ago this stream was navigable for steamboats but in recent years the great quantities of weeds and wild rice have blocked the channel and have made navigation, excepting by canoe impossible. The people of Omemee now realize that they are entitled to as much consideration as the people of Newmarket, Port Perry and other towns on other stretches of water leading to the main line of the canal.

As a matter of fact, quite recently in the House of Commons, while the subject of the Trent Canal was under consideration, Sir Wilfrid Laurier expressed himself as being partly in favour of opening up feeders to the Trent Canal. With reference to this it can be claimed that the stream of water from Pigeon Lake to Omemee constitutes a stretch of natural waterway perhaps superior to the two branch lines above referred to.

A Slight Cost.

The cost of making Pigeon Creek navigable to Omemee will be a mere bagatelle compared with the expense involved in placing the Holland River to Newmarket in a similar condition. As a matter of fact there is at the present time a sufficient depth of water to afford navigation to Omemee, so that there would not require to be any dredging done. The only work in this connection necessary is the dragging of the weeds out of the natural bed of the river. It is understood this can be done at a very small expense.

Mr. J. D. Thornton, who has always been alive to the best interests of the village of Omemee, has taken the matter in hand, and he organizing a company in the hope that during the summer Omemee will be afforded steamboat connection with the main line of the canal.

Mr. R. J. MacLaughlin, barrister, of Lindsay, the defeated Liberal candidate at the last Dominion elections, who has for years done a great deal in obtaining public improvements from the Dominion Government for his riding, is lending active aid in the matter. A petition is now in the course of circulation, and is already very largely signed by the municipal corporations of the village of Omemee and the township of Emily, as well as by the prominent citizens of both these municipalities, and will be forwarded in the course of a few days to the Hon. Mr. Emmerson, Minister of Railways and Canals at Ottawa.

Nature of Petition

The petitions state that by making Pigeon Creek navigable to Omemee it would prove to be a great advantage to merchants and others in that village. They also point out that a great quantity of cement is being used in and around Omemee which could be shipped in at a much less cost by water than as at present by rail. The Omemee tannery uses an enormous quantity of tan bark, which can be procured readily on the shores of the lakes and rivers on the main line of the canal. Cordwood and lumber could be shipped into the village at a great deal less cost than at present. In fact there are numerous and substantial arguments in Omemee's petition. It may be added that no locks are required. The river is wide and deep, but merely congested with an abnormal growth of of weeds, wild rice, etc.

COUNCIL TO APPOINT DEPUTATIONS

Meeting of Committee of the Whole is Called for Monday.

There will be a meeting of the Committee of the Whole Council on Monday night, when the Council will take up the matter of the National Dairy Show, coming to some conclusion as to what accommodation could be offered for such a project in Peterborough, and appointing a deputation to meet the committees representing the Eastern and Western Dairymen's Association and the Holstein and Jersey Cattle Breeders' Association in Toronto on Wednesday morning.

The Council will also appoint a deputation to act in conjunction with other deputations along the line of the Trent Canal, to wait upon the Government to urge that a large sum be placed in the estimates for the completion of the canal.

The Revival Services Will Commence To-morrow

Rev. Alexander Torrie, a Young Evangelist, Will Conduct Special Services in the Park Street Baptist Church.

REV. ALEXANDER TORRIE,
Who Will Conduct Special Services in Park Street Baptist Church

THE PROGRAMME FOR WEEK

Revival services will commence at the Park Street Baptist Church tomorrow, March 10th, and continues each night for two weeks. The evangelist is the Rev. Alexander Torrie. He is a graduate in arts of McMaster University and his last pastorate was at Midland, where he was most successful and greatly beloved. The church and congregation doubled and finances went up correspondingly. The Home Mission Board laid their hands upon him at the last convention held in Peterborough, and the success which has attended him all through the country proves the wisdom of their choice. From Cramore comes the testimony:

"The hand of God was upon us. Brother Torrie's clear presentation of the Gospel was accompanied with the Holy Spirit's power. He is emphatically a gospel preacher. He holds his audience spellbound with the theme and his prayerful life and his personal magnetism combine to awaken a sense of deep conviction and a longing desire to see Jesus."

From Collingwood this message comes: "He has been with us one week. The people are experiencing great blessing. Over forty souls have confessed faith in the Lord Jesus and it looks as though we are to have all our school converted."

Expectation is running high. The choir has been enlarged, several volunteer coming up. The Torrey and Alexander song books will be used and a song service will be held each night at 7.45, a prayer meeting for the workers will be held at 7.30 and the gospel service at 8. Children's services Tuesday and Friday 4.30. The male quartette of the Y. M. C. A. has consented to take part several nights. A collection to defray expenses will be taken every evening. Workers from all denominations are invited. Bring Torrey and Alexander song books to the meetings and help.

NEW SERIAL STORY STARTS NEXT WEEK

Next Saturday The Examiner's new serial story, "The Hound of the Baskervilles," will be commenced. This is one of the best ever written by Conan Doyle, and readers of this paper may expect a great treat. The Examiner's serials have always been the best procurable, and, in the determination to maintain this standard, the publication rights for this new story have been secured by this paper.

The first chapters of the story will appear in The Examiner of next Saturday, and readers are advised to get the first copy, so that none of the story will be missed.

ONE HORSE WEIGHED 1830 POUNDS

Shipped to Montreal Yesterday by Mr. Jacobs—Purchased From Mr. Crowley of Otonabee.

The heaviest horse that has been shipped out of Peterborough in the last fifteen years left the city yesterday for Montreal. It was purchased from Mr. Michael Crowley of Otonabee, by Mr. A. Jacobs, and weighed 1830 lbs. The animal will be four years old this May. It was surpassed in weight by a horse purchased by Mr. Percy Pearson about 15 years ago, which weighed 1915 lbs.

Mr. Jacobs shipped 18 fine horses from the city yesterday to Montreal.

OBITUARY

JOHN H. LYNCH

Word was received in the city this morning of the death in Rochester, N.Y., of John H. Lynch, son of Mrs. James Lynch, Aylmer street, and a former resident of Peterborough, who was well known to a large number of local people. The deceased had been ill for some time and the news of his death did not come as a surprise to his friends. He had been a resident of Rochester for about fifteen years. His mother and wife survive him as well as two sisters and three brothers. They are Mrs. J. J. Lynch, and Mrs. M. Fitzsimmons, Peterborough; William of the Peterborough Lock Co., Harry of Chicago, and Fred of New Westminster, B.C.

The funeral will take place in Rochester on Tuesday morning.

MR. HARRISON WILL GO WEST ON MONDAY

Taking With Him Half a Dozen Horses to Be Sold.

On Monday next Mr. D. R. Harrison, of Cavan, leaves for Hartney, Manitoba. He will take with him by special car six stallions which he intends to sell in the west. Mr. Harrison has a farm in the west and he expects to remain there for some time.

TWO SCHOOL TEACHERS ARE LEFT IN FINALS

Points Competition Games at Curling Rink to be Concluded Next Week.

The points competition games at the curling rink are now nearing a close and next week will see the finish. Only two more games remain as the finals have been reached in both the junior and senior series. A unique circumstance about the two is the fact that a teacher has reached the finals in each case, which would indicate they are just as adept at wielding the broom as they are at flourishing the rod.

R. N. Merritt has defeated J. Wiley and J. H. Ferguson won from A. Webb, leaving Merritt and Ferguson to battle for the junior championship, while T. J. Wallace and T. Brightman are in the finals for senior honours.

EXHIBITION GROUNDS HAVE NOT BEEN SOLD

Contrary to Rumour Which Has Gotten Abroad—Lease Obtained for Another Year

The directors of the Peterborough Industrial Fair wish to state that, contrary to rumour, the exhibition grounds have not been sold nor have they been offered for sale. A report has been circulated to this effect but the directors have made special inquiries and learned that there was no truth in it. They have the lease of the grounds until January 1st, 1908.

PROGRAMME FOR ENGLISHMEN'S NIGHT

An Interesting Programme in Course of Preparation for Next Thursday Night.

Next Thursday night is Englishmen's night at the Young Conservative Club. A fine programme for the smoking concert has been arranged. Members of the club, invited guests and newly-arrived immigrants from the Old Country are expected to be present. Mr. Wm. Bullar, treasurer of the club, will be chairman. Concert begins promptly at 8 o'clock. Among those taking part are Ald. Phelan, Messrs. Chandler, Lucas, Morphet, Firth, Jas. Browne, Mendel, Clarke, Coleman, Schneider, and the Quartette, Messrs. Mitchell, Chandler, Hooker and Shepherd. Rev. Dr. Crothers will deliver an address on "The Empire."

Another interesting feature of the programme will be a five-minute address by Mr. H. R. H. Kenner, who will speak on "The Beauties of Rural England."

INVESTIGATION INTO THOS. HOWARD'S DEATH

County Constable Cochrane Went to Norwood To-day to Enquire Into Circumstances Surrounding His Sudden Death.

AN INQUEST IS PROBABLE.

There will in all probability be an inquest held on the death of Thomas Howard, whose sudden death was recorded in the Examiner yesterday.

Last night the Coroner Dr. Gray, received a letter from a resident of Norwood, in which he gave expression to some suspicions he had that all was not as it should be, and and suggested that it might be well to institute an investigation into the matter.

As a result of these representations Dr. Gray instructed High County Constable Cochrane to go to Norwood at noon to-day and make a thorough investigation into the facts of the case and if, in his opinion, it is desirable to hold an inquest, to empanel a jury and summon witnesses.

In case an inquest is held it will likely open on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the town hall.

The letter to the coroner states that in his opinion there was undue haste in burying the young man, and he alleges that he was not shown proper respect, the body being taken to the cemetery in a sleigh, according to the writer of the letter referred to.

Mr. Cochrane left on the noon C.P.R. train and will in all probability decide that an inquest is necessary.

AN OLD RESIDENT HAS PASSED AWAY

Late Mr. Samuel James Griffin Had Reached the Ripe Age of 91 Years —A Respected Gentleman.

Early this morning, there passed away, at the advanced age of 91 years, at the home of his son, 257 Stewart street, one of the oldest settlers of this city, in the person of Mr. Samuel Griffin, whose death occurred after an illness extending over a period of about four weeks, during which he suffered from pneumonia. The deceased had lived in Peterborough for the last 25 years, and was a highly-respected citizen. The late Mr. Griffin was born in the town of Berthen, Quebec, in the year 1816. In 1836 he married Adeliame Burnham at Middletown, Vt., who was deceased at the age of 44. He afterwards married Eliza Ann Simpson, of Brighton, Ont., who was deceased at the ripe age of 84. From the first marriage there were 12 children, of whom five survive. They are: Three sons, S. J. Griffin, Groton, S.D.; C. S. Griffin, city, and C. B. Griffin, Detroit, Mich., and two daughters, Mrs. B. M. Wylie, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., and Mrs. M. Ocs O'Brien, Minneapolis, Minn.

Since the death of his late wife, in March, 1905, he had made his home with his son, Chas. S., at 257 Stewart street.

The funeral will take place Monday morning at 10 o'clock from the residence of his son, 257 Stewart street, to the C. P. R. Station, and the remains will be conveyed to Norwood, where interment will take place.

A PETERBOROUGH BOY ELECTED FOR EMERSON

Mr. Geo. Walton Captures the Riding of Emerson.

Mr. George Walton, who was elected Liberal member for Emerson, Manitoba, on Thursday by a majority of 99 is a Peterborough boy, son of the late Joseph W. Walton and a brother-in-law of Mr. T. W. Robinson. When he was in Peterborough he was a Conservative of the most tropical brand. His conversion to Liberalism indicates what a civilizing effect the breezy and wide outlook of the west exercises.

BIRTH

HUNTER.—In Otonabee, Wednesday, March 6th, 1907, the wife of Mr. Thos. Hunter, of a son.

Young Men's Service

To-morrow night in the Springville Presbyterian church, a special sermon for young men will be held. It will be in charge of the young men themselves. They will conduct the entire service with the exception of the sermon, which will be preached by Rev. Dr. Marsh, the pastor.

FIVE-FOLD INCREASE IN ABOUT SIX YEARS

Some Interesting Figures Showing the Remarkable Growth of Railway Shipping in City in Recent Years.

MANY MORE NEW INDUSTRIES

A little reflection on the shipping trade in Peterborough will show that during the past six years it has been increased about five-fold. This is, perhaps, the best evidence that can possibly be advanced to illustrate the rapid growth which this city has made in the last half dozen years, and will also show that greater possibilities await the labouring man and the tradesman.

For the shipping trade to be five times what it was six years ago means a good deal for Peterborough. It indicates that this city is advancing in growth and in importance, commercially, as rapidly as any other town or city of its size, and even larger, in the Province. From mere observations, it is not difficult to see that the shipping has greatly increased during the above-mentioned period. The fact that there are several new manufacturing establishments which have been erected in that time, and that alongside of many of these can be seen numerous cars coming and going every day, will present the idea that shipping must be on the increase.

Observations Substantiated

An Examiner representative, in conversation with a number of the prominent shippers of Peterborough, learned yesterday that these observations were correct, and discovered that, approximately speaking, there was about five times as much shipping done now as there was six years ago. These parties were all interested in shipping facilities; they have products of Peterborough to handle, and can therefore speak with some authority. An increase in the output necessitates an increase in the population, as that the one assists the other.

Some New Industries

Those who have been engaged in commercial enterprises for a number of years in the city will have noticed the increase in shipping more so than persons located here during the past few years, yet they will both be surprised to learn that during the past six years about ten new industries have been added, in addition to the many enlargements made to others. Among the new companies added in that time were the Quaker Oats, Canadian Cordage, Central Milling, Peterborough Cereal, Brinton Carpet, Sandstone Brick, Rapid Tool, Prepaid Meter, Shovel Factory, Peterborough Creamery, and Peterborough Lumber Co.

Most of these companies now ship goods by the carload almost every day, whereas, six years ago they were unheard of. The greater number of the products from the factories mentioned are shipped to points in Canada. The chief exports which travel across the ocean are the grain products, such as all kinds of cereal, canoes and meats.

A Precious Car

During the past few years the Canadian General Electric Works and the Wm. Hamilton Co.'s factory here been enlarged, and these are the two establishments which are doing most of the shipping to-day. The large number of cars noticed around their premises bear ample testimony to the work they are doing. It might be a surprise to many to learn that the Canadian General have sent a single car out of Peterborough with their product valued at about $40,000. This car was laden with insulated wire and contained about 85,000 pounds of this material. Another precious product shipped from the city is rope cable from the Cordage Company, which amounts to thousands of dollars worth in each car.

Besides the above-mentioned factories, we have many others which assist in making a large shipping trade. There are the Peterborough Lumber Company, J. J. Turner & Sons, The Geo. Matthews Company, B. P. Ackerman & Son, G. Walter Green, Lask Company and the Peter Hamilton Co.

The Canoe Trade

The advanced state of the canoe trade in Peterborough is worthy of special mention. Not many years ago Peterborough canoes were shipped in small lots to a few places in Canada while to-day they leave the city in carloads and distributed throughout all parts of the world—to Australia, South Africa, South America, the European continent, the Klondike, etc. It is not news to say that Peterborough is famous for its canoes.

With the few facts presented above it is quite easy to understand that the growth of Peterborough in six years has been a phenomenal one and all will agree that the shippers' statements of a five fold increase during that time is placing a conservative estimate upon the advancement of that important trade.

Separate School Board Will Increase Capacity Of Lake Street School During The Present Year

Accommodation for Pupils Required, and This Will be Provided at Once—About $15,000 Will be Spent in Providing Improvements to the School.

At a committee meeting of the Separate School Board held last night it was decided to make an addition to the Lake street school. The present building consists of four fairly large class rooms and the children are taught only as far as Senior III. work, the St. Peter's school receiving those who pass into Junior IV. At the last regular meeting of the Board the report from Lake street school showed that there are 152 children on the roll, which is an average of thirty-eight pupils per room. The addition will comprise two new rooms which will probably be built on the south side of the present building and will greatly increase the accommodation for pupils. The school is now taxed to its utmost and as soon as building operations may be begun the work will be commenced. There is a possibility that the Sheehy property just west of the school grounds, may be purchased, and the addition extended on that side.

The cost of the work will be in the neighbourhood of $15,000 and as notice that tenders will be received will be soon issued. The two new rooms will be devoted to junior work, the children being greatly in need of better accommodation. This will make the Lake street school a fairly large one and will meet all the exigencies for years to come.

Elliott Stevenson The New Supreme Chief Ranger

Examiner Special

Toronto, March 9. — As has been expected, Elliott G. Stevenson, the Supreme Councillor of the I. O. F., was to-day unanimously elected Supreme Chief Ranger, of the Order, in succession to the late Dr. Oronhyatekha. The election was made at the meeting of the executive of the I.O.F., held in the city this morning.

Should Place Inmate In An Insane Asylum

Among the nine inmates at present in the House of Refuge, there is one man whom the management consider should be placed in an insane asylum.

The old gentleman is totally dependent and phildiat, and is utterly beyond the control of the management of the institution, his habits being of such a character, that if he is allowed to remain, all the other inmates will have to go.

The county, of course, recognizes that provision for his keep will have to be made, but believe that the Provincial institutions for persons afflicted as he is are the proper place for him, and an effort will be made to secure his admission to some place of this kind.

Mr. F. Nicholl's Conference With Water Commissioners

Wants Assurance That Head of Water at Waterworks Dam Will Not Be Increased.

COMMISSIONERS' POSITION.

Yesterday afternoon a conference of the members of the Board of Water Commissioners, the Mayor and Mr. Frederic Nicholls was held.

Mr. Nicholls was anxious to know what the plans of the Water Commissioners in reference to the future development of the plant at the waterworks dam were, in view of the fact that the C. G. E. Co. had decided to deepen the tail race from their power house at Nassau dam, in order to provide more power. The Commissioners did not commit themselves not to increase the head of water at their dam, which was what Mr. Nicholls wanted assurance on.

In answer to his request for a promise to this effect, the Commissioners stated that before they did any work in connection with further development of their plant, if such work was likely to increase their head of water, they would confer with Mr. Nicholls.

A NEW REAL ESTATE FIRM IN BUSINESS

Messrs. Taylor and Bell Open Office With Good List of Excellent Properties.

A new real estate firm under the name of Taylor and Bell, has opened for business with an office on Water street. Messrs. Taylor & Bell are gentlemen who are thoroughly familiar with the details of the real estate business and will no doubt do a large business. They have a large number of excellent properties, both city and country, and will handle a general real estate and renting business.

HUNTERS MUST GO AFTER THEIR GAME

What would you say of a hunter who remained tranquilly at home and expected game to drop in and get caught or shot? When the huntsman wants game he chases it. The same thing applies to anything else in this world worth having — you have to chase it. The more perfect your chase the greater your success. The best little business chaser in the world, for the price, is an Examiner classified advertisement. If you have anything to sell, an Examiner classified advertisement at one cent a word will sell it for you.

EXCURSION TO OTTAWA

An excursion to Ottawa, under the auspices of the Campbellford Board of Trade, will be run on Tuesday, March 19, via C. P. R. The fare for the round trip from Peterborough will be $3.80; Indian River, $3.65; Norwood, $3.45, and Havelock, $3.35. Tickets good going only on special train leaving Peterborough at 4 p.m. sharp on March 19. Peterborough, Indian River and Norwood tickets good to return up to and including March 21 on any regular trains. Havelock tickets good to return up to and including March 20 on any regular train. There will be no special train service for the return journey. The deputation in a body will wait on the Minister of Railways and Canals on March 20, and urge upon the Government the necessity for the early completion of the Southern section of the Trent Valley Canal. This is a splendid opportunity to visit the capital while Parliament is in session. For tickets and all information, apply to C. P. R. ticket office 343 George street, or at C. P. R. station.

BEGIN AT THE BEGINNING

In the House of Commons Dr. Black, of Hants, N. S., during the debate on the cigarette prohibition matter, stated that there were more deaths occurring from time to time of persons under five years than there were for the years between five to fifty. This was due to the ignorance of mothers in regard to rearing children. "The Government," he said, "took more interest in the conservation of the health of a little calf than in the health of a baby boy." This may have been a random remark, but it is, nevertheless, a great truth with a most important but generally recognized bearing upon prevailing conditions. We pass laws requiring lawyers, doctors, teachers and others to fit themselves, at an expenditure of millions, to fulfil their duties, yet scores of thousands of women take the plunge into matrimony with no more practical knowledge of how to care for the legitimate and morally obligatory consequences of marriage—babies—than they know of the integral calculus or the nebular theory. Our blessed Lord interrogatively asserted that man was much "better than a sheep"; logically a baby is much better than Dr. Black's bull calf. Wouldn't, therefore, be considered anywise absurd to compel girls before they were allowed to marry to pass an examination in the art of caring for a baby and thus assist in reducing the terrible infant morality due to ignorance and neglect which doubtless does more to people our cemeteries than all the diseases of adult life combined. In England recently, by way of experiment, a certain poor district was delaminated and the mothers therein carefully instructed in the proper care of infants, and the decrease of infant mortality was astounding in results directly responding to proper instruction of mothers in their duties to their children. It is the general custom to smile at such subjects as the marriage estate and the related estate of motherhood, but there is much force in the plea for giving practical instruction to mothers so vitally affecting the preservation of human life—so important to us in Canada, whose superabundant with our countless acres, population.

The Whitney Government's school legislation, compelling school sections to pay minimum salaries of a certain amount as a condition of receiving the Government grant, is regarded as arbitrary and oppressive, especially in regard to poor school sections. It, besides, places a good teacher on the same level as an inefficient one, and prevents school trustees from paying salaries in proportion to the services they receive. If trustees can only secure the services of a very ordinary teacher, they are compelled by this unyielding law to pay him or her the same minimum salary that would be given a thoroughly first-rate teacher.

The Globe sensibly contends that school buildings should not be higher than three stories. If three stories are necessary, the Kindergarten and junior classes should be on the first floors. The terrible lesson of the Hochelaga school fire, should be laid to heart, though the calamity has not been proven to be due so much to the construction of the building as to the neglect of somebody, whose duty it was to ring the bell calling for fire drill of the pupils.

MANITOBA ELECTIONS

The general elections Thursday in Manitoba, resulted in the retention of the Roblin Government to power, though by a greatly reduced majority. The majority was reduced one third. In the last Legislature the Conservative Government had a majority of twenty-five. Their majority in Thursday's contest is given at sixteen. The implied condemnation of the Government's record and methods would have been much more pronounced had there been permitted a longer time for discussion, to get the Government's unsavoury record fully before the people. The majority of the electors representing respectable public sentiment was arrayed against the Government. The time however was long enough to permit the Government to apply the material kind of appeal to the purchaseable element of the electorate, to which appeal, it is stated, they largely owe their ignoble victory.

THE SUN LIFE

The relation of the sun in the heavens, in the matter of its size and influence, to the planetary system, pretty fully expresses the relation of the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada to the insurance system of Canada. The annual report of the company of the operations and standing of the company affords very important evidence of its phenomenal stability and prosperity. The surplus of profits earned during 1906, amounting to $921,721.34, is the largest record ever achieved by the Sun Life or any other Canadian company. Of this amount, $208,658.97 was distributed to policy-holders, the largest ever paid by the company. In all other details of the company's operations for 1906, a similar record of thrift, progress and soundness is presented. The surplus over all liabilities and capital—according to the H. M. table, with 3 1-2 and 3 per cent. interest—is the very large peculiarly large — sum of $2,225,247.45. The company has paid to policy-holders since organization, $15,099,223.87, and the total of life insurance in force is $102,556,398.10—figures that sound like the statement of some national debt. The thrift of the Sun Life is shown in the record of its growth. Since 1901 the income has doubled—being $3,095,000 in that year, and $6,212,615.02 in 1906. The assets, exclusive of uncalled capital, have more than doubled in five years, having grown from $11,773,032.07 in 1901, to $24,292,692.65. The directors and management who have achieved such results, the undoubted financial standing of the company, and the success and prudence of its methods, combine to inspire a public confidence in a great insuring institution which must contribute to a continuance of its phenomenal success.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Mr. Blain, of Wentworth, advocating a law to prevent the importation and manufacture of cigarettes, furnished statistics, showing the great growth of the cigarette habit, as shown by the increase of manufacture. In 1896, there were manufactured in Canada, fewer than ninety millions of these "coffin nails." In the intervening time the number manufactured increased by "leaps and bounds," till ten years later — in 1906 — the number made had increased to over two hundred and seventy millions, an increase of one hundred and eighty millions, or eighteen million per year. Of these two hundred and seventy millions of cigarettes, two hundred and sixty-eight millions were made in Quebec, and only two millions in all the rest of Canada.

Pessimists are fond of picturing Great Britain in decay and on the verge of downfall. Great Britain has for centuries been the monarch of the seas, whether in warlike equipment and achievement or in the way of commerce, and she still holds her own. It is saying much to say that the year 1906 has been the most prosperous for the shipyards of Great Britain in the history of the country. The total tonnage of merchant craft turned out was 1,800,000, of which by far the greater amount of 1,500,000 tons was registered under the British flag. Free trade may be a delusion and vanity for some nations, but it has given Great Britain the biggest volume of trade of any country in the world. Great Britain does the most of the ocean carrying trade of the world, and the Union Jack flutters in the breezes that ruffle every water in the world. "Britannia rules the waves," is as true to-day as it was in the days of Drake and Nelson, and will be as many centuries to come.

A day or two ago The Examiner pointed out that the good financial showing the Province of Ontario was able to make this year was due to the foresight of the Ross and other Liberal Governments in devising and applying fruitful sources of revenue. Now the Conservatives are claiming that if the Ross Government had remained in power, the revenue derived and to be derived from the Cobalt mines would have been lost to the Province, which is simply "rot." Contrary to the wishes and efforts of Mr. Whitney and his followers in the House, the Government selected the present route in order to tap the rich agricultural belt in the region of Haileybury, starting at North Bay in order to gain connection with the most commercially important part of older Ontario. If the railway had not followed its present route—on all grounds the best—the mineral riches of Cobalt would not have been discovered in the course of railway construction. Mr. Whitney and his followers, in order to gain political capital in the eastern part of the Province, wanted to have the railway begin at Haileybury and end at Ottawa, practically turning the tide of trade to Montreal and Quebec, instead of to the centre of Ontario. In that event, the line of railway would not have stirred up any known mineral wealth. The present Government have the monumental "cheek" to not only claim glory in respect of the results due to the foresight and statesmanship of the Ross Government, but also deny them credit for it.

The February number of Leslie's Weekly contains a splendid photograph, by H. F. Affelder, Esq., of Pennsylvania, of a steamer towing a floating island on Chemong Lake. The length of the island was 600 feet, the work being done while a regatta was in progress.

Many of the Examiner readers will doubtless remember the circumstances, and also Mr. Affelder, who has spent a number of summers at the Victoria House, McCracken's Landing.

Castles in the Flame.

Sit beside the open grate
And watch the changing, fitful glow;
See the bright flames leap aloft
And shadows on the background throw.
Before my eyes
Strange forms arise—
A castle fair in sunny Spain,
A special, private railway train
And other things
On fancy's wings
Thwart my vision lightly fleat
That seem to cheer my very soul,
And then I look again and see
My large and monthly bill for coal.

The shadows seem to weave a spell,
And as with dreamy eyes I gaze
I seem to see before me rise
The ghosts of long forgotten days.
A boy once more,
I walk the shore
In the ancient forest stray,
With others of my kind at play.
Beneath the trees
We lie at ease,
Regretful of the later cares,
That fill some hazy boyhood joins.
And then I look again and see
My money going up in smoke.

That's about the way it goes.
Then we are wrapped in quiet mirth,
During moments as they pass,
The coal bill calls us down to earth,
Breaks up our dream
And makes us scheme
With all our mental efforts bring
Ways and means to pay the thing.

Tamed at Last.

Was the age of romance lives only
In five cent novels that the boys
Out behind the wood shed, first
Big made sure that the big stick
Was looking.
An Arizona cowboy drifted into a
Midway saloon and, after looking at
The bright lights, began shooting them
To show how things were done in
More advanced communities.
What did the unfeeling people do?
Did they gather around him and ask
Him what kind of brand of drinks
Would satisfy that kind of a thirst?
Not they. As soon as they could get
To a telephone they called for the Police. Two officers responded and Led the bad man into a pretty, blue
Cell and took him for a buggy ride.
The story proves either that New

Boys came from east of Pittsburg,
For the kind of cowboys that we read

Slaves to Spring Catarrh Restored to Health By Pe-ru-na.

Honest People Tell Their Experiences. Spring,—the Time to Cure Catarrh.

Mrs. John E. Mills, 36 Mulberry St., Lynn, Mass., writes:

"I have been troubled with catarrh since I was ten years old. At times my head troubled me so that I was obliged to stay in a dark room. Nothing helped me and my physician said I could never be cured.

"I began taking Peruna this spring and find myself greatly benefited by it. I have not had an attack since I took my first bottle. I think in time it will cure me. It has already improved my appetite and my general health and I have gained twenty pounds in three months.

"I have recommended it to several of my friends, who also find it very beneficial. I advise any one troubled with catarrh to use Peruna."

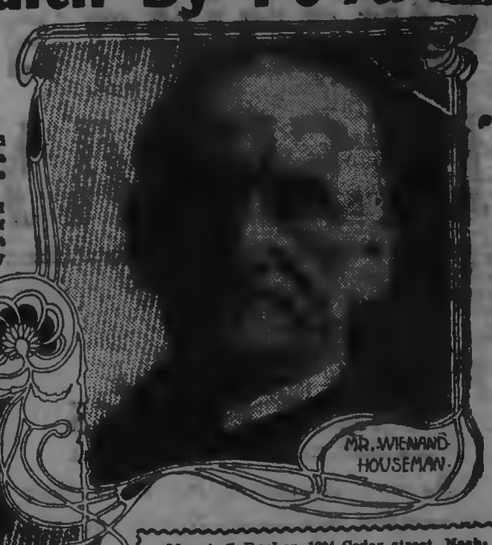
Mr. J. Q. Craig, a well-known athlete, whose home address is Bridgeton, N. J., writes from the Hotel Donavin, Delaware, Ohio, as follows:

"I can say of Peruna that, as a tonic for the spring of the year, it is the best for athletes, and as such I can give it a hearty recommendation."

Peruna does not fail to prevent the lassitude and languor incident to the approach of warm weather, if taken in time.

Mr. Wienand Houseman, a prominent and aged citizen of Seneca Falls, N. Y., is the inventor of a number of implements of modern warfare. He writes:

"For several years past, I and my family used your Peruna as a tonic and for the purification of the system in general and find that it is an excellent medicine to restore weak nerves to a healthy condition."



Mrs. A. S. Rucker, 1894 Cedar street, Nashville, Tenn., writes:

"I wish to tell you what Peruna has done for me. In the spring of 1902 I was very sick and so weak I could scarcely be up. I was alarmed at my condition.

"I had a bad cough for some time and I tried several cough medicines, but grew worse all the time. I knew if I did not get relief, I would soon go into consumption.

"So I decided to try Peruna. I had confidence in it before I took it and found it was just the medicine I needed, for in a short time my cough ceased and my strength returned.

"I have enjoyed better health since taking it than I had for several years previous."

Spring Catarrh.

Almost every one has come to believe that spring is a season that brings derangements of the body dependent on blood impurities.

This belief is an old one, is nearly universal, and has arisen, not as the result of the teachings of the medical fraternity, but has been learned in the bitter school of experience.

Nervous Depression.

Depression of the nervous system at the approach of spring is a fertile source of blood impurities.

There are general lassitude, dull, heavy sensations, continual tired feelings, with irregular appetite, and sometimes loss of sleep.

That Tired Feeling.

That tired feeling, which is the natural result of the depressing effect of warm weather immediately after the invigorating cold of winter, quickly disappears when Peruna is taken.

The Correct Remedy.

Peruna meets every indication and proves itself to be perfectly adapted to all their varied peculiarities. Peruna invigorates the system, rejuvenates the feelings, restores the normal appetite and procures regular sleep.

Do Not Delay.

Get a bottle of Peruna when the first languid feelings make themselves apparent in the spring. Take it according to the directions on the bottle. Continue this treatment through the first months of spring

This course of treatment is no experiment. It has helped thousands. Why should it not help you?

A Spring Tonic.

Almost everybody needs a tonic in the spring. Something to brace the nerves, invigorate the brain, and cleanse the blood. That Peruna will do this is beyond all question. Everyone who has tried it has had the same experience as Mr. Warren M. Taylor, 1216 8th Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., who, in a recent letter, writes:

"I suffered from a general feeling of lassitude, with occasional creeping chills, followed sometimes by fever and biliousness.

"These symptoms manifested themselves mostly in the spring and fall.

"I suffered this way for about seven years.

"Last spring I began using Peruna and followed the instructions as set forth in one of Dr. Hartman's booklets which I picked up in a drug store and to my great joy I noticed that within a week I was nearly cured.

"At the end of two months I was entirely cured and feel as though I have a new lease of life."

Nature's Assistance.

Spring is the best time to treat catarrh. Nature renews herself every spring. The system is rejuvenated by spring weather. This renders medicines more effective.

A short course of Peruna, assisted by the balmy air of spring, will often relieve old, stubborn cases of catarrh that have resisted treatment for years.

A Word of Advice.

To those who have been afflicted with chronic catarrh we wish to say that the spring season affords you a splendid opportunity to get rid of your disease.

It may be you have been afflicted for several years; you may have tried different remedies. Perhaps you have become discouraged.

Now Is Your Opportunity.

This failure was during the winter months. But now is your opportunity. Nature comes to your assistance at this season.

Just help her a little and she will bring you out of the quagmire in which you have been floundering so long. Give Nature a little assistance, lest her struggles be in vain.

A Typical Case.

Geo. M. Fillmore, formerly 1st Lieut. 3rd U. S. Artillery, writes from 909 L St., N. W., Washington, D. C., as follows:

"I brought forward from winter into spring a sickening case of catarrh which was making existence miserable for me, until I was induced to try a bottle of Peruna.

"An immediate improvement gave me hope, if not relief. I kept up taking Peruna and it has so strengthened and relieved me that I am now confident of a cure. I heartily endorse Peruna for catarrhal affections and as a tonic for their weakening effects."—Geo. M. Fillmore.

A short course of Peruna now will be just in time. During the month of April you will find the strategic time to rid yourself of chronic catarrh, one of the most persistent, stubborn diseases in the whole list of human ailments.

After you have tried it you will say Peruna is positively the best spring medicine you have ever used.

A great many years of extensive trials of this remedy in this class of derangements have demonstrated its efficiency.

Numerous Testimonials.

Thousands of cases might be quoted in which Peruna has rescued people from the ravages of spring catarrh, and put them on a good, solid foundation of health.

We can give our readers only a slight glimpse of the vast array of unsolicited endorsements Dr. Hartman is constantly receiving. No other physician in the world has received such a volume of enthusiastic letters of thanks.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio. All correspondence held strictly confidential.

Couldn't Discover It.

Point of View.

"What constitutes an attractive woman anyway?"

"That depends. A stingy man thinks a woman attractive if she doesn't spend money, while most of us find her increasingly attractive according to the amount she spends, provided it isn't our money."

Drawback.

"Do you like people who scatter sunshine all the way?"

"Oh, I enjoy the sunshine all right, but I do detest the arrogance of the industrious scatterers."

Long Love.

"They tell me she was quite a hand to draw a long bow."

"Yes; the beau she drew was a six footer."

Twin Marks.

"Death loves a shining mark."

"Yes, and the poor doctors hate to see him go, losing thereby an easy mark."

Changeable.

"Has she a large fortune?"

"Depends on whether you are a creditor or a possible suitor."

Linen and Muslin Frocks to Follow Winter Modes.

ELBOW SLEEVES STILL SMART

The Wise Woman Takes Advantage of Between Season Lull In Dressmaking to Prepare Part of Her Summer Outfit—Lingerie Robes Elaborate.

For certain frocks it is well to wait until the last word has been said on the modes for the coming season, until dressmakers and buyers have made their spring pilgrimage to Paris and now accepted ideas, but these ideas are cleverly modified and adapted to summary stuffs, and if these models are any criterion we are certainly to have a summer of most attractive frocks. The lingerie princess has been excessively popular for the past two summers, and it is highly probable that it will be worn quite as generally the coming season. That the elbow sleeve is to dominate sleeve models once more is a fact to be accepted without question.

Linen frocks promise to be more delightful than ever. Elaborate linen have brought back the latest edict of the fashion makers and the latest thing in exclusive material and trimmings. But the ordinary woman requires many warm weather frocks remarkable for dainty freshness, practical laundering qualities and inexpensiveness rather than for elaborate elegance, and she can readily obtain the materials for such frocks now and have them made up at any time without fear of their being out of fashion before summer comes.

The first linen and muslin frocks fol- models incrusted with lace and wonderfully embroidered are blossoming out in profusion, but the linen frocks that will appeal most irresistibly to the average woman are the jaunty coat and skirt costumes which suggest summer outings and are practical even for the woman of moderate dress allowance.

The gowns illustrated are both carried out in the smart princess style. One is in coin dotted foulard, trimmed with tiny plaitings of silk, and the other is of Nattier blue rajah, with sleeves of chiffon and lace.

Takes Poison by Mistake.

Detroit, March 8.—John Gray of Aylmer, Ont., took belladonna by mistake Wednesday and narrowly escaped death. He is thought to be out of danger.

Trains Running In Flood.

El Paso, Texas, March 7.—A storm has broken over the Salton sea and the Southern Pacific tracks are reported under water, waves washing against passing trains.

The Popular Song.

The definition of popularity as given by a salesman in a large music store is one that may be applied to other things besides songs.

"Is this a popular song?" asked a young woman, holding up a sheet of music brilliantly decorated in red and green.

"Well, no, miss," said the salesman, assuming a judicial air, "I can't say it is as yet. Of course lots of people are singing it, and everybody likes it, but nobody's got tired enough of it yet for it to be what you'd call a popular song, miss."

Let him who neglects to raise the fallen fear lest when he falls no one will stretch out his hand to lift him up.—Saadi.

Raw or Cooked?

They entered the hotel dining room visibly embarrassed and self conscious. It was plain to be seen that they were a bridal couple and fresh from the rural districts. After they were seated they held a long whispered consultation over the menu card. Finally the husband beckoned to a waiter and asked in a stage whisper, "Say, waiter, are them oysters on the half shell raw or cooked?"

Shoes Match Gown.

Now that the necessity for wearing a different pair of shoes with every gown is becoming more insistent every day, many girls with a long list of dance engagements are adopting the expedient of covering their own satin slippers for each function. This is very easily achieved by simply cutting out the satin the exact shape of the shoe and hemming it to the foundation.

Pity the Poor Dogs!

Miss Pechis—I'm in a quandary. He declares if I refuse him he'll go to the dogs.

Miss Wise—Well, you certainly can't sacrifice yourself for a worthless fellow like him. You must consider your own welfare.

Miss Pechis—Oh, of course, but then, on the other hand, I'm very fond of dogs.—Catholic Standard and Times.

What It Would Be.

"What would the circus be without red lemonade?" asked the man with the grassy whiskers and the nervous Adam's apple. "What would it be without the peanuts and the cracker-jack and the popcorn and the bags of cheap candy?"

"It would be a blamed good circus," replied the man with the aggressive eyes and the firm mouth.—Judge.

WHY YOU CAN'T SLEEP.

It's just like this. Somewhere in the brain cells or blood vessels that supply the brain with blood, there is SOMETHING WRONG. That wrong must be righted or you'll go to smash.

Your physically exhausted body needs building up, needs more nutritious blood, needs tone and vigor. Your only hope is FERROZONE, which completely overcomes sleeplessness.

FERROZONE

IS GOOD FOR THE SLEEPLESS.

Every FERROZONE Tablet contains more concentrated goodness than you'll get in quarts of liquid medicine. It benefits instantly.

FERROZONE fairly fills the blood with nourishment. Feeds it with iron and oxygen, invigorates as nothing else can.

The refreshing sleep of a little babe, the restfulness and comfort of childhood's days will come every night of your life by using FERROZONE. Avoid substitutes!

Ferrozone is sold by all dealers in 50c boxes or six for $2.50. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

FINE HAND - EMBROIDERED LINENS DIRECT FROM THE IRISH PEASANTRY

WE HAVE JUST RECEIVED a shipment of very choice Hand-Embroidered Linens direct from the deft fingers of the Irish peasantry, whose only occupation, from generation to generation, is to embroider these fine pure Linens—the Linens are all grass bleached in the Northern part of Ireland, where the sun and the frequent showers and dews add materially to the "whitening process" and adds long life to the linen.

The hand embroidery work and hand-made lace is a work of art---this particular make of Embroidered Linens have taken the highest awards at the most important Expositions of the world. To introduce them to this district we have marked them at specially low prices.

"The Heavens Declare The Glory of God"

The Theme of a Rarely Beautiful Brochure.

The Examiner has received from the author, Rev. D. B. Marsh, Sc.D., F.R.A.S., Springville, a copy of a particularly dainty booklet, entitled "The Heavens Declare the Glory of God." As will be suspected by those who had the delight of spending "a night in the skies" with Dr. Marsh at his interesting lecture in the city recently, the treatment of the subject is astronomical, with especial reference to the revelation of Almighty powers in the infinite realness of space. The spirit of the text of the little book is expressed in its concluding paragraphs:

Surely, the view is profound: Suns and worlds intermingled float between suns and worlds in the illimitable depths of ether. What an extent of creation! What numbers! What variety. What velocity of motion. Who but God could fashion them? What but the power of the Almighty could bowl them through the circuit of the heavens with such accuracy? God rounded in His palms these ponderous bodies. He kindled those bright fires that fill the firmanbright fires that fill the firmanent with mysterious light. He weighed them in the balance of His might, and by the breath of His nostrils they sweep to the shores of eternity, returning only as his laws direct. Forever singing as they shine, the hand that made them was divine.

This little book is not only a gem in literary and spiritual reverence of expression, but a chef d'oeuvre of the book-maker's art. Its covers of primrose buff, with deckel edge, enclose the text printed in sepia brown on hand-made deckel edged book paper, and the pages are tied with a true lover's knot of tinsel cord. The illustrations consist of half-tones, beautifully printed, reproduced from photographs of the moon, sun, etc., made by the author with his 5-inch Brashear telescope. This little book is on sale at the city book stores and should meet with a large demand.

OMEMEE PREACHER AT ST. LUKE'S

Rev. J. H. Teney Conducted Lenten Service Last Night—A Good Attendance Present.

The attendance at the Lenten services in St. Luke's church, last night was large, the appeal of the rector, made from his pulpit on Sunday, to his congregation asking them to attend the week night services, evidently having a good effect, since the attendance at both the Wednesday and Friday nights' services this week, was much larger than it has been in the past.

The sermong last night was given by Rev. J. H. Teney of Omemee, who preached a forceful sermon on the duties and abstinences of Lent. The rector, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, was in Omemee, preaching.

SALVATION ARMY SOLDIERS TO SEE THEIR COMMANDER

In Toronto To-morrow Afternoon—His Visit an Important Event for This Organization.

This morning Adjt. Wiggins, who is in charge of the local corps of the Salvation Army, went to Toronto to attend the public meeting in connection with Commander Booth's trip through Canada. This part of the commander's visit to America on his way to Japan, was arranged after some difficulty, as it was thought that he would not be able to visit Canada. However, public meetings are to be held at Montreal, Toronto and Winnipeg. About twenty of the soldiers of the local corps will be in Toronto to-morrow, where a public meeting will take place. Adjt. Wiggins went up this morning, the rest will go by way of the early Sunday morning train. This event is a very important one in the Salvation Army circles and there will undoubtedly be a very large gathering at these three cities.

When Your Health Fails, What Then?

Good health is the capital of persons who earn their livelihood with brain and muscle. Success is for the strong and alert—for those whose blood is rich, and whose nerve cells are filled with vigor and energy. It is not pleasant to contemplate what might happen with failing health, and for this reason it is well to heed the first symptoms of nervous exhaustion and to keep health at high water mark by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

ASSAULT CASE BEFORE MAGISTRATE ON TUESDAY

Wm. Dixon of Asphodel, Will Then Answer Charge of Assault Against His Son.

On Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock William Dixon of Asphodel, will appear before Magistrate Edmison to answer to a charge of assault upon his son alleged to have been committed in the woods some time ago. It has been reported here that the cause of the supposed assault was that the son used tobacco against the father's wishes. The case will no doubt be an interesting one.

Hint to the Waist Maker.

The shirt waist maker who is working at home must take care this season to get a good pattern. Very fine patterns are offered for sale, and the woman who wants to make her own waist would do well to purchase a pattern that fits her.

After obtaining the pattern it is a good thing to cut out a muslin waist. Thus one can be sure that the pattern fits. Doubtless a few small alterations must be made in it. Then comes the critical part—the adapting of the pattern to the modes of the season.

While waists are still upon the blouse order, it is noticeable that they fit more and more snugly and that there is an absence of the big bag which once hung boldly down so as to cover the belt line. All belt lines are visible now, and handsome belts are worn with all waists.

The home waist maker should not make the mistake of having her waist too loose. This is the almost invariable fault of the amateur. And the result is anything but graceful. The new waists are long in the waist line. They are cut in long, graceful curves. But, on the other hand, they fit snugly. One must experiment until one succeeds.

Urges Railroad Construction.

Quebec, March 9.—A large and influential deputation, interested in the extension of the Lake St. John Railway from Roberval to Chibogamon and James Bay, waited upon the Government yesterday to urge the importance and necessity of beginning the construction of the proposed extension without further delay.

FOWLER'S CHARGES UP AGAIN

Bourassa Makes Unfounded Insinuations Against Government.

WILFRID LAURIER'S REPLY

Leaders On Both Sides Join In Suppressing the Member—Premier Says It Is Impossible to Investigate Indefinite Statements—Will Probe Any Specific Charge—Two-Cent Rate On G. T. R.

Ottawa, March 9.—Henri Bourassa and William Findlay Maclean must have left the House of Commons yesterday firmly convinced that they really were not the whole thing as political jurists. Mr. Bourassa referred to the Fowler incident, insinuating that there had been an arrangement arrived at between the Prime Minister and the leader of the Opposition to balk discussion. Sir Wilfrid Laurier clearly defined the position when he stated that it was impossible to investigate an indefinite statement, pointing out that Mr. Fowler had not made any specific charge against any individual. The insurance commissioners in their report, he added, had also only made recommendations as to the advisability of adopting certain legislation.

Should Be Probed.

If Mr. Bourassa would place something of a definite nature before the House then the matter should be probed to the bottom. The leader of the Opposition denied the existence of such an arrangement as the member for Labelle had suggested, and incidentally chaffed Mr. Bourassa with regard to his frequent absence from the House, which enabled him to get through the report of the commission, a task which members attending more strictly to business had not been able to accomplish.

Two-Cent Fares.

Mr. Maclean had previously called on the Government to force the G.T.R. Co. to carry into effect the clause in their charter providing for two-cent fares, and he promised to stump the country if they did not. Mr. Dan Derbyshire promptly invited him to visit Brockville, and Mr. Macpherson of Vancouver pointed out the insincerity of the man who championed public rights in the limelight and voted in favor of monopolies in committee.

Before the orders of the day, the death of the late Mr. E. Cochrane was sympathetically referred to by the leaders on both sides of the House, and a little later Mr. P. Michaud, the newly-elected member for Victoria and Madawaska, took his seat. The House during the remainder of the sitting practically disposed of the tariff, which will be further considered on Monday.

When the House assembled this afternoon the desk of the late Mr. E. Ward Cochrane was draped with black and surmounted by a beautiful floral wreath.

Mr. Pins Michaud, the newly-elected member for Victoria, N. B., was introduced by the Prime Minister and Mr. Emmerson, and took his seat amid Ministerial cheers.

Tributes to the Late Mr. Cochrane.

Before the orders of the day the Prime Minister referred to the death of the late Mr. Cochrane. He felt certain that the death of that gentleman would be sincerely felt perhaps no less by those who were not his political friends as those who were. He possessed many traits that endeared him to his colleagues, a warm Irish heart and good Irish wit. They would miss his cheerful countenance, and personally he was not sure that he would not miss the fiery but good-natured lectures delivered by the deceased gentleman as to the administration of the Government. While he was earnest in expression of his opinion he was also generous. The members on the Government side of the House joined with those in Opposition in offering to Mr. Cochrane's family their sincere condolence.

Sir Wilfrid's Reply.

Replying to Mr. Bourassa in reference to the Fowler incident.

The Prime Minister said that when the matter came up a few weeks ago he had said that they had better wait until the report of the commission was before the House to ascertain what action should be taken. The report and a draft bill were before them. "The committee have reported that in their judgment there was a necessity for legislation. Beyond this they did not report. They had made no report against anybody. In the course of the reasons which they gave for this legislation they brought in the names of certain members of this House. Whether or not there is in the report anything which would warrant this Parliament taking action against

...ed to say at this moment. The matter is still quite new amongst us, and I have no opinion to express either one way or the other at this time." The Prime Minister went on to say that when the matter was last before the House he had promised that should necessity arise the allegation of the member for King's should be investigated, and, proceeding, said:—"To the opinions expressed I do not think I have anything to add, or anything to retract. I do not understand at the present time how it is possible to investigate anything that has been said by the member for King's; he did not mention any name, or any offence. He spoke in a general way, and I am at a loss to know what charges there are to investigate. Of course if the gentleman made no charges himself the report of the commission is before the House, and he could, if he has anything to say, say it. He may have something grave in his mind, or it may not amount to anything. Words of that kind are not such as upon which you can have a charge or an insinuation of any kind, but if he has anything against the character of the members of the Administration it is for him to make his charges."

HAD NARROW ESCAPE.

Grand Trunk Express Strikes Sleigh at Cataraqui.

Kingston, March 9.—Geo. Haffner, a poultry dealer, made a flying plunge from his sleigh in the early grey of yesterday morning and saved his life from collision with a Grand Trunk express. He was returning to the city, and at Cataraqui drove on the crossing, and in a moment found the train upon him. He plunged from his sleigh and fell on the road. The sleigh was shivered to splinters.

Won't Tax Patent Medicine.

Ottawa, March 9.—A large deputation representing the Ontario and Quebec druggists waited on the Minister of Inland Revenue and renewed the protest against the feature of the patent medicine bill that imposes a Government tax on all these preparations.

As a result of their representations, the tax proposal will be eliminated from the bill, and it is very questionable, in view of the advanced stage of the session that has now been reached, if the whole measure may not have a stand over till next session.

Hearst Seriously Ill.

New York, March 9.—William R. Hearst is seriously ill at his home, according to an announcement yesterday, and his engagements for some time to come have been cancelled. Mr. Hearst recently contracted a severe cold.

Belgian Cabinet to Resign.

Brussels, March 9.—Because of an adverse vote on a question of internal affairs the members of the Belgian Cabinet have virtually decided to proffer their resignations when King Leopold returns to the capital.

Still Goes Via Vancouver.

London, March 9.—(C. A. P.)—Postmaster-General Buxton has stated that the mail route to New Zealand via Vancouver is not suspended as far as the British postoffice is concerned.

Most people know that if they have been sick they need Scott's Emulsion to bring back health and strength.

But the strongest point about Scott's Emulsion is that you don't have to be sick to get results from it.

It keeps up the athlete's strength, puts fat on thin people, makes a fretful baby happy, brings color to a pale girl's cheeks, and prevents coughs, colds and consumption.

MUST ENLARGE BOUNDARIES.

Premier Roblin Sums Up Significance of the Elections.

Winnipeg, March 9.—The latest results from the province show that the Conservatives have swept the constituencies.

The revised figures yesterday give 26 Conservative and 13 Liberals, with delayed elections in two ridings, Gilbert Plains and Gimli.

In the case of Arthur, Williams (Liberal) is elected over Lyle (Con.) by a majority of 3. Dauphin has gone Liberal.

Premier Roblin says: "The issue before the electors was: 'Shall Manitoba have equality among the provinces that go to make up the Dominion or shall she be the "postage stamp province," as people in Eastern Canada sneeringly call us?' The people of Manitoba has answered emphatically in favor of equity and justice. I trust that the pronouncement has been made loud and clear enough so that Sir Wilfrid Laurier will have heard what the people of Manitoba want in this connection.

"I also accept the vote as an endorsement of the general policy of Government.

"I hope that Sir Wilfrid Laurier will see the necessity of enlarging the boundaries of Manitoba before the present session of Parliament is prorogued. I will not take or accept of any territory less than what is ours in law, and in taking that view I am doing no injustice either to Ontario on the one hand or Saskatchewan on the other."

Edward Brown said that the Opposition had a good fighting force, and this was not the time to give up the fight. Only weak-kneed men would do this. They must go on and expose the rascality of the present administration, and they would be able to do it, he thought, so that the Government themselves would run away from the exposures.

At any rate they had succeeded in arousing the conscience of the people, and he would continue to do his duty as a citizen regardless of results.

DISRESPECT TO KING.

Refuse to Rise While Representative of His Majesty Is Present.

Victoria, B. C., March 9.—The first sensation of the session of British Columbia's new Parliament, which opened Thursday, has been provided by some members of the Socialist party, who deliberately, after consultation, declined to rise in accordance with the custom during the presence of Lieut.-Governor Dunsmuir, as the representative of King Edward.

Leader Hawthornethwaite subsequently defended the course of his party as consistent with the declaration during the campaign, that they recognized no flag but the red banner of Socialism.

He said they had remained seated because they did not propose longer to participate in "the mere mummies of Parliament."

They had not risen in courtesy to the King's representative, nor would they do so hereafter when prayers were read by the bishop or any of the clergy.

Speaker Eberts yesterday made careful examinations of the rules and authorities, but could find nothing to prescribe a penalty for the implied discourtesy to the crown, although a spoken slight is duly dealt with.

CORPORATIONS NOT EXEMPT.

Street Railway, Insurance and All Public Utilities Must Pay Tribute.

Edmonton, Alba., March 9.—The Alberta Legislature Thursday passed exterporaneously Premier Rutherford's bill providing for the taxation of practically all conceivable public utility and financial concerns.

Street railways will pay $200 per annum and $10 per mile for everything over twenty miles.

Telegraph companies pay $1 a mile for every mile of line.

Telephone companies pay 50 cents per instrument in cities of 10,000 and 75 cents in cities over.

Gas companies pay $500 annually; electric lightning companies $500 in cities of 10,000, $100 in towns and $25 in villages.

Express companies pay $500; corporations taking money on deposit, $200; banks, $400 for head office and $200 per branch; private banks $200, and $25 for branch.

Insurance companies pay a percentage on gross premiums; trust and loan companies $100 on $100,000 capital.

The bill has passed through all committee stages and becoming law is now only a matter of formality.

Honduras Defeat Nicaraguans With Heavy Loss in Men and Arms.

Puerto Cortez, Honduras, March 9.—Advices received here yesterday confirm the reports that President Bonilla of Honduras defeated the Nicaraguans at Namasiquo, Honduras, March 6, and again defeated them March 7 at Tuguare.

In the fight at Namasiquo, the Honduran forces delivered a bayonet charge against the Nicaraguan trenches, dislodged the enemy, and, besides a number of rifles, captured one cannon.

Salvador In It, Too.

San Salvador, Republic of Salvador, March 9.—The national assembly yesterday decreed the Republic of Salvador to be in a state of siege.

President Zelaya of Nicaragua has issued a violently worded program against Honduras, Guatamala and Salvador.

Previous reports that the Honduran troops are triumphing over the Nicaraguans have been confirmed.

Dying From Fall On Fence.

St. Stephen, N.B., March 9.—William Franks, a cabinet worker, fell from the roof of his house yesterday afternoon, alighting on a picket fence, 15 feet below. He cannot recover.

NO WOMEN VOTERS YET.

The Suffragettes Bill Killed For This Session.

London, March 9.—The debate in the Commons was a repetition of the familiar arguments for and against female suffrage and there was a complete divergence from the usual party lines, the rejection of the bill being moved by Mr. Whitehead, Liberal, another opponent being Mr. Cremer, also a Liberal, while both Conservatives and members of the Labor party were found among its supporters. An attempt was made to closure the decision, but the Speaker declined to accept the motion and the opponents of the bill held the floor until 5 p. m., when the sitting was closed automatically. They thus won the day as this practically kills the bill for the present session.

Animals at Play.

Animals have a keen sense of "making believe," which is the essence of play. A child's first game is bopeep—make believe. When a couple of dogs have a jolly tussle they make believe to engage in deadly combat. A striking instance of this occurred to a writer some years back. He gave a dead mouse to a kitten. It was the first time she had seen one, and she sniffed at it inquisitively before deciding to toss it about. A pair of slippers lay on the floor. She dropped the mouse into one of them and immediately proceeded to look for it most zealously in the other slipper till I took up the first, which contained her booty. Then she showed that it was no real lack of memory that had sent her on the boot-ward search.

Roman House Heaters.

The methods used by the Romans for warming their houses were clever. In Rome itself artificial warmth may have been brought rarely into use, though the Italian winter requires fires at times, but when the Roman took up his abode abroad as the conqueror he certainly lived in chilly climates. In the country houses he built in England he had carefully devised heating arrangements, which are called hypocausta. These are flues running under the tessellated floors. Fires were lit outside of the house, and the hot air passed under the floors. To do this much required a knowledge of the builder's art, with the necessary precautions against fire. Remnants of these hypocausts are found today in England, built during the Roman occupation.

THE RAREST DAYS.

What's so rare, so cool and airy—
Seldom is it overdone—
As a day in February,
May I ask you, little one?
Count 'em, and you'll find it straight;
There are only twenty-eight.

June for rareness isn't in it,
Though its roses it may flaunt,
For you'll reckon in a minute
If you ever learned to count,
And you'll find the answer clear—
It has thirty every year.

How it got the reputation
I could never comprehend,
For the slightest computation
Would its claims forever end.
Mention leap year if you will;
February beats it still.

Yes'm; when it comes to rareness
February wins the drink,
And it's nothing more than fairness
To admit it, don't you think?
And you often wish, I'll bet,
That its days were rarer yet.

Tracing Back Our Music.

Professor Starr of the University of Chicago, who has been down in central Africa interviewing the pygmies and asking them when they think they will be grown up, if ever, has brought back a trunkful of phonograph records to prove that the American popular song is nothing new under the sun.

Of course the African song writers are handicapped in some respects, for they cannot use bad grammar, as their language does not run much to grammar and most anything goes, but the professor assures us that they can stay with us on the tune until the cows come home and the milking is all done.

However, taken as a whole, the records go to show the kinship of the human race. All he needs now to make it complete is a record made by three women and four men of one tribe when they were calling for help, being about to be overpowered and robbed by a superior force of another tribe, and call it grand opera.

LINDSAY POST TEAM TO PLAY US

Examiner Team Will Likely Take on Game With the Scugog Journalists.

The Examiner hockey team will follow up its great victory over the Review team by seeking glory in foreign fields. It is likely that the team representing the Evening Post of Lindsay, will play here on Tuesday night. Learning that the Lindsay journalists wanted a game with the Examiner, the management wrote to Lindsay, last night, to arrange the contest. The Lindsay men were so interested in the project, that they sent a representative, Mr. Bryant, to Peterborough, on the first train this morning, and it was practically decided that the Lindsay aggregation would meet the great Examiner seven on Tuesday night. We are informed that the Lindsay team play just as bad hockey as we do, and the public may depend upon seeing an even funnier game than the memorable struggle with the Review. The Examiner team, in addition to the game here will meet the Lindsay aggregation on their own ice.

WANDERERS WANTED TO PLAY PETERBOROUGH

Would Have Liked to Play the Locals Here To-night.

Tom Hodge, of the Montreal Wanderers, phoned Secretary Chris Graham, of the Peterborough Hockey Club yesterday and endeavoured to arrange a game between the Wanderers and Peterborough for to-night. The local players were not willing to professionalize themselves for the pleasure of playing an exhibition game with the Wanderers and so Mr. Hodge was informed that there was nothing doing. The Wanderers are taking a tramp-stormingg tour on their way to the west to play for the Stanley Cup championship.

BRASS DEPARTMENT ADDED ANOTHER WIN

For the Third Time This Season They Defeated Tool Makers in Interesting Game of Hockey.

For the third time this winter the Brass and Tool Department staff of the C. G. E. played a game of hockey at the Brock street rink last night and for the third time the brass men won the game. The score last night was 7—3, and the game was one of the most interesting of the whole season. Every player on both teams was an Englishman, and many of them had not played hockey or skated until this series of games commenced.

TIGERS DEFEATED THE JOLLY HUNTERS TEAM

An Interesting Game of Hockey Between Two Juvenile Aggregations—Press Agent Sends His Report.

The Tigers and Jolly Hunters, a couple of junior aggregations of future Stanley Cup hockey players, were engaged in a deadly conflict yesterday. The press agent of one of the teams, who writes a very juvenile hand, has written the following report of the game, and it is published exactly as it is written. He says: The Junior Tigers defeated the Jolly Hunters by the score of 9 to 7, and the Jolly Huntwhere in a great excite. Preacher milloy picked up the puck and threw it in the goal. Skan O'Connal played offside all through the game and Turkey O'Brien cheated. The team line up as follows:

Tigers.		Jolly Hunters.

HOCKEY

The trophy won by The Examiner in the Great Press game Thursday night is on exhibition in the window of Treanum & Gainey's cigar store, and is attracting widespread attention and admiration. The trophy is of novel design and large proportions.

* * * *

The Examiner team, from centre ice to the nets, resent the statement in the Review last night that the Tory team put it all over the Examiner in the second half of Thursday night's game. The paragraph in question, udging by its total disregard of truth, must have been written by the political editor.

* * * *

The Strathconas, City League champions, will play the Lakefield City League team to-night at Lakefield. A good game may be expected as the cementville team is a very awkward proposition on its own ice. The Strathconas are endeavouring to arrange a game with the Lindsay Midgets.

* * * *

So the senior championship goes to the west, Kingston won last night but it was only by two goals and Stratford had the honours packed in their dress suit cases when they departed for home. The Peterborough branch of the I-told-you-so club received a terrible shock as a result. The impression was general here that Kingston would win the round but they were not there with the necessary.

Peterborough and Stratford on the form displayed in the Kingston game look about equal. Both won at home by the same score, 7—3, while Peterborough lost at Kingston by 4—2 and Stratford by 3—1. Looking at from another standpoint Peterborough looks to have it over them all. Peterborough beat Varsity here by 9—4. Stratford, on the other hand, lost to the collegians right in the classic city by 10—2. The Varsity team thus trimmed everything in sight but Peterborough.

CURLING

Four good games were played at the curling rink last night with the following results:

W. Taylor		C. James
J. Montgomery		H. Lovekin
W. Lang		M. C. Tooley
D. Hall—8		G. Stanger—7
J. H. Ferguson		J. W. Fulton

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, March 9—At the opening the market was irregular but it showed some support in places. There were plenty of bears among traders although sentiment was not all one way and there was very fair buying of conservative character from the more important commission houses. The professional campaign at present seems to be to smash the weakly held low priced issues in order to cover elsewhere. This is an important change from the attitude which heretofore prevailed of selling everything indiscriminately with complete confidence that shorts would be easy to cover. Reading was again conspicious for its strength and it looks as if the shorts in this stock would be made uncomfortable in the near future The bank statement was worse than the early estimates indicated. In spite of such liquidation as has taken place during the past week it seems impossible to build up a fair bank reserve. The market was inclined to rally in the last half hour and closed rather firm.

"According to Rule.

Jim Jones, as soon as he gets up,
He takes a little half pint cup
And drinks it full of water twice,
Although it may be cold as ice.
That washes out his system so
The microbes do not get a show,
And that's why he is healthy.

Bill Sims he eats but twice a day
And says it is the only way.
For breakfast not a single bite,
But hearty meals at noon and night.
For him are no dyspeptic snares,
Because he doesn't eat three squares,
And that's why he is healthy.

Tom Brown he plunges in the tub
And takes each morn an icy scrub.
Some folks might shiver at the thought
Of colds and such things to be caught,
But Tom he takes it right along
To make him hardy, firm and strong,
And that's why he is healthy.

Sam Snooks he doesn't bathe a lot
And only when the water's hot;
He drinks a glass of water when
He feels right thirsty, only then;
Three times he eats the whole course through
And in between a time or two.
I wonder why he's healthy.

Generous.

"Oh, my dear, you certainly have wet your feet. Do come in and let me give you a pair of my shoes to put on while I dry yours."

"You are most kind, but I fear a pair of your shoes will be much too small for me."

"Oh, do you think so? Then let me give you two pair."

THE SEASON'S BEST IN MEN'S SHOES

We've as fine a showing of Men's Spring Shoes as ever graced a shoe store. Don't wear uncertain shoes when you can get the best by coming here. Every shoe store says—$3.00, $3.50, $4.00 or $5.00 Men's Shoes. So do we, but our kind of shoes are, oh, so different! It's always the shoe at the price that tells the story. ANNIVERSARY OF SUNDAY SCHOOL

Enjoyable and Profitable Evening Spent at the Park Street Baptist Church On Thursday.

ENCOURAGING REPORTS WERE READ.

Park Street Baptist Sunday School anniversary supper and entertainment were held on Thursday night. That there is an attraction in well-developed pictures for young and old there can be no doubt after Thursday's performance, for the church was crowded. The difficulty was where to put the people. The teachers were busy from 6 o'clock serving supper, and had hardly time to arrange seats, when the crowd began to pour in.

At 8 o'clock sharp Rev. A. H. Brace took the chair and called the meeting to order. The secretary read the report, which represented a good year's work, showing the school to be in a very healthy and aggressive state, the increase being considerable over last year, while the finances are in good condition. After meeting all liabilities, a balance remains in the bank of $11.52. The handsome sum of $92.25 was raised by the school for the building fund of the new church. This, with a special donation from the school finds of $10, makes $105.25 as the school's share towards the new edifice.

For the year, $63.70 has been given to missions, and th egrand total raised by the school for all purposes is $305.16.

The treasurer's report and the rewards were presented by the assistant superintendent to the following: Bruce Bamjt, Boyd MacMillan, Rebecca Juby, Edith Jobe, Mina Throop, Gertie Killingback, Lillie Booch, Pearl Peters, Earle Barrie, Wilton Tranter and Jennie Peters.

In addition to a most enjoyable trip through England, seventeen sets of moving pictures were shown. Mr. Stubbs, though a prophet in his own country, is deserved popular, and is certainly master of his business. It was, indeed, a most enjoyable evening and full of profit for old and young. The teachers and officials are to be congratulated upon the great success of the undertaking.

COBALT SILVER BIRD.

New Yorkers Seeking a Controlling Interest.

Cobalt, Ont., March 8.—It is rumoured that there may soon be a change in the controlling interest of the Silver Bird Company. It is claimed that the company themselves would have advanced the price last week but could not do so, owing to the contract now existing between them and the fiscal agents of the company. It is said, however that this agreement, so far as the present price is concerned, will terminate in a few days.

It is known that the engineer connected with a prominent New York financial house paid a recent visit to the camp and specially inspected the Silver Bird mine. Immediately on his return to New York an offer was made to take over all the individual holdings now in the hands of the original owners of the property, amounting to something like a million shares, and the balance of the unsold treasury shares at a considerable advance over the present advertised price. Owing, however, to the agreement existing between the company, the original individual owners, and the fiscal agents, the deal is reported to be hanging fire. The reason, it is said, is because Law & Co., fiscal agents, insist upon the carrying out of the agreement to deliver the shares to the public as advertised by them.

Violent Form of Itching Piles

Rev. S. A. Duprau, Methodist minister, Belleville, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with itching and bleeding piles for years and they ultimately attained a very violent form. Large lumps or abscesses formed, and I suffered great pain. A single box of Dr. Chase's Ointment cured me and saved me from a very dangerous and painful operation. The lumps and swellings disappeared and I am now an entirely different man."

SCIENTISTS CLAIM CONSUMPTION IS SPREAD BY SPITTING IN PUBLIC

The bacillus of tuberculosis starts tubercles in the lungs. These caseify, soften and are rejected from the lungs in coughing. A dry cough will spray the air full of these germs; a loose cough will deposit the sputum on the sidewalks, where it will dry, be trodden to powder, whirled about the wind for healthy people to breathe, and so start up new plantations of these bacilli. Dr. Knopf says that an advanced case of consumption will eject about seven billion of these germs every twenty-four hours.

It is a murderous practice to spit where others may bring the infection into the house on shoes or skirts, where it may dry and become a powder, to be sent in the air and breathed into the lungs. If the lungs are sore from colds or any other cause, these germs settle on the sore spot and set up what is called a "mixed infection." This is the starting point of consumption and prompt treatment is required.

An eminent authority on lung trouble advises the use of the following simple formula, which can be secured from any good prescription druggist at small cost; Half-ounce Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure), two ounces of Glycerine and a half pint of good Whisky. Mix and use in teaspoonful doses every four hours.

It is said that the mixture will break up a cold in twenty-four hours, and cure any cough that is curable. The ingredients should be pure, and to avoid substitutes they should be purchased separately and mixed in the home of the patient. The Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure) should be purchased in the original half-ounce vials, put up for druggists to dispense. Each vial is securely sealed in a round wooden case, with the name—Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure), prepared only by Leach Chemical Co., Windsor, Ontario—plainly printed thereon. There are many rank imitations of Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure), which are being put out under similar names and style of package. Never accept thes as a substitute for the Pure Virgin Oil of Pine, as they will invariably produce nausea and never effect the desired result.

To Provide Organ For The County House Of Refuge

A Concert Was Given in Lakefield Last Night for This Purpose—Was Well Attended and Deep Interest in the Welfare of the Institution Was Manifested.

Through the interest shown in the House of Refuge by the citizens of Lakefield, that institution will in the near future be provided with an organ which will be used to brighten the lives of the inmates of the home.

Last night a concert was held in the town hall, Lakefield, the proceeds of which will be devoted towards the purchase of an instrument and furnishings of a room which may be used for religious services. That the citizens of that town have a warm personal interest in the old people in the Home, was evidenced by the large attendance at the concert last night. The hall was filled to overflowing, and those who attended were greatly pleased with the excellent programme which was provided.

The chair was taken by Reeve Scott of Smith, and chairman of the Committee of Management of the House of Refuge, and in opening the entertainment he expressed his pleasure at welcoming so many persons, who by their presence had shown their interest in the House of Refuge and its inmates.

An interesting feature of the programme was an address given by Warden McNulty, who gave expression to his pleasure at being present and his appreciation of the deep interest manifested by the Lakefield people in the philanthropic work being carried on by the management of the Home.

He stated his intention of making those sheltered there as comfortable as possible, and to make the farm a model one, so far as it was possible to do so, consistent with the wise expenditure for that purpose.

The programme rendered was as possible:

Piano duet, Misses Hunter and Gryll.
Chairman's address.
Violin solo, Miss Etta Balsdon.
Solo, Mrs. Campbell.
Recitation, Miss Emma Vincent.
Duet, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell.
Solo, Miss M. Kline.
Cornet solo, Mr. Labelle.
Recitation, Mr. L. A. Short.
Song, Mr. M. Quigley.
Selection, Citizens' Band.
Piano duet, Misses Nelson and Kline.
Solo, Mrs. Jas. Young.
Recitation, Miss Kelly.
Solo, Miss M. Webster.
Piano solo, Miss Ida Sanderson,
Song, Mr. Marshall.
Recitation, Mr. L. A. Short.
Piano solo, Miss Edith Griffin.
Comic song, Mr. S. W. McKibbon.
Selection, Citizens' Band.

Fighting The Fire Fiend; Or Saved For Our Friends

Herewith we publish a new and original tale of action by the popular author of Marvelous Mike or the Murder of Dead Horse Gulch. It is a thrilling story of a city fire, and breathes a spirit of heroic daring which will commend it to our readers. The name of the Novelette, which is in three chapters, is Fighting the Fire Fiend or Saved for our Friends.

CHAPTER I.

"Boom!" The deep-toned bell chimes once and is still.

"One o'clock," remarks a fat policeman as he paces up and down his beat.

Let us pause and admire the intelligence of the man. He can count one, even while asleep. But our tale has to do only with intelligent men, so why discriminate? The policeman takes fourteen steps forward when a strange perfume wakes him up.

He sniffs, his eye kindles, his chest expands. "Booty!" he murmurs.

"What is that smell?"

At first it resembles an autumn bonfire with a rubber boot reposing on its smouldering summit. Then its gets stronger and reminds the bluebottle of a Turkish cigarette. He sniffs and mutters, "What can it be?" Has a glue factory gone for a walk

Careless pleasantry! How unfitting at such a time!

Suddenly P. C. O'Finnigan, No. 329, starts back. The hotel on the corner is smoking. It has never learned to chew. Under the eaves appears a writhing serpent of flame. Horrors!

CHAPTER II.

The scene changes.

Upstairs in the firehall stand the little iron beds. The brave firemen sleep—some of them not wisely but too loudly. Trousers and rubber boots stand beside each simple couch. Ever and anon we hear the stamp of the horses' hoofs as they pace their box stalls. The brass sliding rod shoots upwards into the ceiling. The clock strikes one. All is peace. The noble firemen are at rest.

But hark!

Clang! Clang!! Clang!!!

Seven firemen stop in the middle of a snore and leap into their trousers.

Two jumps and they are at the sliding-rod.

Swish-sh-s-sh! They are down, The horses are in their places. Snaggoes the harness. The heroic captain appears. The doors swing back and, with a rush and a whoop, the hose wagon is on the street.

Away, away like an express train—sparks fly from the horses' feet, the wagon rolls and swings, but the gallant captain stands on one foot balancing himself and fixing in his Ascot tie the diamond pin presented to him by the Ward Two Conservative Association.

"On, on!" he shouts. "Now, me gallant lads, to glory or the grave."

In the dim distance comes the engine vomiting sparks and panting like a loathsome dragon from the Pit. Horrible, yet splendid sight!

Is the captain proud? Does he think of the risk he runs? Nay, he thinks that John Smith, of 2275 Wellesley street, will vote Grit next year. "But this is weakness," he says, brushing away the manly tear upon his weather-beaten cheek.

"Whoa!" The panting steeds stop in the flame-lighted street. "A hotel!" says our hero, with horrified stare.

Frenzied men and women jean out of the windows shouting for assistance. The ladders go up like red worms crawling to the sky. The nets are spread. The work of rescue begins. One by one the guests are brought to safety.

CHAPTER III.

But where is the captain? He has called for volunteers. Four of the bravest spirits rally around him. He rallies around himself. Then, with a shout they all disappear into the smoke.

Baffled, they return for a breath of pure air.

Again, and yet again they plunge into the seething, flaming throat of death, but in vain. The fourth time, they are nerved by desperation. They do not return.

Are they lost? Where, oh, where is this heroic band?

Just as hope has vanished, a cheer arises. The four stagger into the street and fall, overcome by smoke. Then comes the captain, his rubber boots giving forth a faint perfume of attar of roses, his face blackened his hands scorched, bearing in his arms—the license. "Saved at last," he mutters, and the crowd cheers him to the echo.

Ghastly he rushes to the drug store. He telephones to Dr. Pyne. The Doctor shaves and takes a bath, then puts the receiver to his ear.

"Hello," he sweetly says.

"Hello, Doc."

"What can I do, gracious master?" returns the great statesman, trembling.

"I have saved Jimson's license. Wake up the License Board and order them to give it to Barton. He changed 16 votes last year. Hesitate at your peril."

The Captain hangs up the receiver and returns to the street. The fire is out. The horses jog slowly back to the station.

Three o'clock. The firemen are asleep in their iron beds, and Policeman O'Finnigan is asleep on the beat. Such is life in a great city.

SIGNS THAT EXTEND OVER PAVEMENT TO BE REMOVED

According to the Bylaw Which Was Passed—Will the By-laW Be Enfored?

Dear Sir,—Under the provisions of Bylaw No. 1285 no person is allowed to erect or continue any projecting sign which shall extend over any street or sidewalk, unless it is an illuminated sign approved of by myself, and I beg to notify you that your sign does not comply with the terms of this bylaw, and must be removed before April 1 next.

T. A. S. HAY,
City Engineer.

The above is a copy of a notice that was handed to those business men who have signs that come within the condemnation of the above. P. C. Adams has delivered 49 of them already to-day, and there are still a great number more. One of those who received a notification said that he would not take his sign down, and would go to law about it first. Whether he was serious in his remarks is not known. The question now is, will the bylaw be enforced.

IDEAL CONDITIONS FOR A GOOD MARKET

Farmers Brought Large Quantities of Eggs to the City and a Decided Slump in Prices Resulted.

This morning the weather was ideal for market purposes and a large number of farmers took advantage of it to visit the city. The feature of the market to-day was the decline in the price of butter and eggs, those articles about which every housewife is solicitous to provide herself with. Last week a weakening in the high prices was noticed and this morning realized this anticipation. Eggs retailed at 24 and 25 cents and butter sold at 26 and 27 cents. This is an appreciable slump from the buyers' standpoint, but doubtless the farmers are quite too pleased with it. The outside market was also large, the supplies of beef, pork, potatoes, apples, etc., being quite abundant. Potatoes sold at 90 cents a bag and the meat remained at the same price. The following are some of the quotations:

Potatoes, per bag	90	to
Apples, per bag	1 00	to	1 25
Onions, per peck	25
Beets, per peck	15
Cabbage, per head	5
Parsnips, per peck	15

Eggs, per doz	24	to	25
Chickens, per pair	65	to	1 00
Hay, per ton	11 00	to	14 00
Pork, per lb.	10	to	11

SUN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA

Evidence Before the Royal Commission Has Proved Best Advertisement Company Ever Had.

COMMENT BY THE MANAGEMENT.

The four months which have elapsed since the close of the session of the Royal Commission have shown that the enquiry has been of untold value to the Sun Life of Canada. The evidence brought out as never before its great strength, the high quality and absolute safety of its investments, their profitable character, the large profits paid to its policyholders, and the good faith of its directors and officers. Now that the full report has been issued, the management note with satisfaction that the criticisms of the company are few. It is true that the commissioners felt compelled to find some fault, but most of the points mentioned are of very minor import.

The commissioners "do not find any necessity for the increase of capital stock in 1897," from $500,0000 subscribed, $75,000 paid up, to $700,000 subscribed, $105,000 paid up, as at present.

Several of the States which we desired to enter required a minimum paid-up capital of $100,000. Even apart from this, however, and even if it were granted that the increase was not absolutely necessary, that it was highly desirable can hardly be doubted. In 1897 the company had policy liabilities of about $7,000,000, and to-day these liabilities are about $23,000,000. The disparity between liabilities of $23,000,000 and a capital of $75,000 need not be dwelt on. Few, will, we think, agree with the commissioners in considering the increase to $105,000 unwise. The management does not favour excessive capitalization, but it is of opinion that if the capital of the company be open to criticism, it is because it is too small rather than too large.

Reference is made to the fact that the company pays dividends to its shareholders of fifteen per cent. True. But that this may be seen in its real proportions it is only necessary to state that these yearly dividends since 1897 have been but $15,750, and as the capital itself earned at least five per cent. only $10,500 per annum came from the profits of the company. The actual profit earned last year was $921,721.34. Was $10,500 an excessive sum to pay from this to the shareholders, who stand as guarantors to the policyholders, not merely for $105,00, but for $700,000 of subscribed capital?

But if fault be found with the increase of capital, the terms upon which the extra stock was issued should, in fairness, be stated. For each share on which but $15 was paid up ($100 subscribed), the company received in hard cash $45, or three hundred per cent. Dividends have been paid only on the $15, not on the $45. At five per cent. interest, the $45 earned the entire dividend, so that the additional stock has not cost the policyholders one dollar since it was issued in 1897, and so long as five per cent. interest can be earned, it will not cost them one dollar for all time to come, unless the rate of dividend be increased. By the issue of this stock, $90,000 of additional cash was paid in for the security of the policyholders, of which $60,000 (the premium) went into the general surplus, and the shareholders also became liable for another $170,000 of subscribed but uncalled stock, and all this has cost the policyholders for the ten years — ABSOLUTELY NOTHING!

Another point that might in fairness have been mentioned is that although the charter leaves the decision of what amounts shall be paid to shareholders absolutely to the discretion of the directors, that proportion has been voluntarily reduced to five per cent., the policyholders receiving 95 per cent., although the usual proportions are 10 and 90. The interests of the policyholders have always been first with the Sun Life of Canada.

A few other unimportant matters are also referred to. The so-called "concealed" expenses consist principally of small expenses connected with certain securities which were, as we consider correctly, deducted from the profit made from the sale of these securities. This is certainly the course which nine out of ten bookkeepers would consider right. However, these matters were all explained in detail, and we think satisfactorily, at the sittings of the commission, and were fully reported in the press. The public are the real judges in this matter, and that the public were eminently satisfied with the company's evidence has been shown by showers of congratulations. The investigation has, in fact, proved a huge advertisement for the company—the best in its entire history—because the facts brought out met with the approval of the public. Under these circumstances we are well satisfied, even though the commission have not seen eye to eye with us on some minor points.

ARM CAUGHT IN BELT INJURIES PROVED FATAL

Mr. William G. Spence, an Electrician of Peterborough Light and Power Co., Met With a Terrible Accident Yesterday Afternoon at No. 2 Power House.

ALONE AT TIME OF ACCIDENT

Mr. Wm. G. Spence, an electrician, in the employ of the Peterborough Light and Power Co., was so badly injured in an accident at No. 2 power house yesterday afternoon, that he died last night at 9 o'clock in the Nicholls Hospital. The accident occurred shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon and was caused by Mr. Spence's arm being caught in a belt attached to a grindstone in the basement of the power house, which is the one immediately above the Quaker Oats Co.'s factory.

Mr. Spence was on duty at the power house yesterday and was alone at the time when the accident happened. It is thought that he was attempting to throw a belt on the grindstone in the basement of the building, and that his arm was caught and he was whirled around in the belt, evidently striking his head on the floor, as he sustained a bad bruise over his eye. The belt broke, releasing the unfortunate man, who managed to make his way upstairs and to the front door of the building, where he was found a short time afterwards.

About 1 o'clock, Mr. Matthew Young, who has charge of the stoplogs in the new dam, sent his little son, about nine years of age, down to the lower power house to obtain some information as to the condition of the water there. The boy was unable to locate Mr. Spence for some time, but at last found him lying at the door.

The little fellow quickly brought his father to the scene. Dr. Greer was summoned at once and attended to his injuries at the power house, after which he was conveyed to the Nicholls Hospital in the Dan Spence ambulance.

Mr. Spence's injuries were very serious. His left arm was crushed almost to a pulp as far as the shoulder, necessitating amputation. In addition to this, several ribs were broken, and one of them penetrated the lungs, causing internal hemmorhage, which, with the shock, was the cause of death.

The late Mr. Spence was well known in this city and had a large number of friends to whom the intelligence of his tragic death came as a shock. He was the second son of the late Samuel Spence, and was born in South Dummer 38 years ago. He had been a resident of Peterborough for about fifteen years and was in the employ of the Peterborough Light & Power Co. for a considerable number of years. The deceased was a Methodist in religion and was unmarried. He is survived by two sisters and two brothers. They are Mr. Stanley Spence, city, and Rev. Robt. G. Spence, Winnipeg, and Mrs. H. A. Fife and Mrs. R. G. Ritchie, city.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon, at 2.30 o'clock, from the residence of his sister, Mrs. H. A. Fife, 77 Harvey street, to Little Lake Cemetery.

Unique Business Journey Through Four Continents

Mr. Chas. Tucker, of Reid Street, Just Returned Home—Saw the Old Home of the Late President Kruger and the Battle Field of Colenzo—British Rule in South Africa a Success—Brazil and the Argentine Visited.

Seldom it is that business takes a man through such a world-wide journey, as that which has just been completed by Mr. Charles Tucker, 543 Reid street, traveller for the Sherwin-Williams Paint Company, of Montreal. About a year and a half ago he left Peterborough on this extended trip and returned to Peterborough the other day. During that period of time he has been on four continents. He has travelled through the famous coffee fields of Brazil and the grain-clad regions of Argentina. He has visited South Africa, and gazed upon the battlefields of one of the greatest wars of recent times, and has sailed upon the Atlantic and Indian Oceans, the Red and the Mediterranean Seas, and spent a few days in the world's metropolis—London.

South America

His itinerary through South America lasted for more than half a year. The only countries that he visited were Brazil and the Argentine Republic. Although these were quiet yet in northwestern part of Brazil there were rumours of revolution floating about. Brazil is the great coffee country of South America, and coffee is the chief export. Argentine like Canada, is noted for its grain and cattle. Mr. Tucker visited Buenos Ayres, one of the finest cities on that continent, with a population of 1,0000,000.

South Africa

From South America he crossed the Atlantic and landed at Cape Town, South Africa, and worked his way up through that war-famed country to the historic towns of Johannesburg, Kimberley, Ladysmith, Pretoria, and others. Mr. Tucker says that the Boers are now quite satisfied with British rule.

The times are rather hard, due, Mr. Tucker states, to the invasions of people during and shortly after the war when plenty of money was floating about. The Boers have now an independent Government, with General Botha, president, and a number of other prominent generals, assisting. The elections have been held there since Mr. Tucker left.

Some Historic Places

Mr. Tucker had the good fortune to see the former home of the late President Kruger. It still stands in Pretoria, the capital of the Transvaal, and is a modest little wooden cottage, with a history. The Parliament Buildings are also situated in Pretoria. Johannesburg is the largest city in South Africa, with about 100,000 of a population.

The Tugela Reverse

The traveller visited the famous battlefield of Colenzo, on the Tugela River, where the British forces under General Buller, first met a serious reverse. "All traces of a battle would be eliminated," he said, "were it not for the monuments that stood to mark the graves of the dead warriors." It was at the battle of Colenzo, too, that the son of Lord Roberts was wounded in making an attempt to capture the guns taken by the Boers.

Ladysmith and Kimberley were also visited by Mr. Tucker, and if space would permit some very interesting reminiscences of them might be told.

The Homeward Cruise

On leaving South Africa Mr. Tucker sailed up the east coast of that continent, through the Red Sea, Suez Canal, Mediterranean Sea, and Strait of Gibraltar, and again into the Atlantic, and home by way of London. He has undoubtedly completed a remarkable journey and has seen sights which the majority of us are only permitted to read about.

Inspector Reports On Peterborough Gaol

Total Cost of Maintenance Last Year Was $2,310.29—Decrease of Crime in the Province Reported—Less Than Half as Many Murders as in 1905.

Examiner Special.

Toronto, March 11.—In the Legislative Assembly this afternoon the annual report of the Inspector of Prisons and Reformatories was presented by the Provincial Secretary. In his introduction, Dr. R. Bruce Smith, the Inspector, makes some interesting observations in reference to the details of the management of the jails and lock-ups of the Province. The total expenditure for jail maintenance in Ontario in 1906 was $158,174.10, as compared with $163,268.44 in the preceding year. The average cost per day for prisoners in 1906 was 22 cents, a decrease of three cents from that of 1905.

The people of Ontario are evidently becoming better, the report showing that during last year there was a decrease of 225 in the number of persons committed to jails and lock-ups.

Another evidence of the decrease of crime is furnished by the fact that in 1906 there were only 24 commitments for murder, as compared with 52 in 1905. There were, however, four more commitments for manslaughter last year.

Notwithstanding the decrease above noted, the fact remains that, with a population of little over two millions, there were nearly 11,000 persons during the past year committed to the jails of the Province. This may well call for both consideration and comment. That the question is a practical, not a sentimental one, is shown by the large expenditure annually to maintain the prison system of Ontario. The depredations and non-productiveness of the criminal class would largely increase the expenditures, to say nothing of the direct expense to the family and the pecuniary loss to the community of each individual as a producer.

Referring to the maintenance and record of the Peterborough jail, the report states that during last year 177 prisoners were committed, and of these, 149 were maintained by the municipalities. The cost of food, fuel and clothing amounted to $891.04, and the total expenditure was $2,310.29.

OPENING AN INQUEST ON HIS DEATH

Jury Will Hear Evidence in Circumstances Connected With Death of Thomas Howard at Norwood.

This afternoon an inquest opened in the Norwood town hall, in connection with the death of Thomas Howard, the young Englishman, who passed away suddenly on Thursday.

On Saturday Mr. George Cochrane went to Norwood to institute an investigation, and the result of what he found was such that he decided that an inquest should be held and empanelled the following jury:—Messrs. George E. Mills, A R Greenbanks, E P Coffe, Thos. Waller, J L Squires, W H Stevenson, A S Harrison, H G Buck, John McLaughlin, George Duffield, Chas. McDonald, J W Ronke and W H Tucker.

Coroner Gray is conducting the inquest, evidence in which is being being taken this afternoon. The body, at the instance of Mr. Cochrane has been exhumed, and the jury viewed it this afternoon before the opening of the inquest.

Mr. Cochrane declined to state the nature of the disclosures which his investigation had resulted in, preferring to wait until the evidence brought it out at the inquest.

MADE IN BELFAST

The Heart of a Good Garment Comes From the Land of Erin

"The true-hearted Irishman," has become an accepted phrase the world over, for the native-born son of Erin, is a man full of kindly sentiment and warm hearted zeal in his friendships.

The Irish Industrials are known the world over for the sterling quality of their products. The heart of the Semi-ready garment is built on Irish Linen Canvas, and the inward construction which is so important in holding the shape and style of the coat is of Irish manufacture.

"We could save a dollar on every coat by using cheap material in the hidden parts of a suit, but we use the Belfast quality which makes for higher standards," said the president of Semi-ready. The Semi-ready frock coats hold their shape always, because they are built on good Irish fabrics within.

GALT GIRL VISITING HERE LOSES WATCH

And Writes to the Chief of Police to Ask for It's Return—Her First Visit to the City

Chief Roszel has received a letter from Galt, the writer, a young girl, stating that on a visit to Peterborough last week, she had lost her watch, which was of gun metal, with a fob, on which was engraved the initials, "G. H. D." She stated that she was in the city for the first time and did not know the streets very well, but that she thought the watch was lost between the station (she did not say which station) and the steam laundry. If anyone has found the watch she will be very glad to receive it back, as it was given her for a Christmas present and, of course, prized highly.

FROM THE GROUND UP

It is a far cry from July 22, 1709, when, at latitude 52 degrees north, longitude 128.2 west, Sir Alexander Mackenzie, the great Northwest explorer, wrote on the face of the British Columbia rock, the record of his reaching the Pacific Ocean, and 1907, the date when in the same vicinity a foundation is being laid for one of the greatest cities in Western Canada, Prince Rupert, the occidental terminus of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. The enterprise of the seventh year of Grace of the twentieth century in piercing the Yellowhead Pass with a railway and building a city on Tuck's Inlet known hereafter by the romantic cognomen, Prince Rupert, is a case of history repeating itself, for Mackenzie went through the same pass or at least, the Peace River Pass, and probably made the same spot the terminus of his transcontinental journey to the Pacific. This journey of the 18th century revealed not only the possibility and necessity of the Grand Trunk Pacific, but two other continental railways, the logical sequence of his discovery of the illimitable resources of the vast continent within a continent now generally known as the Canadian Northwest. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's epigrammatic prophecy that the Nineteenth century had belonged to the United States, but that the Twentieth century belongs to Canada, is happy, in not only the sense of initial realization in the way of progress but in learning a lesson from the Nineteenth century. In the United States there is no little agitation in railway circles over the "Harriman deals" which represent the great railway buccaneer's aim to bring into being a transcontinental railway system under single management, doing business from ocean to ocean. Canada has taken the lesson from the experience of the United States and has built one great railway system, has another half completed and a third surveyed and well under contract, reaching from ocean to ocean—a triple span of steel rails, representing, with their branches, more than half the circuit of the globe. The Grand Trunk Pacific enters upon its great enterprise with distinct advantage. It has 3,000 miles of virgin route and original conditions to deal with. It can profit from the experience and even mistakes of its predecessors and build with a view of making its system the model of all that is best in railway construction and equipment up to the present. That it will take advantage of these advantages is pretty certain. We read in history of barbarous invaders, conquering kings and warrior despots building cities to plan and order as one would build a barn or house. Herein, as in the case of Mackenzie's journey, history will repeat itself. In the past the great cities that stud the face of this continent have grown. The Grand Trunk Pacific is creating a city at its Western terminus, Prince Rupert. The railway found a splendid site very much in the condition Sir Alexander Mackenzie found it and left it one hundred and four years ago. Here is one of the finest harbours in the world—seven miles long and two miles wide—with the water at low tide twenty feet deep and at high tide forty feet. Within twenty feet of the shore the water is twenty feet in depth. This harbour resembles the route of the Trent Canal; it is land-locked. It is sheltered from ocean gales, by Digby Island, about fifty square miles in area, belonging to the Grand Trunk Pacific, and possessing, as a writer says, "golden possibilities" as a future pleasure resort. The City of Prince Rupert is already being built. It will be provided with all the facilities of modern civilization, so that passengers on the first through Transcontinental train to arrive at Prince Rupert will alight in a modern city with streets, squares, public buildings, electric lights, telephones and all modern conveniences. It is well worth while, for Prince Rupert will be the great gateway to the East. It is five hundred miles nearer to Hong Kong and Tokio than any other Pacific port.

Social Evening

Court Stanley, A. O. F., will hold a social evening in the S. O. E. Hall to-morrow night, for the members and their gentlemen friends. Games and a choice programme of instrumental music has been provided. Bro. H. C. Wilson of Toronto, High Court Treasurer, will give an address, so let there be a good turn out of the members and their friends. There will be no admission fee; everybody welcomed, and a pleasant evening is expected for all who attend, as the committee have arranged a choice programme.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

We often complain of the yellow of many American journals rubbing off upon Canadian journals and contaminating them. But by no means all United States newspapers are "yellow." There is a growing sentiment in the United States for clean journalism. An evidence of this is the fact of the receipt of a copy of the Detroit Saturday Night, modelled in style, print, paper and character on Canada's excellent weekly, Toronto Saturday Night. The compliment to the latter is all the greater since the Detroit journal mentioned is the third in the United States to be issued after the style of make-up and general excellence of our own superior class journal. The Detroiter is well written throughout, its first page articles being especially crisp and fetching in sentiment and style.

NORTH DAKOTA SUITS HIM WELL

Mr. John Crough, a Native of Ennismore, Has Spent Twelve Years in the West—Now Home for a Visit

LIVES NEAR THE BOUNDARY

"Ennismore is all right as a place to come and visit for a short time, but as a place to live, I prefer North Dakota." This is the opinion expressed to-day to the Examiner by Mr. John Crough, a son of Ennismore, but who for the last twelve years has been living at Munich, North Dakota, where he owns 400 acres of splendid wheat land.

Mr. Crough, while he is not in Manitoba is pretty close to the boundary, about as close, in fact, as he could get and still be in Dakota, and it is probable that some of the good fortune which Providence is showering on that favoured province is running across the imaginary line of the 49th parallel of latitude, marking the dividing line between the United States and Canada and and Mr. Crough is sharing in that good fortune.

He is a son of Mr. Michael Crough, of Ennismore, which township he left to go to the west to make his fortune. He took up a homestead of 160 acres and afterwards bought another farm adjoining, this present holdings amounting to the 400 acres referred to. The value set on this land is $25 an acre, so that it can be seen that his twelve years spent in the west have not been spent in vain.

Like all sensible men Mr. Crough is married. He has taken in bright western girl for a wife and brought her with him on this, his first visit to his old home since he left for the west. Mr. and Mrs. Crough will leave again for the west on Tuesday.

PAID A TRIBUTE TO MISS MAXWELL

Brave Montreal School Teacher Who Gave Her Life for Her Pupils Extolled at St. Luke's Yesterday.

PRACTICAL SERMON GIVEN

At the morning service yesterday, the rector, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, preached his sermon, with an eloquent tribute to Miss Maxwell, of Hochelaga, in her heroic effort to save the little children committed to her care.

He contrasted this noble deed with the sad and loathsome antics of the man, Thaw, who is fighting for his life in the courts of New York, in whose behalf the forces of wealth are arrayed to have him escape the just sentence of death for the murder of a man killed in passion and lust for the sake of a profligate woman. In this age of selfishness and cruelty, it is refreshing to see the Divine Image reproduced in some of us, as it was in Miss Maxwell, who gave her life for the little ones whom their parents had entrusted to her.

The congregations at St. Luke's were very large yesterady. At the evening service "The Story of the Cross" was sung. The rector preached on "Worldliness," taking his text from II. Timothy, iv., 9-10. He defined worldliness as "living for the world, and the world only." "Let us eat and drink, for to-morrow we die." It means stifling all one's higher instincts and trampling down one's better nature. It means as though this world were the stage on which we are to play our parts through all eternity, instead of being merely the training ground for the higher life to come. It means joining in the mad race for wealth, determined, by any means, fair or foul, to scrape together a competence. It means living as if pleasure were the highest aim and end in life. It means caring only for the world's opinion—bowing down before and accepting its decision, even where these clash with the statutes of God. It means recognizing the claims the world has on us, but ignoring God's claims. Some people have no difficulty whatever in defining "worldliness." By them, "worldliness" is explained. Of course, going to races, and theatres, and balls,—there you have it.

Mr. Langfeldt said that he was not concerned to deny that we find worldly people at these places, but he did deny that "worldliness" consists exclusively in those things. And what he said was that there are hundreds of people who have never been on a race course, and who do not know what the inside of a ballroom or of a theatre is like, who are intensely worldly, for all that.

After explaining how the good world could be enjoyed, he closed with urging his people to remember the higher object of one's life. There is not required of any Christian any hypocritical profession of contempt for the world, but there is required from all a serious reflection upon the fact that we carry latent within us the powrr of an endless life. Filled with this thought, lifted above the world by it, we shall so live in the world that, by God's grace, we shall be kept from the evil.

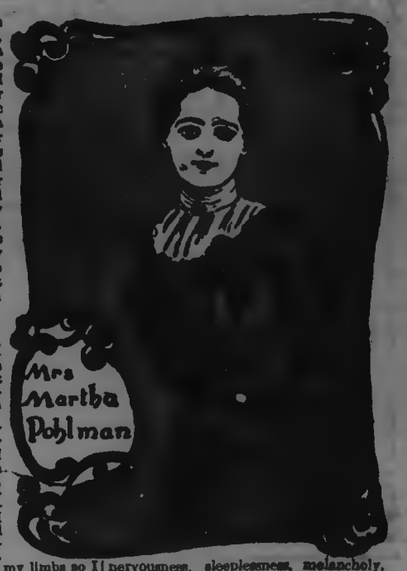
MOVEMENT TO MAKE BETTER ROADS

Farmers' Advocate Offers $100 in Prizes for Best Earth Roads—Two Sets of Prizes to be Given.

In order to start a movement to improve the condition of earth roads in Ontario, "The Farmer's Advocate," in co-operation with the Public Works Department of the Ontario Government, is offering $100 in prizes for the best results from a season's use of the inexpensive implement called the split-log drag. There are two sets of prizes one for the eastern and one for the western part of the province. The first prize in each case is $25, second prize $15, and third prize $10. There is no fee to enter, and the conditions are very simple. The judging will be done by A. W. Campbell, Good Roads Commissioner. Fuller particulars may be obtained by dropping a card to "The Farmer's Advocate," London, Ont. The entries for this exceedingly interesting and practical competition will close on March 27th.

A TRAINED NURSE

After Years of Experience, Advises Women in Regard to Their Health.



Mrs. Martha Pohlman of 55 Chester Avenue, Newark, N. J., who is a graduate Nurse from the Blockley Training School at Philadelphia, and for six years Chief Clinic Nurse at the Philadelphia Hospital, writes the letter printed below. She has the advantage of personal experience, besides her professional education and what she has to say may be absolutely relied upon.

Many other women are afflicted as she was. They can regain health in the same way. It is prudent to heed such advice from such a source.

Mrs. Pohlman writes:

"I am firmly persuaded, after eight years of experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that it is the safest and best medicine for any suffering woman to use.

"Immediately after my marriage I found that my health began to fail me. I became weak and pale, with severe bearing-down pains, fearful backaches and frequent dizzy spells. The doctors prescribed for me, yet I did not improve. I would bloat after eating and frequently become nauseated. I had pains down through my limbs so I could hardly walk. It was as bad a case of female trouble as I have ever known. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, however, cured me within four months. Since that time I have had occasion to recommend it to a number of patients suffering from all forms of female difficulties, and I find that while it is considered unprofessional to recommend a patent medicine, I can honestly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for I have found that it cures female ills, where all other medicine fails. It is a grand medicine for sick women."

Money cannot buy such testimony as this—merit alone can produce such results, and the ablest specialists now agree that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most universally successful remedy for all female diseases known to medicine.

When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful periods, weakness, displacement or ulceration of the female organs, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, backache, bloating (or flatulence), general debility, indigestion, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, melancholy, nervousness, sleeplessness, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles.

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement.

The needless suffering of women from diseases peculiar to their sex is terrible to see. The money which they pay to doctors who do not help them is an enormous waste. The pain is cured and the money is saved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

It is well for women who are ill to write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., The present Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, her assistant for many years before her decease, and for twenty-five years since her advice has been freely given to sick women. In her great experience, which covers many years, she has probably had to deal with dozens of cases just like yours. Her advice is strictly confidential.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds where Others Fail.

HOW YOU GET CONSUMPTION.

Most "lungers" allowed their power of resistance to fall very low. Favorable conditions were provided for the development of the baccilli. Consumption was the result.

But in a healthy body Consumption can't take root. The most potent health-maker is Ferrozone. Take it regularly and you needn't fear tuberculosis.

FERROZONE

Supplies exactly what the man verging on Consumption needs. It forms rich, nutritious blood, strengthens the nerves, puts vim and endurance into every organ of the body.

For the tired, weak—anyone in poor health—Ferrozone is worth its weight in gold. Avoid substitutes!

Mr. Beall in Welland

Mr. Arthur W. Beall, M.A., Peterborough, has been in town during the past week in connection with the White Cross department of the Ontario W.C.T.U. Mr. Beall has spoken to boys of both the Public and High Schools and the young men of the Y.M.C.A. twice. His addresses have been of that quiet but imperative character and were of great benefit to his listeners. His subject of "Purity" gave him a wide field for doing good, and he took advantage of his opportunity. Parents should be grateful to Mr Beall for his kindly and thoughtful way of bringing this very important topic before our boys and young men, and great credit is reflected on our local W.C.T.U., who were the means of bringing Mr. Beall to Welland.—Welland People's Press.

Baby Was Choking With Cold in Chest

PARENTS IN GREAT ANXIETY, BUT QUICK RELIEF AND CURE RESULTED FROM USE OF

DR. CHASE'S SYRUP OF LINSEED AND TURPENTINE

Mr. W. F. Smith, 364 Nepean street Ottawa, Ont., writes: "My sister's little baby, Albert McDermott, four months of age, was so bad with a cold on the chest that we were afraid he would choke to death. Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine was obtained, and I am happy to say that it brought relief almost at once.

"The baby was completely cured by the use of three bottles, and my sister and her husband are very grateful for this cure. We shall all recommend this great medicine."

Under few circumstances does a mother feel herself so anxious and so helpless as when the child in whom her hopes are centred is seized with croup or bronchitis and struggles in vain to get its breath.

It is then she asks, "What is the most effective treatment I can buy?" and probably remembers what her friends have told her about keeping Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine in the house for use in just such emergencies.

Any cough mixture the dealer may offer is not good enough in the face of serious illness. You insist on having Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, because it has been proven by the test of time to be the most certain cure for croup, bronchitis and severe chest colds.

Children like to take Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, and being composed of simple vegetable ingredients, it is well suited for their use. 25 cents a bottle, family size, 60 cents. At all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. To protect you against imitations, the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every bottle.—6.

LADIES PREVENTED A RUNAWAY

Serious Accident Narrowly Averted a Stewart's Otonabee

Examiner Special.

Stewart's, Otonabee. — The young peoples' meeting was held as usual this week, and was well attended. It was principally Bible study, and a very profitable evening was spent. Mr. Mervin Devell and Mr. Oswald Gibbs gave very interesting papers on the Endeavour topics. The Misses Thorne sang, a duet, and Mr. Clayton Hanbidge also sang.

Mr. John Devell held a sale of all his farm stock and implements on Tuesday. The sale was one of the largest of the season.

We are glad to learn that Major Stewart has recovered and is now able to be around once more.

What might have proved a serious accident occurred on Tuesday afternoon. Two young ladies were driving a spirited horse when from some unknown cause it took fright and started off at an unusual gait. Before long it had upturned the cutter and its contents. We congratulate the young ladies on their skill and bravery as they escaped without any injuries, and prevented what from appearances was destined to be a runaway accident.

Miss Helen Hanbidge is visiting in the city this week.

Three valuable grays left our neighbourhood this week. Our farmers are becoming quite prominent in their select standard of horses.

Mr. Melville Stewart has returned from Ottawa where he spent a few days.

Mr. R. A. Devell and family gave an oyster supper to their friends on Friday evening on Friday evening. A large number was present from Monahgan, Otonabee and Peterborough and a very pleasant time was spent with games and music.

We welcome to our vicinity Mr. Jas. Long and family, who have recently moved to our Settlement.

PIANO RECITAL AT THE CONSERVATORY

Pupils of Mr. Gliddon Gave Splendid Programme on Saturday Afternoon

Under the direction of Mr. Gliddon a delightful piano recital was given at the Conservatory of Music on Saturday afternoon, commencing at 4 o'clock, by his younger pupils. The various selections showed the results of careful training and were thoroughly appreciated by the parents and friends of the youthful musicians present. They were ably assisted by Misses Annie Sisson, Laura Edwards, Beatrice Stark and Agnes Hall, pianists, and Miss Julia Choate, soprano soloist. Each number was rendered in a manner creditable to both teacher and pupil, and the recital was, indeed, commendable. The pianists, in their various renditions, demonstrated remarkable ability for musicians so young, and were complimented on their excellent work.

The opening number on the programme was a piano duet, "Joyeux Retour," by Rizaut, by Misses Edwina Palmer and Janet Titterson, and it proved to be a number most the least enjoyed. Master Clayton Anderson contributed a piano solo, "Peasant Dance," by Nolak, very creditably. This was followed by a delightful soprano solo, "Dawn," by Miss Julia Choate, the possessor of a promising voice of excellent quality. Miss Mary Gibson, a pianiste who gives promise of large things, rendered a charming piano solo, "Heimweh." The next contribution was a piano solo, "The Russian Dance," delightfully presented by Miss Marion Kendry, who realized the highest expectations of her admirers. Miss Janet Titterson was again heard in a piano solo, "Cavaletta," and her performance of this was a fine expression of musical sentiment, effectively observing the graduations of tone. Mendelssohn's song without words, "Hope," was charmingly presented by Miss Edwina Palmer, as well as a transcription "Evening Star," by Wagner-Liszt, by Miss Agnes Hall. Nevin's "Shepherds All and Maiden's Fair," was given a delightful rendition by Miss Annie Sisson, and the recital was concluded by a unique presentation of the "Magic Flute," an overture, by Mozar, arranged for two pianos and eight hands. The participants in this were Misses A. Hall, Beatrice Stark, Laura Edwards and Annie Sisson, and they performed their parts in a meritorious manner. In a word, the various numbers were of a particularly excellent character and again afforded evidence of an able equipment of teachers at the Conservatory of Music.

THE HAIR BRUSH

Breeds Dandruff, Which Causes Failing Hair and Finally Baldness

Pro. Unna, Hamburg, Germany, European authority on skin diseases, says that dandruff is as contagious as any other malevolent disease, and that one common source of the spread of dandruff is the use of the same hair brush by different persons. The way to avoid catching dandruff or any other disease from another's brush, is to insist on the use of Newbro's Herpicide. It not only kills the dandruff germ, but it is also an antiseptic that will prevent the catching of any disease whatever through contagion of another's brush. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. The Market Drug Store (late Ormond & Walsh).

Churches Going After The City's Young Men

First of a Series of Entertainments Designed to Interest Them, to be Held Shortly in St. Andrew's Church.

For the young men of the city, who have no regular church, or who do not attend divine service, the churches are making special efforts. It is understood that on Tuesday, March 19th, in St. Andrew's Hall, a meeting under the auspices of the Young Men's Guild, the first of a series of meetings, will be held.

This meeting will take the nature of a debate, and will be between debaters chosen from the membership of the Guild and the Y. M. C. A. Debating Club. A popular subject will be chosen for the debate, and an interesting evening is in prospect.

The young ladies are helping in this effort, too, and on this occasion the members of the Daughters of Erin, of St. Andrew's church, will provide refreshments for the young men, to whom this feature will no doubt give additional interest.

Other churches will continue the work, and entertainments of varied character will be given during the next few months.

Peterborough People At The Royal Reception

Mr. and Mrs. Fred. H. Dixon at the Reception Tendered Duke and Duchess of Connaught, at Hong Kong.

WAS A BRILLIANT EVENT

A copy of the Hong Kong Daily Express, dated February 8th, has been received by Mrs. Hugh Davidson, Aylmer street, from her son-in-law, Mr. Fred H. Dixon, formerly of this city, and now cashier of the Sun Life Insurance Company, of Canada, in that important Chinese city. This paper gives a lengthy report of the visit of Their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, and the Princess Patricia to the capital of the Chinese Empire.

Mr. and Mrs. Dixon, as British subjects, were honoured with invitations to be present at the royal reception at Government House, their names appearing among the list of invited guests. This event is described as a brilliant gathering and was attended by the elite of the city.

In letters received from Mr. and Mrs. Dixon they state that they are delighted with their new home, both from a business and social standpoint. Hong Kong they describe as a most interesting city and the numerous social events which they have been privileged to participate in have served to make their residence there most enjoyable.

To Worthily Honour Worthy And Most Popular Citizen

A Complimentary Banquet Will be Tendered Mr. R. M. Dennistoun by Prominent Citizens, Prior to His Departure from the City for Winnipeg.

APRIL 2nd IS THE DATE

A number of gentlemen, comprising our most prominent citizens, met at the Peterborough Club rooms on Saturday evening, with the object of considering and arranging the tendering of a complimentary citizens' banquet to Mr. R. The project was very heartily entered into and arrangements completed for holding the banquet on Tuesday evening, April 2, at the Oriental Hotel.

The following gentlemen were appointed members of the Honorary Committee: Messrs. R R Hall, M.P.; T E Bradburn, M.P.P.; His Honour Judge Weller, His Worship Mayor McWilliams, Dr. J T S Halliday, W G Ferguson, W G Morrow, Hugh Waddell, A H Stratton, T F Matthews, W. H. Denham, F D Kerr, L M Hayes, J Hampden Burnham, D Hughes Charles, J E Belcher, R A Morrow, W H Meldrum, W H Hill, H Lebrun, F H Dobbin, Jas. Hendry, Hon. J R Stratton, E G Patterson, Dr. R J Dunner, D O'Connel, T H G Deane, Robert Fair, Peter Campbell.

The toast list was prepared, and the proposers and responders selected. Hon. J. R. Stratton was appointed chairman, Mr. Peter Campbell, vice-chairman, and Mr. Robert Fair, honorary secretary.

It was arranged that the attendance be limited to one hundred covers. Any citizen desiring to be present may procure cards representing $2.00, from Mr. Robert Fair, honorary secretary, and these will be issued in order of application, so that all who apply in time will be welcomed, and any person who may be late will be able to place the blame upon himself.

It is anticipated that the gathering will be one of the most successful of its kind in the history of the city, principally because it would be difficult to find a resident or native of Peterborough who, by virtue of his high qualities of character, professionally, and as a gentleman and citizen, would be more worthy of the honour which will be placed upon him. He is a native of the city, who, from his earliest days to the present, in all the varied relations of an active life, has fulfilled their respective duties in a manner to win universal esteem and respect.

Evangelistic Services In George Street Church

Special services of an evangelistic nature will be commenced to-night in the Sunday School room of the George street Methodist church. They will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Crothers, with what assistance he may be able to secure from surrounding circuits. The meeting will be opened to-night with a service of song, which will commence at 7.45. These services will be held each night this week except Saturday night, and will in all probability be continued for several weeks.

Bank Of Ottawa Opens New South End Branch

A Sub. Agency Established at Corner of Townsend and Rubidge Streets—Progressive Management Evidenced.

The Bank of Ottawa is making a strong bid for the banking business of the city. This morning a sub-branch of that institution was opened at the corner of Rubidge and Townsend streets, and in the future business will be carried on there during banking hours. The south end branch will no doubt prove very popular with the residents and business men of that part of the city. It will be manned from the city branch and will be conducted as a sub-agency.

It is also understood that the bank management have in contemplation a number of improvements to the city office. Details have not been worked out yet, but it is stated that within the near future some important improvements will be effected.

Mr. Hollingshead is proving himself a progressive and energetic manager.

A MILLBROOK RESIDENCE DESTROYED

Fire There on Sunday Resulted in Destruction of Residence of Dr. Deyell.

The residence of James Deyell, V.S., in Millbrook, was destroyed by fire yesterday morning. The house is situated on King street, opposite the building formerly occupied by the Western Bank. The fire originated from the coke stove, in a partition, and Dr. Deyell thought he had extinguished the flame, but shortly afterwards it broke out with a renewed vigour in the roof. The brigade was called out and did good service, but the fire had obtained such headway that it was impossible to check it.

The building was entirely destroyed with considerable of the furniture. There was insurance of $900, which will not cover the loss.

THE PAVEMENT MUST BE CLEARED OF ICE

Ultimatum Has Been Issued by Chief of Police to That Effect.

It behooves the merchants and others in the business section of the city to get busy with their snow shovels, scrapers, etc., and have the pavement in front of their places of business cleared of ice and slush at once. The chief of police has issued an ultimatum to the effect that every portion of the street in the business section must be cleared before noon to-morrow and those who do not do the work, or have it done, will find themselves the central figures in police court cases.

By business section, is meant George street, from King street to Murray, Water street from Charlotte to Brock street; the cross streets from Water to Aylmer, and Hunter street as far east as Queen street.

EXAMPLE OF "MORTON'S FORK"

You Will be Fined if You Do Not Clean the Sidewalk, and also if You Injure the Granolithic in Doing So.

The sidewalks bylaw was enforced this morning when Mr. John Noonan was charged with having unlawfully injured a granolithic sidewalk of this city on March 6th, contrary to Bylaw 894. He pleaded guilty, and said that he had received a warning to clear the ice of the pavement in front of 301 George street, and did so that evening. While thus engaged in the dark he chipped the granolithic. It was a case of the drop of blood. The accused was somewhat surprised when he was asked if he wanted to pay $50.00. He answered with a strong neagtive; but he did not escape Scot free, as a fine of $5 was imposed.

John Kelly, a man from Trenton, answered to a charge of being drunk and disorderly in a very feeble condition. He was fined $5, being a Sunday drunk. He appeared to be quite ill, and his "toot" cost him more than a five dollar bill.

Leslie Crouter was let go on a charge of stealing parcels from a rig. The Magistrate gave him an opportunity of making a respectable man of himself and allowed him to go without a sentence.

SPRING WEATHER BUT ICE STILL STAYS

Brock Street Rink is in Good Condition for Skating and Hockey Yet—Many Fixtures for Close of Season.

In spite of the last few days of spring weather which have been experienced recently, the ice in the Brock street rink is still in good shape. On Saturday night after the skating, a flooding was given, and again this morning early the superintendent made another application of water with the result that the ice is as good as it has been all winter. The prospects are that there will be skating for some time yet and a number of hockey games may still be played.

CAVAN MAN REFUSED TO PAY FOR PAPER

Newsboy Brought in Policeman and Was Given His Rights.

A surprised man was Mr. Winslow of Cavan on Saturday night, when P. C. McGinty arrested him at the Cavanagh House for refusing to pay a newsboy a cent for a paper. The little fellow sold him a paper, and after waiting for the money for some time asked him for it. The pay was not forthcoming after repeated petitions, and the boy decided on another means.

P. C. McGinty was brought in and arrested the man who was taken to the police station, where the newsboy got a square deal.

GRICKET MEETING TO BE HELD THURSDAY

An Effort Being Made to Revive the Grand Old Game.

A movement is on foot having for its object the revival of the grand old game of cricket in this city.

There are a number of enthusiasts who are very anxious to see this brought out. A meeting has been called for Thursday night in the Y.M.C.A. when it is expected that all those interested in the game will be present and help the movement along.

Take Subscription For New Church Erection

Some Important Announcements Made at St. Peter's Cathedral Yesterday—$2300 for Site for the New Church.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY EVENTS

Next Sunday is the feast day of St. Patrick and as such will be celebrated at St. Peter's Cathedral. The members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will attend the eight o'clock mass in a body and receive holy communion. In the evening Rev. Father Fitzpatrick of Emsmore, will deliver a special sermon, under the auspices of the A.O.H. A collection will be taken, the proceeds to be given to the St. Vincent de Paul Society.

This society is in need of funds, having distributed many charities during the past winter, and the kindness of the Hibernians will be appreciated.

It was announced yesterday that the land for the new church in the southern part of the city has been purchased, the sum of $2,300 having been paid. The location is on the corner of Romaine and Aylmer streets when the latter is extended. The lot is 230 feet by 200 feet, a little more than an acre. A subscription will be taken up in the congregation and work will be commenced as soon as possible.

Busy Season In Prospect For Chemong This Summer

Indications are already pointing to a busy season at Chemong Park summer resort this summer. Mr. George H. Brown, the former lessee, is in the city to-day and is registered at the National Hotel. In an interview this morning he stated that he had contracted for a convention of 200 persons to be held in Chemong Park to assemble on July 2nd. The convention is to be known as the Kawartha Lakes Summer School, and will be continued for a week. Mr. Brown has made arrangements with J. J. Turner & Sons, for six of the firm's finest apartment tents to be used on this occasion. Chemong Park has been selected because of its situation, being high up above fresh water level and is fanned with pine and balsam laden breezes, while an invigorating atmosphere imparts new energy to the brain, body and spirits.

Y. M. C. A. Debating Club

The subject for debate at the Y. M.C.A Debating Club on Wednesday evening, March 13th, will be:—"Resolved that Modern Inventions have not added to the Happiness of the Human Race." All young men interested are invited.

OPPOSITION TO SIGN BY-LAW

More Notices of Removal Being Handed Around—Owners May Refuse to Pull Them Down.

Similar to the old Roman custom of preparing a proscription list of those citizens who were to be put to death on the advent of a new ruler to power, a list of the names of those citizens, or, rather, business men, who have signs overhanging the sidewalk in front of their places of business is now nearly complete. The police officers have delivered written orders to these business men that the offending projections are to be taken down and the result is being awaited by the general public with interest. Some say that they will not take down the signs, and it is probable that the Council will receive opposition before the bylaw is enforced.

Business and professional men have stated that they will not take down the signs, and will appeal to the Council to have the bylaw repealed. They claim it will have the effect of making people walk out into the middle of the street to look up at the windows in the top storeys for the signs. "Opposition" seems to be the general slogan of projecting sign owners, and trouble is expected when the law begins to be enforced.

Mayor McWilliams is among the number owning projecting signs, and he has received his notice as well as the rest. It is not expected that he will object to comply with the law.

ANOTHER PIONEER CITIZEN DEPARTED

Mr. William Hamilton Passed to His Eternal Reward Saturday Evening After a Lingering Illness.

DECEASED A HIGHLY RESPECTED CITIZEN

"God's finger touched him, and he slept."—Tennyson's In Memoriam.

The death of Mr. William Hamilton removed one of the oldest and most highly esteemed of Peterborough. The deceased passed away on Saturday night at his residence at the corner of Sherbrooke and Bethune streets, after an illness of several years, and which finally claimed him.

The late Mr. Hamilton was born 70 years ago in this city, in the same house in which he passed away. His early days were spent in Peterborough, which was then not the pretentious city that it is to-day.

He was married to Mary Ellen Hayden, near Cobourg, who still survives him. Their marriage was happily blessed by five children—three sons and two daughters. They are, Messrs. W. H., Percy and Frank, and Miss Edith, who reside at the homestead on Sherbrook street, and Miss Margaret, who is teaching at Stirling.

The deceased was the proprietor of a foundry in Penelon Falls, but later removed to this city where he was connected with the Peter Hamilton Manufacturing Co. The late Mr. Hamilton has been for the past few years an invalid and while retired from active business confined his attention to horticulture. In this line he was always an adept, and distinguished himself in the success that attended his efforts; especially was he skilled in the culture of orchids. He will be greatly missed by a large number of friends, especially among the older residents of the city. His geniality and kindness appealed to all his acquaintances. Besides his immediate family there now remain to mourn his loss Mr. Peter Hamilton of this city, Mr. Jas. Hamilton, of Lindsay, and two sisters, Mrs. Robert Innes and Mrs. John Cameron, Peterborough.

The funeral was held this afternoon from the family residence, corner of Bethune and Sherbrooke streets, to the Little Lake cemetery.

$46 WERE RECEIVED BY SUNDAY SCHOOLS

For the Chinese Famine Fund—Two Methodist Sunday Schools.

At the Sunday School of George Street Methodist Church yesterday an special collection was taken up for the Chinese famine fund and a substantial sum of $40 was realized. At the Grace Church Sunday School $3 was received, making a total of $46 collected for a purpose which speaks for itself. The two schools should be commended for their ready response to the appeal for aid.

MUSIC AT ST. JOHN'S

The music yesterday at St. John's church was as follows:—

The offertory anthem at the morning service was Farrant's Lenten Anthem "Lord, for Thy Tender Mercies Sake." It is a fine example of the musical settings of the old master.

Evensong was well sung by a crowded choir. The Baritone solo from Sterndale Bennett's Oratorio "Woman of Samaria" was artistically sung by Mr. Fred C. Froeland. The words were very clear, "O Lord, Thou Hast Searched Me Out and Known Me," their intense pathos fully developed by the singer, aided by an expressive and sympathetic accompaniment on the organ.

The choir afterwards proceeded to All Saints' church to rehearse the "Crucifixion."

Re-cleaning Sidewalk

The sidewalk trouble is apparently now at an end, but in case there should be future occasion to clean off the offending ice and snow, it should be remembered that utmost care should be shown. If you do not clean the snow off you are liable to a fine, and if, in cleaning it off, you ship the pavement, you are further liable to a fine. The best course is to use simple common sense and a little patience and discretion.

A GOOD PROGRAMME AT Y.M.C.A. POP

A Varied Character Was Given the Programme—Local Artists Contributed Interesting Numbers.

The "Sixth" Pop attracted the largest attendance of the season—the Y. M. C. A. hall being well filled on Saturday night. The programme was very much enjoyed and numerous encores were in order. The numbers were varied and the entertainers excelled themselves.

As Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P. was unable to be present owing to another engagement, Mr. G. L. Galley, chairman of the Physical Committee, occupied the chair in a very capable manner.

Vocal solos were given by Misses Dawson and Chasty. Misses Crane and Robertson rendered a piano duet. Miss Bell responded to her first number with a take off on Ald. Towey's Bachelor Tax. Messrs. Thompson, Coleman and MacLaren sang humorous solos. Mr. W. Dundas proved himself an expert with the banjo.

The Mandolin Club, composed of Messrs. Holland, Cranfield, Brightman and Theobald gave a pleasing selection.

Robt. Barrowman, "the Scotch Bengough"—proved himself an excellent cartoonist and entertainer. The rapidity with which he put on his sketches, the evolutions of them and the stories sandwiched in between reminded the audience of the great Canadian cartoonist, J. W. Bengough. Mr. Barrowman also sang a Scotch song.

The entertainment closed with "God Save the King."

The attraction for the 7th Pop next Saturday evening will be "Seeing England, Ireland and Scotland," by stereopticon by Mr. F. D. Kerr. There will also be a musical programme.

CITY HOD-CARRIERS TO HOLD MEETING

A Large Attendance of Those Interested is Expected.

A meeting of the Hod-carriers of the city will be held to-morrow night at 8 o'clock in the Union Hall, over Brown's feed store on Simcoe street. Matters of the greatest importance to the hod-carriers and labourers will come up and a very large attendance is expected. It is likely that the election of officers will take place at this meeting.

Cars Totter On Bridge Over Niagara River.

CHASM OF 180 FEET DEEP

Car Jumps the Track—Tears Up Rails and Breaks Away From Train—Hangs as In a Balance Over the Edge—Was a Thrilling Spectacle—No Lives Were Lost—Damage is Several Hundred.

Niagara Falls, March 11.—A car jumped the track on the steel arch bridge of the Grand Trunk over the river, tore up the wooden filling between the heavy stringers, broke away from the train about the middle of the bridge and tottered on the edge Saturday.

The car behind it, pulled from the rails, plunged across the structure to the north side and stopped with the end hanging well out.

It seemed as though a breath would topple either car into the rapids, 180 feet below.

A New York Central switching crew took a long freight train from the Lehigh Valley yards on the American side to pull it to the Grand Trunk yards on the Canadian side.

Car Jumps the Track.

As the engine passed the water-tank switch, about 600 years from the eastern end of the bridge, an empty refrigerator car about the middle of the train left the rails. It bumped along the ties, across Lewiston avenue, tearing up the planking and ballast.

There being a sharp curve around the postoffice at the American entrance to the bridge, the engineer did not hear the cries of spectators nor see the signals of the crew. The train kept on over the bridge, the derailed car staying well within the rails, but smashing the railroad deck.

The car broke loose when about half way across. It swerved to one side, ripped through the pipe railing and hung as if in a balance.

Stops At Edge of Bridge.

The next car, jerked from the track by breaking of the train, veered off. One of the trucks caught in the bridge and the car stopped at the edge, one end swaying over the river.

The wrecking crews of both the New York Central and the Grand Trunk hauled off the forward and rear ends of the train. They they carefully pulled the two cars back, jacked them up and put them on the rails.

The damage to the bridge will be covered by a few hundred dollars, being in the main to the wooden stringers and the deck.

There practically was no interruption of traffic, the derailment having occurred on the south track.

The accident is said to have been the first of its kind here.

Seat Collapses' Two Dying.

New York, March 11.—Six persons were precipitated into the hold of the Hamburg-American steamship Romani, at Hoboken Saturday, when the hatchway on which they were sitting gave way.

Boatswain Lewis and Seamen Walker, Horton and Kennok and Mess Boys Parsley and Cater were removed to a hospital in a serious condition. Walker and Parsley probably will die.

Baby Dead From Laudanum.

Chatham, March 11.—The 13-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Basil Milner died yesterday as a result of laudanum poisoning, after physicians had labored nearly 20 hours to save the life.

The mother left the child alone in a room Saturday for five minutes, during which time the child opened a sewing machine drawer and took from it a bottle.

Dundas Woman's Death.

Hamilton, March 11.—Some time during the night Mrs. Frank Brown, of Dundas, who had been in poor health since the death of her child, a couple of months ago, got out of bed, and without dressing herself wandered out of the house. When her absence was discovered search was instituted, and about 10.30 yesterday morning her lifeless body was found below the dam. It is supposed that while wandering aimlessly about she accidentally fell over the dam and was either drowned or killed. An inquest will be held.

34 Lost In Shipwrecks.

Berlin, March 11.—A despatch from Cuxhaven reports the loss of thirty-four lives by the foundering of two vessels—a German cargo steamer, the George Wattern, and a trawler—during a heavy gale in the North Sea.

Veteran General of Salvation Army Arrives In Canada.

TORONTO'S CIVIC RECEPTION

Will Visit Chief Canadian Cities on Way to Japan—To Be Guest of Governor-General—Describes His Emigration Schemes — Repudiates Idea of Bringing Strike-Breakers—Commends Jail Farm.

Toronto, March 11.—General William Booth of the Salvation Army reached the city shortly before noon Saturday, and was escorted to Government House, where he will be a guest during his stay in Toronto. There was no demonstration by the Army. At 4.15 in the afternoon he was tendered a civic reception at the City Hall, which was largely attended. In the evening he was greeted by Army officers and soldiers from all parts of Canada, who thronged Bond street Congregational Church to the doors, and who gave the venerable commander a rousing welcome.

In answer to questions as to his plan of campaign he general said:

what I can to advance generally the interests of humanity and religion. Then to Montreal and Ottawa, where I stay with the Governor. Afterwards to Winnipeg, Vancouver and Seattle. From there I sail for Japan. I expect to spend my 78th birthday, the 10th of April, on the Pacific Ocean."

Speaking of his emigration schemes he went on to say:

Emigration Work a Science.

"The Salvation Army is rapidly reducing emigration to a science. What has been done has created the confidence now existing. Whatever people may think of the religious operations of the Salvation Army, and whatever they may thing of our peculiar methods—and they are somewhat peculiar, forcing religion on the attention of men—I think the large majority (seven-eighths probably) of the people of England believe we are reliable. They have not been equal to the task, and they turn to us. When I came away we were getting 1,000 letters a day, 750 letters and 250 applications at least a day, and as these represent families, the work is very important.

Commends Ontario.

He commended the Ontario system of making people repay what was advanced to them.

"It is a wonderful plan, and it is the only colony that does so," he observed.

With respect to the character of the men sent out he repeated his answer to Lord Rosebery. He could not guarantee that the men had never said a bad word, or told a fib, or taken a drop too much, or done any cheatery.

"For that class you must go to the House of Lords," he told Lord Rosebery.

"They are all archangels there," agreed Rosebery.

"As far as we can we guarantee that the men are honest and industrious, and likely to make such settlers as a Government desires," the general declared.

He approved of the idea of a jail farm for the province.

"It is one of my great schemes," he said. "I commend you to make the trial. There are enormous difficulties," he added. It is best to let men mix up with the mass, and then they do not feel that they are branded, he advised as to after-treatment.

Trade Secretary Short $5,000.

Baltimore, March 11.—David D Carroll, president of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, states that at a meeting of the directors on Friday, Clarence H. Forrest, secretary, was summarily discharged, it having been discovered, according to Mr. Carroll, that he was short in his accounts between $5,000 and $10,000.

California Would Bar Asiatics.

Sacramento, Cal., March 11.—The Senate Saturday unanimously adopted a joint resolution protesting against the naturalization of Japanese and instructing California's Senators and Congressmen to work for an exclusion law to include all Asiatics.

PLATE GLASS FACTORY BURNED OUT

Fire Does Damage Amounting to $185,000.

SEVERAL FIREMEN HURT

Thousands of People Witness Conflagration—Loss Is Partly Covered by Insurance Up to $145,000, in Several Companies—Captain of Fire Fighters Breaks His Collar Bone—Hospital Escaped.

Toronto, March 11.—The most destructive fire in a long time totally wrecked the premises of the Toronto Plate Glass Importing Co., 135 to 143 Victoria street, early Saturday afternoon. The building was of four storeys, going back 117 feet to a lane. The loss is estimated at $185,000, with insurance of $145,000.

Falling walls and flying glass were a menace to the firemen and several were more or less hurt. Capt. Wm. Crawford of Hose 4, Berkeley street, had his collar-bone broken. He was struck by a ladder, which was thrown over by the collapse of a wall.

Delay in sending in an alarm doomed the building before the firemen arrived. It is stated that when a boy, an employe of the building, ran to the corner of Queen and Yonge streets to send in an alarm a policemen refused to credit that there was a fire, and would not let him pull the box. One man says he stood in the lane in rear of the building for over 10 minutes watching the fire spread. He took it for granted that somebody else was calling the fire department.

Was Full of Fire.

Anyway, when the firemen did arrive on a telephone alarm about 2.15, the building was full of fire and when 5 minutes later the alarm box at St. Michael's Hospital, across the lane to the rear, was struck, Deputy Chief Noble says that the flames were distinctly visible from Queen and Portland streets, a mile and a half away, the flames having gotten through the roof.

The [illegible] of people out for Saturday afternoon amusement were attracted by the pall of smoke and the billows of flame and seemed to enjoy the two hours of excitement that was furnished. The conflagration was one of the most spectacular for the general public in a long while, for the pyrotechnics were within plain view while the full fighting force of the fire department labored heroically with extension ladders, aerial trucks and throbbing engines. The tumbling walls added the necessary evident spice of danger to satisfy the most fastidious taste.

Hospital In Danger.

Tenants in nearby buildings had to vacate, and St. Michael's Hospital and the new six-storey building at Queen and Victoria streets were for a time in danger. Once the hospital roof ignited, but the blaze was promptly quenched.

The loss as estimated by S. J. Rutherford, manager of the company, is $185,000, divided $40,000 on building, $20,000 on plant and $125,000 on stock There is an insurance of $145,000 scattered among a score of the leading companies.

The following officers and men of the fire brigade were also hurt during the fire: Capt. W. J. Smith, truck 1, hand badly cut, and Lieut. Deans of truck 2, back and arm injured. Firemen Armstrong, Spence and Waterman received minor injuries.

HER MAJESTY'S ADMIRATION.

The Queen Sends Message of Sympathy to Montreal.

Ottawa, March 11.—The following cable has been received by Earl Grey from the Colonial Secretary, Lord Elgin: "The Queen has learned with regret of the disastrous fire which occurred in the Protestant children's school at Montreal. Her Majesty desires me to convey to you her great admiration of the heroic conduct of Miss Maxwell, who gave up her life in a gallant attempt to rescue the little children entrusted to her care, as well as her Majesty's deep sympathy with the bereaved relatives of this brave woman." (Signed) Elgin.

Nicaraguans Again Routed.

San Salvador, March 11.—At noon Saturday, a Nicaraguan column, as a reprisal for the recent victories of the Honduras, attacked the cavalry of Honduras at Tuguare. After three hours' fighting the Nicaraguans were annihilated.

IMPOSSIBLE TO STOOP OR BEND

SEVERAL DOCTORS COULD DO NO GOOD.

PAIN IN BACK AND KIDNEYS.

People often say, "How are we to know when the kidneys are out of order?"

The location of the kidneys, close as it is to the small of the back, which is not affected materially by other organs, renders the detection of kidney trouble a simple matter.

The note of warning comes from the back. Backache is the signal sent out by the kidneys the minute they become overtaxed. Those who heed the warning when it first comes, usually have but little trouble. The danger lies in delay. A few doses of taken in time, often saves years of suffering, and in many cases life itself.

They stimulate the action of the kidneys, enabling them to perform their duty perfectly.

Miss S. G. Pye, Boum Secum, N.S., writes: "For the past three years I have been troubled with a very bad pain in my back and kidneys. It was so bad it was impossible for me to stoop or bend. I had several doctors attend me, but found no relief until I picked up one of your Egyptian Dream Books, and found out about your remarkable remedy, Dean's Kidney Pills. I procured two boxes and their action surprised me, for they completely cured me. I don't think they have an equal for kidney complaints."

Dean's Kidney Pills are 50 cents per box or 3 boxes for $1.25 at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The Dean Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

ECONOMY.

Of course there are other good points about "SURPRISE" Soap besides the way it makes work easy, and one of the best is the economy of it.

"SURPRISE" is a pure, hard soap, and it takes only a little to do a big lot of work. Some people who use it say they don't know which wears the best, the soap or the clothes they wash with it.

And it's just as good for general housework as it is for the laundry; in fact, there isn't a thing washable that can't be cleaned with "SURPRISE" Soap, better, easier, and cheaper than it could be done in any other way.

SURPRISE A PURE HARD SOAP

When this is understood most everybody is surprised that "SURPRISE" costs no more than common soaps.

Synopsis Of Canadian North-West HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has the permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE LACROSSE CLUB

Will be Held To-morrow Night at 8 O'clock—Prospects Bright.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Lacrosse Club will be held to-morrow night in the National Hotel, when some very important business is to come up. A large attendance of all those interested in the game is expected as, in addition to the election of officers, there will be the appointing of a representative to the annual meeting of the C. L. A., which will be held on Good Friday in Toronto.

Lacrosse will boom in Peterborough this year as there is any amount of material here and there should be no difficulty in securing a first class team.

LINDSAY MIDGETS TO PLAY STRATHCONAS

Wonderful Juniors Will Clash With the Local Team

Although the hockey season is almost over the fans will be given another opportunity to see a good game. On Friday night the now famous Lindsay Midgets who play Stratford to-night for the Junior O.H.A. Championship, will clash up against the Strathconas, city league champions. The game should be one of the best seen here this season. The Midgets are a wonderful team, and will take a lot of beating, but the Strathconas are going to try hard to put them away. This will be the last and about the best game of the season.

LINDSAY POST TEAM PLAY HERE TO-MORROW

Will Line Up Against Examiner at Brock Street Rink

There will be another great game ta the Brock street rink to-morrow night, when a team representing the evening Post of Lindsay, will line up against the undefeated Examiner seven, in what should prove one of the best exhibitions seen on local ice. The game will be called at 9 o'clock, and there will be skating for an hour before. Only the usual skating charges will be made which means that ticket holders will be admitted free. There will no doubt be a big crowd present. The ice at Brock street is in splendid condition and a great crowd will be the result, when the two press teams will get together. This is the first time the Examiner has ventured to clash with Knights of the Press in any other places, and the result will be awaited with interest.

SOMETHING ABOUT THE LINDSAY TEAM

They Will be Seen Here Against The Examiner To-morrow Night.

The Lindsay Post has the following to say of the Post team, who will be seen in action here against the famous Examiner seven at the Brock street rink to-morrow night: It was with a proud spirit and a haughty manner that the Typos of the Post threw down the gauntlet to the Peterborough press and defied them to meet in battle royal on the slippery field of glory, and it was with satisfaction that an answer accepting the challenge was received from the Examiner this morning.

The games will be played next week, the probable dates being Tuesday in Peterborough and Thursday in Lindsay, and the exhibition will have everything from Barnum's circus to the fall fairs beaten by 23 miles for the spectacular. A hurry call was sent to "Rats" Barry at Kenora, and Rats dropped in this p. m., wanting to know "What's on?" He'll be in the game. "Tuff Bill" Williams' Apollo-like form will appear at his usual place in front of the nets and blood will be in his eye. The lithe and sinewy form of "Slats" Longboat Rielly will perform the snake dance on the wing. "Pike" Irwin, the personification of grace, will attract the ladies' attention at rover, and "Yypo" Johnson's usual smiling countenance will assume a far sterner aspect and be superseded by a determined expression when he takes his stand at cover. "Sunflower" Nesbitt has a full list of Dutch turns and aerial loop-the-loops, and there's sure to be a slide whenever the puck hovers near. Between the posts the leetle parlezvous, (Frenchy Birgenaw, will take his stand and you might just as well nail planks across the goal. The match is creating a tremendous interest in both towns, and the struggle will be terrific. Watch for particulars.

THIRTEEN POINT GAMES ARE CONCLUDED

Messrs. T. J. Wallace and J. H. Ferguson the Champions—Finals Were Close

The thirteen point curling competition games are finished for the season with T. J. Wallace and J. H. Ferguson the winners of the senior and junior series respectively. The final games were played on Saturday afternoon and were keenly contested throughout. Wallace won from T. Brightman handily by the score of 13 to 6 and he was complimented for his excellent work. In the last round when Brightman was lying 3 shots, one of which was almost on the tee, the winner in a combination play took the guard and the tee stone from the rings and remained shot. J. H. Ferguson and R. N. Merritt had a great fight for first place in the junior finals. At one time the score stood 12 to 9 in favour of the loser, but by an unlucky shot lost 3 to his opponent in the next, who won the round by 13 to 12.

SAM RAY'S RINK WON CHAMPIONSHIP

Schedule Games Nearing Completion—D. Hall and C. Rutherford Play for Second Place.

The scheduled curling games are nearing a completion and there now only remains one more game to decide the holder of second place. Mr. Sam Ray's rink has been the successful competitor having won 8 games—the total number to be played—either by default or by actual play and therefore the first prize goes to them. C. Rutherford and D. Hall have lost a single game each and they will play off for second place some time during the week.

HOCKEY

The Otonabee rink was the scene of a fast but one-sided juvenile game of hockey on Saturday afternoon between 1 and 2 o'clock, when the Blue Jays from Otonabee decisively trimmed the Crows of the south end by 7 goals to 0. The stars of the game were Lynch, Keneally and Condon for the losers, and Smyth and the three Rosses for the winners. Following was the line-up:

Crows—Goal, P. Gosclin; point, Desautel; cover, J. Lynch; rover, D. McDonald; centre, F. Gosclin; right wing, W. Keneally; left wing, C. Condon.

Referee—D. Ross.

The hockey team of Park Street Baptist Church defeated the seven hockeyists of St. Andrew's Guards on Saturday night by the score of 5-3. The Baptists had much the better of the argument throughout, although the game was hotly contested. The line-up of the two teams was as follows:

St. Andrew's Guards—Goal, Logan; point, E. Reid; cover, Miller; rover, Fred Richardson; wings, Gillespie and L. Miller; centre, Roseboro.

Baptists—Goal, Killenbeck; point, Johnston; cover, Stan. Gillespie; rover, Bartlay; centre, Loomis; wings, W. Elliott and "Bill" Dickson.

Referee—Leo Derocher.

The Union Printers of the Examiner will clash up against the Union Barbers to-night and the game should be a great contest. The printers say that they will give the barbers a close shave but the razor wielders are confident of trimming up the Typos. The teams will line up as follows:

EVANGELIST TORRIE SPOKE TO MEN

Large Attendance at the Y.M.C.A. Men' Meeting Yesterday Afternoon—"A Noted Criminal" His Subject.

The largest crowd that has been in attendance at the evangelistic meetings for men was that which greeted Evangelist Torrie in the Y. M. C. A. Hall. A stirring song service was conducted by Mr. J. F. Thomson, who was assisted by the male quartette—the latter giving a selection before the address. Rev. Messrs. Brace and Bright were present and took part in the meeting.

The subject of Mr. Torrie's address was "A Noted Criminal." His address was brief, yet his remarks bore conviction to those who so attentively listened to him. He pictured the characters of Pilate, Barabbas and Jesus in a most graphic way.

He urged all to accept Christ, who not only took Barabbas' place on the cross—but the place of all sinners.

Peterborough Man Is Provincial Librarian

Mr. W. A. Buchanan, of Lethbridge, Appointed to Position of Librarian of Alberta—Will Reside at Edmonton.

HAS A SPLENDID POSITION

Mr. W. A. Buchanan's many Peterborough friends will be interested to learn that he has been appointed to the position of Provincial Librarian for the new Province of Alberta. He will reside in Edmonton, the seat of the Provincial Government, and will have charge of the institution of the library and the organization of a free library system which the Government intends to establish in the Province.

Mr. Buchanan still retains his interest in the Lethbridge Herald, which he secured when he went to the West, and has engaged a man to conduct it.

The new position is a good one—it must have been, or Mr. Buchanan would not have left his paper, which he has made one of the brightest in the Canadian West, where there are many bright newspapers.

A feature of his acceptance of the office, which makes it all the more pleasing, is the fact that it was offered him by the Government, the members of which recognized his fitness for the position.

Wolves Are Plentiful In The Lumber Camps

A Young Man Who Earned $75 in Bounty for Five Wolves—They are in Pursuit of Deer in Camps.

McDONALD'S GOOD CATCH.

Wolves are so numerous in the wooded sections of the Province this winter that it is quite a common thing to see packs of from five to seven on the lakes either in pursuit of, or devouring, deer. A friend of the Star Enterprise, writing from Mowat P.O. this week, tells of an instance which came under his notice in confirmation of the above. Near one of the J. D. Shier Lumber Co.'s camps in the township of Lawrence, about 20 miles south west of Whitney, a young man named Leslie McDonald, while unloading logs on a lake, started a pack of wolves from a deer which they had just run down and were devouring. Before they returned to their feast of good, fresh venison be secured some poison, which he put on the carcass of their victim. The wild forest denizens were not long enjoying their repast again until, one by one, they dropped off, and Mr. McDonald in a short time had earned $75, being the bounty paid for the killing of five wolves by the Ontario Government.—Egansville Star-Enterprise.

A Successful Opening To Revival Services

Rev. Alex. Torrie at Park Street Baptist Church Yesterday Conducted Two Well Attended Services of Revival Character.

WILL CONTINUE TWO WEEKS

Yesterday was an important one for the congregation of the Park street Baptist church. It marked the commencement of the revival services which will continue each night for two weeks, under the direction of Rev. Alexander Torrie, evangelist. He is an Arts graduate of McMaster University, and has met with universal success in all his efforts.

The morning and evening services yesterday were largely attended, especially in the evening, when the church was entirely filled with an assembly that displayed hearty interest and listened with rapt attention to the words of advice that Evangelist Torrie gave. His remarks were based upon St Mark 10, 49-51, referring to the restoration of sight to Blind Bartimeus by Jesus while on His way to Jericho.

The speaker compared this act of the Saviour with the returning of a sinner to the grace of God. Sin deforms every soul, he said, and leaves it in despair of regaining spiritual light. We have no conception of the reality of the loss of sight, and how those who are deprived of it cry for it! The speaker related an instance that occurred six years ago, where a blind man was again blessed with his sense of sight by supplicating God. Some men are mentally, as well as spiritually, blind. To them the fields of golden grain, the beauty of an autumn sunset, or the freshness of a sylvan scene in early spring, are meaningless. They are not inspired by them, and look merely at material things—they do not see God's hand in nature.

Very many, the speaker continued, are, alas! spiritually blind. It is these that especially need divine assistance, and they should ask God to open their eyes that they may see the light and follow His way. The man in the Gospel was cheerless, because he was poor and helpless and despised and dependent on the charity of others. Had he not been in that condition he might never have become a Christian; his utter desolation and poverty were his plea. His cry was that of a broken and a contrite heart uttered with all humility, and God did not despise him. In fact He listened to his supplication and answered in a kind and condescending manner.

The speaker urged all those who were out of Christ to seek Him similarly to Bartimeus, the blind man. Many, however, do not desire to surrender their worldly attactions, which is a very great stumbling block to their ultimate salvation. He exhorted them to act immediately and accept God without question.

Rev. Mr. Torrie is a forcible speaker who expresses himself clearly, concisely and pointedly. He is an interesting and attractive preacher of the Gospel, and certainly won many words of praise last night.

The Park street Baptists should meet with two weeks of unqualified success in their evangelistic meetings.

Men's Ten Dollar Suits

GOOD SUITS at a medium price are a very scarce article in most stores this season.

There has been a big advance in the price of Woollens, Trimmings, Labour, and, in fact, everything that goes into a Suit of Clothes.

Now we have picked out a line of Suits, in different patterns, that can't be beaten at the prices.

THE RESULT

To-day we are showing the best $10.00 Suits the City affords. The best Tailoring, the best Fabrics and the best of everything that it is possible for the money to procure.

The man who wants a medium priced Suit will make a bad blunder if he fails to come here for it. See a few sample Suits in our window—the quality and appearance are both convincing.

OLD FOLKS

THEIR DAYS MAY BE PROLONGED

How the Evening of Life May be Made Happier For All

"If people only knew the good that Vinol does old people," said Mr. McDermid, of the firm of McDermid & Jury, our well-known druggists, "Columns of space in our newspapers would be devoted to the subject for the benefit of mankind in general. I can truly say that we have never sold anything in our store, equal to Vinol as a strengthener and body-builder for old people.

"You see, with old age, comes feebleness and loss of power, the organs act more slowly and less effectively than in youth, the appetite is poor, the digestion weak, and there is not that same renewal of body tissue.

"There is nothing more pitiful to me than to see old people tottering around. I know that Vinol cannot bring back lost years, but it will lengthen life and brighten the years that remain.

"We are hearing from all over the country remarkable results which prove my statements, and we have received letters from sons and daughters of old people telling how father and mother has been made well and happy, by the vigour and strength which Vinol brings the old.

"It is just this way," continued Mr. McDermid. "Vinol invigorates the stomach first of all, creates an appetite, and enables the stomach to separate from food the elements needed for rich, red blood., healthy body material and sound steady nerves. In this natural manner it repairs worn tissues, checks the natural decline and replaces weakness with strength.

"For anyone suffering from any weak ned,' run-down condition, Vinol will do the same; and it is because we know so well what Vinol will do that we guarantee its action and we will gladly refund the money paid for it to anyone who is not satisfied. I wish every old person in the vicinity would just try Vinol on our guarantee, if it does not satisfy, then it will not cost them a cent." McDermid & Jury, druggists. Vinol is also sold at the Market drug store, Ormond and Walsh's old stand.

REMARKABLE SALE OF A VALUABLE HORSE

Took Place on the Market To-day—It Was Sold for Three Hundred and Seventy-five.

The market clerk reported that a remarkable sale of a horse took place on the market Saturday. The horse, a valuable one, was sold for three hundred and seventy-five, in fast and close auction. Mr. Charles Stapleton officiated as auctioneer. Mr. Sandy Trotter started the bidding at forty, and, after many bids, the horse was sold at the above price to some other man. It was a remarkable sale, so the clerk says, and was witnessed by a large crowd which had gathered. It was one of the most remarkable sales made in many a day and will be long remembered.

Note.—The denomination accompanying the above figures is cents, not dollars.

POST CARD CORRESPONDENCE.

In this column will be published communications upon post cards only. It will remain open for the use of readers, who are invited to contribute suggestions, inquiries or replies. Anything of a scurrilous personal nature will be prohibited.

Editor Post-Card Column,

Dear Sir,—The postal clerks here, in our postoffice, have nothing else to do now, but punch holes in the picture and photo post-cards which are received at the local postoffice. I have received no less than five in the last few weeks with the Peterborough post stamp punched almost clean through, in fact, three were clean cut half through, the other half hanging. One looked as if it was not bad enough, and they had tried to make it worse. I am surprised that the clerks here do not try and emulate the example shown by some other offices I could name, and treat the public as they would wish to be treated. In fact, practice the golden rule. Can anyone enlighten the writer as to what the law is regarding the punching of post-cards? I have always understood that the postal clerks were not allowed to stamp them on the back. In fact, I know it was so a year ago.

Yours, etc.,

MUSIC AND DRAMA

DORA THORNE

Few of the melodramatic attractions at the Grand Opera House have elicited so much praise as that of "Dora Thorne," which was presented to large audiences Saturday afternoon and evening. This play appeared here twice during last season, and was then considered one of the leading melodramas. It has lost none of its former good reputation, and it is safe to predict that should the management of the Grand secure another engagement of the company, more citizens would respond. The production is of a sentimental character, interspersed with touches of comedy here and there by way of contrast. Miss Sarah Marion, who plays the title role, is a young actress of ability who seems to know exactly what is required of her. Mr. Hugh Harper, as Ronald Earl, the wealthy lover of Dora Thorne, is also worthy of special mention. The role of Stephen Thorne, father of Dora, is also admirably portrayed by Mr. Edwin F. Clarke. In fact, the whole cast is a strong and well-balanced one which plays to perfection the dramatization of this popular novel of Bertha M. Clay.

Eighteen Men Were Blown To Atoms For a Bribe Of $200

Examiner Special

Uniontown, Pa., March 12.—Ellsworth Glover, former night watchman at the Rand Powder Works, has signed a written confession, that on September 9, 1906, the night before the explosion that resulted in the death of eighteen men, he was given $200 to be off duty and not take notice of two masked men who would invade the place and dynamite it.

The confession was secured by detectives who interested Glover in an alleged counterfeit plant and required him to give them some hold on him so he would not give them away. His arrest on the charge of felonious arson followed.

The matter was made public today, when witnesses were called before the Grand Jury.

Glover claims it was intended to shoot the mine at night, but it hung fire until the following day, when all were at work, and eighteen met death. Business rivals, so Glover claims, paid him the money. Additional arrests are expected.

Necessary Explanation Of A Regrettable Incident

The Nature of the "Letter of Protest" Characterized and Made Clear—Explanatory Reference to the Complimentary Banquet Incident.

Hon. J. R. Stratton who was appointed on Saturday night honourary chairman of the citizens' banquet committee to Mr. R. M. Denniston, near noon yesterday received a letter of which the following is a copy:—

Peterborough, March 11, '07.

J. R. Stratton, Esq., chairman of the R. M. Denniston Banquet Committee:

Dear Mr. Stratton,—The undersigned would beg leave to notify you and the committee of which you have made us members, that we feel that the chairman of the banquet should be Mayor McWilliams, who should also propose "Our Guest" as Mayor and representative of the city. We would be sorry to put you to any trouble or inconvenience, or the other gentlemen on the committee, but we cannot take part in the celebration under any other circumstances.

We think also that an opportunity should be given to any citizen who wishes to attend to secure a ticket.

(Signed.)

JAS. KENDRY,
T. E. BRADBURN,
J. W. MILLER,
H. WADDELL,
J. H. BURNHAM,
G. W. HATTON,

During the afternoon Mr. Stratton sent the following reply, which was delivered at the residence of Mr. Jas. Kendry personally, his being the first name in the typewritten list of names appended to the so-styled letter of protest:—

Peterborough, March 11.

Jas. Kendry, Esq., City:

Dear Mr. Kendry,—Your favour of March 11th was handed me at noon to-day.

On Saturday evening nearly all the gentlemen that were communicated with by me inviting them to be present were present.

All the arrangements arrived at were made by the gentlemen present at the meeting and not by me. I only acted as chairman, Mr. Fair as Secretary.

Mr. Bradburn made the suggestion which you embody as ground for objection in your letter but it was not seconded and it was unanimously decided that this banquet was a "Citizens" banquet not a "civic" banquet. The arrangements as made by the committee will be carried out and any citizen who cannot feel himself free to join in honouring one of our citizens most worthy of honour is also free to withhold his presence.

Mr. Hugh Waddell who signs your letter had previously signified his acquiesence.

Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., who was present, further than the suggestion mentioned acquiesced at the meeting. Col. Miller is not a member of the committee; Mr. J. H. Burnham raised no objections and had stated he would be pleased to act; Mr. G. W. Hatton is not a member of the Committee, and Mr. Kendry was not present.

Any citizen who desires to be present at the banquet will have the opportunity afforded him.

I suppose the honour was conferred on me because I was the originator of the Citizens' Banquet idea rather than because of any prominence I occupy as a citizen.

Yours faithfully,

J. R. STRATTON.

This reply speaks for itself—needs no comment. However, it may be added, by way of explanation, that the name of Col. J. W. Miller was purposely omitted from those of the gentlemen comprising the committee, for the reason that it was known to those interested in the promotion of the banquet, that the 57th Regiment, of which Mr. Denniston was a prominent officer, were arranging a battalion dinner in his honour, as was explained by Paymaster Major Hayes at the meeting on Saturday night; prominent members of the Law Society were omitted from the list of names appointed upon the committee of the citizens' banquet for a similar reason.

No one having moved in the direction of honouring Mr. Denniston with a citizens' banquet, Mr. Stratton, whose respect for Mr. Denniston is great, and of long standing, took the initiative and communicated with a number of prominent citizens upon the subject. The meeting on Saturday was the result; he was unanimously appointed chairman of the meeting, and Mr. Robert Fair was similarly appointed secretary, and, subsequently, Mr. Stratton was chosen as honorary chairman of the banquet, and Mr. Fair, honourary secretary, with full powers, as representing the committee, to make all necessary arrangements. It may be further explained that all the gentlemen with whom Mr. Stratton communicated acquiesced, either by letter or 'phone, or by their personal presence, in the idea of a citizens' banquet to Mr. Denniston and expressed their ready willingness to assist in making the affair a successful expression of the universal esteem of the community towards him, with the single exception of Mr. Kendry, who neither acknowledged the invitation nor attended the meeting.

The Examiner has no desire to refer to this petty-spirited incident further than the explanation of the real position makes necessary. The persons concerned, from motives best known to themselves, have taken a course which seems incompatible with dignified and self-respecting, not to say, honourable, fellow citizenship; a course which if heeded, would tend to interrupt the harmony of action and impair the unanimity of sentiment which should, and does, with these insignificant exceptions, animate every right-feeling citizen in the combined endeavour to pay fitting respect to a gentleman, pre-eminently worthy of every honour due to manliness of character and breadth of mind.

When Your Health Fails, What Then?

Good health is the capital of persons who earn their livelihood with brain and muscle. Success is for the strong and alert—for those whose blood is rich, and whose nerve cells are filled with vigor and energy. It is not pleasant to contemplate what might happen with failing health, and for this reason it is well to heed the first symptoms of nervous exhaustion and to keep health at high water mark by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

FIRE ESCAPES TO BE CONSIDERED

Property Committee of Board of Education Have the Matter in Hand—Regular Meeting of the Board.

MUCH ROUTINE BUSINESS TRANSACTED

The regular monthly session of the Board of Education was held last night, when much routine business was transacted, besides some of a special character. The feature of the meeting was the presentation of the report of the Supervision Committee proposing higher salaries for Peterborough Public School teachers, which was passed with little discussion. The fire escape question was also considered and action will be taken in this connection.

Those present were, Messrs. Robt. Fair, Chairman; D. W. Dumble, Dr. Morrison, Dr. Burnham, W. H. Hill, Wm. Pringle, B. F. Ackerman, L. M. Hayes, Jno. Crane, and Secretary W. G. Morrow.

Communications

The following communications were received:

From the City Council, inviting the Board to confer with that body in Committee of the Whole regarding the improvements to the North Ward School.

From the Machine Telephone Co., submitting a proposition to instal telephones in the office of the Public School Inspector and in the schools of the city at a cost of $15 per phone per annum.—Referred to the Supervision Committee, with power to act.

From John King, Wm. Head and H. T. Cobb, asking for the position of janitor of the King Edward School.—Referred to Committee on Appointments.

From the Peterborough Ministerial Association, requesting the Board to take into consideration the introduction of undenominational but defined religious instruction in the schools of the city.

RESIGNED FROM THE PARK BOARD

Municipal Matters in Havelock—Council Held Regular Meeting—Young Havelock Man Died in Toronto Junction.

PERSONAL AND OTHER NEWS

Examiner Special

Havelock, March 7.—The Council held their regular meeting Monday evening.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Following accounts were ordered to be paid:

Phillip Bros., $7.80.
Electric lights for February, $68.43.
Municipal Weekly, subscriber's guide, 50 cents.
Elias Williams, $16.60.
J. W. Bryans, $10.00.
Toronto Mail, $2.00.
School Board, $175.

Mr. J. Bachus was employed to repair bridges.

Mr. Ward Patterson resigned from the Park Board, and Mr. W. W. Webster was appointed in his stead.

Council fixed the price to be paid for plank for sidewalks at $15 per M., and $14 per M. for stringers.

The collector reported that there still remained $200 of unpaid taxes on the collector's roll, and, on motion of Coun. Knox and Young, the collector's time was extended to April 2.

The auditors, Mr. Ward Patterson and Mr. F. C. McMaster, presented their report, and, on motion of Coun. Young and Knox, the report was accepted, and that the auditors be paid $7.50 each.

Council spent considerable time discussing which was the best system of putting down cement walks, by general tax or frontage tax. Strong arguments were brought to bear on both propositions and the Council did not arrive at any decision.

Council adjourned.

The Daughters of the King met at Miss Lancaster's Monday night at 7.30 o'clock, seven members being present.

Minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

Visits reported, and subject decided for next meeting.

Bible study on "Repentance" was then taken up, and a very interesting paper was read by Miss Lancaster. Meeting closed with prayer.

The sad news was received Monday morning of the death of one of our young men in the person of Lloyd Knivewaster who, for the past two or three years had resided in Toronto Junction. Having contracted a bad cold a few weeks ago, he decided to come home, but returned before he was better, and took a relapse, pneumonia setting in. He was taken to the hospital on Wednesday last, but sank to rest on Sunday night. The remains arrived on the local train Tuesday night and were met by a number of sorrowing friends. They were conveyed to his home on Quebec street. The funeral will take place to-morrow (Thursday) afternoon to Maple Grove Cemetery, under the auspices of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen.

Mr. Steve Clarke, of Belmont, is confined to the house through illness.

Mr. Geo. Barrie, Peterborough, is in town the guest of his sister, Mrs. Jas. Fowler.

Miss Jennie McKay, Peterborough, spent Sunday in town the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McKay.

By HELEN MAXFIELD.

Copyright, 1906, by May McKeon.

"I suppose you have read in the papers—if you have time to think about anything except yourself—that the Westfield bank is wrecked. They have arrested Mr. Hartley and Mr. Manners, but that does not help the rest of us. In a short time I presume I shall be on the county. If you had married Dan Martin, as I wanted you to do, I should not be facing this terrible situation, but you always were headstrong, and my whole life has been sacrificed to the effort to raise you as your dear dead mother would have had me. Even now Dan is willing to forgive your folly and marry you. He will have the house all done over, and his sister will go to John's to live, and there will be only Dan and you and me."

The letter covered five closely written pages, and Annabel read it through twice with firmly set lips and dry eyes. Then very deliberately she put on her coat, hat and gloves and went out for a long walk in the snowy park, where motor cars filled with fur clad figures flew past and laughing children pelted her with harmless balls of feathery whiteness. It was a glorious day, and when she came back to her dingy hall room she was smiling, and the hard lines had faded from her face. Then she wrote her answer:

My Dear Aunt Molly—I am so grieved to hear of the bank wreck. I had not read of it in the papers, because we have been enjoying the privilege of some special instruction under Professor —— of New York, and I have been working at the academy night and day. Perhaps the bank receivers may save something, and in the meantime you must not worry. I will have the store deeded to you, and the rent will more than keep your house going, and each week I will send you some of my earnings. I am inclosing a money order for $5 that I happen to have in hand. Have Mr. Gregory arrange the transfer of the store property. As to Mr. Martin, please do not urge that upon me again. I still feel that I have some right to happiness, and I know it will never come to me through Dan Martin.

Not one word of reproach, no reminders of a dun colored childhood and a dreary girlhood, spent under nagging of the most trying sort; no reference to the fact that her own patrimony had gone under with her aunt's small fortune in the bank wreck; no intimation that she had sent almost her last dollar in the money order and must now drop her art studies and seek a position in the workaday world. She smiled grimly as she mailed the letter. Her aunt would accept the sacrifice and wail to Dan Martin over Annabel's lack of appreciation.

Dan Martin! How she hated every inch of his undersized person, his small beady eyes, his perpetual smile, his weak, receding chin! She mailed the letter with a strange feeling of independence achieved, for now she had paid to her own satisfaction the debt of gratitude imposed by her aunt, which had hung over her young life like a pall. She was free now to work out her own happiness.

But for the next week happiness seemed to move farther and farther away. In later years she never thought of those days without shuddering.

The holidays were over. Nobody wanted to hire clerks or buy illuminated cards or telephone records or any of the pretty things she painted. The room rent was again due. She might sell her few casts and painting outfit. She set her lips firmly and climbed the stairs to a fashionable employment agency. The manager was sitting at the telephone when Annabel entered. She hung up the receiver with an impatient frown.

"What do you want—a position as governess or companion? Nothing like that in view; a hundred applicants for every position. Oh, wait a minute! You look bright. Can you do manicuring and dress hair a bit and mend laces? If you can do it even halfway, I wish you'd try this place. I've sent the customer a dozen girls, and they always part after a terrible scene. The woman's a crank, but you look as if you had tact."

The upshot was that Annabel, with 25 cents in her purse and a notice of rent due under the door of her hall room, went to see Mrs. Cartwright Brown, and that highly strung personage said with dissatisfaction and suspicion in her voice that she would give the girl a trial.

The Cartwright Browns were newly rich. The father had made an enormous fortune through his own efforts and was proud of it. The mother was so burdened by it that she was on the verge of nervous prostration. Annabel saw it was nerves and not temper and took heart. Later she learned that there were a son and a daughter away at college who were just a little ashamed of their new riches.

Nobody, Annabel least of all, knew how it happened, but she became the virtual head of the Cartwright Brown household. Mrs. Brown vowed that she could hire a visiting manicurist and hairdresser, but no one could stand between her and domestic and social worries as Annabel could.

It was Annabel who reorganized the staff of servants and installed a competent housekeeper. It was Annabel who had the conservatories brought up to date. Annabel who made out congenial dinner lists. Annabel who conferred with Mrs. Brown's modiste and Mr. Brown's tailor. Annabel who shipped smart, suitable clothing and room furnishings to two colleges.

Annabel's position in the household was peculiar. She was neither housekeeper nor private secretary—just "Miss Annabel." She did not receive with Mrs. Brown on Wednesday afternoons, but she did join the family occasionally at the theater or in viewing art exhibitions. And it was after one of these rare occasions that she realized the full extent of her happiness. She had been hunting congenial work, not an art career. She knew now that her small talent for drawing had offered her only an excuse for fleeing an unhappy home life, but that she never would have become a great artist, while she was a competent manager of the Cartwright Brown home. She sent her aunt's allowance regularly and gave no thought to the future—until the two young people came home from college. The daughter was a mere butterfly, who neither appreciated nor resented Annabel's position in the household. The son was a grave faced chap who seemed suddenly oppressed by the responsibility of his father's wealth. He had studied theoretical sociology in college and on practical lines among the gilded youth of his class.

By this time the Cartwright Browns were at their country place, and Annabel found that her early morning rides were subject to interruption, not unpleasant, but disturbing. Norman Brown insisted upon unloading upon her capable shoulders, as his mother and father had done before him, the burden of his personal problems. But they were no longer burdensome when he found that Annabel shared his ideals about the use of wealth, and he boldly carried his plans to his father.

"No more college? You're going into the works? Say, what will our rich friends think?"

"I am more interested in knowing what the men at our works will think. And Miss Annabel says"—

Cartwright Brown waved his hand as if to dismiss the entire subject.

"Oh, if Annabel says you are right neither heaven nor earth could move you. I declare that girl has this family hypnotized."

"Nothing of the sort, and you know it," replied his son hotly. "She has simply taught us how to make the best of our money."

"And cured your mother of nervous prostration. Gracious, when I think of those old days! Oh, try it if you like."

* * * * * * *

Letter from Miss Molly Sewell to Annabel Maitland:

* * * We were inexpressibly shocked. Of course I had watched for your name under some magazine illustrations or for some work you would send me, and when none came I sent Dan Martin to Denver to find out what you were doing. You, a Sewell and a Maitland, hiring out as a mere servant! You must come home at once. The Westfield bank will pay 50 cents on the dollar, and we can get along somehow, and if you show some signs of settling down I think Dan will marry you after all. He isn't like some men, holding a grudge.

Letter from Annabel to her Aunt Molly:

* * * The wedding took place yesterday afternoon. I wanted to have you come, but we were compelled to hasten matters. There is trouble at the Blackstake smelters, and Norman wants to be on the ground at once. He is a prince among men, dear aunt, and you will learn to love him when we come to see you, forgiving the fact that this prince found his Cinderella not behind the kitchen stove, but in his mother's boudoir. I am not ashamed of my work in the past year, for it brought me the greatest happiness that can come to a woman. We were married with the full consent of his parents, and—I cannot write more. My cup of happiness brims over and blots out mere words.

MOLLY.

Moral Snobbery.

One of the commonest forms of snobbishness is not social at all, but moral. Many people are moral snobs who have not a grain of social ambition. When Napoleon said, "I am above morality," he not only gave expression to what some great people have secretly thought about themselves, but to what thousands of their small admirers have openly said of them. They do not reflect, perhaps, as they justify their heroes, that to declare any one in the world above morality is to say that morality has ceased to exist, has been found out and exploded, nothing remaining but some utilitarian rules suitable for the guidance of mediocre minds. The moral law must be supreme or nowhere. Yet this, as it seems to us, self evident proposition is by no means easy to apply. Most of us feel that for any one to lay too much stress upon the moral shortcomings of a great man is a sign of a small mind or at least of a defective education. We do not habitually speak of Nelson in respect of Lady Hamilton, of Burns in respect of his marriage, of Bacon in the matter of his proved corruption, of Coleridge in connection with his opium habit or of Charles Lamb in his cups as we should speak of Smith, Brown and Robinson in like circumstances.

DRUGGISTS' GLOBES.

How the Colors in the Window Emblems Are Produced.

"The big glass globes filled with colored water which were once in the front windows of every drug store are not seen now as frequently as of old," said a drug clerk to a reporter.

"Of course many are still in use, but in the readjustment of the window displays in drug stores by reason of the installation of the electric light they have been displaced. With the old gas jet arrangement there were but two or three separate illuminations, mostly placed behind the globes in question.

"The colored contents of these globes and their chemical constituents are a mystery to most persons, and I have had ladies ask me if they contained colored perfumes. The globes are made in all sorts of fancy and elaborate shapes and designs. Some are costly. Their history is buried in antiquity, but as they contain chemical compositions they were primarily, as they are now, the emblem of the chemist.

"The water is filtered and beautifully colored by chemical admixtures and are composed of such chemicals that they will withstand the rays of the sun and not fade. The exquisite pale green, which is one of the popular selections of coloring, is a solution of nitrate of nickel, and most persons will be surprised to learn that it is derived from dissolving the common five cent nickel piece in nitric acid. A few five cent nickel pieces dissolved in this acid will produce enough coloring body to tinge several gallons of water and give a coloring which is most pleasing to the eyes.

"The red, which is also a very bright, beautiful and permanent color and which shows very effectively both by day and when illuminated at night, is made from resublimated or metallic iodine. The blue is made from sulphate of copper and ammonia, and the yellow is produced by an admixture of bichromate of potash and sulphuric acid. Any person can make these beautiful colorings, especially the green, but as the acids used are very powerful it is best to have them prepared by a chemist, as a drop of nitric acid on the hand will eat a hole in the flesh.

"In fact, even druggists make mistakes. I remember one who tried to get a fine new color that other druggists didn't have, so he mixed tincture of chloride of iron with antipyrin. It did, in fact, make a fine color in the globes, but when the sun's rays rested on it for a few hours explosive gases were generated, which sent the globes flying in a thousand pieces and wrecked the contents of the window."

VANITY'S VISIONS.

Kilting For Smart Woolen Blouses. New Evening Headdress.

One of the most distinctive features of cloth and woolen blouses is the little kilted frills of taffeta with which they are trimmed. They outline the center box plait as well as the little straps which form a species of epaulet over the shoulders. In blouses of a more elaborate description these kilted frills are carried out in lace dyed to match the material.

Worn at the theater was a delightful specimen of the new evening headdress, consisting of a fold of white tulle laid softly around the knot of hair, with a large soft chou placed close against the hair at the left, and on this poised a brilliant green and blue humming bird, his thread-like tail plumage sweeping lightly down over the hair.

A great deal of handsome lace is to be worn in the spring, and it is not assuming too much to say that lingerie effects will be in high favor for the summer. Yokes, gulmpes and undersleeves of lace or embroidery will be important adjuncts to all frocks simple or elaborate, and the idea is a happy one for the woman who likes frequent changes to renew the freshness of her dresses.

There is a revival of the pale blue veil spotted with black chenille and edged with a narrow plaited frill. This is the veil to wear with chinchilla and sable toques. It is also the veil for wintry weather if the complexion be clear and sufficiently bright, for pale blue veils are much more flattering to the skin than most women believe.

The waist seen in the cut is of plaid rajah silk. This silk in plaids and checks will make many of the smart little suits of the spring. As illustrated, it is made over a guimpe of lace and muslin. The trimming is of velvet ribbon. JUDIC CHOLLET.

Dainties That Are Made With the Whites of Eggs.

There are many dishes which are rendered richer and more delicate by the omission of some or even all of the whites of the eggs. All kinds of custards and milk puddings, for instance, are enormously improved by following this plan. At the same time it frequently becomes something of a problem how to utilize successfully the whites thus left over. The conscience of careful cook will not permit her to throw them away, and yet it demands thought to discover dishes which call for the use of whites only. Never theless there are a good many such recipes to be found, in which they not only serve a useful purpose, but give the impression of quite a lavish expenditure in eggs. Where ten or a dozen whites are at hand an angel cake becomes a very economical delicacy.

Angel Cake.—The whites of eleven eggs, a cupful of flour, a cupful and a half of powdered sugar, a teaspoonful of cream of tartar and the same quantity of essence of vanilla. Beat the whites till very stiff, sift the flour and sugar and cream of tartar together, putting them through the sieve four times, then lightly and gradually shake them into the whites; add the vanilla. Pour into an ungreased tin and bake for forty minutes in a very moderate oven, leaving it in the tin till cold.

This same cake may be made to do duty as a dinner sweet by serving it as a charlotte. If stale, it should be liberally sprinkled with sirup flavored with a little maraschino and the center filled with whipped cream.

Apple Souffle.—Pare, core and cut up eight medium sized apples, stew them with a little water until the consistency of marmalade and sweeten to taste. When smooth and well cooked lightly whisk in the stiffly beaten whites of six eggs. Turn into a souffle dish and cook thirty minutes in a moderate oven. To gain variety in serving this souffle it may be baked in a case made of rice.

Short Jacket Usurps Bolero—Fads For the Feminine Toilet.

The form of the short jacket which is replacing the bolero is the short-hair fitted sack. It hangs to about three inches below the waist line, just suggesting the line of the bust on the sides as it curves in at the waist line behind. It is generally trimmed with up and down lines, bands of cloth embroidery or braiding, and a narrow vest may make it more elaborate. Sleeves are long. If they do not reach to the wrists, they cover the greater part of the forearm. A small gigot sleeve is often seen on a coat of this kind.

ways look well. Among other diaphanous fabrics silk muslin and ninon rank with net and chiffon, and there are some beautiful examples of flowered chiffon with interwoven black borders, either straight in Grecian or in tabbed design, that are very popular.

Veil pins have now been added to the long list of expensive items that go to complete the modish feminine toilet. Usually they are narrow bars of gold set with small stones harmonizing with the veil and hat. Pearl settings are, however, much admired, and wrought gold pins without gems are also popular.

The cut shows a charming dinner gown of black crepe de chine, trimmed with ruches of the material and velvet combined with medallions of cream lace. JUDIC CHOLLET.

Roses to Bloom on Hats All Winter. Squirrel Sets.

Roses are the most fashionable flower of the moment, and they bloom on felt, silk and velvet hats as beautifully as if it were June.

Squirrel is most becoming to girls with dark hair, although a blonde with bright coloring can wear it very successfully. Neither chinchilla, squirrel nor other gray furs look well with a sallow complexion if they come near the face.

It is a wonder that the velvet hems do not appear on many gowns of thin fabrics, such as chiffon and lace, are not too heavy for them.

return to the fashion of past days for all over braiding. A bolero effect is sometimes introduced on a princess gown with all over braiding, which is repeated on the skirt.

Messaline is making some of the most attractive separate waists of the season. There are so many varieties of satin finished silks that it is impossible to keep track of them, but radium is a beautiful novelty that is being made up into smart evening and house frocks.

There is a delicate shade of heron blue which is particularly charming for evening wear. A crepe de chine of this color is made in clinging semi-empire lines, with a folded belt of the palest violet panne velvet, which harmonizes excellently with the china blue of the gown itself.

The long coat in the cut of rainproof covert cloth is exceedingly comfortable for motoring. The checked costume is in tweed, with plaited skirt and half loose double breasted jacket.

Munkacsy's Customer.

It is not generally known that the first patron of Michael Munkacsy, known to the world as the painter of "Christ Before Pilate," was an American, a gentleman from Philadelphia, who passed through Dusseldorf when Munkacsy was a young and struggling artist. The American became convinced that the young Hungarian's pictures had merit. He bought one, took it to Paris and sent it to the salon, where it was promptly placed and attracted a great deal of attention.

A BAD COLD SETTLED ON THE LUNGS

All the most serious affections of the throat, the lungs, and the bronchial tubes, are, in the beginning, but coughs and colds, and failure to take hold at once and get rid of them will cause many years of suffering.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup

contains all the lung healing virtues of the pine tree and will certainly cure all coughs colds and lung troubles.

Mrs. Jas. MacDowell, Langton, Ont., writes: "In November, 1905, I caught a bad cold that settled on my lungs, so I got two bottles of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and used one and a half of them and by that time I was cured. I laid the balance of the bottle away for future use. A few days after our eight months' old baby took the whooping cough.

He was so bad we had to call the family physician, but he said he could do but little.

I commenced using the Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and to my great satisfaction the baby was cured. I only used four 25 cent bottles, a small doctor bill.

I believe there is no other remedy for coughs, colds, etc.

FOR SWEET CHARITY.

How to Furnish a Pincushion Stall at a Bazaar.

It is almost time for the annual breaking out of the bazaar epidemic, which attacks all communities, whether in town or country, in the fall. Lots of women dread these visitations not only on account of the trouble they entail, but from the fear of presiding over a "stall" that is not (to use a commercialism) a "good seller." All doubt on this score may be set at rest if a pincushion stall be selected. It may be safely looked upon as a "draw." The stock in trade is neither expensive nor troublesome to provide, and any surplus there may be need never remain long on hand, for a pincushion can claim to rank as a necessary of life.

The object with bazaar stock is first to be equipped with a sufficient supply of novelties and even oddities to make the stall striking and attractive and next to place one's wares in a good marketable position. The following pincushion suggestions may certainly be termed novelties in their line:

DUTCH PINCUSHION.

It is the fashion now to have master pincushions that reach from side to side of the dressing table and hold not only the supply of ordinary pins, but the hundred and one hatpins, lace pins, safety pins, etc., which are in this manner best marshaled for a choice. The cushion is bolster shaped and rests on a semicircular wooden support. The ends are gathered into the round of the bolster and finished off with ribbon streamers, each terminating in a colored glass bead. This idea admits of many variations.

Very quaint and unusual is the Dutch pincushion, copied exactly from one used in the land of dikes and windmills. This pretty article stands about six inches high, although it may be made of any size. The framework is formed of eight pieces of cardboard, covered with silk and neatly sewed together in hourglass shape. Another section of silk covered cardboard is sewed at the bottom; and the case is filled with bran or cotton batting tightly packed. A bran stuffed cushion is deftly fitted into the top, and the whole is finished down the seams with fine cord. A waistband, as it were, is put around the center of the cushion. Old fashioned blue and white checkerboard silk is the quaintest material to use, with the top cushion of a harmonizing blue material.

Love versus Law.

By C. B. LEWIS.

Copyright, 1903, by E. C. Parcells.

They came face to face as they turned a bend in the rough and narrow trail leading up the Cumberland mountains to Laurel Cove, and both stopped and stared for half a minute before the young man raised his hat and excused his absentmindedness. The young woman blushed, stammered a reply and passed on, and in a minute the trees and bushes hid them from each other.

The one everybody for five miles around knew as Abe Goodman's daughter Tilda. The other had just appeared in the neighborhood, claiming to be a botanist and a naturalist, and had secured a temporary home at the cabin of Saul Markham. For the last two years Tilda had been down to Nashville, "bein' eddicated," as her father and mother put it, and was now teaching the dozen children of the mountaineers in the log schoolhouse which the young man had passed forty rods before meeting her.

Tilda had come from mountaineer stock. Her father was rough, uncouth and ignorant. Her mother was uneducated and plain. The girl had lived in poverty, surrounded by poverty, and yet she was like none of the rest. Nature had given her a good figure and a handsome face, and the time spent in the city had made, what the natives called, a lady of her. The astonishment of the young man, who had given his name as Arthur Griggs, was but natural.

The stranger who goes among the people of the southern mountains is from the outset a suspected man, and the first suspicion which rests on him is that he must be a revenue spy.

Revenue men have raided and destroyed scores of stills in the coves and ravines and sent scores and scores of moonshiners to the penitentiary, but other stills are brought in, and other men take the places of those who have fallen under the ban of the law. It was so thirty years ago; it is so today; it will be so thirty years hence. The mountaineer argues that he is a law unto himself. He argues that he has a right to live. He argues that where he has no market for his corn as corn he has a right to turn it into whisky to make a market. The government does not argue with him. It sends men into the mountains to break up his business and imprison him. The moonshiner works in secret. So does the government. He depends upon the honor of his neighbors not to give him away. The revenue men coax, threaten, bribe and work in every underhand way to get an advantage. The enmity is more bitter than in the personal feuds. When the mountaineer goes down to the towns, he is trailed about, cross questioned, made drunk, if possible, and his wife or his children are offered money to betray him.

When the revenue men send a spy up the mountains to nose out and report on stills, he takes his life in his hands. He may go as a buyer of timber or coal or iron lands, as a traveler, peddler or artist, as a fur buyer, preacher or newspaper man, but the shadow of death walks by his side until he has proved himself all right. In that case he is heard of again down in the lowlands. In the other case he is reported as missing.

A botanist and a naturalist from Harvard was what Griggs claimed to be, and he was taken into the cabin of the mountaineer without question. There was no undue curiosity about him. He was free to come and free to go. As the neighbors were introduced to him they seemed to accept him as Saul Markham had done. He walked about in contentment and slept in peace. He did not know that he never moved a hundred feet from the cabin door without being under surveillance; that every action was watched; that men whom he had never seen looked in on him when he slept; that other men gathered together in the laurel thickets and reported on him and discussed him.

Young Griggs shot squirrels and hares and gathered flowers and plants and sought to make friends with all. Among those plain and hospitable people it was an easy matter for him to bring about an acquaintanceship with Tilda. Two days after meeting her on the trail they knew each other. The girl was pleased when she saw admiration in the young man's eyes. She was pleased when he dared to flatter and to compliment. She knew little of the world and its hollowness. If the mountaineer said this or that, he meant it. She had to judge others by this standard.

It was only after the newcomer and Tilda were being talked about as lovers that the watch on Griggs was relaxed. He had set no time for departing, but after a month it was seen that his work was finished and that he was staying on account of the girl. Abe Goodman asked no questions of the young man, and the mother asked none of her daughter. Suspicious and distrustful as the mountaineers were, they had been fooled. The newcomer was a revenue spy, working with the promise of a great reward. He had rehearsed his part for months before playing it. He had counted on everything but meeting Tilda. There had been admiration from the first, and love had soon followed. Within two weeks there had sprung up in his breast a conflict 'twixt love and duty, and it was for this reason he lingered. He was not what he claimed to be, and yet he was the girl's superior in all ways. It was her ingenuousness and innocence that appealed to him. He had come to betray, and yet he could not do it. He loved, and yet he hesitated to go further. More education and refinement, more contact with the world, and she would be a woman to be proud of, and yet there was her ancestry—the impossible in the environments that had surrounded her for so many years and must have their due effects.

When a man trusts a woman, he has limits. When a woman trusts a man, she has none. She is ready to give her whole life to him. Arthur Griggs knew that he had won the maiden's love, and it was for him to make a choice. Should he return and betray the stills hidden away in Laurel Cove and then disappear and be seen no more, or should he report that none existed and take away a mountain bride and the good will of the lowly people? Love carried the day. It was to the credit of human sentiment that it was so. But before this determination was reached the young man walked alone on the mountains. No one followed him this day. It was Sunday, and the mountaineers were smoking their pipes as they rested. Their suspicions had been lulled. They had kept their eyes open and whispered among themselves—whispered and smiled. On this day, as he walked under the giant chestnuts and made his way through the laurels, young Griggs came upon a man. The revenue force had grown impatient with his dilatory tactics and had sent an emissary to see and question him. The two talked for half an hour as they leaned against the trunk of a great tree at the edge of a thicket. When they separated, the revenue man knew that nothing further could be expected from the spy. He had shut his eyes to all but the song of love. It had been useless to talk to him of duty. He had come as a spy, but had sold the government out.

After the talk Griggs walked away a few rods and sat down on a rock from which he could see far down the side of the grim old mountain. He could count the cabins of the mountaineers scattered about, and he could look down into Beaver Cove and Halfway Cove and Halpin's Hamlet. It was a day of peace, with the smoke ascending as straight as an arrow and the birds singing and the squirrels chattering about him. He felt good. There was a burden off his mind and joy in his heart now that he had made his decision. In the evening he would see Tilda and tell her that he loved her. In the evening he would see her father and ask her hand in marriage. He was smiling as his eyes roved over the landscape beneath him when a step caused him to turn his head.

"Tilda, you here!" he cried as he sprang to his feet with the light of love in his eyes and his arms outstretched.

She drew herself up and waved him away.

"But, Tilda, what is it?"

She was pale, and hard lines had come into her face. The girl look was searched for in vain. There was suffering in her eyes, but determination in the compressed lips.

"I was in the thicket when you talked with that man—dad and I," she said at last. "Dad has gone for his rifle to shoot you like a dog. I am here to tell you to go."

"But if you heard us talking you know that I would not agree to what the man wanted."

"You came her as a spy. If you hadn't fallen in love with me you would have betrayed my own father. In love with me! I in love with a revenue spy! Go."

"But listen, Tilda. If I came here under false pretenses I"—

"We are poor and humble," she interrupted as she drew her skirts away from him. "We are plain and uneducated. We have nothing before us—nothing but this to look forward to. You are learned, and you may be rich. You have the whole world before you, and you know how to be happy, but the mountain forest can never be [illegible] as a ring between you! Go!"

He paused for ten seconds in hopes to see her face soften, but it was like stone. She motioned again, and he went. In five minutes he was out of sight down the side of the mountain, and rough old Abe Goodman was standing over his weeping daughter and saying to her in sympathetic tones:

"Thar, thar, little one, don't cry. The Lawd made women to b'ar crosses and to stand trubble, and if you'll jes look up to him he'll bring you into smooth waters and send along a feller of a husband wuth forty hosses and kerridges."

Feed For The Growing Child

Whole-Grain Preparations Declared of Greatest Value In Development of Body and Mind.

"The growing child especially needs those elements that are found in whole grain preparations," says the writer of a recent magazine article on 'The Best Foods for Growing Children.'

Malta-Vita is the perfect whole wheat food, rich in every nutritive element demanded by the body of the child and just as healthful and strengthening for the child's parents and older sisters and brothers. Being a pure grain product,—simply the whole of the best white wheat and a little salt, mixed with pure barley malt extract—Malta-Vita supplies the body with all those food elements which make bone, blood, muscle and brain and bring perfect health.

The malt extract is added after the wheat has been thoroughly cooked and steamed and converts the starch of the wheat into maltose, or malt sugar, which is highly nutritious and easily assimilated even by very weak stomachs. Physicians recommend maltose for its strength-giving qualities and Malta-Vita is rich in it. After being treated with the malt extract, the wheat, rolled into little wafer flakes, goes to the ovens, where it is baked crisp and brown, delicious beyond description. All grocers, now 10 cents.

FLY FISHING.

The Expert Angler Explains Why It Is a Humane Sport.

"Well," said Chichester, "if it comes to suffering I doubt whether the fish are conscious of any such thing as we means by it. But even if they are they suffer twice as much and a thousand times as long shut up in this hot, nasty pool as they would in being caught in proper style."

"But think of the hook!"

"Hurts about as much as a pin prick."

"But think of the fearful struggle and the long, gasping agony on the shore!"

"There's no fear in the struggle. It's just a trial of strength and skill, like a game of football. A fish isn't afraid of death; he doesn't know anything about it. And there is no gasping on the shore, but a quick rap on the head with a stick, and it's all over."

"But why should he be killed at all?"

"Well," said he, smiling, "there are reasons of taste. You eat salmon, don't you?"

"Ye-e-es," she answered a little doubtfully, then with more assurance, "but remember what Wilbur Short says in that lonely chapter on 'Communion With the Catfish'—I want them brought to the table in the simplest and most painless way."

"And that is angling with the fly," said he, still more decidedly. "The fly is not swallowed like a bait. It sticks in the skin of the lip, where there is least feeling. There is no torture in the play of a salmon. It's just a fair fight with an unknown opponent. Compare it with the other ways of bringing a fish to the table. If he's caught in a net, he hangs there for hours, slowly strangled. If he's speared, half the time the spear slips, and he struggles off badly wounded, and if the spear goes through him he is flung out on the bank to bleed to death. Even if he escapes he is sure to come to a pitiful end some day—perish by starvation when he gets too old to catch his food or be torn to pieces by a seal, an otter or a fish-hawk. Fly fishing really offers him"—

"Never mind that," said Ethel. "What does it offer you?"

"A gentleman's sport, I suppose," he answered rather slowly.—Henry van Dyke in Scribner's.

HE DID SLEEP.

The Result of Taking Pedants and Milk For Insomnia.

Yesterday a friend who had heard that I sometimes suffer from insomnia told me of a sure cure, says Good Health Clinic. "Eat a pint of peanuts and drink two or three glasses of milk before going to bed," said he, "and I'll warrant you'll be asleep within half an hour." I did as he suggested, and now for the benefit of others who may be afflicted with insomnia I feel it to be my duty to report what happened, so far as I am able this morning to recall the details. First let me say my friend was right. I did go to sleep very soon after my retirement. Then a friend with his head under his arm came along and asked me if I wanted to buy his feet. I was negotiating with him when the dragon on which I was riding slipped out of his skin and left me floating in midair. While I was considering how I should get down a bull with two heads peered over the edge of the well and said he would haul me up if I would first climb up and rig a windlass for him. So as I was sliding down the mountain side the brakeman came in, and I asked him when the train would reach my station. "We passed your station 400 years ago," he said, calmly folding the train up and slipping it into his vest pocket.

At this juncture the clown bounded into the ring and pulled the center pole out of the ground, lifting the tent and all the people in it up, up, up, while I stood on the earth below watching myself go out of sight among the clouds above.

Then I awoke and found that I had been asleep almost ten minutes.

Smoke Bad Tempers Away.

"Bad weather and bad tempers do our business good," said a tobacconist. "What other business can you say that of? You see, the more dismal the weather is the more men seek the solace of tobacco. In consequence the more money falls into the tobacconist's till. Bad tempered men are always the cigar dealer's best customers. The ill natured man not only flies to his pipe or weed oftener than others, but he smokes twice as rapidly as his placid, mild tempered brother."

Fishing Line Worth $2,000.

"A fishing line worth $2,000?"

"Yes, sir."

"I don't believe it."

"It's the truth. It's a codfish line. It's one of those lines in which you owe your Sunday morning codfish balls and your less appetizing but equally helpful cod liver oil. These codfish lines, you see, are frequently eight miles long. They have 4,680 hooks. They'll often land 2500 cod. No wonder they cost $2,000, eh?"

One View of It.

"I won't marry him, mother, even if he is a count. All he wants me for is my money, and he's a big fool!"

"Hush, my dear. He'd be a bigger fool to want you without a cent!"

A PLOT THAT FAILED.

The Scheme to Blow Up Napoleon III. With Gunpowder.

An interesting story is that of a frustrated plot against Napoleon III. which has never got into the history book, but which is one of the favorite stories of M. Victorien Sardou.

In 1900, when the frontage of the Theatre Francais was rebuilt after the disastrous fire in which one of the most charming actresses of the Maison de Moliere lost her life, several shops disappeared, among them being that of the famous Restaurant Chevet. It was not properly speaking a restaurant. Chevet used to sell liqueurs, groceries, smoked meats, etc., and in a couple of low ceilinged rooms on the first floor he would serve a meal or two to connoisseurs. One day in 1865 or 1866 two young men of fashion, Russians both of them, came in and called for dinner in one of the little rooms which were above the shop. They asked for caviare, but when they got it they protested loudly that the caviare was of inferior quality and called for the owner of the shop. He came, apologised and was met with the remark, tendered laughingly by one of the diners, that next time they came they would bring their own caviare. They came again and brought it in a little white wooden barrel, and when they left they had it put on one side for them. From time to time the two young Russians came and dined chez Chevet, dined invariably in the same room and always began their dinner with their own caviare. One day they finished the barrel, and a few days later, in the afternoon, one of them brought another one. "Put it in the little cupboard in the room we always dine in," he said to the waiter, "and do not let anybody touch it until we come to dine." The waiter took it, but on his way upstairs something peculiar struck him.

"Look at this barrel," he said to the restaurant keeper. "There is something queer about it."

"That is no business of ours," said the master of the establishment, "and I am not going to look at it, anyhow. What will our customers say if they find we have opened it?"

"Oh," said the waiter, "we can open it and close it again, and they will never know. It is certainly different from the last barrel. It is heavier, to begin with."

His insistence prevailed, and the barrel was opened. The restaurant keeper and the waiter started back in fright. There was no caviare, but gunpowder in that little barrel, which was an infernal machine. The little dining room was exactly underneath the imperial box, and there is little doubt that the emperor's next visit to the Comedie Francaise would have been his last had the carefully laid plot not been discovered. The plotters never were caught, although the secret of the plot was carefully guarded and traps were laid for them in Chevet's restaurant for several days.—St. James' Gazette.

NERVOUS and WEAK

COULD NOT SLEEP AT NIGHT

To the thousands of people all over this land who are tossing on sleepless pillows night after night, or who pace the bedroom floor with nerves unhinged, and to whom eyes sleep will not come, offer the blessing of sound, refreshing slumber.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

They restore the equilibrium of the deranged nerve centres, and bring back the shattered nervous system to perfect condition.

Mrs. Wm. Richardson, Pentypool, Ont., writes: "I take great pleasure in recommending Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I was troubled at times with my heart, felt weak and nervous and could not sleep at night. I have taken several boxes of the pills and am wonderfully improved.

I have recommended them to others and they have found them just what they needed."

The price of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills is 50 cents per box or 3 boxes for $1.25 at all dealers or will be mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

A GALLOWS MYSTERY

John Lee's Remarkable Experience on the Scaffold.

FACED DEATH THREE TIMES.

And Three Times the Trap, Which Had Previously Been Tested and Found in Good Working Order, Refused to Open When the Bolt Was Drawn.

One of the most remarkable scenes ever witnessed on the gallows took place in England in the last century.

Early on the morning of Feb. 23, 1885, a considerable crowd of people gathered before the grim front of Exeter prison. It was a silent crowd, shivering in the keen wind that blew around those frowning walls on that dull, misty morning, and its eyes were all bent on a flagstaff which stood bare. They were waiting for a flag to be hoisted—the terrible black flag which should announce that justice had been done on a murderer.

Inside the prison a warder stood ready, holding in his hand the cord which should hoist the hideous black drapery lying on the ground at his feet, but the signal did not come. Instead of it there arrived an excited prison officer.

"The flag will not be hoisted. Lee will not be hanged today," he said.

John Lee, the prisoner whose death signal that crowd had awaited, had had one of the most remarkable escapes from capital punishment recorded in our prison history. To this day it remains somewhat of a mystery how John Lee lived so many years after the events of that terrible morning.

"I had a dream," the wretched man wrote to his sister the day after his fearful experience on the scaffold—"I had a dream on Sunday night (the night before the day fixed for the execution) that the scaffold was not ready and that they had to make another. I told the officers that were on watch over me at 6 o'clock in the morning, but I did not think it was coming true. But it did. It was the Lord's will that I should not die yesterday at the time appointed by man. I believe what occurred was a miracle. I was on the brink of death three times. It is my wish to die. I am tired of this world, and I am waiting for the time to come, and I hope it will not be long. I have been dead to this world three times."

John Lee did not exaggerate his awful experience.

At 8 in the morning of that February day he had been led from his cell to die. In what had been the coach house of the prison the gallows had been erected. Beneath was a deep pit covered by the closed doors, which, when the condemned man was placed in proper position, should, at a signal from the executioner, fly open, a bolt being withdrawn by an assistant pulling a lever. The whole arrangement had been tested several times and had worked satisfactorily. But now, with John Lee standing there with the cap drawn over his face and the hangman's rope around his neck, the flap doors beneath his feet would not give way! Berry made the fatal signal, the assistant pulled the lever, the bolt flew back, but the doors kept their place. Then warders rushed forward and stamped with their feet upon the doors. They remained firm. Lee was led aside, and carpenters were called in to saw some of the woodwork away. Again all was ready. The clergyman once more came to the words, "In the midst of life we are in death." Again the signal was given, the bar was pulled, but the doors refused to part.

John Lee stood there before them alive!

Three times did that happen. For no fewer than eighteen minutes Lee stood there tasting the agony of momentarily expected death.

Then the white cap was taken from his face and the rope from around his neck, and he was led back to prison, while the jail authorities hastily conferred as to what should be done. A telegram was dispatched to the home secretary, Sir William Harcourt, informing him of the extraordinary occurrence and requesting instructions. Later the undersheriff proceeded to London to interview the secretary.

"I felt," said Sir William Harcourt later in the house of commons, "that it would shock the feelings of every one if this man were called upon to again undergo the pangs of imminent death, and I consequently signed a respite during her majesty's pleasure."

Eased His Conscience.

An amusing story is related of Johns Hopkins. Honesty was evidently one of the fundamental traits of his character. On one occasion he was sent by his mother to borrow a flatiron of a neighbor. The good neighbor gave him the flatiron and at the same time offered him a piece of pie.

"No, thank you. I don't want any pie," said the red faced boy as he started home. Halfway there the pie and his conscience were too much for him. He wheeled about and knocked again at the neighbor's door, his face redder than ever. "I told you a story," he explained; "I did want that pie."

A Last Resort.

First Farm Servant—Why did the farmer's wife give you notice? Second Farm Servant—She said I was no good for anything. I couldn't even mind the sheep. So I am going into the town to be a nursemaid.

THE TONSILS.

It is Not Known What Purpose These Structures Serve.

The tonsils are two collections of glandlike structures at the back part of the mouth, one on each side, between the pillars of the palate. It is not known what purpose they serve. Some have supposed that they arrest the germs of disease which may be inhaled or taken in with the food, but they evidently can catch very few of the germs which rapidly pass them in the food or water or in the air which is inhaled, and it is well they cannot, for they are themselves very susceptible to disease, as some sufferers know to their sorrow. Others have thought they serve an evil purpose, acting as portals of entry for many disease germs into the body.

The tonsils are very liable to become inflamed. This condition constitutes tonsilitis, or, when an abscess forms, quinsy. Young persons, over fifteen and under thirty, are most subject to inflammation of the tonsils, although children and even those well along in life may suffer. It occurs with special frequency in those whose tonsils are enlarged and usually in persons who are "run down" in general health or in whom the power of resistance has been lowered as a result of worry or overexertion.

The extra study in preparing for a difficult examination in school or college and the anxiety concerning the result not uncommonly bring on an attack of quinsy, especially in those of a so called rheumatic tendency.

There are various kinds of tonsilitis, but the symptoms of all are quite similar in the beginning. The patient feels ill, has chilly sensations, loss of appetite, more or less headache perhaps, constipation, feverishness and a feeling of discomfort or actual pain in the throat. Soon the fever becomes high, the throat is dry, swallowing is painful, there is often more or less earache, and the patient seems seriously ill.

Suppuration may or may not occur. The pain and throbbing are most severe when it does.

The attack lasts usually from two or three days to a week and is apt to terminate quite suddenly, although if but one tonsil has been affected recovery may be delayed by an extension of the inflammation to the other tonsil. In that case the whole tiresome process must be gone through with again.

The disease is almost always serious enough to require the physician's care, for the treatment calls for internal remedies as well as local applications. Whatever else is done, the bowels should be kept open from the beginning of the attack.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

A just complaint is an accommodation.

Talk happiness. People get tired of hearing of your woes.

The things you don't say cause you less grief in this life than almost anything else.

Ever think how foolish it is to bear a grudge? Unkind feelings have no market value.

If you spend your time in growling about an imaginary wrong, you are apt to neglect your own shortcomings.

Every child is doomed to disappointment. All children imagine that as soon as they are twenty-one they will "do as they please."

State your views on any subject, and if your listener says he hasn't made up his mind it means he disagrees with you and hates to say so.

An Expensive Short Cut.

It will certainly be news to most people, says the London Globe, that New York is a short cut for telegrams between London and Paris and between London and Berlin. However, the fact is vouched for. The messages are received at an agreed address in New York and are immediately passed on for London, Paris or Berlin, as the case may be. The reason for this amazing roundabout to save time is curious. New York time being about six hours behind European time, its wire connections with Europe are almost unoccupied during the London forenoon, while during the same time European wires are often congested. Via New York, therefore, is a "short cut," but an expensive one.

The Watch Habit.

"Ain't it funny how little a man seems to use a watch and yet how he misses one if he hasn't got it with him?" said a man on the street car yesterday who had forgotten his. "I don't suppose I really need my watch more than three or four times a day," he said. "There's always plenty of clocks in sight, but I must look at my watch dozens of times without knowing that I do it. I haven't been gone from home now more than twenty minutes, and I feel as if I had left off my collar, and yet I know within a few minutes of what time it is."

Preparing For It.

"Hello, Stinjay!" cried Knox. "Looking for anybody?"

"Why, yes," replied Stinjay. "Wiseman was to meet me here at 6 o'clock to go home to dinner with me, and it's 6 now."

"Oh, he'll be along! I just saw him finishing a porterhouse steak in that restaurant down the street."

OLD COACHING DAYS.

Some Adventures in New Brunswick Half a Century Ago.

A correspondent writes to The Moncton Times as follows:— "Forty-five years ago, on the 14th of November, 1861, I left the St. John's Hotel, of St. John (N.B.), in the King's mail coach, driven by John Crabb, with seven passengers on board for 'The Bend,' as Moncton was then called. There had been a heavy snowstorm for some days—snow and frost. The wind came around south with heavy rain—a good deal like the weather we are having now. We left the hotel at six o'clock in the evening with two span of horses. When we got to the marsh road bridge the driver stopped and sung out to Nos. seven, six, and five to jump out as he could take only four passengers. Mr. Henry, who was going to Mr. Prince's funeral, being No. seven, jumped out. He handed a parcel to the driver to give to Mr. Prince's family. All the rest of us kept our seats and paid our passage and had our names objected to jumping out, as we had registered in the hotel book.

Walked Through the Mud.

We all talked the matter over and told the driver that we would walk up the hills and bad places. The driver, being a fine fellow—no better on the road—consented to try, as we said we would walk over the bad places. He started again, but got stuck in the mud at the bottom of a hill. We got out and walked through the mud. Some of the bridges were washed away by the freshet. We got along the best we could—out all night. We got to the old Moncton Hotel, kept by Mr. King, about four o'clock in the evening—twenty-four hours coming from the St. John Hotel to the Moncton Hotel. Just think of the difference in traveling now—could go to New York in that time. As I have said, we got to the Moncton Hotel about four, nearly dark.

Schooner Was Frozen.

I ran round to see what chance there was of getting to Shediac, and if the little schooner Oregon was still running. I was told that she was frozen in at Summerside, but might have got out since the soft weather set in. I found the man who drove the mails to Shediac. He had a rickety old wagon. I asked for passage. He said he thought he could take me, and would leave in half an hour, which he did. I saw a few friends, and then got aboard his rickety old wagon for Shediac, and, after quite a journey over the bad roads, arrived there and was delighted to hear that the little packet Oregon, of thirty-five tons, had arrived that day. I went across in her next day to Prince Edward Island.

No Fur Coats Then.

Let young men who read this think of the difference in traveling then and at the present time. No fur coats to muffle up in then. Hurrah for Canada and the governments that have made her what she is to-day! Some of those who were on board the coach were John McKenzie, ex-Mayor of Moncton, the only one except myself who is now living, Police Magistrate Humphrey Gilbert, of St. John; Robert Cutler, M.P.P. for Kent Co., and Capt. Howard Beatty, of Moncton.

"Although we were twenty-two hours on the way we all enjoyed ourselves very much. There was a jolly time on board. Great political speechifying by Cutler, McKenzie and Beatty, and great cheering. Never heard better speeches at that time. There was the county election going on at that time."

JUST SEVEN YEARS AGO.

Paardeberg Fought and Won in the South African Campaign.

Seven years ago Feb. 27, "there came a tale to Canada," which, while bringing, as it did, sorrow and pain to many, yet was the cause of heartfelt rejoicing throughout the whole Dominion.

This news was contained in a cablegram from Field Marshal Lord Roberts, then commanding His Majesty's forces in South Africa in the war against the Boers, to the British War Office in London, it tells its own story in simple words, and reads as follows:

"Paardeberg, Feb. 27, 7.45 a. m.

"General Cronje and all of his force capitulated unconditionally at daylight and is now a prisoner in my camp.

"The strength of his force will be communicated later.

"I hope H. M. Government will consider this event satisfactory, occurring, as it does, on the anniversary of Majuba."

Present at Paardeberg was the 2nd Battalion R. C. R., commanded by Lieut.-Col. Otter, and they did their part on that day nobly, earning unqualified praise for their steadiness and discipline under fire, from Lord Roberts himself.

The casualty list in the R. C. R. numbered 8 men killed and 20 wounded.

WHY SILHOUETTE.

A Curious Bit of History Wrapped Up in the Word.

The making of silhouettes can hardly be classed among the lost arts, since there is so little art about them. The best of them represent the human profile in a crude way, and they were regarded as rather a cheap kind of pictures even in the days when they were most popular. Indeed, the very word silhouette means something poor and cheap, and it had its origin in a spirit of ridicule. It is taken from Etienne de Silhouette, who was a French cabinet minister in the year 1759, when the treasury of France was very low because of costly wars with Britain and Prussia and by the extravagances of the government. When Etienne de Silhouette became minister of finance he set about making great reforms in the public expenditures. He was by nature a very "close" man, and he went to such extremes in keeping down the public expenses that he brought great ridicule upon himself, and finally anything that was cheap and poor was referred to as a la Silhouette.

A very crude picture was popular at that time. It was made by tracing the shadow or profile of a face projected by the light of a candle on a sheet of white paper and the outline defined with a pencil. This was such a very poor and cheap sort of picture that it was at once called a silhouette in further derision of the very unwise French minister, and the name has "stuck." It is an instance of the curious derivation of some words in common use, and this unkind slur on a man who was really trying to introduce needed reforms in the spending of the public money has long been accepted as a good and proper word. Indeed, there is no other word used for pictures of this kind, although there were such pictures long before M. Etienne de Silhouette had his name attached to them in so embarrassing a way.—Morris Wade in Century.

AN EARLY CALL.

Mark Twain's Story About His Absentminded Brother.

One bitter December night Orion (Mark Twain's brother) sat up reading until 3 o'clock in the morning and then, without looking at a clock, sallied forth to call on a young lady. He hammered and hammered at the door; couldn't get any response; didn't understand it. Anybody else would have regarded that as an indication of some kind or other and would have drawn inferences and gone home, but Orion didn't draw inferences. He merely hammered and hammered, and finally the father of the girl appeared at the door in a dressing gown. He had a candle in his hand, and the dressing gown was all the clothing he had on, except an expression of welcome, which was so thick and so large that it extended all down his front to his instep and nearly obliterated the dressing gown. But Orion didn't notice that this was an unpleasant expression. He merely walked in. The old gentleman took him into the parlor, set the candle on a table and stood. Orion made the usual remarks about the weather and sat down—sat down and talked and talked and went on talking, that old man looking at him vindictively and waiting for his chance, waiting treacherously and malignantly for his chance. Orion had not asked for the young lady. It was not customary. It was understood that a young fellow came to see the girl of the house, not the female of it. At last Orion got up and made some remark to the effect that probably the young lady was busy and he would go now and call again. That was the old man's chance, and he said with fervency, "Why, good land, aren't you going to stop to breakfast?"—Mark Twain's Autobiography in North American Review.

Canada Americanizes.

Why on earth the newspapers should devote so much space to the trial of one of the degenerates of New York society, for the murder of another moral degenerate, is one of the problems which colonials are constantly puzzling over in the heart of the Empire. London has enough sordid tragedies to furnish food for those who revel in morbid literature, and one is inclined to believe that the oft-reiterated peril of Canada being "Americanized" by the influx from the Western States, is not so much to be feared as the "Americanising" of England through the agency of the American correspondents of London newspapers. The writer was dining with some friends the other evening where one of the guests was a well-known journalist and man of literary attainments, who has recently visited Canada and the United States. "You Canadians appear to have no love for the United States," was one of the first remarks levelled at the writer. "If we have little love for the United States the reason is to be found in the fulsome adulation of everything American in England," was the reply.

Stay On the Farm.

They tell me that you are thinking of leaving the farm this spring. Don't do it; keep close to the soil. You are tired of feeding the cattle, the sheep and the pigs, tired of chopping the wood, tired of cleaning the stable out, tired of the store on the corner—tired of it all. You have visited the city, and its roar fascinates you. Everyone seemed well dressed and happy, and the laughter and conversation of the passers-by were music to your ear.

Stay with the farm, for it is a healthy spot to live on, where you get a complexion from nature's brush and an arm made strong in God's gymnasium, where you need no medicine to make you eat. Stay with the farm, where life is natural and friendship more real, where you can wear what you want when you want, and there is none who will criticise. Stay with the farm, with its spirit of trust and friendliness, from the collie who follows you up and down the line to the swallow who builds in the barn.—Charles F. Raymond in the Record.

His Idea of Happiness.

At the Players' club in New York some years ago a number of actors were arguing about the meaning of the word "happiness." In the midst of the argument Henry E. Dixey appeared, and one of the contestants said:

"Dixey, what is your idea of happiness?"

Mr. Dixey smiled thoughtfully. Then he replied: "My idea of true happiness is to lie on a couch before a bright fire, smoking a large Havana cigar given me by an admirer, while I listen to a woman who worships me reading aloud flattering press notices about my acting."

A Limited Habit.

"I see that some of our scientists claim that death is largely a matter of habit, depending upon thought and all that," he said.

"Nonsense," she replied. "Did you ever know any one who was in the habit of dying?"

CANADA STILL UNCERTAIN.

In Regard to the Question of Preferential Tariff For the Colonies.

The publication of the official agenda for the Colonial Conference gives special importance to the proposal that the time had come for Canada to make some offer to the British Empire.

The official agenda shows how decisive is the attitude in all other self-governing colonies. In the Australian Commonwealth, the Government which has just returned to power after the general election re-affirms the resolutions of the 1902 conference in favor of preferential trade and adds: "It is desirable that the United Kingdom grant preferential treatment to products and manufactures of the colonies."

Reciprocal Privileges.

The Cape Colony Government, while re-affirming the resolutions of 1902 and adhering to the principle of preference for British manufactures "desires to impress upon His Majesty Government the opinion that the continuance of such preferential treatment to producers and manufacturers of Britain is largely dependent upon granting some reciprocal privileges to the British Colonies."

The Government of New Zealand, while also endorsing preference to British goods, considers it essential that Britain concede a preference to Colonial products, which are now taxed under existing British revenue tariff.

Canada Second to None.

Canada alone makes no suggestions, though, as The Times says in editorial: "Whatever form they took, the ideas of the great community, which is foremost among the States of the Empire would be received with interest and attention second to none."

It is felt that Canada's position at the Conference would be greatly strengthened if she came into line with these other Colonial utterances, by re-affirming by resolution of the Dominion Parliament her desire as was formally expressed by the Canadian Ministers at the 1902 conference that in the interests of Canada and the whole Empire, "the Imperial Government would accept the principle of preferential trade generally and grant to the food products of Canada exemption in the United Kingdom from the duties now levied or hereafter imposed."

Other Colonial Governments feel it necessary, without in any way interfering with British politics and speaking solely in the interests of their own Colonies and the Empire at large to re-affirm their attitude of 1902. A re-affirmation by Canada on similar lines would formally bring before the Conference the attitude of the Dominion Government as explained by Mr. Fielding's budget speech last November.—Windermere in Montreal Star.

FIVE DOLLARS A POUND.

Witty Canadian Barrister's Plea Carries Weight With the Jury.

There have been many witty Irish-Canadians in the legal profession. Chief among these was Mr. James O'Reilly, who was the Crown prosecutor in the case against the murderer of D'Arcy McGee in 1868. But Mr. O'Reilly had not always such stern matters to deal with and was known as the most brilliant wit at the Kingston bar. He was once employed by the plaintiff in a breach of promise case and, as his client was ugly, he saw that he must make a practical appeal to the jury.

The lady in the case was an elderly cook, fat as every good cook should be, and possessed of only one eye which had a peculiar and unpleasant glare.

Her Face Was Red.

Her face was extremely red and as Mr. O'Reilly gazed upon her lack of charms he felt that ordinary eloquence about beauty in distress would be thrown away. Her lover was a man of rather mean propensities who had faithfully devoured a large share of viands on the occasion of his regular calls. In fact, during their acquaintance he had gained forty pounds. Mr. O'Reilly obtained two photographs of the perfidious gentleman—one showing him to be a gaunt and emaciated creature; the other, after his course of applied domestic science, showing a plump and prosperous citizen. The members of the jury were deeply impressed when Mr. O'Reilly's mellifluous voice asked the question:

Avoirdupois Justice.

"To whom do these forty pounds belong if not to my client?"

The plain avoirdupois justice of the appeal aroused the calculating sympathy of the jury and it was gravely announced that, as the defendant had gained forty pounds during his courtship and as the meanest human flesh ought to bring five dollars a pound, the forsaken cook was entitled to two hundred dollars for the defendant's improved condition.—Canadian Courier.

The Temperance of Miss Willard.

I met Walt Whitman once in Germantown at a home famous for its hospitality and the notables who loved to go there and know he was urged to leave out of the next edition certain poems. But "No" was the only answer. It was art and must never be disturbed. Miss Willard was also a guest, and Walt was rude to her; said he hated a crusading temperance fanatic, especially a woman. She was perfectly unruffled, and he left the room, but before long he returned and apologized in the sweetest way. Upstairs Frances said to me, "What a grand old man to be willing to own he was sorry for his remarks!"—Kate Sanborn in New England Magazine.

The Latest Straw.

"John," said the woman with nine chapeaux, "I got another new hat today."

"My dear," expostulated her husband, "that is the last straw."

"I know it," she said; "just from Paris."

FATAL RESULTS OF THE EXPLOSION

Train Wrecked and Three Men Killed, Others Injured.

MANY FIRES ARE STARTED

Whole Town Was Shaken, and Windows Smashed—Nothing Left of Engine and Cars—Bodies Were Blown Three Hundred Feet—Portions of Wreck Hurled Into Buildings Several Blocks Away.

Metchuen, N. J., March 12.—Three men were killed and a number of others hurt, and Metchuen was shaken and threatened with many fires yesterday, when the boiler of a locomotive on the Pennsylvania Railroad exploded while drawing a freight train through the town.

The dead are: William J. Sisher, engineer, of Philadelphia; W. H. Fritsche, fireman, Trenton, N. J., and C. B. Smith, brakeman, Trenton N. J.

The train left Jersey City at 1 p.m. and was passing through this place under good headway when just opposite the railroad station the boiler of the locomotive exploded with terrific force Hardly any portions of the locomotive except the wheels was found at the point of the explosion. Portions of the boiler were blown two blocks away and tore their way into buildings The bodies of Engineer Sisher and Brakeman Smith were found a hundred yards from the railroad tracks.

Cars Caught Fire.

Many of the freight cars were piled in a heap and several of the train hands were injured, none seriously, in the wreckage. The broken cars caught fire from the scattered coal of the locomotive firebox, but the blaze was soon extinguished by the fire department.

A portion of the locomotive was blown into Hahn's drug store, two blocks from the track, and another piece of steel entered McCutcheon's pharmacy. Both stores were set on fire simultaneously, but in neither case was there any serious loss.

Miss Daisy Martin, telephone operator in the railroad station, was thrown from her chair by the explosion and slightly injured. The station caught fire, but the blaze was soon extinguished.

Windows in buildings within a radius of two hundred yards were broken by the explosion, the force of which was so great as to seem like an earthquake.

Boy Killed by Whiskey.

Syracuse, N. Y., March 12.—Frank Bearup, 5 years of age, was advised by his father Sunday to take a mouthful of whiskey to allay pain from an aching tooth.

The boy did so and continued the treatment until he had taken more than half a pint of liquor. He was seized with convulsions and died at midnight.

Sealer Lost Four Men In Fog.

Victoria, March .12.—The sealing schooner Vera of this city has reported the loss of a boat with four Victoria men, during a fog 140 miles southwest of San Francisco.

Upset Lamp Causes Fire.

Guelph, March 12.—William Stevenson and his son-in-law, Grier, who live in the half of a brick house on Oliver street, their wives being away in the States, celebrated the occasion Sunday afternoon by imbibing so freely that the police cautioned them. About 11.30 Sunday night a fire alarm was sent in. It seems that the pair between them upset a lamp, and it set the house on fire. The roofs of both tenements were badly burnd.

Two Named In Carleton County.

Ottawa, March 12.—R. H. McElroy is the official Conservative candidate, and William H. Hartin, the independent farmers candidate for vacancy in Carleton County, to be filled next Monday.

Hanover, Conn., March 12.—Rodolphus W. Fuller, the inventor of the machine to make horseshoes, died yesterday, aged 85 years. The inventor died poor.

THE PROSECUTION'S CASE AGAINST THAW

Delmas Blocks Jerome's Plan of a Hack.

EVELYN'S STORY WILL STAND

Justice Fitzgerald Rules That Only Effect of Recital on Thaw, Not the Truth, is Point at Issue—Sharp Passages Between Counsel—Family Attorney Gives Evidence — Cruelty Admitted.

New York, March 12.—Yesterday, the first day of the state's rebuttal in the trial of Harry K. Thaw, District Attorney Jerome came to a temporary standstill against a practically solid wall, the rules of avidence built around the story of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw.

Jerome began to attack this story as soon as court opened. There ensued a well-nigh incessant fight between the prosecutor and Delphin M. Delmas, leading counsel for the defence, at the end of which Justice Fitzgerald upheld the rule laid down at the beginning of the trial—the story is admissable only as tending to show the effect it might have had in unbalancing the defendant's mind, its truth or falsity being immaterial.

Although he doubtless will be blocked by the same rule when the time comes, it is said he may attempt in the same way to prove an alibi for Stanford White as to the events testified to by the wife of the defendant.

Ten Witnesses Called.

The district attorney called ten witnesses during the day, but, aside from obtaining from the state's eye-witnesses to the tragedy the opinions that Thaw seemed rational the night he shot and killed Stanford White, little real headway was made.

Lining up all his forces in rebuttal, Jerome decided to open his fight upon the defence by attacking the story told by Evelyn Nesbit Thaw. He called to the stand Frederick Longfellow, and asked him first about the case in which Ethel Thomas is alleged to have sued Thaw for damages because of cruel treatment.

Delmas objected to questions along this line under the professional privilege of lawyer and client, but before Justice Fitzgerald sustained the objection and ruled out the evidence Jerome declared:

"The story of the girl tied to a post and whipped by Thaw is the story of Ethel Thomas. This poor girl is dead."

Jerome showed Mr. Longfellow the photographic copy of the affidavit Evelyn Nesbit is said to have signed in the office of Abraham Hummel, which alleged Thaw used her cruelly while abroad in 1903, "because she would not tell lies against Stanford White."

Disputs Over Papers.

Jerome followed this up by asking the witness if Mrs. Thaw did not turn over to him certain papers to which she had subscribed. Mr. Longfellow said she had. There was a long controversy between Jerome and Delmas, at the conclusion of which Mr. Longfellow brought his entire examination to naught by declaring Mrs Thaw never showed him a paper similar in any way to the Hummel affidavit. He thereupon was excused without cross-examination.

During the afternoon recess Jerome sprung something of a sensation by calling to the stand Dr. Rudolph Witthaus, a chemist and expert in poisons.

New Hypothetical Question.

The district attorney framed a hypothetical question covering Evelyn Nesbit's story, and asked if there was any known poison which would cause insensibility in two minutes and permit of the quick recovery testified to by Thaw's wife.

Around this vital point, which would bring up means by which the prosecutor could attack the truth or falsity of Mrs. Thaw's story, argument raged for an hour or more.

Jerome insisted he was not attacking the truth of Mrs. Thaw's story. He was calling for an expert opinion, he asserted, to the effect that no known drug would produce the effect testified to by Mrs. Thaw.

Did She Really Tell Thaw?

"My question indicates the answer I expect to get to the question," said Jerome, "and I can show there is no such poison in the world; if I can show there was no such occurrence as testified to, then it is for the jury to infer whether or not Evelyn Nesbit told her story to Thaw in Paris in 1903."

Bulgarian Premier Slain.

Sofia, Bulgaria, March 12.—M. Petkoff, the Premier and Minister of the Interior, was assassinated here yesterday.

M. Petkoff, with other Ministers was walking in the Boris Garden when he was attacked by a stranger, who fired at him with a revolver. The Premier was hit by three bullets and instantly died.

M. Guenadieff, the Minister of Commerce and Agriculture, was wounded in the arm.

Increase the Grant.

Toronto, March 12.—The Government has decided to give the Salvation Army a $3,000 increase in the grant for their extra work this season, in immigration and colonization. The former grant was $7,000 which will be increased to $10,000. Premier Whitney foreshadowed the increase at Massey Hall on Sunday.

Fleet Gets Ready for Fun.

London, March 12.—Six ships belonging to the British first cruiser squadron are being fitted out at Portsmouth preparatory to joining the international fleet, which is to assemble in Hampton Roads in honor of the inauguration of the Jamestown Exposition.

The quarter-deck of Rear-Admiral Neville's flagship, the armored cruiser Goodhope, is being cleared of numerous fittings so as to allow plenty of room for dancing. Other preparations indicate that much entertaining is projected on board the vessels belonging to the squadron.

THEY MAY CHOOSE THE OLD ACT

Mr. Lemieux Offers Compromise In Labor Disputes Bill.

CASE OF RAILWAY MEN

Clause of the Act Relating to Them Allowed to Stand Over For the Present — Assistant Commissioner for the Yukon — Two-Cents-a-Mile Rate on G. T. R.—To Discuss the Insurance Report.

Ottawa, March 12.—Hostility of railwaymen to the proposal to bring them under the operation of Mr. Lemieux's labor disputes bill occupied the attention of the House of Commons last night. In keeping with the conciliatory spirit of the measure the Minister of Labor offered a compromise, the effect of which was that railwaymen and railway companies should have the option to take advantage of either the railway labor disputes act of 1903 or the new legislation. If they elected to come under the provisions of the former act the present bill would not apply, but where the 1903 act was not accepted the bill now under consideration would be put in operation. The trend of the discussion indicated that the compromise was acceptable, but members of the Opposition urged that the railwaymen should have an opportunity to consider the new development. The discussion had not concluded when the House adjourned.

Assistant Commissioner For Yukon.

Mr. Oliver introduced a bill to provide for appointment of an Assistant Commissioner of the Yukon, and to legalize the action already taken. The bill was read a first time.

Replying to Mr. Bergeron, Hon. Mr. Templeman denied that there was any intention to postpone the proprietary medicines bill. He hoped it would be reached next week.

Mr. W. F. Maclean asked whether there was any likelihood of the insurance report being discussed this session.

Mr. Fielding said it would depend on the condition of business. He thought probably the question was too large to be taken up this session, but he could not definitely say.

Two Cents a Mile.

In Committee of the Whole the House took up a private bill entitled "An act respecting the G. T. R. Co.," which had been passed by the Railway Committee.

Mr. W. F. Maclean called attention to the fact that a clause had been withdrawn from the bill proposing to strike out the words in the original charter providing for two cents a mile passenger rate, and thought an explanation was due by the Minister of Railways to the country. He contended that the Grand Trunk was bound by law to give a two-cent-a-mile rate, and he wanted to know whether the Government or the Railway Department intended to enforce the performance of that duty.

The Minister of Railways said the solicitor for the G. T. R. announced in committee that the clause referred to would be withdrawn, and that having been done, no further action had been taken. It was not the case that on his own behalf or on behalf of the Government he requested the Grand Trunk to withdraw the clause.

Settlement of Labor Difficulties.

In committee the House resumed consideration of the bill to aid in the prevention and settlement of strikes and lockouts in mines and industries connected with public utilities.

At the suggestion of Mr. Lemieux, a clause was added to the bill defining a trades union as an organization of employes formed for the purpose of regulating relations between employers and employes.

With reference to the clause authorizing appointment of boards of conciliation or investigation, the Minister of Labor recalled that when the bill was previously discussed the member for Labelle (Mr. Bourassa) suggested the establishment of a permanent board. Mr. Bourassa had, however, reconsidered the matter, and did not now desire to press his view. He (Mr. Lemieux) did not think it would be desirable to establish a permanent board, which might not be able to undertake the work entrusted to it expeditiously.

Mr. Lennox read telegrams from two railway organization urging exemption from the bill.

Mr. Lemieux pointed out that Mr. Hall would not accept any compromise, although some railwaymen were ready to accept the provisions of the bill. (Hear, hear.) The Dominion Trades and Labor Congress, the Street Railwaymen of Toronto, the Toronto Trades and Labor Council, and in fact nearly all the labor organizations in Canada had endorsed the present legislation. (Hear, hear.) Mr. Hall had said that the bill was a second step towards compulsory arbitration, but if that was so he had to remind Mr. Hall that he was a party to the first step in 1903.

Mr. Pardee moved an amendment that a new section should be inserted providing that the act would not apply to any railway company or employe in respect of a dispute which had been subject of reference under the provisions of the conciliation and labor act.

The Minister agreed to allow the clause to stand over.

All the clauses with this exception were passed, and progress was reported.

The House adjourned at 11.40 p.m.

FACES SERIOUS CHARGE.

Former Bank Manager At Ayr Charged With Raising Voucher.

Brantford, March 12.—John A. Duncan, former manager and latterly acting accountant of the Bank of Commerce at Ayr, arrested at Paris on Saturday on a charge of raising a voucher from $17.90 to $17,017.90, was arraigned at Paris yesterday. Harry Lay, manager of the branch, stated that he had examined the books and believed the offence had been committed by the prisoner. Mr. Smoke, who acted for Duncan, agreed to waive further proceedings of court, not having evidence in rebuttal, and consequently the prisoner was committed to stand trial in the county of Waterloo, in which Ayr is located.

Boulter Wins In Brampton.

Brampton, March 12.—J. H. Boulter defeated Edward Hale in the municipal election yesterday, despite the fact that he was disqualified by reason of having an action against the Carnegie Library.

St. Kitt's Enquiry Closes.

St. Catharines, March 12.—The evidence in the civic investigation was completed yesterday, but the hearing of the arguments of counsel was postponed until Wednesday, March 20.

PETERBOROUGH TUESDAY MARCH 12 1907

A FIRE DRILL TRIED

Pupils of Central School Out of Building in 90 Seconds This Morning---No Confusion Evidenced.

THEY MAY BEAT THAT TIME

A Fire drill was held at the Central School this morning and the several hundred pupils were out of the building, without the slightest confusion or delay, all the children being marshalled outside in one minute and a half.

The teachers express their belief that with a few more drills they will be able to clear the school in a minute's time, in which event, should there ever be occasion to put the drill into actual use no repetition of the Hochelaga disaster may be feared in this school.

PETERBORO' BOY WHO MAKES GOOD

Mr. George Warner Independent, After Spending a Few Years in the Yukon —Will Reside in the West.

Mr. Geo. Warner, who was married yesterday, went to the Yukon country five years ago from Peterborough county, spending several years in that locality with marked success. Congratulation are due him for the energy and perseverance which have secured financial independence for him at the age of 28.

Mr. Warner will ship from Peterborough County to the West a carload of horses, cattle, lumber and household goods for the new farm and home, while a valuable team of horses and abundance of seed grain await the arrival of himself and bride.

Popular Grocery Clerk Now Will be Found in Hunter Street Grocery Store in Future.

Mr. J. R. Bell, the Hunter street grocer, and one of the city's most progressive business men, has given another evidence of his progressiveness. This morning Mr. Fred Walker, late manager of the grocery store of A. Rountree, joined his staff, and will in future be found serving the customers of that store. Mr. Walker is one of the best grocery clerks in the Dominion, and Mr. Bell considers himself fortunate in securing his services, and will be glad to see all his business friends and customers.

CARETAKER OF EAST CITY ARMOURIES

Sergt. Newgill, of Kingston Will Have Charge of Them and Not Murray Street Armouries.

It appears that the despatch from Kingston to the effect that W. O. Q. M. Sergt. Newgill was coming to Peterborough to act as caretaker of the armouries, is somewhat misleading. Mr. Newgill will not be caretaker of the armoury on Murray street but will have the care of the armoury of the 24th Battery, East City.

BUSY MEETING OF THE CITY COUNCIL

Routine Business Was Transacted Last Night.

A brief Council meeting was held last night at the conclusion of the meeting of the Committee of the Whole, when some routine business was transacted. A number of communications were received and referred to the proper committees. Reports were adopted from the Committee of the Whole and the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

On motion of Ald. Johnston, seconded by Ald. Stevenson, a bylaw was passed authorizing the execution of an agreement with the Bell Telephone Company for the installing of a fire alarm system.

There were present the Mayor, Ald. Duncan, Johnston, Morrow, Stevenson, Elliott, Wilson, Leary, Phelan and Morgan.

"NO FOUL PLAY"

—CORONER'S JURY—

Inquest on Death of Thomas Howard Shows Nothing of a Suspicious Nature---Neuralgia of the Heart Cause of Death.

EVIDENCE WHICH WAS TAKEN

"That the deceased, Thomas Howard, came to his death from neuralgia of the heart, and that no blame for carelessness can be attached to anyone in connection with the affair."

Such was the result of the inquest held at Norwood yesterday, to inquire into the circumstances of Thomas Howard's death, at the McGregor House. Coroner Grey conducted the investigation, and Mr W. T. Buck, foreman of the jury, presenting the verdict.

First Witness

Dr. Pettigrew was the first witness examined. He said that he was called to see the deceased on Thursday morning, March 7th, shortly after midnight. The man wished relief from pain over the heart. The doctor treated him, and in about twenty minutes he was apparently some better, but in five minutes more he lay back, and died. His pulse was irregular. He thought the cause of his death was neuralgia of the heart. Dr. Pettigrew said that Howard frothed at the mouth, which was not an accompaniment of death from heart failure.

Mrs. Smith

Mrs. Smith, wife of the proprietor, testified that Mr. Howard had come to their place about three weeks ago. He told her that he was accustomed to having trouble with his heart for the past nine months. Witness saw him under such spells nearly every other day; she had purchased Milburn's Pills for him, and he said that he was taking them. Howard had taken a bad spell at the post office earlier in the day in question. Witness said that she and the family had done everything possible for Howard and she believed the doctor had done likewise. The deceased was sitting on the bed in his night clothes. His chest was heaving but he said nothing, but complained of his heart. The council arranged for his burial. Witness said that her husband contributed a sum to help pay for the funeral. Deceased had no money. Howard, she said, seemed respectable, and fairly well educated, and did not drink while at their house.

James Calder

James Calder was next sworn and described a weak spell that overcame Howard on Tuesday morning last. He was in a weak condition for an hour and sat on a chair in the office during that time. He complained of trouble with his heart.

The Proprietor

Mr. Terrence Smith was next called. His evidence was similar to that already given. He said that Howard had not drank anything while in the hotel. Did not make burial arrangement nor propose haste in the interment.

Lawrence Lonergan, a farmer in Asphodel, stated that Howard had stayed with him for some time. He had told witness that his home was in Berkshire about 14 miles from London. He stayed with witness four or five days and went to Peterborough. He was very weak during the harvest and said it was his heart that troubled him. Witness said that Howard would take three or four weak spells a day.

Evidence Re Burial

The rest of the witnesses examined gave evidence as to the funeral and burial arrangements. Messrs. A. B. Greenbank, T. Smith and J. T. Squire testified. The latter said that on Thursday at noon he saw Mr. Searight, the undertaker at the hotel door. He told witness that the funeral would be held at 2.30 and that no clergyman would be asked to officiate. Witness said that later Mr. Searight had said that he had received no further orders about the services of a minister. Reeve Brault had told witness that no one knew to what church deceased had belonged. Later on they made new arrangements and had the body removed to the town hall. Two clergymen, witness said, were at the funeral.

Conclusion

This concluded the evidence. Mr. R. E. Wood, County Crown Attorney, said that it must be a satisfaction to know that Mr. Squire had seen that the deceased had received proper Christian burial, and that the people of Norwood had not been left under the disgrace of having the deceased buried without any proper burial service.

The case was then submitted to the jury who returned the verdict as given above.

ANKLE SPRAINED IN FALL ON SIDEWALK

Mrs. John Thirnbeck Met With This Misfortune Yesterday.

Mrs. John Thirnbeck, McDonel street had the misfortune yesterday, to sprain her ankle while she was down street shopping. She fell on the slippery sidewalk at the corner of George and Simcoe streets, causing the injury from which she is suffering severe pain.

WILL WAIT UPON THE DAIRYMEN

City Council Appointed a Deputation to Go To Toronto.

A meeting of committees from the Eastern and Western Dairymen's Association and from the Jersey and Holstein Cattle Breeders' Association will be held in Toronto to-morrow in reference to the proposed National Dairy Show, and Peterborough will be represented by the Joint Committee composed of Ald. Phelan, chairman; Ald. Stevenson, Wilson and Leary. This was decided at the meeting of the Committee of the Whole last night.

The deputation will not be in a position to make any definite promises as to what accommodation can be given in Peterborough for a Dairy Show. The matter was discussed last night but the Council was not in a position to take any action. There was nothing new in the discussion. The scheme of building a new market building on the present market square which could be used for Dairy Show purposes was referred to.

The deputation will find out just what the dairymen want and then will endeavour to meet the requirements.

Ald. Leary read an article from the Canadian Dairymen showing that Toronto would be able to provide a fine place for the Dairy Show in St. Lawrence Market.

THE CARTERS REFUSE TO PROVIDE 'PHONE

Hitch in the Arrangements to Provide Draymen With a Shelter.

The City Council as is well known has been making arrangements to provide the carters of the city with a shelter and the property selected is the lot south of Charlotte street and east of Water street. There is, however, a hitch in the arrangements owing to the fact that the carters have refused to sign an agreement to have a telephone placed in the shelter.

The council has two objects in providing a shelter, namely,—to get the carters off the business streets and to give a better service. Without a 'phone the aldermen feel that these purposes would not be served.

The matter came up at the meeting of the Committee of the Whole Council last night. In the discussion that followed it was made clear that the aldermen thought it necessary to have a telephone at the shelter. Ald. Wilson thought that if the carters refused to provide a 'phone the city should do so and charge the draymen a dollar more for license fees.

The matter was left in the hands of Chairman McIntyre of the Property Committee who will interview the carters and endeavour to have matter straightened out.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE MR. WILLIAM HAMILTON

Was Held Yesterday Afternoon to the Little Lake Cemetery.

The funeral of the late Mr. Wm. Hamilton, was held yesterday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, from the family residence at the corner of Hethune and Sherbrooke streets. The funeral was private, but many of the immediate friends of the deceads were in attendance. The pall bearers were Messrs. William H., Percy and Frank, sons of the deceased, and Messrs D. W. Dumble, G. M. Roger and Ald. G. W. Morrow. The services for the dead were conducted at the house by Rev. Dr. Torrance and Rev. Mr. Manning.

The floral tributes were beautiful and numerous, testifying to the esteem in which the late Mr. Hamilton was held by a host of friends.

STOLEN GOODS FOUND IN STUMP FENCE

Two Havelock Youths Arrested on Suspicion—Case Before County Magistrate.

Two Havelock youths have been arrested on suspicion of having broken into McMaster's hardware store about a week ago and stolen some goods. Magistrate Edmison has been notified of the circumstance, and it is probable that he will go to Havelock to try the case. Goods to the value of $75 were taken, and part of these have been recovered, hidden away in a stump fence.

PETERBORO' TEAM IS NOT OUTCLASSED

A gentleman who was in Toronto last night and who saw the Wanderer-Toronto game, expressed the opinion that after all the brand of hockey put up by the teams which are supposed to represent the best there is in the game in Canada was not so much above the class of hockey played by the best teams in the O. H. A. as to warrant the assumption that the teams mentioned are out of reach of for instance, the Peterborough team of last year.

In fact, he stated that after seeing the two teams perform last night he could come to no other conclusion than that in a series of home and home games between the Peterborough team as it finished last season and the Wanderers, as they are constituted this year, the local team would not come out of the contest the vanquished.

Neither individually or collectively is the team an organization which should strike terror into hearts of an aggregation that can win the senior O. H. A. championship. Hod Stuart and Lester Patrick, both of whom played last night did not demonstrate by their work in that game that they are such world-beaters as one would judge they were from the reports sent out from their stamping ground in the east.

A SIGNALLING CLASS INSTITUTED

Almost Forty Members in it Already—First Lesson Has Been Held.

The proposed signalling class was instituted at the local armouries last night, and from present appearance the students are exhibiting great enthusiasm. Between 30 and 40 were present and received the flags from which they will learn the alphabet.

Lieut. Stroud, signalling officer, and Sergt. Crowley of Kingston, are in the city, and are taking charge of the classes. They will be held every Monday, Wednesday and Thursday nights and will last for six weeks.

MINISTER'S REQUEST OF SCHOOL BOARD

Ask to Have Religious Instruction Introduced into Public Schools—W. S. Robinson Opposes Scheme.

The Ministerial Association have asked the School Board to have introduced into the city schools undenominational but definite religious instructions. Their communication was read at the meeting of the Board last night and some discussion took place on it. Mr. Dumble was in favour of the idea of religious instructions in the schools but stated there was a clause in the Educational Act governing it, which states that religious instructions may be given after the regular school hours.

Mr. Robinson believed that the communication should be merely received. He did not think that the pupils should be kept after four o'clock. Dr. Morrison considered that the opening of the school each day should be attended with more religious instruction.

It was moved by Mr. Dumble, seconded by Dr. Burnham, "that the Ministerial Association be advised that the act provides for religious instruction to public school pupils, and this Board approves of the suggestion of the Ministerial Association and leaves it to the association to arrange for such religious instruction, subject to the terms of the school act.—Carried.

TOPS OF FINGERS WERE TAKEN OFF

Unfortunate Accident to Employee of Wm. Hamilton's Foundry This Morning.

A painful accident occurred to Albert Shepherd, an employee of the William Hamilton foundry, this morning about eight o'clock, which will necessitate his laying off work for some time. He was putting a piece of board against a circular saw when his left hand caught on it with the result that two of his fingers are minus, the first joints of the others, except the thumb, being also badly crushed. Dr. Eastwood attended him and dressed his injured hand.

Dance At Chemong

An enjoyable dance was held in the Chemong House last night, at which a large number participated. Mr. Archie Moore acted in his usual capable manner as floor manager. The committee in charge were Messrs. Milton Porter and Bert Howden. R. W. Carter's orchestra provided excellent music.

THE TEACHERS GET INCREASE IN SALARY

Board of Education Last Night Adopted a New Schedule of Salaries—Teachers in Both Public Schools and Collegiate Institute to Receive More Money.

AMOUNTS OF NEW SALARIES

Male Principals Will Get $1200 in Public Schools and $2000 in Collegiate Institute—$50 a Year Increase for Male Teachers.

Peterborough teachers will receive higher salaries in future. This was decided last night at a meeting of the Board of Education, when a new schedule of salaries was adopted.

By this schedule male teachers will receive an annual increase of $50 on the minimum salary, and lady teachers will be given an increase of $50 for the first two years and $25 afterwards until the maximum is reached.

The report, made by the Supervision Committee was presented by Mr. Pringle, who moved its adoption, seconded by Mr. Ackerman. It is as follows:—

THE SCHEDULE

To the Chairman and Members of the Board of Education;

Gentlemen;

Your Supervision Committee, to whom the question of teachers' salaries was referred, beg leave to report as follows;

1. That the schedule of 1906 is hereby repealed, and the following substituted therefor, to take effect on the first of September, 1907;

Male principals, 8 rooms and over, must have at least First Class Professional. — Minimum, $1,000; maximum, $1,200.

Other male principals, must have First Class Professional. — Minimum, $800; maximum, $900.

Male assistants, First Class Professional. — Minimum, $700; maximum, $900.

Male assistants, First Class Non-Professional. — Minimum, $700; maximum, $850.

Male assistants, Second Class Professional. — Minimum, $700; maximum, $825.

Lady assistants, First Class Professional. — Minimum, $400; maximum, $500.

Lady assistants, First Class Non-Professional. — Minimum, $400; maximum $575.

Lady assistants, Second Class Professional. — Minimum, $400; maximum $550.

Kindergarten Directors, Directors' Certificate. — Minimum, $575; maximum, $500.

Kindergarten Assistants, Directors' Certificate.—Minimum, $400.

COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE

Principal (Specialist and University, Honor Graduate. — Minimum, $1600, maximum, $2,000; increase, $80.

Heads of Depts., Specialist and University Honor Graduate. — Minimum, $1,200; maximum, $1,500; increase, $60.

Commercial, Specialist, — Minimum $1,000; maximum, $1,200; increase, $50.

Assistants, Graduate. — Minimum $800; maximum, $1,000; increase $50

Inspector Walker, — Minimum, $1,600, maximum, $2,000; increase $100

We further recommend;

2. That only male teachers shall be engaged as principals, and that, in future, no teacher, other than those now engaged as principals, shall be appointed to the position of principal in any school unless he is the holder of a first-class professional certificate, at least.

3. That in the appointment of assistants, no applicant shall be considered, who does not hold at least a second class professional certificate and that preference shall be given in such appointment to holders of first class professional certificates.

4. Male teachers to receive an annual increase of $50 per annum.

5. Lady teachers to receive $50 increase for the first two years, and $25 increase per annum.

6 Kindergarten directors to receive $25 increase per annum thereafter.

7. Kindergarten assistants to hold Director's certificates, and no increase.

8. That no increase shall be given to any teacher reported by the Inspector as inefficient and the case of any teacher so reported shall be carefully considered by the Board before such teacher can be re-engaged.

9. Teachers entering upon the duties during the spring term of any year shall have their increases date from the first of the following January. Teachers entering upon their duties during the fall term of any year shall have their increases date from the following September.

10. All teachers who have been engaged on the staff for one year, or more shall, if re-engaged, receive for the year 1907 and 1908 one year's increase over the minimum assigned by this schedule, and all others shall be placed on the new minimum.

11 That no teacher shall receive less salary under the present schedule than under the schedule adopted by the Board in June, 1906.

A Renfrew Man In The City Had Two Left Hands; A Freak

A man with two left hands is not often met with, but there was such a man in Peterborough yesterday. He came in on the 8.15 C. P. R. train, and was returning to Chicago, from which city he had come about ten days ago to bury his father at Renfrew.

The man referred to attracted considerable attention among those who looked closely at him, by reason of the fact that both of his hands were left, that is to say, that while of course, one was on the right arm, the thumb and fingers were identical, so far as position was concerned with those on his other hand.

He had two perfect left hands, and had to wear mits knit especially for him, with the thumbs pointing the same way.

Railway Yards At Havelock Were All Quiet On Sunday

Examiner Special.

Havelock, March 12. — The Lord's Day Act was brought into force here on Sunday, March 10. The yard engine was taken off for the day, and employees of the round-house and coal chutes were all off with the exception of one or two necessary men. Everyone seemed to enjoy the Sabbath much better on account of the unusual quietness in the railway yards. It was shown also by the great number of men who attended services at the different churches.

THOMAS HOWARD WAS TREATED LIKE THEIR SON

Coroner Grey to-day in an interview to the Examiner, referred to the statements made on the streets of Norwood to the effect that the late Thomas Howard was neglected in his illness. Dr. Gray stated that from the evidence at the inquest and from personal inquiry he had learned that Mr. and Mrs. Terrence Smith, with whom the young man lived, treated him as well as if he had been their son, and that there was no ground whatever for the insinuations referred to.

LINDSAY TEAM WILL TRY TO DEFEAT EXAMINER SEVEN

A telephone message received this afternoon from the manager of the Lindsay Post hockey team gave the information that the hockey players from that town would be here for their game with the Examiner team to-night. They will arrive in time to commence the game at 9 o'clock, up to which hour skating will be allowed. It's up to the Post team to regain the honour of the town lost by the Midgets last night, and they will make a big effort to put a crease in the hockey ambitions of the Examiner seven.

The ordinary prices will prevail for to-night's games, ticket holders being admitted on their season's tickets.

Big Deputation Will Go To Ottawa Re Canal

City Council Will Send a Score of Representatives to Urge Upon the Government the Necessity for the Completion of the Work.

PLACES ALONG THE CANAL WILL ALSO BE REPRESENTED

At the meeting of the Committee of the Whole Council, last night, the details of the visit of a deputation to Ottawa, in reference to the completion of the Trent Canal, were concluded. It is the intention of the municipalities along the line of the canal to send a strong deputation to wait on the Government to urge that a large sum be placed in the estimates this year towards the work on the canal. The scheme was originated in Campbellford, and the local Council were asked to join with that municipality in the project.

The Peterborough deputation will leave here at 1 p.m. on Tuesday, March 19, and, together with the representatives of other places, will wait upon the Government on Wednesday. There will likely be a very large contingent leaving Peterborough. It was decided last night that the city's deputation should consist of the entire Council, with the Mayor, Messrs. R. R. Hall, M.P., and T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., the City Clerk, the City Solicitor, the City Treasurer and the City Engineer, with the Council reporters of each paper. In addition to these, the County Council will likely attend in a body, as well as representatives of the various township councils. The Board of Trade will likely send a strong representation, and the manufacturers of the city will also be represented.

The Mayor said that the most important object of the meeting was to appoint a deputation to wait on the Government in reference to the Trent Canal. He explained that the deputation would leave Peterborough on Tuesday, March 19, at 1 o'clock p.m. He stated that the Campbellford people had asked Ald. Phelan to look after the matter of train accomodation, and he had secured a rate of $3.80 return, the tickets good for three days.

Ald. Leary said that in view of the importance of the occasion, the whole Council should go. He moved that the deputation consist of the Mayor, City Council, Messrs. R. R. Hall, M.P., and T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P.; the City Clerk, the City Treasurer, the City Solicitor, and the City Engineer, and the Council reporters of the papers. This was seconded by Ald. Elliott, and carried.

Ald. Phelan moved, seconded by Ald. Wilson, that the City Clerk be instructed to write to the Councils of the various municipalities in the county, the Board of Trade and heads of the manufacturing establishments, calling their attention to the deputation and asking them to appoint representatives.—Carried.

A VERY ENCOURAGING MEETING

Was That Held Last Night at the Park Street Baptist Church in the Series of Revival Services.

The Park Street Baptist Church revival was continued last night, when a most encouraging service was held. A large congregation heard a powerful sermon on the preacher's favourite theme, "Jesus on Trial." Jesus was a silent sufferer. Darkness was over the earth for three hours, but infinitely greater was the darkness over His soul. He was standing in the place of the adulterer, the thief and the murderer. Allied to Jesus, the guilty go free.

His humanity said innocence, His love said guilty, and because the innocent substitute died; the guilty but believing soul shall live.

The Torrey and Alexander songs went with a swing. The Y.M.C.A. Male Quartette rendered most acceptable service. The after meeting was very solemn. Quite a number in different parts of the church rose in response to the evangelist's appeal.

Song service will be held to-night at 7.45, and prayer meeting at 7.30. All interested are asked to be there early, and be prepared to take part.

TORONTO LICENSE DISCLOSURE

The disclosures which have taken place in connection with the license investigation in the city of Toronto are decidedly embarrassing to the Conservative party. They throw a calcium light on the circumstances leading up to the resignation of the first board of license commissioners appointed by the Whitney Government, and also upon the promises of the Government to remove the administration of the license laws out of politics.

It has been brought home to a member of the Cabinet that the interviewed members of the Flavelle commission in the interest of an applicant for a license who had a bad record, and was consequently refused. The Minister was told by Mr. Flavelle that he had no business to interfere, and it is somewhat surprising that the offender had so little regard for the pledges of his party as to openly disregard them.

It is clear that there can be no impartial administration of the license laws so long as the men appointed to enforce them receive their appointment as a reward for party service from patronage committees. The time will probably come when license administration will be placed in charge of some independent tribunal, but until this is done such disclosures as are now being witnessed at Toronto will continue to be made. —Brantford Expositor.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

It is surprising that reputable Canadian newspapers, like the Globe, permit themselves to be "gold-bricked" by faked Associated Press despatches. The idea of sending a cable despatch detailing a ghost story, like that appearing in the Globe of yesterday, about King Edward working an antediluvian joke about the number of apples Adam and Eve ate. Of course, the incident never occurred, and it seems to be a pure invention designed to make the King ridiculous, with the idea of pleasing the yellow readers of yellow American journals. Canadian news-editors should be too sharp birds to be caught with such absurd chaff.

(When a woman sets her heart on getting anything, if only a Heathen Chinee, a labour organization will have to labour to prevent her having her heart's desire. The $500 head tax imposed upon Chinese entering British Columbia, has, like all similar imposts, increased the price to the consumer. The Chinese are high in favour with the good housewives of British Columbia, and in view of the high tax, Chinese are scarce, scarcity raises wages, and as the absence of servants interferes with bridge whist and other indispensable social amusements, the women are up in arms and circulating petitions to have the head tax cut off—demanding that the Provincial Legislature abolish it. The labour unions are opposed to the abolition, but they will have an up-hill fight, for—

When she will, she will,
You may depend on't;
And when she won't, she won't,
And there's an end on't."

The Whitney Government's spoils system is contagious. In Brantford it has invaded the municipal arena. Though an assessment commission has worked most satisfactorily, the system is to be abolished and a return to the old system of two assessors has been decided upon by the Finance Committee, simply because a Conservative, who was an applicant for the position of commissioner, failed to get it. It is hardly probable however that the council will endorse the destruction of a permanent assessment department, which the Board of Trade, the press, and leading ratepayers, heartily approve. In commenting upon the situation the Brantford Expositor says that "the time no longer exists, when Brantford can afford to regard the making of her assessment purely on the grounds of cheapness, because there is no place where it is easier to save a few dollars in salaries and lose many thousand dollars in income."

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Lower for Cattle—U.S. Markets Slightly Easier.

Liverpool, March 11.—Liverpool and London cables are easier at 11c to 12½c per lb., dressed weight; refrigerator beef is quoted at 9½c to 9⅝c per lb.

Toronto Junction Live Stock.

Toronto Junction, March 11.—Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards were 68 car loads, composed of 1306 cattle, 7 hogs, 90 sheep and 56 calves.

Exporters.

Prices ranged from $5 to $5.40 and one exceptionally prime load was reported by Maybee, Wilson and Hall as sold at $5.50 per cwt. The bulk of the shipping cattle sold at $5.15 to $5.30. There were a few loads of common light exporters reported under $5 per cwt., as will be seen by sales quoted. Bulls sold at $3.50 to $4.40.

Butchers.

The quality of butchers' cattle was generally not good, but prices for all classes were 25c to 25c higher than a week ago, owing entirely to the light delivery. Prime picked cattle, of which there were few sold at $4.85 to $5.25; loads of good, $4.60 to $4.75; medium, $4.30 to $4.65; mixed, $3.90 to $4.25; cows, $3.85 to $4.35.

Milch Cows.

A limited number, some of which could be changed as being of extra quality, sold at $36 to $55 each.

Veal Calves.

Trade was brisk for the best. Prices ranged from $5 to $7 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

Export sheep sold at $4.75 to $5 per cwt.; yearling lambs, $6 to $7.50 per cwt.

Hogs.

H. P. Kennedy reports $6.75 for selects and $6.50 for lights and fats.

The Gunn Co. report paying about $6.60 to $6.65, f.o.b., at country points, which would mean at least $6.90 or $6.95 at Toronto.

Montreal Live Stock.

Montreal, March 11.—(Special.)—Cables from Liverpool and London on Canadian cattle came weaker and ½c per lb. lower than a week ago, at 11½c. The demand for ocean freight from St. John, N.B., is very limited, and agents find it difficult to let space to any port at 25s to 30s. Exports last week from St. John and Portland were 1886 cattle. At the Montreal Stock Yards' West End Market the receipts of live stock for the week ending March 9 were 4220 cattle, 1020 sheep and lambs, 2440 hogs and 1227 calves, while the supplies to-day for local consumption were 900 cattle, 25 sheep and lambs, 800 hogs and 275 calves. Owing to the fine spring like weather, there was a large attendance of buyers, but selected lots of hogs were made at $7.15 to $7.25 per 100 lbs., weighed off cars. There was no change in the condition of the market for sheep and lambs. Receipts continue very light, which indicates that there are few in the country ready to be marketed, for, if there were, present high prices would bring them out. The demand is keen from butchers for all the small lots coming forward, and there is also a good enquiry for export sheep, as the foreign markets are in good condition, but shippers find it impossible to secure sufficient to make up a shipment. Prices are very firm at 4½c to 5c for sheep, and at 6½c to 7c for lambs, per lb. Receipts of calves are steadily increasing, but the average quality of the same is very poor; in fact, a large percentage of them coming in are not fit for human food, they being too young, and it would pay farmers to keep them a few weeks before shipping, as such poor stock are only selling at $1.50 to $2; fair at $2.50 to $4, and good to choice at $5 to $8 each.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

East Buffalo, March 11.—Cattle—Receipts, 4000 head; active and strong; prime steers, $5.60 to $6; shipping, $5 to $5.50; butchers', $4.50 to $5.25; heifers, $3.50 to $5.25; cows, $3 to $4.65; bulls, $3.25 to $4.75; stock heifers, $2.75 to $3.25; stockers and feeders, $3.25 to $4.50; fresh cows and springers, steady, $30 to $55.

Veals—2000 head; active and 25c higher, $4.25 to $8.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 12,500 head; fairly active and a shade lower; heavy, mixed and yorkers, $7.40 to $7.45; pigs, $7.45 to $7.50; roughs, $6.50 to $6.65; stags, $4.75 to $5.50.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 17,500 head; active and higher; lambs, $6 to $6.20; yearlings, $6.75 to $7; wethers, $6 to $6.25; ewes, $4.75 to $5.80; sheep, mixed, $5 to $5.50.

New York Live Stock.

New York, March 11.—Beeves—Receipts, 4846, steers and bulls, steady; fat cows, steady; others, slow. Steers, $4.90 to $6.25; bulls, $3.75 to $4.50; cows, $1.75 to $4.32½.

Calves—Receipts, 2170. Veals, 25c to 75c lower; barnyard calves, weak. Several cars back, but will not be sold to-day. Veals, $5 to $8.25; general top price, $8; culls, $4 to $5.50; few barnyard calves, $3.37½ to $3.50.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 5491; sheep steady; lambs, 10c to 15c higher; sheep, $3.50 to $5.50; lambs, $7.62½ to $8.20; few choice, $8.25; culls, $6.

Hogs—Receipts, 10,234; market firm; state and Pennsylvania hogs, quoted at $7.60 to $7.75.

Chicago Live Stock.

Chicago, March 11.—Cattle—Receipts, 38,000; 10c lower; plain to best steers, $4.25 to $6.85; heifers, $2.65 to $5.25; cows, $2.25 to $5; bulls, $3.25 to $5.60; calves, $2.50 to $7.25; stockers and feeders, $3.50 to $5.25.

Hogs—Receipts, 32,000; 5c to 10c lower; choice heavy shippers, $7 to $7.05; light butchers, $7 to $7.02½; light mixed, $6.95 to $7; packing, $6.50 to $7; pigs, $4.50 to $6.80; bulk of sales, $6.85 to $7.

Sheep—Receipts, 18,000; 5c higher; sheep $5 to $6.25; lambs, $7.25 to $7.55.

HOW BILEANS SAVED A FIREMAN

Many a man has escaped perils of fire and ocean to fall a prey to disease. Bileans saved Fireman J. R Flanagan, of Raglan Road, Kingston, from this fate. He says: "I suffered terribly from indigestion and constipation. After food I had acute pain, a sensation of weight at the stomach, and belching, followed by a worn-out, languid feeling. My bowels would not work healthily, bad headaches were common and I fell into a weak, worn-out state. What would have happened to me but for Bileans, I don't know! One box of this vegetable remedy greatly improved me, and a few boxes cured me. I have now gained weight, and am quite restored." Bileans also cure piles, female ailments, anaemia, Spring debility, blood impurities, pimples, eruptions, and all liver and kidney troubles. All druggists and stores, at fifty cents a box, or from Bilean Co., Toronto, for price.

BANK MESSENGER GONE.

Has Disappeared and $1,000 Is Also Missing.

New York, March 12.—William O. Gillespie, a messenger of the National Park Bank of this city, has been missing since Tuesday, when $1,000 of the bank's funds also disappeared, it was officially stated by the bank officials yesterday in this announcement.

"William O. Gillespie, 25 years old, a messenger in the employ of the National Park Bank for about six months, failed to return last Tuesday afternoon, after making his customary collections. He had collected between $1,600 and $1,700 and no trace of him has been found."

Gillespie is said to be a native of Scotland, who came to the bank from Canada about six months ago. His duties were to make collections on notes and drafts sent in by the correspondents of the bank. He lived at a boarding-house on East 89th street.

Last Tuesday afternoon he is said to have gone to his rooms, where he was joined by another young man with whom he had been friendly. The two men left the house together and on the corner met two young women.

Later it was learned a party of four answering the description of Gillespie and his friends bounded a train for Buffalo at the Grand Central Station.

Agents of the bank are reported to have searched unsuccessfully for Gillespie in Buffalo and in Canadian cities.

S. A. AND MECHANICS.

None Are Placed Where Trouble Is On, Says Brigadier Howell.

Ottawa, March 12.—Ralph Smith of Nanaimo elicited from the Minister of the Interior, by way of reply, to a letter from Brigadier Howell of the Salvation Army, setting forth the practice of the Army in regard to the immigration of artisans.

The effect of it was that there was always a certain number of mechanics among those desiring to emigrate to Canada, and the Army officers saw to their employment in Canada. The Army was careful, however, to see that such persons were not placed where there were any labor troubles. "In fact," wrote Mr. Howell, "the Salvation Army is doing more in the interests of labor than many of the labor unions themselves."

Hon. Mr. Oliver said the Salvation Army received the same assistance from the Government as other booking agents; besides, the Army was allowed $5,000 a year as expenses of the London office, in consideration of the fact that they cared for their immigrants upon their arrival in Canada.

COLONIAL CONFERENCE.

Attendance of All the Ministers Discussed By the Press.

London, March 12.—(C. A. P.)—Botha announced he would attend the colonial conference.

Churchill, replying to Lyttelton said yesterday that the Colonial Secretary had determined that the constitution of the colonial conference should be a matter for that body itself, but it would be the first subject of importance to be brought before the conference.

The Morning Post says there is much more in the Canadian suggestion that all Colonial Ministers might be invited to the colonial conference than meets the eye. In effect it marks a distinct advance to a common crown, but while in this sense it may be invited to the colonial conference be regarded in some quarters as a step towards the dissolution of the empire, the principles advocated would facilitate the solution of the imperial council.

The Standard contends that Ministers other than Premiers should only be in attendance when matters affecting their departments are being discussed.

LORD PENRHYN DEAD.

Famous Dispute With His Slate Quarry Employes Recalled.

London, March 12.—Lord Penrhyn, whose dispute with his employes at the Bethesda slate quarries brought him into great prominence, is dead.

The quarrymen struck and Lord Penrhyn refused to parley with them, shut down the quarries, and refused to re-open them except on his own terms. The men yielded after three years' struggle, which cost the Bethesda district nearly $2,000,000 in wages, and which, it is claimed, did not do anybody any good, except the foreign quarrymen, who, as a result of the dispute, developed a thriving business in the way of sending slates to England. The deceased peer was born in 1836, and succeeded his father in 1886.

Postal Agreement Near.

Washington, March 12.—Following the recent visit to Canada of representatives of the United States Postoffice Department regarding the announced intention of that Government to abrogate on May 7, the postal convention with the United States with respect to second-class matter, it was stated yesterday, that a satisfactory solution of the question probably will be found.

UNIVERSITY SUPPORT.

Legislature Makes Substantial Progress on Routine Work.

Toronto, March 12.—The Legislature made splendid progress yesterday afternoon in disposing of much of the routine business of the session. A number of private bills were safely tided through committee stages, and the portion of the estimates already passed was formally concurred in. The Provincial Treasurer denied that the Government was considering the sale of Government House. Several verbal offers had been made, but had not been entertained. The Premier's bill to give borrowing powers to the Board of Governors of the university, subject to order in council, was the object of some discussion as to methods, though there was unanimity of expression that the institution must be generously supported.

Brevity the Soul of Wit.

Mr. Smyth (Algoma) submitted the following question:

(1) Is it the intention of the Government to investigate the complaints made by residents of northern Ontario that large areas of unpatented lands are held by speculators who do not reside on the land and who in other respects have not complied with the regulations under which the land was sold or located? (2) Is it the intention of the Government to appoint an inspector or other proper officer to examine and report on the lands of the Crown in all townships in northern Ontario now open for settlement or that it may be intended to here after open for settlement, with the object of preventing settlers from locating on lands not suitable for agricultural purposes? (3) Is it the intention of the Government to introduce legislation confirming the title of bona fide settlers who have already obtained their patents, or who are residing on their lands and have performed the necessary improvements thereon to entitle them to patents, to minerals, if any, on the lands, and also to the timber, where the same was not sold to timber licensees by the late Government?

Hon. Frank Cochrane's reply was characteristically short. He said: "In reply to Nos. 1 and 2, yes; to No. 3, under consideration."

University Borrowing Powers.

The Premier moved the second reading of his bill to amend the university act. He explained that the act was to give the university power in future, without the necessity of application being made every session, to borrow money for the purposes of the institution. It would be noted that all such borrowing would be subject to order in Council. It was simply a means of borrowing from time to time with the consent of the Government. Some $2,000,000 would be required, and this would prevent several applications in future for authority to borrow.

Mr. Graham, in rising to criticize the proposal, said that he wanted to be thoroughly understood as not being opposed to anything for the good of the university. They were all agreed that the Provincial University must be maintained. There was no dispute about that, but he wanted to reiterate his objection to the method adopted in giving money in the annual estimates. He did not think the grant should be based in connection with the money received from any particular source. He did not believe the succession duties should be earmarked for university support. They were prepared to give all the money for the need of which the university could show cause. There was not sufficient definiteness. If money was needed for maintenance or buildings they should say so, and provide directly for it. They ought to do it just as they would provide money to the Public Works Department.

Not Sell Government House.

Hon. Mr. Matheson stated, when the estimates were being concurred in, that while several offers had been made for Government House, the sale of the property had not been entertained, and was not immediately in prospect. He also intimated, in answer to Mr. Graham, that the statistical part of the Temiskaming Railway Commission's report would probably be brought down next week.

Notice of Motion.

Mr. Foy—An act to amend the succession duty act.

SEALERS START OUT.

Twenty-Three Steamers Sail Up the Labrador Coast.

St. John's, Nfld., March 12.—At daybreak yesterday the sealing fleet of 23 steamers sailed for the north to begin the annual taking of seals off the Labrador coast. On account of inshore winds, which have packed the ice heavily along the coast, the work of the fleet this season is expected to be unusually difficult. The fleet carries 3,891 men.

Strike Against Ruler.

Teheran, March 12.—As a protest against the extortion and reactionary methods of the son and the staff of the Governor-General of Ispahan, Masud Mirsa Zill-Es-Sultan, who is the eldest uncle of the Shah, a general strike is in full progress at Ispahan, formerly the metropolis of Persia. Attempts to repress the strike have led to serious disorders, during which many casualties occurred among the strikers, some of whom have sought refuge on the premises of the British telegraph line.

Urgent telegrams from the inhabitants of Ispahan, have reached the Persian Parliament, demanding the recall of the governor-general, and the expulsion of his family from the city. The telegrams have been handed to the Minister of the Interior for transmission to the Shah.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, Mar. 12. — The upward movement in stocks was resumed to-day and further advances of from one to three points were made, although there was a great deal of backing and filling, giving prices an irregular appearance. News affecting values was generally favourable and included the announcement of gold imports, and the election of Mr. Fish to the directorate of Nor. Pac. Shorts were the best buyers the offerings coming principally from people who bought at lower prices last week. Professionals were disposed to sell on the bulges but were cautious.

The market continues in the trading position with money the ruling factor. The best policy appears to buy on declines for fair returns, or selling on the extreme bulges. The close was firm, averaging a point higher than last night.

THISTLES AND DANDRUFF

An Interesting Parrallel and a Valuable Deduction Therefrom

Cutting down thistles no more relieves the land of thistles than does scouring the scalp cure dandruff. In each case permanent relief can only come from eradicating permanently the cause. A germ that plows up the scalp in searching for the hair root, where it saps the vitality causes dandruff, falling hair and baldness. If you kill that germ you'll have no dandruff, but a luxuriant suit of hair. Newbro's Herpicide is the only hair preparation in the world that cures dandruff and falling hair by killing the germ. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. The Market Drug Store (late Ormond & Walsh).

Keep Cows In Open Sheds.

Professor W. J. Fraser of Illinois finds that cows allowed to run into open sheds with mangers do better than when kept in stables. During an experiment twenty-two were cared for in this way in a shed 30 by 68 feet, having mangers on each side and bull pens in two corners, and the results were considered most satisfactory.

Pressure of Gas Wells.

The natural gas wells which have yielded the greatest amount of gas and shown the most tremendous force in outrush have revealed a pressure of about 650 pounds to the square inch on the rock confining the gas.

Why They Wanted to Win.

We knew of only one case in which a man has tried to select a wife by a competitive examination. Fifteen ladies entered for the matrimonial prize and sat down to a paper of questions of which the following are samples:

Name seven kinds of pie and describe how each is prepared. Do you advocate the use of chewing tings for teething children? Give in 100 words your views on suitable dress when married.

The climax came when the man who set the paper proposed to the winner. She refused him point blank, and so did the other fourteen.—London Tit-Bits.

RIBBON CORSETS.

They Are Dainty to Wear and Are Delightfully Comfortable.

Ribbon corsets are dainty to wear and give a youthful figure to almost any one, besides being delightfully comfortable. You can make your own at home, any color you like and, to match other garments.

While it is possible to use old but good quality ribbon as an experiment, it pays to purchase new material, double satin or heavy taffeta, four inches wide.

Get five yards and in pale pink, blue or violet, for white soils easily, and black stains the linen. Dresden patterns or brocaded in jacquard weave results in a pretty pair if the quality is not too cheap and the design is artistic. Thin ribbon will pull terribly and prove no support.

Be sure to follow the fullness of your old corsets carefully when smoothing and pinning the two other ones.

Attempt one side of the corsets at a time, and when all seems right take them gently off the model and stitch the side bones and steels, trying, if possible, to pass the ribbon between the upper and lower coverings on each side, as it makes a prettier effect. End it all by inserting the four bones in each hip casing, finishing top and bottom by folding and overhanding and making a rosette of ribbon in front and adding silk laces to match.—Philadelphia Press.

FURNITURE POLISH.

Use It Sparingly, but With Plenty of Elbow Grease.

As a rule, furniture in these days suffers from too much furniture polish rather than too little. The delicate surface for which old pieces are famous, known as "eggshell gloss," was obtained by a minimum of furniture polish and a maximum of elbow grease.

There is an art in applying furniture polish of which only the best trained servants are aware. First carefully remove all dust and dirt, stains, etc., then with a flannel apply a very thin film of furniture cream to the wood. Take a duster in each hand and rub up the wood, the way of the grain, till on touching the surface with your hand it leaves no mark. The reason for the two dusters is that your left hand may not mark the wood as you rest upon it.

For the last polish use a clean old silk handkerchief.

Of course if it has been once neglected wood takes a long time to recover its condition, but once this is attained it takes relatively but little trouble to keep it in good order.

Furniture polish applied too thickly will smear and become a regular dust trap, requiring far more time to keep in condition, even if this is possible, than if cleaned properly at first.

NURSERY NOTES.

A little girl three years old should have her hair washed every week.

An ill ventilated nursery is a frequent cause of babies being restless and fretful at night.

When bread is given to children under a year and a half old, it should be sliced very thinly, buttered lightly and given in small quantities.

A baby should be kept out of the wind and in the sunshine as much as possible. Protect the eyes from the sun always with a dark umbrella.

Hot water is a good cure for a bumped forehead, and witch hazel or arnica patted on takes the sting out of bruises by the time the child has stopped crying.

Cocoa is the best beverage for children next to plain milk, and often, when they cannot properly digest the latter, cocoa prepared with half milk and half water is invaluable. It is one of the best articles of diet for all except young infants.

Morbid Women.

When people have trouble, and real trouble, they don't sit down and analyze all their emotions and remember whether this person and that person looked to the right or to the left when they spoke to them. Morbidness should be counted as a wicked demon that can be driven out. Healthy companionship, plenty of laughter, good long walks in the sunshine and work will drive out the wicked little imp—discontent—and make you the happy, healthful, hopeful woman you ought to be. Form a band against self analysis, against the inclination to consider what every inflection of the voice and every look of the eye means, and you will be surprised to discover how much of good there is in the world and how little, comparatively speaking, of that which is really bad.

Samuel Taylor Coleridge.

"The largest, broadest, deepest and most ineffectual genius of the nineteenth century"—thus has Coleridge been described, and probably no better description of the great philosopher and litterateur can be found. He was a youth of impulses and tried in turn to become a cobbler, a surgeon and a soldier before he settled down and gave proof of his vast literary attainments. Some of his poems have been accepted as the noblest pieces of imaginative writing produced by a modern poet, while as a literary critic he had few equals in his generation. He was a born journalist and lecturer too.

No Coat For Nineteen Years.

During the journey from Victoria falls to Kimberley a big, sun browned man boarded the Zambezi express minus his coat, with his shirt sleeves rolled up. He took a seat at dinner, and the chief steward remarked to him that as there were ladies present perhaps he would have no objection to putting on his coat. "Great Scott," the man replied, "I haven't worn a coat for nineteen years. You will have to wait, my friend, until I can buy one at Kimberley."—South African Railway Magazine.

THE CARE OF RUGS.

How to Sweep Large Ones and to Dust Small Ones.

Some housekeepers have concluded that they prefer two or three small rugs in a room to one large one which is too heavy for a woman to handle and beat. A great single rug covering the center of the room looks well, even if of no better quality than a good Smyrna. But smaller rugs must be of better quality to prove satisfactory. Provided there is a large rug down and no man willing or to be hired to beat it, by care it can be kept in fair condition for several weeks. Of course it must be swept where it is. Having dusted the movable ornaments and chairs and carried them to another room and dusted and covered other things that are conveniently moved, sweep the rug in the direction of the warp in short strokes and take up the dirt along the edges on the floor. Now sweep the rug again in the opposite direction after scattering over it bits of dampened newspaper pressed as dry as possible. Turn the edges up and brush out underneath for a few inches. Now sweep the bare floor with a dust brush, and after the dust has settled wipe the floor with a slightly damp cheesecloth and the rug with another cheesecloth dampened in water to which a few drops of ammonia have been added. In this way the rug will look bright and be quite free from dust.

Tea leaves when used to take up dust are apt to stain delicate colors. The above method of cleaning a rug may seem troublesome to one who would prefer to attack it with a broom and give it a vigorous digging, but it would be no cleaner by the treatment, and the walls and furniture would be spoiled with dust, to say nothing of discomfort to the sweeper in breathing the dust.

If small rugs are used, do not allow them to be taken out and shaken by one and or, in fact, shaken at all, for this is the way to break them into rags, along the edges at least. Hang over a line and beat with a rattan, or, better yet, have the rugs laid on the grass and beaten on the wrong side first and then turned.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

A FIREPLACE CLOSET.

It Makes a Convenient Place to Keep Hats and Shoes.

A fireplace that is not in use and that does not present as nice an appearance as the room surroundings demand may easily be improved by transforming it into a closet, as shown in the accompanying illustration. Remove all the interior fixtures and put in their place a set of small shelves. Then arrange a silk or tapestry curtain in front. Suspended from a brass rod it looks artistic and acts as a screen. The interior makes a very convenient shoe and hat closet.

FIREPLACE CLOSET.

One Sided Girl.

"She has pretty hair," the athletic girl admitted, "but it is never dressed evenly. The right side always looks much better than the left."

"That is because she never moves her bureau," said the wise girl. "Her room is so small that she can't haul things around, so month in and month out her looking glass stands in the same corner by the window, and month in and month out she dresses with her right side to the light and the left in shadow.

"Consequently one half of her face and hair is well groomed, while the other half gets only a lick and a promise. Any girl who would avoid looking one sided must dress one week with her right side to the window, the next week with her left side to the light."

Get Lightweight Hats.

Never buy a heavy hat if it is possible to get a light one. Insist that hats if made for you are made with the minimum of weight. Heavy hats cause headaches, gray and falling hair by impeding the circulation. A heavy hat worn only two or three hours a day is responsible for the feeling of heaviness that attacks so many and that disappears as soon as the cause is removed or within half an hour afterward. It is well to have hats differing in their point of pressure on the head so that in changing from one chapeau to another the head may be rested, in sections at least.

Turkish Political Prisoners.

When a Turkish political prisoner is sentenced to be deported to Tripoli or to the Euphrates, his friends bid him farewell. They know that they will never see him again alive and in all probability never hear of him again unless enormous sums are forthcoming to bribe scores of different officials. In fact, the only difference between a death sentence in Turkey and one of transportation is that the former is more rapid and more merciful. The government prefers the latter because it is less public. Now and then, however, news leaks through. Of poor Midhab Pasha, for instance, it is known that near Bagdad his brutal guards beat out his brains with the butt end of their rifles.—London Answers.

FOR YOUNG FOLKS

SINGLE ROPE SWING.

How to Make One and the Way to Start and Operate It.

Sometimes a rope will be found lying about the barn or back of the house which could be used to make a swing, but it is not quite long enough for the purpose. That is the time a single rope swing may be made which will furnish enough fun to suit any boy.

The end of a soap box makes a good seat. Bore a hole in the middle of a board, pass the rope through and tie a knot in the bottom. Tie the other end around a branch of a tree as far away from the trunk as possible. Let the board be not more than six or seven inches wide.

A good athletic boy can have great fun with such a swing. There is a knack in handling it, but when once mastered he can swing back or forth perfectly straight in any direction. Grasp the rope as high as you can reach, stand far back and with a quick jerk lift yourself off the ground and straddle the swing. The board should be far enough from the ground to let the toes touch, then by touching the ground occasionally it is possible to keep going straight and not revolve. If some one is near by to push, you can be pushed in a circle like a merry-go-round.

A CURIOUS PLANT.

It Eats Up Flies and Insects That Alight Upon It.

One of the most curious plants is found in the vivarium of the Pennsylvania university. The name of this wonderful plant is the Pinguicula candata, and the name is as long as the plant is small. The plant is small and modest and has a pretty flower and pretty leaves.

Despite its innocent looks and small size it is an object of terror to all insects, for it has the qualities of fly paper, and should any guileless insect stop upon its sticky leaves it could never get away, because the leaves have a sticky substance upon them which retains the insect. As every insect passes this plant its inviting looks tempt the insect to spend a few minutes of recreation upon its pretty leaves.

But, alas, it never leaves the surface of the leaves until it is absorbed by this fly catcher, when it goes to enrich the constitution of the plant. As the leaves are always covered with insects, the plant flourishes into one of the most thrifty plants. This "insect catcher" of Dame Nature would be a boon and a blessing to many housewives who are troubled with mosquitoes and flies, for if a few of these plants were placed on a table in a room infested with the above named insects the room would soon be free from these little pests, which are so abundant during the warm weather.

Woodpeckers.

The woodpeckers have so long been looked upon as the good friends of mankind that it would seem impertinent to bring any charges against them, and yet the good they do is of very doubtful quantity. As they peck around the trees in the fields and orchards to devour the worms and insects they make no distinction between the destructive and the nondestructive creatures. In fact, their choicest morsel of food is a small creature that spends its entire life in eating the most injurious tree insects that we have. Unless the woodpeckers can make up for the loss of these beneficial insects by keeping down the injurious ones the birds must be classed among the nuisances rather than the friends of mankind.

The Magic Tumbler.

Fill a saucer with water, place a small coin in it. Then ask some one to take the coin out of the saucer with his fingers without getting them wet. He will, of course, say that it is impossible and will perhaps ask you to do it.

Take a tumbler and a piece of crumpled paper. Light the paper and place it burning in the tumbler, then immediately invert the latter in the saucer. The water is immediately sucked up into the tumbler, and the coin can be taken out without wetting the fingers.

Home Sewing.

The tissue paper patterns and sewing machines have placed the possibilities of dainty underwear within the reach of every woman. Of course handwork is to be preferred, but very beautiful work may be accomplished by the machine, especially if the saving of time is an object or many pieces are to be made. Hemstitching may be done on some machines by placing several layers of paper between the pieces to be stitched, and then, after stitching, pulling the paper away.

The Fun of It.

"Why did you do that?" demanded the teacher.

"Oh, just for fun," replied Tommy.

"But didn't you know it was against the rules?"

"Sure! Dat's where de fun comes in."

COMMISSIONER KENT'S COMMENDATION

At the closing session of the investigation of the Sun Life of Canada by the Royal Commission on Life Insurance, Commissioner Kent stated, in connection with his suggestion that voting power might be given to policyholders, that—

"It seems to me that in the conduct of the Sun Life business there is nothing to be desired, as far as the present generation is concerned. If you were immortal I would not say anything further about it. If, by sound judgment, hard work and just discrimination, you have put the Sun Life on the pinnacle of a successful company, another management with other attributes might just as easily squander it. . . . . The directors have done their duty nobly; there is no complaint to be made against them, or any one of them, Who can say whether the future management will continue the present high standard of your Company?"

EX-ALD. MASON THE FIRST TO SUFFER

From By-law Which Was Passed While He Was a Member of the City Council Which Passed It.

ASSAULT CASE ALSO ON THE DOCKET

There is nothing like variety to interest an audience and there was plenty of interest shown by the concourse of unemployed who, according to custom, gathered at the police court this morning. The first case that occupied Magistrate Dumble's attention was a vagrant of unknown nationality, name employment and home, in fact he could not understand English and of course the court could not do anything with him in the line of talk. He was apparently a Syrian; he mentioned "States" so it is supposed that that is where he came from. He is a vagrant, he said he begged in Toronto, Montreal and Halifax, but that was the only intelligent response he gave. His name could not be learned as he does not write in English. The Magistrate decided to send him to Central Prison for 6 months, where he can learn to speak English and also how to labour.

Mr. Clark

Mr. F. Clark, jeweller, appeared for not clearing the snow off the sidewalk in front of his store. Judgment was reserved in this case, although the Magistrate intends to strictly enforce the law.

Mr. Mason Fined

History repeated itself when ex-Alderman Mason was fined five dollars for allowing bags and boxes to remain in front of his store on Saturday last. He pleaded guilty and asked why he should be chosen out of so many offenders. Mr. Mason was one of the city fathers who assisted in placing that by-law on the city's books, and now he is the first to be punished by it. He allowed large consignments of sugar to remain in front of his two stores last Saturday and this led to the trouble.

Assault Case

A young man was charged with having assaulted Mr. Samuel Mack on Saturday last for the purpose of extorting money. Without going into details of the case the story is as follows: Three weeks ago yesterday this man was engaged by Mack, who is the proprietor of a tonsorial shop on Brock street. He gave Mack $50 and on returns was to be taught the trade in two months and after May 1st was to receive $9 a week from his employer. Now, Mack, himself, spent two months with Mr. W. J. Morgan who kept a barber shop on George street, and after that went into the business for himself. As Mr. Kerr said he scraped this way along and finally decided to take this young man as an apprentice, and also the fifty dollars. In the evidence the defendant said that Mack promised to pay him two dollars a week until the first of May. He said he had not received a cent up to last Saturday and then demanded his three weeks' arrears. The rest of the evidence is conflicting, one said one thing and the other contradicted.

Magistrate Dumble dismissed the case, saying that Mack had done the greater wrong by engaging a young man when he was not a first-class barber himself.

$25,000 GRANTED TO SCHOOL BOARD

To be Expended for the Addition of Six Rooms to the North Ward School—Waited on Council Last Night.

WILL BE ABLE TO LET CONTRACT NOW

The Board of Education will now be able to go ahead at once and let the contract for the addition to the North Ward School, which is necessary to make it equal to the requirements of the Government for use in connection with the Normal School. Last night the Board waited upon the City Council, who were meeting in Committee of the Whole, and asked that the sum of $25,000 be voted to them for the purpose of carrying out this work, and the money was granted to them without much delay on discussion. The Board received tenders some time ago, but could not let the contract until the money had been voted to them.

The Board was represented last night by Messrs. Robt. Fair, chairman; W. H. Hill, D. W. Dumble, B. F. Ackerman, Wm. Pringle and W. S. Robinson.

Mr. Fair was the first speaker, and explained the purpose of the Board's visit, stating that Mr. Dumble, the chairman of the North Ward School Building Committee, would be able to inform the Council as to the situation.

Mr. Dumble said that when they selected Dixon Park for a Normal School site, the Government had demanded that a ten-roomed school should be provided. It was thought advisable by the Board to add six rooms to the North Ward School. Tenders had been asked for, but, as the Council had not advanced the money, they had not been able to let the contract. They asked the Council for $25,000. The delay in allotting the contract was prejudicial, as there had been a large rise in the cost of building since the tenders had come in. They might not need more than $23,000, but they wanted to make sure that they had enough.

The Mayor said that there could not be two questions as to the responsibility of the Council in the matter, as they were bound to provide the money. He would like to have some more information as to the work, however. In the first place, it had been thought, he said, that $15,000 would be sufficient.

Mr. Dumble said that the details were in the hands of the Board, who alone had to deal with them.

Mr. Fair said that the committee had had the matter in hand for some time, and that there was nothing elaborate in the plans. He thought that, with the heating and plumbing, the addition could not be built for less than $23,000.

Ald. Morrow moved, seconded by Ald. Leary, that the Council provide the Board of Education with $25,000 for the addition to the North Ward School.—Carried.

PUPILS EYES WILL BE TESTED

Suggestion of Dr. Babcock's to be Put Into Practice to Preserve Health of Pupils.

The Board of Education have decided to have the eyes of the different pupils in the city schools tested with a view to the protection of health, providing no expense is incurred by the Board by so doing. The matter was brought up last night by Mr. Dumble at the meeting of the Board. The suggestion originated from Dr. Babcock, eye specialist, and Mr. Dumble pointed out the benefits to be derived as mentioned by the doctor. The speaker also referred to the carelessness of pupils in attending to their teeth and suggested that attention be given to them also.

He moved, seconded by Mr. Crane, that an eye specialist be appointed to test the eyes of the pupils, providing the Board would be at no expense. The motion carried.

CHANGE IN WARDS WAS PROPOSED

Came up at Meeting of the City Council Last Night—No Action.

At the meeting of the Committee of the Whole Council last night, the Mayor introduced the question of a revision of the wards. He said that the intention was, in numbering the fire alarm boxes, to have all the numbers from 30 to 40 situated in No. 3 Ward, etc.

He proposed to make a change in the wards, and suggested that they be arranged as follows: All south of Sherbrooke street, the south ward; all north of McDonel street, the north ward; all west of Bethune street, the west ward; all east of Bethune street, between McDonel and Sherbrooke streets, as far as the river, the central ward, and all east of the river, the east ward.

The matter was discussed to some extent, but no action was taken, and it will be brought up again. Ald. Elliott pointed out that if a return to the ward system was made, it would be impossible to elect twelve aldermen for five wards. It would be necessary, he said, to have either four or six wards. He suggested the dividing of the city west of the river into three wards.

Some Inside History Of Wrecked Life And Home

Condition Which a Conversation Accidently Overheard Revealed—A Husband's Infidelity is Exposed—His Wife a Sweet, Lovable Character.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Dear Sir,—Some time ago, about February 21, I chanced to be at a hockey match here. My attention was attracted by a young couple who were evidently having their pleasure spoiled. It appeared, as I drew nearer, that the lady was taking the part of spokesman. My hair stood on end as I heard her say, "You are a married man," but he tried to deny his wife and family, and at last she proved to him that her words were true, and not mistaken. But, that was a girl with principle. I could not help listening as I heard her pour words of a true woman's indignation into his ears. 'First, just like other men, I thought I would follow her, and see who the wounded bird could be, but second thought taught me to seek his wife, so I followed him. Next morning I was up with the sparrows, and out for my morning walk. I strolled around in time to catch my gay young man going to business, and found him to have a very responsible position. Being determined to satisfy myself, I went into his office and had a chat with him and found him just like all other clever scamps. The same day I took a pound of Blue Ribbon tea to sell to his wife, but she must have been out. Then, the next thing I knew, I was called out of town on business, but, go where I would, I could not forget the tone of voice the girl spoke with, nor her sad face as she declared, "No one cared for her." In the course of a few weeks I had to return to Peterborough, and called again to see the traitor's wife, and, to my wondering eyes, there gazed a sweet, girlish face, with innocent, blue eyes, that could speak volumes in one glance, and for a moment I lost my voice, but when I managed to find my senses I asked for "the lady of the house." The lips parted, and they uttered sounds like the rippling of a silvery brook. With sad, sweet tones, she told me that she was "the lady of the house," and for the next few seconds I did not know what to say, as this time I had no tea to sell. So at last I told a lie, and said that I was an insurance agent and would like to insure her husband's life, but she answered rather curtly, and with a spark of sarcasm, that "His life's insured, thanks," but I could tear a delicate child's voice inside, which, she informed me, was at present very ill with a bad cold. Then I said something about meeting her husband at the hockey match, and, instantly, the guiltless eyes filled with unshed tears. With a firmly set mouth, that betrayed "die or separate," the lips parted, showing a row of pearly teeth, and, with a bitter smile, she supposed to was with a friend (!). And, with the innocence of a schoolboy, I said to was alone, and as I raised my eyes and gazed in her far-away and almost vacant look, she asked me if I ever met a Miss ——. Then I knew that the cat was in her trap, so I kept on telling lies and said, yes, and that she was about the sweetest girl, with the nicest disposition, I had ever known, but that some fellow had disappointed her once and almost broken her heart. In that young wife's eyes I saw, for the first time, true type of woman, full of kindness, sympathy, and everything that was good and noble. Why, she even told me that if I met her again soon to say that Mrs. —— was very anxious to meet her, and would be pleased to have her call soon.

Now, Mr. Editor, it has taken me some time to do this, but I hope that you can spare a small space in your paper. All I can say is that I hope these few lines will meet the eye of the girl who has caused a tender, loving heart to ache, and call and see, and return any gift that is not hers by right. Perhaps he has given her his wife's belongings, and if that young girl is in need of a friend, I'm sure the wife is the one who will befriend her. There is no doubt but that he will find another for his victim; perhaps one without principle, and one who will be despised by all and ignored by every respectable person. Why do men marry, and ruin a girl's life, humble and deny her, when he could have a splendid home with every comfort of a loving wife? He gives it all up and ruins his soul for his selfish habits, and yet he is not happy, because he knows he is wrong. Yet the weak creature yields to temptation. I was at a show one night, and the fellow on the stage said there is no such a thing as the good-will of a bad dog, and it's true in that case. But, if he ruins his wife's life and soul, I would not want to be him on the judgment day.

Government Assistance

The chairman was given authority to appoint a delegation to join deputations from other schools to memorialize the Government regarding monetary assistance to city schools.

Deputation Appointed

Messrs. Dumble, Crane, Pringle and the chairman were appointed to attend the Provincial Association of School Trustees on April 2, in Toronto, on motion of Dr. Burnham.

Fire Escapes

Mr. Pringle brought up the matter of fire escapes, referring to the recent Montreal disaster, and moved that the Property Committee furnish the appliances which they deemed necessary to protect the children in case of fire. This was seconded by Mr. Hill and carried.

The Board then adjourned.

THE TEACHERS GET INCREASE IN SALARY

All of which is respectfully submitted

WM. PRINGLE,
Chairman.

Mr. Pringle explained that unless better salaries were paid the Board would not be able to retain their teachers. He had figures showing the minimum and maximum salaries paid teachers in Ottawa, Toronto, St. Thomas, Windsor and other cities which were all above those paid to Peterborough teachers. He also pointed out that teachers in the county in the vicinity of this city were obtaining larger salaries than those here.

Mr. Dumble proposed that the question be left over until next meeting to give an opportunity to consider it. The report was adopted.

UNSOLICITED TESTIMONY

The Tate Optical Co., Peterborough:

DEAR SIRS—During the last three or four years (prior to May last) my eyesight had failed to such an extent that I was unable to read or see anything at close range and could get no Glasses that would help me. I tried two different Opticians in Toronto and was told by both that they could do nothing for me, and that my sight would never be better. A statement of my case was sent to Montreal by a Hastings optician and several pairs of Glasses sent me, but with the same result, my vision could not be improved. Last May, while looking at a Pair of Glasses you made for Mr. John Fife, Keene, and talking with him he advised me to consult your Mr. Babcock, and I am pleased to say that the Pair of Glasses he made for me have given me entire satisfaction and I can do now what I have not done for years past—read any ordinary print and see distinctly at close range. I feel very grateful, not only for the interest you have taken in my case, but particularly so for the blessing of good eyesight. Thanks to your knowledge and skill.

Yours truly,
(Signed) JOHN CARTER, Sr.,

GANDER DEFEATED FOX IN FIGHT

Strange Encounters That Have Occurred in North Monaghan in Farmer's Barnyard.

The millennium must be near at hand, if strange events are considered portentious. Only lately the despised little brown men from Japan destroyed the power and prestige of the tall soldiers of the Russian steppes, and now another strangely bizarre circumstance has been reported which has never before been duplicated, in either fact or fiction. The latest happening is the rout of Sir Reynard by the long-oppressed and victimized feathered individual, the gander.

This is a reality. Mr. John Fowler, who dwells on the Gravel road, about five miles southwest of the city, is the possessor of a unique gander, which, the owner says, can "trim" any fox in the country, and he will back his statement. And justly should Mr. Fowler boast of this distinction.

On two occasions Mr. Fox has visited the barnyard where this gander keeps careful custody over his flock of geese, and twice has he been thwarted in his marauding excursions. He has even been defeated and come out of these encounters the second best man, much to the dismay of his hungry brood at home, but to the expressed delight of the quacking geese, which have often quacked from fear at the thought of these visits.

Scattered hair about the yard clearly showed that the gander had made good, while the only wounds he had received were the loss of nearly all his tail feathers.

A fight between the gander and a fox should be more interesting than an encounter between a Mexican bull and an American buffalo, or a mile race between an automobile and an ice-boat on Toronto Bay.

PALESTINE'S PEOPLE AND THEIR CUSTOMS

Interesting Lecture Delivered at St. John's Church by Rev. H. A. Ben Oliel Last Night.

An interested audience gathered last night in the school house of St. John's Church and enjoyed a lecture by Rev. H. A. Ben Oliel, who delighted the audience with a lecture, in costume, in which he described the habits of the inhabitants of Palestine. The chair was occupied by Rev. Canon Davidson.

THE SERVICES OPENED PROMISINGLY

Good Attendance and Deep Interest in First Night of Special Services in George Street Church.

The special evangelistic services which opened last night in the George street Methodist church give promise of being productive of results. There was a good attendance and deep interest was evidenced. The song service which preceded the regular service was participated in heartily. The service was conducted by Rev. Dr. Crothers, who, with assistance from other circuits will have charge of the series.

WILL ASK FOR THE NEW BUCKHORN BRIDGE

County Council Will Interview Government When They are in Ottawa Next Week.

It is probable that the County Council will take advantage of their presence in Ottawa on Wednesday next in connection with the deputation to ask for an appropriation to open the southern end of the Trent Canal, to interview the Minister of Public Works, for a grant to erect a new bridge across the river at Buckhorn to replace the structure at present there. At the last session of the council it was decided to go to Ottawa for this purpose, but it is probable that their presence in the Capital next week will be taken advantage of.

A HANDSOME BULL DOG POISONED

Mr. E. S. Clarry's "Pat" Was Destroyed Last Night.

The dog destroyers are again at work, the latest victim being Mr. E. S. Clayy's handsome bull terrier "Pat." This dog was much admired by every person who saw him, and Mr. Clarry naturally prized him very highly.

It seems too bad that the person who has been carrying on this distardly practice cannot be located. A number of fine dogs have met an untimely fate in this section of the city during the past week.

BIRTHDAY PARTY IN LOCAL Y. W. C. A.

Ladies' Auxiliary Arrange an Interesting Event for March 19th.

At the meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y.M.C.A., held last night, it was decided to hold the birthday party on Tuesday, March 19, in the Association parlours. A good programme is being prepared, and will be contributed to by Miss Henderson, of Montreal, and Mr. Van der Water, of Toronto, as well as local talent. The ladies are making preparations to provide an enjoyable evening for those who attend, and there is no doubt, judging by the success which has attended their efforts in the past, that this event will be no exception to the rule which has characterized the past.

ASPHODEL ASSAULT CASE IN COURT

Was Heard Before Police Magistrate Dumble Instead of Magistrate Edmison.

The case of William Dickson, the Asphodel farmer, charged with assault upon his son on January 18, came up before Magistrate Dumble this morning in County Police Court and was adjourned until this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The case was placed in the hands of Magistrate Dumble on account of the defendant being a client of County Magistrate Edmison.

Crown Attorney Wood looked after the case for the Crown and Mr. G. N. Gordon for the defendant.

WEDDING BELLS

WARNER--DOUPE

An interesting event occurred yesterday afternoon in the parlours of "Cozy Cottage," 20 College street, by which Mr. George Warner and Miss Edna S. Doupe, both of Harvey township, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony, Elder W. Morse officiating.

The wedding tour will be a long one, to Saskatchewan, their future home, where Mr. Warner has located a fine farm. Kind wishes of many friends go with them.

BIG PRESS GAME IS ON TO-NIGHT

Lindsay Post, With a Strong Line-up, Will be on Hand to Meet The Examiner Team.

GAME WILL BE CALLED AT 9 O'CLOCK

One of the greatest games of the year will be seen at the Brock street rink to-night at 9 o'clock when the speedy team representing the Lindsay Post will clash against the great Examiner seven. There will be no charge for admission beyond the usual skating charges. The ice is in great condition considering the weather, and as there will be skating from 8 to 9 o'clock there will doubtless be a big crowd on hand for the contest.

The Examiner team is in good shape and hope to make things interesting for the visiting newspaper men. Several of the members were in Toronto last night to see the Wanderers play and returned with new ideas which they will work into to-night's game.

The Post has the following to say about their team:

"The Typos, famous in rhyme and story will measure their strength against the Peterborough Examiner staff Tuesday night in the Electric City.

"They will leave on the 8 o'clock train—owing to a lack of cars a special was unavailable — and will be accompanied by one lonely rooter, viz., 'Spitter' Houlihan, the mascot. The line up will be weakened by the absence of 'Tuff' Williams who is unavoidably detained at home but 'Chuck' Perkins, who never saw a puck in his life before to-day, will fill the vacancy at point. The return game will be played in town on Thursday."

Mr. George Lynch will referee the game, which will be called at nine o'clock, with the teams lined up as follows:

Lindsay Post.	Examiner.
Goal.
Frenchy Bugenaw.	Craig
Point.
Chuck Perkins.	Glover.
Cover.
Typo Johnston.	Clarke
Rover.
Nannie Nesbitt.	Hutchinson

Mike Irwin.	Henry.
Right wing.
Slats Reilly.	Huston
Left wing.
Rats Barry.	Theobald.

CANDIDATE FOR THE C. L. A. PRESIDENCY

Mr. Jas. D. Bailey, Well Known Lacrosse Man, in the Field.

Mr. Jas. D. Bailey of Toronto, is a candidate for the office of president of the Canadian Lacrosse Association and should be able to give every satisfaction in the position. Mr. Bailey is a very well known lacrosse man and has been actively connected with the association since its inception in 1887, having attended every annual convention but one during that period. He has been a member of the C. L. A. Council for some years, was second vice-president two years ago, and last year was first vice-president.

THE BARBERS ACTUALLY TRIMMED THE TYPOS

Typos Indignant Over Breach of Faith—City League Men Won the Game.

With the assistance of George Campbell, the Charlotte street City League man, the Barbers were able to defeat the Typos of the Examiner last night, at the Brock street rink by the score of 6 to 0. The Type-Slingers claim that had the Barbers stuck to their agreement to play minus the fast City League man, they would have given them a close shave; as it was, the winners had a cinch and had the ice in a lather at half time. Both teams had some puckchasers who could do acrobatic stunts when they wished. The teams lined up as follows:

Barbers — Goal, A Lewis; point, E Wright; cover point, Inkpen; rover, Campbell; centre, E. Harrison, r. wing, Hayes; l. wing, Darling.

Typos — Goal, McBrien; point, Gibson; cover point, Theobald; rover, Long; cover, Henry; right wing, Robertson, (Martin.) l. wing, Mahoney.

Referee, Rae Best.

CITY LEAGUE TO WIND UP SEASON

Meeting Called for Wednesday Night When Reports of the Year Will Be Presented.

To-morrow night at eight o'clock there will be a meeting of the City Hockey League when the reports for the past season will be presented and the affairs of the year wound up. Representatives from the clubs in the league are asked to be present.

GURLING RINK ICE IS IN SPLENDID SHAPE

Cup Games Will be Played Providing the Players are There.

The rinks scheduled to play last night for the Kendry cup did not show up so that a number of exhibition games were played. the ice at the curling rink is still in good condition and every rink will be available to-night for these cup games, providing the players are on hand. Last night's scores were:

W. G. Reid	H. Lowekin
H. P. Kennedy	J. Montgomery
R. Hicks	W. Lang
R. Neill—19	G. Fitzgerald—16
R. J. Winch	J. W. Fulton
J. Watson	C. E. Frost
J. H. Conmat	T. Brighaman

FRIDAY NIGHT'S GAME WILL BE GREAT CONTEST

Lindsay Midgets Will be Here to Meet City League Champions.

The Stratheonas had a good practice last night in preparation for their big game on Friday night with the famous Lindsay Midgets. The Scugog bunch although defeated in the final games for the championship, have a wonderful team, who will give the Stratheonas all kinds of trouble. The City League champions are going at a great clip these days and are going to do their best to tie up the Midgets. They practice again to-morrow night and will be in the best of shape. The game is attracting a great deal of attention and indications point to one of the biggest crowds of this year. The game will be the last of the season, and if only on this account the attendance should be large.

CRICKET MEETING TO BE HELD ON FRIDAY

Effort is Being Made to Revive Fine Old English Pastime Here.

The meeting of those interested in the revival of cricket in Peterborough will be held on Friday night at eight o'clock in the Y.M.C.A., not on Thursday night as previously announced.

The change has been made in view of the fact that there are several events of importance on Thursday night, which would likely naturally affect the attendance. There will no doubt be a good representation of lovers of cricket and it is probable that a club will be organized with encouraging results.

HOCKEY

Another championship for Stratford, the Classic City Midgets defeated the Lindsay Midgets in Scugogville last night by four goals to one right on their own ice, which is going some. Hats off to Stratford, they have captured both senior and junior championships, while poor old Toronto failed to get within shouting distance of any. Better move the head offices of the O. H. A. to Stratford, where they can play hoey.

All the O. H. A. championships go west this year, Stratford capturing junior and senior, while Berlin has the intermediate honours. Last year Peterborough held the intermediate while the Port Hope juniors were the junior champions.

The Globe says: Probably the proudest man in Ontario to-day is "Wallie" Dern, of Stratford. By the glorious victory of the Stratford senior Indians over Kingston last night he becomes the possessor of three medals—junior, intermediate and senior—all of which were won in Stratford. It is safe to say that there is no other player in the O. H. A. at the present time who equals this record.

Harold Armstrong, formerly Peterborough's pride, even surpassed this record. He was on the Peterborough teams that won the junior and intermediate O. H. A. finals and a member of the Marlboros senior O. H. A. champions. To finish up he played with Smith Falls last year when they captured the championship of the Federal League.

After the big press game to-night the redoubtable Pill Pounders meet an all star Banker seven at Brock street rink. The Pill Pounders will line up like this: Goal, Telland; point, Davidson; cover point, Fitzgerald; rover Frederick; centre, Mann; right wing, Quinn; left wing, Torey.

Kingston, March 11.—Herbert Little was to-day fined $2 and costs at the police court for disturbing the peace. He denied that he attempted to assault Referee Hancock or Manager Bonter, but he did shout, "You're rotten." The magistrate said that was enough to incite trouble. He spoke of sport in the city and of the interest taken in it. Generally any result was accepted as the game went but hotheads frequently gave a bad name to sport by their conduct. He rebuked such action and showed disfavour over Little's conduct by fining him for his disorderliness.

A report was received from Bridgenorth to-day stating that the local team had defeated the Lakefield seniors in Lakefield on Friday night. The final score was 7 to 4 in favour of the boys from the shores of Ohemong lake. Lakefield, from the report, will never again oppose the Bridgenorth boys, who have without practice defeated them three times.

LACROSSE

The annual meeting of the Lacrosse Club will be held to-night at 8 o'clock at the National Hotel, when it is expected that there will be a large attendance of those interested in the game, which will boom in Peterborough this year as never before, judging by the enthusiasm that is being displayed. All lacrosse enthusiasts should be on hand to-night to boom the game.

CURLING

To-night will see the finish of the scheduled games at the curling rink. Skips D. Hall and C. Rutherford will battle for second place on the list, S. Ray having won the first. The rinks are:

W. Taylor	W. Edwards
J. Montgomery	J. Watson
W. Long	W. J. Henry
D. Hall	C. Rutherford

IN TOMB OF GOLD.

Mummy of Egyptian Queen Discovered at Thebes—Was Once One of the World's Greatest Rulers.

Theodore M. Davis has discovered at Thebes the tomb of Queen Teie, one of the greatest names in the history of ancient Egypt.

She was the mother and inspirer of the famous Amen-hotep IV., the "heretic King" of the eighteenth dynasty, who broke with the religious traditions of Egypt and endeavored to introduce a pantheistic monotheism, the visible symbol of which was the solar disc. The worship of Amon, the god of his fathers, was proscribed, and, for the first time in history, there was persecution for religion's sake.

The old religion of Egypt triumphed in the end, and the tomb of Teie bears witness to the blind rage of the victorious priesthood of Thebes and the intensity of their hatred toward the "heretic King."

The doorway of piled stones, which was sealed with the royal seal, was partially broken through, the wooden doors were wrenched from their hinges, the great catafalque which stood above the coffin was torn to pieces, and the mummy itself turned over in order to erase the name of the "heretic King" incised on the sheet of gold which lay beneath it.

Wherever the name of the heretic was found it was carefully destroyed, and the figure of the King, adorning the solar disc, which had been engraved on one of the gold plates of the catafalque, was chiseled out.

The men, however, who thus violated the tomb were no common robbers. The havoc they wrought was the result of religious zeal, and, save for these desecrations, the tomb remains as it was left by the priests amid the throes of a religious revolution which had spent its force before Moses was born.

Wherever the excavators walked they trod upon fragments of gold plate and gold leaf.

The coffin, when it was discovered, lay on a bier incrusted with gold and supported on four lion's claws, also of gold.

The woodwork of the bier has been converted into touchwood by the action of water. The coffin, however, is intact, and is a superb example of the jeweler's work.

The wood of which it was composed is entirely covered with a frame of gold inlaid with lapis lazuli, cornelian, and green glass. The inlay represents for the most part a pattern of scales, but down the middle runs an inscription from which we learn that the coffin was "made for Teie" by her son.

Wrapped In Sheets of Gold.

The mummy itself was wrapped from head to foot in sheets of gold. There were bracelets on the arms, and a necklace of gold beads and ornaments of gold inlaid with precious stones round the neck, while the head was still encircled by a priceless object—the imperial crown of the Queens of ancient Egypt.

This crown is at once simple and exquisitely fashioned, and represents the royal vulture holding a signet-ring in either talon, while its wings surround the head, and are fastened at the tips behind by a pin. The whole is of solid gold without inlay or other adventitious ornament.

An idea of the personal appearance of Queen Teie is gained from the four portrait heads which replace the heads of the genii of the dead of Egyptian orthodoxy as the covers of the four canopic jars.

These heads are done in Egyptian alabaster, with the eyebrows and eyeballs represented by inlays of lapis lazuli and obsidian. The face is that of a woman at once masterful and engaging; but apart from the lips there is little that is Egyptian about it, and the delicate subaquiline curve of the nose is European rather than African.

Many articles of artistic interest were found in the tomb.

'Ti the Locust's Wake.

There is very bad news from Abyssinia. As a sequel to the devastation by locusts some months ago wide tracks of country are now in a state of famine. Prices have gone up twenty-fold, and destitution of the most acute kind rages everywhere owing to the utter destruction of the crops. The worst case is that of the scattered but numerous populations who live among the lower slopes of the mountains difficult of access. It is becoming almost impossible to feed and clothe the children gathered into the missionary schools.—London Globe.

MAY RUIN BRITISH ARMY.

Exploiting British Soldier and Blighting His Future.

The decision of Mr. Haldane and the Army Council to prevent the majority of soldiers qualifying for pensions is severely condemned in the "United Service Gazette," which says:—

"One of the most astounding orders that has ever been issued to the British Army is that which was circulated by the Army Council last week, whereby soldiers have been wantonly deprived of the right to earn a pension after long and faithful service.

"So unthought of, so unexpected was such a blow, that for the moment it was difficult to believe that any officer in his Majesty's army would lend himself to such a scheme for exploiting the soldier and ruining his future.

"But as it became too evident that the work of confiscation had a real existence, a great wave of indignation spread itself through all ranks of the army, directed not so much against Mr. Haldane, the economist, as against the Army Council, the representatives of the Army as they should be, but who seem more pliant than Mr. Haldane himself in conceding to the demands of the Socialist clique.

"Officers and men are being betrayed on every side, and no man wearing the King's uniform, no matter what his rank may be, feels that his position is secure. Men who have joined the army with the full intention of making it their career, and who have consequently sought promotion, now feel that all their efforts have been wasted, and that their lives, so far, have been mis-spent, and must be begun all over again."

"TOM THUMB" DEAD.

Career of Most Perfectly Formed Dwarf in the World.

Field-Marshal Tom Thumb, Richard Garnsey, has just died at Wellington, the peaceful little market town in Somerset.

Born on April 20, 1832, he created a furore fifty years ago, dense crowds flocking to the Egyptian Hall and various places of amusement throughout the kingdom to see this little man of 3 feet, who was acknowledged to be the most perfectly-formed dwarf in the world.

More than once he appeared before the late Queen Victoria, who evinced a great interest in his welfare.

When he left the stage he adopted farming as an occupation, proving himself a keen, busy man.

In Wellington he soon became a great favorite. Always he was good company, revelling in a friendly pipe with his rural friends, and ever ready to talk over those old times when he was prominent in the public eye.

During the last few years he walked with the aid of a crutch, in consequence of an accident in which his leg was broken by one of his bulls. His coffin was scarcely larger than that of a baby.

By Motor Car to the Pole.

The use of a motor-car is the most novel feature connected with the British South Polar Expedition, which is to leave England in October next.

It is to be under the leadership of Mr. E. H. Shackleton, who was third lieutenant on the Discovery during the National Antarctic Expedition, and, with Capt. Scott and Dr. Wilson made the record journey to the "farthest south."

A motor-car will be used, an innovation modern in method, and, according to the opinion of many Polar explorers, absolutely feasible.

The carrying out of the changes of this car in order to make it suitable for the ice surface that will be encountered is being undertaken by the Arrol-Johnston Co., of Paisley.

There will necessarily be modifications of the ordinary type, but the essential principle of the engine will be adhered to. Apart from this special attention is being paid to the equipment.

On its departure the expedition will proceed to New Zealand, and thence will go down to the winter quarters of the Discovery. After landing a shore party of explorers the ship will proceed back to New Zealand, and in the following year she will return to pick up the explorers.

As similar expeditions are being organised by other nations what may be called an international attack on the South Polar regions will be made.

Maisonettes On Liners.

Millionaires who appreciate privacy will welcome the latest improvement in ocean travel.

The Atlantic Transport Company is making structural alterations in its liners with a view to providing "flats" for those passengers who can pay for the luxury.

The "flats" or "maisonettes" are on the upper promenade deck, and consist each of three beautiful staterooms and bath-room. In the daytime the beds in these rooms can be hidden and the rooms used as sitting-rooms.

To each flat there will be a hall and a front door, and there is no reason why the occupiers should not have their names and the usual electric bell-push attached to the latter.

The "maisonettes" will be 30ft. long by 25ft. wide, and the chief room will be 15ft. square. The price of these "flats" in the summer season will vary. One person who wishes to take two rooms and a bedroom must pay £100., and a family of four taking a whole flat would pay £175.

Polite.

Robecchi asked a friend to dinner and then returned home furious. "What is the matter?" said his wife.

"Do not speak to me! It is a shame! I always thought a politeness produced one in return, so I asked Dobelli to lunch."

"And has he refused?"

"Refused! I should think not. He has accepted."—Caricaturista.

Would Improve Mankind.

If the resolution not to lie were as strong as the determination not to be called a liar, the world's veracity would be greatly enlarged.

DEPUTATION GONE TO TORONTO

City and County Councils, Board of Trade and Cheese Board Represented —Are After National Dairy Show.

A NEW MARKET BUILDING PROPOSED

From the enthusiasm displayed at the joint meeting of the City Council, County Council and Board of Trade committees last night, regarding the location of the proposed National Dairy Show, the above bodies will do all in their power to land the exhibition for Peterborough. They decided to send a deputation to Toronto to-day to advance their position before the committee of the Eastern and Western Dairymen's Association, which met there this morning, for the purpose of selecting the city where the exhibition will be held.

The city and county representatives were a unit in leaving no stone unturned to secure this show for Peterborough.

Should the dairymen decide to hold the show in Peterborough, ample building accommodation will be forthcoming for January, 1908, and for following years it is proposed to have constructed a large and commodious market building, with covered accommodation for rigs, such structure to be designed with a view to offering all conveniences desired for the proposed dairy show, together with a modern hall capable of accommodating the largest possible convention.

The Mayor pointed out that in such an event the present market hall could be used for offices, thus furnishing a revenue sufficient to provide in all probability enough money for the sinking fund and interest on the cost of the new market building and hall.

Delegates Appointed

The delegates who will wait upon the Dairymen's Committee in Toronto to-day are as follows:

The City — Mayor McWilliams, Aldermen Phelan, Leary, Stevenson, Wilson, Morrow and Bradburn.

The County — Warden McNulty, Councillors, Fife, Porter, Moher, Darling, Coben and Killen.

The Cheese Board — Mr. Riddell.

The Board of Trade—President D. Hughes Charles, Messrs. F. D. Kerr, W. D. Downham and W. C. Switzer.

While the members of the county council did not pledge themselves to any financial support they expressed their hearty sympathy with the movement and recognized that the holding of an annual dairy show in Peterborough, will necessarily also prove of substantial benefit to the county. In all probability should the show be secured for Peterborough the county will offer some sort of financial as well as moral co-operation.

CITY'S PRIVATE BILL COMES UP TO-MORROW

Before Private Bills Committee of the Legislature.

Peterborough's Private Bill will come up before the Private Bills Committee of the Legislature to-morrow, when it is expected that it will be finally disposed of. The Mayor and City Solicitor Hall, with several of the Council, are in Toronto to-day consulting with Chairman Lucas, of the Private Bills Committee, in reference to the terms of the Bill.

NO SKATING AT THE BROCK STREET RINK

There will be no skating in the Brock street rink to-night. A couple of hockey games will be played, and since the probabilities are for colder weather the ice will be preserved until the end of the week, when it is expected that the ice will be in good shape again.

Insensible To The World For More Than Four Hours

Asphodel Youth Travelled Four Miles in This Condition After Being Accidentally Injured by a Plank.

WM. DICKSON ACQUITTED.

Interesting Case in County Police Court Yesterday—No Conviction Could be Made on the Evidence.

Asphodel residents turned out in large numbers to hear the evidence in the case against Wm. Dickson, of that township, yesterday afternoon in the County Police Court. Dickson, it will be remembered, was accused of committing an assault upon his son on the 15th of January last; but, owing to the illness of one of the chief witnesses, the case had to be postponed. After the evidence of the prosecution was in—which proved to be evidence in favour of the defendant—the Crown Attorney decided that no conviction was possible on the testimony given, and dismissed the case.

The victim of the alleged assault, William Dickson, Jr., was the first witness, and he stated that while unloading planks from a sleigh, he had met with an accident which caused the injuries. This occurred at 8 o'clock in the morning, and at noon when he first became conscious, he found himself at his uncle's house, four or five miles away, with no recollection of the intervening circumstances.

In connection with the tobacco episode, he testified that his father had confiscated a "plug" earlier in the morning of the day of the accident, but that nothing further was said or done.

The case was tried before Police Magistrate Dumble, with Attorney R. E. Wood for the Crown, and F. D. Kerr for the defence.

Wm. Dickson Junior

The first witness called was Wm. Dickson, the alleged victim of the assault. He is the oldest son of the family, aged 19 years. He testified that he had hitched the horses to the sleigh to draw logs on the morning of January 15, the date of the alleged assault, and that, while he was taking the planks off the sleigh and putting them on the fence, his father slipped on one of them so that it balanced up and struck him on the head. He was knocked over the sleigh and stunned. His hat was not knocked off, but he remembered nothing more until he ate his dinner that day at his uncle John's residence about four miles away. Before the accident on the same day, his father had found some tobacco on him in the stable and had taken it from him.

He left home that morning, but his sister caught up to him on the road and took him to Westwood. From there he was taken by his cousin to his uncle's. He could not remember what time he arrived there, but could recollect of having eaten his dinner. He remained at his uncle's about four days, longer than he ever did before. His mother, and his brother, Fred, came over for him on the day he was hurt, but he told them he wasn't going home then. His sister and brother called another day for him, but he did not go home until Sunday with his mother. He told his uncle that the plank was the cause of the cut on his head.

Frederick Dickson

Frederick Dickson, another son of the defendant, was the second witness. He stated that he was a witness to the tobacco episode, having seen his brother hand over the "weed" on being asked by his father. After the accident, his brother came to the stable and told him to go to the woods with his father. The witness stated that he did not notice any scars, and that he did not know his brother was hurt until his mother told him about it at 9.30 o'clock.

John Elmhirst

John Elmhirst, a cousin of the boys, testified that Miss Dickson brought the injured boy to their home about 9 o'clock in the morning. He was then in a dazed condition and did not talk sensibly. Witness heard from his own father that the father of the boy had hurt him.

Here, Mr. Kerr, counsel for the defence, objected to that evidence being taken, as the statement was made two miles from where the accident took place and in the absence of the defendant. The Magistrate, however, overruled the objection.

The witness drove the boy over to his uncle John's, and left him there.

Henry Elmhirst

Henry Elmhirst, a brother-in-law of the defendant, stated that he had asked the injured boy what happened him, when he arrived at his house in a dazed condition, and he had said, "Pa hurt me." He did not inquire further into the circumstance—"It was a family affair," said the witness, "and I kept out of it."

Miss. Cassie Dickson

Miss Dickson, a sister, testified to having taken her brother, William, to Mr. Elmhirst's. She had seen that his lip was swollen, but he had not told her how he got hurt.

Miss Mary Dickson, another sister, testified, but no new evidence was brought out.

Mr. Wood, after the above evidence had been concluded, stated that he would not ask for a conviction, but intimated that the case was a peculiar one, in view of the fact that no trouble was was taken by relatives to find out exactly what the cause was. He believed that it was a case bearing investigation, but, from the evidence, did not ask for a conviction.

Mr. Dumble referred to a lack of evidence to make a conviction, and dismissed the case.

Well Qualified To Fill His New Position

Edmonton Journal Refers to the Ability of Mr. W. A. Buchanan and His Qualifications for Provincial Librarian.

The Edmonton Journal, referring to the appointment of Mr. W. A. Buchanan, formerly of Peterborough to the position of Provincial Librarian, an announcement of which was made in the Examiner on Monday, says:—

The provincial ministry, it is understood, have appointed Mr. William A. Buchanan, proprietor of the Lethbridge Herald, provincial librarian. This office may possibly carry with it the work of organizing the free librarian system of the Government which the legislature have endorsed. For the past year Mr. Buchanan has edited the Herald in the South City and made it one of the best and newsiest weeklies in the province. Previous to this he had an extensive newspaper experience. His early training was received in Peterborough, where he worked for eight years. For three years he was city editor of the Toronto Telegram and for the same period managing director of the St. Thomas Journal. Mr. Buchanan is therefore well qualified to undertake a work that requires literary training and the historical stirit which is usually developed in a newspaper man whose work is necessarily of that nature. Mr. Buchanan has the additional qualification of being a young man of energy and good address, and will undoubtedly fill with honour to himself this important position.

HOSPITALS' WARDS NOW SHELTER MANY PATIENTS

It is reported that at the present time the hospitals of the city are caring for more sick patients than at any previous time in their history. A great many of those confined to these institutions, however, are not seriously ill, the ravages of la grippe having been responsible for the presence of a large number of the patients in the hospitals.

There is, it is reported, very few cases of contagious diseases in the city, and the sickness reported is of such a nature that it should give no occasion for alarm.

Peterborough is singularly free from serious illnesses such as other cities are experiencing this winter.

THE DOG IN THE MANGER

One would think that British Columbia would be the last to obstruct the building of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, which will have a tremendous effect in developing the resources of the province. The Conservative Government of British Columbia will contest in the courts the right of the Grand Trunk Pacific to use thirteen thousand acres for terminal facilities. The history of the possession of lands for such purposes is that the Grand Trunk Pacific has purchased from the Dominion the rights of the Indians to thirteen thousand acres of the Metlakatta Reserve. The Ottawa Free Press explains that some time since a company of adventurers, male and female, secured from the British Columbia Government a tract of 10,000 acres of land adjacent to the reserve at $1.00 per acre, and afterwards sold this to the Grand Trunk Pacific, clearing up some $30,000 on the deal.

This area the company did not consider large enough for their terminals, and entered into negotiations with the Dominion Government to secure 13,000 acres of the Indian reserve adjoining. The Dominion Government did not own the land, could not sell the land, and did not try to sell it. They did, however, authorize the Indian Agent to treat with the company for the sale of the Indians' rights in the land. This the agent did and secured for the Indians in satisfaction of their claim a price of $7.53 per acre for the land.

In order to enable the Indians to secure as good price as possible from the company, the Dominion Government asked the British Columbia Government to waive the reversionary interests of that province in the land. This interest consists in the fact that the Indians in British Columbia are considered and dealt with differently than elsewhere in Canada. In the Northwest the Indians are considered the original proprietors of the soil, are settled with on that basis, and a sale by them gives a clear title of possession to the land in their reserves. In British Columbia the Indians are not considered as having any proprietary right, but are given the privilege of exclusive possession of certain areas, with the provision that in the event of a tribe decreasing in numbers the land thus not required shall revert to the province.

This reversionary right the British Columbia Government declined to waive, and in consequence the Indians could sell to the company only their right of possession to the land in question, which they did for a sum amounting to $7.50 per acre. To make clear that the Dominion Government had not undertaken to dispose of any interest the province of British Columbia might have in the land, an agreement was secured from the Grand Trunk Pacific Company expressly stipulating that the Dominion could not be held liable for any right the province of British Columbia might claim. Such claim Premier McBride and his colleagues are now to contest on the courts for the purpose of preventing the Grand Trunk Pacific from immediately occupying the lands and proceeding with the establishment of their terminal facilities there.

If the Conservative Government of British Columbia obstructs and delays it will thus delay the construction of the extension of the railway west of Edmonton to the coast to the injury of the province. During the autumn of the present year Grand Trunk Pacific trains will be running to Edmonton and the surveys of the line from there to the coast are being completed and any injury British Columbia suffers from the delay will be the direct fault of its Government, which takes its stand in the courts on technical rights which might be amicably adjusted.

IMMIGRATION

The problem of farm labour is a very important one for both this province and the Northwest. It was stated by Mr. Southworth, to the Provincial Committee on Agriculture and Colonization, that for the past three or four years the applications for farm labourers averaged from seven to eight thousand a year. This, by no means, represents the real demand; for there are many farmers who would not send in applications. It is safe to say, that in this province, there are every year required about ten thousand farm labourers. Last year there were sent from the Bureau, in Toronto, 6,500 labourers, not including those engaged by the farmers at railways stations, and not counting those placed through the agency of the Salvation Army Bureau, amounting to several thousands. There are two things that militate against immigrants to Ontario; one cause being, perhaps, the effect of the other. The Northwest has been boomed at the expense of Ontario, as well as the other provinces, and for the past few years the Dominion Government has discriminated against Ontario, and in favour of the West, in the matter of immigration. The Northwest naturally attracts immigrants of the farm labouring class. The conditions there present better facilities for persons of moderate means securing land holdings, and making a beginning in farming. Ontario is better adapted for old country farmers with some means, for it requires more capital to become established on the improved farms of this province. The conditions point to the advisability of the Provincial Government conducting a more vigorous immigration propaganda in the old land, from the fact of both Ontario's needs, and from the additional fact that immigrants induced by agents to come to Canada, as a rule, go directly to the exact place, or province, for which they set out. In this connection it is of interest to state that the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway is organizing a bureau to bring immigrants to Ontario, in competition with a similar organization by the Canadian Pacific, to induce immigration to the Northwest. This, however, cannot be expected to be permanent. When the Grand Trunk Pacific is completed in the Northwest, the tide of immigration will, in its interests, naturally be turned to the regions where it is desirable to effect settlement in the promotion of traffic production.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

"Beware the Pyre tree's withered branch."

In view of the outcome of the interprovincial hockey game last night, "Blest be the tie that binds" is an appropriate hymn.

There is a way of reaching woman suffrage indirectly. Instead of taxing bachelors, deprive all contumacious celebates of the franchise. This will throw the ballot exclusively into the hands of married men, and, as the normal condition is that husbands have to do as their wives bid them do, including marking their ballots, it comes to pass that, in the event of the proposal suggested being adopted, women will practically have the power to vote.

That stomach trouble will cease, if you will take Miller's Compound Iron Pills. Sold by W. Madill.

T. H. BROOKS RETURNS TO THE CITY

After Spending Four Weeks in the Neighbourhood of the Town Of Cobalt.

Mr. T. H. Brooks returned from the Cobalt district a few days ago, after spending four weeks in the centre of the mining region. Mr. Brooks went up with a party of eight, the rest of them being still there. The purpose of his trip was to look after the interests of Mr. R. C. Braund, who has some mining claims about seven miles northeast of Cobalt.

Mr. Brooks is much pleased with the new town whose growth in the past year has been marvellous. He speaks in laudatory terms of the good control under which the town is held, and says that excellent order prevails. The most important hour in Cobalt is train hour, when the station is crowded with men, going and coming. The cost of living is rather high and a prospector must have his pockets well lined to remain long in that place. During his stay there several promising finds were find.

Mr. Brooks also tells about the Larder Lake district, where some valuable discoveries were made last fall. This lake is 75 miles north of Cobalt, and there is no connection—railway or otherwise. Those going there have to walk or drive over very rough roads. Already there are three thousand people there, according to report, the most of them prospectors. For twenty miles around the lake the land has been staked out and the men are now awaiting until the snow disappears.

The minerals chiefly found are silver, copper, calcite, cobalt and graphite, and it is expected that some rich finds will be worked out of the claims already staked out.

INTERESTING LETTER

WRITTEN BY A NOTABLE WOMAN

Mrs. Sarah Kellog of Denver, Color Bearer of the Woman's Relief Corps, Sends thanks to Mrs. Pinkham.

Mrs. Sarah Ke Nogg

The following letter was written by Mrs. Kellogg, of 1628 Lincoln Ave., Denver, Colo., to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.:

Dear Mrs Pinkham:

"For five years I was troubled with a tumor which kept growing, causing me intense agony and great mental depression. I was unable to attend to my house work, and life became a burden to me. I was confined for days to my bed, lost my appetite, my courage and all hope.

"I could not bear to think of an operation, and in my distress I tried every remedy which I thought would be of any use to me, and reading of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to sick women decided to give it a trial. I felt so discouraged that I had little hope of recovery, and when I began to feel better, after the second week, thought it only meant temporary relief; but to my great surprise I found that I kept gaining, while the tumor lessened in size.

"The Compound continued to build up my general health and the tumor seemed to be absorbed, until, in seven months, the tumor was entirely gone and I a well woman. I am so thankful for my recovery that I ask you to publish my letter in newspapers, so other women may know of the wonderful curative powers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

When women are troubled with irregular or painful periods, weakness, displacements or ulceration of the female organs, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, backache, flatulence, general debility, indigestion and nervous prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such trouble.

No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female trouble.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years under her direction and since her decease has been advising sick women free of charge. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Remember that it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that is curing women, and don't allow any druggist to sell you anything else in its place.

ABOLISH DOGS FOR DEER HUNTING

Mr. Pratt Defends in the Legislature His Bill to Amend the Ontario Game Protection Act.

Mr. Pratt's bill to amend the Ontario Game Protection Act by prohibiting the hunting of deer with dogs was before the Ontario Legislature on Monday, and gave rise to some discussion. Mr. Pratt said that he had hunted for years, both with and without dogs, and he had been forced to the conclusion that dogs should be done away with. From the humane standpoint, it was indefensible, and such an animal as a deer should not be run for miles by dogs before being killed, as it made the venison practically useless. This statement was met by a chorus of "No, no," from sundry sportsmen in the House. He thought that the bill should be read a second time and referred to the Fish and Game Commission, where it could be fully discussed, "and," added Mr. Graham, "lost."

Sick Headaches and Biliousness

ONLY COME WHEN THE LIVER GETS TORPID AND SLUGGISH—THE CURE IS

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS.

Sickness if to some extent a habit. This is especially true of biliousness and constipation. So long as you neglect treatment or merely use medicines to move the bowels, the old trouble returns.

Isn't it worth while to follow up a treatment that has positively cured these ailments in thousands of cases?

Mrs. Jas. Monteith, Saurin, Simcoe Co., Ont., writes: "I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for liver complaint, biliousness and terrible sick headaches and have found that they are more effective than any treatment I ever tried. They clean the system thoroughly, remove the cause of pains and aches and make you feel fresh and strong again. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are also excellent for stomach troubles."

Such a host of ailments may be directly traced to disorders of the liver that the physician in the great majority of cases prescribes a treatment for the liver the very first thing, so as to eliminate poisons from the system.

On the activity of the liver, to a very large extent, depends the health of the body, and the success of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills must be attributed to their prompt, direct and specific action on the liver.

Healthful liver action ensures a good flow of bile to aid the functions of digestion and regulate the bowels. Biliousness, headache, intestinal indigestion, bodily pains, low spirits and ill-temper, as well as a score of other troublesome symptoms of slow, torpid liver action, soon disappear when Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are used.

The benefits obtained by this treatment are not only prompt, but also thorough and lasting. One pill a dose; 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box.—7

The New York Stock Market

New York, March 13. — Demoralization in London this morning, when British consols sold down to 84 1-2, lower than during the Boer war, started a panic here. Opening prices were from 1 to 3 points off, and the decline never stopped until the active issues had declined from 5 to 16 points. Thousands of shares were thrown overboard "at the market" and with no supporting orders in the market brokers simply took what they could get. Stop-loss orders were caught in quantity and accelerated the decline. Panicky conditions prevailed.

Reading lost 16 points, C P R, 8; Copper, 8; U P, 11; St Paul, over 8; the Hill stocks 10. After 1 o'clock there were some violent rallies but they did not hold as long stock appeared on every strong spot. The close was tremendously active and weak.

We have had a tremendous decline to-day and while while we expect another drive to be made at the opening to-morrow we believe it is good policy to buy some of these good stocks on this break for we will get a recovery and a big one, too. There are some big bargains in stocks and we do not think you will have to carry them long before they will show some nice profits.

FRIDAY NIGHT'S GAME WITH THE MIDGETS

Famous Juniors Will Try to Turn Down Strathconas.

The Strathconas and Lindsay Midgets will put up a great argument on Friday night when they meet at Brock street rink. Colder weather is promised and it is hoped that there will be good ice for the game. Both teams are in the best of shape and will go the limit in speed. The Strathconas are confident of doing up the junior O.H.A. runners up, and at any rate it will be an interesting game and one worth going miles to see. Many people are of the opinion that City League hockey is as fast as junior O.H.A. and the game will be an opportunity of judging.

THE CITIZENS' BANQUET TO MR. DENNISTOUN

Persons Desiring to Secure Cards of Admission Should Act Promptly.

Though the tickets for the Citizens' Banquet to Mr. Dennistoun, were only issued this morning, already fifty out of the one hundred tickets, to which the issue is limited, have been applied for. Persons desirous of joining in the tribute to Mr. Dennistoun, must, therefore, act promptly in order to procure tickets.

HOCKEY

KENORA CERTAIN.

Kenora, March 12.—(Special.) — The championship of the Manitoba Hockey League was virtually settled when the Thistles defeated the strong Portage la Prairie team here to-night by a score of 7-0. The cup holders must still defeat Brandon to retain the world's championship, but after the decisive victory over Portage, who played top Wheat City to a tie last Friday, the honours of the league are now virtually conceded to the Thistles, who, with Alf. Smith and H. Westwick of Ottawa, and Chambers of Winnipeg in the line-up, have probably the most formidable team that ever stepped on the ice in Canada.

The city hockey leagues are asked to remember the meeting at the Oriental Hotel to-night when the affairs of the League will be wound up and reports for the season will be read.

AFFLICTED WITH CATARRH— LIFE HAD BECOME A BURDEN.

Pe-ru-na, Used As a Last Resort, Affords Complete Relief.

MRS. F. CARR.

The Relief Experienced By Mrs. Carr Through the Use of Pe-ru-na, After Having Tried the Best Professional Treatment in Vain, Is a Matter of No Small Wonder Among Her Many Friends.

Mrs. F. Carr, Vineland, Ont., Can., writes:

"For several years I was afflicted with catarrh, which made life a burden.

"The coughing and hacking which accompanied the disease was terrible.

"The complaint finally extended to the stomach and I was in a wretched condition.

"I tried different remedies and the best professional treatment all in vain.

"Finally, as a last resort, I tried Peruna upon the recommendation of my sister in Hamilton.

"I could see steady improvement and after using four bottles of that precious medicine I was feeling well again, my old trouble being completely a thing of the past.

"To-day I would not take one thousand dollars for what this grand medicine has done for me."

Many women owe their lives to Peruna. A great many more owe their health to Peruna.

A multitude of women throughout Canada are using Peruna as a preventative and a relief from catarrhal coughs and colds.

We have in our files a great number of letters from grateful women who have been benefited by Peruna, with permission to use these letters in public print.

Catarrh would not be such a curse to the human race if people thoroughly understood its nature.

Catarrh is a disease which never improves of its own accord, but becomes deeper seated the longer it is neglected. It should be treated at once to prevent it from making inroads upon vital organs.

PETITION AGAINST SIGN BY-LAW

Owners of Projecting Signs to Petition to Have the By-law Repealed.

Objections are being raised on every hand by merchants and professional men regarding the sign by-law, which the police are taking steps to enforce. The objections have taken the form of a petition which is now being circulated and extensively signed, to be placed before the council requesting that body to repeal the bylaw.

The petition is being handled by Mr. R. W. Grubbe who, a reporter noticed to-day, was in pursuit of P. C Newhall—the distributor of the notices. Wherever the officer served a notice Mr. Grubbe was there soon after to present the petition and even at times he preceeded the policeman.

New developments are expected at the next council meeting.

PROMINENT RESIDENT OF CAMPBELLFORD DEAD

Mr. Charles Smith Was Well Known in This City—An Ex-Reeve of the Town —Member of Board of Trade.

General regret will be felt in the city at the announcement of the death in Toronto, of Mr. Charles Smith, of Campbellford, and who well known in Peterborough. The despatch referred to is as follws:

"A message was received this morning announcing the death of Mr. Charles Smith, which took place in the hospital at Toronto, at 6 p. m. Mr. Smith, who was 67 years of age, was proprietor of the Hungarian flour mill, and one of the most prominent men of Campbellford. He was reeve of the town for some years and president of the Board of Trade, and a public spirited man in every respect. In business he was very successful and was considered one of the best financiers in the country. In politics he was a staunch Reformer and was always in the front ranks of the party."

GOOD FOR YOUR COLD

A noted specialist in throat and lung trouble, who established a camp for consumptives in the pine woods of Maine, and whose remarkable cures there have attracted great attention from the medical world, says that one-half ounce of the Pure Virgin Oil of Pine mixed with two ounces of Glycerine and one-half pint of good Whisky, used in teaspoonful doses every four hours will heal and strengthen the lungs, break up a cold in twenty-four hours and cure any cough that is curable. The ingredients can be secured from any good prescription druggist at small cost.

Inquiry at the prescription department of a leading local druggist elicited the information that the Pure Virgin Oil of Pine is put up only in half-ounce vials for dispensing. Each vial is securely sealed in a round wooden case, with engraved wrapper showing the name—Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure), prepared only by Leach Chemical Co., Windsor, Ontario—plainly printed thereon. Only the cheaper Oils are sold in bulk, but these create nausea and never effect the desired result.

THE SIDEWALK BY-LAW IS ENFORCED

Water Street Business Men Appear Before Magistrate Dumble and the Case Was Dismissed.

At the Police Court this morning the sidewalk cleaning question was again under consideration. The firm of Roger, Bennet & Goodwill, Mr. Poussette and the Bank of Commerce all received summons to appear for not removing the ice and snow from the sidewalk in front of their places of business, contrary to Bylaw No. 915. It was a rather extraordinary proceeding. Mr. Roger was called to the stand, and his colleague, Mr. Bennet, acted as his counsel. Mr. Roger said that so far as he knew, their firm had received no notice from the police. To Mr. Bennet, he said that they have a man engaged to keep the walk free from snow, but that the character of the past winter had been a succession of thaws and freezings, and thus ice has accumulated. Moreover, the walk is lower than the street, and the water flows on to the sidewalks and forms ice there. Mr. Roger said that he thought they had reasonably endeavoured to follow the wishes expressed in the bylaw.

Mr. Dumble, in reviewing the case, said that the bylaw must be enforced, but that it should keep within the bounds of reason. The citizens say that it is being unduly brought into use now, when the season is almost past. The Magistrate said that it has not been enforced, as the people have reasonably cleaned the walks. Now, however, when it is desirable that, with nature's assistance, the ice and slush be removed from the walks, it is the duty of the people to comply with the bylaw. If any of them glaringly neglect to do so, than they are punishable by law.

Mr. Dumble considered that the accused had made reasonable efforts to comply with the bylaw, and he therefore discharged them.

Two young men were fined $2 and costs each, amounting to $4.60. They were participants in a fistic encounter Friday evening at the corner of Charlotte and Aylmer streets.

CONTINUED SUCCESS IN THE REVIVAL

Good Attendance at Park Street Baptist Church Last Night — Evangelist Torrie Talks to the Children.

The damp atmosphere was not enough to keep the people away from the Park street revival last night. A very large congregation gathered and a new feature was introduced to the evident delight of all. Miss Hamilton, of Midland, a beautiful soprano, sang a duet with Mrs. H Jewett taking the alto. The effect was telling, the audience being visibly moved. Miss Hamilton will remain till the close of the services, and will assist with solos, etc.

The sermon was a very strong presentation of the gospel from the well-known text, John iii., 16. The after meeting was unique. The evangelist asked all who were converted 40 years and over to rise. One only responded, and he was asked to make a statement. Then those converted 30 years and over, and a number rose, each giving a reason for the hope that was in them. Then a general testimony followed.

When the appeal was made, quite a number rose, desiring to begin a Christian life.

A very enthusiastic meeting for boys and girls was held at 4.30. An interesting exercise of this meeting is the books of the New Testament set to music, and the children go into it with a will. Many know them perfectly and can tell the exact location of each book.

The next service for the young people will be held on Friday at 4.30, when Mr. Torrie's subject will be, "Why is a boy like an oyster?"

Meeting to-night at 8 o'clock. Song service at 7.45.

THEFT CASE REPORTED FROM OTONABEE

Watch Dog's Honesty Questioned and Several Heads Were Stolen.

A funny story comes from Otonabee concerning nothing less than heads of pigs and some dogs. A farmer, Mr. William Tully, presided over a pig-slaughtering "bee" the otther day at his home, and with the assistance of another neighbour, Mr. Laurie, had about half a dozen choice animals strung up before nightfall, while their severed heads were left on the snow.

The watch dog of the latter gentleman had viewed the slaughtering scene during the afternoon but the farmer declined to have him watch over the heads while supper was being partaken of. The dog was sent home and it didn't take him long to get there either. But, on returning from the dining room, the men were shocked to find the heads were gone. Lanterns were procured and after a diligent search one of them was recovered in a woods about half a mile away, but the location of the others still remains a mystery.

THEY WILL APPOINT A FOREMAN

New Official in Connection With the Fire Hall—Committee Decides to Revise the Rules.

A meeting of the Fire, Water and Light Committee was held last night, when a long time was spent in revising the rules and regulations governing the fire hall. The committee has spent a long time on these rules and a number of changes have been made which will make a great difference in the conduct of the new fire hall. Chairman Johnston is determined to have the rules carried out to the letter and thus keep the fire hall in such condition that it will be a credit to the city.

A new official will be appointed and he will be known as the foreman of the fire hall, and he will have full control over the entire building, and of all parties in the building. He will not, however, have any authority at a fire nor over any of the firemen while on duty. He will also be caretaker of the fire alarm system and and the street wiring and the house wiring.

Miss Clara Bellingham and Mr. Duncan Campbell will sing. Miss Clarry will preside at the piano.

Mr. Richard Lees, M.A., will take the chair.

GOOD ATTENDANCE AT MISSIONARY LECTURE

Rev. C. H. Brooks Spoke to Otonabee Audience on "Peoples and Religions of Turkey."

The weather on Tuesday night was anything but favourable, the dark, and the roads were in a bad condition, and yet a large attendance, numbering about 70, was present at Stewart's Hall to listen to the Missionary lecture of Rev. C. H. Brooks on "The People and Religions of Turkey." Rev. E. A. Langfeldt occupied the chair, and opened the meeting with prayer.

Rev. Mr. Brooks, who for 18 years has been a missionary at Constantinople, gave a graphic description of the various religions and people of the much misunderstood country. A liberal offering was given for missions, and the audience appreciated very highly the lecture which gave them much valuable information.

AUXILIARY REPORTS ON YEAR'S WORK

Annual Meeting of the W. A. of St. John's Church Was Held Yesterday —Reports Showed Progress.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. John's Church held yesterday, revealed the auxiliary to be in a flourishing condition, especially so far as finances are concerned. The report of the treasurer showed a balance on hand, after the operations of the year, and all appropriations paid. The receipts of the auxiliary this year were the largest in the history of the organization.

Mrs. Post, Dorcas Secretary, reported that a bale of clothing had been sent out this year as usual, but regretted the fact that the attendance at the sewing meetings had not been as large as it had been in former years.

The report of the Mission Band was presented by Mrs. W. R. Morris, and showed that the branch of the auxiliary was in a satisfactory condition.

Miss M. Wilson presented an encouraging report from the Girls' Auxiliary, a newly organized branch, with a membership of 23. Regular meetings have been held since the auxiliary was organized, and the members take a deep interest in the work.

Miss M. E. Peck resigned her office as P. M. C. treasurer, her resignation being accepted with regret, and a vote of thanks was passed to Miss Peck for her valued services to the auxiliary in the past.

The election of officers, which followed, resulted as follows:

Hon. Pres.—Mrs. Vernon.
President—Mrs. R. H. Nesbitt.
Secretary—Mrs. Palmer.
Treasurer—Mrs. P. Campbell.
Secretary, P.M.C.—Mrs. Dean.
Literary Secretary—Mrs. Botsford.

Have You Decided on Your EASTER GOWN

AT no previous stage in our history were we so splendidly ready to meet your requirements in selecting your Easter apparel as at the present. For months past we have been planning and selecting the nicest and most exclusive Novelties in Women's Wear, with the result that our showing this season surpasses all other exhibitions of everything that charms the most fastidious and exacting of tastes. We draw particular attention to the new Eton and Poneto Suits that are a wealth of beauty and good taste—everyone a triumph of the designer's and tailor's skill—the fabrics, too, are captivating in the extreme—several new weaves introduced with some of the more staple fabrics that still hold sway—the Suits are economically priced from $13.00 up to $30.00. Hundreds of new Separate Skirts and a shower of beautiful and exclusive Shirt Waists and Shirt Waist Suits ready for your selection.

A Handsome "Eton" Suit

in stylish shadow effect, pearl grey worsted. The coat is an elaborately-conceived idea in fancy braid and "draw" braid trimming; fancy silk trimming around inlaid collar and down front; prettily designed three-quarter sleeve; pleated skirt trimmed with grey "draw" braid..... 18.00

An Attractive 'Poneto' Suit

in black and white shepherd's check in the new 3/8 in. width; semi-fitting coat in the latest "poneto" cut (which is a contraction of the Eton and Pony coat) made with slash sides; front has vest and stole effect; elaborately trimmed throughout with fancy one inch black mohair braid. New panel pleated skirt with self applications; trimmed with fine black soutache, draw braid and small black buttons.. 22.00

Your Made-to-Order Easter Gown

Our exhaustive display of the season's popular fabrics will make it easy to solve the question. We doubt if in any other exhibition you could have as good, and, certainly not better, range to choose from. Our Miss Wesley and her efficient staff of Dressmaking Artistes are kept on the go with the ever-increasing orders for Easter Gowns, which will be executed in the order received.

Kindergarten Changes—School Board Will Meet on Tuesday Night In Future.

At the meeting of the School Board on Monday night, some changes were made in the kindergarten teaching staff in view of the arrival home of Miss Warner, who had been away on a leave of absence journey for a few months. Mr. Hill brought in a resolution, which was seconded by Mr. Robinson, "That, as Miss Warner has returned home and taken up her work in the Central School, Miss Cameron be appointed as first assistant in the skindergarten department in the Central School, at a salary of $22.50 per month, dating from March 1, and, that Miss Hall be engaged as assistant in the South Central School at a salary of $17.50 per month, dating from March 1." —Carried.

Mr. Hill also brought in a resolution, which was passed, that The regular meeting of the Board be held in future on the first Tuesday of each month. From the mover's statements, in explanation, the new date was unanimously considered to be a great improvement.

"BACHELOR GIRL" HITS BACK HARD

Reply to "Bachelor's Lament"—Ald. Tovey's Bachelor Tax is Again Discussed in Verse.

A reply, in verse, to the "Bachelor's Lament," published in The Examiner a few days ago, was received this morning with a request for its publication. This poetic effusion is given publicity in these columns today, not by reason of its intrinsic merit from the standpoint of the poet, but because of the vigorous manner in which the sentiments are given expression to:

Of all the clowns that I do despise,
Is the bachelor who does surmise
That wrinkled old maids are not good to kiss,
Their mugs imply no ethereal bliss.
How easily this class can be mistaken,
It is not my place to be herewith relating.
The subject I started to write about
Is Tovey's tax scheme, the bachelors to rout.
They are up in arms against this tax
For fear of orinkled and wrinkled smacks.
They refuse to help and aid this town,
Like a lot of cheap skates of world renown.
Ask them to marry, to get a wife,
"Could not do so, upon your life."
Social functions, teas, etc., they do pertain,
Bachelors they always will be and always remain
Like the miser, after his lucre and self,
They would not lift a woman off old maid's shelf.
Thank goodness, we women are just as free:
We would not have you, so now, do you see.
The tax, the tax, it must be paid.
If every bachelor's purse we do raid.
Our fair city must get out of debt,
Even if the bachelor is jailed, you bet.
Put them one and all in glass cases
So we can look at their immaculate faces.
Ticket them and put them in a hall,
Those who do against this tax brawl.
Or else have them buy one of our city houses,
And have some one pick out for them their spouses.

ANCIENT FORESTERS MAKE PROGRESS

At Interesting and Enjoyable Smoker—Facts Concerning Advancement Made by Local Court are Given.

A GOOD PROGRAMME GIVEN

After the regular business meeting of Court Stanley, No. 7680. A.O.F., last night, a smoker was held in S. O.E. Hall, Hunter street. A large number of the members and their friends attended. They enjoyed a thoroughly interesting programme, and social time. Mr. H. C. Wilson of Toronto, treasurer of the High Court, A. O. F., was present, and gave an address on the work of the Order.

The Chief Ranger, Mr. Thomas Hendry, occupied the chair, and an informal programme was given, while the gentlemen enjoyed their pipes and played games. The proceedings consisted of vocal and instrumental music. Each number was well received and loudly applauded. The following is the excellent programme rendered:—

Song, Mr. T. Crowe.
Song, Mr. Pratt.
Gramaphone selections, Mr. Chas. Garside.
Banjo selection, Mr. Frank Clarke.
Recitation, Mr. Runnett.
Song, Mr. Chambers.
Comic song, Mr. G. Kennedy.
Violin solo, Mr. D. Webster.

During the evening Mr. H. C. Wilson, Toronto, gave an address containing much information of importance to the members. He said that it gave him much pleasure to be present at the smoker of Court Stanley, and he wished to say a few words particularly to those who were not members. The Ancient Order of Foresters was the oldest fraternal organization in the world. It was originated over a hundred years ago. At first it was known as the Royal Foresters, but in 1834, at the first High Court meeting, the name was changed to the Ancient Order of Foresters. There are over one million members in all the combined courts. They have made steady progress and are now the strongest, financial organization that exists. The A.O.F., is the only Order doing business on the straight insurance line. He referred to the elevating influence of the Society. It was the society for the workingman. The president of the United States had said that where fraternal societies exist, there will be found the best men and the best legislation. The speaker congratulated Court Stanley on their splendid showing and hoped that they would continue to grow, until the membership might reach the two hundred mark, which they were trying for during the year.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Wilson for his able address. It was moved by Bro. R. J. McWilliams, and seconded by Bro. S. Adlum.

The committee in charge of the smoker consisted of Messrs. S. Adlum, H. Hanwell, R. J. Goodenough, George Tremaine and T. Hendry. They deserve great credit for the splendid programme provided. They did all in their power to give the members a good time.

The singing of the national anthem brought to a close a very pleasant and social evening.

Afterwards the Foresters adjourned to McCallum's restaurant where an excellent repast, prepared in admirable style, was partaken of. A jolly hour or two was spent in speech, song and story.

IN THE GOOD OLD FASHIONED DAYS

Powdered Wigs Formed an Important Adjunct to a Gentlemen's Apparel.

It is safe to say that the majority of bald men of to-day would gladly revive the old dignified custom if they could. But they can do the next best thing to it; that is, hold on to what hair they have.

In cases where the hair root or hair bulb has not been completely destroyed by parasites that infest it, Newbro's Herpicide will do wonders in the way of encouraging a new growth of hair. Destroy the cause, you remove the effect. That is the successful mission of Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Vinol tones up the digestive organs, cures all stomach troubles, makes rich, red blood, creates strength and builds up firm, healthy flesh.

As we have so often stated in these columns, Vinol is the greatest strength creator known to medicine, and we do not believe there is a person in this vicinity but what Vinol will benefit, at this season of the year; it never fails to make the weak strong and the sick well.

Vinol is just as valuable for all hacking coughs, chronic colds, throat and bronchial troubles, and we return money if it fails. Mc Dermid & Jury, druggists. Vinol is also sold at the Market Drug Store (The Ormond & Walsh Old Stand).

Varicose Ulcers Cured

Miss Elizabeth Campbell, No. 20, Sheridan avenue, Toronto, states: —"About eight years ago I hurt my leg near the ankle, and the result was what the doctors called varicose ulcers. I was treated in two Toronto hospitals and sent away without being cured. From the very start Dr. Chase's Ointment helped me, and by persistent use it has entirely cured me."

UNSOLICITED TESTIMONY

The Tate Optical Co., Peterborough:

DEAR SIRS—During the last three or four years (prior to May last) my eyesight had failed to such an extent that I was unable to read or see anything at close range and could get no Glasses that would help me. I tried two different Opticians in Toronto and was told by both that they could do nothing for me, and that my sight would never be better. A statement of my case was sent to Montreal by a Hastings optician and several pairs of Glasses sent me, but with the same result, my vision could not be improved. Last May, while looking at a Pair of Glasses you made for Mr. John Fife, Keene, and talking with him he advised me to consult your Mr. Babcock, and I am pleased to say that the Pair of Glasses he made for me have given me entire satisfaction and I can do now what I have not done for years past—read any ordinary print and see distinctly at close range. I feel very grateful, not only for the interest you have taken in my case, but particularly so for the blessing of good eyesight. Thanks to your knowledge and skill.

Yours truly,
(Signed) JOHN CARTER, Sr.,

EIGHTY SAILORS MET THEIR DEATH

Battleship Destroyed, and Hundreds Badly Injured.

WAS FULL OF EXPLOSIVES

Explosion of Magazines Hurled Bodies Through the Air—Were 600 on Board at the Time—Accident Was Caused by Bursting of a Torpedo—Men Jumped Into the Water—Complete Panic Prevailed.

Toulon, France, March 13.—The powder magazine on board the French battleship Jena blew up yesterday afternoon, resulting in the death of Capt. Adigard, her commander; Capt. Vernier, chief of staff of the Mediterranean squadron, and eighty bluejackets, and frightfully injuring Rear Admiral Manceron and hundreds of other men.

Naval circles are aghast at the catastrophe, and the public is stunned, coming as it does so soon after the loss of French submarine boat Lutin, in which sixteen men perished.

Practically the entire afterpart of the Jena was blown to pieces. The bodies of the victims were hurled through the air by a succession of explosions, and the panic-stricken workmen at the arsenal fled from the dock for their lives.

Scores of the men on board the Jena jumped either overboard or to the stone quays, and sustained serious injuries.

Cause of Accident.

The primary cause of the accident was the explosion of a torpedo. Why this instrument exploded is unknown, but the powder magazines of the Jena were set on fire and their contents, in exploding, ruined one of the finest vessels in the French navy.

The Jena had just undergone a final inspection of her hull and machinery. The latter had been completely overhauled preparatory to her joining the squadron to-morrow.

The crew was at its full strength, being composed of the rear admiral, twenty-four other officers and 630 men.

The magazines had been replenished recently and contained many tons of both smokeless and black powder, as well as a number of charges for torpedoes.

The crew of the Jena had just finished their midday meal, and had dispersed to various parts of the vessel. Most of the men were engaged in work connected with the approaching departure of the warship, but quite a large party had been detailed to attend a lecture which was being given forward.

The first detonation was extremely violent and shook the vessel fore and aft. It was followed by other shocks. The crew were thrown into a condition of panic. They rushed wildly hither and thither about the deck.

The men forward, who had been attending the lecture, clambered over the bulwarks and jumped down, some of them to the deck, and others to the stone quay. Many of these sustained fatal injuries.

In Blinding Smoke.

The hundreds of men below were enshrouded in blinding smoke, and, while they groped their way toward the exits, suffocating fumes caused many of them to fall unconscious.

In the meantime, the explosions had become more frequent, and the entire afterpart of the Jena caught fire. Shells and charges in the magazines continued to burst and masses of metal were hurled into the air, to fall everywhere about the decks and the arsenal.

These flying missiles demolished the torpedo shed, the engine works and the pumphouse nearby, and were a menace to the lives of those who made their way toward the ill-fated battleship to begin the work of rescue. Despite the danger, many heroic efforts were made to render assistance, but for the most part in vain. The Jena was aflame, which prevented approach.

Those who escaped death suffered severe injuries, and, becoming temporary insane, rushed frantically about the vicinity of the drydock until they fell exhausted.

Then, amidst clouds of dense smoke, the search for the dead and wounded was begun. The lower decks were littered with shattered and torn bodies, while the surrounding water was dotted with human fragments.

It will be impossible to ascertain the exact number of killed and wounded until to-morrow, when a roll-call will be held, many of the men having been completely blown to to pieces, while others were incinerated.

The fire is practically now out, and, as soon as the battleship is free of the fumes, probably some time to-night, the work of bringing out the bodies will begin.

PRISONER ESCAPES.

Tillsonburg Man Changes His Clothes and Escapes In Woodstock.

Woodstock, March 13.—Frederick Forbes of Tillsonburg, under sentence to serve one year in the Central Prison for larceny, escaped from the county jail here yesterday.

Spring housecleaning has been in progress at the jail for the last few days. Yesterday morning, while Governor Cameron was opening the rear iron door to take a ladder out, he noticed Forbes coming downstairs, and instructed him to go to the kitchen to get some water and start scrubbing.

The governor's attention was called elsewhere for a few minutes and, upon returning, he noticed a door leading out into one of the smaller yards was open.

Looking out he saw a pile of jail clothes in the corner. A search was immediately commenced and Forbes was found to be missing.

Apparently he had on a suit of civilian clothes under his prison clothes and, upon reaching the smaller yard, had pulled his prison clothes off and run out into the outer ward and through the gates, which also were open.

He is young and has quite a police record. He is of medium height, fair complexion and weighs about 150 lbs

Kidnappers Demand $1,000.

New York, March 13.—Kidnappers written to a New York detective agency, apparently from some point in Canada, threatening to kill 4-year-old Horace N. Marvin, jr., of Kitts Hammock, Delaware, if $1,000 in gold is not paid to them at once.

This is the second letter from the alleged kidnappers; the first, which was received yesterday, demanding the payment at some obscure point in Canada.

Baby Immigrant Dies On Train.

Montreal, March 13.—Lewis Chittender has applied for a burial permit for his baby boy, which died on a train while coming from Halifax. The father says his wife and five children were exposed on the steamer Virginia more than two hours, and that an accident to the train prevented him from getting the child to a doctor in time.

Moscow Reds Fight Police.

Moscow, March 13.—In a fight between police and a body of revolutionists yesterday, in which revolvers were freely used, one policeman was killed, two revolutionists were wounded and four were captured.

General Worried Odessa.

Odessa, March 13.—It developed yesterday that the recent transfer of Gen. Nepluеff, commander of the fortress at Sevastopol, was due to the inhabitants of that city, who sent a petition, as their nerves were becoming shattered through the danger which they incurred whenever the commandant appeared in public.

Two attempts to kill the commandant failed, but many citizens were killed and wounded. Whenever he appeared in public there was a public scurry for shelter.

Elgin Claims to Be Canadian.

London, March 13.—(C. A. P.)—Lord Elgin, addressing the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce, referring to his visit to Liverpool in 1854, said he came essentially as a colonial product, for he was then a Canadian boy coming home. He opened the Colonial Products Exhibition at Liverpool yesterday.

Held Up and Robbed On Tracks.

Ingersoll, March 13.—While George Tune, butcher, was walking home on the G. T. R. tracks last night, two highwaymen dropped a bag over his head and robbed him of about $90, his receipts for the day.

Broken Rail Wrecks Train.

Port Arthur, March 13.—Sixteen cars were piled up at the foot of a steep embankment in the wreck of a westbound stock train, caused by a broken rail, east of here Monday night. Fifty horses were killed.

The recent strike on the adjoining property of two veins of cobalt and silver but a short distance (about 60 feet) from and running directly towards Silver Bird has, in our opinion, really doubled the value of this property.

SILVER BIRD
WILL POSITIVELY ADVANCE TO
ON MARCH 25TH.

Advice from Superintendent Gauthier states that the shaft is now 94 feet deep, that drifting will commence at the 100-foot level, and that he expects to soon be bagging ore for shipment. Supt. Gauthier has had many years of experience in mining, is thoroughly familiar with the formation and conditions, and his opinion and advice can be relied upon.

SILVER BIRD

NOW 15 CENTS PER SHARE.

SILVER BIRD is surrounded by the greatest producing mines in the Cobalt District.

SILVER BIRD is absolutely inside property, consisting of twenty acres (patented), being the west half of the northeast quarter of the north half of Lot 3, Concession 6, Coleman.

SILVER BIRD is a mine in full operation, with two 25 h.p. boilers, steam hoist, steam drills and all machinery and buildings necessary to complete an operating mine.

SILVER BIRD is working two shifts and is in full operation both day and night, sinking upon three veins and in the same formations identically as in the O'Brien, Timmins and Right of Way mines and lying immediately between these mines and the Green-Meehan, Red Rock, Cobalt Contact and Nipissing Extension. The veins are broadening out and are increasing in values with depth, now 94 feet in shaft.

SILVER BIRD has no indebtedness; there are no incumbrances against the property or stock of the company. The capitalization of The Silver Bird Cobalt Mines, Limited, is but $1,500,000.00, par value of the shares $1.00 each, fully paid and non-assessable, and no personal liability, with 500,000 shares in the treasury. The first allotment is now offered to the public for subscription at 15 cents per share.

Considering the inside location of the property, development done, results obtained, low capitalization and the large amount of shares in the treasury, this is unquestionably one of the best bargains (if not the greatest bargain) that have been offered in Cobalt mining shares.

To guard against over-issue and to guarantee to investors the genuineness of the certificates when issued—also the prompt and safe delivery of same—arrangements have been made with The Trusts & Guarantee Company, Limited, 14 King street west, Toronto, to act as Transfer Agents and Registrars.

Lindsay Post Team Played Drawn Game With Examine

Score in the Big Press Game Was 3-3—Examiner Lead by 1-0 at the Half---Game Was Hotly and Closely Contested.

Blest be the TIE that binds
Our hearts in hockey's grip,
The fellowship of massive minds
Is worth the double trip.

The undefeated Examiner team came the closest to defeat that they have done this season at the Brock street rink last night, when the team, representing the Lindsay Post, played a tie game with them. The score at the final gong was 3—3, while the Examiner lead at half-time by 1—0. The game was a good exhibition, and was warmly, but cleanly, contested from start to finish, with the honours about as even as the score would indicate. Neither team had much on the other at any stage, and the result was a very exciting game. The hockey, if not brilliant, was interesting, and the large crowd thoroughly enjoyed the exhibition put up by the two press teams. The ice, considering the condition of the weather, was remarkably good.

The Lindsay team started off strong in the second half, getting three goals in a row, which put them ahead by two goals. The Examiner bunch made a garrison finish, however, and succeeded in pushing two past Bergenaw before time was called, putting the two teams on an even footing. The best of good feeling was in evidence between the players, and the game was one of the cleanest of the season, only one penalty being handed out by Referee George Lynch.

As has been said, there was little to choose between the two teams. The visitors had a strong forward line, who played good combination, and who were all good skaters and good stick handlers. Nesbitt, at rover, was the pick of the bunch, handling himself nicely. He was given good support by G. Reilly, the old Lindsay Senior player, and by the diminutive Rats Barry, who played a strong game at left wing. The defence was strong and checked well. Robie Glover was at point for the Examiner team, and was a tower of strength in every way. Clarke checked and rushed well, while the forward line all showed up excellently. Everybody worked hard, and their work was generally effective. Hutchinson scored the first goal after a fine combination rush, while Theobald got the second on an individual express train effort.

Referee George Lynch gave every satisfaction and had an easy job, as the players showed no inclination to carve each other up.

The teams lined up as follows:

Lindsay Post,		Examiner,
Goal,
Frenchy Bugenaw.		Craig
Point,
Chuck Perkins.		Glover.
Cover,
Typo Johnston.		Clarke
Rover,
Nannie Nesbitt.		Hutchinson
Centre.
Mike Irwin.		Henry.
Right wing,
Slats Reilly.		Huston
Left wing.
Rats Barry.		Theobald.

The game started off at a fast clip, and within the first few minutes of play the Examiner scored, Hutchinson doing the trick after some clever combination. There was no further scoring in this half, although both teams worked hard to find the nets.

The play was even faster in the second half. Huston was penalized for tripping and while he was off, Lindsay scored their first goal, Nesbitt doing the trick from a scrimmage. Barry followed with another, and then Reilly found the nets once again, putting Lindsay two in the lead. Theobald made a pretty rush along the boards and scored, and a few minutes afterwards matters were evened up by the Examiner shoving one through in a scrimmage. Time was called with the honours even.

The two teams will meet in the return game to-morrow night in Lindsay, and the Examiner team is going to make a big effort to win even in Seugogville.

The visitors were entertained by the Examiner team at an enjoyable banquet, held in Hooper's Palm Parlours after the game, where a very pleasant social hour was spent. The best of good feeling was manifest between the players of the two teams.

The health of the Lindsay team was proposed by Mr. G. B. VanBlaricom, president of the Peterborough Press Club, and was heartily honoured. Appropriate replies were made by Messrs. Nesbitt, Perkins and Reilly on behalf of the Lindsay team.

Mr. Perkins proposed the health of the Examiner team, and Mr. J. D. Clarke replied on behalf of the locals.

PILL POUNDERS AND ALL STAR BANKERS TIED

Each Scored One Goal—Teams Were Evenly Matched.

After the big press game last night, the Pill Pounders' aggregation went up against an all-star Bankers' team, but, like the first game, a tie was the result, each scoring one goal. In the first half the skull and crossbones' men had better of the argument. In a brilliant rush Quinn scored their only goal in this half. The Bankers retaliated after the turn and even up the score which remained 1 to 1, at the finish. Mann, Davidson and Quinn were the shining lights of the Pill Pounders and for the Bankers Barber, Hague, Sawers and Porter were the stars.

Long of the Charlotte streets, refereed satisfactorily.

The line up was:

Bankers — Goal, H Sawers; point, Barber; cover point, Cahill; rover, F Sawers; centre, Porter; right wing, C. Rush; left wing, J D Fitzgerald.

Pill Pounders — Goal, Yelland; point, Davidson; cover point, Quinn; rover, Frederick; centre, Mann; right wing, Fitzgerald; left wing, Tovey.

Referee, Long.

THE STREET RAILWAY MEN DISAPPOINTED THE PUBLIC

Their Hockey Match Was Merely So Much Wind and Did Not Materialize

The skating season is now practically over, and the street railway employees failed to give an exhibition of their prowess on the steel runners. Somebody flunked, or, perhaps, everyone did. Whoever implanted in the citizens' minds, the hope that the sturdy "Fares, Please" were to meet the "men at the controllers," and the expectation then to be roughly shattered, those individuals should never talk hockey again. It would have been the greatest aerial burlesque affair of the season, and would have attracted a full house. The street car men should feel ashamed of themselves at backing out as they did. It is reported that Mr. Jas. Gordon, Mr. Arthur Killenbeck, and others were practicing, and that Middleton, Spier, Bradburn and the rest were also getting into shape; but, alas! the public will have to wait until the roller skating season commences, when they may be coaxed out.

CURLING

Skip C. Rutherford defeated Skip D. Hall in an exciting curling game at the rink last night and thereby won second place in the scheduled games of the season. The score stood 17 to 11 in Rutherford's favour, who went ahead by leaps and bounds after the first couple of ends. This game concludes the schedule list for season, the winners being Skips S. Ray, C. Rutherford and D. Hall. The competing rinks were:—

A L Bowes	W Taylor
J Watson	J Montgomery
W J Henry	W Lang
C Rutherford, sk...17	D Hall, sk...11

• • • •

The ice at the curling rink last night was in good condition, and five out of six rinks were utilized. The second part of the Kendry Cup games were played with the following results:

J W Fulton	T R Merritt
J H Ferguson	W H Denham
E Cox	A H Stratton
W Mellroy 5	T F Matthews 13

Headaches Mean Your Blood Is Poisoned

If your bowels, kidneys or skin are not ridding the system of waste-matter, the blood is laden with impurities, which inflame the nerves. It is these irritated nerves that make the head ache.

Powders and pills won't cure, they merely drug the nerves into unconciousness and relieve for a short time.

"Fruit-a-tives" cure Headaches, Neuralgia and Nerve Pains because they purify the blood. They act directly on the three great eliminating organs—Bowels, Kidneys and Skin—and restore them to healthy action, thus ridding the system of all poisons.

"Fruit-a-tives" are fruit juices—chemically changed, by the process of combining them, into a far more effective medicinal compound than the natural juices. 50c. a box—6 for $2.50. At all dealers' or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

NO OTTAWA MEN FOR KENORA TEAM

Acting Trustee Foran Decides That Alf. Smith and Westwick are Not Bona Fide Members of the Thistles Team

THE WANDERERS PROTEST.

An Ottawa despatch says: A bombshell will be thrown into the camp of the Kenoras shortly if they win the championship of the Manitoba League and have to defend the Stanley Cup. Ald. Smith and Harry Westwick, of the Ottawas, will not be allowed to play against Wanderers in the cup games. The trustees of the cup do not consider these men bona-fide members of the team.

Acting Trustee Foran made this statement to above effect this morning. He said he could not conceive anything more unsportsmanlike than for these men to go out west to help retain the cup, after they had played on a team that was fairly and squarely beaten by the challengers. They had their chance to beat Wanderers and go west for the trophy, but lost it. He regretted in the interests of good sport that they wanted to go west and try and help defeat the champions of their own league.

When asked regarding the question of the league sanctioning the playing of these men, and whether that would not make them bona fide players, Mr. Foran stated that the trustees would act entirely independent of the league rules. The league's action would be no good reason for the trustees to allow the first principle of decent, honest sport to be trampled under foot in such a manner.

"The trustees are going to see that the Stanley Cup is won fairly and squarely and in a sportsmanlike manner at all costs," was the parting shot of Mr. Foran, and he meant every word of it.

The Wanderers' protest has been received by Mr. Foran, who will act promptly in the matter if Kenora beats Brandon out for the championship honours, and it is generally conceded that Kenora will be the cup defenders.

LACROSSE

The lacrosse meeting, called for last night did not materialize, as the attendance was not large enough to warrant going on with the meeting.

NO WOMAN CAN BE STRONG AND HEALTHY UNLESS THE KIDNEYS ARE WELL

When the kidneys are ill, the whole body is ill, for the poisons which the kidneys ought to filter out of the blood are left in the system. Then how important it must be to see to it that this system of sewerage be not clogged up. Those who have never been troubled with kidney trouble know not the misery and suffering which those afflicted undergo.

Doan's Kidney Pills

are a specific for all kidney troubles. They begin by healing the delicate membranes of the kidneys and thus make their action regular and natural.

They help the kidneys to flush off the acrid and poisonous impurities which have collected, thus clearing out the kidneys, bladder and all the urinary passages.

Doan's Kidney Pills are entirely vegetable, and may be safely taken by young and old.

Let Doan's Kidney Pills do for you what they have done for thousands of others, that is, cure you. Mrs. John Young, Harwood, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with my kidneys for some time and my back was so lame I could scarcely get around. After using two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, I am completely cured. I find there is nothing like them for the cure of all kidney troubles."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50 cents per box or 3 boxes for $1.25 at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

THE SPRING OVERCOAT

Because a man can go without a Spring Overcoat a pinch, sweltering in his Winter Overcoat, or shivering without any overgarment at all through the weeks that span the interval from real winter to real summer, this garment has become a sort of badge of prosperity.

THE COAT

that has the most admirers this season is the three-quarter length Overcoat in black or Oxford gray. The long Swagger Raincoats in Coverts, and the swellest of the swell coats, the Paddock, with long handsome skirts in plain gray and black Thibets.

Black Vicuna, three-quarter length, at.....$13.00
Gray Thibet, " " at.....$15.00
Covert Raincoats, long swagger, at $10 and $12.00
Vicuna and Covert, Paddock style, $10, $13, $20.00

Our Coats have hand-padded shoulders, hand-made collars, with the best of haircloth fronts; some are handsomely silk-lined and very luxurious garments. We don't know where better Spring Overcoats than ours can be found. They're simply perfection.

MOTHER'S GRATITUDE TO ZAM-BUK

It Cured Her Boy of Painful Sores

Nothing is more unpleasant to the eye and more painful to the sufferer than boils and ulcers. At this period of the year many adults suffer acutely from these painful outbreaks. When boils, ulcers, etc., occur on children it is pitiful to see the little ones suffer.

Mrs. E. Holmes of 30 Guise street, Hamilton, is grateful for what Zam-Buk did for her little boy when in this pitiful plight. She says, "I wish to express my gratitude for the benefit my child received from your famous Zam-Buk Balm. He suffered from spring eruptions, and then boils broke out on his neck. I tried blood-purifying remedies, salves and ointments of all kinds but nothing seemed to do him the desirred good. The boils got worse and became so loathsome and unsightly that I could not send him to school, as some of the boils and ulcers could not conveniently be covered. About this time a sample box of Zam-Buk was given to him and we tried it. The small sample did him a little good, so I bought a fifty cent box. The result was really amazing. Inside a week's time the boils had begun to dry up and in a very short time indeed everyone of them was healed."

Zam-Buk is a sure cure also for eczema, scalp sores, ringworm, poisoned wounds, chronic ulcers, chapped hands, cuts, cold sores, cracks, festering sores, eruptions and pustules due to blood poison, etc. It stops bleeding and cures piles, fistula, etc. Is antiseptic; an excellent "first aid." Every home and farmstead should have its box of Zam-Buk. All druggists and stores at 50 cents a box, or from the Zam-Buk Company, Toronto, for price. 6 boxes for $2.50. Send a one cent stamp for trail box.

EVANGELIST WHO IS DOING GOOD WORK

The Daily Morning Union of Nevada City, Cal., referring to the work done in that city by Evangelist Kennedy of this city, says: "Last night was the greatest of all since Evangelist Kennedy began work here in the M. E. Church. Sixteen were converted, and of this number ten were young men. The big edifice was almost crowded and the utmost attention was paid to the preacher's words."

FIRE OVERCAME THE WOMEN

Mother and Children Perish in Burning House.

ONE CLASPED IN HER ARMS

Other Clinging to Her Back—Had Tried to Save Her Money—Endeavored to Escape Through Skylight Which Was Nailed Down—Another Tenant Also Overcome, Trying to Get Out.

New York, March 13.—In a little cockloft or attic about four feet high between the roof and ceiling of the five-storey double frame tenement at 253 Bushwick avenue, Williamsburg, Mrs. Ada Bingalli was found dying of burns and smoke inhalation Monday just before noon by Battalion Chief Langdon and some of the firemen of Hook and Ladder 58. Mrs. Bingalli, who was but 22 years old, had climbed a ladder to the cockloft after she found that flames had cut off escape by the stairway, and she had fallen there, overcome. Clasped in the mother's arms was her three-months-old baby girl. Another daughter, Maria, three years old, was on the mother's back, with her arms clasped around Mrs. Bingalli's neck. Both the children were dead.

The mother still gripped tightly a bag in which were $31 and a bank book. She died soon after she had been carried down the ladder from the roof to the street. In the loft, a few feet from where the mother and two children were found, lay a young Italian named Pietro Banattro. The youth's face and head were cut and bruised where he had struggled savagely to get through the small skylight. If the skylight had been latched on the inside, as it should have been, instead of being nailed to the roof, Pietro, Mrs. Bingalli, and the two little ones that she was trying to carry to safety probably would have been able to reach the roof. Pietro, the physicians say, will die.

SISTERS KILLED TOGETHER.

Two Buffalo Women Asphyxiated In Their Room.

Buffalo, March 13.—Augusta and Mary Littlefield, sisters, were found dead in their room at a boarding-house on Franklin street yesterday. They were seated at opposite sides of a table and had evidently fallen asleep and had been suffocated by gas from a small stove in the room. They were about 40 and 35 years of age respectively.

ICICLE KILLS MAN.

Trolley Car On Gorge Route At Falls Struck—Motorman Dies.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., March 13.—A huge icicle dropped from the cliffs of the Niagara Gorge on a trolley car of the Gorge road yesterday as it was passing the whirlpool rapids. Motorman Everet Ramsdell was killed. Dr. and Mrs. M. B. Nervy of Sioux City, Iowa, and Miss Nervy were struck on the back and badly bruised and S. S. Lindsay and wife of Pittsburg were injured, the former having his hand smashed. The injured were taken to the Prospect House.

RAILWAY SMASH.

One Man Killed and Three Injured at Massachusetts Town.

Williamstown, Mass., March 13.—One man was killed and three were injured here yesterday in a head-on collision between a freight train and a train of express cars on the Fitchburg division of the Beaton and Maine Railroad. The accident occurred at the entrance to the local railroad yards.

The crew of the freight say that signals had been put out, but the engineer and fireman of the other train assert that no signals were visible when they came around the curve at the west entrance of the train yard. Both engines were badly smashed in the collision, and three freight cars and one express car were wrecked. The fireman of the freight, C. C. Ransom, of Rotterdam, N. Y., was instantly killed. None of the three injured men were fatally hurt.

Venturesome Man Lost.

Glace Bay, N. S., March 13.—Monday evening an unknown man was noticed on the ice pans about a mile from shore at New Aberdeen. The ice parted and he was unable to reach shore. The wind carried him out to sea.

Killed at Crossing.

Sherbrooke, Que., March 13.—W. J. Graveson, farmer, of Ascot, was killed on the Quebec Central track near Ascot corner Monday evening by the evening express from Quebec. The deceased was about 40 years of age and leaves a widow and eleven children, the eldest being 12 years of age.

15 Were Drowned.

Redding, Cal., March 13.—A train crew crowded to the end of a ferry-boat on the Pitt River and upset it, 15 being drowned, yesterday.

Mob Held Up Car.

Louisville, Ky., March 13.—One of the eight cars sent out by the street railway company yesterday was held up by a mob of 200 persons. After a fight with the police on board, three arrests were made, and the car proceeded down town with several windows shattered. The suburban service has not been resumed.

London, March 13.—(C. A. P.)—Opposing the motion against Sunday trading in the House of Lords, Lord Lansdowne objected to any haste, remarking they had object lessons in attempts made by France and Canada to deal with the question.

TWO ENERGETIC YOUNG LADIES

Miss Alberta Gooding and Her Young Friend in Kenora Make Money For the Church.

The Kenora Miner says: A couple of weeks ago Miss Brown and Miss Alberta Gooding advised the Young People's Club of the Presbyterian Church that they intended getting up a concert on the next regular meeting night of the club. Accordingly, these two ladies set out in a businesslike manner, and sold tickets sufficient to fill the large parlours in the basement of the church, and the meeting was, therefore, a huge success. The pastor, Rev. S. O. Nixon, at the close of the lengthy but very enjoyable programme, thanked the ladies on behalf of the club for their effort, and stated that it was an assured fact that a grand new pipe organ was to be placed in the church, and that the concert was gotten up to that end. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded those who gave their services, which made the concert so successful.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

When Manager Walker, who built the new and elegant theatre in Winnipeg, was casting about for a suitable attraction with which to open his house, his selection fell upon Helen Byron in Sergeant Kitty; so this attraction is exactly the same as it was on Christmas day, when it gave the first performance in the finest theatre in America. "The Walker," in Winnipeg, will be seen at the Grand Opera House here, next Thursday evening in the Military Comic Opera that is all that the name implies—a tuneful, laughing hit.

CITY'S BILL APPROVED

The Private Bill Passes the Committee With Some Slight Amendments--Canadian General Electric Company Gets Fixed Assessment for Buildings and Plant--City May Generate Power.

CITIZENS TO VOTE ON WATER COMMISSION INCORPORATION

Examiner Special.

Toronto, March 14th. — A delegation from Peterborough, headed by Mayor McWilliams, appeared before the Private Bills Committee of this Legislature this morning respecting the Peterborough legislation now before the House.

Among the privileges asked was that an agreement be confirmed with the Coates Manufacturing Co.; for authority to purchase the plant of the Peterborough Light and Power Co.; for authority to acquire water privileges; for the development of electric power subject to submitting a bylaw to the people; for authority to construct permanent street crossings; for the incorporation of Peterborough Water Commissioners; and to give a fixed assessment to the Canadian General Electric Company.

The right was given the city to purchase the plant and business of the Peterborough Light and Power Company, and to generate and sell power, subject to the terms imposed by the Hydro-Electric Commission; any expenditures must first be submitted to the people. The other clauses of the Bill met with approval with some amendments, one being that the incorporation of the WWater Commission shall be subject to a vote of the citizens.

Mr. Frederic Nicholls, general manager of the Canadian General Electric Company, appeared before the committee representing the company in connection with the clause of the Bill relating to the fixed assessment, and explained the position to the members of the committee.

Old-Time Gospel Songs Are Touching The People

Growing Crowds are Attending the Revival Services in the Park Street Baptist Church This Week.

LAST NIGHT'S MEETING.

Without a doubt they are reaping for eternity, at the Park street Baptist revival. The crowdds are growing and the interest is increasing. The congregational singing is an inspiration. The new songs are taking hold of the people. "The old time Religion, and it's good Enough for Me," "Calvary," "Send the Power Just Now," "Going to Heaven in the Good Old Way," are all favourites.

The sermon last night was from St. John i, 2, "He came to His own, but His own received Him not," and went right to the heart and conscience. The preacher asked "Why are men lost in the face of such a truth as this?" "It is a faithful saying and worthy of all acceptation that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am chief." If Christ can save one sinner He can save all; if He can save one thief He can save all the thieves; if he can save one jailer, He can save all in jail. Men are lost because of ignorance — "For they being ignorant of God's righteousness, and going about to establish their own righteousness." Men are lost because they don't realize they need Christ; lost because they are stubborn—"Ye will not come unto Me." The greatness of the Lord Jesus shows the greatness of the sin in rejecting Him.

The testimony meeting was a solemn spiritual feast. Great liberty prevailed and the choruses were full of life and fervour. A number responded to the preacher's tender appeal to decide for Christ.

Subject for to-night: "Can men know they are saved?" "How do I know I am saved?" Prayer service at 7.30; song service at 7.45. Service for girls and boys on Friday at 4.20. Subject — Why is a boy like an oyster?

Horses Tumbled Headlong Into The Gas Tank Trench

One of the Runaway Team Met Death in the Mud and Water --Gas had Water Pipes Were Smashed in the Mix-up.

HARNESS CUT TO SAVE THE OTHER

With a coating of mud half an inch in thickness and a water-soaked skin, a valuable horse belonging to Mr. Patrick Leahy, of Douro, was this morning pulled from the trench surrounding the recently-built gas tank on Simcoe street, where it had met its death last night in a brief but sensational runaway. Its mate which was an accomplice to the runaway, was fortunate and succeeded with few or no injuries. It spent the night in McCollum's livery barns, also completely covered with mud, which had scarcely dried this morning.

The team was attached to a sleigh and left untied in front of the Peterborough Cereal Co.'s mill on Simcoe street, awaiting a load of chop, which was being ground. The driver was Mr. John Leahy, a son of the owner of the team, and he had driven the horses down to the grist mill to obtain his load, which would not be ready until about 7 o'clock.

Were Feeling Good

The horses, which are naturally quiet, have not been doing much work lately, and were feeling unusually frisky. While the driver was inside the mill they became frightened at something unknown, and he arrived on the platform just in time to see them vanish inside the gates toward the fatal trench. The hole surrounding the tank is about seven feet in depth, and into this the two tumbled promiscuously.

Great Was the Fall

In the mix-up, which caused the death of one of the animals, a great deal more damage was done. About 20 feet of gas pipe, eight inches in diameter, which was exposed, was broken off by the force of the horses against it. This caused them to tumble in against the big tank, and by some accident a water pipe was also broken. The water flowed freely, and in a short time the trench was filled, so that it is not known whether the steed had its neck broken in the fall, or whether it was drowned. The escaping of the gas and the flow of water made it impossible for the rescuers to do effective work.

One Horse Saved

The whiffletree which bound the unfortunate one of the two against the doubletree was severed with an axe before its feet could be freed. The other animal was loosened after the harness was cut, and by a circuitous route walked around the tank and up the bank to safety.

The team was valued at $400. The dead horse was a six-year-old bay, while its mate is a chestnut and is seven years of age. The harness, other than a coating of mud and a few cuts, was not damaged, and the sleigh still remains intact.

TORONTO GETS DAIRY EXHIBITION

Western Men Would Not Agree to Come Past Toronto—Peterborough Delegation Put Up Strong Argument.

MR. G. A. GILLESPIE ON DELEGATION

Although the Peterborough delegation made strenuous efforts to place before the Dairymen's Committees in Toronto yesterday the advisability of holding the National Dairy Exhibition in this city, the proposed big show goes to Toronto. Last night Mr. Geo. A. Gillespie, who is a member of the committee of the Eastern Ontario Dairymen's Association, returned home, and he stated to the Examiner that had the delegation been ten times as strong Peterborough would not have secured the show. The Western men were in the majority, and although they recognized Peterborough's importance as a dairy centre, they absolutely refused to come past Toronto.

The eastern members of the committees, which consisted of representatives from the Eastern and Western Dairymen's Associations, and from the Jersey, Holstein and Ayrshire Cattle Breeders' Associations, all worked hard for Peterborough, but they were out-voted. Toronto offered St. Lawrence Hall to the dairymen, and their offer was accepted.

Position Presented

At a meeting before the joint committee yesterday morning, addresses were delivered by the Mayor and Ald. Leary, representing this city; Messrs. F. D. Kerr and Peter Downham, of the Board of Trade; Warden McNulty for the county, and Mr. Jno. Riddell for the cheese board. Peterborough's position was presented in every possible manner, but, as said before, the western men would not consider for a minute the idea of passing Toronto.

No Promises Given

In the afternoon the delegations and committees interviewed Hon. Mr. Monteith, Minister of Agriculture, regarding a yearly grant for the show. No promise, however, was given, but the Minister promised to give the matter his serious consideration. The amount asked for is $4,000 for the first year.

Mr. Gillespie a Member

At an after meeting of the joint committees two delegates were appointed from each of the five above-mentioned associations, to again wait on the Government to try and obtain the $4,000 wanted, and which they expect to get. From the Eastern Dairymen's Association Committee, Mr. Geo. A. Gillespie, Peterborough, was appointed on the deputation. Mr. Gillespie's ability as a dairyman is well known, and his services undoubtedly will be of much assistance. Mr. Glendenning, Manilla, is the other representative from the East.

The various members of this delegation were given instructions to request the members of Parliament in their respective districts to urge upon the Government the necessity of making the requested grant.

A Toronto despatch says in part: Mr. J. B. Mallory, Belleville, representing the Holstein Breeders' Association, announced that he had $300 of an appropriation for the same purpose, and moved:

"That this committee recognize the importance of holding a National Dairy Show, and that all necessary steps be taken to organize and establish the same."

This was seconded by Mr. John McQuaker, of Owen Sound, president of the Western Ontario Dairy Association, who intimated that the association he represented would not be behind with the monetary assistance. He suggested that a pure food show be made a part of the scheme.

The motion was unanimously carried.

Where to hold the show was then taken up, and Ald. Chisholm and Commissioner Harris presented Toronto's claims, offering North St. Lawrence Market and St. Lawrence Hall free of charge.

Peterborough was represented by a delegation twenty strong, who said the city was to build a new market, and it would be made suitable for the show.

After full discussion, it was decided to hold the show in Toronto, provided that the city would give proper accommodation under proper conditions.

The committee, accompanied by the delegation from Peterborough, waited upon the Minister of Agriculture at 2.30 this afternoon to ask for a yearly grant of $4,000 to assist the project.

THE WORST PANIC IN MANY YEARS

Financial Houses' Troubles Ascribed as Cause of Great Plunge in Stocks To-day on New York Exchange.

HALF-CRAZED BROKERS.

Special to J. E. Hoints & Co.

New York, March 9.—The worst panic in the stock market in years was witnessed to-day. The active stocks lost all the way from 10 to 40 dollars a share, and pandemonium reigned supreme with half-crazed brokers trying to sell stocks at any price, and no bidders at all.

Reading took a downward plunge from 126 yesterday to 94 to-day; U. Pacific, which sold at 158 on Tuesday, touched 120 to-day. Copper dropped 30 points, Penna. 10, S.P. 20, and so on throughout the list.

There was no rally at any time and the closing prices were near the lowest of the day.

The cause was ascribed to fear of financial houses in trouble, high money and selling from Europe. Call money ruled at 20 per cent.

Total sales for the day were about 3,000,000 shares, one of the largest days ever known in the history of the Stock Exchange.

HORSE WAS FRIGHTENED AT STREET CAR

Mr. John Williams of Boswell Avenue Thrown out of His Cutter—Head Badly Bruised

Mr. John Williams, who lives on Boswell avenue, had a narrow escape from serious injury last night. He was driving with his little daughter along Charlotte street, when his horse became frightened at a street car and ran away, throwing the occupants of the cutter out on the street. Mr. Williams was pretty severely bruised about the head, and one of his arms was cut an bruised.

Fortunately the little girl was not injured and the horse also came out of the escapade without injury.

Mr. Williams will be under the care of his physician for a few days but no serious results are anticipated.

SUNDAY SCHOOL HALL IS FAST RISING

Will Probably be Ready for Cold Springs Anniversary Sunday School Services.

The new hall, which the Cold Springs Sunday School of Otonabee decided to erect a short time ago, is fast rising into the air. Although only five days have elapsed since the work was begun, the building has been framed, sheeted and shingled, under the supervision of Mr. Jas. Rose. The members of the Sunday school are turning out in large numbers to assist in the good work, so that the cost of the work so far has been nothing.

The Sunday school expect to have the hall completed for their anniversary services about the last of May, when a grand opening celebration is proposed.

A SENSIBLE MEASURE

The London Advertiser thus refers to a bill introduced in the Legislature by Mr. T. H. Preston, of South Brant, to make it optional for cities to fix the last Monday in November as the day for nominating candidates for municipal office, the elections to take place the first Monday in December. Provision is made for a vote of the ratepayers before thhe change takes effect.

The majority of the cities in Western Canada hold their municipal elections in November, a plan which had some advantages. People are too much occupied in the busy and festive Christmas season to give sufficient attention to municipal affairs. The campaign is to some extent disturbing to business, and sometimes not quite in harmony with the Christmas spirit. Another objection is that many persons who go away for the holidays do not return in time to vote.

The financial year of Ontario municipalities ends with the calendar year, and the former would have to be changed to conform with any change ion the date of the elections.

This is a mere matter of bookkeeping, which should be arranged without much difficulty. The fiscal year of the Dominion is to be changed from June 30 to March 31 this year, and no inconvenience to public business or the public accounts is expected.

A NEW ANGLICAN CHURCH FOR HASTINGS SOON

Congregation Decides Upon Erection of New House of Worship—Site Already Purchased.

The Hastings Star of this week says: At a meeting of the church members of St. George's church, on Thursday, it was decided to pick out a site and make a choice of the materials for the construction of the new Anglican church. A lot 50 x 196 feet was purchased from Miss M. Fowlds, just west of Mr. Fred FFowlds' residence on Bridge street. It was decided to build the basement of stone and the walls of the church of concrete blocks. The plans will be drawn up at once and the contract let in order to have operations start as soon as the weather will permit. The site chosen is one of the best that could be found in the village.

NEW WESTERN ONTARIO DAIRY INSTRUCTOR

Mr. Frank Hern Will Probably Succeed Mr. Geo. Barr, Who Has Resigned.

A change has been made in the dairy instructors of Western Ontario. Mr. George Barr of London, who has acted in the capacity of chief dairy instructor, for that half of the province, for some years, has resigned to accept a position on the Dairy Commissioner's staff, at Ottawa. Mr. Barr's position will be filled in all probability, by Mr. Frank Hern of the Strathroy Dairy School. Mr. Hern was formerly of the east, but has now been in Western Ontario for some time.

FORMER RESIDENT OF THE CITY DEAD

Mr. Aleck Niblock, a Native of Peterborough and Related Here, Died Suddenly at Canandaigua—Heart Trouble the Cause.

Word has been received in the city of the death of Mr. Aleck Niblock, a former resident of Peterborough, and a cousin of Mrs. Alex. Fitzgerald and ex-Ald. Graham. A despatch from Canandagua referring to his death says:—

The many friends and acquaintances of Aleck Niblock, one of Canandaigua's well known citizens, who had resided here nearly all his life, were greatly shocked this noon to learn of his sudden death, while engaged with fellow workmen in installing a new heating plant at the County Jail.

Mr Niblock had been ill the past two weeks, of grip. To-day he went to work for the first time at the jail, where about noon he was suddenly attacked with heart trouble; and fell back into the arms of A. A. Sterling. He was immediately removed to the apartments of Sheriff Van Voorhees and his son, John Niblock, a clerk at the postoffice, was summoned. The father died as the son entered the room. He had previously suffered slight attacks of heart trouble, and his physicians, Dr. F. P. Warner, states that he went out too soon after his illness.

Deceased was a very active member of the First Baptist church, and was a member of the Building Committee that has just completed the repairs on the edifice. He was at one time engaged in the hardware business in Canandaigua, and is known and respected throughout this section. Survivors are his wife, Anna Deyo Niblock, to whom he was united twenty-four years ago; a son, John Niblock, and two daughters, Misses Lottie and Hazel Niblock. Two brothers, John Niblock, of Denver, Col., and William Niblock, of Mackin, Kas., also survive. Mr. Niblock was born at Peterborough, Canada about 58 years ago, and came to this section early in life.

CHARGE OF DELIBERATE MISREPRESENTATION MADE BY MR. TAYLOR

The Review last night contains an article about clearing sidewalks, in which with, at least one statement as destitute of truth as malice could conceive. It states that the "Customs House at the corner of Charlotte and George streets has not shovelled the walk all winter." Mr. Wm. Taylor, caretaker of the Customs House declares this statement to be a deliberate untruth. He has been one of the first out with his snow shovel at every snow fall, and the snow around the Customs building has been well shovelled. Mr. Taylor's scrupulous care of the Customs building and premises is so well known to the public that an attempt to discredit him can only be held to be deliberate misrepresentation.

This week the Port Hope Knitting Works will place on sale two cases of extra quality Men's Black Cashmere Socks, regular price 35c., for 25c. See them early.

MR. A. J. SMALL BUYS ANOTHER THEATRE

Report Says That He is Securing Control of the Grand Opera House in Ottawa —Already Owns the Russell.

The Ottawa Citizen of yesterday said: Negotiations are being conducted for the purchase of the Grand Opera House by Mr. A. J. Small, present manager of the Russell Theatre, from the Ferguson estate. It is claimed that so far an agreement has not been reached, details which are said to be minor, preventing it. It is expected that some arrangement will be arrived at within a month. An option was held on the building by the present lessee, the J. B. Sparrow Amusement Co., of which Mr. R. Birdwhistle is the local representative, and negotiations were opened for its purchase before Christmas. These were, however, dropped, and negotiations were opened a short time ago with Mr. Small.

MR. SAMUEL HALL FELL AND BROKE THIGH BONE

Has Not Been in Good Health for Past Two Years—Bad Fracture Sustained.

A distressing accident occurred to Mrs. Samuel Hall who resides on Rubidge street, at nine o'clock this morning in which she suffered a rather severe fracture of the thigh bone.

Mrs. Hall has been ill for the past two years and she was moving about on the verandah with her daughter's assistance when she slipped on the slippery steps and fell, her daughter falling with her. As a result Mrs. Hall was badly shaken up and injured. Dr. Halliday was called and attended to her injuries.

The many friends of the family sincerely hope that she will recover from this painful accident and extend their sympathies to the whole family.

ANOTHER RUNAWAY HAPPENED AGAIN TO-DAY

Junk Rig Barely Escaped Collision With Freight Train on the C. P. R. at Aylmer Street Crossing.

A runaway was reported from Aylmer street south to-day. A junk rig started to run away on this street this morning and rapidly crossed the C.P.R. tracks and narrowly missed colliding with a freight that was near by. As it was the junk, with which the cart was filled was thrown out and scattered about the street. Old hoops were lying all around and it was with some difficulty that they were collected again. The horse was stopped by one of the men employed by the Peterborough Fuel and Cartage Company.

ALL IS QUIET IN MUNICIPAL CIRCLES

Majority of Council and the Officials are Away To-day.

Everything is quiet in municipal circles to-day. The Mayor and most of the Aldermen, together with the City Solicitor and Clerk, are in Toronto, supporting the city's private bill which comes up before the Legislature to-day. As a result there are no meetings of the council committees scheduled for this week. Next week there will be a similar state of affairs, when the entire council will be in Ottawa for two days in an effort to have the Trent Canal completed.

LABOUR CAUNCIL DID NOT ELECT OFFICERS

Too Much Business Was on Hand to be Transacted.

The Trades and Labour Council held a regular meeting last night, with president John Alexander, in the chair, but, contrary to expectations, the election of officers for the year did not take place. There was considerable business of importance to be taken up, and by the time it was completed there was no time left for the election of officers, which was left over until the next regular meeting.

Snow on Lindsay Walks

Lindsay people are evidently having trouble with their sidewalks, too, according to the following from the Post: The grey team are eating their heads off in the firehall stable, while our citizens are getting wet feet and incurring severe colds in plodding through the deep slush on many of the town walks. Would it not be a good idea to hitch the animals to a snow-plow and have the snow cleared off the walks while it is wet?

ARE OPPOSED TO FIXED ASSESSMENT

Canadian Order of Home Circles Pass Strong Resolution at Annual Convention on This Question.

At the annual convention of the Canadian Order of Home Circles, being held in Toronto this week, and which Mrs. Anderson, of this city is attending, a motion was introduced by P. M. Pattison, seconded by J. L. Buck, Past Supreme Leader, "That this annual meeting of the Order of Canadian Home Circles places on record its unalterable opposition to any attempt to compel by legislation, a uniform rate of assessment to be adopted by all fraternal societies, and hereby instruct our officers to oppose any such motion, no matter from what source it comes, in every possible way; and we do hereby request the representatives to immediately, on their return home, bring the matter up in their circles, and see that their representatives in Parliament, both Dominion and Provincial, are fully apprised of the attitude of the whole membership of the order against this proposal of a uniform rate of assessment to be fixed by Government."

This was carried unanimously by a standing vote.

The Doctor Said Nervous Prostration

BUT AFTER WEEKS OF EFFORT HE COULD NOT HELP ME. AND I WAS CURED BY

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

Sleeplessness, failure of appetite and digestion, and then nervous collapse. This is the story told in this letter. But there is also new hope for similar sufferers in the cure described.

Mrs. Alf. Stevens, Burgessville, Oxford county, Ont., writes:—

"Two years ago last November I was run down, and did not know was wrong. I could not sleep or eat, and at last my nervous system gave way entirely, and I had to go to bed. The doctor told me I had nervous prostration, and, though he doctored me for some weeks, I did not get any better.

"I then began the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and by the time I had used six boxes I was completely cured. People remarked how well I looked, and I said, 'Yes, and I feel well, that is the best of it, and Dr. Chase's Nerve Food did it.'

"Twenty years ago," said Dr. Weir Mitchell, the great American authority on disease of the nerves, "the treatment of diseases was the highest medical ideal." Now the highest ideal is prevention of disease."

In the front ranks of preventives must be placed Dr. Chase's Nerve Food because it works on the principle of increasing the quantity of rich blood and nerve force in the body and thereby keeping vitality at the high water mark.

This is the only way in which nervous prostration, locomotor ataxia, paralysis and many less dreaded diseases can be prevented or cured, and cure of such ailments when once they are thoroughly established means long weeks and months of persistent treatment.

The old saying that "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" is nowhere so applicable as in disease of the nerves, and there never was so effective a preventive as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. This is being proven every day in thousands of cases. 50 cents a box, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

GROWING INTEREST IN THE REVIVAL SERVICES

Most Successful of Series Was That Held Last Night in the George Street Methodist Church.

Last night's service in the George street Methodist church in connection with the series of revival meetings was the most successful yet held. There was a splendid attendance and deep interest was evidenced. The musical service was particularly effective last night, and included a duet sung by the Misses Chasty.

"A MERCHANT" COMPLAINS OF STORES KEEPING OPEN

While Others Close Their Shops According to the Wishes of the By-law.

Chief Roszel is in receipt of a letter in which the writer complains that certain merchants (unnamed) are allowed to keep their stores open until 9 and 10 o'clock at night when the bylaw states that all should be closed at six o'clock, as the majority of the local merchants do.

In reply to this the Chief states that the writer does not know what he is talking about as the bylaw says that stores shall close at 7 p.m. If this man who styles himself "A Merchant" knows of any violation of the law, let him give the names to the Chief who will regard it as strictly confidential, and not like a coward conceal his identity behind a fictitious name.

PRESENTATION TO THE CHARTER MEMBERS

Interesting Gathering of Members of the North End Reading Circle—Mrs. Dennistoun and Miss Kirkpatrick Honoured.

A pleasing event took place yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. (Dr.) Boucher, when a farewell tea was given by the members of the North End Reading Circle to Mrs. R. M. Dennistoun and Miss Kirkpatrick, who were charter members of the circle, and who are shortly to leave the city. Mrs. Dennistoun was presented with royal Vienna china, and to Miss Kirkpatrick was given a set of toilet ebony.

There was a full representation of the members of the circle, and the gathering was presided over by Mrs. Boucher, the leader.

Varicose Ulcers Cured

Miss Elizabeth Campbell, No. 20 Sheridan avenue, Toronto, states: "About eight years ago I hurt my leg near the ankle, and the result was what the doctors called varicose ulcers. I was treated in two Toronto hospitals and sent away without being cured. From the very start Dr. Chase's Ointment helped me, and by persistent use it has entirely cured me."

A Westerner's Views On The Manitoba Elections

Mr. M. G. Walker, of Winnipeg, Who is in the City, Gives Some Impressions to The Examiner--The G. T. P. a Great Connecting Link Between the East and the West--Municipal Ownership Favourable to Winnipeg.

"The Grand Trunk Pacific transcontinental route is going to be the great factor in forming a connecting link between the East and the West," is the personal opinion of Mr. M. G. Walker, of Winnipeg, a man well versed in the conditions prevailing in the west, and in the civic and political government of the city and province in which he lives. Mr. Walker, who is a son-in-law of Mr. William Faint of East City, is the Canadian selling agent for the Hall's Safe Company, of Cincinnati, O., and agent for the Fox Typewriter of Grand Rapids, Mich. He is in the city, in company with his wife, on a combined business and visiting tour, and intends to remain here for a few weeks.

An Examiner representative called on him last night and obtained some valuable information on Winnipeg life and conditions, of which he has a great knowledge. In referring to the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific route, Mr. Walker made the above quotation, and expressed his opinion that this railway would have a tendency to make the West better known in the East than it is. He explained that at the present time, and also in the past, a great portion of western produce was forced south through cities and ports, on account of the congested condition of Canadian railways.

The Manitoba Elections

Mr. Walker was in Winnipeg until after the Manitoba elections, and states that the fight was certainly a lively one. The Liberals have almost double the number of representatives in the Legislature they had during the last term, and a number of them are among the most prominent politicians of the province. Few expected the Government to be defeated, but it was generally considered their majority would be considerably reduced. Premier Roblin's majority was reduced from 400 to 170. Attorney-General Colin H. Campbell won by 2 votes, but Dr. Molloy expects to win out by about 10 on the recount which has been ordered.

Temperance Question

The direct issue of the elections, Mr. Walker states, was the temperance question. The liquor element was solid for the Government and while the Opposition leader, Edward Brown, stood for temperance, the other party won out in several constituencies on the vote of the liquor men.

Mr. T. C. Norris, a prominent Liberal, redeemed the Lansdowne constituency, and will be an able debater for the Opposition. The city of Winnipeg, which has a population of 110,000, is divided into four divisions now, instead of three, as in the past. The hottest fight was in the newly formed division, where a three-cornered fight was waged among the Labour, Conservative and Liberal candidates. The latter, Mr. T. H. Johnston, gained the victory by 230 majority.

Reports Exaggerated

The newspaper reports of the western weather, Mr. Walker states, have been greatly exaggerated, during the past winter. Winnipeg had a long, steady winter, but the temperature was not as low as it has been in previous years. The large quantity of snow hampered railway traffic which combined with the strike made coal scarce. There was plenty of the fuel sidetracked at Fort William but difficulty was experienced in getting it west. The Canadian Northern Railway was snowed up in some districts which inconvenienced the farmers. The snow, he says, will have disappeared by the first week of April and the seeding season will then be on.

Extensive Building

"The building operations in Winnipeg exceed those of any other city of its size on the continent," said Mr. Walker. Last year the building permit list showed that $10,000,000 were expended on building last year. This year it is expected that that amount will be exceeded when it is considered that the G.T.P. and Canadian Northern depots will be erected. The Grand Trunk Pacific railway is now being constructed with Winnipeg as the centre of the operations. The work is being hampered greatly by want of labour, yet the Company expect to haul wheat next autumn into Winnipeg from the west.

The Great Northern has built into Brandon from the south and is in a position to attend to the wheat trade. It has bought a right-of-way into Winnipeg and is now removing the houses.

Municipal Ownership

Municipal Ownership is one of the foremost views of all the city people and their anticipations are to control as much as possible. The city owns the Water Works system and the expenses are now 50 per cent. less. Winnipeg will soon be accommodated with power of its own. The city is now installing a power system 60 miles north-east of Winnipeg at Lake De Bonnet and in addition to attaining power for itself lessens the difficulty to manufacturers. The civic officials believe when this is accomplished the cost of lighting will be cut in two.

The expansion of the city has entirely exceeded the growth of the railways which are not adequate to supply the rolling stock. Mr. Walker claims that at least 50 per cent. of last year's wheat crop yet remains in the Northwest. There are several branch lines into Winnipeg, but only one to Fort William and although the C.P.R. carries an enormous amount of grain there, it cannot begin to give adequate accommodation.

Prosperity Increases

The wave of prosperity which has floated over the Canadian West is still in motion, says Mr. Walker, and is bound to continue. In spite of the heavy immigrations in the past number of years there is still a great vacancy and a large acreage waiting cultivation. The Grand Trunk Pacific will still open up lands in the west as good if not better, than any which have already been cultivated, and, he further claims, that the Canadian West will continue to attract homeseekers in numbers larger than have previously found homes in that granary of the Empire.

Humours and impurities in the blood force thier way to the surface in the springtime and cause eruptions and unsightly sores. Nature has provided a remedy in Bileans, whiot are pleasant to take, not unpleasant in operation, and are purely vegetable in composition. Women with skin blotches and eruptions should prove how speedily Bileans remove them. One or two Bileans taken just before retiring for the night—that is all! Morning sickness, debility, indigestion, heartburn, biliousness, headache, constipation, piles, and female elements all disappear before a short course of Bileans. All druggists and stores at 50 cents a box, or from Bilean Co., Toronto, for price. 6 boxes sent for $2.50. Send 1c stamp for free sample.

Graceful Tribute To A Peterborough Boy

Prof. George H. Locke, M.A., a Son of Former Peterborough Methodist Preacher, Made Dean of Faculty of Edmonton.

HIS VERY RAPID PROGRESS

Referring to the appointment of Prof. George H. Locke, M.A., as Dean of the Faculty of Education in MacDonald College, the Montreal Herald gives a short biographical sketch of Mr. Locke, who will be remembered by many persons in Peterborough, as the son of Rev. J. H. Locke, at one time pastor of the George street Methodist church, and at the present time pastor of the Methodist church, Havelock. The Herald says:—

Professor George H. Locke, M. A., B. Paed., who has been appointed Dean of the Faculty of Education in MacDonald College and professor of history and principles of education by the authorities of McGill, has, as a young man, made a brilliant mark in scholarship. He graduated B.A. with honours in classics at Toronto University in 1893 and for two years following was fellow in ancient history and Greek at Victoria University. In 1895 he graduated with specialist standing in classics from the Ontario School of Pedagogy. Passing his M.A. examination at Toronto University in 1896, he received the degree of Bachelor of Pedagogy from the same institution in the same year.

Mr. Locke then went to the University of Chicago, where he entered upon graduate work in the department of pedagogy and was elected to the first fellowship of pedagogy established in that university. In 1897 he went to Harvard University as instructor in the history and art of teaching, and during two years there organized successful practice teaching in secondary schools in connection with the department of education. In 1899 he returned to the University of Chicago, and during the next six years he was instructor, assistant professor, associate professor of education, and finally dean of the college of education at that university.

His education work by no means exhausted Mr. Locke's activity, for in 1900 he succeeded Dr. Charles Thurber as editor of the School Review, and remained at the head of that influential journal for half a dozen years—as long as his duties left him in Chicago. This proved the stepping stone to editorial work of another kind. In 1905 he joined the editorial department of the Boston publishing house of Ginn & Co., and his position there he now gives up to return to Canada, attracted by the wonderful opportunity for constructive work offered in the MacDonald College.

All this Mr. Locke has accomplished before reaching the age of thirty-six years, and altogether by his own merit. Mr. Locke has remained a true Canadian. He never became a naturalized citizen of the United States, his intention from the first having been to return to Canada, when a favourable opportunity offered.

Calgary Resents Slander On The City's Good Name

Secretary of "100,000 Club" Writes to The Examiner to Point Out That the Western City Was Never so Prosperous

BUILDING TRADE GROWS.

Calgary people resent the statement that the city is an expensive place to live in, and in rebuttal of the stories sent out to the effect that rents for residences were from $25 to $60 a month, and that eggs were retailing at 70 cents a dozen, as well as other statements characterized by the western people as false, the secretary of the "100,000 Club" has written a letter to the Examiner, in which he sets right what he considers a slander on the good name of Calgary. In reference to the article published in the Examiner, and against which complaint is made, it may be explained that it came in the regular way as a despatch, and was, of course, used in good faith and without any intention of working any injury to a city which everyone knows is destined to become one of the great cities of the West. Mr. Webster, the secretary of the "100,000 Club," has written to the Examiner in the following manner:

Coal has never been retailed here for more than $7 a ton; your article states $8 a ton. The most expensive lumber is retailed at $34 per M.; this is the best of flooring, while ordinary finished building lumber and dimensions is sold for from $20 to $25 per M., and rough lumber dressed on one side, at $18 per M., as against $30 to $60 per M. of your article. Right south of us, across the border they are paying $34 per M. for what we pay $25 per M. Rentals, of course, vary. I know of furnished houses, modern in every respect, renting for $50 a month, while unfurnished houses, semi-modern and modern, can be rented for from $15 to $20 a month and upwards, as against $25 to $60 of your article. Strictly guaranteed bran eggs are retailed at 35 cents a dozen, and the highest price obtained for only a few days was 60 cents, which is considered very high here, as against 70 cents quoted in your article. Butter from 30 to 35 cents per lb., instead of the 30 to 40 cents per your article, and potatoes 90 cents a bushel, which is 85 cents a bushel less than the $1.25 as quoted. The price of milk has not been raised, which is more than can be said for the majority of western cities, as prices on milk in nearly every case are raised in winter.

As regards building trades being at a standstill—the building returns up to February 20 this year show a total of $77,156, which is an increase of $25,241 over the returns up to the last of February of last year. This, along with the fact that the Builders' Exchange are continually advertising for building trades men, will prove conclusively that there has been no standstill in this respect.

In connection with our Board of Trade here, we have a free information bureau, and I must say that so far this year, the requests for help from employers has greatly exceeded the requests from people for work.

REV. MR. KETCHEM STRIKES HARD AT GAMBLING

A Former Peterborough Presbyterian Preacher Startles Hamilton by His Pronouncements on This Subject in Pulpit.

BETTING IS DEPLORED

Rev. Beverly Ketchen, of Hamilton, and well known in this city, where for some time he was assistant pastor of St. Paul's church, has been preaching sermons on the evils of gambling, and the Times of that city, reporting his remarks on the subject, said:—

The gambler's deity is luck, not work. The man who steals a pair of boots goes to jail, but the man who is able to steal a railroad or defraud the country, generally lands in the Senate or the House of Commons. The public delight to hear of the police making a raid, but if the police were to make a real raid, the ranks of so-called respectable society would be considerably thinned out. Gambling on races, at cards, stocks and other nefarious dealings is always vicious in principle, and tends to unscrupulous depravity. Betting on different sports has demoralized sport generally. There is something radically wrong when honest sport cannot be had, without bringing in the spirit of commercialism. There is nothing wrong in making money fast, but the principle is to make it honestly. What would it profit a man, even if he did make a fortune in a few years, if he lost his character in the making of it?

THE GREEK CHURCH THE STRONGEST AND OLDEST

Sermon on Eastern Church by Rev. C. H. Brooks in Connection With Series of Lenten Sermons at St. John's Church.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT THE SERVICES

A very large gathering attended the fifth of the Lenten services held in St. John's church, last evening, and the sermon proved to be one of the most interesting of the series.

Rev. C. H. Brooks, who has spent some twenty years as a missionary in Constantinople, spoke on the Eastern Church. He began by repeating from the creed, "I believe in the Holy Catholic Church," and asked if people understood its meaning. The three great historic branches of this church, are Anglican, Roman and Greek. Of the one last mentioned little was known, because we have no contact with it, and yet it was very remarkable from many standpoints. The Greek Church was really a family of several national divisions. Part of it was in the Turkish Empire, part in Greece, part in Asia Minor, and a large division in Russia. In this latter country it had some eighty million adherents, and in the other countries over twenty millions of followers. In point of time the Greek was the oldest branch of the church, beginning, as it did, from the church in Jerusalem. Their Bishops to-day could be traced back historically to the apostles and other bishops of the first century.

The second great point about the Greek Church, was the careful attention paid to accurate statements of doctrine. In the East it was called the Orthodox Church, and their body of doctrine was formed by the first seven general councils, and they made no additions to it, as other churches. Their whole system and teaching was that of the very earliest ages. In this respect the speaker contrasted their belief and customs with those of the Roman Church. While the bishops had different ranks they were all equal, and no such doctrine as Infallibility or the Immaculate Conception, was believed in. With the Greek Church it was of most importance what was believed, and it had to be verified from earliest speech. The third point the speaker mentioned was the unity of this branch. This was in striking contrast with Western Christendom. The Greek Church united eastern Christians, instead of disuniting them, and throughout many countries represented the religion of the whole people. No doubt superstition had from time to time been introduced into their religion, but the results of the Reformation had deterred them from making a house cleaning.

In many points the Church of England was much closer to the Greek Church than to the Roman morals and customs. Many of our ecclesiastical words have come from them and the whole Church of England has an increasingly close fellowship with the Greek Church of the East.

In conclusion, Mr. Booth said that while we were not in contact with this large section of the church our minds should be able to comprehend them in our thoughts and prayers. We should learn some of the beauties of their religion, such as power of unity, their peaceful spirit and the regard for truth which they possessed and in other ways to realize the breadth of our Catholic heritage.

Next week Rev. A. G. Hamilton Dickson, of St. Luke's, Toronto, will give the address.

FOUR MILLION BRICK CURTIS' OUTPUT

Report of Bureau of Mines Deals With Clay Industry in Ontario and Refers To The Local Plants.

AN IMPORTANT INDUSTRY.

The importance of the clay industry in Ontario is perhaps not fully appreciated by the majority of people, and in view of the fact that in Peterborough there is one of the largest brick plants in the province, the reference to the plant of Messrs. Curtis Brothers, in the report of the Bureau of Mines, will be read with interest. A half tone cut of the plant is also published in the report, and, respecting the work carried on by this firm, and their method the report says:—

Curtis Brothers, Peterborough, have about two feet of red-top clay, which is underlaid by sandy Erie blue clay. Both are used in the manufacture of red and white brick, and tile and paving block. In this yard are two Iron Quaker Machines and one Martin machine, all run by steam power. The clay is hauled direct from the pit in automatic dump-cars which feed Baird pugmills, which in turn feed the brick machines mentioned above.

The brick are hacked out to dry and are burned in two square downdraft kilns, and in large open-shed scoved kilns. The output of this yard is about four million brick per year. The tile and hollow block are made on a Close machine, the hollow block being used for raised barns and stable floors. This is one of the largest yards in the Province and the goods manufactured are among the best.

There are two other yards in Peterborough, run by H. Butcher and T. J. Welsh, respectively. They are both small yards using horse power, and have an output of about five hundred thousand each per year.

Some idea of the importance of the clay industry in Canada may be gained from the following introductory paragraph in the report:—

The statistics of the clay industry show more clearly the relative importance of clay among mineral products. In this Province the manufactures from clay have till recently represented nearly 20 per cent. of the output of our total mineral industry. In the United States clay products form nearly 10 per cent. of the very large mineral output. Moreover, it should be remembered that a high percentage of the receipts from the clay industry are expended on labour and supplies. From this point of view no mineral industry can be claimed to benefit a community or a country more than that whose raw material is clay.

Another Explanation Re A Bad Form Incident

Mr. Kendry Worries More Deeply Into the Quicksand— Interference and Indiscretion.

In reference to the letter of Mr. Kendry, in last night's Review, it may be said that Mr. Stratton would, indeed, be sorry to show the spirit exhibited by Mr. Kendry over the shoulders of Mr. Dennistoun, in this matter. If there is any political "kudos" to be gained in honouring a citizen, the beneficiary in this case is most certainly Mr. Dennistoun. Mr. Stratton, in presiding on this occasion, is certainly showing quite a different spirit from that exhibited by Mr. Kendry. After a quarter of a century of hard political fighting, in which Mr. Dennistoun spared him not, Mr. Stratton is glad to recognize that among citizens there will be differences of opinion; and that when a citizen, who has achieved an honourable record, both as a fair-minded political foe, and as a man, casion in doing him honour; themselves in joining heartily with Conservative citizens, as on this occasion, in doing him honour, while Mr. Kendry disgraces himself, by an exhibition of abominably bad taste and party venom unparalleled in the history of Peterborough. If there is any "kudos" to be gained by anybody, but the guest of the banquet, the Conservatives and Liberals of the city in heartily uniting and conferring it upon Mr. Dennistoun, on this occasion, are the recipients.

MODERN INVENTIONS AND AND HAPPINESS

Y. M. C. A. Debating Club Decide That They Contribute to Human Comfort and Happiness.

Last night's excellent meeting of the Y.M.C.A. Debating Club was another evidence of the continued interest on the part of the members, and of the training they are receiving in debates through this organization. Vice-President MacLaren presided in the absence of the President. Mr. Greenbaigh read one of Ruskin's lectures on "Books and Reading," which was highly appreciated. The debate, "Resolved that modern inventions have not added to the happiness of the human race," was one of the best yet held, those taking part having their points well in hand.

The affirmative was taken by Messrs. Armstrong and Comlin and the negative by Messrs. MacLaren and Cooke.

The question was discussed by a number of the members; the Board of Judges reporting later, gave their decision in favour of the negative.

Critic Hodgson's summing up is always looked forward to with interest by the members, and considered the best feature of the evening. His criticism last evening was most complimentary to the debaters and the progress of the Club generally.

The next meeting will be held on March 27th and the programme announced "A Night With the Poets."

When Your Health Fails, What Then?

Good health is the capital of persons who earn their livelihood with brain and muscle. Success is for the strong and alert—for those whose blood is rich, and whose nerve cells are filled with vigor and energy. It is not pleasant to contemplate what might happen with failing health, and for this reason it is well to heed the first symptoms of nervous exhaustion and to keep health at high water mark by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

OBITUARY.

JANE WALKER

The death occurred early yesterday morning of Mrs. Jane Walker, an old lady who came from Lindsay last Monday to the House of Providence, heart failure being ascribed as the cause of death. The deceased was the wife of the late Mr. Samuel Walker of Lindsay. Her remains were sent to her native place yesterday.

MICHAEL O'DONNELL

The death occurred this morning of Mr. Michael O'Donnell at his residence on Harvey street, after an illness of two months. In fact the deceased has not been robust for the past two years, but it is of late that a change for the worse was noticed in his health.

The late Mr. O'Donnell was born in the township of Douro, fifty-six years ago. He was married some thirty-three years ago to Margaret Shearer, who still survives him. The family has been living in this city about twenty-five years, and Mr. O'Donnell was well known among a large number of friends. Besides the wife, three children are left to mourn his loss; they are Nellie, Percy and Geraldine, nine other children having died. The deceased was a member of the Catholic Order of Foresters.

The funeral will take place on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, from the family residence, 56 Harvey street, to St. Peter's Cathedral, and thence to the Roman Catholic Cemetery.

MRS. T. H. GRAHAM

After an illness of over a year's duration, suffering with pernicious anaemia, there passed away this (Thursday) morning a most estimable lady in the person of Margaret H. McGregor, beloved wife of Mr. Thos. H. Graham, lot 6 concession 4, Smith, at the age of 45 years. The deceased leaves to mourn her loss a sorrowing husband and four daughters, besides a brother, Mr. Alex. McGregor, of Smith, and two sisters, who reside in Western Ontario, Mrs. (Dr.) Kidd, of Atwood, and Mrs. John Hammond, of the same place. The deceased lady was very highly respected by all her neighbours and friends.

The funeral will take place from the family residence, lot 4 con. 6, on Saturday at 1 o'clock, and proceed to the Little Lake Cemetery for interment.

MRS. JAMES DOLAN

The death occurred in Chicago yesterday of Sophie, the wife of Mr. Jas. Dolan, city, at the age of 52 years. The late Mrs. Dolan had been in Chicago visiting with her sons, when the illness, from which she had been suffering for the last two years, became more acute and resulted in her death. Mr. Dolan reached Chicago before her death and will bring the body to Peterborough for interment.

The deceased was a daughter of the late Francois Lemay, who was a clothing merchant in Peterborough for many years and was well known here. In addition to her husband, Mrs. Dolan leaves four sons living in Chicago, and three daughters. One daughter is a nun in the Congregation de Notre Dame, Cornwall. The others are living with their brothers in Chicago. Deceased had three sisters, Mrs. R. Turcotte, Montreal; Mrs. A. Cadotte, Massey, Ont., and another a nun in Kankakee, Ill. One brother, Mr. Leopold Lemay, lives in Bracebridge. Miss E. Lemay, Bracebridge, her sister, arrived in the city yesterday, and is awaiting the arrival of the body from Chicago.

The funeral will take place from the residence of Mr. H. LeBrun, 366 Simcoe street, on Saturday morning at 8 o'clock, to St. Peter's Cathedral, and from there to the Roman Catholic Cemetery.

UNSOLICITED TESTIMONY

The Tate Optical Co., Peterborough:

DEAR SIRS—During the last three or four years (prior to May last) my eyesight had failed to such an extent that I was unable to read or see anything at close range and could get no Glasses that would help me. I tried two different Opticians in Toronto and was told by both that they could do nothing for me, and that my sight would never be better. A statement of my case was sent to Montreal by a Hastings optician and several pairs of Glasses sent me, but with the same result my vision could not be improved. Last May, while looking at a Pair of Glasses you made for Mr. John Fife, Keene, and talking with him he advised me to consult your Mr. Babcock, and I am pleased to say that the Pair of Glasses he made for me have given me entire satisfaction and I can do now what I have not done for years past—read any ordinary print and see distinctly at close range. I feel very grateful, not only for the interest you have taken in my case, but particularly so for the blessing of good eyesight. Thanks to your knowledge and skill.

Yours truly,

AID TO THE UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

Should Be By Direct Vote Say the Opposition.

PREMIER DEFENDS POSITION

Powers of the Board of Governors—Dr. Louden to Be Trustee—New Normal School Contracts—Question of Changing Dates of Municipal Elections—Gen. Booth to Visit the Legislature.

Toronto, March 14.—The University of Toronto and the method of financing the big educational institution formed the subject of an interesting debate in the Legislature yesterday. The discussion arose over the Premier's bill giving the Board of Governors power to borrow. Mr. A. G. MacKay voiced the opinion of the Opposition that the support of the university should not be dependent upon the number of rich men who may die in the Province throughout the year, but that the estimates should be brought down and passed upon just as was done in the case of prisons, asylums and other public institutions. Premier Whitney, in defending the Government's position, said that the method was not practicable in the case of the university and was contrary to the spirit in which the act was framed. An amendment was inserted in the bill, the effect of which will be that Dr. Louden, as a former President of the university, will become a trustee of that institution.

General Booth's Visit.

To-day at 3.30 p.m. General Booth will pay a visit to the Legislature and will be received in the House with the honors in keeping with so distinguished a guest. The budget debate will be resumed this afternoon and promises to be animated and interesting. The Opposition has been giving evidences of an effective organization and uniformity of purpose that is daily having a useful effect on legislation. One of the private bills introduced yesterday proposes a large increase in the bonding privileges of the Canadian Niagara Power Company.

Mr. W. A. Preston, recently confirmed in his seat by the Court of Appeal as representative for Port Arthur and Rainy River, was introduced to the House by Premier Whitney and Dr. Smellie. After shaking hands with the Speaker, the member took his seat. His desk mate will be Mr. Ferguson of Cardwell.

Normal School Contracts.

Hon. Dr. Reaume, in reply to Mr. Munro (North Oxford), said that contracts had been let for the construction of four normal schools to S. F. Whitham of Brantford at the following figures:—Peterboro', $53,800; Stratford, $52,650; Hamilton, $52,050, and North Bay, $54,260. The contractor, as for all Government work, shall not, without the consent of the Minister, sublet or delet any portion of the work, and no such consent had been given.

The Premier, answering Mr. McCoig, said that it was not the Government's intention to introduce legislation whereby municipalities affected with smallpox or other contagious disease may receive financial aid from the Province.

Change Date of Elections.

Mr. T. H. Preston's bill to amend the municipal act created some discussion as to the present unsuitability of the time at which municipal elections are held.

Mr. Graham believed that the date around the new year was unsuitable, and should be changed.

Mr. Preston believed that the date around the new year was unsuitable, and should be changed.

Mr. Preston said that the date could be changed to early in December without disturbing the financial year. The bill proposed that the nominations should take place the last Monday in November and the election the first Monday in December.

The Premier objected to a clause providing that the change should be submitted to the ratepayers. He believed that much was to be said in favor of a change, but it should be handled in a virile manner, boldly and without fear, and not subject to the limitations named. The bill was referred to the Municipal Committee.

Mr. Fraser (Welland) spoke in support of his bill to make perfect the plugging of gas and oil wells. A previous bill had not gone far enough, but this measure proposed to stop the waste and impose penalties that he believed would be effective.

Several private bills were put through committee, including acts respecting the municipality of Shuniah, and to authorize Sadie Holmes to practise dentistry.

The House adjourned at 6 o'clock.

THE TOULON DISASTER.

Many Sailors Still Missing—Cannot Identify Bodies.

Toulon, March 14.—Minister of Marine Thomson arrived here yesterday from Paris. The roll of the battleship Jena, on which the disastrous explosions occurred Tuesday, was immediately called, and 407 men replied to their names. Those of the crew who are uninjured are quartered temporarily on the naval barracks. Twenty-four officers and engineers are also reported to be safe, and besides, there are 44 of the crew lying in the hospitals seriously injured. As the officers and crew numbered 630, it will thus be seen that 155 are not accounted for. But the naval authorities consider it most probable that a large number of these have sought refuge with relatives or friends in Toulon.

Entire Town in Mourning.

The entire town is in deepest mourning. Crowds are gathered at the gates of the arsenal and docks awaiting the announcement of the names of the dead. Hundreds of despatches asking for details of the disaster have reached naval headquarters here.

The Minister of Marine upon his arrival here consulted with the port admiral, after which he proceeded to the scene of the disaster. All around the Missiessy drydock were strewn pieces of shells, and the store sheds and other buildings were pierced in many places. Cordons of troops were drawn up on the quays near the hull of the Jena, where relay parties searched for bodies. Fire hose played all night on the unsubmerged portions of the battleship, whose interior had been completely flooded.

The afterpart of the battleship is destroyed. The officers' cabins are in ruin. One of the officers who escaped said Admiral Manceron owed his life to the fact that the port holes of his cabin were open, thus permitting the suffocating gases to escape.

Forty-One Have Turned Up.

Later, forty-one of the missing men turned up, leaving 114 apparently unaccounted for or killed. Touching scenes were witnessed at the gates of the arsenal.

FLOODS CARRY AWAY BRIDGE.

Train Plunges Into River and Three Lives Lost.

Pittsburg, March 14.—Three men drowned, a railroad bridge washed away, a county bridge in danger of following the railroad bridge into the Allegheny River, and an engine and five freight cars in the water, are the first results of the rapid rise during the night of Deer Creek, near Harmarsville, Pa., on the West Pennsylvania Railroad.

The dead:—J. B. Mikesell, engineer, 28 years old, Allegheny; W. J. Cantwell, fireman, 25 years, Darlington, Pa.; J. M. Johns, brakeman, 26 years, Freeport, Pa.

About 4.30 o'clock yesterday morning a freight train entered on the bridge, but had not get further than the second pier when it suddenly gave way. Before the engineer, fireman or a brakeman on the front part of the train could realize what had happened the bridge went down, carrying the engine, trainmen and five freight cars with it.

So rapidly had Deer Creek risen during the night that it had attained a height of 16 feet instead of the normal, from 4 to 6 feet. So great, too, was the force of the current that one of the five freight cars, heavily loaded, was carried down the creek over a quarter of a mile. The fireman, engineer and brakeman were dragged into the roaring current and drowned.

ANOTHER DELAY IN THE THAW CASE

Evidence of White's Brother-in-Law Hurts Defence.

ABE HUMMEL ON THE STAND

Delmas Hints Smith Was Prompted by the State—Startling Evidence by Hummel—Says Evelyn Denied Being Injured by White — Thaw Beat Her For Not Saying So—Had Grudge Against Him.

New York, March 14.—Jerome Charles Smith, Stanford White's brother-in-law, was called again as a witness in the Thaw trial yesterday morning. Mr. Smith was tardy in arriving and Mr. Jerome summoned Abraham Hummel to the stand. Hummel had scarcely taken his seat when Smith put in his appearance. Therefore Hummel was temporarily excused and Smith took his place.

Hummel had answered two questions put to him by the district attorney. He said he knew Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, and saw her in the office on Oct. 27, 1903, following her return from Europe. Mr. Smith was questioned by Mr. Delmas for the defence, having been recalled to testify as to the cablegram he received from District Attorney Jerome early in February, summoning him to return to this country.

Mr. Smith said he did not have either the original of the cablegram or a copy. Mr. Jerome offered a letter-press copy, but Mr. Delmas refused to accept this. "As I remember the message," said Mr. Smith, "it read, 'Your evidence most important. Your attendance desired.'"

Mr. Smith said he returned on Feb. 17 last, and met Assistant District Attorney Garvan on the 19th. Mr. Smith said he had refused to divulge his conversation with Thaw on the Madison Square Roof Garden, and had showed the memoranda to his counsel and to Mr. Garvan. They both said it was good. Mr. Smith was excused and Abraham Hummel once more took the stand.

Mrs. Thaw's Statements.

"Did Mrs. Thaw tell you that Thaw wanted to injure White and put him in the penitentiary, and that Thaw had begged her time and time again to swear to documents he had prepared, involving White, and charging that he had drugged and ruined her; and that Thaw had beaten her because she would not sign the papers?" asked Mr. Jerome.

Mr. Delmas interposed to ask Hummel, if at the time of the conversation with Miss Nesbit, he was acting as her legal adviser and attorney.

"I was acting only for Stanford White," replied the witness.

Evidence Vastly Important.

"The material issue here," argued Mr. Jerome, "is whether Evelyn Nesbit Thaw told Thaw the story in Paris that she told on the witness stand. If I can show that the woman under solemnity of an oath absolutely denied that she told Thaw any such story; that she repelled his demands that she should sign papers making such false charges against White; that Thaw was so angered at her refusal he beat her; stripped her naked and beat her; these are the things which must have weight with the jury as to whether she told Thaw the story which is said to have driven him insane and which has been the basis of the theory of experts that this defendant is insane."

Swore White Was Innocent.

"Stanford White did not drug me," she said, "Stanford White did not touch me." She withstood Thaw's lashings and beatings because the story which Thaw wanted her to swear to was not true. Stanford White never harmed her.

"If I can show not only that she told this, but that she later swore to it in a paper the contents of which she well knew, I submit it bears strongly on the truth of her statement that she told this story to Thaw in Paris, and that it unbalanced his mind."

The court adjourned at the close of the morning session until to-day in order to allow counsel time to look up the authorities in reference to the hypothetical question it is proposed to put to the scientists. It is expected that the case will reach the jury on March 27.

WEAK HEART SYSTEM WAS RUN DOWN

When the heart is healthy and performing its functions naturally, it should beat regularly seventy-two times a minute without causing its owner the slightest inconvenience or distress.

When it begins to beat irregularly or intermittently, palpitate and throb, skip beats, beat fast for a time, then so slow as to seem almost to stop, it causes great anxiety and alarm.

The least excitement or exertion causes to affect it.

Many people are kept in a state of morbid fear of death, become weak, worn and miserable, and are unable to attend to either social or business duties, through unnatural action of their heart.

To all such sufferers

THE LEAGUE AFFAIRS WOUND UP

Each City League Team Will Receive $15.83 as Their Share of the Receipts.

BOUQUET FOR CHAMPIONS.

A meeting of the City Hockey League Executive was held last night in the Oriental Hotel for the purpose of winding up the affairs of the league for the season. There were present Messrs. Fred. A. Clarke, president; Jos. Maher, vice-president; Ira Moore, secretary-treasurer; W. J. Metheral, of the Strathconas; W. Shaw and H. Clegg, of the Auburns; W. E. Wasson, of the Orphans, and N. E. McWilliams, of the Charlotte street team.

The chief feature of the meeting was the presentation of the financial statement for the year, which on the whole was very satisfactory. It was presented by the secretary-treasurer, Mr. Moore, and showed that there was a balance in the league account of $1.606 on the right side of the ledger.

Of the money held in trust by the league for the different teams, there was a balance on hand of $95, which will be divided equally between the six league teams, giving them each $15.83.

The receipts amounted to $306.75, consisting of guarantees received from the teams, $120; gate receipts, $186.75. The items of expenditure were, rink, $180; referee, $16, and miscellaneous expenses, $13.25.

The meeting decided to give a bouquet to the champion Strathconas, as was done last year, and it promises to be a great success. A committee composed of the officers of the league, with a representative of each league team with the exception of the Strathconas, was appointed to make the necessary arrangements. The affair will be held on Monday, February 8, and the Examiner trophy will be presented on the same occasion.

LINDSAY MIDGETS HERE TO-MORROW

Ice is in Good Condition—Game Will Be Fast.

The famous Lindsay Midgets with their strongest line up will be here to-morrow night to meet the Strathconas in what should be one of the best games of the season. The change in the weather has made a great improvement in the ice, which will be in splendid shape for the game. The Strathconas are going to make their splendid record still more brilliant by a victory over the speedy Midgets. A great deal of interest is being taken in the game and the crowd should be a large one.

EXAMINER TEAM TO PLAY IN LINDSAY

Stack Up Against the Post Typos To-night.

We are going to Lindsay to-night. By "we" is meant the great Examiner hockey team, which will meet the Typos of the Lindsay Post to-night on the Scugog rink. The two teams played a tie game here on Tuesday night and to-night's affray should be warmly contested. The winner of the game will win the round, so that both teams will put up a hard fight. The Examiner team will leave on the 5.36 train and will line up as follows:

Goal, Craig.
Point, Clarke.
Cover, Glover.
Rover, Hutchinson.
Centre, Henry.
Right wing, Theobald.
Left wing, Huston.

NAT RAY DECIDES TO GO BACK TO SADDLE

Clever Jockey Will This Season Ride the Hitchcock Jumpers—Has Left for Washington, D.C.

Nat Ray, the clever Peterborough steeplechase rider, leaves for Washinton next Sunday, where he will again, for the fourth season, pilot the Hitchcock jumpers. Mr. Hitchcock has added materially to his string, and will have from 12 to 15 jumpers along with Good and Plenty and Hylas. Nat had a good season last year, winning nearly every stake race. Four times he has won the Grand National, three times the Champion, and the Whitney Memorial both times it has been contested. For several winters now Nat has been a popular favourite down the ice circuit, and seemed to thoroughly enjoy the sport. Many good ones have looked up beside him and his beautiful trotter, Prince Greenlander, but found that Nat and White Nose, as Greenlander is popularly called, because of a white sheepskin worn on his nose, were more than a match for them. Nat goes to Washington in mid-summer shape. He has been working hard on the road and in his gymnasium at home, and is in fine condition. Take a tip—when you see him in the saddle string your bets along his mount and you'll be on a winner.

The "Limerick Boy" Grand Opera House, Monday, Mar. 18.

HOCKEY

The ice is in good shape again, as the result of the change in the weather and the scratch matches scheduled for to-night will be pulled off without trouble. The office and mill teams of the Quaker Oats Company play between 7 and 8 o'clock.

• • • •

The Review is trying to make up for the defeat of their hockey team by knocking the Examiner teams on every occasion. Last night the "Tory" rag characterized the Examiner printers as the poorest bunch of sports in Peterborough, because of the recent game with the Barbers. It was understood by the Printers that Campbell, the City League man, was not to be on the line up, but when the Printers arrived at the rink, they found him ready to play. It was the Barbers that went back on their agreement—not the Printers, as our contemporary would have the people believe.

Speaking of cold feet, though, the Review team should remember that old saying about people in glass houses. We remember a certain youth who had to retire from the game with a broken skate—at least that was the reason given—but chilled extremities sounds better.

CURLING

There was no curling at the rink last night but the ice is in good condition for to-night.

THE DUTY OF A POLICEMAN IN REGARD TO AN ARREST

On Private Premises Was Outlined by Magistrate Dumble at the Police Court This Morning.

At the police court this morning there was really no work done, but the money was gathered in just the same. Two young men were summoned for having assaulted the proprietor of one of the pool rooms of the city. This morning, however, he wanted the charge withdrawn. Magistrate Dumble is very much averse to people trying to arrange the affairs of the police court to suit themselves and thus left the costs to be paid by the complainant. These amounted to $8.25. Mr. Gordon appeared for the plaintiff and said that Police Officer Adams should have removed one of these young men when he was asked by the owner of the shop.

Magistrate Dumble said that Officer Adams had acted as he should. If he did not see the young man in question committing a breach of the peace he hadn o right to eject him from the premises. Policeman Adams arrived just after a little squabble was over and thus did not see the row.

Popular Cure For Croup

Anyone who has tested Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine as a cure for croup will not hesitate to pronounce it an unqualified success. It is wonderfully prompt in relieving the cough, clearing the air passages and soothing the excited nerves. Many mothers who realize the suddenness with which croup comes on keep this great medicine constantly at hand for use in case of emergency.

Dear Sir,—I was crossing the Locks Bridge the other day and noticed the plank railings, which have been placed there for protection, in a very rotten condition. Should any force come against some of them they will certainly fall. I think the officials of the City and County Councils should look after the railing and have it repaired before some disastrous accident happens.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL INSTITUTE

Is Being Held in St. Andrew's Church—Well Known Speakers.

A meeting of the Sunday School Institute in connection with the Peterborough Presbytery is being held in St. Andrew's Church with a large attendance of the Sunday school workers of the districts. Representatives are present from Lakefield, Springville, Warsaw, Keene, Omemee and other places.

At this afternoon's session the programme is principally a conference of the officers of the Institute, while this evening a public meeting will be held, which is open to everyone. Rev. Mr. Robertson, of Toronto, general secretary of the Assembly's Sunday School Committee, and Rev. Alex McGillivray, of the Bonar Presbyterian Church, Toronto, will be present and will give interesting addresses on Sunday School work. A free-will offering will be taken up.

At the closing session of the investigation of the Sun Life of Canada by the Royal Commission on Life Insurance, Commissioner Kent stated, in connection with his suggestion that voting power might be given to policyholders, that—
"It seems to me that in the conduct of the Sun Life business there is nothing to be desired, as far as the present generation is concerned. If you were immortal I would not say anything further about it. If, by sound judgment, hard work and just discrimination, you have put the Sun Life on the pinnacle of a successful company, another management with other attributes might just as easily squander it. ..... The directors have done their duty nobly; there is no complaint to be made against them, or any one of them. Who can say whether the future management will continue the present high standard of your Company?"

THE SPRING OVERCOAT

Because a man can go without a Spring Overcoat at a pinch, sweltering in his Winter Overcoat, or shivering without any overgarment at all through the weeks that span the interval from real winter to real summer, this garment has become a sort of badge of prosperity.

THE COAT

that has the most admirers this season is the three-quarter length Overcoat in black or Oxford gray. The long Swagger Raincoats in Coverts, and the swellest of the swell coats, the Paddock, with long handsome skirts in plain gray and black Thibets.

Black Vicuna, three-quarter length, at.....$12.00
Gray Thibet, " " at.....$15.00
Covert Raincoats, long swagger, at $10 and $12.00
Vicuna and Covert, Paddock style, $16, $18, $20.00

Our Coats have hand-padded shoulders, hand-made collars, with the best of haircloth fronts; some are handsomely silk-lined and very luxurious garments. We don't know where better Spring Overcoats than ours can be found. They're simply perfection.

INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN FREE OF CHARGE

All Cheese Factories to be Inspected and Instructed But Expense Comes From the Government.

WILL RAISE THE STANDARD OF CHEESE

Henceforth the cheese factories of Ontario, will receive instructions free of charge, instead of having to pay the instructor $15 for his services, as in the past. This is the policy of the Provincial Government, which has recently been made known but instead of it being optional for the factories to be inspected, and to receive instructions, it will be compulsory for them to do so. The expenses will all be met by the Government, whose idea is to raise the general quality of Canadian cheese.

The province will be divided into districts, with a sanitary inspector in charge of the factories and dairy work generally in each district.

The instructors' main work will be to instruct. They will not, as in the past, be expected to spend a full day at each factory. There are a number of factories in the province that require but little assistance, as they are nearly perfect now. Such factories may not be visited more than once or twice in the season. In the case of factories where improvements are needed, the instructors will first visit them, and make recommendations. Later, they will call back, as often as may be necessary, to see that their recommendations have been complied with. In this way, it is probable, that a great improvement will be effected in a large number of factories in the province during the coming season.

Must Improve

Only in extreme cases will dairymen be prosecuted. They will first be shown the need for improvement. Later, if improvement is not made, they will be told it has to be made, and a certain length of time will be given, during which the matter must be attended to. Later, when necessary, an example will be made of offenders who continue to ignore the recommendations of the instructors. No prosecution will be made without the approval of the Chief Instructor.

As already stated, the main work of the instructors will be to instruct. They will visit the factories early in the morning, watch the milk as it arrives, consult with the cheese makers, give them any assistance that may be required in the factory, and, later, visit the homes of the patrons who may have been having trouble with their milk. The instructors will have a supply of printed matter, showing the care that should be given milk on the farm. These will be left with the patrons, with any recommendations for improvements that may be necessary. Later, these patrons will be visited again and improvements insisted upon, if necessary. In this way the value of the work of the instructors will be increased immensely.

There Will be no TAX

Until recently it was proposed that every factory in the province should pay a tax to help pay the cost of instruction. Later another method of raising the revenue was devised and was under consideration for some time. It was expected it would be possible to raise about $12,000 from the factories. The Government, however, was induced to abandon the thought of raising revenue from the factories through the energetic and capable work of Mr. John R. Dargavel, of Elgin, Ont., who is a member of the Ontario Legislature, and president of the Eastern Ontario Dairymen's Association. Mr. Dargavel took the matter up in person with the Government. He claimed that the Government can afford to do without this tax, and that if it is not collected it will remove any cause for friction that may exist. Finally he convinced the Government that it is not necessary that this money should be raised. Mr. Dargavel's work in this connection cannot be too highly commended. Mr. Dargavel took up with the Government the possibility of having a standard of qualification established for cheese makers, but, apparently, nothing has been accomplished as yet.

Report of Bureau of Mines Deals With These Two Gold Mines in Which Local Capital is Interested.

SOME OTHER GOLD MINES.

The report of the Ontario Bureau of Mines, recently presented in the Legislature, contains some interesting information concerning mines in Eastern Ontario in which Peterborough capitalists are interested. Particular reference is made to the Star of the East and Big Dipper gold mines, the report, speaking of them properties, saying:

Star of The East

This mine was closed for some time last year owing to changes in the company and the management, Mr. J. K. Dale being now president and general manager, and Mr. Thomas Jackson foreman. A force of 12 men is employed. The shaft, 16x11 feet, in plan, has been deepened to 213 feet. At present work is concentrated on the 200-foot level, where a cross-cut is being driven north to intersect what is called the north vein some 100 feet from the present shaft. The cross-cut has now been driven 80 feet. This north vein is a parallel vein to th eold one occurring in the crystalline limestone. Th econtact with the diorite occurs about half a mile north of the mine. In the bottom of the shaft in the old vein, lenses of quartz occur, highly impregnated with iron pyrites. The first level at a depth of 35 feet has a drift running east 42 feet. The second level at a depth of 74 feet has a drift east on the vein 48 feet and west 54 feet. Thirty feet east of the main shaft on this level a cross-cut has been run north 47 feet. On the third level at a depth of 108 feet drifts have been driven west 22 feet and east 8 feet.

The mill, which consists of ten stamps, was closed down in January, and has not since been in operation. During last year 1050 tons of ore were milled. In addition to the mill, a compressor plant manufactured by the Gardiner-Govenor Company of Quincy, Ill., was put in, together with engine to drive the same, and two locomotive firing boilers of 40-h.p. capacity each. The compressor is at the mill, which is about three-eighths of a mile from the mine. Water for milling purposes and for the camp is brought in pipes from a lake about a mile from the mine by gravity.

Big Dipper Mine

About three miles west of the Star of the East mine and three-eighths of a mile west of Massanza Lake, the Big Dipper Mining and Milling Company have been at work for the past year. The head office of the company is at Peterborough. The president is Mr. John Fletcher; general Manager, Mr. J. Jameson, and foreman, Mr. Robert Wilson. A force of 12 men is employed.

During last year, on lot 4 in the tenth concession of the township of Barrie, the company drove an adit into th efill about 300 feet. This is not being worked at present. The camp buildings are on Massanza Lake, near where the work was done. On lot 12 in the same concession a shaft is being sunk and prospecting carried on. The shaft, 9x6 feet in plan, has reached a depth of 62 feet, and is cribbed, and the ladderway partitioned from the shaft for 40 feet. About 100 feet west of this shaft another shaft has been sunk on the same vein 30 feet. The vein runs east and west and is composed of quartz carrying iron pyrites and magnetite. The magnetite occurs in the hanging wall in contact with the crystalline limestone. The granite outcrops about 30 feet north of the outcrop of crystalline limestone. The rock between the granite and limestone is very much altered, but is chiefly a granite gneiss. The hanging wall or wall of crystalline limestone dips nearly vertical for 20 feet, then at an angle of 75 degrees. Some free gold is found in the quartz near the surface. A small horizontal boiler furnishes steam for hoist and pump.

The company is interested in lots 4 to 21 in the tenth concession of the township of Barrie, Frontenac County.

Referring to general conditions of the gold mining industry in Eastern Ontario, the report says:

The gold mining industry of Eastern Ontario remains in about the same condition as for the last few years. The Belmont and Deloro mines have not as yet resumed operations, although the high price of arsenic should tend in this direction at the latter. A little bullion was produced at the Craig and the Star of the East, but the mills at these mines are only run at intervals, as development work has not proceeded far enough in advance of stopping operations to ensure a uniform production. These spasmodic attempts at turning out gold are due, as has been pointed out in former reports, to the undue haste in the erection of stamp mills before the mine is sufficiently developed. This has been the chief cause of giving gold mining a set-back in all parts of Ontario, and it is chargeable in part to the flotation of stock companies and the desire of the promoters to have something tangible on the surface to show the public, and also in part to the undue haste of shareholders to obtain dividends.

Gold mining in Eastern Ontario dates back to 1857, when the Richardson Hill discovery at Eldorado caused a rush of miners and prospectors to this centre. Since that time gold has been found in North Hastings and Frontenac at many places, but no very extensive development work has been carried on, on any of the properties with the exception of Belmont and Deloro mines.

BOSTON'S BARBER REGULATIONS

Board of Health Orders Sterilization of All That Barbers Use on Customers

A special despatch from Boston, May 5, 1900, to the New York Sun, gives new regulations of the Boston Board of health as to barber shops: "Mugs, shaving brushes and razors shall be sterilized after each separate use thereof. A separate clean towel shall be used for each person. Material to stop the flow of blood shall be used only in powdered form and applied on a towel. Powder puffs are prohibited." Whatever Newbro's "Herpicide" is used for the face or scalp after shaving or hair cutting, there is no danger of infection, as it is antiseptic, and kills the dandruff germ. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.
